The preparations are all made for the most energetic and intense Liberty Loan drive thus far attempted in this or any other county in the state. When the solicitors start out on Friday morning, April 12, they will have a list of every man and woman in the county who it is thought may be able to subscribe for a bond as well as the exact amount expected from each person. Chairman George G. Johnson has been coaching his chairmen and solicitors and each man knows just what is wanted of him. They are all enthusiastic and there will be a spirited rivalry as to who will finish his task first as well as who will make the best showing.

Quota is Cut Down.

Upon the presentation by Chairman Johnson that the quotas in the first two loans were not based upon a fair consideration of the conditions in the county, the amount for the present loan was cut from $240,000 to $185,000, which places Pennington about on an equality with its neighbors. Mr. Johnson is absolutely certain that his district is going over the top this time, although the allotments have been placed so as to just cover the figure named.

Each District's Share.

By far the largest share of the loan has been assessed against the First district, in which is situated the City of Thief River Falls. In the same district, of which W. B. Fuller is the chairman, has been placed the following townships or fractions of townships: North, Numedal, Norden, Silverton, the north half of Smiley and the north half of Rocksbury. Amount to be raised, $119,000.

Second district, K. O. Gigstad, chairman; amount, $30,000—Village of St. Hilaire, southwest quarter of Rocksbury, south half of Sanders, towns of Bray, Polk Center, Black River and the west half of River Falls.

Third district, Paul Borgie, chairman; amount, $12,000—Southeast quarter of Rocksbury township, south half of Smiley, east half of River Falls, Wyandotte, Mayfield, Deer Park and Hickory.

Fourth district, Thomas H. Smith, chairman; amount, $13,000—Townships of Cloverleaf and Kratka.

Fifth district, J. P. Jensen, chairman; amount, $12,000—Village and township of Goodridge, townships of Star, Reiner and Highlanding.

Some of the Assessments.

The allotments for all the subdivisions in the above districts have not yet been figured out exactly, but the following are available: Village of St. Hilaire, $7,300; south half of Sanders township, $2,750; Polk Center, $4,050; south half of Rocksbury, north of the river, $4,900; Black River, $2,300; west half of River Falls, $4,750; Bray, $3,900. Before the drive starts The Times will have the list of assessments complete so that every person in the county will be able to see just how much their section is expected to contribute and thus be able to figure out their approximate share for themselves.

ANOTHER SOLDIER ANSWERS THE CALL

JOSEPH MYERS, WHO DIED OF PNEUMONIA AT CAMP DODGE LAST WEEK.

Joseph Myers, one of the young men who left with the 1st increment from Pennington county to join the army at Camp Dodge, died there last week of pneumonia and the body was shipped here for burial. It arrived on Monday morning and the funeral was held in the afternoon from the Larson undertaking parlors, Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, having charge of the arrangements. The burial service at the grave was read by Rev. Dr. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church, who also delivered a short address on the lesson to be gathered from the life of the young man. Dr. Barackman spoke of the sacrifice made by the deceased as being as great as if he had met his death while facing the cannon of the enemy on the field of battle and maintained that he gave all he had for the most noble cause in which a man could engage.

A particularly sad circumstance in connection with the death of this young man is the fact that his grandfather, the only living relative so far as known here, was a short time ago taken to the hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. It has also come to light that upon joining the army deceased had insured his life for $10,000 in his grand-father's favor. This sum will now likely prove of no value to the parent.

A PROCLAMATION.

Conforming to the wishes of the Federal Food Administration in its program for saving wastes and to increase food production, especially those calculated to save red meats for our soldiers and our associates in the War, I hereby call upon the citizens of Thief River Falls to assist in carrying out this program by keeping a small flock of laying hens in the back lot to convert the wastes of the kitchen and table into valuable food products. It is authoratively stated that from two to three hens to each member of the family, well cared for in the back yard, will supply the household with fresh eggs and materially reduce the cost of living. Where conveniences permit, a limited number of chicks may also be raised to further supply the best of meats and to replace the flock at end of the season.

In time of peace, poultry keeping in cities may be regarded as a profitable recreation. In time of war, a patriotic necessity.

G. A. PENNEY,
Mayor.

THE BIG LOYALTY MEETING TONIGHT

JUSTICE ANDREW BRUCE OF NORTH DAKOTA SUPREME COURT SPEAKER.

The people of this section will be accorded a rare treat this evening when Chief Justice Andrew Bruce appears at the Auditorium to speak on the subject of "Patriotism." Justice Bruce is one of the most eloquent orators in the West and is stirring his audiences to an unusual degree wherever he has appeared. The admission is free and everyone is advised to be on hand early in order to secure a seat. Following is a newspaper comment on one of the recent meetings held:

"Two big loyalty meetings were held in Glen Ullin last Tuesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon Judge Bruce of the North Dakota Supreme Court spoke in the Princess Theatre to a large and enthusiastic audience. Judge Bruce is one of North Dakota's most loyal citizens and is an excellent speaker. In his address here he brought out many points why every citizen of the United States should be an out and out American, whether he be foreign born or native born. He told of the great sacrifices our soldiers are making over there and pleaded that those here at home conduct themselves so that those who give up their lives for democracy will not have died in vain.

"How any American citizen could listen to the address of Judge Bruce without showing some signs of patriotism is almost inconceivable. A man or woman who could sit with clinched teeth through an address such as Judge Bruce delivered here last Tuesday is not a good citizen and the sooner the government finds it out the better."

A Hebron the judge's address brought forth this tribute:

"Monday was a lively day in patriotic annals in Hebron as we were favored by the visit of four prominent speakers. Among the speakers was Chief Justice Andrew A. Bruce of Bismarck and the message this man delivered was an eye opener, what he had to say sank deep into the minds and conscience of the hearers and it is the remark of many that such speakers should have been heard long ago, and should, as they no doubt will, be frequent visitors hereafter."

Send No Parcels Overseas.

Postmaster John Morgan has been notified that after April 1, no more parcels will be accepted for mailing to the soldiers in France unless they contain such articles as have been specially requested by the soldiers themselves and approved by regimental or higher officer commanding the unit to which such soldier is attached. Well-meaning persons in this country have ben sending articles to the soldiers and the government has exerted every effort to have these delivered. So enormous has the weight of such matter become, however that it is necessary to stop it altogether. One ship arriving in France recently contained 19 carloads of stuff that the soldiers can secure just as cheap or cheaper right in France. Letters from soldiers are to the effect that the sending of even such articles as candy is unwise, as sweets can be secured in France without difficulty and at moderate prices. It is suggested that the money be sent instead as this does not bulk so large.

Will Remodel Building.

Work on the remodeling of the Rolland building on LaBree avenue was started on Monday morning. The structure, which is now occupied by the Nielsen meat market, will be moved forward so as to bring the front in line with the other business houses on the same street. A new front will be put in, new cement floors laid and numerous other changes for the better made. While the alterations are going on, Mr. Nielsen will occupy the building on Second street next door to the postoffice.

FOR MECHANICS, AVIATION CORPS

FOURTEEN YOUNG MEN ARE SELECTED FOR THIS PREFERRED SERVICE.

GENERAL CALL IS PENDING

LOCAL BOARD INSTRUCTED TO BE READY TO ACT AT ONCE ON INSTRUCTIONS.

Fourteen of the young men in the registration list of Pennington county will on Monday afternoon entrain for state headquarters, from which point they will be sent to Pittsburg university to receive instructions as mechanics in the aviation corps. Most of these men are from Class 1 of the draft list, but two or three belong in one of the deferred classes.

Must Meet Requirements.

Instructions in the mechanics of aeroplanes has been offered to a limited number of young men in the country who will be distributed among universities specializing in technical instruction. The candidates must all have at least passed the eighth grade of our common schools and possess other qualifications that places them somewhat apart from the ordinary registrant. The local board did not have quite the sufficient number of men in Class 1 and two or three have been taken from the top of Class 2 list. These are all in a measure voluntary enlistments as those who have offered to go might have waited for the next call before going.

Those Who Will Go.

The fourteen men who have signified their willingness to go and have been accepted as meeting the requirements are: Carl Gulrud, Edwin C. Karwand, Alfred Adolphs, Peter G. Peterson and Arthur Liden, city; Leroy Tolland, Miles H. Jackson and Amund O. Brevik, St. Hilaire; Fred S. Bullman, Owatonna; Hjalmar H. Halstrom, Wylie; Gilbert Riersgaard, Rhoda; Berginius Servig, Erskine; Lars Heckne and Edwin Christianson, Goodridge.

Another Call Coming.

A new national and state call is impending, according to instructions received by County Auditor T. P. Anderson. The final instructions as to this has not yet been received but the preliminary notice states that 90,000 men will be required. If this refers to the number to be secured in the entire country it would effect Pennington county but slightly as it would only mean the sending of one or two men.

BURGLARS FOILED; DOOR HELD FAST

ATTEMPT TO BREAK INTO NEWELL DRUG STORE PROVES UNSUCCESSFUL.

For the first time in many months an attempted burglary has been reported in the city. One night last week some person visited the Newell drug store on LaBree avenue with the evident intention or robbery, but had only his trouble for his pains. A window to the outer store room had been opened by prying off one of the bars used as a protection and the place entered, but the door to the store proper was secured by a bolt as well as a yale lock and this obstacle proved more than the intruder was able to negotiate. For this reason it is thought that the job was the work of an amateur as a professional would not have given up so easily after getting into the building. Entrance had been gained by the use of a bar; the marks showing plainly where the attempt to open the inner door had been made. A pile of boxes in front of the rear window had been knocked over, otherwise there would have been but little evidence to show that the place had been visited.

Road Patrolmen Appointed.

The board of county commissioners has appointed the men who will have charge of the maintenance of state roads in the county during the season of 1918. Their appointment dates from April 1 and holds good till Nov. 1. They will receive a salary of $160 per month for this period and theirs will be the duty to see that the state highways are at all time kept up in the best possible condition. All dragging and necessary repair work will be a part of their contract.

Following are the men appointed: State Road No. 1—Albert Spaversen, St. Hilaire. State Road No. 2—West end, William Herron, city; East end, J. H. Kohler, Goodridge; State Road No. 3—East end, O. A. Holmes, city; West end, Halvor Olson.

Pioneer Called.

A. V. Satterstrom of Middle River died Wednesday morning at 7:30, after a long and painful illness. He had been in the butcher business in Middle River for two or three years up to about a year ago when he was obliged to lease his shop on account of ill health. He was a man of upright character, highly respected in Middle River and his death is a shock to the community.

Wounded in Action.

Alfred J. Bergeron, a cousin of the Provencher boys of this city and the bunkie of Harold Provencher with the First Minnesota Artillery, has been wounded in action in France, according to reports appearing in the daily papers. The young men enlisted together at Minneapolis and have been companions throughout. This proves conclusively that the Gopher gunners are on the battle line in France and that the other Thief River Falls boys are also in the fray. These are Martin Langseth, Hardy Bothun and Fred Scanlon.

A letter from Will Provencher, who has been at Fort Sill, Okla., with the First Missouri artillery, is to the effect that they expect soon to sail for France. The advance overseas detail has already gone and the rest of the regiment will without doubt soon follow.

On Wedding Trip.

S. L. Haynes of Mason City, Iowa, brother of F. F. Haynes of this city, surprised the latter by dropping in on him the other day, accompanied by his bride. The young couple were married on the 28th. Mr. Haynes has passed the examination for the aviation service and is expecting his call at any time.

SANATORIUM NURSE CALLED TO FRANCE

MISS KAREN KNUTSON SUCCEEDS MISS FLETCHER AT LOCAL HOSPITAL.

Miss Lydia Fletcher, who has been superintendent of the Tri-County Sanitarium since the opening of that institution this spring, has been ordered by the government to report at the Minneapolis base hospital for duty with the troops. She left to assume her duties on Tuesday evening.

The board of managers of the sanitarium regret exceedingly the necessity which deprives them of Miss Fletcher's services but realize that nurses with her experience are sorely needed at the front. She expects to remain at the base hospital but a short time, the understanding being that the unit to which she will be attached is to sail for France almost at once.

The new superintendent will be Miss Karen Knutson, formerly with the Pettinger hospital, San Francisco, and later head nurse at the McVille, N. D., hospital. She is said to be a woman with both the training and ability necessary to fill this important position.

More Room Needed.

Chairman O. F. Mellby of the Sanitarium board, states that the new hospital is already proving too small. The capacity of the institution is now taxed and there are about 20 patients on the waiting list. Dr. Robinson Bosworth, executive secretary of the state board of control, who was here on a tour of inspection last week, stated that the matter of enlarging the hospital would be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

Miss Kulseth is the new matron recently taking up her duties at the institution.

Win Athletic Honors.

At the Northwestern gymnastic meeting held in the armory of the University of Minnesota on March 23, three Thief River Falls young men brought considerable distinction to themselves and their home town. Roy Barzen won first honors in tumbling and was in sixth place as all-round athlete in Class B, while his brother, Bernard, won ninth place in the same class. Reuben Aga was in 17th place in the all-round scoring in Class C.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY IS GREAT COMEDY

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE" MOST AMUSING PRODUCTION OF A DECADE.

On April 12, when the senior class of the Thief River Falls high school presents the annual class play the people hereabouts will be given a chance to see one of the greatest stage successes of recent years. The press agent of the class says so for one thing, and the history of the production bears out the statement. Following is the advance notice submitted by the publicity promoter for the class:

"This play should need no introduction to lovers of the stage as it has been played with tremendous success in all the principal towns of Minnesota, and its run in New York was excelled only by that famous film, "The Birth of a Nation." Not only is the drama a scream from start to finish, but it is educational as well. Every fact presented in the play is real—every statistic an honest one—and for this reason the play should appeal to every wide awake business man. Let the sleepy ones come, too, and have their eyes opened to one of the biggest truths of our day.

"The story deals with an old millionaire soap king who does not believe in advertising; his dashing young son, who does not believe in work; his stenographer, who is the woman in the case and who serves to complicate matters for father and son, and a live advertising agent who stands firm in his belief that it is advertising which makes the world go round."

PARISH RESIGNS AS PASTOR HERE

METHODIST MINISTER WILL ENGAGE IN TEMPERANCE WORK IN STATE.

SUCCESSOR IS APPOINTED

REV. JAMES A. ORRECK, FORMERLY OF FRAZEE, WILL ASSUME CHARGE HERE.

Rev. George O. Parish, for two and one-half years pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, will preach his farewell sermon next Sunday and will leave the first of the week for St. Paul. He has accepted an offer to go on the temperance platform for the Minnesota Dry Federation and will begin his duties at once. His brother, Rev. Herbert H. Parish, at present pastor at Fosston, will be associated with him in his new work and they will have practical charge of the temperance campaign in the northern half of the state.

Successor is Named.

Rev. James A. Orreck, now pastor of the church at Frazee, has been appointed to the position made vacant by the resignation of Rev. Parish and will preach his first sermon here on Sunday, April 14. The services next Sunday morning and evening will be held by Rev. Parish and his addresses at that time will be in the nature of farewell sermons.

Here Two and a Half Years.

He has been pastor of the local church for the past two and one-half years and during that time the congregation has grown both in membership and influence. He is a pulpit orator of more than usual ability, while to his reputation as a platform speaker is undoubtedly due his appointment as one of those who is to present the temperance argument to the people of the state this fall. He is broad-minded in his views, a fact that has made him very popular with people of all classes and all denominatons. He enjoys to an unusual degree the regard and confidence of the citizens of this community and the regret at his going is general. Rev. Parish will prove a powerful pleader for the cause in which he is to engage and will make a success of the undertaking.

His Farewell Message.

In bidding farewell to his congregation in this city, Rev. Parish does so with a great deal of regret. His new work will keep him employed until fall at least, and it is not likely that he will be re-appointed to this charge should he again take up his ministerial duties. In leaving he submits the following as his farewell message to the people here:

"I wish to take this opportunity of publicly expressing to the members and friends of our church and the people of the entire community my sincerest appreciation of the splendid treatment they have accorded my family and myself during my two and one-half years of service as pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church in this city.

"We shall always cherish the memory of our pleasant pastorate here, and that of our many friends both within and outside of the church.

Praises His Successor.

"My successor is the Rev. James A. Orrock. He has been in the ministry of our church for many years and is a man of wide experience. He has been and is a successful pastor fitted not only to succeed as pastor of a church but broad enough to enter into the community life and to be a friend to all.

"I am well pleased that so good a man is to take up the work of the church here where I lay it down."

Reception This Evening.

There will be a farewell reception given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Parish in the church parlors this evening and all members and friends of the church are invited to be present. This will be the last opportunity our people will have for paying their respects to this popular couple as Mrs. Parish leaves tomorrow and Rev. Parish on Monday.

CLUB GATHERING A DECIDED SUCCESS

MEN AND WOMEN DISCUSS CIVIC TOPICS AFTER AN EXCELLENT LUNCH.

The joint meeting of the Woman's club and the Commercial club at the rooms of the latter organization last Monday evening was the first occasion of the kind to be recorded for this city, but to judge by its success it will not be the last. The largest crowd ever seen in the club rooms sat down to the excellent supper provided by the ladies, after which a program of varied entertainment was presented. Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Woman's club, presided, and briefly stated the purpose of the meeting. She believed that much could be done to further work of a civic character even in war time and urged the members of the two clubs not to forget these matters entirely even though the war must remain the most important matter for the present. President C. R. Crandall followed along the same lines, welcoming the gathering on behalf of the organization of which he is the head.

Short addresses by Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo, Rev. R. L. Barackman, Mrs. Andrew Bottleson, Prof. J. H. Hay, Morlan Bishop and a friend of the latter, Mr. James, an instructor in the university of Minnesota; Daniel Shaw and others. Several selections by the ladies quartet of the Lincoln high school were highly appreciated, as was a reading by Miss Miller. Miss Blanche Johnson and F. G. Wells rendered a piano duet in a manner that fairly captivated their audience.

The affair was a decided success from every point of view and the ladies who originated the plan are justified in considering their efforts as having received unqualified approval.

Do not neglect to hear Judge Andrew Bruce of the Supreme Court of North Dakota at the Auditorium tonight. He conveys a message of importance to us all.

MEN REACHING 21 SUBJECT TO DRAFT

THOSE COMING OF AGE SINCE JUNE 5 ARE AUTOMATICALLY INCLUDED.

The resolution extending the selective draft to men reaching the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917—the first registration day—has been passed by the senate after a futile attempt to add to it a provision for training youths from 19 to 21 years old.

It is estimated that about 700,000 men will be added to the registration this year by the resolution, which is one of the pieces of legislation on which the war department is waiting before announcing complete plans for the next draft.

It now goes to the house with the bill to base draft quotas on the number of registrants in Class one instead of on population, another administration measure already passed by the senate.

It is estimated that seven per cent of the number between the ages of 21 and 31 as indicated by the original registration will become 21 years old each year. This will mean that about 75 will be automatically added to the available list in Pennington county on the 5th of every June.

LOAN PROGRAM IS CHANGED SLIGHTLY

DRIVE WILL COMMENCE ON MORNING OF APRIL 12 INSTEAD OF TOMORROW.

The opening day for the Third Liberty Loan drive, which was originally announced as April 6, has been postponed until Friday, April 12, at least as far as Pennington county is concerned. It was found impossible to get things in readiness for the earlier date as there is a vast amount of preliminary work to be done. For this reason the numerous advertisements ordere by Thief River Falls business institutions, civic organizations and individuals for publication in this week's issue of The Times have been laid over for one week. It is believed that the effect of this publicity matter will be more striking if it appears just before the drive is launched.

Business men in the city are going to do their full share to see that this drive is a success. Realizing that a newspaper should not be required to stand all the cost of presenting to the public the necessity for buying bonds they have ordered large advertisements inserted at their own expense. They are a patriotic, public spirited lot and determined that the Third Loan shall go over the top. They are not only prepared to subscribe liberally themselves but will spend considerable money in a campaign to teach others the necessity for participating in this issue.

Superior Goes Dry.

At the city election held in Superior on Tuesday the city voted out the saloons, the dry majority being about 70. The city voted for licensed saloons a year ago after one year of no license and has again reversed its decision of that time. State Senator Fred A. Baxter was elected mayor by a majority of over 3,000. He is pledged to clamp the lid down tight.

Irvin L. Lenroot, present congressman and Republican candidate for United States senator to succeed Senator Husting, who died in office, was elected by a majority of about 9,000 over Joseph E. Davies, Democrat, Victor Berger, Socialist, was a poor third in the race.

Press Chairman.

Mrs. Chas. Pitkin has been appointed press chairman of the 9th District of the Federated Clubs of Minnesota by Mrs. George J. Allen, president of the federation.

BABY BOND SALE IS $300 PER DAY

SPLENDID RECORD FOR MARCH AT THIEF RIVER FALLS POSTOFFICE.

OUTSIDE DISTRICTS SLOW

POSTMASTER MORGAN IS ENTITLED TO MUCH CREDIT FOR SHOWING.

Last Saturday was "bumper" day for the sale of War Savings Stamps and Certificates at the Thief River Falls postoffice. The purchases on that day amounted to about $1,600, or practically one tenth of the output for the three months during which the sales have been carried on. It is a remarkable showing and reflects much credit upon the hustling abilities of everyone who has anything to do with the matter. Postmaster John Morgan has stimulated interest in the sales among the members of his force by giving a substantial cash prize at the end of each month to the carrier or clerk returning the largest amounts and this has helped wonderfully in stimulating interest. The schools are now organized in the most effective shape and the children are among the most enthusiastic stamp collectors in the city. The amount secured from this source is $998.55. Banks and other business houses are also contributing their share.

March the Banner Month.

During the month of March the sales totalled $7,016.55. This is nearly twice as much as for the previous month and about half of the total collected up to date. It means that practically $300 was collected during every working day of the month, or $37.50 for each of the eight working hours of the day. If any community in this section can show a better record than this the people there are entitled to brag somewhat over the achievement.

The total subscribed since the campaign started on the first of December is $16,007.84, distributed as follows: December, $872.85; January, $3,441.39; February, $4,677.05; March, $7,016.84. These sales have all been made through agencies connected with the local postoffice, the district offices having contributed but little so far.

Climbing Towards the Top.

Pennington county last month moved into 16th place in the list of counties in the state in the baby bond sale competition. We are credited with a per capita investment of $1.28, this being an increase of 52 cents for each man, woman and child in the county over the previous month. Red Lake is the only county in northern Minnesota making a better showing, these neighbors leading all others in the northern half of the state.

Show Respect For Flag.

On weekly drill nights hereafter Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, will observe the ceremony of retreat before being dismissed. This is the beautiful ceremony connected with the lowering of the flag at sundown, and while the actual dismissal will no doubt occur at a somewhat late hour than this, the observance will nevertheless be exacted as an act of honor to the flag. The band will play the national anthem at the same time and everyone within hearing is expected to halt and stand uncovered until the music stops.

Safely Overseas.

Alfred Holmgren yesterday morning received word that his son, Floyd, had arrived safely on the other side. The notification came by postal card which was mailed by the war department at Washington after it became known that the transport on which the young man sailed had made the journey safely. It would appear that these cards are filled out by the soldier before he leaves this country and are then mailed as soon as it becomes known that he has arrived on the other side. The card contains but the one printed line, "I have arrived safely overseas," besides the signature and address.

A Surprised Bachelor.

About fourteen of his friends surprised Herbert Conner at his farm home one-half mile west of town Monday evening.

They took his "bachelor quarters" by storm and Herb, thinking the end at hand, was about to seek refuge in the root cellar, when he got a whiff of real eats which escaped from the well filled baskets of the invaders. Thereupon he gave himself up to the authority of greater numbers and unbarred the door.

Herb. is one of the few "batching it" who is always ready for company. This fact the fairer members of the party were not slow in noting and his bachelor days will no doubt be greatly shortened as a result of this revelation. Everybody had a good time.

G. C. Pierce of Selby, S. D., was in the city Monday, the guest of F. F. Haynes. Mr. Pierce is an officer of the Walworth County State bank Selby and an old friend of Mr. Haynes.

MEMBER MINNESOTA EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION ORGANIZED 1867

WILL STAND BY THEIR FRIEND

As was to be expected, the demand among the farmers for the return of Halvor Steenerson as the congressman from this district is becoming general. They recognize the fact that he has always stood squarely for their interests at all times and under all circumstances and that much of the legislation of recent years having for its purpose the improvement of agricultural conditions must be credited to his efforts He has been their friend and they stand willing to show their appreciation.

There has been considerable talk of an opponent for Mr. Steenerson being placed in the field by the Non-Partisan League. Officials of this organization have never, so far as we know, given utterance to anything that would indicate such intention on their part and farmers generally have believed that the story was started and kept going by interests unfriendly to both the present congressman and the league.

It is certain that if there is one man in the Minnesota delegation at this time entitled to the support of the farmer it is Steenerson. That this is recognized by the man on the farm is amply evidenced by the objection voiced to a candidate being put up against him by any organization composed partly or wholly of farmers. The present congressman has been elected and re-elected by the rural sections of the Ninth district and the voters can see no good reason for rejecting him now.

A great many things have been charged against the Non-Partisan league, most of which are not so. No one has yet come forward with the assertion that the leadership in that organization lacked brains, however, no matter how greatly they might differ on subjects of general policy. For this reason if for no other it would seem as if the placing of a man in the field against Steenerson would be one of the last things that would be seriously considered. The league certainly cannot afford to have the sincerity of its protestations questioned, something that would inevitably be the result should another man be put forward for the purpose of defeating the one congressman whom the farmer, with the best reasons on earth, considers his friend.

The League cannot very well claim that the retirement of Steenerson is called for because a farmer is needed to represent the district. The one representative elected to congress by the Non-Partisons is a cartoonist—and he is a decidedly able congressman at that. The League candidate for governor of Minnesota is a lawyer, and a majority of the others on the state ticket are engaged in occupations other than farming. No one has a right to quarrel with the League on this score. The members selected the men they considered most nearly in sympathy with their aims and who in their opinion would stand the best chance of election. Does not Steenerson come under this classification?

As an indication of how the farmers feel we reprint the following from The Sunbeam, published in this county by W. G. Hunt:

"We as a member of the Non-Partisan League, do not like the idea of somebody, we don't exactly know who, handing over the endorsement of the League to a stranger for congress at this time. It is all right to organize for protection by the farmers, but it is poor policy to start to slaughter men like Congressman Steenerson at this time. While he is now busy working in congress to raise the price of farmers' wheat a political deal is made in the Ninth district to railroad a politician into congress to take his place. If this can be done, have not the opponents of the League told the truth when they said we were paying sixteen dollars for the privilege of being told how to vote? We challenge the leaders of the League to give one valid reason for the removal of Steenerson by the farmers of this district and placing a stranger in his place, while we can give thousands of reasons for his remaining where he is And you bet we are going to keep him right where he is for another two years, where he is so ably looking after the interests of the farmers of this district."

THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN

Instead of being asked to "please" subscribe for a small part of the Third Liberty Loan issue you will be told that a certain amount has been set down as the share you may reasonably be expected to take. You may refuse of course, but in such case your reasons for so doing will be most thoroughly investigated. Your government—the best on earth—needs a part of the surplus you have accumulated by reason of the opportunities presented in this country, and the money is needed in order that you may continue to enjoy the belssings of free government as in the past. The amount must be raised if the soldiers in our armies and in the armies of our allies are to be provided with the means for combating the most bitter and relentless foe of democratic government the world has ever known. In fact, this money must be forthcoming if the war is to be won by the free peoples of the world.

The young men from the farms and factories and mines and transportation systems and desks and counters of every section of the United States are risking their lives for you They might have had reasons for not going far better than any you can present for not supporting them now that they are gone. And that is what your failure to loan your money to your government will amount to. You can't stand around shouting for the overthrow of the kaiser and still refuse to do your share toward bringing about that result. Cheering when the boys leave for the front and getting hot under the collar when you read of the outrage perpetrated by the Huns are not sufficient to prove your patriotism. You must dig up—and you might as well dig cheerfully.

Do not try to get away from your duty by stating that you have already bought Liberty Bonds. If such is the case you have in all probability paid for them and the chances are that you were not even inconvenienced in doing so. To refuse to buy more of these bonds because you have invested in the previous issues is like refusing to put more money in the bank because you already have a small sum there. The more bonds you have the better you will be off. They are the same as cash to you—better in fact, because the money in your pocket draws no interest while these bonds will pay four and a quarter per cent.

In the first two Liberty Loan campaigns the amount alloted to Pennington county was out of all proportion to its population and resources. The quota has been reduced to corespond more nearly with those of its neighbors—and we are going over the top. We have been asked to raise $185,000, which is about $80,000 more than was secured for the second loan, but we will raise it—and then some. Spring is here with the promise of an unusual harvest. Our people are already feeling the effect of the prosperity to come and they will bank on it strong. They also realize more fully than ever before the necessity of providing the means for continuing the war and they will back the government to the limit.

A GIFT WORTH WHILE

The people of Pennington county have liberally contributed toward the support of the Red Cross, but the largest single gift by any one person is undoubtedly that of Robert McGinn, who this week turned over to the local chapter a plot of 160 acres of farm land lying just east of Thief River Falls. There are no strings to this gift. It is for the benefit of the Red Cross and the chapter officers may either sell it or put it to crops, the proceeds of which will go to aid in the great work.

This gift follows close upon the heels of another made by a Thief River Falls man. Dr. F. H. Gambell, former mayor, a short time ago transferred a building lot on Main avenue to the society without any kind of restriction as to how it is to be used appearing in the transfer papers. It is highly desirable property and will net a good sum when sold.

With these two donations it is probable that Pennington county will stand at the head of agricultural communities in the state in support of the Red Cross. More than four thousand dollars in cash was subscribed during the recent drive, the amount received being considerably more than the allotment. Farmers everywhere are giving of their products and the outlook for funds for the immediate future are most excellent. Nothing the community could do so clearly indicate the character of its citizens.

SEND A BOOK TO A SOLDIER

The American people have thus far met every request for things that will help lighten the work of their soldiers with a degree of liberality that indicates clearly their keen concern for the fighters' welfare. Comfort kits, tobacco and knitted goods by the ton have been shipped to France and Smileage Books by the hundreds of thousands have been provided for the boys still in training.

Now comes a request for books. Every public library in the land has been made a collection depot for reading matter of the kind most acceptable to grown-up men and the librarians are seeing to it that the material is forwarded to the proper headquarters.

Just how welcome books are as well as a short history of what happens to the ordinary interesting volume may be gained from the following, written by one of Uncle Sams fighting men at the front: Read what he has to say and then see if you cannot help to supply a similar treat for the denizens of some mud hole:

"Did you ever sit for a five-hour stretch in a damp, dark mud-hole with the din of Hell turned loose in your ears and the ominous possibility of instant death strumming derisive rag-time on your heart strings? I have And I'm but one of thousands Subjected to this abnormal situation, there is still no physical or mental outlet for the overwrought imaginations of the boys. Absolute quiet is imperative.

"Still, we found a way. Some all-provident friend sent one of our boys a copy of O'Henry's 'Options.' There were forty-two men in our Ambulance section. The book contained twenty-two stories. We seized upon it and tore it onto twenty-two integral parts. From then on none of our number lacked readng material when not on duty. I read 'The Head Hunters' six times and 'The Hiding of Black Bill' thrice. Every day the 'story line' preceded the 'bread-line.' We read those tales so many times that the print on the pages began to fade but I'll bet the remnants of that book are still seeing service."

EVERYTHING ELSE SECONDARY

For some considerable time after war was declared the eternal differences arising between capital and labor kept the country from going forward with the preparations at top speed, although it must be said for both sides that these difficulties were no greater here than in other lands in which similar conditions obtain. Such difficulties will no longer hamper production or make timid those on whom the government depends for the furnishing of necessary materials.

An agreement has been reached between the organized laboring men and the representatives of capital whereby all disputes arising are to be submitted to a government mediation body and both sides have pledged themselves to abide by the decisions reached. This means that there will be no strikes or lockouts until after peace has been declared and that there will be no discrimination against working men because of their affiliation or non-affiliation with labor organizations. Following is a part of the program agreed to:

"There shall be no strikes or lockouts during the war.

"The right of workers to organize in trade unions and to bargain collectively, through chosen representatives is recognized and affirmed.

"Employers shall not discharge workers for membership in trade unions, nor for legitimate union activities.

"The workers, in the exercise of their right to organize, shall not use coercive measures to induce persons to join their organizations, nor to induce employers to bargain or deal therewith.

"In establishments where the union shop exists, the same shall continue and the union standards as to wages, hours of labor and other conditions of employment shall be maintained.

"In establishments, where union and non-union men and women now work together, and the employer meets only with employes or representatives engaged in said establishments, the continuance of such condition shall not be deemed a grievance."

In thus getting together both sides have yielded something for the general good. The agreement means that the work of the German propagandist will be practically at an end so far as fomenting trouble in our industrial centers is concerned. It means that the moneyed men and the laboring men o' the country have fallen in line with the farmer for the purpose of devoting all their energies to the one purpose of winning the war.

As an indication of just how organized labor feels toward the attempt that is being made to Prussianize the world, the following statement, by President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, will be echoed by every workingman, union or nonunion, in the United States. He refers to the German peace proposals:

"You can't talk peace to us now. Either you smash your autocracy or we will smash it for you. Before you talk peace terms get back from France, get back from Belgium, into Germany, and then we will talk peace."

THEY CONTINUED TO DRINK AND SING

Bruce Barton of The Vigilantes in Every Week.

Before you fill in your subscription to the third Liberty Loan, I ask you to take a look at Malines and Campenhout.

It is all written in a book. Just a matter of fact little book filled with official documents.

Open it at the pages that deal with Malines and read:

"In Malines itself they (the Germans) destroyed 1,500 houses from first to last and revenged themselves atrociously on the civil population. A Belgian soldier saw them bayonet an old woman in the back, and cut off a young woman's breasts.

"Another saw them bayonet a woman and her son.

"They shot a police inspector in the stomach as he came out of his door, and blew off the head of an old woman at a window.

"A child of 2 came out into the street as eight drunken soldiers were marching by. A man in the second file stepped aside and drove his bayonet with both hands into the child's stomach. He lifted the child into the air on his bayonet and carried it away, he and his companion still singing. The child screamed when the soldier struck it with his bayonet, but not afterwards.

"Another woman was found dead with twelve bayonet wounds between her shoulders and her waist.

"Another—between 16 and 20 years old—who had been killed by a bayonet was kneeling, and her hands were clasped, and the bayonet had pierced both hands.

"A boy about 16 had been killed by a bayonet thrust through his mouth.

"In the same house was an old woman lying dead."

I do not often ask you to read unpleasant paragraphs like these: I do it because when it comes to writing about Liberty bonds, I feel like throwing aside all the fine words and telling you the whole truth as it appeals to me.

And the truth is that I am not buying a nickel's worth of bonds to give Trieste to Italy or one single added colony to England or Alsace Lorraine to France.

Other folks may rally around these battle standards if they find satisfaction in them.

I buy Liberty bonds because there is a 2-year-old boy in my home—as there was in that nameless home in Malines.

And because—so small has the world become—that Malines is only just across the street from where I live.

Prices are high. It is hard these days for a man with even a good income to buy food and clothes for his folks.

But I ask myself over and over again what good to my youngsters are food and clothes, if the spirit that fired Malines comes out of this war unrebuked?

What sort of parents are you and I, if we take care of the minor matters such as food and clothes, and send our children out into a world where children may still be bayonetted and women ruthlessly slain?

I hate war. If we were at war with England or France, I would fill this column so full of cries for a peace conference that they would put me in jail for doing it.

But this is not a war of nations; it is a grapple of ideals.

The ideal that respects pledges and the lives of women and children, battling with the ideal that counts pledges and the lives of women and children as mere pawns in the game of empire.

"At Campenhout," says the book, "they rifled the wine cellar and shot the mistress of the house in cold blood as she entered the room where they were drinking. The other officers continued to drink and sing."

Only a woman being killed. It was nothing. They did not even look around. They continued to drink and sing.

So long as they who bayonetted the child of Malines go singing through the streets of Belgium, there must be Liberty bonds

So long as the terror that stalked through Capenhout contnues to hang over my house, there must be Liberty bonds.

I do not know how it may be with you; but with me, this third Liberty Loan cuts down through the luxuries into what we used to think were necessities in our household.

And we make the sacrifice gladly for the sake of the great necessity.

The necessity for establishing safety in the world for little children.

For making it clear once and for all that while women are being slain, no men can ever again with impunity continue to drink and sing.

HE'S ALSO A FOOD HOARDER

The farmer who is now withholding his wheat in the hope of getting a higher price than that fixed by the government is worse by far than he who hoards food because of fear that there may be a shortage. The latter has at least the excuse that he is providing for his family against a time of want, while the man who now withholds his grain is doing so in the hope that the already heavily taxed consumer will be compelled to pay a still higher price.

The food administration has appealed to the farmers of the country to send in all the wheat still remaninig in their hands but the effect has thus far been far from that expected. It is known that there is still a considerable quantity of this grain in the granaries of the country but it is being held. The purpose of this is a little hard to understand. The price has been fixed and it is not at all likely that it will be changed until the period to which it applies has expired. That will be on the first of May next year. While it is probable that the price is too low, yet it gives the farmer a very fair margin of profit when compared with any average year. At any rate, it is all he will get.

Our advice to those who are hanging onto their wheat is to sell. It is only a question of a short time until the government will know where practically every pound of the cereal in the country is located, and that it will be commandeered is certain should it become apparent that the need for drastic action is necessary. The farmer who is then found with a supply on hand is going to have a hard time explaining his position.

The farmers of Pennington county have responded so heartily to the demands of the government in every other instance that we should dislike very much to find that any of them are slackers in this respect.

SMUT TREATMENT SAVES TWO TO SIX DOLLARS PER ACRE.

There is nothing more apparent, even to the man who has no eyes for it, than that the farmers of our community are going to do their bit toward seeing to it that the food shortage will get a regular Willard punch. Uncle Sam can be sure that our plows, harrows and seeders have been brought into full action and will stay till the work is done.

As farmers, it must stiffen our backbones and give a new sparkle to the eye to know that we can do our share in this supreme battle for democracy. But no battle is fought as it ought to be, until we have used the best weapons at our disposal. And we will not do our best until we have used our best intelligence and the best knowledge available.

Let us see that our wheat, oats and barley seed is clean and treated for smut. Our loss here has been five or more per cent. A little care and pains will not only add this to our profits but will also feed a good many hnugry people.

A simple treatment sent out by the Department of Agriculture will do the business. It is as follows:

"Wet Method.—Sprinkle seed until thoroughly moist with solution of one pint of formaldehyde to forty gallons of water, shoveling over repeatedly to distribute moisture evenly. Forty gallons will treat sixty bushels. Shovel into a pile and cover with sacks, canvas or blankets for two hours or over night. Dry by spreading in thin layer and stirring occasionally with rake. Seed may be sown when dry enough to run freely through the drill, setting the drill to sow about two pecks more per acre, to allow for swollen condition of grain. If to be stored for several days or longer, dry thoroughly. Disinfect sacks, bin, and drill, to prevent reinfection."

See your county agent if you need further instruction along this line.

Ten Years Ago.

Congressman Steenerson secured a favorable report on the bill restoring to entry a large tract of the ceded reservation land which had been withdrawn two years previously, pending an investigation held with a view to the establishment of drainage works thereon.

A heavy snow storm visited the entire Red River Valley.

W. W. Prichard, Sr., was expected to return shortly from an extended visit to the state of Washington.

The city received its second automobile, Newberry & Bulman being the owners.

The market report showed the following prices were being paid: Wheat, 93c; flax, $1.03; oats, 42c; rye, 60c; barley, 46c; creamery butter, 32c; dairy butter, 20c; eggs, 15c; potatoes, 50c.

If the postoffice receipts kept up all through the year at the rate for the first three months, it would mean a total of $8,500 annually.

Twenty Years Ago.

A. A. Johnson, an engineer employed by the government, was in the city for the purpose of investigating the effect of placing pilings in the river here for the purpose of holding the log booms. He was assured by everyone, including the steamboat men, that no inconvenience was caused by the piles being retained.

It was suggested that the residents of Red Lake and Roseau counties offer some inducements to get the Northern Pacific to extend its lines from Red Lake to Roseau, a distance of 75 miles.

During the month of March the Crookston land office received 40 entries on reservation lands, 33 applications for final proof and three cash entries. The total receipts for the month were $1,932.67.

The war with Spain was occupying the attention of the people, and The Thief River Falls Press contained an editorial on the necessity for giving President McKinley a free hand in dealing with the unusual conditions.

Among the bills allowed by the city council was one in favor of Marius Olson for 10 cords of hardwood. Amount $22.50.

A sleighload of Thief River Falls people who went up the river on a photographing expedition broke thru the ice and it was only by the utmost exertions and cool-headedness of the menfolks present that a calamity was averted. Among the passengers were J. Borry and son, Miss Della order and one of the Robbecke boys.

One man brought in 72 martin skins to the fur warehouse of Mr. Kretzschmar. The value of the pile was over $500.

The Thief River Falls and Red Lake stage made the last trip of the season to the agency during the week. Plans were on foot for shortening the distance and providing stopping places en route for the next winter's business.

Way Up in the World.

Judge N. W. Tarrant of the municipal court, has received a postal card from Ben E. Bothun, who is with the 20th engineers at Washington University camp. The card was written in the room at the top of the monument, approximately 550 feet from the ground. Ben seems to be getting along all right, although he makes no mention of his progress or the kind of work he is engaged in.

BAN IS LIFTED ON WHEAT AND MEAT

HOTELS MAY BE ASKED TO CUT OUT FORMER ENTIRELY, HOWEVER.

FLOUR CARDS MAY FOLLOW

EVERYONE HAVING MORE THAN FIFTY POUNDS MUST RETURN SURPLUS.

Meatless and wheatless meals and days are no longer required in the homes or public eating places, according to word which has been received in this city. However, National Food Administrator H. C. Hoover is about to ask hotels and restaurants to put a ban on wheat products for some time. Hotel managers who met with him in Washington last week agreed that they would willingly comply with such a request.

The present supply of meat and potatoes is sufficiently large to warrant an appeal to everyone to return to the old diet of these staples and thus save wheat. The regulation requiring the purchase and sale of an equal amount of flour substitutes is still in effect and will continue for some time.

Must Release Surplus.

Furthermore, it is very likely that people will be placed on flour cards within a few days in order to save wheat flour to an even greater extent. An edict was issued last week by the food administration compelling everyone who has more than 50 pounds of flour (or a month's supply) in their homes to return all over that amount to their dealers or have it confiscated by the food administration, with the additional danger of being fined or imprisoned, or both. All those who voluntarily return such excess of wheat flour will not have their names made public, but publicity will be given to those who are forced to disgorge.

Feterita and Corn Grits.

In connection with the flour substitutes it may be of interest to know what is meant by feterita flour and corn grits. A letter from A. D. Wilson at St. Paul to Scott Laird, city salesman of the Thief River Grocery Co., says that feterita flour is a southern product made from a grain similar to kaffir corn, while corn grits is practically the same as hominy, only finer.

Papers throughout the state tell nearly every day of persons who have been caught with too large a supply of wheat flour and not enough of substitutes. A case has also come to light of a flour mill which sold to new customers and this mill has been closed altogether. There is also talk of confiscating all excess wheat in the hands of farmers on May 15, but as yet there has been nothing definite in this matter.

Sugar Situation Improves.

The sugar situation is improving steadily, another car being received this week by the local wholesale grocery house. More will be coming shortly and the danger of a sugar famine is practically over, yet people should not forget that they can have but three pounds per person per month. If they do not hold to this rule sugar cards will shortly appear and confiscation of stocks in homes would result, it is thought.

Club Meeting Postponed.

The regular meeting of the Rocksbury Farmer's club which is scheduled to be held next Saturday evening has been postponed one week and will be held at Walhalla school house on April 13. A number of matters of importance are to come up at that time and it is desired that the entire membership be present.

GIFT OF FARM TO LOCAL RED CROSS

ROBERT McGINN GIVES PENNINGTON COUNTY CHAPTER 160 ACRES OUTRIGHT.

Robert McGinn, president of the Farmers' & Merchants' State bank of this city, is one who believes in the work of the Red Cross and in doing everything possible to help win the war.

Mr. McGinn has given to the Pennington County Chapter of the American Red Cross a quarter section of land east of the city. This is believed to be the first instance of any such land donations in the United States and the officers and directors of the local chapter are exceedingly grateful to Mr. McGinn for his generous offer.

Announcement of the gift was made at the monthly meeting of the chapter Tuesday evening. Plans are already under way to dispose of the land at as good a figure as possible and thus increase the funds of the chapter by a very tidy figure. The land will no doubt be sold to the one making the best offer for the same, bids being received up to and including April 30, the sale being concluded on May 1.

Considerable publicity to the donation of the land and sale thereof is being given throughout the whole country, and it is confidently expected that some good offers from people away from here will be received—especially from those living in large cities who wish to take up farming.

MEMORIAL SERVICE OF U. C. T. SUNDAY

GENERAL PUBLIC INVITED TO WITNESS OBSERVANCE AT ODD FELLOWS HALL.

Minnesota Council No. 521, Union of Commercial Travelers, will hold the annual memorial of the union at Odd Fellows hall in this city on Sunday afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock. There will be a musical program and the regular memorial service of the organization will be carried out. This ceremony is most impressive and beautiful and a general invitation has been extended to the public to be present.

Band Leader Leaves.

Joe Greenfield, for three years the band leader in this city, left Monday evening for Escanaba, Mich., where he will visit for a short time before going to Cairo, Ill., where he will enlist with the band of one of the regiments going to the front. He will also stop off at Fort Dodge for a short visit with the boys from this city who are now in training there. Mr. Greenfield has been a most capable band leader and would no doubt have remained here, but so many of his former associates have already gone to war in one capacity or another that his organization was badly broken up. Of late he has been devoting his attention to the Kids' band almost exclusively but this work was hardly sufficient to keep him going. Joe is a good fellow and our people will all wish him the best of luck.

WILL ASSESS REAL ESTATE THIS YEAR

ASSESSORS WILL BE CALLED TO RECEIVE INSTRUCTIONS THIS MONTH.

Real estate is to be assessed this year and T. P. Anderson, county auditor, stated that the town assessors will be called to meet here on April 18 with a representative of the Minnesota Tax commission. At that time there will be instructions to the assessors and all will be present to receive information concerning their duties.

Great stress is to be laid upon assessments this year that taxes may be as near equitable as possible. The assessment is the basis of taxation. Every dollar of taxable property must contribute its fair and equitable share of direct taxation and the tax commission lays special stress upon the fact that there must be no guess work; that the assessors must make personal examination of the property to be assessed and place a good fair value upon it Upon this basis equitable taxation will be made.

SUPPLY YOUR COAL NEEDS FOR WINTER

PLACING ORDERS NOW MAY PREVENT CONSIDERABLE INCONVENIENCE LATER.

The Pennington County Fuel administration wishes to impress upon the coal users in the territory the importance of securing their coal supply for next winter with as little delay as possible. The dealers are now all supplied with the necessary blanks, which must be filled out by the purchaser before any coal can be delivered, and they suggest that the consumers make their wants known as quickly as possible. Their instructions to the public are as follows:

"Go to your dealer, not to the local committee, and place your order for next winter's actual needs. Those having furnaces and stoves that will burn wood are expected to cut their usual requirements in two by arranging to burn wood during mild weather.

"Deliveries based on your order will begin after lake navigation opens. Do not telephone orders. You must sign consumers application blank properly filled out before your order can be considered.

"All orders will be reported to the local fuel committee monthly by the dealers and requisition for coal shipments will be made on the basis of these orders."

SCHOOL NOTES

War saving societies are being organized this week in the various rooms in all buildings. These are additional to the organizations already promoted for patriotic purposes in the grades and high school.

School opened Monday morning on "new time" and no pupils were tardy. The teachers report that the change created no confusion and worked no inconvenience to any pupil.

A beginning class was organized in the normal department at the Washington last Monday morning. It is considered most convenient to hold sessions for these little people during the afternoons only.

Herbert Hanson of the class of 1917, in the service of his country in Missouri made an interesting address to the high school students last Thursday afternoon. Like all other enlisted men, he speaks in strong terms in favor of the training given the soldiers and comments favorably on the work of the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations.

It is somewhat disappointing that President Burton of the state university cannot deliver the commencement address. He visited Thief River Falls during the month of January and found that his work and time prohibited his giving a town two visits within six months. Correspondence is now being carried on with a distinguished public official in the hope that he can be secured.

Constant inquiry is made of the school office relative to boys dropping school work for other duties. The state department advises against dismissal, but recognizes the right of a parent to use his child this year of war where the boy's labor might increase production. All cases must be determined on their respective merits, however.

Rural school officers in this county would act wisely in hiring members of the present class of normal training students immediately. A decided scarcity of teachers exists and some school board members who wait until after the annual meeting to hire will find themelves compelled to accept persons with permits and no professional preparation to conduct a school.

As a matter of assurance to the parents of the 76 graduate in this year's class, it ought to be announced that every person in authority in school matters looks with favor upon the wise action of the class in deciding upon an economical graduating program. A uniform and useful dress for girls and a plain suit for the boys prohibit any sartorial extravagances, which too often mark graduation. Parents must commend this course and no one can criticise it unless prompted to do so by selfish motives.

The high school was favored last Monday afternoon by a visit from Mr. Morlan Bishop who is home on furlough from Camp Dodge for a few days. In addressing the students he outlined the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the camps and presented a most interesting account of the many and various branches of activity to which this splendid organization is committed. Mr. Bishop is in charge of the educational branch of the work in one brigade unit and with the help of enlisted men conducts a school program comprising a wide range of subjects.

The six weeks' period examinations for the upper grades take place Saturday of this week. The reason that they are held on Saturday is in order to permit the school for these grades to close somewhat earlier in May than would be possible were they conducted on a school day. The demand for large boys and girls for town and farm labor is beyond belief. The schools must recognize this call and plan to obey it as a patriotic duty so far as possible.

DE LAVAL
CREAM SEPARATOR

The concave-bottom, self-centering bowl in the NEW De Laval Cream Separator is the biggest advance in separator construction in 30 years.

It has greater capacity without increasing either the size or the speed, and it is so supported upon the detached spindle that it will run true and do perfect work even after long and hard wear.

It has fewer discs than the old type bowl. All discs are unnumbered and interchangeable. Discs are caulked only on one side. The milk distributing device is removable. It's easier to wash than ever before.

We're here every day to explain the NEW De Laval to you—to go into all the details. You can buy one from us on such easy terms that it will save its cost while you are paying for it. Come in and talk it over.

Sugar for Preserving

The Food Administration issues the following:

In reply to many inquiries that are being received regarding sugar supplies for manufacturers of essential food products, and appreciating, as we do, the necessity of both production and preservation of food supplies, as well as reflecting the policy of the Food Administration as bearing upon collateral industries such as manufacturers of cans and fruit jars, etc., and buyers of same, all manufacturers of essential food products are advised that they will be able to obtain their full necessary requirements of sugar for manufacturing purposes during the coming season.

This applies particularly to the packers of fruit, condensed milk, and such vegetables for the preservation of which sugar may be necessary, as well as to the housewives for usage in preserving purposes.

As soon as the car shortage is relieved, supplies of sugar will be available for the necessary preservation purposes. Brown sugar has again made its appearance locally; and cut loaf may be looked for in the near future. Shipments from Cuba are steadily increasing.

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Water Travel Easiest.

During our summers in Alaska, if we traveled, it was usually by water. The ground is so covered with moss, into which one sinks when walking upon it, that it is shunned as much as possible. For that reason, I enjoyed the winters more than the summers. I could go where I wanted to in the winter, but in the summer time the trips were very limited. The government furnished us a whale boat some thirty feet long which carried a large sail to be used on the ocean. For the river we had smaller boats which we poled both up and down stream.

There were a few experiences with the whale boat, the recounting of which might be of interest as connected with part of my work during the summer time.

Stuck on the Bottom.

Some of the reindeer had been shot by a renegade as he was traveling by the herd when it was feeding on the summer feeding ground. When the news reached me I made ready, taking two men with me in the whale boat, followed up his trail to the head of Norton bay that I might secure evidence looking toward his arrest.

Our trip to the head of the bay was uneventful, as I remember it, more than that, we had to row much of the way on account of the lack of a sailing wind. We finally reached the head of the bay and ascended a river some distance to a little settlement where we secured the desired information. We started down the river late in the afternoon and were out in the bay, probably a mile, when the tide had so gone out that the boat began to drag on the bottom. We worked hard to get far enough out into the bay to get deep water, but the tide kept going out and we were left right there with the boat resting on the bottom of the bay. There was nothing for us to do but to roll up in our blankets and go to sleep and wait for the tide to come in.

Bucking a Head Wind.

Early in the morning, I was awakened by the waves raising the boat from its resting place and then allowing it to bump the bottom as we lay at anchor. I got the other two men awake and we spread the sail and started for home.

We made but little progress on account of the poor wind. In the afternoon it began to blow harder and we had to reef our sail. Even then the wind came in such squalls over the high land of Cape Denbigh that at times we were threatened with the danger of being capsized. As we rounded the cape and turned our boat to the south we had so much of a head wind that we could not do more than hold our own. After battling with the tide and the waves and the wind and finding that we were not progressing we decided to put to shore in lea of the cape on a narrow footing washed up by the sea.

Rather Strenuous Work.

The sail had to be lowered as the whirling winds made imminent the overturning of our open boat. Just as soon as that was done two of us manned the heavy oars while the third man, who was an able seaman, took his place at the rudder and directed the course of the boat. I never worked so hard in my life nor became so completely exhausted. Every muscle was put to the test as we endeavored to force our way in opposition to the angry elements; we were tossed this way and that and apparently made no progress in the direction of our goal. Were we to cease our efforts for one minute in which to give our tired muscles rest we would lose all we had gained.

I was not only becoming tired but discouraged, for I could not see that we were gaining one foot. I know that when I was in that frame of mind I showed signs of weakening for the one at the rudder gave forth a clear cut command to pull and to pull hard. I abandoned myself to the command; forgot myself as an individual and became a working part of the crew. We began to gain in spite of the fury of the storm and the dashing of the waves. I could see that the boat was moving and moving because of the effort of our exertions.

The Effect of a Command.

Then we crept into the shelter of the high cliffs and our boat shot into a calm and we landed on the narrow beach at the foot of the high perpendicular bluffs.

As I sat resting I looked out upon the turbulent waters where we had been struggling but a short time ago and I could still hear that command to pull and to pull hard. When I realized how near I was to giving up and how I was changed by that command from a negative to a positive factor, playing a very important part in our present safe position, I could not help but appreciate the fact that one is controlled largely by outside influences.

This was a rocky place where we had put in and the water being more or less in motion kept the boat striking against these projecting rocks and required some one in attendance. The other two men of the party wished to go to the reindeer camp, and spend the night, so I let them go and I staid near the boat.

Not a Pleasant Night.

It was anything but an enviable place to be alone at night, and I did not relish the thoughts of being left there. I had been under a nervous strain in the storm all the afternoon. While I can not say that was afraid, for I was not, I was simply keyed up to such a degree that I was apprehensive.

It seemed that the ocean made sounds more dismal than ever before. It not only moaned but there was a derisive cry mingled with the moan as though it rejoiced in it's hideous past. In the twilight winged one of Alaska's ravens croaking his dismal song of "never more." In the rocks of the cliffs were the nests of the sea-parrots and their shrill chatter as they flew to and from their nests grated upon my finer sensibilities.

Rather Gruesome.

In the shadow of the cliffs near the angry foaming sea, I spread out my tarpaulin over a piece of drift wood which I had anchored, making fast either end upon huge boulders. Upon the edges of the tarpaulin which reached to the ground, I placed heavy stones—so I had my tent complete. Into this I drew my blanket and so prepared to sleep. But my associations were not congenial. It was not only the noises of the sea and the chatter of the sea-parrots and the fact of being alone that worried me, but I could not get from my mind for a long, long time the fact that but a few feet from my feet, just underneath the sand, lay the body of a dead man whom I had found in his tent early in the spring after he had shot himself. There I had buried him. I could not keep myself from going over in my mind, the look upon his face, just where the bullet hole was in his head and all the other horrid things associated with him. I began to wish that I had left the old boat to its fate and had accompanied my companions to the camp for the night, when I went to sleep and slept dreaming of things much more pleasant than my surroundings.

Later the men returned to the boat; the wind had changed so we set sail for home which we reached without further mishap.

A Cargo of Salmon.

On another occasion we were contemplating a trip to St. Michael in this same whale boat. We decided to fill our boat with fresh salmon, which were so plentiful in the river, and take them along and sell to the ocean steamers which would be lying at anchor. Our boat was loaded down with many hundred pounds of the fish until the top of the boat was only a little ways above the water's level. Still she was a good boat and we did not anticipate anything but a safe journey.

It was some sixty miles to St. Michael and all open-sea sailing. We left the station in the afternoon, and, had we had fair sailing, should have arrived at our destination by midnight. But the winds were not to our advantage and we were still on the ocean twenty miles from St. Michael in the early morning. At that time the wind began to increase—a favorable wind blowing from off the sea. It carried us swiftly toward our port.

In the Trough of the Sea.

As we sped along we could see that great waves were beginning to roll in upon us from far out to sea. They were great ocean swells, so large that while we were in their trough nothing could be seen of the shore or St. Michael, which prominently stood upon an elevation. When we were upon their crest we were so lifted up that the whole coast was open to our view. St. Michael could be seen so well that we could even distinguish the barracks and the large trading houses.

The wind as it blew against the sail so lowered the port side of the boat, that it was even with the water' level; while on the opposite side, as the crest of the waves broke, shipped water into the boat. This was all right as it was, for the boat was riding the waves beautifully and we would soon be on smooth water out of the way of these great billows. It was a pleasing sensation to go shooting up the side of one wave, hang for a moment upon the crest, then go sliding down the opposite side into the trough of the next.

An Anxious Moment.

While the waves were growing larger we were congratulating ourselves that we would soon be out of danger, when, all at once, something dreadful seemed to happen. I could not comprehend what it was. I only knew that the man at the helm had lost control of the boat; for no longer was her prow held to the wind; the sail was flopping to and fro at will; we were rocking as though drunken in the trough of the waves. I realied that we were in danger, and the thought came to me, "I am glad that my father and mother can not see me now, for I know what their anguish would be."

My companion realizing much sooner than I did that an accident had happened to the steering gear, seized one of the heavy oars, thrust it down on the larboard side near the stern and held on. I immediately followed his example, after securing one of the remaining oars. This righted the boat again, the sail filled and we were off, having shipped not over a tubful of water.

The steersman was able to fix the rudder which had loosened under the strain. We withdrew our oars and rested from the excitement, while the boat carried us in safety the rest of the journey to St. Michael.

Surprise For Thief River Falls.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-i-ka, the appendicitis preventative, surprises Thief River Falls. It draws so much foul matter from the system that ONE SPOONFUL relieves sour stomach, gas and constipation AT ONCE. F. J. Stebbins, druggist.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. DEMOCRATS SELECT STATE CANDIDATES

FRED E. WHEATON OF MINNEAPOLIS, NOMINATED AS STANDARD BEARER.

John Morgan and E. M. Stanton, delegates from Pennington county to the meeting of state democrats held in St. Paul last week, returned Thursday. More than one thousand men, reprsenting every section of the state, were in attendance and the meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held by the party in the state. The gathering was harmonious in every detail, according to the reports, and the first steps for an agressive campaign were taken.

The convention granted the privilege of the floor to representatives of the Woman's Suffrage association and incorporated a plank in the platform endorsing the enfranchisement of the women of the state. One of the features of the meeting was the address delivered by Mrs. Peter Oleson of Cloquet, whoe remarks were listened to with enthusiastic approval.

Following is the ticket nominated:
Governor—Fred E. Wheaton, Minneapolis.
Lieutenant Governor—Charles Helweg, Fulda.
Secretary of State—Edward Indrehus, Foley.
Auditor—L. W. Huntley, Grand Rapids.
Treasurer—D. D. Devine, Albert Lea.
Attorney General—B. B. Gislasson, Minneota.
Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—E. G. Hall, Minneapolis.
Clerk Supreme Court—Charles Lethert, St. Paul.

HOMESTEADERS MAY HELP OUT FARMERS

ARE PERMITTED TO LEAVE THEIR CLAIMS FOR THIS PURPOSE.

Homesteaders who have not yet proved up on their holdings will be permitted to leave their homes for the purpose of working for other farmers and the time so employed will be accepted as actual residence by the land office authorities. Congress recently passed a law which provides as follows:

"That during the pendency of the existing war any homestead settler or entryman shall be entitled to a leave of absence from his land for the purpose of performing farm labor, and such absence, while actually engaged in farm labor, shall, upon compliance with the terms of this act, be counted as constructive residence: Provided, That each settler or entryman within fifteen days after leaving his claim for the purpose herein provided shall file notice thereof in the United States Land Office, and at the expiration of the calendar year file in said land office of the district wherein his claim is situated a written statement, under oath and corroborated by two witnesses, giving the date or dates when he left his claim, date or dates of return thereto, and and where and for whom he was engaged in farm labor during such perio or periods of absence."

Short Course at Aggie.

The eighth annual junior short course of the Northwest School of Agriculture will begin April 1. This junior short course is for boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18. There were a hundred enrolled last year and prospects indicate a larger number this year. The work taken up includes boys' and girls' club work of all kinds, lessons in corn, potato culture, calf judging, poultry, vegetable growing, and many other interesting exercises. Parents will afford their boys and girls a fine week's outing as well as instruction. The only cost is $2.50 covering board and room during the week. It will be necessary for the students to bring bedding as the school does not furnish this material. Write to the Agricultural School, Crookston, for further information.

He Likes The Times.

In sending $3.00 for the purpose of renewing his subscription for two years, C. A. Anderson, formerly of this city but now assistant cashier of the State Bank of Greenbush, writes as follows: "The Times is the best paper we get, so miss it when it fails to find us. The articles on Alaska contributed by Mr. Gambell surely are interesting and alone are worth the subscription price of the paper. Might state that Greenbush is on the map. Had a sale here for the benefit of the Red Cross on the 14th that netted over $450. A one dollar bill was sold over and over 22 times at $1.25 each time and then again donated, so brought $28.50."

The Week's Food Lesson.

The monthly per capita consumption of wheat flour was ordered reduced to six pounds in a proclamation issued by the national food administration this week. The reduction is necessary the food administration states if the shipments of wheat to our soldiers and the allies are to be at all adequate and the people at home are to have even this limited quantity of wheat for their own use during the period from now until the present year's crop is harvested.

"From now until harvest no effort must be spared that will result in the saving of wheat," says A. D. Wilson, federal food administrator for Minnesota, "and fortunately there is every indication that there will be an abundance of substitutes, as mills are changing constantly to milling either barley, corn or rice. The 50-50 rule must be rigidly observed and everyone should cut down his consumption of wheat flour to the limit. The meat situation is considerably relieved and we can use meat, except beef and pork on Tuesday, whenever it will result in the saving of wheat. Generous use of potatoes and gravy will undoubtedly reduce the consumption of bread. This is the best time of the year for a shortage of bread supplies because it is the season when eggs and dairy products are abundant and fresh vegetables will soon be plentiful.

Unless a more general use of potatoes is begun immediately in every Minnesota home a large amount of good food will be wasted. The 1917 crop was large, the distribution has been handicapped and the consumption below normal. With the world facing a food shortage, failure to convert to human uses before it spoils the excellent food contained in this surplus crop would be nothing short of criminal. "Get busy on the use of the potato right now," the state food administration urged, "and let food thus consumed release a proportionate amount of wheat for export."

JUST IN TIME.

Some Thief River Falls' People May Wait Till It's Too Late.

Don't wait until too late.
Be sure to be in time.
Just in time with kidney ills.
Means curing the backache, the dizziness, the urinary disorders,
That so often come with kidney troubles.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for this very purpose.

Here is Thief River Falls testimony of their worth.

John P. Pederson, 327 Kendall Ave., N., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and irregular kidney action, and they fixed me in every way and now my kidneys act normally and I have no more backache. I used to be a river driver and camping out and getting wet so much was how I came to contract kidney trouble. I am grateful to Doan's for curing me and that's why I'm giving them my endorsement."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Pederson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

After the day's grind, a rest and a chew of Real Gravely. This is solid tobacco comfort; and to think—Sis sent it, too!

His Best Friend Sent Him a pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

You will be sending your friend more tobacco comfort and satisfaction in a pouch of Real Gravely Plug than in a half a dozen plugs of ordinary tobacco. Real Gravely is worth sending a long way. It is condensed quality.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c. pouches. A 3c. stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c. stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

Mr. Hoover asks you to save butter, lard, suet. Mazola is a pure, vegetable oil for deep frying, sautéing, shortening—wonderfully economical.

MAZOLA

With the Nation-wide movement to save animal fats the housewife is confronted with a serious problem—if she would continue to serve fried foods.

Thousands of American homes have found the answer in Mazola, the pure cooking and salad oil from corn.

Because Mazola is a vegetable oil—and because a thorough test on the part of housewives has proven that Mazola is more practical, more economical than the old cooking mediums.

It makes fried foods digestable—and the great big factor for economy in Mazola is that it can be used over and over again—does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another.

A recent demonstration showed that the same tinful of Mazola could be used eighteen successive times for deep frying!

Mazola is fine for salad dressings, too.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

A Lower Butter Market

In the last 2 weeks the butter price has dropped from about 53c per pound to 43c, or 10c per pound.

The decline was caused mostly because the price of butter for the last four months has been too high for the common people. They had to use oleomargarine and nut margarine, instead of butter. Therefore butter accumulates and prices drop until they again come within the reach of all the people.

Cash price for butterfat is now 42c
Last month's price, 56c

FARMER ALLY OF DEMOCRACY IN GREAT WAR

Tiller of Soil as Essential to Success as the Soldier or the Gun Maker.

IMPORTANCE REALIZED

Agricultural Interests Receive Early Consideration From Public Safety Commission—Help and Inspiration Given—State to Double Production.

Democracy's principal ally in this great war for the dethronement of Prussianism is the farmer. Though guns may thunder and cities crumble before the onslaughts of the millions now engaged in the great cause, peace, everlasting peace can come only through the lowly tiller of the soil.

To the thoughtless this may not appeal, but how inseparably the great cause and the farmer are linked is indicated in the unusual deference being shown him by those directing the allied interests. No battle is complete without the farmer. God speed him, is the constant supplication.

Among the first of the state war units to recognize the importance of the farmer in his relation to the great conflict was the Minnesota State Safety commission. Early was the consideration given the agricultural interests of the state by this body and in its twelve months of existence little has been overlooked in the way of help and patriotic inspiration. Returns in consequence have been many fold and further help is contemplated.

This year should see Minnesota's food production doubled and as the main source of that production is the farmers of the state the task the Minnesota safety commission has before it can be appreciated. And that the Commission will succeed there is little doubt as it has the confidence of the farmers and they will respond to a man.

One of the most active of the Minnesota Safety body in an agricultural way is C. H. March, vice president of the commission and a farmer himself. As the head of the agricultural division of the state organization both his time and his money have been freely given in its furtherance. Recently Mr. March returned from Washington where he went at the instance of Gov. Burnquist and the members of the Commission and his visit was not only of value to the agricultural interests of Minnesota, but to the entire Northwest. If only the promise of an increased fixed price for the 1918 wheat crop, which was one of the objects of the visit, is realized, this intervention alone will be worth many millions of dollars to the farmers of the state.

At the command of Gov. Burnquist and the Minnesota Safety commission Mr. March placed before President Wilson and those interested in food production a number of things necessary to the success of the farmers and the additional production which is so urgently desired and was successful to the extent that many reforms will undoubtedly follow. Not the least of the promises obtained was aid in behalf of a substantial increase in the government fixed price for wheat and a partial return to state grain grades which have been superseded by federal standards. Acting on behalf of the commission Mr. March pointed out to President Wilson and his war aides the great work Minnesota farmers are doing and urged as generous a government compensation as other lines of endeavor are now receiving. Such was only justice.

One of the early agricultural activities of the commission was the supplying of farm help made necessary by the draft. With the usual sources of supply cut off by the national call to arms the Commission at once took over the free employment machinery of the state and much financial loss was averted as a result. This year even greater plans are in preparation for the harvest call.

Another of the early problems was transportation and how it was handled by the Commission is best told in the thousands of freight cars that have been forwarded to every section of the state at the urgent call of farmers and communities generally. Any dearth in this respect has been kept down to the minimum.

One of the chief features of the success of the Commission in an agricultural way has been the confidence its activities has inspired. Education and patriotic appeal, instead of official commands have been the main feature of its propaganda and as a result general cooperation is greater than ever in the history of the state. Today the commission has more intimate relations and is in closer touch with the farmers of Minnesota than any other known agency.

With the opening of the new crop year efforts of the Minnesota Safety commission will be redoubled in making it a record breaker and there is every reason to believe that the fondest hopes of those in charge will be realized. Anticipating such, plans that will carry the commission well into the harvest season are in the making and these cover every phase of farm work and state help.

WOMEN IN DRAMATIC ROLES

Famous Heroines in Various Shakespearean Characters, as Detailed by Noted Danish Critic.

The following characterizations of Shakespeare's women are from the pen of Dr. George Brandes, the famous Danish critic, the Philadelphia Inquirer states:

Katharine, "Taming of the Shrew;" high-spirited, self-willed, but lovable. Beatrice, "Much Ado About Nothing;" high intellect, combative, energetic, daringly witty. Rosalind, "As You Like It;" gay without a sting, sensitive and intelligent; loving passionately and being passionately loved. Viola, "Twelfth Night;" sound of understanding, emotional, deep and patient, with great power of passive love. Lady Macbeth, "Macbeth;" wicked even to the point of brutality under stress of passionate love and great ambition. Portia, "Merchant of Venice;" thoroughly genuine, almost masculine, yet most womanly in power of self-surrender. Helena, "Love's Labor Lost;" high souled type of loving and cruelly maltreated woman. Tamora, "Titus Andronicus;" powerful intellect, defiant of morality. Juliet, Romeo and Juliet;" passionate love, yet under control of principle. Cordelia, "King Lear;" filial love, kindness of heart. Cleopatra, "Anthony and Cleopatra;" quintessentially erotic emotion chemically free from all other elements. Marina, "Pericles;" nobility of character. Isabelle, "Measure for Measure;" spotless purity of soul. Imogen, "Cymbeline;" born for happiness, inured to suffering, calm, collected. Hermione, "Winter's Tale;" majestically lovable, grand and gracious simplicity. Ophelia, "Hamlet;" unobtrusive affection, devotion even to insanity. Miranda, "Tempest;" all that is admirable in woman, maidenly, immaculate. Desdemona, "Othello;" victim of jealousy.

MILLIONS WORK IN MINES

More Than Half of the 6,000,000 Men Employed Below Earth's Surface Dig Coal.

The magnitude of the mining industry may be grasped when one realizes that more than 6,000,000 men are engaged in the mines of the world. Of this number 3,800,000 are employed in the coal mines and 2,200,000 in the metal mines. In addition, millions more are engaged in allied industries dependent directly upon the mines for coal and metal, according to the Engineering and Mining Journal.

Mining is one of the hazardous industries employing over 1,000,000 men in the United States, in which three out of every 1,000 men employed are killed every year by reason of some accident. While complete data relating to non-fatal injuries are not available, reports to the United States bureau of mines for all metal mines in the United States show that about 200 men per thousand per year are injured sufficiently to cause a loss of time. A reduction of 50 per cent in the number of mine accidents would mean a saving of 1,500 lives in the United States every year, in addition to reducing the loss of time and suffering resulting from more than 200,000 non-fatal injuries.

Snow and Ice Worms.

There are at present known in the world approximately 60 species and varieties of snow and ice worms. Sexually mature specimens, yellowish to a dark reddish brown or black in color, about an inch long and one-twentieth inch in diameter were found in February and April (1910) abundantly on the open snow fields of Mount Rainier, at an elevation of 2,750 to 5,600 feet above sea level. They also occurred on the snow on the mountain slope protected by a dense forest of fir and hemlock.

These worms have not thus far been found on solid ice nor on the glaciers, though they occur on the snow below the ice from and outside of the lateral moraines of the Nisqually glacier. The snow on which they were found is not permanent through the entire season, but melts with the coming of summer, and it therefore appears that a part of their life must be spent on or in the ground.

Telephone Many Years Ago.

There are not so many new things under the sun as people suppose. The telephone has the credit of being an entire novelty, yet Robert Hooke two hundred and odd years ago, wrote:

"I have by a distended wire propagated sound to a very considerable distance in an instant, or with as seemingly quick a motion as that of light; and this not only in a straight line, or direct, but in one bended in many angles."

Here was the invention of the telephone right in hand, so to speak, only Hooke did not follow up the lead. So the world had to wait two centuries for the admirable instrument which saves so much of humanity's time today.

How Silk Worms Work.

On attaining their full growth silk worms seek something to which to attach themselves in order to wind themselves up in their silk envelopes. Having found it, the worm spins a thread from 500 to 1,000 yards long, wrapping it around its body as it spins. This takes from 36 to 48 hours. If left alone the worm's skin hardens, its internal organs disintegrate to a thin jelly and then begin reorganizing themselves into those of a butterfly. Within a week or ten days it would be a butterfly and as such would eat its way out through its envelope of silk.

ECONOMICS IN THE BIBLE

Everlasting Truth to Be Found In One of the Injunctions Laid Down By Christ.

There is a vast deal of sound economics in the new testament, says a writer in the American Magazine. Be selfish nobly. "Love thy neighbor as thyself." When Christ said that, he set it down as an everlasting truth that man must love himself in order to achieve anything at all in this world, and that the attempt to love another as he does himself is to struggle toward an ideal.

Moreover, when he told the rich young man to give all he had to the poor, he issued the command not because he despised money and the things money symbolizes, but because he saw that this particular young man was a waster, one who "couldn't stand prosperity," and that the use he made of his money harmed him instead of helping him. There were "quarter horses" 2,000 years ago, just as there are "quarter horses" today.

To be selfish in a fine way is to carry out one's highest destiny. That is real philosophy. It is also real common sense. Why is a man put into the world if it is not to make the best of himself, to improve himself, to impress himself on his community and his world? That is just what he is intended to do.

And he does it in two ways: The first is by his acquisitiveness, his power to get things; it matters not whether what he gets is money, or learning, or power of eloquence, or the serenity of lofty thought. The second is by using properly what he has got whether it is money, or learning, or power. And if he does use it properly he is on sure ground. To use it properly means that he uses it for his own good and, incidentally, for the good of others, that he wastes it neither in foolish living nor in extravagant living, and, above all, that he uses it so that it increases even while it is being used, so that, in the end, he always grows in power and self-sufficiency.

WHEN ONE MAKES MISTAKES

Extenuating Circumstances Are Usually Cited as Excuse for the Majority of Blunders.

The average fair-minded man admits that he makes mistakes at times, but, and there always is the extenuating "but," when we seek to excuse our failures, he believes, even if unconsciously, that the mistakes that others make are bigger mistakes than his, says the Charleston News and Courier. Deep down in our hearts the roots of self-complacency strike—so deep, in fact, that with most of us it is useless to try and pull them out. At those rare times, when we see ourselves as others see us; when we begin to understand that we are at fault to a larger degree than the other man, we may make an honest effort to overcome the disposition to yield to self-satisfaction, but unless we work hard and patiently and perseveringly we will find ourselves forever falling back into the old habit. It is so easy to criticize something that another person does that fails to meet our approval, and so entirely natural to think that we would never be guilty of a like weakness.

We might have made a mistake, we argue, but we would have discovered the error in time to correct it, and certainly we never would have blundered to the extent of our neighbor. How do we know what we would have done in similar circumstances, however, and why should we assume a position of superiority which in truth we are not entitled to assume? It is enough for us to concern ourselves with out own failures, our own mistakes, our own shortcomings, and to leave to others the readjustment of their own lives.

Canaries' Music Lessons.

There are a large number of varieties of the domestic canary. Many of them are bred primarily for their song, and their training makes an interesting story. The aim is to produce males with clear, soft, pleasing songs with long rolls or trills, and no attention is given to other characters, writes a bird raiser. These birds are usually nondescript as to color and appearance. The young birds when fledged are put in rooms with birds noted for their soft and fine song, and here, through imitation, they develop their own vocal accomplishments. Any bird developing harsh notes is removed so that he may not endanger the vocal success of his brothers. It is said that a mechanical instrument known as a "bird organ," which produces liquid trills, is frequently used in training the birds. The musical course for a canary covers about six months' tuition and practice.

Potatoes a Modern Food.

Only within the last century has the potato become a staple of our dinner tables, says the Journal of Heredity. It was first discovered by the Spaniards in Ecuador and first mentioned in 1550. By 1585 it had been brought to North America, whence Sir Walter Raleigh took it to England a year later. Until about a hundred years ago it was despised as a food for human beings, except as an emergency ration in times of famine, but was widely used as food for animals.

He Had Faith.

"Count, my father has lost all his money."

"I will marry you, anyhow."

"Do you really mean it?"

"Yes; a man like your father can easily make another fortune."

A New Start

By Evelyn Sanborn Mayo

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

"I've turned honest, ma'am, and you've given me a big boost on the way to a decent life by fitting me out so finely."

"I trust so, I believe so," responded Mrs. Morley. "You have a good face and I should feel very sad if I thought you would think of selling those clothes for drink."

"I'm through with the red stuff, ma'am, believe me. I'll be only too glad to feel dressed like a real man, as I once was. I'll do myself proud and straight as a die, to show that I appreciate your kindness."

With the words, Ben Dorkins went on his way, carrying a neat parcel under his arm. It contained a suit of clothes, a hat, shoes, in fact, a complete outfit. Ben had come to the little Morley home about noon, asking for food, a down-at-the-heel tramp. He had offered to work for a meal and had done so, tidying up the back yard and carrying some ashes to the alley, behind the house.

Mrs. Morley gave Ben Dorkins not only a good meal, but half a dollar. Then, noticing his uncouth attire, a sudden impulse swayed her generous spirit.

"Wait," she said, "I just thought of a suit of clothes my husband discarded only two days ago. He is just about your size. Would you like them? They are not much worn, but my husband has a new suit of the same goods."

"Oh, ma'am! that's too much to think of giving an old ragbag like me," but as Mrs. Morley after a brief absence reappeared with the outfit entire, Ben's eyes gleamed with pleasure.

"You can step into the next room, if you like, and put them on," suggested Mrs. Morley, but Ben shook his head vigorously.

"Not I," he dissented strenuously. "I'm bound back for the city and work, which those fine rags will help me get. I'll stop at your barber shop here and get a shave and a hair cut. Then it's me for that pretty river running outside of the village. If you'll put in a piece of soap, please, I'll make my first bath for a month a famous one."

"I'll do that," assented Mrs. Morley, "and there's some collars and a couple of neckties. Be good, won't you, now?" she finished persuasively.

"I'll respect my word, ma'am. You've set me on my pegs right and I'll keep right," pledged Ben Dorkins.

He went on his way rejoicing. He got the shave and haircut, he reached a secluded part of the river course outside of the town, where he was free to disport in the water unseen by others and undisturbed.

"I feel new all over!" jubilated he, as he drew himself erect with pride and satisfaction and kicked his discarded rags into the river. "Now for a fifteen-mile tramp and something better than carrying in coal or begging my grub."

The renovation inspired Ben with distinctly new and worthy aspirations. He more than once glanced down at the trim-fitting suit. He began to practice the erect and manly swing, abandoned into careless slouching when he fell from the good-breeding manners of former days. It was after dark when Ben reached Faneville, half the compass of his trip citywards.

He had fifteen cents left of the half dollar Mrs. Morley had given him and he invested ten of it in a cup of coffee and some rolls. Then he went down the street, entered a hotel and sat down in an arm chair in its lobby.

It was a truly agreeable situation to have the entree to respectability once more, for no lynx-eyed porter or officious desk clerk resented his presence. The suit was conspicuous, but tasteful, not loud, but it had a certain independent identity. It had originally cost over forty dollars, so its present wearer passed muster as to personal appearance.

Coincidence or fate, Hal Morley had [illegible] that very hotel as Ben entered it. Morley had come to Faneville for his bank at his home town, where he was employed. His mission was to meet a wealthy old invalid against whom the bank had a disputed claim of nearly ten thousand dollars. Morley had seen Mr. John Archer about the middle of the afternoon and had gone over the business he had been commissioned to transact. Mr. Archer was in charge of a male nurse and after he and Morley had agreed upon a compromise, directed him to come to the hotel at eight o'clock that evening, when he would adjust the matter finally.

At about half-past seven Morley entered the hotel, saw that he was too early and decided to take a brief stroll to put in the time. Ben Dorkins, luxuriating in the capacious arm chair, had been seated less than five minutes when a young man came down the stairs, seemed to recognize him at a glance and handed him a manila envelope.

"Mr. Archer has had one of his bad spells," said the newcomer. "He told me to hand you this and have the bank send back the notes. I can't delay, sir. Mr. Archer may be taken worse at any moment," and away sped the speaker, leaving Ben in a half stupified condition.

"Here's a queer go," soliloquized Ben. "Oh, my!" He had removed the band securing the envelope. He stared and thrilled as he noted its contents—bank notes. One of them, he noticed, was of one thousand dollars' denomination. For a flashing instant Ben realized that he had been taken for some one else and entrusted with a small fortune, and a wild temptation crossed his mind. Then, his lips compressed, his chest stood out and he went up to the clerk's desk.

"Is there a Mr. Archer here?" he asked. "I must see him at once."

"Not to be disturbed—he is ill. I'll send for his secretary, if you like."

"Do so, please," replied Ben and he fumbled nervously with one of the hotel cards on a tray, and unconsciously slipped it into his pocket as the same young man who had given the envelope to him appeared.

The latter looked startled and frightened as Ben told his story.

"I mistook you on account of the clothes," stammered Mr. Archer's secretary. "Thank you greatly, sir," and Ben left the hotel in a sort of vague and dissatisfied mood. He had traversed about three squares and had turned into a dark side street, when three men who had followed him since he left the hotel sprang upon him.

Ben was knocked senseless. He came back to consciousness, to find himself lying on a couch in the smoking room of the hotel. He caught the words: "We brought him here because all we found on him was one of the hotel cards," and, staring about him, Ben noticed a man wearing a suit that was a prototype of his own—Hal Morley.

"He's the man I gave the envelope to, and who returned it," spoke Mr. Archer's secretary.

"I hope he is not hurt seriously," spoke Morley, in a solicitous tone. "Why, there is only one solution to this mystery. Someone must have been watching out for me to get that money and followed and attacked him, taking him for myself."

The mystery was wholly solved when Ben learned the identity of Hal Morley.

"Blessed little woman!" exclaimed Hal. "But for her generous gift of that suit the bank might have been eight thousand dollars short."

So Ben had to go back with him, and the bank made opulent returns to humble, honest Ben for his bruised head, and when he resumed his journey to the city—riding in a first-class railway coach with the best of them—Nina Morley's pensioner was more fully equipped than ever for his new start in life.

Porterhouse Steak.

The name porterhouse steak originated from a public eating establishment. In the old stagecoach days there was a New York tavern kept by a man named Porter. This place was famous on account of the quality of steaks served to its guests. On one occasion the innkeeper, to satisfy the demand of a certain traveler, produced a piece of sirloin and served it to his guest—his supply of regular steaks being exhausted. When cooked and served, the traveler found it remarkably good eating, and in a short time its fame spread and it was named for the tavern and its proprietor, "Porterhouse" steak. Prior to that time, this cut, which comes from between the sirloin and the tenderloin, had been used only for roasting.

The Dividing Line.

Hardly an impression, opinion, or action is possible to us that is not influenced and directed by fixed conditions within ourselves—habits. We should all strive to get the habit of making the most of our every-day tasks, and it would soon become second nature to do everything so well that in the end we would be sure to win prominence through it. The dividing line between efficiency and inefficiency is largely right here, and none of these habits too small to be worth attention. It seems that we cannot escape being controlled by them, but we have free choice between the habits that are good and helpful and habits that are bad and harmful.—Exchange.

Both Die for Love.

A sad sequel followed a thwarted love affair at Tarumi, Japan. A young man suffered from heart trouble, and went to a home to undergo treatment. Here he met, fell in love with, and became engaged to a girl, but without the knowledge of either his or her parents. When the young people's relations were discovered by the parents, both families strongly opposed the proposed marriage, and made every effort to prevent further meetings. The attitude of the parents so upset the young people that the girl became ill and died. On learning of this the young man became deeply depressed, and finally left his home and committed suicide.

Original Anyhow.

Macaulay said of Horace Walpole: "His mind was a bundle of inconsistent whims and affectations; his features were covered by masks within masks. When the outer disguise of obvious affectation was removed you were still as far as ever from seeing the real man." Thackeray observed of the letters: "Fiddles sing all through them; wax lights, fine dresses, fine jokes, fine plate, fine equipages glitter and sparkle there." But there is much in the great correspondent of Strawberry Hill besides whim and gimcrackery, as a few sentences chosen almost at random from his letters will show. His views are distinctly his own.

WAR TALKS

By UNCLE DAN

Number Five

Jimmie and a German Boy Clash—Must Do Three Things to Save Country.

It was a warm evening, so Uncle Dan went out to a lawn seat under the spreading branches of the great tree that suggested the farm's name of Oak Hill. Billie and Jimmie had been laying for him, so Uncle Dan was captured by the boys on short order.

"Say, Uncle Dan," Billie began, "We had a red-hot argument at school yesterday with Carl Newman. Carl said that German schools were miles ahead of our schools and that no one could come up to the educated German. Well, Jimmie got hot under the collar and handed it back to him good and plenty. Jimmie said if their education taught them to torpedo Lusitanias, sink hospital ships, murder hundreds of women and children, make slaves of the Belgians, poison wells, destroy fruit trees and commit all sorts of crimes, then we did not want that kind of education here. What do you think about it, Uncle Dan? I told Jimmie you spent a lot of time in Europe and knew all about schools, so give us your opinion."

"Well," replied Uncle Dan, deliberately, "the German schools are very thorough; they furnish exceedingly valuable and practical instruction. The industrial training given there is probably the best to be found. The schools as a whole, however, in my opinion, appeal to the head only, and never to the heart. The aim and trend is to make the individual blindly submissive to the Prussian plan of world dominion; they teach that it is the destiny of Germany to rule the world, and that to the glory and advance of Germany, in this plan; all things must give way; that the kaiser as head of the state, can do no wrong if he carries forward the plan of world control. Some of the greatest teachers and preachers even defend and justify her heartless crushing of Belgians and the many other atrocious crimes she has committed in this war. Thank God! our American education reaches both the head and the heart. It is an education with a soul, and we must maintain the high ideals we have fixed. In a word, in Germany, the people are taught that they exist for the government, while here the government exists to serve the people."

"Just wait a minute," interrupted Billie. Say that over again slowly, so I can write it down."

Uncle Dan, smilingly, complied.

Billie exclaimed: "Now, we will hand that out for Carl to crack. Carl, you know," continued Billie, "has a very smart father who keeps him posted on the German arguments. Carl said our government was only an experiment anyway; that it would not last twenty years, and that it might burst up any old time. Jimmie asked him if Germany was so mighty good, why they did not go back there to live."

"Our government will go on forever, won't it, Uncle Dan?"

"Now," said Uncle Dan, "you are raising a big question, and one that has troubled me for years. Our government is still in the experimental stage; in fact, it is the greatest experiment ever undertaken, and if popular government is to be successful, a few things must be done, otherwise, to paraphrase the great Lincoln, the government of the people, by the people and for the people, will perish. It is my firm conviction," said Uncle Dan, in a very impressive manner, "that if our country is to go on, as we hope and pray, we must very quickly do at least three things, and I will name them in the order of importance as it appears to me:

"First, adopt compulsory universal military training of all young men physically fit before they reach the age of twenty years.

"Next, require that every foreigner who comes here to live must, within a reasonable time, say a year, declare his intention of becoming an American citizen and take the necessary steps to do so, thereby, from that moment, assuming all the obligations of citizenship of our country, and that means he must defend our flag upon equal terms with our native born, and if he is not willing to do this, he should be sent back from whence he came."

"That's the stuff," exclaimed Billie.

"And, finally, enact such legislation as will make voting compulsory. Popular government is based upon the participation of all and the rule of the majority, and democracy cannot continue and be successful unless we live up to the spirit of the institution.

"The first step, however, is the passing of the Chamberlain bill for universal military training. If you will get the leading citizen, and especially the editor of your paper, to write personal letters to your congressman and both senators, urging their support, it will help enormously.

"I see by the morning papers," said Uncle Dan, "that the Rotary clubs of the entire country, the livest, most efficient organization to be found, have unanimously decided to get back of the Chamberlain bill and give it loyal and enthusiastic support. They will work with the Universal Military Training league to accomplish this important piece of legislation, which will do more than anything else to make us a real nation with a common viewpoint, bring us back to sane living, and teach us the patriotism of service."

LIVE STOCK

ATTENTION TO HOGS IN FALL

Animals Are Not as Resistant to Disease as in Spring—Water Supply Is of Importance.

(By E. R. SPENCE.)

Hogs are not as resistant to disease in the fall as they are in the spring when getting an abundance of green forage, and having access to a wide range. It is necessary, therefore, to give them more attention and better care to offset seasonal conditions and danger from new corn.

Do not feed in the same lot, or on the same acre of ground, day after day. This contaminates the feeding places, and also attracts crows, pigeons, and sparrows which may have been feeding with a cholera infected herd. Throw the feed out in a different spot each day, thus giving the pigs a clean "plate" from which to eat.

The water supply is of much importance to the health of the hogs at this time of year. Old mud wallows are never good, but are not so bad if the hogs can have pure water to drink, but if forced to bathe and drink in the same "tub" serious trouble can be expected at any time. See that they have an abundance of pure water to drink, situated near the wallow holes or feeding places. Pure water will aid materially in keeping the herd cholera free.

USEFUL DIP VAT FOR SHEEP

Device Shown in Illustration Is Convenient Piece of Equipment for Any Farmer.

A dipping vat similar to the one illustrated is a convenient piece of equipment for any farmer to have, since it can be used for swine and other stock. It should be at least 8 feet long, 22 inches wide and 4 feet deep. It may be made of concrete, wood or galvanized iron. The vat should be placed on a hole 2 feet deep, so that the operators may handle the sheep conveniently. At the time of dipping it is desirable to have a chute of permanent or temporary construction. This provides a means of placing the sheep in the vat one at a time. At the outgoing end the vat has an angle of 45 degrees provided with cleats, or notches, which give the sheep a foothold when leaving the vat. A sloping platform, also provided with cleats, should be constructed at the end, from which the sheep leave the vat; this allows the solution to drain off the animals and return to the vat.

MAKING PROFIT FROM SWINE

Proper Care and Feed Are Necessary—Provide Comfortable Quarters and Lots of Sunshine.

In order to make a profit from pigs it is necessary to give them the proper care and feed. They should be provided with clean, comfortable quarters, exercise, and plenty of sunshine. The sow should be given special care at farrowing time. She should be fed lightly for a few days after farrowing, and the amount of feed gradually increased as the young pigs develop.

The ration for the sow at this time should be one which will produce a heavy flow of milk. A good ration for this purpose is one composed of corn, shorts, bran, a small amount of tankage, and a good quality of alfalfa fed from a rack. Bran may make up 10 per cent of the ration, as it has a beneficial effect on the digestive system and tends to increase the milk production.

PROPER PASTURE FOR SHEEP

Attention Must Be Given to Parasites That Prey on Woolly Creatures—Move After Two Seasons.

Where sheep are kept as one of the major businesses of the farm, particular attention must be paid to the pasture upon which they graze, since there seem to be a number of internal and external parasites that prey upon the woolly creatures. After sheep have pastured upon one piece of land two seasons it is high time that they were moved to the next pasture.

TROUBLE WITH LITTLE PIGS

Watch Closely for Sore Mouths—Sometimes Advisable to Clip Tusks—Use Disinfectant.

The little pigs should be watched closely for sore mouths, especially in large litters. It is sometimes advisable to clip the tusks from the pigs thus preventing them from scratching each other. In case of sore mouth, wash the part frequently with a disinfectant.

DAIRY

HANDLING MILK IN WINTER

Many Farmers Relax Vigilance in Cold Weather and Low Grade of Milk Is Produced.

Many farmers who pay strict attention to the correct handling of their milk and cream during the hot weather relax their vigilance during the winter. The result is that good milk is produced during that part of the year when good milk is difficult to produce and a low grade of milk when it is naturally easy to produce good. Too much dependence should not be placed on the natural coolness of the atmosphere, for the chances are that this will not suffice. It is a noted fact that during the fall and early winter purchasers of milk often find it more difficult to keep the product from getting sour than they do during the hot weather.

Milk should be cooled to at least 50 degrees F. immediately upon being drawn from the can and kept at that temperature until used. If the ordinary coolness of the atmosphere is depended upon for this, it may be hours before the milk reaches the required temperature, and in the meantime microbes have been multiplying which in a short time will render the milk unfit for use. To produce first-class milk the same care is demanded in the winter months as during the summer, cleanliness and a correct temperature being of cardinal importance at all times.

GIVE SORE TEATS ATTENTION

Where Trouble Results From Improper Milking Ointment Made of Zinc and Vaseline.

When cows have sore teats caused by improper milking, applying an ointment made from 1 dram of oxide of zinc and 1 ounce of vaseline applied when the soreness is first apparent will probably be sufficient. If the teats break out in pimples which form scabs it is in all probability a case of cow pox, in which case the affected cows should be isolated from the remainder of the herd and due precaution taken to prevent the spread of the disease, which is very contagious and can be carried to other cows in the herd on the hands or clothes of the milker. Treatment consists in applying three times a day, an ointment made by mixing together 4 drams of boracic acid, 20 drops of carbolic acid.

WORD FOR BROWN SWISS COW

Animals Are Remarkably Strong, Healthy and Larger, and Coarser Than Other Dairy Breeds.

Brown Swiss cattle, as the name indicates, originated in Switzerland. They are remarkably strong, healthy animals, larger and coarser than any other dairy breed. While many individuals have made excellent dairy and milk records, the total number of the breed in this country is small and it has not, therefore, been as important a factor in the dairy industries here as it has been in Switzerland. The number of animals is rapidly increasing, and the breed is receiving more attention from dairymen.

CREAM THIEVES ARE FOUND

Minnesota Official Finds That 44 Farmers in Nine Associations Have Defective Machines.

"Have you a cream thief on your farm?" is a pertinent question at the head of a circular being sent out by W. A. McKerrow of the agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota.

In answer to the question, Mr. McKerrow says that 44 farmers in 9 cow-testing associations in Minnesota did have cream thieves, or separators that waste butterfat. Out of 170 separators tested it was found that one in five was stealing from its owner.

To prove up on your separator, it is suggested that you take a sample of your skim milk from the spout and have it tested at your creamery or at the college of agriculture. There is no possible excuse for cream separator losses.

SAVE TROUBLE IN CHURNING

Give Cows One Pound of Cottonseed Meal Each Day and Butter Will Increase in Quality.

If farmers who have trouble churning will give their cows one pound of cottonseed meal daily with their bran or chop they will have no more churning troubles. The butter will increase in quantity and quality and color and come so quickly as to surprise one.

HELP RED CROSS IS URGENT PLEA OF NORTHCLIFFE

Speaks in Warmest Admiration of Work of Society.

MANY MILLIONS ARE NEEDED

Do Your Little Bit Toward Victory of Troops by Giving Financial Support to the Red Cross, Is His Appeal—English Editor Tells of Bravery and Devotion of Red Cross Workers.

"By subscribing to the Red Cross Americans are not only ensuring to their wounded soldiers quick and skillful treatment; they are helping to make their homes and their lives safe, whatever part of the country they live in."

No man is better fitted or more justly entitled to speak about Red Cross work and to plead its claim upon public generosity than Lord Northcliffe, who is now in this country as head of the British war mission. In the sentence quoted above he summed up, in an interview granted to a newspaper representative, his view of the appeal for funds which the American Red Cross society is making to the people of the United States.

"For the good work which all the allied Red Cross societies have done on the battlefields on every front," Lord Northcliffe said, "I have the warmest admiration. I have seen their ambulances and their hospitals in the French and Italian war zones. I have been under fire with them. The courage and devotion shown by their stretcher-bearers, drivers, doctors, nurses and orderlies cannot be too highly praised. In France I came across American ambulances working with a steady disregard of danger and saving great numbers of lives. When the American armies take the field, they will need a huge Red Cross organization. It is up to the American people to see that they get it.

Much Money Needed.

"Red Cross work costs a great deal of money. Hospitals are costly to equip. Motor ambulances must be provided in large numbers, and must constantly be renewed. The bills for surgical instruments, drugs, and dressings mount up to a high figure every week. Many millions of dollars have been poured into the coffers of the British Red Cross society, and it is still 'asking for more.' One of my newspapers, the London Times, has raised money for it at the rate of $40,000 a day over a long period. Altogether readers of the Times have so far contributed more than $35,000,000 to the Red Cross fund. Yet there has never been more than enough to provide for the day-by-day needs of the society's splendid activity.

Lord Northcliffe.

"No one can fully appreciate the enormous value of this activity to the soldiers in the field who has not actually seen it. What happens to a wounded man when he is too badly hurt to walk is something like this. He is put on a stretcher and carried a short way to the rear. In the third line of trenches (each position consisting of three lines, one behind the other) there is a deep 'dug-out.' I will give you a short account of what I saw in one of these underground hospitals, or rather dressing stations, on a heavy sultry afternoon not far from the town of Peronne in France, around which there was for such a long time hard and costly fighting. There was no sign of anything in the nature of a hospital, a tent, or of anything above ground. I was getting somewhat weary of being told to lie down flat every few seconds to avoid bursting shells, when I saw a couple of stretcher-bearers coming through the haze as from nowhere and then disappear underground. 'It is underneath there,' I was told by my guide, whose daily duty it was to inspect these medical outposts.

Blocked With Wounded.

"As quickly as possible we got down into a trench, following the stretcher-bearers. There, in darkness lit by a few candles, we gradually made out a very grim scene. Talking was difficult, for one of our batteries had just come into action a few yards away.

"Owing to the heavy enemy shell fire, what I soon found to be an underground maze had become completely blocked with wounded men lying in the dark on their stretchers, the passage ways dug out of the clayish earth being just the width of a stretcher handle and no more. We trod gently from stretcher handle to stretcher handle over the silent men, some of them asleep with the blessed morphia in their brains, others cheerily smiling, others staring as wounded men do. All who could move a hand had a cigarette, now admitted to be the first need of all but the very dangerously wounded.

"Passing on, and using our electric torch as little as possible, so as not to disturb the sleepers, we came to the main dressing room. Remember it was all underground, all dark, and that the oncoming wail of approaching shells, with immediate subsequent explosions, was continuous.

"In this main dressing room the doctors, all young men, were washing and bandaging. I counted twenty-four patients in that small chamber. We crept onward and came to another room where there were nine cases, and again to a smaller one where lay the more dangerously wounded.

Touching Sight.

"These dressing rooms were protected by some four or five feet of earth above them. There was a small officers' mess and a medical storeroom, which were merely shielded by corrugated iron from shrapnel splinters, a kitchen, an office, and that was about all. An operation for tracheotomy was taking place in one of the rooms.

"In all my many experiences abroad I have never seen a more touching sight than this little underground gathering of some twenty men, devoted doctors and assistants, waiting amidst the incessant shelling until the overcrowded maze could be evacuated. Let those who take their ease on a Sunday afternoon, or any other afternoon, realize that this same scene never ceases. Let those who consider that they are amply doing their 'bit' by keeping things going at home, be grateful that their 'bit' is not as that of these young men. We cannot all of us share the danger, but we can every one of us admit the inequalities of our respective war work, and let them lose no opportunity of lightening the hard 'bit' of those at the front as far as lies in their power.

"Say this for me to the American people: Think, all of you who have sons, husbands, brothers, either in the ranks already or liable to be called for service, think of the soldier hit by a bullet or torn by shrapnel, shattered by bomb, mangled by high explosive, or poisoned by the fumes of horrible gas. To be picked up promptly and to receive careful treatment means life. To be left lying a long time on the battlefield means, if not death, permanent mutilation and disablement. Which is it to be? That depends upon you.

Help to Bring Victory.

"But that is not all I would say to the American people. I would say also this: Bear in mind continually, remind yourselves night and morning, that when you subscribe to the Red Cross, you are doing your little bit toward the victory of your troops, and when you help to bring victory within sight, you are helping to make your home safe, whatever part of the country you live in; helping to assert and to justify the claim of the American people to live as they choose to live, not as someone else wishes them to live.

"The war may seem a long way off from your home. You may find it difficult to imagine any interference by outsiders with the way of life to which you are accustomed. But think of Belgium, think of Serbia, think of Roumania. Think of the north of France and Poland and the western provinces of Russia. There the people have to live as Prussia orders them to live. They cannot carry on their businesses. They are not allowed to go out and come in as they please. They are liable at any moment to be carried off into Germany and put to exhausting hard labor. Think of the people of Alsace and Lorraine before the war. They were not able to live as they wished to live. Think of the Danes in Schleswig-Holstein who have been obliged to struggle against Prussianization with painful effort for fifty years. Think of the inhabitants of German Poland, refused the right to have their children taught in their own language, deprived of their land, forced to submit to being Germanized in very harsh and abominable ways.

Would Control the World.

"Germany's aim is to control the world. This aim has been avowed over and over again by German writers and speakers. It was made popular, it was taught in schools. No consideration of honor or justice or humanity was to be allowed to interfere with it. Maximilian Harden, editor of the German weekly paper called, 'The Future,' is a man who shouts with the crowd. Now he is for peace. Now he attacks the kaiser and Junkerdom for failing to keep their promises of victory. But, when the German people believed in those promises, when they thought it possible that their claim to world-domination might be made good, Harden told them, 'The whole question is one of force.' Whoever had strength should use it. 'If we want to secure the position in the world which is our due, we must trust to our sword,' wrote General von Bernhardi, whose books were distributed in enormous numbers throughout Germany. Bismarck had taught the same hideous doctrine. 'Not by speeches and resolutions of majorities are the mighty problems of the age to be solved, but only by blood and iron.'

"And the chief of these 'mighty problems' was the problem how Prussia could obtain what was called, in the writings of the 'world-domination'

CORN WILL WIN DEMOCRACY'S WAR

America's Greatest Cereal Crop Is Now Moving to Market.

MAINSTAY IN NATION'S CRISIS.

Surplus Wheat of the United States Has Been Sent to Famine Threatened Europe.

America's great corn crop, exceeding 3,000,000,000 bushels, will save the world's food situation, officials of the United States food administration believe.

Corn is the nation's best food cereal, housewives are beginning to realize. It contains all the elements needed to keep the body in a state of health and when used according to the scores of tried recipes, especially when combined with an added portion of oil or fat, will sustain life indefinitely. Indian warriors in colonial days lived on parched corn alone for many days at a time, and at Valley Forge parched corn was at times the sole ration of the Continental soldiers.

Owing to transportation difficulties caused by the war the corn crop moved more slowly to market this year than ever before. Now, however, the cereal is reaching the millers and consumers. In the meantime the nation's surplus wheat has been sent to Europe.

Today there are approximately 30 bushels of corn for every American. This quantity is greater by five bushels than in former years.

Corn has become the nation's mainstay in the crisis of war.

Just as this cereal saved the first American colonists from famine on many occasions, just as it served as a staple food during the War of the Revolution and during the Civil War, King Corn has again come to the front in the nation's battle with autocracy.

Corn meal is finding greatly increased use in the making of ordinary white bread. Hundreds of housewives and many of the larger bakers are mixing 20 per cent. corn meal with wheat flour to make leavened bread. This kind of a mixture is worked and baked in the same recipes and with the same methods that apply to straight wheat bread.

Corn bread—using corn meal entirely—is gaining a greater popularity than ever before. Housewives are coming to realize that every pound of wheat saved in America means a pound of wheat released for shipment to the nations with which America is associated in the war.

There are a score of corn products that today possess unusual importance for Americans. Corn syrup for sweetening corn cakes and buckwheat cakes and for use in the kitchen instead of granulated sugar is one of the leading products made from corn.

Corn oil, excellent for frying and for every other purpose filled by salad oils, is appearing on the market in large quantities. It comes from the germ of the corn.

MADE-IN-GERMANY LIES CIRCULATED IN CANADA

Canada is also having trouble with Made-in-Germany lies calculated to hinder Canadian food conservation according to an official statement received from the Canadian food controller by the United States food administration.

The stories bothering Canada are of the same general character as those the United States food administrator recently denounced in this country, such as the ridiculous salt and bluing famine fakes and the report that the government would seize housewives' stocks of home canned goods.

The Canadian food controller estimates that when the people listen to and pass on such stories, each one has the power of destruction that lies in a battalion of soldiers.

"Stories without even a vestige of foundation have been scattered broadcast," said the Canadian statement. "Nor have they come to life casually. They have started simultaneously in different parts of the country and in each instance have been calculated to arouse public indignation.

"They are insidious, subtle, persistent. Bit by bit they dissipate public trust, the great essential in the work of food control.

"It lies with every individual to forbear from criticism; to refrain from passing on the vagrant and harmful story, and thus the more effectively to co-operate in work which is going to mean more than the majority of people yet realize."

THE UNITED STATES FOOD ADMINISTRATION SAYS:

There is no royal road to food conservation. We can only accomplish this by the voluntary action of our whole people, each element in proportion to its means. It is a matter of equality of burden; a matter of minute saving and substitution at every point in the 20,000,000 kitchens, on the 20,000,000 dinner tables, and in the 2,000,000 manufacturing, wholesale and retail establishments of the country.

WAR TALKS
By UNCLE DAN
Number Six

Billie and Jimmie Will Take Military Training.

"I am mighty sorry, Uncle Dan, that this is your last night with us. Can't you stay longer? We boys are having a peach of a time," said Billie.

"Well, if you get more out of it in the way of pleasure than I," said Uncle Dan, "you are going some."

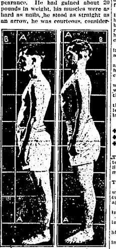
"Billie, I have been talking seriously with your father and mother about sending you to a military academy and they asked me to talk with you about it."

"Whoopee!" Billie screamed, like a wild Indian.

"Now, hold your horses," said Uncle Dan, "and listen to me. You know I sent my boy, Howard, to one of these schools for a year when he was about your age. He was narrow chested, stoop shouldered, rather loose jointed; he had the big head and needed discipline and physical development. He was growing fast and I wanted him to be strong physically."

"Say, Uncle Dan," said Billie, "I believe your description of Howard fits me pretty well, eh?"

"Well," said Uncle Dan, "to be frank I think it does; you need the same thing. Howard did not like it at first. I am told for a few weeks he had 'rough sledding,' but after he found that the only way was to obey orders, he caught the spirit of the institution and liked it. We did not see him for about six months, then he came home for a few days. We were astonished at his appearance. He had gained about 20 pounds in weight, his muscles were as hard as nails, he stood as straight as an arrow, he was courteous, considerate and manly. His awkwardness had disappeared. The change was wonderful and it was all to the good. Here is a photograph showing 'before and after taking,' and I am sure no patent medicine advertisement could beat it.



Note the result of six months of military training. Compare lines A-A and B-B in cut.

"Well, mother and I were delighted. That was ten years ago, and Howard says the year he spent at the military academy was the best year of his life.

"Now," said Uncle Dan, with great earnestness, "when such training does so much good, makes better citizens and at the same time fits a man to defend his country, why should not Uncle Sam furnish this training at the government's expense? The government has the right to call anyone to serve in case of war, and without training, a man is worth nothing as a soldier. Uncle Sam has splendid new training camps that will soon be available for the purpose, therefore, here is double reason why the Chamberlain bill for compulsory military training should be passed at once, so that every boy physically fit may have this training and not leave it for his parents to pay for. On account of the expense, not one boy in 50 can take the training now. I am glad that you can do so. These big crops and big prices, I find, make the farmers rather 'cocky,' and that the best is demanded by them."

Billie was up with the lark the next morning, more excited and enthusiastic than ever. He had a plan. He knew Jimmie owned a colt worth $100; that he would make almost another $100 on his potatoes if they turned out well, and that he had from his previous savings, bought a $100 Liberty bond. Billie's plan was to have Jimmie cash in and go with him. He was disappointed to find that Jimmie would still lack about $300 of having enough to see him through. His lip quivering, he said: "I'm mighty sorry to leave Jimmie."

Uncle Dan was silent a moment or two, then he asked Billie to go down to the orchard and get him some apples to eat on the train. While he was gone, it was arranged that Uncle Dan and Mr. and Mrs. Graham would advance the money necessary so that Jimmie could go. When Billie returned he was told about it. He ran to the 'phone and called Jimmie, saying: "Come on over, run just as fast as you can, I've got the greatest news you ever heard of."

Dear Sir:—

To think back about two weeks ago when I had severe attacks of rheumatism so badly that I had to begin using crutches and then consider myself today being able to go back to the farm to do my work having disregarded the crutches and only having taken thirteen treatments, you can readily understand how glad I am that I heard of your bath rooms and then decided to go there for treatments.

If you wish you may use this letter as a testimonial.

Very truly yours,

What the Threads Are For

Every one of the 196,000 threads in the Threaded Rubber Insulation of the Still Better Willard has a definite mission.

Every thread allows free passage to the battery solution. Through this multitude of tiny paths the chemical action which means a good, strong current goes on with perfect freedom.

No insulation ever used has equalled hard rubber in ability to resist every-day wear and tear. No method of conducting current through the hard rubber has the efficiency of the tiny threads. And the combination is found only in the Still Better Willard Battery. Let us tell you more about this insulation and the battery that uses it.

MEETING OF SILVERTON RED CROSS BRANCH

The meeting on March 30th, was opened with "America," by the Silverton Farmers' band. Mr. Rued, president of the branch then introduced Attorney Smith of the city, who delivered a very inspiring patriotic speech. Mr. Smith complimented the Silverton branch by stating that to his knowledge there was not a single farmer owning or controlling land in Silverton who had not already donated a part of the proceeds of his crop to the Red Cross. He also emphasized the fact that not only farmers but men of wealth and capitalists had come to the point where they had to dig into their pockets for cash for good old Uncle Sam. He also endorsed the Red Cross work very strongly and hoped the farmers would continue the good work they had started.

Following Mr. Smith, we had the pleasure of listening to Prof. White, chief of the farm bureau, who gave us a clear insight into the work which said bureau had already accomplished. He stated, amongst other things, that he had been able to bring together buyer and seller among the farmers, regarding different seed propositions and as proof of this he stated one incident in which a farmer was all sold out on a certain kind of seed and had notified him to take his name off the list as he was too busy answering telephone calls for seed already sold out.

The president announced that before the band played the next selection it was necessary to have at least three more members added to the Red Cross roll. Five responded. Since this seemed to work so well, the band would not play another selection until the roll was again affixed with six new signatures. The president announced seven so we had another selection by the band.

T. L. Melgaard of the Citizens' State bank, Pennington county's Red Cross chapter's treasurer, volunteered his services to collect memberships, and the secretary of the Silverton branch feels indebted to him for his kindness as said branch secretary was busy playing in the band. This procedure continued until all members available had signed the roll. Their names are as follows: Mrs H. P. Rued, Geo. M. Gunderson J. H. Roller, J. M. Thigo, John Hegrenes, Carl Heiswenger, Hans Skogstad, Mrs. Frank Fisher, Ole Homme, S. Holland, Mrs. H. C. Woolson.

Following the enrollment of new members, the following committees were appointed by the pesident:

Membership committee: Henry Hanson, Jens Letnes and S. J. Stenberg; hospital committee: Mrs. M. J. Berg, Mrs. H. C. Woolson and Miss Ella Anderson.

The other committees to be appointed had the appointments postponed on account of too few members, especially lady members.

After adjourning the Red Cross meeting, Mrs. T. L. Melgaard, chairman of the garment committee of the Pennington Co. chapter, addressed the branch members on their part of the said work, ments to be knitted or sewed for our soldier boys. She carried a large supply of samples which she displayed to all interested.

Mrs. D. Shaw, chairman of the hospital supplies committee of the Pennington county Red Cross chapter, next took the floor and in a very inspiring address explained the purpose of said work.

The audience also had the pleasure of listening to several good cornet selections by Joe Greenfield and S. Lonson.

At 10:30 a lunch was served by Mrs. Danda and Miss Grace Stenberg, the proceeds, $6.70, being deposited with our branch treasurer.

Following the lunch several selections were played by the band and the vice president of said organization, in behalf of the band boys, gave a farewell address to our band-master, Joe Greenfield, whom we all regret is leaving us. The speaker reviewed the history of this farmers' organization, known as the Silverton band and claimed it was all due to Mr. Greenfield that they were making such rapid progress. In behalf of the band boys of the Silverton band, he presented Mr. Greenfield with a leather-covered correspondence case or holder, together with a fountain pen in appreciation of the work he has done for these boys and as a token of their friendship and remembrance of the first farmers' band that he has directed.

Mr. Greenfield took the floor and cordially thanked the boys. As stated before we band boys must search quite a while before we find a bandmaster which will give the satisfaction Mr. Greenfield did. He had a very pleasing way of instructing. He was able to bring the slow ones to ridicule without hurting their feelings but at the same time awaken them to the fact that they must practice if they are to play in a band. He was never discouraged with the slow set but always kept up courage. We did not have to address him as Sir Greenfield nor Lord Greenfield in asking him a question. We simply said: "Say Joe, help me out of this five wired, barbed wire net fence." And Joe got his cornet and took those notes out of the fence and placed them in our minds to stay. We are sorry we cannot retain Mr. Greenfield, but we, as only one band organization, could not think of paying half of the salary offered to him by other military and civil band organizations.

Our band will now be under the leadership of Mr. Lonson. Said musician is highly recommended by Mr. Greenfield and takes charge at the next rehearsal.

Our club meeting was next called to order. The secretary read the correspondence. No orders of any kind were taken and the club meeting session adjourned. The following program was then rendered:

Story—H. P. Rued.
Comical recitation—Joe Greenfield.
Song—Miss Ptacek and Miss Swendsgaard.
"The Justice of the Peace"—H. P. Rued.

The program closed by singing of "America," accompanied by the band.

Our next Red Cross branch meeting will be held the second Saturday in April at 8 p. m., and the next club meeting the last Saturday in April at 8 p. m.

Mr. Farmer:

In line with the Government's request for larger crops, you have loyally cultivated every foot of soil you could find. Will harvest time find you prepared to take care of a bumper yield?

Better look over your barns and sheds now; see whether you need more of them or can build additions to the ones you already have. The proper buildings for your stock and storage of crops will materially increase your profits.

SEEDING PROGRESS IN COUNTY STEADY

FARMERS GENERALLY HEEDING REQUEST TO SOW ALL THE WHEAT POSSIBLE.

The northwestern Minnesota farmer who is caught without his grain in the ground when the rainy season comes on this spring will have to blame something besides the weather for his neglect. Conditions for early seeding have not been so favorable for twenty years and the wise man has been taking advantge of the unusual opportunity afforded. Thousands of acres have been put in to wheat during the past week and the 10th of April, which is generally considered as about the earliest date upon which this work can be started, will see a large share of it completed.

Wheat is the principal grain sown thus far, and the amount is enormous. It is generally recognized that this cereal offers the best assurance of a profitable return, while the feeling that its production is an important patriotic duty has also had a pronounced effect in deciding the farmers to devote more land than ever before to its production.

P. W. Rourk finished seeding 200 acres on his farm northwest of the city last Saturday evenng, and F. B. Conklin will have a similar amount seeded on the Knox farm just north of the city by the end of the present week. Others have done almost as well, but there are still a few who prefer to do their farming by the calendar instead of being guided by conditions, and these will be sorry.

"Gets-It"—2 Drops—Then to the Dance!

"Goodnight to Corn Pains—Corns Peel Off With "Gets-It."

"Say, girls, you can laugh at tight shoes, or damp, corn-pulling weather, big bumpy corns, calluses on the soles of your feet, corns between-the toes, hard and soft corns.

"It's All Off With This Fierce Corn Now—'Gets-It' Is Magic."

If you will just touch the corn or callus with a few drops of 'Gets-It'. What a blessed relief it gives to corn pains! You won't limp any more; you can enjoy the dance every minute. Then to see how that corn or callus will come right off complete, like a banana peel and without the least pain, is just wonderful. 'Gets-It' is the biggest seller among corn removers in the world today, simply because it is so wonderfully simple and always works. Be sure you get 'Gets-It.'"

"Gets-It" is sold at all druggists (you need pay no more than 25 cents a bottle), or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill. Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

$50 PER HEAD FOR HIGH GRADE SHEEP

THIS IS PRICE PAID FOR FOUR EWES BY VAUGHAN BROTHERS.

Four Shropshire ewes were this week received by Vaughan brothers for their farm near Goodridge. The sheep were secured through the efforts of County Agent Ross P. White and cost the new owners $50 per head.

Mr. White has been urging the farmers in the eastern part of the county to interest themselves more heavily in the breeding of sheep and as the Vaughans have had previous experience in this business they are among the first to heed the advice. The animals are easily the best ever brought into the county and the success of the venture will be watched with considerable interest by many who are contemplating adding the raising of sheep to their other activities.

The eastern portion of Pennington county is one of the best natural sheep regions in the country and with the prevailing high prices for both wool and mutton this business is one of the most profitable in which the farmer can engage.

TO AVOID CENSORS

Soldier Boys Use the Regulation Blue Envelopes.

Must Sign Certificate on Outside That Contents Are Personal or Family Matters Only.

The blue envelope has made a big hit with Sammy. It is the one feature of the army's field censorship regulations to which he gives a kind word. Not that the censorship inhibitions are unreasonable or irksome especially to him, but because it is the soldier's proverbial and inalienable right to "beef" against the censor, writes a correspondent with the American expeditionary force in France.

The provision regulating the blue envelopes reads as follows:

"In order that men may forward personal or family letters without the necessity of having them read by officers known to them personally, such letters may be inclosed in the authorized blue envelope and sent directly to the base censor through United States army postal service."

Only authorized envelopes supplied to organizations at the rate of one per man per week may be used. More than one letter, however, may be forwarded in the envelope, but all the letters must be from the same soldier who signs a certificate on the outside of the envelope to the effect that the letters inclosed relate to personal or family matters only and do not refer to military subjects.

"It's a great stunt," said one dough boy. "You see if me and the missus want to have a little tiff on paper I don't want the captain to be knowin' all about it. What do I care if some fellow miles away, whom I'll never see in my life, reads it. I guess it will seem like a little bit of home sweet home to him!"

Or, as another put it:

"You know any time a fellow writes his girl, of course he has to gush a little. Maybe spring a little poetry and sometimes, by gosh, you mean it. Believe me, you get mighty lonesome over here hearing a lot of chattering you don't know nothin' about. And when her picture is lookin' down at you from the wall and the moon is helpin' out the candle to light the room and you get thinkin' of the night you said good-by, it's powerful helpin' to sit down and write her all about it."

The blue envelope is a development of this war. It is new in our service. The French and English, though, have been using it for quite a while, and as we have adopted in many respects the censorship regulations of the English army, the lady in blue, as the envelope has come to be called, came with them. Today she is the one popular member of her family.

No Food in Seventy Hours.

Not a bite of food for 70 hours was the terrible experience of a native who was admitted to the Krugersdorp hospital (South Africa). The man had been severely burned about the legs in a fire in an outlying village, and with the other injured persons had been placed on a passing freight train to be taken to the nearest hospital. The man pulled a tarpaulin over himself, and so, when the others were removed, he was overlooked. The train arrived at Krugersdorp during a Saturday evening, and the truck was shunted into the station yard. The whole of Sunday and Monday the native remained without food or water, under the tarpaulin, and he was only discovered on Tuesday afternoon when a checker went his rounds. Railway men were on the point of placing mealies on the truck when they noticed a movement under the sail, and the native, semiconscious and partially demented, was found unable to move much. On close examination it was found that his lower limbs were in a terrible state, and he was removed to the hospital.

Japanese Make Paper Clothes.

Underclothing made of finely crisped or grained paper is manufactured in Japan. After the paper has been cut to a pattern the different parts are sewn together and hemmed, and the places where the buttonholes are to be formed are strengthened with calico or linen. The paper is very strong and at the same time very flexible. After a garment has been worn a few hours it will interfere with the perspiration of the body no more than do garments made of cotton fabric. The paper is not sized, nor is it impermeable. After becoming wet the paper is difficult to tear. When an endeavor is made to tear it by hand it presents almost as much resistance as the thin skin for making gloves.

Certainly No Harm.

Her Husband—I hear the druggist, Boozewater, was arrested for keeping a blind pig.

Mrs. Goodsole—I don't see anything wrong in that. He was probably trying to cure the poor animal.

Wouldn't Work.

"Jones swore he'd tell his wife the truth always and at any cost this morning."

"Well?"

"Well, he went home to lunch; tonight he resumes diplomacy."

Wishfulness.

"When I was a boy I wanted to be a clown in a circus."

"Of course you outgrew that?"

"Oh, yes. Clowns don't get very much salary. Now I wish I was an actor in the movies."

NEWS from the RAILROADS

Items of Interest Regarding Activities on the Soo Line and the Great Northern

Must Pay Promptly—Uncle Sam will not be "stood off" for his railway bills, according to advices received from Washington at all railway stations. "Attention is called to the request of accounting officers of the various lines to be absolute necessty of prompt collection of freight charges and at point where a limited period is allowed for the convenience of the consignees that in no case must the time be extended," the announcement says. "We are required to make collections and remit money promptly and to this end we must submit names of firms or individuals who habitually delay the payment of their freight charges."

Get Increase in Pay—Employes of Northwest railroads will receive $15,000,000 in additional wages annually, with adoption by Director General McAdoo of recommendations of the railway wage commission. The findings of the commission are reported to have been submitted to Director McAdoo today, but a final decision is not expected until May 1. The Director General has announced that the increases will be retroactive to January 1. Employes of Northwest railroads total approximately 100,000. Rail executives said they have been advised that about 75 per cent of these will receive increases. Such employes as have been given fair increases recently will not benefit from the general increase, or at the best to only a very small extent, it was stated. Unorganized as well as organized rail workers are to benefit from the first "raise" to be granted by the Federal railway administration.

TEN YEARS IN PEN FOR DRAFT DODGER

MAN WHO TRIED TO WRECK TRAIN AT KARLSTAD IS SENTENCED.

Andrew Lagerquist, the Karlstad draft dodger and would-be train wrecker, has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the Stillwater penitentiary.

Lagerquist and his father and brother, John, attempted to wreck a Soo passenger train at Karlstad several weeks ago, besides draining a gasoline tank car of thousands of gallons of oil. The father was given a hearing in Crookston a week ago before United States Commissioner Murphy and sent to Fergus Falls, where he will await trial before a federal jury on the charge of harboring a deserter from the United States army.

The other brother, John, who deserted the army while in training at Camp Dodge has been returned to the cantonment to appear before a court martial.

RED CROSS NOTES

The last week has been a busy one for the Red Cross workers. Our shipment of supplies was the largest we have ever sent in, both from the sewing room and the surgical dressing room. When they were all pressed, folded and tied in bundles of five and tens, the Boy Scouts came in full force and carried them to the wholesale house. It was a splendid sight—all those boys carrying boxes that contained articles to help defeat the kaiser. Mr. Herrick and his assistants have been very kind to furnish boxes and pack all of our shipments and attend to shipping them. It is a great help to the society and especially to the inspection committee, and we appreciate it.

Notice to Knitters:—Requests have come from France that no more socks with double heels be sent across for the reason that when these are washed they are rough and harder than the rest of the sock and cause blisters on the soldiers' feet. If the women who are knitting for our soldiers will keep this in mind and knit single heels it will be greatly appreciated. Also knit the socks only ten inches long to the beginning of the heel. The scarcity of yarn makes this advisable.

Those who are knitting stockings please make them only ten inches from the top to the beginning of the heel. When they are made longer it is using too much yarn when there is such a shortage.

At the Theatres.

The opening of the Lyceum theatre last Sunday evening was heralded by a large audience with whom the house has always been a favorite. Manager Lawrence announces that for the present the offerings at this theatre on Sunday nights will be the Goldwyn pictures, the first of which will appear on Sunday with Mae Marsh as the star. The play is "Sunshine Alley." The entire story is woven about one of those little girls made famous on the screen by Miss Marsh.

The week at the Princess starts out with a seven reel Triangle play, "A Soul in Trust," starring Belle Bennett. This is a production with a political coloring and is a somewhat startling disclosure of what could very easily be an actual situation.

The play for Friday night is sure a dandy. Wallace Reid appears in Dane Cooledge's masterpiece, "Rimrock Jones," and he has never been seen to better advantage. This story is designated a "pippin" and is woven around the gold fields of the far west.

Emily Stevens is without doubt one of the greatest actresses in motion pictures, and the play in which she appears on Saturday evening is her best. "Alias Mrs. Jessop" is the title of the six reel production of mystery and intrigue in which she has made the hit of her career. A two reel Keystone comedy makes practically a double bill for Saturday night.

On Sunday night comes Louise Huff in the Blackton production, "Wild Youth." The production is full of dramatic situations and while it affords the opportunity in some instances, anything of a suggestive character has been carefully avoided. It deals with a girl who marries a man three times her own age and the complications that naturally arise from such a proceeding.

Those who like a touch of the melodramatic in their plays will find "Keith of the Border" exactly to their liking. The stars are Roy Stewart and Josie Sedgwick and the play is typically western. It will be at the Princess on Monday evening.

"Two Little Imps" is the headliner on Tuesday evening, the stars being Jane and Katherine Lee. They are angels, but the only one who thinks so is their mother. The play is full of wholesome fun.

On Wednesday evening Pauline Fredericks appears in "Mrs. Dane's Defense," a picturization of the great stage success of the same name. This is a powerful heart interest story by the greatest emotional actress of the screen today.

Lindquist-Loken.

At six o'clock on Saturday evening March 30, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Maren Loken, occurred the marriage of Ray Lindquist to Miss Mabel Loken. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Grace Loken as bridesmaid, and Carl Lindquist as best man. Rev. A. A. Larson performed the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a beautiful white crepe-de-chine gown trimmed with white satin decorated with white and yellow beads. A three course dinner was served to the guests, who were of the immediate families. Mr. and Mrs. Lindquist left Saturday evening for Chicago, Ill., DesMoines, Ia., and Minneapolis. They expect to make their home in Minneapolis where Mr. Lindquist will be employed in the Kolner Fish Company's offices.

Times Force Increased.

R. J. Halvorsen, a high class job compositor and all-round printer, arrived from Fergus Falls last Friday and has been added to The Times' mechanical force. The business of the office has grown to such an extent that more help was absolutely necessary, but competent and reliable men are scarce. The war has taken a large number and others are expecting draft calls. The floating printer is a thing of the past and good men almost impossible to procure. Mr. Halvorsen is experienced in every department of the printing business and competent to handle the high grade work which is called for here.

COOPERS AT HOME

Town on Otsego Lake Bears Family Name of Novelist.

Here the Noted Writer Gained Inspiration to Execute Works That Brought Him Fame.

With the arrival of a solitary horseman at the shores of Otsego lake in New York begins the history of Cooperstown. He was William Cooper, of a Buckinghamshire family that came to America from England in 1770, and he founded the town which bears his name. Leaving his home in Pennsylvania in 1785, at the age of thirty-one, he investigated the region round about Otsego lake with the intention of founding there a home for himself and a village for others. In January, 1806, he took possession, in association with Andrew Craig, of a large tract of 29,350 acres, soon afterward buying out his partner's share and becoming sole owner. Settlers began to arrive, and in 1788, Cooper erected a home for himself. It stood on Main street, where is now the entrance to the beautiful and extensive Cooper estate.

This William Cooper was the father of James Fenimore Cooper, who in his transfer to his new home at the age of thirteen months was the impassive witness of an amusing family difference. It seems that when William Cooper had completed arrangements for the transfer of his family from Burlington, N. J., to Cooperstown, his wife positively refused to go. She remembered the wilderness which she had visited three years before and she preferred the well established society and congenial friends of her old home to the discomforts of a pioneer settlement. The conveyance was ready and waiting, her husband urged her to give in, but she sat firmly in a chair in the library of her Burlington home and refused to budge.

The circumstances of this family disagreement are pleasantly narrated by Rev. Ralph Birdsall, rector of Christ church, says the Boston Transcript, in his delightful little volume which he calls "The Story of Cooperstown." If Mrs. Cooper was a strong-minded woman, Mr. Cooper was no less a strong-minded man. "He seized the chair," says Mr. Birdsall, "with his wife in it, and putting her aboard the wagon, chair and all, began the long journey to Otsego. Thus William Cooper carried his point, while his wife carried hers, for she traveled the whole distance in the chair from which she vowed she would not move. The chair itself, sacred to the memory of two strong minds, is still in use in the Cooper family."

This change of home doubtless shaped, if it did not alter, the life of James Fenimore Cooper. All his first impressions, he said long afterward, were obtained in the Otsego region. It is to be doubted whether Fenimore Cooper would have gained such wide celebrity as a novelist if he had not discovered the unique field of romance which the lake and hills of Otsego began to open to his vision. Had Fenimore Cooper remained in Burlington he might have written good novels, but not "The Leather Stocking Tales."

Russians Wrecked Railroads.

The gauge of the Russian railroads is about one foot wider than that of the German railroads. Hence the Russians during their retreat after the battle of Tannenberg believed that the Germans would be unable to use their narrower gauge locomotives and cars on the Russian lines. The Germans, however, moved one of the rails a foot inside its former position. At the same time, they ruined the track for Russian use by shving off the ties just outside the shifted rails. The Russians came back, and on their next retreat exploded a cartridge at each rail joint, smashing the joint and bending in the abutting rail ends so that cars could not pass. This involved for the Germans the huge task of bringing up new steel and relaying the entire track. The job was completed.

The Times is equipped to do the very best job printing and all orders, large or small, receive the same careful attention.

FOURTEEN LEAVE FOR PITTSBURGH

VOLUNTEER FOR SERVICE IN AVIATION CORPS AS MECHANICS.

SIMILAR NUMBER ON 26TH

FIRST OF NEW DRAFT REQUISITION READY TO ENTRAIN FOR CAMP DODGE.

The 14 Pennington county men who volunteered for service as mechanics in the aviation division of the army left for St. Paul on the local over the Soo at 6:15 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Their stay at the state capital was short as they were due to appear at Pittsburg university this week for the purpose of beginning their studies.

Formed Honor Guard.

In spite of the early hour at which the men took their departure they were escorted to the train by Company C., Minnesota Home guard. Captain W. B. Fuller ordered his men to be at the armory at 6:00 and they showed up with very few exceptions. The band was also out and the procession formed in the early morning hours was rather imposing.

Are a Splendid Lot.

The young men who were accepted for duty in the aviation corps are among the finest to be found anywhere. County Auditor T. P. Anderson says that he is particularly proud of this lot as they were picked from a large list because of their particular fitness for the duty required. It was necessary that they meet certain requirements in the way of education and physique as the service for which they are intended is highly specialized. That they will give a good account of themselves is certain. Following are the names and occupations of those departing:

Lars Heckne, engineer; Edwin B. Servig, farmer; Henry H. Halstrom, farmer; Edwin Christianson, salesman; Alfred G. Adolphs, engineer; Edwin C. Karwand, banker; Leroy Tollund, railroader; Carl G. Gulrud, bookkeeper; Arthur F. Liden, tailor; Myles H. Jackson, merchant; Annund O. Brevik, merchant; Max H. Goldsmith, mrechant; Gilbert Reiersgaard, farmer; Elling O. Iverson, carpenter.

New Call Received.

A new call for 3,513 drafted men from Minnesota to entrain for Camp Dodge during the five day period beginning April 26, has been received from state headquarters by the local board.

The men will be drawn from draft Class 1 in the sequence of order numbers, subject only to exceptions of those engaged in crop production, as directed by an earlier order.

Only white men and men physically qualified for regular military service will be inducted under the call.

A level draft on local boards of 13.5 per cent of the first gross quota allotted to Minnesota will be made to simplify the drawing and to make possible early arrangements for transportation.

Means Fourteen Must Go.

The gross quota under the first draft requirements for Pennington county was 102 men after credit for enlistments had been given. This means 14 men will be taken to meet the requirements of this last order. These will be taken in rotation from the eligible list as returned by the district board and unless something unforseen should develop to make the departure of any of them impossible the class will be made up as follows: Leonard Morstad, city; Osmund Ordahl, Norden; William A. Adolphson, city; Sidney S. Ells, city; Alfred Stenberg, city; Martin Larson, Star; Arthur S. Alnes, city; Max Fred Kruse, Wylie; Edwin S. Erickson, St. Hilaire; Selmer Helgeland, Smiley; Gustaf A. Sollum, city; John H. Bundhund, Goodridge; Elmer R. Loberg, St. Hilaire.

STANTON OUT FOR COUNTY ATTORNEY

ONLY CANDIDATE FOR THE OFFICE TO THUS FAR ANNOUNCE HIMSELF.

Ten candidates for county office are now on file at the office of Auditor T. P. Anderson. E. M. Stanton, who has been acting county attorney since the departure of Lieut. H. O. Kjonme for the war, this week formally placed himself among the list of eligibles. Thus far there is very little talk of any opponent for the honor.

Of the ten candidates registered, four are seeking the office of register of deeds; these being Theo. J. Liden, Lars Backe, W. E. Wood and the present incumbent, N. J. Anderson. The other filings are: For sheriff, Ove E. Berge and Louis A. Nelson; for treasurer, John Gullingsrud and Bernhard Knutson; for superintendent of schools, George M. Gunderson.

And the primary election is still ten weeks off.

Would Raise Dog Tax.

The members of the city council evidently believe that there should be fewer dogs in the city with a consequent improvement in the quality of the breed. At the meeting on Tuesday evening they were unanimously of the opinion that the tax should be doubled. This will make the possession of a male dog cost the owner $2, while females will cost $6.

An ordinance providing for certain changes in the salaries of firemen was given its first reading.

A. B. Remmem was appointed poundmaster for the ensuing year. The contractor to whom the collection of garbage was let at the last meeting failed to qualify for the job and bids were ordered advertised for.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY TOMORROW NIGHT

BEST COMEDY OF A DECADE WILL THEN BE SEEN AT AUDITORIUM.

The Times is particularly interested in having the lesson implied in the title of the senior class play to be presented at the Auditorium tomorrow evening impressed upon the minds of those present, and therefore urges everybody to go. When high school graduates have the nerve to tackle the greatest comedy success of recent years as their offering for the amusement of their townspeople at the close of the school term they should be enthusiastically supported. Every year since the Auditorium was first built the big building has been taxed to its utmost to accomodate those who wished to see the young folks interpret some dramatic production and to judge from the advance sale this event will prove no different. Those who have not done so are therefore urged to secure their tickets and have them reserved before all the seats are gone. The play is the best ever attempted here and the performers are fully up to the standard. If you have the lockjaw or a split lip, do not come, as the production was built on purpose to make you laugh.

GONVICK PARTIES BUY HAZEL STORE

PAUL BORGIE, FORMER MANAGER, SUCCEEDS KARWAND AS BANK CASHIER.

L. Ellingson and son, Maydol, of Gonvick, last week purchased the stock of the Hazel Mercantile company from Paul Borgie and others who have conducted the business since its establishment. The new owners will take charge immediately. The Ellingsons are engaged in business at Gonvick and are among the most highly regarded merchants of Clearwater county. The store at Hazel has always enjoyed a liberal patronage because of its straightforward business policy and the new owners will aim to continue the good feeling that has at all times existed between the mercantile establishment and the residents of the section.

Mr. Borgie, who was the principal stockholder in the company, has accepted the position of cashier of the State Bank of Hazel, succeeding E. C. Karwand, who resigned to enter the war service of the government. The stockholders of the bank are particularly fortunate in this selection as Mr. Borgie is perhaps the best known man in that part of the county and one who enjoys the confidence of his neighbors to an unusual degree. He will bring to his new occupation the sound business policy that made him a success as a merchant and will at all times be found working to the very best of his ability for the upbuilding of the section which has known him so long and so favorably.

He has been stationed at Fort Riley as a member of the provisional department of the officers' training camp. His brother, Harold, has been in France for some time, while another brother, Will, expects soon to leave Fort Sill, Okla., for the front as a member of the First Missouri cavalry.

March Apportionment Made.

A check for $7,600 was received from the state on Friday by County Treasurer, Theo. J. Liden, the sum representing the March apportionment for the schools of the county. This is at the rate of $2.50 for each of the 3024 children attending during the winter term. The checks to the different districts have gone out and the sum received will help tide many schools over a tight place.

BIG MEETING OF NORSE LAG HERE

"SAETERLAGET" PICKS THIEF RIVER FALLS AS PLACE FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION.

MAY MEAN 1200 VISITORS

ENTIRE NORTHWEST WILL BE REPRESENTED AT GATHERING IN JUNE.

The annual meeting of "Saeterdalslaget," an organization composed of those born in Saterdalen, Norway, or their direct decendants, will be held in Thief River Falls on Thursday and Friday, June 27 and 28. The city council at the meeting on Tuesday evening voted to permit the use of the auditorium free for the meetings on these two days.

Is Third Trip Here.

Because of the large population of Norwegian birth and extraction inhabiting this section of Minnesota this city has become a favorite place for holding meetings of this kind. This will be the third time that this particular "lag" has selected Thief River Falls as its convention city, while others have been here on several occasions. It is expected that delegates from Minnesota, the two Dakotas and Wisconsin will be here and it is likely that representatives of the organization from points farther away will be in attendance. The preliminary announcement states that between 1,000 and 1,200 men and women will be here for the meetings during the two days.

Is Social Organization.

These "lags" are maintained among the Norwegians in America simply for the purpose of keeping alive the traditions of their old home. They are purely social in character and are chiefly useful in bringing together persons who were formerly neighbors in the old country. Speakers hailing from that particular section are invited to address the meetings and men high in the councils of the state and nation but having no direct connection with the "lag" are generally on the program of addresses. The meetings this year will take on an added interest because of the war, as the Norwegian people both here and in the old country are perhaps more seriously interested in its progress and outcome than are those of any other neutral land.

The Stock Nuisance Again.

Complaint has reached The Times that horses are doing considerable damage to lawns in some sections of the city. So serious has the nuisance become that the attention of the authorities has been called to the matter. It will only be a short time until a large number of lots now vacant are turned into gardens and it will be important that stray animals be impounded. A horse or cow can do more damage in one night than a crew of men can remedy in a week and in many instances the havoc they cause cannot be undone.

FAREWELL SOCIAL FOR SOLDIER BOYS

SONS OF NORWAY HOSTS AT DELIGHTFUL PARTY SUNDAY NIGHT.

Under the auspices of the Sons of Norway, a farewell reception for some of the boys who left last Tuesday morning to join the army was given last Sunday evening, an unusually fine program being arranged for the occasion. The first number was a song by the Brage chorus, under the leadership of Dr. P. L. Vistaunet. The president of the order, Bernhard Knudsen, wished the audience welcome and E. K. Aasen announced the program and introduced the different speakers.

All the Lutheran ministers in the city were present and spoke words of patriotism, cheer and courage for the boys leaving for the army.

The program was as follows: Song, Mrs. O. F. Mellby; piano duet, Mrs. Mellby and Mrs. Oscar Sponheim; reading, Miss Ruth Storli; song, Mrs. William Olson; duet, Dr. Vistaunet and Theo. J. Liden. The Daughters of Norway served an excellent lunch and a collection for the departing boys was taken up, the sum secured amounting to $22.50. The evening closed with the singing of "America," led by Brage chorus.

FEW DELINQUENTS FOUND THIS YEAR

PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES MORE NEARLY PAID UP THAN EVER BEFORE.

If the ability to meet tax obligations is an indication of prosperity, the people of Pennington county must be more than ordinarily well off this spring. County Treasurer Theo. J. Liden has finished the recording of the personal property taxes paid in up to March 31, and finds that there are but 41 delinquents on the books, while the sum outstanding is only about $1,000. The average of delinquents in former years has been about 250 and the amounts left unpaid approximately $2,000. Of the number who failed to pay, 56 are residents of the country districts while 85 live in the city.

In the townships of Bray, Black River and Highlanding there is not a single property owner who failed to pay his personal taxes, while Numedal, Sanders and Reiner have but one each. This indicates a highly satisfactory financial condition and one of which any community may well be proud.

Pennington county registered 100 per cent in attendance at the meeting of northwestern bakers held at St. Paul last week. The session was called by the state food administration for the purpose of imparting instructions as to what is required of all bakeries in the way of conservation of certain products during the war. Fred Roth who is the chairman for this county, was present, as were also C. H. Jung and H. M. Swanson, the only bakers within his jurisdiction. In spite of the unusual showing of interest made by the local dealers in bakery goods, the district convention of the guild, which will be held shortly, was awarded to Bemidji.

SUBMITS FIGURE FOR TAX BASIS

ASSESSOR EVENSON SUGGESTS MAKING REAL ESTATE MAXIMUM $5,000 PER LOT.

WOULD BRING DOWN RATE

EXPECTED REDUCTION IN PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX WOULD ALSO BE MET.

City Assessor Martin Evenson submitted an outline of a plan for making the real estate assessment this spring to the city council on Tuesday evening. It provides for a maximum valuation of $5,000 being placed on the highest priced lots in the city, the assessments falling sharply when the residence portions are reached. Even these latter, however, will be increased over former years to a certain extent.

Would Lower Levy.

In explaining his plan Mr. Evenson said that the only $5,000 lots would be the four at the intersection of La Bree avenue and Third street, on which are located three of the banks of the city and the Oen Mercantile company's large store. From this point the drop in valuation would be gradual in each direction.

By following this plan the rate of taxation would be reduced in exact proportion to the increase in valuation. This, according to Mr. Evenson, would prove a desirable thing in many ways. The taxable valuation of real property in the city has long been recognized as too low and this has naturally brought the rate up. In many instances this has proven a drawback when new enterprises have considered the city as a place of locations, as the only thing the men in charge would consider was the rate.

Personal May Decrease.

That the new system will raise the taxes in some instances is admitted, but Mr. Evenson deems this necessary because of the fact that merchandise stocks are liable to be low and the amount derived as taxes from these may show a considerable falling off which will have to be made up some way. In this connection it was pointed out that while the stocks might be somewhat lower their value would also be higher and their taxable valuation would therefore remain about the same.

The matter will be taken up again and discussed more fully.

PRIZE HOG BRINGS 20 CENTS A POUND

HIGHEST PRICE RECORDED HERE PAID FOR PORKER BY LOCAL BUTCHER.

Everybody has considered the butcher a highwayman when paying for a few pork chops or for a roast large enough to go around on Sunday, but the meat merchant may not have been entirely to blame. It seems as if pork is destined to become one of the prohibitive luxuries soon, as the following story will show.

P. W. Roark owned a 16-months' old hog that he had taken particular pains in raising and of which he was naturally a little proud as the animal weighed 402 pounds. Figuring that this would be a good time to sell he brought the porker to the city and sold him at one of the meat markets for $80.60, or just a trifle over 20 cents a pound. So far as is known, this is the top price paid for a live hog in this city. The animal was a Yorkshire and raised on the Roark farm.

TO TAKE GRAVEL FROM RIVER BED

MATERIAL WILL BE USED ON CITY STREETS DURING COMING SUMMER.

BEST SURFACE OBTAINABLE

WORK WILL GIVE EMPLOYMENT TO CONSIDERABLE CREW FOR SOME TIME.

That the streets of the city are in need of repairs has been evident for a long time, but as it has generally been recognized that the question of paving would at some date in the near future be taken up seriously things have been permitted to drift somewhat. It seems the part of wisdom, however, to postpone anything in the way of paving until matters become a little more settled, with material easier of acquirement and labor more plentiful. But the streets are to be given the best temporary dressing that can be obtained.

Will Use River Gravel.

One thing that has always been a drawback in the upkeep of our streets is the difficulty in securing suitable gravel. A well nigh inexhaustable source of supply has now been found in the bed of the river practically within the city limits, and this will be utilized during the coming summer.

Is Important Job.

The best gravel as well as the most convenient place for scooping it out of the stream is at Lover's Lane, near the southern limits of the city. Tests made at this point show that there is a bed of the very finest gravel to be found anywhere almost ready to hand. It will be taken out with shovels and placed in piles along the bank convenient for loading. The cost of this work should be no greater than in taking the material out of a pit.

Will Furnish Employment.

When the work gets properly under way it will require quite a crew of men and a number of teams to keep it going. It is the intention to top dress all the down-town thoroughfares while the most heavily traveled streets in the residence districts will also receive a share of attention.

This enterprise will undoubtedly prove the most important in the way of municipal improvement undertaken during the coming summer.

COMPANY C ADDS MILITARY TOUCH TO FUNERAL AT MIDDLE RIVER.

Company C, 11th Battallion, Minnesota Home Guard, on Monday formed the guard of honor at the funeral of August Setterstrom, who died in the service and was buried at Middle River. The young man was a member of Company C, 20th engineers and was a national army man who joined the forces on March 1. He was sent to Camp Devens, Mass., two weeks ago, where he contracted pneumonia. His parents live in Sweden, but a brother, sister and an uncle, Samuel Anderson, reside near Middle River. The body was escorted from the camp to Middle River by W. H. ARRIVALS EXCEED DEPARTURES HERE

The annual exodus of people who believe that they will better their condition by emigrating to Canada is again upon us, but the movement is of slight proportions so far when compared with previous years. A few families have left the eastern part of the county, but others have taken their places and there will be no idle farms in that section as a consequence. The prairies of Western Canada for some reason look more inviting than those of Minnesota to a certain class of restless men and they are not deterred from going there by the fact that many of their neighbors who did likewise have been glad to return.

Real estate men say that the inquiries for land have never been better and that they expect a general influx of settlers before mid-summer. A number have already arrived and settled in the country about Goodridge and Mavie, and more are coming. Fertile lands within a stones-throw of markets and railroads will not go begging this year when the demand for farm products will be the greatest in the history of the country.

WILL GIVE LESSONS IN WHEAT SAVING

WOMAN'S CLUB COMMITTEE WILL INSTRUCT IN THE USE OF SUBSTITUTES.

The Conservation committee of the Woman's Club is making arrangements for a food exhibit to display the new war breads, biscuits, muffins, cakes, cookies, crackers and pies, made from the wheat substitutes. These will be displayed at the meeting of the Woman's club in the Commercial club rooms next Monday afternoon and will afterwards be moved to the Cronstrom grocery store so that every woman in the city and surrounding country will have an opportunity to inspect them and learn how to use the wheat substitutes. It is absolutely essential that every woman should learn how to use these substitutes in order that a greater amount of wheat may be saved for our boys "over there." A number of tried war recipes will be printed in this paper next week and every housewife is urged to try these and make a practice of using the substitutes wherever wheat flour was formerly used. This is strictly a wheat proposition and the Woman's club is working hard to make it a success.

CHURCH BODY DOES MUCH FOR RELIEF

SCIENTISTS ARE PRAISED FOR GREAT WORK THEY ARE CARRYING ON.

Members of the Christian Science church in Thief River Falls are greatly interested in the work being done for the soldiers and sailors by the followers of this faith throughout the country. A report states that about 30,000 articles have already been sent to enlisted men and war refugees by the committee in charge. One American ship has been supplied with enough knitted goods to outfit all the sailors on board. Sixteen thousand knitted articles and comfort kits have been forwarded to the men in the army, and 5,500 articles of clothing sent to French, Belgian, Italian and Serbian refugees. Boston alone has a class of 1,110 sewers who are turning out an average of 1,000 garments of different kinds every week. In addition to the work done in the class room and at the homes of the members there are four knitting machines in operation, each one capable of turning out a pair of socks every 20 minutes. The members of the Christian Science church have received high praise from government officials for the excellent work they are doing, particularly in aiding war sufferers.

No Telephone Duplication.

The Tri-State Telephone and Telegraph Exchange and the Northwestern Telephone company have reached an agreement whereby non-duplication of lines will be put in force in Minnesota. The Northwestern company is to withdraw from the city of St. Paul and southern Minnesota in favor of the Tri-State company, while the latter company is to retire from the field in Minneapolis and northern Minnesota. There has been a noticeable tendency noted everywhere for some time toward a single telephone company, both on the score of economy and convenience. The details of the plan are yet to be worked out but it is thought that no serious obstacle will interpose to prevent the change being made. The Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission rather seems to favor the proposition.

"OVER THE TOP" IS LOAN SLOGAN

WHIRLWIND CAMPAIGN WILL START MONDAY MORNING ALL OVER COUNTY.

ENTHUSIASM IS UNBOUNDED

CITY SOLICITORS DETERMINED TO SECURE HONOR FLAG FOR AUDITORIUM.

When the campaign for the Third Liberty Loan opens in Pennington county next Monday morning there will be at least 100 well-posted and convincing solicitors ready to take the field with the intention of seeing that the quota of $185,000 is oversubscribed. Never in the history of the community has a proposition been taken hold of with so much enthusiasm and that we are going over the top is almost a foregone conclusion. The people have been prepared for the coming of the solicitors and are ready to go the limit.

A Wonderful Meeting.

Last Saturday afternoon Chairman George G. Johnson called together the chairmen and their assistants from every loan district in the county for a meeting at the Commercial club rooms. Nearly 200 responded and it proved the most inspiring session of its kind ever held in this section of the state. Judge Andrew Bruce of the North Dakota supreme court, who was filling speaking dates for the loan in this section, said after the meeting that it was the most wonderful exhibition of enthusiasm and loyalty it had been his pleasure to encounter in his travels. F. H. Nutter, who had been sent out by the government to explain the loan to the people of this section, said the attitude of our people, as indicated by their representatives at the meeting was "marvelous," and he could not get over the impression the court made upon him, referring to it again and again up to the time his train left.

Some Good Speeches.

Mayor G. A. Penney delivered a short speech, after which Judge Bruce made the main address of the afternoon along lines similar to those followed by him in his previous speeches. The judge carries a message that he puts over with telling effect and the three meetings in this county at which he was the principal speaker have helped the people to understand the real issues in this war better than any other one thing that has transpired.

A Farmer Talks.

Mr. Nutter spoke shortly on the necessity for meeting the government's demands at this time and was listened to with the closest attention. After him followed Hans Anton, farmer, with what many consider the best speech of the day. Mr. Anton was born in Germany but he is under no misapprehension concerning his duties as an American citizen. He said that every man of foreign birth should think back to the time he landed in New York and stop to consider just what had happened to him since that time. He urged his neighbors to buy Liberty Bonds as heavily as they could without depriving themselves or their families of necessities and promised to go as far as possible in this direction himself. His speech was a hummer and seemed to express the sentiments of the large number of farmers present.

Want Honor Flag.

The government will present an Honor Flag to every city, village and township meeting its quota in this Liberty Loan and the Pennington county solicitors are determined that this emblem shall wave from the city halls and the school houses in their districts. The apportionment has been carefully made with a view to equalizing as nearly as possible the assessment against the different districts. General conditions were taken into account and there is no objections voiced on this score.

Going Over the Top.

Pennington county is going to oversubscribe its quota. This is a foregone conclusion. We are required to invest to the extent of $185,000, but the apportionment provides for a liberal increase in these figures. While it is possible that local conditions in certain districts may make it impossible for the people to reach their quota, some other section will go over its allotment sufficiently to more than make up the difference.

There is hardly a grown person in the county who cannot subscribe for at least a $50.00 bond and the solicitors will see to it that all are given the opportunity.

THE THIRD LIBERTY LOAN.

Canvassers for subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan will begin their work in Minnesota Monday morning. The nation-wide drive was started in some states last Friday and the applications received during the first few hours after the opening was formally announced indicates that the required amount will be subscribed in full long before the time set for closing.

In the two previous loan campaigns northwestern Minnesota did not show up to the best advantage. The proposition of loaning money to the government was a new one to most of our people and the necessity for doing so was not very apparent to a great many. These demands for money also followed closely upon two very poor crop years in this section of the state and many who were anxious to subscribe could not see their way clear to do so without serious inconvenience.

Now things are changed. Since the first loan was asked for the banks and business houses have had time to formulate plans for aiding those who cannot at once command the necessary amount of money to make their participation possible and the number of subscribers will be increased by hundreds of thousands because of the deferred payment plans inauguarted. It has also been brought home to many that if we are to win this war everyone must get behind it in one way or another. We cannot all fight the enemy on the battlefield, but the part left for us to play is almost as important. The boys in the trenches must be kept supplied with the machinery necessary in order to win, and those who are left at home must supply it. Our people now understand this fully and will dig past their surplus and into what they have heretofore considered as necessities in order to meet the demands of their country.

Pennington county is going over the top this trip. There is an enthusiasm noted in connection with the third loan that was lacking in those previously launched. For some time our people have known that it was coming and have prepared for it. The solicitors will find their work easy when compared to the task confronting those who volunteered in this capacity previously. There is nothing left to explain. Every man, woman and child in the country knows the money is needed and why it is needed, and the response will be general.

There is one feature of the present campaign that we particularly like. But little is said about the interest rate the new bonds will bear, although this is higher than for the two previous issues. All that seems worthy of consideration is the fact that the country requires more money in order to carry on the war. This is sufficient to start everyone figuring out just how much they will be able to save from their income for the purpose of helping matters along. But few excuses or attempts at evasion will be met with, and these will not be accepted.

"WE'RE GOING OVER THE TOP."

More than two hundred citizens, most of them representing the farming districts of Pennington county, met for the purpose of receiving their instructions as Liberty Loan solicitors at the Commercial club rooms in this city on Saturday. The meeting was in many respects the most remarkable ever held here. Every speaker, whether representing city or country, proved to be an enthusiast and spoke as he had never been known to speak before. Judge Andrew Bruce of the North Dakota supreme court, who happened to be present, said he had never seen a similar spirit displayed in any of the towns he had visited during his speaking tour, and F. H. Nutter, who was sent here by the government in the interests of the bond sale, kept repeating "marvelous, marvelous!" when those present arose to their feet and, raising their hands, declared "WE ARE GOING OVER THE TOP!"

Every commercial traveler who makes Thief River Falls his headquarters—and there are about fifty of them—has been notified by his house that he is to take all the time necessary to help spread the gospel of Liberty Bonds. These men represent whoesale houses here at home, in the Twin Cities, Duluth, St. Louis and other points, and they are allowed one entire week for this purpose, if the work takes that long. They are among the most enthusiastic of the bond-selling battalion and will make their efforts count.

Everybody is going to do something and the result will turn the eyes of the nation toward the northwest corner of the North Star state.

The name of the Norwegian American, publish at Northfield and devoted to the interests of persons of Norwegian birth and ancestry in the Northwest, has been changed to the United American. The paper has been among the most intensely patriotic in the country since the outbreak of the war and has attacked the hyphen wherever found. In announcing the change of name Editor Mohn says that there should no longer be such thing as a Norwegian-American in this country—nor Swedish or German-Americans or any other kind of hyphenated American. And he is right. While continuing to publish matters of particular interest to the people of Norse antecedents and sympathies the policy of the paper will be to hold forth particularly the fact that all must now be Americans first, last and all the time. A number of other publications in this state would loose nothing in popularity by following this lead.

A RICH MAN'S WAR.

Very little is heard these days about this being a "rich man's war." For a long while this was the favorite argument advanced by those who were opposed to having the United States take any kind of hand in the proceedings whatever, but the figures of the tax collectors in the wealthy centers of the country have effectively squelched this class of yawper. When it is considered that every person with an income of $100,000 per year has to return $63,000 of it as taxes to the government it will be seen that wealth is going to carry its full share of the expense. It may be argued that the remaining $37,000 is all that any person is entitled to anyway, but this does not alter the fact that the war is hitting the enormously wealthy far harder in proportion than the person of limited income.

Following is a list of thirty of the richest persons in America, together with their estimated income and the taxes they will be compelled to pay this year:

	Estimated Yearly Income	Income Tax Based on This Estimate.
Rockerfeller, J. D.	$60,000,000	38,400,000
Frick, H. C.	11,250,000	7,160,000
Carnegie, Andrew	10,000,000	6,400,000
Baker, Geo. F.	7,500,000	4,800,000
Rockerfeller, Wm.	7,500,000	4,800,000
Harkness, Ed. S.	6,250,000	4,000,000

The lynching of an alleged German sympathizer in Illinois last week indicates the temper of the people toward anyone who by act or speech lays himself open to suspicion at this time. The American people have been very lenient with this kind of thing but are getting tired and can hardly be blamed for letting go of themselves on occasion. At that the offense of these lynchers cannot be permitted to go unpunished. The danger of allowing mobs to decide the guilt or innocence of people in such cases is too great. It would be only a short time until grievances or offenses of every nature would be punished in this manner wherever a mob could be gotten together. All they would have to do is to carry the American flag in order to be held blameless. It is hard to conceive of a greater desecration to the flag than carrying it at the head of a procession of lynchers, as was done in the Illinois case. That emblem stands for law and order first and foremost and the result of its employment in this instance should be so severe that it would never be used on a similar occasion again.

James A. Peterson, candidate for United States senator, was arrested last week charged with violating the federal espionge act by unlawfully obstructing the enlistment and recruiting service of the United States. He was arrested in company with Paul E. Dehnel, formerly publisher of a newspaper at Bemidji and a half dozen other cities in Minnesota. This Dehnel chap ought to be arrested on general principles and it is perfectly safe to take anyone along at the same time who happens to be found having anything to do with him. He is a nuisance and a pest and should not be tollerated even in peace times. Just now he is absolutely dangerous. He is at present publishing a sort of magazine in Minneapolis, and Peterson is accused of having written certain articles appearing therein claiming that the United States is sacrificing the lives of soldiers to gain territory for other countries, and that "big business" insists on continuing the war for its own ends. And this is the man who considers himself a fitting successor to Knute Nelson in the United States senate!

One year's experience as a wide-open town was enough for Superior. At the election held last week the no-license people won by a small majority—less than a hundred votes. While the margin was not large the result is gratifying. Superior was getting an unenviable reputation among northern cities for the manner in which it was being run and the people will find themselves better off in every way for having cleaned house. A new mayor was elected and he has promised that the lid will be clamped on so tight that it cannot be budged with a crowbar. Duluth, across the bay from Superior, is naturally tickeld over the outcome as it will make the head of the lakes boozeless except for one little village on the Wisconsin side, called Oliver, and it is probable that the federal government will see to it that saloons are not permitted there.

The Honor Flag of the Third Liberty Loan is awarded by the United States Treasury Department to every town in the country which sells its quota of Liberty Bonds in the present campaign. Every town winning the right to fly this Flag will have its name inscribed on the State Honor Roll under a State Honor Flag to be unfurled at the state capital. The results in each state will be indicated on a national Honor Flag which will be raised in the Treasury Department in Washington and remain there permanently. Thief River Falls wants one of these Honor Flags for its Auditorium building. It means that practically $120,000 worth of bonds will have to be sold in the First Loan district of the county—but what of that?

Twenty Years Ago.

The people of this section were reminded that a state of war existed when a trainload of soldiers from Forts Harrison and Assiniboine, Mont., passed through Crookston during the week. The train consisted of nine coaches and four baggage cars.

The death of Charles F. Robbecke, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Robbecke, was announced in the news of the week. The lad was 16 years of age.

The annual financial statement of Red Lake county was issued by County Auditor W. T. Mullarky. It showed that the total receipts for the year were $28,505.55, and the balance in the treasury at the beginning of the year, $3,902.22. The county officers, together with the salaries paid at that time were as follows: W. T. Mullarky, auditor, $1,122.40; M. A. Hatton, treasurer, $636; Frank Jeffers, superintendent of schools, $610; C. E. Boughton, county attorney, $711.63; Luman C. Simons, judge of probate, $493.08. The total salary list for the year was $3,673.16.

Seeding was reported as well under way with the soil in fine condition and the weather excellent.

Paul Midderigh went to St. Hilaire to work at the Dainerd meat market during the summer.

Dan L. Stevens of Minneapolis, business manager for the Meehan interests, arrived from Minneapolis for the purpose of getting the saw mill here started for the season.

Milton Forder and family moved to St. Hilaire, where he has secured work for himself and three boys at the saw mill.

Miss Estelle Dee arrived from Minneapolis and assumed her position as teacher in the Engelstad district in Rocksbury township.

Steamboat owners were urged to co-operate with the city council in building a boat landing.

A large crew of men were busy during the greater part of the week transshipping a 90 horsepower boiler from the railroad yards to a scow on the river. The boiler was to be taken to Red Lake where it would be installed in a large tow boat built for the lumbering firm of Dwyer & Long.

The ice went out and left the river open this week, permitting navigation to open at the earliest date in the history of the city. The ice was three feet thick during the winter but no jam or gorge formed at any point and the mass went out without damage.

Ten Years Ago.

At the Republican primaries held in the city on Saturday the following were elected delegates to the county convention to be held at St. Hilaire: T. P. Hamre, John Eastman, Wilhelm Michelet, M. V. Evenson, G. Halvorson, A. H. Fasel, Lars Backe, John Sundell, H. Hager, Ben Christianson, D. B. Bakke, Daniel Shaw, H. Rud. Andrew Stenseth was delegate from North township, Stephen Singer and Peter Hedeen from Kratka, and M. DuCharme from Lake Pleasant.

A committee composed of Aldermen Evenson and Forder reported that owing to its having frozen, about two-thirds of the cement on the roadway of the new bridge was unsatisfactory and that one of the supporting piers should be condemned for the same reason.

The board of county commissioners were called to meet for the purpose of considering the matter of county division. Similar calls had been issued before but the board members failed to respond. Unless they put in an appearance on the date specified the matter would be taken into the courts, according to those interesting themselves in the matter in Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hamre expect to leave in a few days for Hot Springs, Ark., for an extended stay.

Mrs. N. W. Tarrant, of Red Lake Falls, spent a portion of the week with friends in this city.

Mrs. G. W. Booren left to spend three or four weeks visiting friends and relatives at Minneapolis and Stillwater.

Harry G. Dobner left during the week for LaCrosse, where he was united in marriage to Miss Antonnette McMillan on the 15th. The young couple expect to return and go to housekeeping on the East Side about May 15.

My Country

I chose this country from all the nations of the world because here my children are free to reap the full fruits of the best that is in them.

I love this country because it gives me opportunity. I will protect it because it protects me.

My country is now in danger. The rights of my children have been attacked. If I do not stand back of my country now—if its principles are wiped from the face of the earth—where will I go?

What opportunities will I have, if the iron hand of the Kaiser is placed on this land? What will my money be worth, if I am a slave? What right have I to freedom, if I allow them to take my freedom from me now?

My country has offered me a mortgage on every penny's worth of property of every man in this great country. My money is not to be taken from me by force as the Germans would do if they came here. I am simply loaning it to my country.

I am proud to do my part.

ALL READY FOR BIG BOND DRIVE

SOLICITORS BEGIN WORK AT NINE O'CLOCK MONDAY MORNING.

SALE OPENS WITH A RUSH

FIRST HOUR'S DEMAND IN THE EAST ASTOUNDS GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS.

Reports from all sections of the country are to the effect that the Third Liberty Loan will be largely oversubscribed long before the official time for terminating the sale arrives. Several communities notified the government officials as early as Saturday that their quota had been taken up and requested that they be given the place of honor as the first on the list. In some instances the oversubscription amounted to nearly 100 per cent, indicating that the Third Loan will go over the requirements by an enormous total. The campaign has already started in the East and reports are to the effect that the subscriptions are literally pouring in. The Ninth district drive will not begin until Monday morning.

Purchasers of the Third Liberty Loan bonds will have two kinds and six denominations from which to select and practically all spring and summer in which to pay for them, according to detailed information of the new issue received yesterday by Chairman C. W. Gordon of the St. Paul committee.

Official announcement from Washington to the Ninth Federal Reserve district is that the new bonds will be issued in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. The bonds will differ from those of previous issues in that they will be of two kinds, registered and coupons, the buyer to take his choice.

Bear Same Interest.

The coupon bonds will permit a ready sale. Sale of a registered bond, which is a protection in case of loss in that it is not transferable except with the sanction of the owner, necessitates notice to the Treasury department at Washington.

Both kinds bear the increased rate of interest, 4½ per cent, and are equally sound investments. Interest is paid by the government semi-annually on September 15 and March 15 of each year.

The government requires the first payment of 5 per cent on or before May 4. Additional payments are 20 per cent May 28, 35 per cent by July 18 and the remainder 40 per cent by August 15. The investment is made easy, however, by the bank plan and the employers' plan of partial payment.

Loan Armies Forming.

The easier partial payment plans are made possible by the banks and firms buying the bonds from the government and underwriting them so ultimate purchasers can obtain them without excessive pressure on their financial resources.

Railroads Will Help.

Walter Hines, assistant national railroad director, wired Governor Theodore Wold of the Ninth District reserve bank that railroads will be permitted to buy from their current funds, in any amount that may be subscribed for by employes on a ten-month installment payment basis.

Details of the program for the war show to be staged at the Auditorium April 11, 12 and 13 were worked out at a conference of the special committee with Chairman C. O. Kalman late yesterday.

PRICHARDS TO ADD COAL DEPARTMENT

WORK ON LARGEST YARDS IN CITY TO BEGIN AT ONCE.

Thief River Falls is to have another coal yard and it will be the largest in this section. The Prichard company some years ago acquired a site for such yard between Fourth and Fifth streets on the Soo railroad tracks but have never found the condition exactly right for beginning work. Now, however, they deem the opportunity for making a success of such venture most excellent and will begin work of constructing the warehouse at once. The active management of this business, as well as of the lumber yard, will be taken over by W. W. Jr., and H. S. Prichard, it having for some time been the intention of the head of the house to retire from active business, at least in this city.

The intention is to have the new coal sheds ready for business as soon as possible and the concern has already provided application blanks for consumers, which indicates that they will be in shape to handle orders within a short time.

3RD Liberty Loan

The great Spring Drive is on.

Somewhere in France the boys must go "Over the Top."

Uncle Sam has called us here at home to go "Over the Top" also—with the Third Liberty Loan.

Uncle Sam must have, at once, Billions of Dollars to take care of the boys "over there" who are fighting the big fight.

Every man, woman and child in this great nation of one hundred million souls must get into action.

We must back our soldier boys with our dollars.

Uncle Sam is not asking for a gift—he is offering bonds on which he will pay interest every six months until redemption. When you buy Third Liberty Loan bonds, you receive a mortgage on all the property of all of the people of the richest nation in the world—the United States of America.

The Army Depends On You

Our Army is staking its life to make the world safe for you. Unless the men are properly equiped, their blood may be sacrificed to your selfishness. Every Third Liberty Loan Bond sold shortens the road to Berlin. You have a share in the Third Liberty Loan, no matter how many bonds you may have bought before.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY

"Granny" Chamberlain

Whooping Cough

"The disease I most dread is Whooping Cough, for children are often permanently injured by the awful straining of the cough. You should never neglect it, and treatment should be started at the first symptom. You cannot mistake the symptoms: protracted coughing, worse at night; peculiar whoop; labored expectoration of mucus; apparent suffocation after coughing.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is a positive remedy for this disease—repeat the dose frequently, for if given freely it liquifies the tough mucus, makes it easy to expectorate and counteracts any tendency toward pneumonia. There is no danger whatever from Whooping Cough when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is freely given."

Yours for Health.—Granny Chamberlain

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Felt Highly Honored.

It was no small honor to have the first contract ever let by the U. S. government to carry the mail over the snow into the Arctic. It is no small pleasure to look back and review the successful accomplishment of the undertaking.

The mail was to be carried in January and March, two trips, and I was to receive a thousand dollars a trip for my services.

On the first trip, I hired a native and his dog team to transport the mail and put it in charge of Mr. W. S. Flannagan, an old college mate of mine whom I had run across in St. Michael in the fall, where I had found him stranded.

He was to go with the first mail and not only have charge of it, but learn the way, as I wished to accompany him on the next trip.

Services Were Needed.

In due course of time, he returned from making the first trip, bringing me word that the Missionaries at Kotzebue were very desirous that I should come with the next mail as they were sadly in need of a physician. The Missionary's wife had been suffering severely with toothache for several months and wished for relief from her pain.

One month went by after I received the call before I started as it was not time till then to leave with the second mail.

Good Word for Dogs.

For various reasons on this trip we used dogs. One can not help but become attached to these faithful animals, so hard do they work and so affectionate do they become on a long journey.

Kinick was our leader. He had only a stump of a tail, but my, how he would wag that when he realized that he was meeting with our approval. He was not a bright dog—he was just a faithful, honest old fellow, and so proud to be the leader of the team. An untimely end came to him before the journey was through which I will speak of later.

A Fine But Useless Brute.

Toluook was a great big Malemute sled dog; very active and strong. I had given sixty-five dollars for him—fifteen dollars more than is usually given for a dog. His name meant in the Eskimo language, "raven." As you pronounce the name To-lu-ook you give forth the sound the raven makes as he wings his way over the frozen northland. Toluook had the strangest eyes I ever saw in an animal. They were as yellow as the light of an angry blaze, with dark holes in the center, that had no limit to their depth. He saw everything and was the policeman of all the dogs. If I ever had to whip one of them he would become so excited and so wish to have a part in the fracas that hitched as he was next the sled, he would dig in and pull the whole load in his endeavor to reach me and assist in the punishment. He was a great disappointment. He reminded me much of that class of men who gather and bewail their lot and are constantly finding fault with those who have been industrious and have made a success of life. He so kept thinking that he was doing too much toward our progress that it was not long before his tugs were slack the most of the time. He was so utterly useless that we traded him off for Bobby, the truest, most affectionate dog I ever saw.

Different Characteristics.

Our dog Stumpy was a dandy. Brownie was a shirk. Segolook had an Irish setter for a father and a white Eskimo dog for a mother. He was young, a good dog but his hair was too short to keep him comfortable. He would crawl up on our sleeping sack to get warm at night and lie upon our legs till we kicked him off.

Blackie was just a disgruntled dog having gone along and pulling his part because he had to.

Quite an Equipment.

We had a fairly representative team of six dogs, though, to pull our light birch sled. On it we had the mail, our deer skin sleeping sack, our food, and our dogs' food, a shot gun, snow shoes, cooking utensils, a sheet iron stove and some other supplies such as extra clothing and such things—a load altogether of three hundred and sixty pounds, which would gradually diminish as we proceeded on our way.

A Feat of Sprinting.

One can easily realize that on a long trip, over all kinds of roads, there would be very little riding done, for the dogs would have all they could do to draw the heavily loaded sled as it was.

Usually one man ran ahead of the dogs while the other man ran behind holding onto the handles of the sled which extended out behind like the handles of a baby carriage. One would run for miles without stopping to rest. We had to, were we to go any distance during a day's travel.

On our first day out, we met a stiff north breeze. The themometer showed four degrees below zero. About noon the wind increased, and as I turned to talk to the carrier, he informed me that my chin was badly frozen. I looked at his face and told him that his right cheek was white. It took some time to thaw the frozen surfaces. Before we reached Kotzebue our faces had been frozen so repeatedly that the skin turned brown and pealed off over the greater part of the exposed parts of our faces and necks, so severe was the weather encountered.

At noon we stopped and allowed the dogs to lie down on the ice in their harness and rest, while we started a fire, made some tea; drank two cups of it, ate some cold biscuits and doughnuts and then pushed on, traveling for the first day upon the ocean ice.

Wind Checks Caravan.

The wind increased in severity, sweeping the ice free from snow. So strong did it blow and so slippry was our footing that at times as I was running ahead of the dogs I was compelled to get down on my hands and knees and creep over the most difficult places. It was so hard for the dogs to travel in the face of such a gale that they and the sled would be stopped completely at times and when the wind was very strong, they would even be swept back on their own trail. We persisted in keeping at it all the long afternoon and after we had traveled away into the night we arrived at a "bunk" house thirty-five miles from our starting point, where we sought rest for the night.

An Artic Hotel.

A "bunk" house is an Artic hotel made of logs and chinked with moss. It has usually a dirt roof and a dirt floor. A sheet iron stove is used for heating the building and a cook stove is usually furnished on which coffee can be made. Two rows of bunks made of boards and covered with dry grass or spruce boughs extend along two sides of the building and invite the use of the blankets or sleeping sacks brot in from the sleds. The old fashioned string and latch hold the whip-sawed door closed and permit one from the outside to enter. Lodging for the night is one dollar a person.

The Wind Continues.

We made an early start in the morning but owing to the severity of the wind we were glad to stop for the night in a native's cabin after traveling but eighteen miles. Afraid that our dog food would run short, I obtained twelve ptarmingan at twenty-five cents apiece from the native and fed them to the dogs. They were devoured quickly, feathers and all. That was their food for twenty-four hours—two birds apiece, as we feed them but once a day on the trail.

Found Easier Going.

The next day was bright and clear with but little wind and we reached the mouth of the Koyuk river at the head of Norton Bay, the point where oru oprfage across to Kotzebue begins. We surmised that now the worst part of our journey was to begin, for often the soft snow is so deep that only a few miles can be made each day, and those are miles which represent the packing of a trail with snow shoes for the dogs and sled. But we were agreeably surprised, for the strong wind which had been blowing had so drifted and packed the snow that it supported not only the dogs and loaded sled, but it would not give way as we ran over its surface. So far we had been able to find a shelter for the night and it had been so agreeably received even though the accommodations were poor. All day long, through the cold, we had been toiling with the great mountains in sight all around us. Not a sign had we seen of any habitation. We were traveling up one hill, then over the top and down the opposite side. Through the underbrush in the ravine and on up the next hill and down again, cutting our way through the thick brush between the hills at times, till it seemed that there would be no end. I had grown so accustomed, upon reaching the top of one hill, to see another just beyond, that I was not prepared for the sight which presented itself, just as the sun was hiding itself behind the cold mountains to the west. Oh, how it warmed our hearts as we came to the top of the last hill and saw before us a camping place—a place away from the cold, bleak wind swept snowy-hills o'er which we had been traveling. There, growing on the banks of a river was a great forest of evergreens looking so warm and comfortable in contrast to the cold snow all around. Oh, how delightful it would be to find the shelter of these thick woods. And when our dogs had drawn our sled down to the edge of the timber and we had pushed our way in to the river's bank, there we found the rays of the setting sun making gold the somber hues of an old log cabin nestled among the tall pine trees. The door was ajar but there was no one to welcome us save the Hudson Bay jay, which sat upon the ridge pole and cocked his head to the right and then to the left as though he were trying to figure out what manner of creatures were we. But we cared not for the companionship of others; we were satisfied with finding a shelter.

A Most Welcome Supper.

Our sled was drawn to the door; the dogs unhitched and we were soon making ready for our supper. All the delicacies of a Christmas or a Thanksgiving dinner could not be compared with our appetizing feast that night.

It was a stew made from three ptarmigan we had shot on the trail, a handful of rice, two handfuls of dessicated potatoes, water dipped up from an open place in the river, and just enough salt and pepper to add to its deliciousness. There was not a spoonful left when we were through.

When supper was over and the dogs had had their feed, and each, finding a comfortable place in which to sleep, had rolled himself up into a great furry ball for the night, we sought our rest, pillowing our sleeping sack on a great bed of soft fragrant spruce boughs. Before I slept, I was so satisfied with my surroundings that I was wishing for nothing more than that I might always stay in this out-of-the-way place. Then quiet reigned supreme in that old cabin away off among the pines and in the shadow of the snow-clad mountains, except as it was broken by the sounds of heavy breathing of the tired ones resting for the work of the morrow.

Free Poultry Bulletin.

A few copies of Back Yard Poultry Bulletin were received last week by Secretary Scott Laird for distribution among those who are interested in the raising of poultry. Additional copies have been ordered to supply the demand being made on the local Red Cross chapter as those received have been about all given out. Anyone still desiring a copy should let Mr. Laird or any of the other officers of the Chapter know of their desire, and a copy will be mailed them.

THE GREAT WAR HAS MADE CIGARETTES A NECESSITY.

"Our boys must have their smokes. Send them cigarettes!" This is a familiar appeal now to all of us.

Among those most in demand is the now famous "toasted" cigarette—LUCKY STRIKE. Thousands of this favorite brand have been shipped to France. There is something homelike and friendly to the boys in the sight of the familiar green packages with the red circle.

This homelike, appetizing quality of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette is largely due to the fact that the Burley tobacco used in making it has been toasted "It's toasted" was the "slogan" that made a great success of LUCKY STRIKE in less than a year. Now the American Tobacco Co. is making 15 million LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes a day.

A good part of this immense production is making its way across the water to cheer our boys

RELIEF COMMITTEES ARE GETTING BUSY

BRANCHES WILL BE ORGANIZED AT DIFFERENT POINTS IN COUNTY.

At a joint meeting of the Civilian Relief and Military Relief committees of the local chapter of the Red Cross held last Friday it was determined to have each branch throughout Pennington county name its respective committees, the chairman of each to be a member of the Pennington County committee.

Both committees will at once get busy and ascertain the names of all men who have entered the various branches of the army and navy and see that not only are the men provided with letters from those at home, but also see that those left at home and who may be in need should receive such assistance as may be deemed wise.

Postal cards for mailing to the boys at the training camps or elsewhere can can now be secured from either the secretary of the local chapter or the branch secretaries, or from the chairman of the Military Relief committees. Mrs. J. J. Richter is chairman of this committee in Thief River Falls, and as soon as the branches make their reports on the appointment of the committees in each township these names will then be made public thru the press.

Be sure to send a card the next time you write any of the soldiers or sailors.

Send another the next time you write.

Keep it up.

Make the boys feel they are not forgotten.

Don't Hesitate to Ask Questions

Are you doing enough driving with lights off to keep your battery properly charged?

Are you replacing the evaporation, which is always going on, by a proper amount of distilled water?

Are you sure current isn't being lost daily by some defect in wiring or connections?

Does current flow freely?

If you'll stop the next time you see our service sign, we'll be glad to answer as many questions as you can find time to ask.

And don't forget to include an inquiry about the Still Better Willard with Threaded Rubber Insulation.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

USE RIGHT-OF-WAY FOR GARDEN PLOTS

SOO AND GREAT NORTHERN OFFER LAND FREE FOR THIS PURPOSE.

Persons living near the tracks of the Soo or the Great Northern in this section are offered the use of the land composing the right-of-way of these roads for garden purposes. Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo, and Agent W. E. Baker of the Great Northern, received notification from headquarters to this effect the first of the week and are giving all possible publicity to the fact.

Nothing could more clearly emphasize the need for increased acreage than this action on the part of the roads. The narrow strips along the tracks are cleared of all impediments to farming and are ready for the plow and harrow. The aggregate of the tillable land thus made available for crops is enormous and its convenient location should make hundreds of gardens possible.

The railroads will charge no rent of any kind for the use of these plots. All the officials ask is that the land be put to the best use possible in aiding to secure bumper crops. It is realized that the country will need the yield from every available acre before another harvest season rolls around and that it would be an inexcusable waste to permit this fertile land to lie idle. Information concerning the matter may be had by addressing Mr. Barnard, if the applicant resides on the Soo, or Mr. Baker if his home is nearer the Great Northern.

HE TALKED MUCH AND VERY FOOLISH

MATT STORVOLD LOSES JOB BECAUSE OF DISLOYAL UTTERANCES.

Anyone feeling it incumbent upon themselves to give voice to disloyal sentiments of any kind had better keep away from the Soo railroad yards as the practice is decidedly unpopular there and liable to bring on disagreeable results. Matt Storvold is out of a job as a result of his kaiserite sympathies and it is probable that more serious consequences will follow.

Storvold has been under observation for some time. When the Tuscania was sunk he is said to have asserted that if our soldiers stayed on this side where they belonged they would not be in danger of being drowned by the Germans. They had no business over there, anyway, according to the view of Storvold as reported by his fellow workers. He also found fault with the food administration's order to save wheat, declaring that our soldiers and our wheat should both be kept on this side. So radical did his attitude become that his superiors took the matter up with the public safety commission. An agent of this body visited the city, but with what result has not yet been definitely ascertained. Storvold was discharged, however, and will be lucky if this is all that happens to him.

Are Selling Bonds—Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry and Trainmaster H. D. Keene are the official Liberty Loan solicitors for the Soo employes on this division. A complete list of the employes who may be expected to participate in this loan has been made by Victor Paulson, clerk in Mr. Hendry's office, and it makes a rather imposing total. There are 46 engineers, 19 firemen, 47 mechanics, 46 repair track men, and three storekeepers, making their homes here, besides 17 men at outlying points. This makes a total of 178 possible bond purchasers and Messrs. Handry and Keene will see to it that none escape. A plan has been worked out whereby an employe may buy a bond and pay for it by having a certain sum retained from his wages every pay day.

New Section Foremen—Dell Anderson, for some time section foreman at Lancaster, has taken charge of the yard section in this city, succeeding Arthur Bellman, who has left the service. Archie Reams of Henning, will succeed Mr. Anderson at Lancaster. Edward Chynka, section laborer in the yards here, has been promoted to foreman of the crew at Sultan, succeeding Fred Thyhack, resigned. August Weiner, who has been a section laborer in the yards here for some time, has been transferred to Karlstad where he will have charge of the section crew. He succeeds A. Larson, resigned.

Alverado Agent Dead—H. Turnelind, Soo agent at Alvarado, died on Tuesday morning of pleuro-pneumonia after a short illness. He was a valued employe of the road, having been with the company since 1905. The remains were taken to his former home, Dow City, Iowa, for burial. O. P. Clow has been appointed agent at Alvarado temporarily.

Short of Machinists—The war has caused a scarcity of men in the mechanical departments everywhere. This division is particularly short of machinists and there is no help in sight. This week it became necessary to send engine No. 141 to Shoreham to be overhauled and there are three more waiting on the tracks in need of repairs.

Injured Eye Improving—John M. Skog received a painful injury while at work in the yards last week. While fixing a Duff jack a spring suddenly flew out and struck him in the eye. So serious was the hurt that he was sent to a specialist at Minneapolis on the first train for treatment. It is now practically certain that the sight of the eye will be saved.

Slightly Injured—James Johnson had to have a few stitches taken in his scalp as the result of an accident in the yards the other day. He was standing near a passing train when a large lump of coal was dislodged, presumably from one of the cars, and struck him on the head. The injury is not serious.

Snow Equipment Laid Up—There is evidently no fear of snow storms in the minds of railway officials here. All the equipment for combatting the drifts, with the exception of one Langdon plow, has been sent away. This one implement will be kept as a margin of safety until the 20th of May.

More Enlistments—Arthur Johnson, who was a machinist's helper before his enlistment in the coast artillery, is now at Jefferson Barracks and expects shortly to be transferred to the Pacific coast. Palmer Peterson, engine dispatcher, has resigned his position to go into the service.

Eckman Agent Back—F. L. Pettit, agent at Eckman, resumed work on Saturday after a few weeks' vacation. L. T. Machart, who relieved him, has been transferred to Dahlen, N. D., as agent, relieving G. E. Holman, who has been granted a leave of absence.

Soldiers Transferred—Letters received by their former comrades state that Arthur Berg, who recently left to join the army, has been transferred from Camp Dodge to Camp Custer, Mich., while Joe Johnson was last heard of in New York City.

Will Plant Potatoes—Ed. Krogstad, coal shute operator, is going to follow Uncle Sam's advice and do considerable farming. He has been at Bronson during the past week for the purpose of securing just the kind of seed potatoes he wants.

Warehouseman Promoted—A. Peterson, who has been warehouseman at Alexandria for some time, has been promoted to night operator at the depot in the same city. The regular key manipulator is down with the measles.

Agent Returns—E. W. Lathrop, agent at Karlstad, resumed work Friday morning, after a short layoff on account of sickness, O. P. Clow, who acted as his relief, being transferred to Alvarado.

Sundayed at Winnipeg—Miss Olga Gulrud, a member of the force in the division superintendent's office, spent Sunday at Winnipeg on a visit with friends.

Visited Family—O. L. Skorheim, operator in the train dispatcher's office here, spent Sunday with relatives at Henning.

Change at Mahnomen—A. J. Comstock has been made warehouseman at Mahnomen, vice W. A. Brockman, resigned.

Warehouseman Hurt—Herman Moline, assistant warehouseman, has been laid up for about a week as the result of an accident. He was trucking freight when the gangplank slipped and let him down between the car and platform, dumping the whole load on top of him. One leg was quite badly bruised but he is getting along all right again.

Arrives From Sweden—Axel Williamson, switchman, left on No. 110 Saturday night for Wylie, where he goes to meet a brother who has just come over from the family home in Sweden.

Operator Has Recovered—G. I. Richardson, operator at headquarters here has returned to work after being laid up by illness for some time.

Division Jottings.

O. W. Carlson is a new wiper at the roundhouse.

John Anderson, car foreman at Adams, has enlisted.

Alfred Johnson, returned Monday from a visit to Duluth.

Martin Gilbertson has been made car foreman at Adams.

Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry is at the Shoreham shops on a business trip.

Dan Paranteau, car repairer, was at Warren this week for a short visit.

Peter Ellingson has taken the place as machinist's helper left vacant by George Templar, enlisted.

George Erickson, boilermaker, and Charles Bartlett, machinist's helper, were at Minneapolis Sunday.

John Bird, pipefitter, was at Overly this week and brought a big auto back with him for another party.

Arthur Belland is a new man put on as coach cleaner. Carl Erickson is a new man in the carpenter shops.

CLOVERLEAF TOWN RED CROSS BRANCH

ANOTHER UNIT ADDED TO LIST OF WAR-WORKING ENTHUSIASTS.

The Cloverleaf branch of the Red Cross was organized last Thursday night at Mavie, when Chairman Thos. A. Way and Secretary Scott Laird of the Pennington County chapter met with interested residents of that vicinity.

Both gentlemen explained the work of the society and their remarks were attentively listened to by more than 50 persons.

The local band in that neighborhood was also present and several excellent selections were rendered from time to time.

The officers chosen at the meeting were: Chairman, J. M. Schie; vice chairman, Stuart A. McLeod; Secretary, Miss Margaret Kottlan; Treasurer, Thos. H. Smith; chairman finance committee, T. J. Skaar.

Facing the Situation With Much Confidence

Deputy Sheriff Paul Midderigh was born in England and was a member of the expeditionary force sent to the Transvaal at the time of the Jamieson raids. His people still reside in England and he has maintained steady communication with them since he became a resident of this country. A short time ago he received a letter from a sister which throws some light on just how the men and women of the country regard the present war. They seem to have settled down to the task of winning, no matter what the cost may be, and are facing the future with characteristic British fortitude. The letter in part is as follows:

"Many thanks for the papers you so kindly sent me. They are very interesting. I can see the war makes you all ver ybusy as well as us. We are all fighting in a great cause and my hope is that we may speedily win so that our terrible losses may not have been in vain.

"Douglas used to say to me: 'A man cannot have a better end than to die fighting for his country.' For my part I miss him terribly still, for he was such a good son. I hope some day to go and see his grave, which is near Amiens and kept in a very good state.

"Arthur was home on leave for a fortnight. He is looking very well. He went back to France last Thursday and likes his present occupation very well. Being on the staff is better than in the trenches. He is no longer fit for trench work since he had trench fever.

"We get awful air raids occasionally. The shells whistle over our houses and when the bombs are dropped it shakes the whole place. We are truly under fire then, but we must fight on, until we are successful. It is all in a good cause."

Isn't Her Life Worth a 3RD Liberty Loan Bond

YOUR little girl hardly realizes what this war means. She has a big daddy to protect her. It is hard even for you to realize that today in Europe there are thousands of little girls homeless and almost starving. They haven't any daddies any more. Some of them haven't hands any more.

These little girls have been sacrificed to that philosophy expressed by Professor Lesson of the University of Berlin in Das Kulturideal und Der Kreig: "The state can realize itself only through destruction of other states which logically can only be brought about by violence."

Today in Europe American soldiers are staking their lives against this doctrine and are shedding their blood to make the world a decent place in which to live.

Your government is calling on you today to help equip these soldiers who are fighting for your little girl.

Every penny you invest in the Third Liberty Loan will be paid back to you with interest.

How you respond to this call will show how you protect your children.

Geo. Dalton arrived in the city Monday from Grygla, to attend to business affairs.

Mrs. Olaf Johnson, of Boy River, arrived Thursday to visit her friend, Mrs. L. B. Lorimor.

Baker Olson of Grygla, arrived here the latter part of last week for a brief visit on business.

Supt. W. A. Barnard spent Sunday in the cities, leaving Saturday morning and returning Monday.

O. M. Olson arrived here last Saturday and remained for several days, attending to business matters.

Miss Josephine Hanson of Bronson, arrived Friday to spend a few days with her friend, Mrs. E. L. Oftedahl.

Harry Noel, of Aberdeen, S. D., arrived in this city Thursday to visit his brother, C. E. Noel for a few days.

Norman Dybvig went to Warren Friday to play the traps at a dance held there. He returned Saturday evening.

For rent—By May 1st, the residence formerly owned by B. E. Bothun, LaBree Ave, 13th St. N. B. J. Hoium.—a11-p.

Mr. Shafer, who visited here over Easter with his daughter, Mrs. Sapero, left Saturday evening for his home in Minneapolis.

Chas. Nason, manager of the Winton-Nichols Lumber company, returned last Friday from Minneapolis after a brief business trip.

Miss Ellen Ecklund, of this city, returned yesterday morning from a few days' visit at the home of her sister in Crookston and with friends.

The W. C. T. U. will be entertained at the home of Mrs. T. P. Anderson next Tuesday afternoon at her home, 111 Kendall Ave. So.

Miss Valborg Sandum went to Roseau Saturday to resume teaching, having visited here a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Sandum.

John Bratrud, of the Bratrud Land company, left last Sunday night for Minneapolis on business. Mr. Bratrud will drive back in a few days in his new Dodge roadster.

Morton Johnson arrived here Thursday from his home at Cass Lake, intending to drive his car back, but on account of the rain was compelled to return by train on Monday.

Miss Josephine Philipson, of this city, returned Tuesday morning from the Wig home, seven miles from Thief River Falls, where she has been in charge of a patient for the past week.

Miss Irene Lee, of Minneapolis, was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. Christ Storholm and her sister, Miss Alice Lee Tuesday evening, on her way to Gonvick for a brief visit with her parents.

Mrs. Clarence Docken, of Holt, visited in this city Monday evening enroute to her home from Viking where she was a guest of Miss Edna Flozdal who is one of the teachers in the Viking school.

Miss Alma Bergstrom, one of the employes in the Purity Sweet shop, left last Tuesday morning for Roseau to visit at her home for a few days. Miss Bergstrom will also visit in Grand Forks, N. D., for a few weeks before returning to this city.

A farewell party was given in honor of Mrs. Carl Angell at her home, 122 Kendall Ave. So., on Wednesday afternoon of last week, by about thirty of her lady friends. Mrs. Angell was presented with a beautiful set of silverware. Mr. and Mrs. Angell and family left the first of the week for their farm east of this city where they will reside.

In honor of Arthur Liden, before his departure on Tuesday morning with the enlisted boys, there was an informal gathering of friends and relatives at his home, 424 Davis Ave. Monday afternoon. He was presented with a radio wrist watch. Arthur will receive instructions as mechanic in the aviation corps in the University at Pittsburg, Penn.

George A. McDonald, for years representative of the Marshall-Wells Hardware company of Duluth, in this city, left Wednesday afternoon for Ishpeming, Mich., where he will hereafter be located as the representative of his company. Mr. McDonald has always been one of the most popular of the traveling men making this city his headquarters and the trade along the line, will miss his genial presence.

Drs. F. H. Gambell and H. W. Froehlich, left last Sunday evening for Minneapolis to attend the demonstration and lectures during Minneapolis' clinical week, conducted by the clinical section of the Hennepin County Medical society. More than 400 physicians, surgeons and specialists in various branches of the profession from Minnesota, western Wisconsin, northern Iowa and North and South Dakota, also are in attendance. The work will end tomorrow evening.

Max Goldsmith, clerk at the Lazarus Gill Clothing store since it opened for business in this city about a year and a half ago, left Saturday for Minneapolis to visit with relatives for a day or two before joining the other Pennington county boys who are going to Pittsburg university to study aviation mechanics. Max is a fine young fellow and has a host of friends in the city who will hope to see him return when the war is over and he has contributed his share toward licking the kaiser.

To prove that Prof. M. A. Schmitt of the Manual Training Department of the local high school and his pupils have done their bit to assist in comforting our soldier boys is to count all of the wooden knitting needles that were distributed among pupils. Every one of these needles were sawed out, scraped and sandpapered down to the required size, and this work was very skillfully done. Besides this the High School students, under the keen direction of Mr. Schmitt, made eight skein tables for the Army Y. M. C. A., some of which will be on display in the windows of the Spink Hardware store and Daniel Shaw's Real Estate office.

Miss Anna Froiland returned to her school at Plummer, having spent her Easter vacation here.

Miss Irene Ferdinandson lef Friday for Spencer, Iowa, to visit for some time with her sister, Mrs. Frank Borchard.

Erick Fellman left Thursday for San Francisco, California, to visit his brother and to look around in view of moving his family there.

Alfred Olson, brother of O. N. Olson of this city, arrived last Friday from Dakota for the purpose of visiting his father, who is reported as being in very poor health.

Mrs. Earl Doland and sons, who have been visiting here with Mrs. Doland's mother, Mrs. Oscar Williams, returned to their home at Grand Forks, N. D., last Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Connell and children arrived Thursday from Luverne, to make their home here. Mr. Connell has assumed the duties of cashier of the Winton-Nichols Lumber Co.

Mrs. Samuel Rogers, of Steiner, returned to her home Monday after a several weeks' visit in this city with her daughter, Miss Mabel Rogers, who is a member of the sophomore class of the local high school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Kenyon left Friday for Baudette to make their home. They had been visiting here with Mrs. Kenyon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Furstnau. Mr. Kenyon is to take charge of a steam dredge near Baudette.

Guy Lane and Lloyd Ralston left Sunday for Minneapolis where they will take their examinations and proceed to Great Lakes, Ill., to enter the navy. They both have been awaiting their call, and are glad their numbers have come up for inspection.

Henry Halverson, former owner of the furniture store now owned by Carl Larson, passed through this city Tuesday afternoon of this week on his way to his home at Fergus Falls. Mr. and Mrs. Halverson recently returned from the West where they spent the winter months.

You Can Save Money Thru Our New Plan Of Selling Groceries

The elimination of the cost of maintaining a delivery rig makes it possible for this store to offer you a considerable saving in your grocery purchases. The consumer paid the cost of this service in one way or another and may still have it by paying a small fee for the privilege of having the goods delivered. Most people, however, prefer to make the saving in these times.

You will be surprised at the difference in the cost of what you buy now when compared with the price two weeks ago. The plan is better for the purchaser, better for the grocer and better for everybody.

Have Us fill your market basket and Save Money.

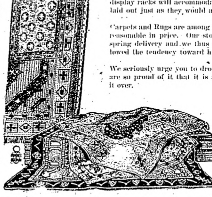
Furniture of Beauty and Distinction

Our new spring line is now on display and we are positive that never in the history of Thief River Falls has such a wonderful assortment of high-class furniture been placed on exhibition. Provision is made for furnishing every room in the house with just the appropriate things and at prices that will prove a most agreeable surprise. Whether for parlor, dining room, kitchen or bed room, you will find just what you are seeking at exactly the price you wish to pay.



Our Beautiful Rug Display

We have received more beautiful, high-grade rugs than our display racks will accommodate and the surplus will be seen laid out just as they would appear on your floor.

Carpets and Rugs are among the few things that still remain reasonable in price. Our stock was purchased last fall for spring delivery and we thus escaped the raise that has followed the tendency toward higher prices in everything else.

We seriously urge you to drop in and inspect this line. We are so proud of it that it is a pleasure to have people look it over.

THESE PEOPLE ARE HARD TO CONVINCE

During all the years we have been in business in Thief River Falls we have made it a rule to adhere strictly to the truth in our advertising. It has been our aim to build up our business on the strict CONFIDENCE of our patrons in our store. In spite of this fact, which is generally recognized and conceded, we have of late come across people who cannot understand how we can possibly live up to the agreements made in our Spring and Summer Catalogue. They forget that on the first page of that catalogue appear these words: "YOU MUST BE SATISFIED WITH EVERY ARTICLE YOU PURCHASE AT THIS STORE OR YOUR MONEY WILL BE CHEERLY REFUNDED." Right opposite this page is the signed testimonials of two local bankers testifying to our reliability. This ought to be sufficient to establish confidence in us.

But so astoundingly low are the prices quoted in this Catalogue that people are skeptical. They say, for instance: "Your Coat's thread can't be as good as others, or else there is less on spools," just as if the manufacturers would make up a spool especially for this concern.

We have gone to considerable trouble and expense to explain that because of our connection with a large number of other merchants who all purchase the same goods at the same time, it is possible for us to secure these standard goods at a decided reduction, when compared with the party who purchases only enough for one small store. That is exactly the case, and our thousands of satisfied customers have found it so.

The orders for the goods in this Catalogue were placed months before the big advances in merchandise were made. We are able to SAVE OUR CUSTOMERS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS because of this fact. Advance has followed advance until now these goods cannot be bought wholesale for what we are charging retail. OUR CUSTOMERS ARE SIMPLY GETTING THE BENEFIT OF THIS, and yet we are very often looked upon as if we must be deceiving our friends in some manner when they find that they can buy things here at a price that is often 25 per cent below that of our competitors.

OUR PRICES ARE MADE POSSIBLE BY QUANTITY BUYING AND A CLOSE TOUCH WITH MARKET CONDITIONS. You are not being deceived in any way when you take advantage of the bargains we offer. Our business has been built on honor, confidence and a square deal and we could not afford to jeopardize the good will of our customers for all the goods listed in this catalogue. The prices are remarkable, this we will admit, but in no case have they been made low at the expense of quality. THERE IS NO GETTING AROUND OUR GUARANTEE. It means exactly what is says.

IF YOU HAVE NOT RECEIVED A COPY OF THIS MONEY-SAVING CATALOGUE, WRITE FOR IT TODAY.

NO FLOUR HAS YET BEEN TURNED BACK

BUT REPORTED VIOLATIONS OF HOARDING ORDER WILL BE LOOKED INTO.

Wheatless meals and days are now optional in private homes but will be rigidly enforced soon in all public eating places, the food admisintration announced last week. Private homes have been requested as a military measure to reduce wheat consumption to one and a half pounds per person per week.

The full light of publicity will be turned upon establishments violating this urgent request of the food administration. Federal food administrators in all states were given telegraphic orders to enforce the program by rigid inspection and investigation. Where violations are reported the administrators are instructed to hold hearings which must be open to the public and to the press.

Virtually this means that no violator, no matter what the extenuating circumstances, will be shielded by having his name withheld from the newspapers. Where violations are proved the administrators are urged to follow immediately with punitive measures, the nature of which will be determined in consultation with authorities in Washington.

Will Investigate Rumors.

There have been several rumors of violations here in Thief River Falls and immediate vicinity of various phases of the food regulations and efforts are being made to apprehend all violators. So far no one has returned any flour to retailers, according to those who have been interviewed. It is stated on good authority that not only have persons in this city more wheat flour than allowed, but that farmers in some instances are also guilty. It behooves them to make the return at once. If this is done their names will be kept quiet, but those who are forced to make the returns are bound to receive some rather unenviable notoriety.

POSTPONE MAKING THAT WAR GARDEN

GOVERNMENT WARNS AGAINST STARTING SEEDING BEFORE WEATHER SETTLES.

In common with the rest of the American people, residents of Thief River Falls are going into gardening heavily this spring. So great is the enthusiasm shown that the government has found it advisable to send out a warning against starting the seeding too early. There is still ample time for this and no one should permit their eagerness to get the better of their judgment. So important is the matter considered that Congressman Steenerson has sent telegrams to the newspapers in his district calling attention to the danger, one of which has been received by The Times. It reads as follows:

"Am receiving letters from amateur gardeners stating that within past few days they have planted their gardens. Immediately taking matter up with secretary of agriculture. I am advised this will result in the loss of seeds and disappointment. Work of war gardens in Minnesota and northern states should be postponed until weather settles. Have requested department to give wide publicity advising when to begin work."

PROSPEROUS CHURCH YEAR IS REPORTED

PRESBYTERIANS ARE HIGHLY PLEASED OVER EXCELLENT SHOWING MADE.

The annual meeting of the Presbyterian church was held on last Thursday evening. The congregation gathered in the dining room at 6:30 p. m. to a picnic supper served a la cafeteria. After supper reports were heard from all departments of church work. The membership increased during the year 25 3-5 per cent. The Woman's volences were increased over a year ago by 236 per cent. The Woman's Missionary society was the banner organization in Adams Presbytery. The Sunday school gave more to benevolent causes than ever and closed the year with a handsome balance in the treasury. The Juniors had contributed largely and are in a flourishing condition, doing splendid work for the younger members of the church organization. The Ladies Aid society carried on a good deal of local benevolent work, besides adding substantially to the income of the church. The Young Peoples' society recently reorganized, is gathering a fine attendance. The people of the church were greatly pleased that no extra call for money for church support will be needed this year. Geo. L. Sterns and Albert Johnson were elected elders, and F. F. Haynes, O. L. Cronstrom, H. O. Loken, E. G. Mogensen, H. W. Kingborn, C. T. Christensen and H. G. Phillips were elected trustees.

Letters from the BOYS

Lloyd Zeh, son of Phillip J. Zeh of this city, who has been at Kelly aviation field, San Antonio, Tex., since his enlistment last fall, seems to be a pretty busy chap, as will be seen from the following, received this week by his father:

"Just a few lines to you this p. m. before going to my little tent. Well, folks, here I am at the far ends of the earth—practically in No Man's Land, the land of the wild people. Arrived here yesterday and have been busy ever since. We are seeing some of the sigts of our lives.

"This is a wonderful country. Cotton fields everywhere and everything as green as if it were painted. The climate here is going to be awful hard to get used to. The days are just scorching and the nights awful cold. They are swell for sleeping purposes, however. I am in Line 146, Tent 8. We are eight men to a tent and all my companions happen to be friends of mine from my old company. There are 36 tents to a line, 18 on a side—a regular street. There are over 500,000 men here in camp, all belonging to the aviation department. There are about 200 planes and machines, autos and trucks galore. The flyers are up in the air the first thing in the morning and the last thing at night—so many hours for each man to finish his course. They are as thick as flies and we are getting so used to them that we do not even look up when they are flying over our heads. The sights that you and I used to pay a dollar to see at home do not have any effect on us here. Just now there are at least 35 of them in the air and there is so much noise that you cannot hear yourself think. You have to watch out for them, too, as they light all over the camp at almost any old time. There are lots of daring flyers here and occasionally one of them gets killed.

"I have a chance to go up in one next Tuesday. Was down to the 'Tarede Testing' offices this forenoon and took my final exams. I passed 'A' in truck driving and got right into a truck and drove it around. It was a big Wilcox. I also passed in stockkeeping and as a stenographer, typist and chaffeur. That took all forenoon. They certainly weed the fellow out here and find out what you are good for.

"This camp is about 35 miles in area and tent till your eyes are sore from looking at them.

"Give The Times and everybody my new address and tell them all to write to me. I understand we are only going to stay here for two weeks because the climate is too warm. I do not like the alkali water we have to drink, but I am well and O. K. in every respect.

"Will have to close as it is getting dark and we have no electric lights in this camp. Give my regards to all the folks up home, and don't forget about writing."

SCHOOL NOTES

The board of education has taken time by the forelock and made wise provision for next winter's fuel supply. Generous piles of wood are stacked up in every school yard.

It makes little difference whether it is designated as coryza, near-pneumonia or by any other title, the fact remains that the prevailing throat and lung trouble is seriousy interfering with the comfort and health of both pupils and teachers.

In accordance with government instructions, a savings society exists in every school room in the city. The organizations emphasize the value and importance of the saving habit, not alone in money matters, but in all activities of American life. Twice each week, teachers and pupils discuss features of the war and facts closely related to citizenship duties.

The committee on teachers is filling the vacancies as rapidly as possible. Despite the scarcity of teachers many appplications are daily arriving at the school office.

The total number of children enrolled in the schools of this city during the current year is 1465. The enrollment last September was 1338; October, 1380; November, 1379; and March, 1345. A slight dropping off in attendance this spring is noticed, but the early season, with its accompanying farm work and the fact that a few families moved to sawmill towns account for this decrease.

The senior class play will not disappoint those who attend its presentation at the Auditorium, Friday evening. To anticipate any possible comment for presenting a class play during the war, it might be stated that the proceeds are used to defray some of the graduation and play expenses of the students, to donate funds to patriotic purposes or to purchase a class memorial, and to pay the commencement speaker's fee and expenses.

Some forty small children are enrolled in the primary class organized this week in the normal room. The rush for enrollment threatened to engulf the teachers—like the German soldiers, they were arriving in waves during the middle of the week. The limit, of course, is reached at forty and no more can be cared for.

The Junior Red Cross work goes merrily on and various completed articles are arriving at headquarters. Some special classes have been organized for work at the Red Cross rooms.

Pioneer Woman Passed Away.

Randi Dahl, a well known and highly respected lady, one of the early settlers of town of New Solum, Marshall county, died on March 14, after a lingering illness of rheumatism for about 20 years.

Deceased was born in Rindalen, Norway, May 13, 1841; was married to John O. Dahl in the year 1868, immigrated to America in 1884 and settled on a homestead in New Solum, Marshall county where they have made their home ever since.

She is survived by the aged husband and two children, O. J. Dahl, who reside on the old homestead and a daughter, Sina, who is married to S. K. Dahle and resides at Thief River Falls.

The funeral was held on Monday, March 18 from the home and was conducted by Rev. George Larson of Thief River Falls. The remains were brought to Rindals church where the regular funeral service was held and the body laid to rest in the Rindal cemetery.

Farmers Club Meeting.

There will be a regular meeting of the Rocksbury Farmers club held at Walhalla school house on Saturday evening, April 13. The entertainment feature of the program will be greatly helped out by several selections rendered by the Thief River Falls high school orchestra. Prof. J. H. Hay and F. G. Wells, agricultrual instructor, will speak. The older people of the neighborhood are especially invited to attend this meeting.

RED CROSS NOTES

After keeping the sewing room open every afternoon and evening for a couple of months the hospital committee has decided to continue keeping it open afternoons, but only three evenings a week, Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Anyone wanting to get sewing material any other evening can do so by calling at the surgical dressing room.

We are expected to send in a certain number of Belgian Relief garments each month. This month we asked for 10 dresses and 10 skirts, 2 year old size. Anyone who will make one please call at the residence of Mrs. Willis Akre for them. We must send them in before May 10.

The following "don'ts" have come to us and we pass them on to you:

Don't send a pair of socks which measure less than 13 inches or more than 14 inches from top of leg to tip of heel, 4½ inches of which should be ribbing.

Don't accept a pair of socks which measure less than 10½ inches nor more than 12 inches from tip of toe to tip of heel.

Don't accept a pair of socks narrower than 3½ inches nor wider than 4½ inches in either foot or leg when measured double.

Don't knot yarn in knitting; all yarn should be spliced when it is necessary to break the yarn. Knots cause great discomfort to our soldiers.

Don't make socks with double heels. When they are washed they shrink and are so rough and hard they cause blisters.

Will our workers please make an effort to make surgical dressings? Don't give our soldiers a chance to say that we did not send enough dressings to take care of wounded boys.

When "He" Comes Home

THERE will come a day when the news that the war is over will thrill the world. Then our brave men will come home to their little ones. No matter how we hope, no one today knows whether they will come home in victory or defeat.

If they come home in defeat, you and your children must then live under the iron heel of the Hohenzollern.

If they come in victory, where will you stand on that day—the proudest day in the long calendar of American achievement.

On that day all Americans will be divided into two classes. The first class will include those who have given their sons or lent ther dollars freely and unselfishly to their country.

The other will include those who did not sacrifice their sons or their dollars or give their best efforts.

Where will you stand on the day of victory?

You can choose now—you cannot choose then.

ARE PROTECTED BY PRICE FIXING

PEOPLE DO NOT FULLY REALIZE SERVICE OF VOLUNTEER COMMITTEE.

FIGURES NOT ABSOLUTE

SIMPLY PUBLISHED FOR PURPOSE OF ESTABLISHING FAIR MARGIN.

There is no question but that a large number of people have the wrong idea of the function of the price fixing committees in the different counties of the state. These committees do not "fix" prices on anything. They simply publish what is considered a fair price for a certain commodity at that particular time. For this reason F. H. Herrick, chairman for Pennington county, asks that a letter from A. D. Wilson, state food administrator be given publicity. The communication explains a great many things of which people ordinarily do not seem aware. The letter follows:

For Price "Listing."

The Fair Food Price committees established by the State Food Administration in various Minnesota cities, have to deal daily with the publication in the newspapers of a list of what they deem fair prices on various commodities that enter into the daily purchases of the citizens of the communities which they represent. Undoubtedly, because price-listing and price-fixing are so closely associated in the regular trade channels, there has arisen a great deal of misunderstanding as to the functions and the powers of the Fair Food Price committees of the state. The gratuitous service which the members of the committees have given to the food cause in thus aiding consumer and retailer alike to secure food commodities at fair prices has brought to them much unjust criticism almost entirely from those people to whom their efforts have been most beneficial.

The Food Administration deems it advisable, therefore, to make known some of the fundamental purposes of these committees, together with their principal powers and functions.

Cannot Establish Price.

It might be well to state first that the Fair Food Price committees have no power whatever to fix prices on any commodity, nor to compel a wholesaler or retailer to dispose of any commodity at a price the committee may decide upon.

Through the government's licensing of wholesale dealers in food products and monthly sworn statements of business transactions required from these licensed wholesalers, it is possible for the committee to know at what price their stocks should be delivered to retailers. This forms the basis of the price list and the prices thus obtained are shown in the first column of each list under the heading "What The Retailer Should Pay."

Add Fair Margin.

To these prices they add what they consider a fair margin for handling each commodity, taking into consideration the variable possible loss according to the nature of the commodity, and this establishes the price which they consider fair to consumer and retailer that appears in the second column under "What The Consumer Should Pay."

Further than this the duty of the committee is to secure for the list the best possible circulation through publication in the newspapers of the city. Here its duties end.

It is obvious therefore, that the committee can not prevent the retailer from selling either above or below the list price, but can simply ascertain and tell the consumer what the fair price is and it remains for the consumer to use his judgment in patronizing those whose prices are fair as shown by the list.

May Quote Prices.

Retailers may in individual cases for advertising purposes quote prices on particular commodities that are below the fair price list, or their price may exceed the fair price list on particular commodities where they perform some special service not taken into consideration in making up the list, in which the price is based on the handling of products in the ordinary way.

Protects the Public.

The purpose of the committee, therefore, resolves itself into protecting the public against profiteering on food essentials through publicity, and the success in every community will be measured only by the extent to which the consumers of that community avail themselves of the information given out, and the cooperation they give the work by using that information properly.

Is Accomplishing Purpose.

It quite frequently occurs that we accept the favors that come to us with a lack of appreciation. Such, in many instances, may be the case as concerns the Fair Food Price Committees. There is every evidence that they have almost universally accomplished their purpose and there are many indications that were it not for the service they perform price conditions would be much more serious than they are.

THEY ARE LISTENING OVER THERE

RING THE LIBERTY BELL RING IT NOW RING IT LOUD

Buy
3RD Liberty Loan Bonds

The boys in the trenches are listening today to learn how the folks at home subscribe the Third Liberty Loan. They are listening for the sound of the new Liberty Bell.

Each boy over there is wondering if his folks will be the first to buy Liberty Bonds.

He is looking across No Man's Land, facing death, that American homes may be safe from German brutality. He is enduring hardship and danger willingly that American Liberty and Justice may endure.

In front of him is the powerful, domineering German nation, mobilized to the last man — to the last ounce of strength—all experts in the fighting game.

Back of him, 3,000 miles away, are we, the folks at home — free, independent, perhaps critical.

"Over there" the boys have faith that we here at home will do our part—and our part right now is to buy Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan.

Have you answered the call? Have you rung the Liberty Bell as your forefather did in 1776, or are you saying: "Others can afford to do it better than I. I will let them fight my battles for me."

The boys are listening.

$252.11 Profit from Hens.

These were the actual receipts from 250 pullets during the months of December, January and February, over and above cost of feed which amounted to $179.48, according to the statement of H. C. Hansen, banker and creamery owner at Barnum, Minnesota, and no one questions the statement.

The eggs were not sold at fancy prices, altho they did bring more than the average farm eggs marketed in the usual way, but they were marketed just as all the eggs are at Barnum, thru the creamery, packed in cartons containing one dozen each and put upon the market in first class condition, as all such food products should be.

Mr. Hansen's was only one of several poultry plants visited at Barnum, and in nearly every case the receipts were similar to those above reported, and while feed prices are very high, everyone was optimistic as to the future of the poultry industry when operated along good business lines. There are no secrets about it. The pullet must be hatched early enough to develop laying before cold weather sets in and then she must receive a liberal amount of the right kinds of feed in comfortable quarters. Barnum is up near Duluth, therefore is not in a warm climate. The 250 pullets were all kept in one pen of suitable size, but it should be easier to get as good results in smaller flocks, and at less cost where the kitchen and table wastes constitute the whole ration. Some grain must be fed.

How Many Hens Shall I Keep?

That is the question frequently asked by those who wish to establish a Back Yard Flock. The answer must depend to a great extent upon the size of the family or the conveniences for keeping fowls.

In no case should these back lot flocks be large; not more than from eight to fifteen hens unless the opportunity is unusual. Where room permits and waste can be secured from the neighbors, a flock up to twenty or more fowls can be profitably managed; but in no case should the hens be required to live from the garbage alone.

It will put them out of condition and they will not do so well. They should also be given charcoal and grit at all times. The runs may be small, ten or twelve square feet to each hen, but they should be spaded up frequently after scraping the refuse from the top to scatter upon the garden. The lawn clippings will be appreciated by the hens, and made by them into good food.

Little chicks may be allowed to run in the garden for some weeks, with benefit to both chicks and garden, but they should be shut up before the vegetables are far developed. The chicks will pick up worms and bugs that would do a great deal of damage.

Most of all, do not allow your chicks to bother your neighbor, for even tho the damage may be imaginary, you must respect your neighbor's rights.

The day-old chick will be procurable either in large or small numbers, and may be raised with the fireless brooder at practically no expense for equipment. Do not buy an incubator and brooder for the back lot flock.

In some localities chicks six to eight weeks old can be obtained, and at this age the cockerels can be distinguished from the pullets. This is the desirable age to get the chicks when possible.

ST. HILAIRE

Death of John Anderson.

Word was received in this village the former part of last week that John Anderson, age 18, of Hoople, N. D., died in one of the hospitals at Philadelphia, Pa., death being due to pneumonia. This young man spent his boyhood days in this village. About ten years ago his parents moved to Crookston where they resided but a short time and from there moved to the above mentioned place. A year ago, John enlisted in the navy, taking training at the naval stations in New Port, R. I., Philadelphia, Pa., and New York. While in naval service as a member of the crew aboard the U. S. ship Von Steuben, he made three trips to France and also to the following places: Cuba, Burmuda and Panama and was near Halifax at the time of the great explosion at that place. On the 15th of March, he returned to the United States and this proved to be his last trip "over there" as he was taken ill shortly afterwards and died Monday, April 1. His remains were shipped to Hoople, N. D., Thursday, where funeral services were conducted. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. J. Anderson, a sister, Anna, and a brother, Lars to mourn his death. Heartfelt sympathies are extended to the bereaved mother and children in their hour of trial and sorrow. John did his "bit" for his country as he gave all he had for the most noble cause in which a man could engage.

One of the finest patriotic parties ever given, was given at the Methodist Episcopal church last Thursday evening by the members of that church, the I. O. O. F. and Rebekah lodges, in honor of Myles Jackson, Oscar Brevik and Sigrud Engh who left on Monday for military services. The following program was rendered: Speeches by C. A. Pitkin of Thief River Falls, Mayor J. Hed, Dr. C. Swanson, R. McKercher and Supt. W. R. Wicks, a duet by Mrs. T. Thompson and Arthur Hendrickson, solo by Miss Verna Thompson, readings by Miss Cleo Amble and Miss Callie Merritt, and a lengthy letter written by Iver Lind of Camp Pike, Ark., telling of military life, was read by Miss Elizabeth Johnson. After the program a luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike McAndrews entertained last Friday evening, a large number of friends at their home, north of town in honor of Mrs. Moses of Mankato, who has been visiting for the past week with her brother, N. E. Beebe. The evening was spent in dancing and card playing after which a delicious luncheon was served by the host and hostess. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Garth Roth and son, Berl, Mr. and Mrs. H. Roth, Mr. and Mrs. H. Wilson and daughter, Miss Louisa, Mr. and Mrs D. McAllister and daughter, Miss Muriel, Mr. and Mrs. C. Patterson, Mrs. D. Whalen, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fellman and daughter, Miss Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Beebe, Mr. and Mrs. J. Balaska and the honored guest, Mrs. Moses.

A short patriotic program and party was given at the school house, Friday afternoon by the high school and eighth grades in honor of Sigrud Eng, who enlisted at Thief River Falls last Thursday: "America, My Country" and "America, the Beautiful" were sung by the school. Short speeches were given by Tessie King, Esther Hovet, Elizabeth Johnson, Effie Fredrickson, Lula Allen, Alta Olson, Huldah Gigstad, W. R. Wicks and M. Fricker, after which a luncheon was served. Sigrud was then presented a signet ring as a kind remembrance of his school mates and friends.

ROUTE NUMBER TWO

On Friday morning, April 5, the entire community was grieved when news spread that George Nustvold was dead. He suddenly became very ill on Sunday, March 25, the doctor being called at once and a few days later the patient was taken to the hospital at Thief River Falls. George Nustvold was born in the year 1877, being 41 years of age at the time of his death. In the year 1898 he was united in marriage to Georgine Klungnes. They had since that time made their home in Adger township. Besides a large number of friends and relatives, he leaves to mourn his departure, his wife, mother, sister, Mrs. Benard Olsen, of Minneapolis, a brother, Alf, at Fairbault and six children, Arthur, Oscar, Clifford, Roy, Ethel and Ruth. Funeral services were held from the Nustvold home on Monday at 2 o'clock, Rev. Geo. Larson officiating, and interment was made at the Silver Creek cemetery. The entire community wishes to extend their sincere sympathy to the grief-stricken family in the loss of a very kind and loving husband, father, son and brother, who has passed away into eternal rest.

Alfred Klungnes left for Shaunovan, Saskatcheewan, Canada, Wednesday morning.

One Hundred and Forty-Two Years of Labor and Struggle

The American people fought their first battles for liberty and the rights of self-government one hundred and forty-two years ago.

At that time, and for many years thereafter, their realization of their national aspirations and of the goal toward which they were really striving was vague and indistinct. But step by step they struggled onward and upward toward a light which grew clearer as their eyes and minds slowly opened to its significance. Today, as a result of their struggles and sacrifices, we possess and enjoy our priceless American institutions.

These institutions must be preserved. The structure so laboriously reared in these one hundred and forty-two years will be utterly destroyed if we do not spring to its defense with every atom of our energy and determination. This is not a situation which may be trifled with, or evaded, or put off. It is one which must be met now—today—no matter what sacrifices it may entail, or what the cost may be.

The immediate need is the investment of our money in LIBERTY BONDS!

DE LAVAL CREAM SEPARATOR

With a single tool—the combination wrench and screw driver shown in the illustration below, and a part of the De Laval equipment—you can take apart a NEW De Laval and set it up again in a few minutes.

Could anything be easier or simpler?

There are no complicated parts—no chain drives, no cog wheel puzzles, no ball bearings to get flattened or broken. Every adjustment can be made quickly by the man on the farm with no special understanding about machinery.

Such simple construction makes the NEW De Laval the easiest separator to clean.

We will sell you a NEW De Laval on terms that can't help suiting you. Come in and examine the machine; let us show you what it will do.

The only tool required with a NEW De Laval.

LIBERTY LOAN OVERSUBSCRIBED ON FIRST DAY OF CAMPAIGN

PROVED HE WAS NO PRO-GERMAN

BUT ARNE E. SANDNESS MADE REMARKS WHICH GOT HIM INTO TROUBLE.

FORCED TO KISS THE FLAG

LATER EVENTS SHOW THAT RAILROAD BOYS WERE A LITTLE HASTY.

Arne E. Sandness is not a pro-German, although the switchmen at work in the Soo yards in this city might well be excused for thinking he was. What happened to Sandness should stand as a lesson to those who permit their temper to get the better of their judgment and say things that have a tendency to throw suspicion on their loyalty at this time. Sandness has proven that he is all right at heart, but he went through an experience that very few will court—if they know what is coming. The incident should also serve as a notice to the railroad boys that it is not always safe to exercise snap judgment in these matters.

Would Take No Bond.

The Liberty Bond campaign was on in the Soo offices, roundhouse and yards as early as last Thursday and pledges were being signed up with a whoop. Practically every department was running 100 per cent perfect, when Sandness, who is a section man, was reached. He claims that the solicitors came at him rough-shod and were going to force him to take a bond whether he wanted it or not. This made him angry and he refused point blank, making at the same time, according to the story, remarks concerning the bond issue and the war in general that should come from no good American citizen at this time. A number of switchmen working in the yard heard of this and proceeded to deal with the case at once. Procuring a rope they laid hold of Sandness and marched him to one of the offices in the mechanical division where an American flag was found. With the rope about his neck he was forced to kneel and kiss the emblem, after which he was allowed to go with a warning never to return.

Came Back For Pay.

That the man was very much frightened is certain. He started northward along the tracks, but circled back to town later in the day. He kept away from the Soo yards, however, but appealed to Agent H. A. Pratt for his pay. This could not at once be forthcoming and he was told to return on Monday. When he showed up Mr. Pratt questioned him closely as to his attitude on the war as he did not seem like a man lacking neither in intelligence nor deficient in other respects. The following facts were then brought to light:

Purchased Former Bonds.

Sandness was an employe of the railroad at the time of the Second Liberty Loan and purchased a bond for a hundred dollars through the Citizens' State bank of this city. This Mr. Pratt at once verified by calling up Cashier T. L. Melgaard of that institution. Sandness also stated that when the Y. M. C. A. drive was on he was in Minneapolis and contributed to that cause, and that he had given a little money to help the Salvation army war fund. According to his own story he had intended subscribing for a bond in the present loan but that the boys came at him as if they considered him a pro-German and it made him mad. Mr. Pratt concluded that the case was not one for further investigation and permitted the man to go with the advice that he be more careful of his remarks in the future.

Was Given Same Chance.

Some of the men who were present at the time Sandness was visited say that he deserved all he got. One of the things he is alleged to have said is that none but millionaires profited from Liberty Bonds anyway and that he would not take one. His attitude, according to these men, was anything but that of a patriot, but that if he is all right they are sorry they molested him.

DOES NOT CARE IF GERMANY WINS WAR

JOSEPH SCHMOSTER FAILS TO FULLY REALIZE THE DANGER IN HIS REMARK.

The Liberty Loan solicitors ran against a few instances where it was necessary to call into play the persuasive powers of the general committee in making the party approached see the necessity for his participation. One such case was that of Joseph Schmoster, a sort of recluse who has for years lived at 203 Atlantic avenue north. When the First ward committee called on him and presented their case he told them that he was not interested in the war and did not care particularly who won it. He is a German and said that he would be just as well pleased to have Germany prove the victor. He was warned that this kind of talk was very unpopular in the United States at this time but did not seem to realize that his attitude was anything out of the ordinary.

The solicitors reported and the "pressure crew" was put on his trail. He again repeated his absolute indifference as to the outcome of the war and seemed to have but a hazzy knowledge of the affairs of the world at the present time. The matter was reported to the State Safety commission which body left it in the hands of County Attorney E. M. Stanton. An investigation was made and it was found that Schmoster had long been considered "queer." He seldom mixes with other persons and has lived alone in the same place for years. He owns the property where he resides and is said to have all the characteristics of a miser. This is borne out by C. A. Nason of the Winton-Nichols Lumber Co., for whom Schmoster worked while the mills were running. His employers always had trouble in getting him to cash and return his checks as he would keep these saved up for a whole year. It was also discovered that he had served a term in the insane asylum. All things considered it was thought best to drop the matter as no good purpose would be served by causing the man trouble. He is apparently harmless and inclined to leave everyone severely alone.

J. H. M'KINNEY NOT EXPECTED TO LIVE

WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN REPORTED VERY LOW AT MINNEAPOLIS HOSPITAL.

John H. McKinney, treasurer of the Thief River Grocery company, who recently underwent an operation for an abscess of the liver, at a Minneapolis hospital, is reported as very low and no hope is held out for his recovery. Friends here received word on Monday evening stating that Mr. McKinney was not expected to live through the night, but he rallied and is putting up a fight that is astonishing his physicians.

The patient is displaying remarkable vitality for a person in his condition. This was the report received yesterday morning, which also contained the information that he was very desirous of being brought back to Thief River Falls. Mrs. McKinney, who has been with him since his condition became serious, states that blood transfusion would be attempted yesterday, a brother offering himself for the purpose in the hope it would provide the patient with the strength necessary to make his removal from the hospital possible.

Mr. McKinney is one of the best-known business men in the northwest and a prominent citizen of Thief River Falls. His brave fight is being watched with the deepest concern here and the hope on every hand expressed that he may be able to win out in what now looks like a hopeless battle.

Wanted For Forgery.

A man going under the name of Sam Johnson is wanted by one of our merchants for passing forged checks. The man purchased small bills of goods at a store here and gave as payment a check on the First National bank of Langsford, N. D. The check was turned into one of the local banks by the merchant in the regular order of business and sent through. A couple of days later word was received from the Langsford bank that the signature had been forged and that no such check had ever been issued by Sam Johnson of that city.

DRAFT CALL MADE FOR EARLY IN MAY

SEVEN STATES ASKED TO FURNISH 49,843 MEN AT THAT TIME.

That the training camps throughout the country are being cleared of the first contingents sent there is indicated by the rapidity with which calls for additional men are being received. In compliance with the order issued some time ago a large number will begin entraining on April 26, and on Monday another order was issued by Provost Marshall General Crowder calling for a total of 49,843 additional to be sent from the seven states of Idaho, Iowa, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota, during the period from May 1 to 10. Minnesota's allotment is 1,925 men, which means that Pennington county will supply seven in case the usual procedure is followed.

While no information has been given out as to where these men will be sent the general impression seems to be that they are expected to go to Columbus Barracks, Ohio.

NO CHANCE FOR MORE BRIDGES

JOKER IN STATE LAW WORKS AGAINST PEOPLE OF EAST PENNINGTON.

BOND FOR ONE AT A TIME

CLAUSE PRECLUDES ANY FURTHER WORK ALONG THIS LINE AT PRESENT.

The people residing in Kratka township want a bridge across the Red Lake river in their neighborhood similar to the one erected last year in the township of Highlanding, and the people of Smiley township make a similar request for their district. The board of county commissioners is willing that they should be provided with these conveniences in the same manner as the Highlanding bridge was provided, but find that the law seemingly makes this impossible.

One at a Time Only.

The statutes provide that counties may issue bonds to the amount of one-half of one per cent of their total taxable valuation for the purpose of building bridges, but that where one bridge has been constructed under this provision no more may be started until the bonds issued in payment for the first one have been retired. The Highlanding bridge was constructed last year at a cost of about $15,000 and the commissioners voted to issue bonds in this amount. These will naturally run for a number of years yet and in the meantime the plan cannot be employed for other bridges, no matter how badly these may be needed.

No Money in Fund.

The county commissioners find that they have no money in the regular road and bridge fund that may be deverted to this purpose and the whole matter is therefore at a standstill. This is to be regretted as the people in the eastern portion of the county as well as those residing in Smiley township are entitled to the improvements. This fact is recognized by the business men of the city, the Commercial club sending a committee to be present at the board meeting for the purpose of urging the proposition. This committee consisted of Rasmus Oen, T. L. Melgaard, Oscar Sponheim, C. L. Hansen, W. B. Fuller, E. O. Mogenson and G. Howard Smith.

Still Have $9,000.

The law permits Pennington county to issue bonds to the amount of about $25,000 for bridge purposes without having the people vote on the proposition. The Highlanding bridge only cost about $15,000 and there is therefore a leeway of $9,000 left to go on. This amount could probably be used in paying for another bridge but it would not be enough.

NEW LUMBER FIRM WILL LOCATE HERE

NORTZ CONCERN ACQUIRES SITE AND WILL SOON OPEN FOR BUSINESS.

F. B. Schwalen, auditor for the Nortz Lumber company, the principal offices of which are in Minneapolis, has been in the city during the past ten days for the purpose of completing the arrangements for the opening of a lumber yard to be located here by his concern. He states that the yard will be situated on Main avenue south, near the Great Northern tracks, and that it is the intention to begin business as soon as possible.

Nortz Brothers operate a line of 14 yards in Minnesota and the two Dakotas. The one nearest to Thief River Falls at this time is at Breckenridge. H. O. Johnson, formerly manager for the St. Hilaire Lumber company at East Grand Forks, will have charge of the enterprise here.

Upset the Milk Cart.

A horse attached to the milk delivery wagon of Albert Johnson, ran away last Thursday afternoon and spilled the load all over the street between Ahlborn's tailor shop and the Prichard corner. The driver, Leo Burke, was thrown out on his head, but outside of raising a welt he was unhurt. The horse was caught on Horace avenue near Third street and was uninjured.

WAR STAMPS AS FAIR PREMIUMS

WILL BE GIVEN INSTEAD OF CASH AWARDS BY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED

LIVE STOCK WILL CONTINUE TO PLAY LEADING PART IN EXHIBIT.

No cash prizes will be paid as premiums at the Pennington county fair this year. The executive committee has hit upon a scheme that should commend itself to everyone as being the most sensible that could be evolved this year when the greater part of the peoples' energies should be directed toward winning the war. Premiums will be offered as usual—in fact their value has been increased—but instead of money the winners will receive their awards in War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps. This plan should have the effect of adding interest to the fair as everyone will not only receive premiums that are better than cash but will also be helping out the baby bond sales and consequently aiding the government in meeting the war expenses.

Will Have Carnival.

The fair management is already in correspondence with a number of concerns furnishing amusement features for fairs and it is certain that this important department will be properly loked after. It has about been decided that it will not be possible to secure an aviator for this year's show as all available flyers have enlisted in the government service. The novelty has about worn off the areoplane anyway and something entirely new will be substituted.

The matter of horse races will be given more than the usual attention. For a time the advisability of cutting this department of the fair out altogether was considered but the majority was against such action. It was instead decided to offer attractions in the way of prizes that will interest owners of the best horses on the northern circuits in the fair here.

Committees Appointed.

At a meeting of the association held last week the chairman and committee members who will have charge of the different departments of the fair were appointed. All the committees have not been filled up, but the chairmen will select their aids and report as soon as possible. following is the list:

Premiums and Publicity—George G. Johnson, John Bratrud and W. W. Prichard, Jr. Privileges and Concessions—Julian Provencher, J. B. Conner and W. J. LaBree. Live stock—Freed Beerbauer, Albert Johnson and Henry Woolson. Grounds and buildings—J. B. Conner, Emil Zeh, W. J. LaBree and Roy Lambert. Track and Races—Charles Shirley, G. A. Penney, C. R. Crandall. Agricultural products—G. L. Sterns, John Bratrud, W. H. Fredericks and C. W. McDaniels. Poultry—R. P. White, Fred Copp and A. M. Langseth. Live stock judges—Mike McAndrews and Prof. H. H. Kildee. Dairy products—Hans Anton, Ed. Aubol and John Phillips. Grains and grasses—Gilbert Haavi, P. J. Keating and S. E. Hunt. Poultry—C. E. Brown, Emil Griebstein and Olaf Larson. Educational exhibit—Prof. J. H. Hay and Rev. M. J. Noesen. Womens' department—Culinary, Mrs. Daniel Shaw; fancy work, Mrs. Martin Evenson, Mrs. E. K. Aasen and Mrs. Chris Storholm; knitting and weaving, Mrs. John Cronkhite, Mrs. C. A. Nason and Mrs. G. L. Sterns; children's work, Miss Emma Backe; plants and flowers, Mrs. Albert Johnson.

A general fair superintendent will be selected at a later meeting.

FLAX STRAW EXPERT LOOKS OVER FIELD

WILL SUPERINTEND SPREADING OF STACKS IN THIS NEIGHBORHOOD.

Jason L. Merrill, paper plant chemist of the bureau of plant industry, Washington, arrived in the city Sunday morning for the purpose of inspecting the stacks of flax straw secured last fall by the government for experimental purposes and left standing at the point of purchase. Mr. Merrill will at once look after the spreading out of the straw, it being necessary that this be done in order that the product may catch the benefit of the rains, thus hastening the disintegration of the woody substances which must be removed before the straw can be manufactured into paper pulp.

No machinery yet devised is able to remove the woody substances from the flax strands and these must be soaked off. The plan for accomplishing this varies with different localities. As there are no figures available as a guide for this section, the straw will be spread, in different thicknesses and the result carefully noted.

The straw from northwestern Minnesota will be shipped to the famous Crane mills in Massachusetts, where paper for the more valuable governmental documents is manufactured. Here the straw fibre will be converted into the finished product.

Experiments thus far conducted have proven that not only is flax straw adaptable to paper making but that it furnishes one of the very best materials for this purpose.

Latest War News

The British, in a counterdrive on Wednesday, recaptured Wytschaete, taken after desperate fighting by the Germans on Tuesday. According to reports from Winnipeg late last night the British were whipping the Germans in the most crucial and desperately fought battle of the entire war. Ruetger's correspondent reports that since Tuesday noon the gunfire has been the most terrific in the history of the campaign.

Materen, an important point west of Bailleul, has been retaken by Haig's army, but the enemy was still holding the greater part of Messines ridge.

Latest reports from the battle front in northern France this morning is to the effect that the British have retired from Ypres for the purpose of straightening out their line. French troops are rushing to the relief of their allies and there seems to be no apprehension that the line will break, although the pressure is tremendous.

THEIGE WOULD BE CO. COMMISSIONER

FILES AS CANDIDATE AGAINST O. J. PETERSON IN FIFTH DISTRICT.

Aspirats for office in Pennington county have been slow about declaring themselves during the past week, but one filing having been placed on record. This is for a place on the board of county commissioners as a candidate against Chairman Oscar J. Peterson. The aspirant is J. M. Theige of Smiley township, in which is also located the home of Mr. Peterson.

There are three commissioners to be elected this fall, the other two whose terms expire being Peter C. Wold of the First; and Olof Larson of the Third. The first-named has declared that he will not again be a candidate while Mr. Larson has not, so far as we know, expressed himself on the subject.

Practically two months still remain of the period for filing and prospective candidates seem to be in no particular hurry. Those in a receptive mood are doing a little inquiring around to see how a declaration coming from them might be taken.

BOND SALESMAN IS ACCIDENT VICTIM

STRUCK IN EYE BY END OF WIRE—MAY LOSE ITS SIGHT.

Bertel Hammer of Kratka, was brought to the Physicians' hospital here on Monday suffering from the results of a peculiar accident. He was one of the bond solicitors for his neighborhood and about to start on his mission. While hitching a team which he intended using in getting around he noticed that one of the single trees was cracked. Securing a piece of wire he wound it around the split, using a pair of pincers to draw it tight. While thus employed the wire suddenly broke, the lose end flying back and striking him in the eye with such force as to penetrate clear through, permitting the water to escape. Because of the swollen and bloodshot condition of the member, the doctors have been unable to ascertain the exact extent of the injury but fear that he may lose the sight of that eye.

Commissioners Meet.

The county commissioners held an interesting meeting on Tuesday. The matter of bridges over the river in Kratka and Smiley townships was taken up but as will be seen by the article in another column there was nothing to be done on the subject at this time.

The Lyle Corrugated Culvert company of this city was awarded the contract for furnishing the metal culverts needed by the county during the season, while the cement culverts will be furnished by the Minneapolis Bridge company. Cement construction is rapidly growing in favor where permanent culverts are to be placed and the number of these will be largely increased during the season.

CITY AND COUNTY GO OVER TOP BY NEARLY $70,000

Total of $191,500 Hung Up When Committees Report on Monday Evening After Day's Work.

CITY SUBSCRIBES $90,000 BEFORE NOON

Campaign Practically Completed on Tuesday, Total Result Being $254,650 Against Allotment of $185,000.

✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚

The county of Pennington had oversubscribed its Third Liberty Loan quota by $69,650 at nine o'clock last evening. Thief River Falls had oversubscribed to the amount of $36,050, the total pledged in the city being $115,200, as against an allotment of $89,150. The oversubscription in the county to date is greater than the total amount collected for the First Liberty Loan.

✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚ ✚

Pennington county went over the top in the Third Liberty Loan drive on the first day of the campaign. The city of Thief River Falls had practically subscribed its quota at noon of that day.

The total allotment for the county was $185,000 and at eight o'clock on Monday night when Chairman Geo. G. Johnson announced that the figures showed a total subscription of $191,500 with half a dozen strong precincts yet to hear from, the crowd assembled at the Commercial club rooms to hear the results went right up in the air. It meant that the county had gone over the top to the tune of $6,500 on the first day of the drive.

Starts With a Rush.

Nothing like the enthusiasm with which the solicitors started out on their errand has ever been seen in Thief River Falls. Every man was at his post and ready for action at nine o'clock. The first act of these solicitors was to take their own allotment cards and double the amount assigned as their share. Lists had been provided containing the names of all persons residing within the territory to be visited by the different teams—and the campaign was on.

Thirty Thousand an Hour.

The teams were ordered to report at the club rooms at noon. A fine dinner had been prepared for them, this being provided at the expense of Chairman Johnson and W. B. Fuller, chairman of the First district in the city. After counting up the receipts it was found that the total secured during the first three hours of work was $90,000, or at the rate of $500 per minute. As the city's allotment was but $79,150 it was seen that the oversubscription would be very satisfactory. When the closing hour for the day came the figure had grown to $119,000, or $39,850 more than the total allotment for the entire campaign.

Country Districts Report.

And then began coming the reports from the country districts. K. O. Gigstad reported from District No. 2, composed of the village of St. Hilaire and surrounding sections, that the first day had netted $7,900; Paul Borgie from District No. 3 kicked in with $5,400 from the region about Hazel; Thomas H. Smith, chairman of the Cloverleaf district, stated that the allotment for his section had practically been reached the first day. It remained for J. P. Jensen, chairman of the Goodridge district, to put them all in the shade, however. Because of reasons other than disinclination on the part of the people, not much was expected from this district and the managers figured that an allotment of $1,200 would be about all they could stand. Mr. Jensen reported that with about half of his district still to hear from he had secured $9,750. The situation was highly satisfactory and everyone was congratulating everyone else.

The City's Great Showing.

By this time the city solicitors were ready to report. Chairman F. H. Herrick started out with a total for the day of $28,950 against an allotment of for the campaign of $27,300, an oversubscription of $1,650. G. Howard Smith, who was captain of team No. 2, announced that the total collection of his bunch footed up $26,200 while all that was expected of them during the entire drive was $21,500. For the third district Ole L. Ihle was supposed to be able to get $26,750, but he reported $29,400, with a portion of his territory not yet touched. Mayor G. A. Penney, who was in charge of the squad in the Fourth district, had contained himself with difficulty while the others were reporting, and now busted into the proceedings with a total of $34,650, this being $4,950 over the allotment for his particular section of the city.

Then the Celebration.

At the conclusion of the reports, Supt. W. A. Barnard of the Soo railroad volunteered the information that the portion to be credited to Thief River Falls from the moneys collected from the railroad men on the division would be between $15,000 and $17,000.

That settled it. A ladder with figures to indicate the amounts collected had been erected at the corner of LaBree avenue and Third street. A thermometer was arranged to be slid upward as the amounts climbed, it being expected that the campaign would be well along before the top was reached. As soon as the reports available were read, however, the crowd formed a ring around this ladder, the band played without stopping between pieces to take breath, and Mayor Penney climbed the ladder and boosted the indicator over the top amid the cheers of the crowd. A parade was then formed which marched through the principal business streets of the city and a bonfire was built in which the kaiser was cremated in effigy, with three districts not yet reported:

Interest did not abate because the county and city quota had been secured on the first day of the drive. The solicitors continued their work on Tuesday and in some instances are yet at it. The amount subscribed by the different communities in the county up to last evening are as follows:

All Not Reported.

Chairman Johnson last evening confidently expected that every township in the county would be allotted an honor flag for having oversubscribed its quota. It is positively known that the districts not yet reported have more than reached their allotment; while in the few shown by the above table to be behind, more than the required allotment is certain to be secured.

The committee wishes to thank heartily all those who helped to make this drive the most astounding success of anything ever attempted in the city and county. Practically every man and woman to whom the matter was presented did their full duty—and then some. In case any have been missed by the solicitors—and there are always some such—they should at once notify their bank that they are ready to buy a bond. The campaign is such a wonderful success that the managers want every person in the county to feel that they have had some share in it.

Park Board Elects Officers.

At a meeting of the park board of the city, held last week, Dr. C. R. Crandall was elected president and Emil Zeh secretary. The board has under consideration certain plans for the coming year which will be of general interest to our citizens. Just what these plans are will not be given out until they are more nearly completed.

THERE WERE NO SLACKERS.

Every man and woman residing in Pennington county has reason to feel both proud and gratified over the result of the Third Liberty Loan campaign. The community has greatly over-subscribed its quota and almost the entire sum was secured during the first day of the drive. The record of over a quarter of a million dollars made by the people here is one of the best in the entire Ninth district. It means that practically twenty dollars was pledged by each one of the twelve thousand men, women and children that go to make up the county's population. It also means that fifty per cent more was subscribed for the Third Liberty Loan than for the first and second loans put together.

It is very gratifying to find that the people are thus willing to come to the support of the government, but what is of vastly more importance is the fact that they have come to a realization of the necessity for so doing. There was never anything wrong with our citizens. At the time the first loan was asked for they did not fully understand what it was all about. Very few of them had any previous experience in loaning out money, at least not to the government, and hardly saw any particular need of their so doing at that time. The second loan went better, but it struck the section at a time when cash was very scarce and the outlook for the future not particularly bright. Now the season promises well, the aim of the government in entering this war is understood by everyone—and the result is an over-subscription of about six dollars per capita. The people also know that other loans are in all probability coming and will begin at once to prepare for the event.

Everyone who in anyway contributed toward making the campaign a success is entitled to full credit for his work. Those who simply applied a part of their surplus funds to this great cause may also be entitled to some consideration, and will get it. There is one element of our population, however, for which too much cannot be said. The man who works for wages or for a small salary; the man who depends absolutely upon his pay check arriving at regular intervals in order that his family may at all times have the best he is able to provide them with, and the man whose business is in such shape that is requires every dollar he is able to scrape up in order to keep it going—these are the ones to whom the credit should go when they come forward with their money as willingly as our citizens of this class did during this bond drive.

Hardly a laboring man in the city refused to take at least a hundred dollar bond. This was not in any way incumbent upon him. The solicitors were all men of judgment and in nearly every case understood the circumstances. An explanation or refusal would have been sufficient to excuse many from participation. But it was not made. In house after house visited by the solicitors they were informed that they were expected, that the household had made preparations for taking a small portion of the issue and were ready to sign up.

The members of the teams encountering these instances spoke of the matter afterwards with a display of feeling that left no doubt as to the impression the incidents made upon them. They told of having purposely passed up certain houses in the city, feeling that even a suggestion that the inmates buy a bond would be an imposition. In such cases a member of the family thus avoided would rush out and call them back, saying that all arrangements for buying a bond had been made and that they did not wish to be omitted from the list. Men whose names were not on the list would stop the salesmen on the street and ask to be permitted to do their share. There was something so fine about it all that the men who gave of their time and money toward making the drive a success felt as if they could never make a better investment in their lives again.

The people now know that there is a war and that we are going to win it. But they also know that in order to win everyone must do his share.

The Times has lately carried many advertisements for the Third Liberty Loan. This publicity matter has been ordered and paid for by the business men of Thief River Falls, who wish to add their bit to the campaign of education necessary in order to bring the need for this money properly before their fellow-citizens. This is done purely as a patriotic duty and no direct return of any kind is expected as a result of the advertisements. These public-spirited citizens realize that the newspapers and banks should not be asked to foot the entire bill incident to giving the Third Loan the required publicity and are glad to help out in meeting the cost. In every section of America the same thing is being done. Business men realize the importance of having the people understand the proposition and are employing the recognized publicity mediums in their respective districts for the purpose of bringing the issue forcibly to the attention of their patrons. The government has time and time again, through the President and Secretary of the Treasury, voiced its appreciation of the great work that is being done at such an outlay by the business men of the country, and with this the latter are satisfied, conscious that they have but done their duty.

Bond Campaign Song

Chairman George G. Johnson, of the Pennington County Liberty Loan committee, has received the words and music for a number of songs composed by different writers throughout the country to help keep up interest in the campaign and carry the loan over the top. Following is one of the ditties:

"WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO TO HELP THE BOYS?"

Your Uncle Sam is calling now on every one of you,
If you're too old or young to fight there's something else to do.
If you have done a bit before don't let the matter rest;
For Uncle Sam expects that every man will do his best.
Chorus:
What are you going to do for Uncle Sammy?
What are you going to do to help the boys?
If you mean to stay at home while they're fighting o'er the foam,
The least that you can do is buy a Liberty Bond or two.
If you're going to be a sympathetic miser,
The kind that only lends a lot of noise,
You're no better than the one who loves the Kaiser.
So what are you going to do to help the boys?
It makes no difference who you are or whence you came or how,
Your Uncle Sammy help'd you then and you must help him now.
Your brothers will be fighting for your freedom over there,
And if you love the Stars and Stripes then you must do your share.
Chorus:

THE ONE SERIOUS MISTAKE.

The decision of the war department to prevent the real truth in connection with our army activities in Europe from reaching the American people is one of the greatest mistakes made thus far in connection with this war. From every section of the country comes the severest condemnation of this policy, which is generally referred to as absurd and absolutely useless so far as it has any effect on the actions or lack of actions on the part of the enemy. Most writers on the subject are unable to see just why the American people should not be made acquainted with facts of which the Germans have long been cognizant. It is likely that the intelligence department of the enemy armies knows practically to a man how many soldiers of the United States are now in France as well as their approximate location. In such case it is a little hard to understand just how they would receive any aid and comfort from the facts being made known right here at home. The indefinite or evasive messages that are permitted to come through are worse than none at all as they keep the people continually in a state of nervous apprehension and help promote the feeling that things are vastly more serious than the authorities would have them appear.

Americans are not afraid to know the truth. If things here at home are not moving along as smoothly or as swiftly as they should it simply means, so far as the people now are concerned, that it will take a little longer to win and they will exhibit any reasonable amount of patience and forebearence until such time as things can be speeded up. To tell them, however, that everything is lovely and thus lull them into a state of security when things are far different is absolutely indefensable.

The allies are going to win this war and America is going to play a brilliant part before it is over. Everyone knows that this will be costly both in blood and money, but practically the entire country is unanimous in declaring that there shall be no turning back until the task to which we have applied ourselves has been accomplished. It would be awful to find that the force we now have in France had met with disaster, but it would only have the effect of making the country more determined to "carry on." Should our soldiers meet with reverses and we be kept in ignorance of the fact, however, it would most certainly create a doubt in the ability of our leaders and have a tendency to dampen the war spirit which is just getting under way in excellent shape.

Let's hear the worst at all times. It can never be as bad as apprehension and doubt.

THE FARMERS' SIDE OF IT.

The arguments employed against a $2.50 price per bushel for the wheat crop of 1918 are not very convincing when the matter is impartially considered. About the only claim made is that the farmer, in view of the much lower price than has heretofore prevailed, should be satisfied with what he has been offered.

During the discussion of the question in the house of representatives Congressman Steenerson pointed out the injustice of this proceeding. In a strong argument for a higher wheat price he said, among other things:

"A railroad employee who receives $800 will get $200 increase. The wage earners in all employments have been given increases, in some cases greater than these. Now, if a laborer, if you please, or a Government clerk, receives $200 additional yearly wage, should he object to allowing the farmer a little more for his wheat?

"The per capita consumption of wheat in normal times is about 5 bushels, but now Hoover cuts it by substitutes to one-half of that. A family of five will consume 12½ bushels in a year, on which it will pay say, $12.50 more than before the war. Would it be unreasonable to require the man whose yearly wage has been increased $200 to pay $12.50 or even $15 more to the farmer who furnishes his principal food? Is it not because of the increased cost of living that wages are increased? Should not, therefore, the man who furnishes the living have an increase also?

"I refuse to believe that either organized or unorganized labor, or those engaged in a gainful employment outside of agriculture, will seriously demand that their wage shall be increased but deny a proportionate increase to the men and women on the farm who toil to supply them with the food they eat. Even flour at $14.60 a barrel and consumption unrestricted by wheatless days would only cost 4 cents per day to each individual.

"One nickel cigar a day costs more than all the wheat flour a grown man consumes in a year. We should be fair. The farmer who produces the wheat has to pay more for everything now. Not only that, but he has to pay in taxes the salary increases soon to be made to Government employees and increased rates to the railroad workers. In England the Government used to pay market price for wheat and sell it at a loss so as to guarantee a cheap loaf. They expended $400,000,000 this way until Hoover came along and saddled the loss on the American wheat growers. The same can be said of the other allies.

"Are not our allies fighting for us all? Why, then, should the burden of furnishing a cheap loaf to their people be thrown upon the American wheat farmer alone? But that is not all. They are not only required to do this, but, in addition thereto, to bear the burden of furnishing a cheap loaf to our own people, also, who charge them extra wages because of the high price of living. Are not the growers of wheat as meritorious as the planters of cotton, for instance, who are now enjoying a free market and receiving 35 cents per pound for their product, as against 8 or 10 cents before the war? There is no answer to these questions except that you want to single out the man who produces the staff of life as a special object for injustice. Such a course is absolutely indefensible."

"WHEN AMERICA WOKE."

Under the above caption Mark Sullivan, editor of Collier's, contributes the leading article in the issue of his publication for April 6. It is perhaps the most illuminating exposition of the present war status of the country that has been written and should be read over and pondered by every American citizen at this time. The article is all the more noteworthy when it is remembered that about three weeks ago the same writer was responsible for the most pessimistic outburst that has appeared in a journal of national circulation for a long time. The shipping situation and the evident increase in the sinkings by submarines were the matters to which particular attention was then paid, and Mr. Sullivan is not entirely satisfied with the outlook in this particular department yet. As a whole, however, he finds the achievements of the country during its first year of war but little short of marvelous. He has compiled a table showing what the nation's war equipment was on April 6, 1917, and just what the increase is one year later. Its perusal is particularly recommended to pessimistic persons who continuously harp on our unpreparedness and our lack of speed in providing the necessities for meeting the situation. Mr. Sullivan's figures are as follows, taking April 6 of each year as the date for comparison:

	1917	1918	Ratio
Trained soldiers under arms	160,000	1,400,000	875%
National budget	1 billion	20 billions	2,000%
Personnel of the navy	84,000	343,000	400%
Personnel of the Signal Corps	1,400	140,000	10,000%
Annual Production of mechant ships, tons	250,000	1,500,000	600%

Mr. Sullivan does not attempt to gloss over our shortcomings. In fact he points them out quite frankly, but finds on the whole much cause for satisfaction. In closing this article, which will without question have a tremendous effect throughout the country, he says:

"A part of the delay, of course, has sprung from inefficiency. Another part has been a matter of conscious policy. We have sacrificed speed to thoroughness. That feature has been largely the personal equation of Secretary Baker. Whether this was expedient under all the circumstances is a subject for honest difference of opinion. It is the basis of much of the complaint and recrimination that we have gone through. It may or may not have been best; but I, at least, get pleasure out of reflecting on it. It may not make for accomplishment in the present, but the thing it does reflect is determination for the future. And this war has now taken a form in which determination for the future is of prime importance. The anniversary of our entrance into the war is exactly the low point of the Allies' fortunes. But this has happened through causes that the United States is not responsible for. Of course, if we had entered the war one or two years earlier, the situation might well have been different. But it does not seem to me that anything we could have done since last April in the way of speed would have ended the war victoriously, and if that be admitted, then it is good to feel that Germany, as she now looks over the field, should have it borne in upon her that from the first, as the normal and spontaneous expression of our state of mind about it, we had a policy of thoroughness independent of time, a policy which aimed steadily and confidently at ending the war victoriously."

Twenty Years Ago.

P. Mechan, in an interview with a representative of the Crookston Tribune, stated that the saw mill at Thief River Falls would cut 15,000,000 feet during the coming summer. The water in the river was unusually low, but Mr. Mechan stated that it would not interfere with the work of driving logs. There were 10,000,000 feet of logs in Red Lake. It was expected that the mill would begin operation about May 10.

There was a famine in dairy products in northwestern Minnesota and the fact was laid to poor management on the part of the farmers, who were urged to quit pinning their faith to wheat and secure more cattle.

Hans Langseth & Co., shipped a carload of potatoes to Minneapolis.

It took three men and one wheelbarrow to get a drunken squaw to the village jail. They landed her safely, however, and the next day she paid a fine.

Karl Kretzschmar announced that he would draw the water out of the pond and replank the dam with five-inch oak plank which was expected to make it proof against the onslaught of logs, ice or anything else.

Prairie fires destroyed the barn and considerable property belonging to Bernhard Satre, two miles west of the city. One horse, a pig, considerable hay and other property was lost. Mr. Satre was at a neighbor's house helping to fight another fire when his own property was destroyed.

Red Lake county republicans met in convention and pledged their support to William H. Taft for president.

Hans Engelstad and family, of Everett, Wash., arrived with the intention of making Pennington county their future home. Mr. Engelstad purchased a farm near Highlanding.

The militia company was properly organized and among the members are found the following names: O. F. Mellby, W. B. Fuller, C. H. Wiste, C. H. Hermanson, W. W. Prichard, Jr., Carl J. Angell, T. S. Brokke, G. D. LeSage, ~~Henry Hyde~~, I. E. Howick, Oscar Sponheim, Paul Midderigh and James E. Farr.

The Thief River fire department was called to Oslo to help fight a bad blaze originating in the warehouse of the Minneapolis Brewing company.

August Peterson, an old resident of the city, was found drowned in the Red Lake river. He was about 50 years of age and well-to-do. He had been drinking and was supposed to have fallen into the river while on his way home.

H. K. Strand moved his grocery store into the Bean building just south of his former location. Ole Rud will occupy the place vacated by Mr. Strand with his jewelry store.

A boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sandum, who were then residents of Viking.

Mrs. Martin Bothun was at Roseau for the purpose of attending the funeral of a relative.

Pupils in the primary room of the Central school were notified that beginning on the following Monday they would be put on half sessions for the remainder of the season.

More Valuable Hogs.

Since The Times reported last week that P. W. Roark had sold a hog for more than $80.00 other rather fancy pork prices have come to light. Joe Oski, who resides near Mavie, reports that he sold a pig weighing 650 pounds for $97.50, or at the rate of 15 cents per pound. It is not so very long ago that it took a mighty good cow to be worth that much money.

SOLDIERS MAY AID AS FARM WORKERS

RELATIVES OF FARMERS TO BE RELEASED UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS.

Word has been received by the local exemption board that farmers having relatives in training at any of the camps or cantonments of the country and needing the help of these men in the work of seeding or harvesting their crops could secure their temporary release from service by making application on a blank furnished by the local board. The boys will be given a furlough to come home and do this work. While on such a furlough, they will not receive any pay except enough to pay any insurance or payments on liberty bonds which they had taken out prior to March 16. It is expected that those securing help will pay them the regular wages.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson, clerk of the local exemption board, has already received a number of applications for the release of men for farm work, but will scrutinize these requests very carefully before recommending that they be granted. He is very willing that such help shall be secured when necessary, but the opportunities for abusing the privilege are very great and it is up to him to see that this is avoided. He has already recommended that certain of the boys be permitted to return, but believes that farmers should make such requests only where the need actually exists. Taking the men out of the service in the middle of their training period will naturally put them behind their comrades in the matter of preparation and it would be an injustice to them to send them home without the best of reasons. In this decision he is supported by both Sheriff LaBree and Dr. Froehlich, the other members of the board.

MAY STILL CHOOSE PREFERRED BRANCH

MEN COMING OF AGE SINCE JUNE 5 ALLOWED TO MAKE SELECTION.

The War Department plans for registering all men in the country who have attained the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, and for basing draft quotas on the number of men in Class 1, has been sustained by Congress. Credit on quotas will be for all voluntary enlistments in the military or naval service since April 1, 1917. This plan will place practically 700,000 additional men in Class 1, and will make it necessary for all young men who have reached their majority since last June to enlist at once if they wish to select the branch of service in which they desire to serve and avoid the draft.

Fully 50 per cent of the enlistments in the Minnesota recruiting district, according to Major John D. Yest, recruiting officer, during the past two months have been men under the draft age. A further appeal, however, is made to young men by the recruiting officer, also the high school boys who will soon be out of school, to get into the service at once. Practically every branch of the service is open to enlistment at the present time and wonderful opportunities will be presented the men who get in early for rapid advancement.

The cavalry, which is a most popular branch of the service, was closed to enlistment for some time, but this has been reopened, and should prove an added incentive to many young men to enlist.

The month of April bids fair to establish a new recruiting record in Minnesota. Up to and including April 12 over 460 men had enlisted in the district. If the present rate continues it will bring the total number of enlistments for the month to well over 1,000. The new draft act is expected to stimulate recruiting and bring thousands of volunteers into the army.

Soldier Urges Former Neighbors to Buy Bonds

Glen C. Anderson Calls Attention to the Necessity for Cheerful and Liberal Compliance With Request of the Government.

Pennington county soldiers and sailors are watching the outcome of the present bond campaign in their home locality with a great deal more interest than anyone else in the country. To them the result will indicate whether or not the people here are willing to back them up with their money now that they themselves have offered everything they have to their country. They will want to know whether we consider our boys or our dollars of the greatest importance, and our attitude toward this bond issue will be a most unmistakable indication of our true position in this regard.

Glen C. Anderson, son of County Auditor and Mrs. T. P. Anderson, who was one of the first to enlist when the call was issued, has been connected with the officer's headquarters at Camp Funston for some time, and he naturally is keenly interested in seeing that his home town holds up its end in this bond drive with other American cities. He has submitted a communication for publication in The Times which he hopes will stimulate the interest in the campaign. The letter has the approval of his superior officers, bearing the censor stamp of Capt. Thos. R. Gowenlock, acting assistant chief of staff, and is as follows:

"The the People of Pennington County:—I have before me The Times for April 4th, and I note with a great deal of pride that steps are being taken to conduct the campaign for the sale of Liberty Bonds in your county successfully. The idea promulgated by your Liberty Loan Bond committee of apportioning to the different districts and individuals the amount which they are expected to subscribe seems to be an equitable one, and every step taken thus far by the committee is commendable. Your objective of $186,000.00 has been placed definitely before you and I am confident that it will be gained. Feeling, however, that Pennington county should exceed its specified quota, I wish to call your attention to certain reasons why subscriptions should not stop nor interest therein abate when your objective has been attained.

Money Must Back Army.

"Perhaps the direct relationship between the army and the nation's wealth hasn't been demonstrated to us as clearly as it has to our allies. Perhaps the fact that practically an unlimited amount of good, American money must be behind our army if the latter is to operate to advantage in the field hasn't been brought to our minds as forcibly as it has to the minds of the French, the Belgians and the British. Granting this, the time for realization is at hand and, aside from the men, the nation's money and productive resources must be mobilized at once. It is not sufficient for American money to stay in the trenches and look over the parapet—it must go 'Over the Top.'

Support Must be General.

"In a recent issue of Leslie's, I find the following: 'Mr. McAdoo says the supreme need of the nation is to marshal its financial resources in such form that the government may be able to command absolutely the amount of money necessary to carry on the war.' Senator McCumber reminds him that the money must come from the people. From this it is found that the final outcome of the war rests not alone with those clad in khaki but equally, and perhaps more so, with the civilian population, the folks at home. The effectiveness of an army in the field of operations is measured not so much in its numbers of men as in its equipment and supplies, and the people, through Liberty Bonds and War Saving Certificates, must furnish these necessaries. General Seyler, in one of his undertakings, was obliged to equip and maintain his troops by his personal funds. In those days a campaign could be conducted by a body of men numbering not more than 1000 and there were no mammoth cannon, trench mortars, aeroplanes, motor trucks and baloons to purchase. Modern warfare counts men not by the thousands but by the hundreds of thousands and millions and those agents of destruction enumerated above are today absolute necessities. At this critical moment we cannot wait for some patriotic man of wealth to finance the war. The support must be general.

Soldiers Purchase Bonds.

"The purchasing of bonds may entail considerable personal sacrifice, but that sacrifice is so inconsequential that it cannot be compared with those that have been and are being met by the people of the other Allied nations. You people alone are not called upon to make that sacrifice, but the army also is expected to help finance the war as well as fight it, and in previous loans the allotted quota was always filled and more, often times bringing real financial distress temporarily upon the men. One instance of this which I remember in particular was of a man whose pay in the army was $30.00 per month. This man had made an allotment of $10.00 per month to his mother, was paying $6.60 per month for War Risk Insurance and made a further allotment of $10.00 per month for a Liberty Bond, leaving him the sum of $4.40 to dispose of indiscriminately during a period of one month. But that condition did not exist for one month alone, but until the bond was paid for; neither was it the only case of this character. If you can't buy both gasoline and bonds, leave your car in the garage this year; if you can't buy bonds and at the same time serve on your table those delicacies which you have been accustomed to in times of peace, buy bonds.

End is Some Distance Off.

"If there are any people with the idea that the war will end this year and that an enormous amount of money is not needed at once by the government, let me interpose with my sincere conviction that peace will not come this year and will not come until the combined physical, financial, agricultural and manufacturing forces of the United States have been so ef- [illegible]

SIMPLE DRESSES FOR GRADUATES

PLEA ISSUED THAT EXPENSE IN CONNECTION WITH EXERCISES BE CUT.

LOAN MONEY TO COUNTRY

AMOUNT SAVED MIGHT BE DEVOTED TO PURCHASE OF WAR STAMPS.

A campaign has been started throughout the state of Minnesota that will have the unanimous endorsement of parents of the young people who will this year graduate from the high schools of the state. It is also certain that the plan will meet with the approval of the graduates themselves. The school authorities in Thief River Falls have received notice of the plan and there is no doubt but that the idea it expresses will be carried out with enthusiasm.

For Dress Simplicity.

G. N. Bauer, professor of Mathematics at the University of Minnesota, and State Supervisor of School War Savings Societies, is sending every school in Minnesota an urgent request for simplicity and economy in commencement week festivities.

Mr. Bauer not only urges that commencement ceremonies be of the simplest nature, but also requests that the money thereby saved be invested in War Savings Stamps, in support of the government.

Here is the outline of his communication to the schools of the cities, towns and rural districts.

"Festivities of commencement week are in the main as follows: 1, junior-senior entertainment; 2, baccalaureate services; 3, commencement exercises.

Simplify Junior "Feed."

"At the junior-senior entertainment there are present members of the junior class, members of the senior class and the teachers of the school, all people who know each other rather intimately, and who have met frequently before. There is no reason in the world why exceedingly simple dresses should not be worn on this occasion. Also the 'feed,' as it is called, should be exceedingly simple. Why not bring it down to 35 or 40 cents per plate?

"In connection with the Baccalaureate services, why not advocate that no new gowns of any kind be procured? Let each member of the graduating class attend the service dressed in any clothes which would be proper at a regular church service.

Girls in Simplicity Contest.

"The item of dress is often expensive for commencement exercises. This year instead of having an expensive gown, why not introduce the simple, inexpensive gown as far more appropriate? Let the girls vie with one another to plan the making of the most becoming kown at the least price. In this connection it is urged that these gowns be of such a nature that they may be used on future occasions. Attention is called to the fact that the poor girl cannot afford an expensive gown. But neither can the rich girl this year, because the government needs her money. It is also suggested that the commencement exercises this year have cheaper announcements."

Bulletins to Be Issued.

Mr. Bauer said he would make a state-wide campaign for these simplified commencements, and that all War Savings Societies will receive a bulletin on the subject.

"Four years ago," said Mr. Bauer, "the graduating class at Preston, Minnesota, worked out this simple plan very successfully. George E. Vincent, then president of the university, was the commencement speaker. When he saw the girls all dressed in their simple sailor suits which they had made themselves, he declared them the best dressed graduating class he had ever seen."

PLUMMER DEALERS WILL HELP FARMERS

WILL LEAVE THEIR BUSINESS TO HELP OUT WITH NECESSARY WORK.

In order that the farmers around the village of Plummer may be able to put in a larger acreage this year than last and harvest a bigger crop, fifty-two business men, headed by Mayor Wm. Bottineau, have organized the Citizens' War Savings Labor Club of Plummer and have signed the following agreement:

"We, the undersigned citizens of Plummer, Red Lake county, Minnesota, fully realizing the shortage of farm labor in our vicinity and wishing to help our Government in the full prosecution of the war by every ounce possible, hereby pledge ourselves to take a certain number of days from our business and work on farms in the vicinity of our village during the busy season on the farms, and thus assist our farmers in planting and harvesting a larger acreage and materially reduce the High Cost of Living and help win the war." The name of every business man in the village is signed to the agreement.

Are Eighth Grade Champions.

The boys of the eighth grade at the Northrup school claim to be the base ball champions of the city in their division. They have played the Central, Knox and Washington and will take on the bunch representing the first-named institution again next Saturday for the final game, which will also decide the championship. The Northrup team is made up of the following: John Sewt, Orten Olson, Clarence Sanden, Marcus Olson, Daniel Scott, Herbert Keene, Ardel Robinson, Lee Bartlett and Donald Miller.

New Flag For Auditorium.

The city council has purchased a new flag for the Auditorium building and the spring winds are now doing their best to crip it to pieces. The emblem is 7½x15 feet and is one of the most substantial that could be procured. The old flag, which was presented about a year ago by the women of the city, has been in position on the tall flag-staff every day since it was unfurled and the winter weather had converted it into pennants and streamers.

Mail Letters Earlier.

The postoffice department has sent out circulars requesting people generally and particularly the business men of the country to get their letters to the postoffice earlier in the day in order to lighten the work on the postoffice force just before the departure of trains. Here in Thief River Falls as elsewhere in the country it is the habit to wait as long as possible before dispatching the letters written for the day and with important mail this is now a practice that may cause a great deal of inconvenience. Failure of a missive to reach its destination at the time scheduled is often to be traced to the fact that the closing rush at the postoffice is so great that it is impossible to get all the mail properly cancelled and distributed. The government deems this a matter of much importance to the business interests of the country and urges everyone to get their letters to the office as early in the day as possible.

BIRTHS FALL OFF DURING PAST YEAR

STORK STILL HAS REAPER BEATEN BY SEVERAL MILES, HOWEVER.

The vital statistics for the county of Pennington for the past year, which have just been received from the state board of health by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund, shows that there was a considerable falling off in the number of births, while the death rate held about even with the previous year. A total of 327 children were born in the county as compared with 382 during 1917, while death claimed 102, the number for the previous 12 months being 108.

The City of Thief River Falls did very well in the number of visits received from the stork, there being 142 arrivals with only 60 departures. There were no deaths in the townships of Bray and Numedal, while there were six children born in the former bailiwick and three in the latter. One of the best records was made by the township of Kratka where there were ten births and only one death. Following is the record, the births being indicated in the first column and deaths in the second:

This pure oil from corn for shortening and all general cooking improves food quality—and saves animal fats.

It has taken American ingenuity to solve the fat problem—to find a practical, wholesome vegetable oil for shortening, deep frying, sauteing—something that will enable us to save butter, lard and suet.

The result is Mazola—a pure, wholesome oil refined from golden American corn.

Mazola has taken the place of the old cooking mediums—because housewives find that it gives more satisfactory results.

And since Mazola is a vegetable oil it makes it easy for them to follow the plans of Food Administrator Hoover.

Mazola is economical—not one single drop is wasted—it can be used over and over again as it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

LARGE AUDIENCE AT SENIOR PLAY

"IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE" MOST ACCEPTABLY STAGED BY SENIOR CLASS.

NET PROCEEDS OVER $300

WILL BE USED FOR PURPOSE OF BUYING LIBERTY BONDS.

Some remarkably good senior class plays have been presented by graduates of the Thief River Falls high school in years gone by, but it is the general verdict that the presentation of "It Pays to Advertise" by the class of 1918 last Friday evening was easily the best thing of its kind yet attempted. The play itself is one of the most famous comedies produced in recent years and the members of the cast did full justice to the excellent material with which they had to work.

Good Crowd Present.

While not a record breaker, the attendance was very good. The performance given in the afternoon for the benefit of the school children was almost as well patronized as was the evening show and helped very materially in swelling the total receipts.

Competent Interpretation.

The performers had been instructed in their parts by Mrs. C. A. Pitkin and proved themselves a credit to their teacher. To pick out any one member of the cast as having particularly distinguished him or herself would be manifestly unjust as every one handled their lines with a keen appreciation of their value and a thorough understanding of the limitations they imposed. It is far easier to find a company of amateurs who will exaggerate than one capable of exercising intelligent repression. That was one of the things that made the production more than ordinarily pleasing. None attempted to occupy the spotlight to the detriment or exclusion of another character, the result being a smooth and pleasing production in every detail.

Proceeds For Liberty Bonds.

The net proceeds of the two performances was $306 which sum will be used for the purpose of purchasing Liberty Bonds. The bonds will be taken out in the name of the school board of District No. 18, and will probably remain the property of succeeding senior classes. Just what disposition is to be made of the money when the bonds mature has not been figured out, but it is possible that it will be used for the purpose of providing some convenience or necessity for the senior class room at that time. The 1918 graduating class is entitled to much praise for making this disposition of the funds as there is no doubt but that they could very easily have found other uses for them. At least none of the previous classes have encountered any trouble in this respect.

No Review Necessary.

Any extended review of the play would be uncalled for and very unnecessary. It was simply very good throughout and the large audience so voted it unanimously. The cast follows:

"Mary Grayson"	Lois Wold
"Johnson"	Albert Crown
"Comtesse de Baureen"	Alice Lee
"Rodney Martin"	Alf Krohn
"Cyrus Martin"	Olof Tharaldson
"Ambrose Peale"	Charles Prichard

DAKOTA WHEAT IS ORDERED MARKETED

PROBABLE THAT MINNESOTA FARMERS WILL HAVE TO FOLLOW SUIT.

Farmers throughout the country have been warned that unless they market the wheat now in their hands they are liable to find the government stepping in and taking forceable charge of any surplus they may happen to have. The order has now gone forth that all wheat in the hands of North Dakota farmers must be marketed before May 15, or holders will lay themselves open to the posibility of having it sold by the authorities. That similar action is liable to take place with regard to teh Minnesota farmers who are hoarding their wheat in spite of the government's order to let go of it immediately is certain.

Prof. E. F. Ladd, food administrator for North Dakota, in calling the attention of the farmers of his state to the new order says:

"Bear in mind that the price of $2.20 is only available for the 1917 crop until June 1, after which date the price of wheat grown in 1917 becomes subject to any regulations made by the United States food administration."

"We trust every farmer will take immediate steps to comply with this exception order from Washington and for those who do not comply we call on the citizens in North Dakota to see that they are reported. Any wheat held beyond this date must be by special permission or some special purpose and the price of $2.20 at the terminal markets is not guaranteed after the date for the 1917 crop."

3RD Liberty Loan

TODAY your boy is reaching out for your hand. He is in a trench in a foreign land 3,000 miles from home. He has said good-bye to all he holds dear and is staking his life for your happiness because he trusts you to stand back of him. He has no money, no food, no guns except as you supply him.

The Government needs more money at once. If this is not subscribed, your boy may be a helpless victim to the barbarous atrocities which the Huns have already inflicted on our brothers.

Your government is offering Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan that your boy may have the sinews of war to make the best fight when he goes out "Over the Top" into No Man's Land and matches his strength against cold steel.

You are not asked to give this money. You are asked to loan it to the United States of America.

In fact, you are asked to buy a mortgage on the United States, the richest government in the world. These Bonds are Uncle Sam's promises to pay just as the dollar in your pocket is Uncle Sam's promise to pay. The difference between a $100 bill and a $100 bond is that while the bill never is worth more than $100, the bond—because it draws interest—earns an income for its owner.

No matter what you may have invested in the First and Second Liberty Loans, you have a duty in the Third.

Your boy is stretching out his hand. Will you wait for your neighbor to come and tell you of your duty or will you go now to the nearest bank or post office and subscribe your share of the Third Liberty Loan?

Those who buy these bonds wear this liberty bell button. There is honor in being the first to put it on.

Lend him a hand—quick.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Still at Harbin—Word has been received from the Thief River Falls members of the Russian railway contingent stating that they are now at Harbin, Manchuria. They are at work on the Russian Transcontinental railway and expect to be employed there at least during the coming summer. The letter states that nine-tenths of the population of the city are soldiers, and that these represent every nationality under the sun. The city is under martial law since the threatened troubles between the Russ and the Japanese. The boys have only seen one train arrive on the Petrograd express since their arrival as the schedules are somewhat upset. This train, however, was the finest they ever saw. Everything connected with it was far ahead of anything they had seen in America, according to their report. Strange as it may seem, they have plenty of meat where they are but are very short of vegetables.

Everybody Bought Bonds—The sale of Third Liberty Bonds on the division will total about $40,000, nearly half of which will be credited to Thief River Falls. Everybody bought bonds. The roundhouse and care repair crews ran 100 per cent perfect, not a refusal or an excuse being met with in either department. One man in the roundhouse did not take a bond the first day as he wanted to see his wife about it first. He said they had not quite decided whether to get one for a hundred dollars or to invest double that amount. Certain of the section men who had been passed by in the allotment for apparently good reasons came and asked the solicitors if they could not be included. Trainmaster H. D. Keene, who was in direct charge of the railroad men's soliciting committee, is much pleased over the outcome and naturally proud of the record made by his fellow workers.

A Long Ladder—The halyard on the flag pole at the Soo station was broken by the wind last Sunday and ran out through the pulley at the top. Peter Alby, the aviator of the local bridge crew, was selected to put the tackle back in shape and he proved equal to the job. A ladder more than 75 feet in length was constructed on the ground and raised alongside the pole. The manufacture of the contrivance proved a small job but when it came to setting it upright without permitting it to kink and double, some mighty fine engineering skill had to be employed. It was accomplished, however, and Mr. Alby climbed to the top and strung the wire so that Old Glory will again wave from its proud position 85 ft. from the ground.

On the Sick List—C. M. Johnson, baggageman, who has been laid up for repairs for a few days, is back on the job again. E. F. Dolan, chief dispatcher, has been a sort of repository for grip germs during the past few days, but is again able to handle his trick. Frank Hammergren, one of the wheat line express messengers, returned to work Wednesday, after having been knocked out for a few days. M. A. Gotham, another express messenger on the same run, took the count as soon as Hammergren came back and is now undergoing repairs.

Tractors by the Hundreds—On Sunday afternoon a freight train of 28 cars pulled through the city over the Soo, the cargo consisting of nothing but tractors. There were three on each car and all were going to Canada. Hardly a train passes through for the north that does not contain three or four carloads of tractors.

Scanlon Off Duty—T. D. Scanlon, night car foreman, has been confined to his home with an attack of sickness this week.

New Operator Here—P. A. Langlois, formerly an operator at division headquarters here but of late engaged in the hardware business at Oklee, resumed his old job on Wednesday morning. Mrs. Langlois and the children will arrive next week. The new operator will succeed F. B. Hutchins, resigned.

Track Crew Patriotic—The track crew ran about 99½ per cent perfect in the Liberty Loan race. One man was excused from purchasing a bond by general consent but many took twice as much this time as at the second sale and the average is thus pretty nearly maintained.

Is Potato Artist—Ed. Krogstad, coal manipulator at the shutes, is the official seed potato buyer for the roundhouse crew. For the second time this spring he has made a trip to Bronson for the purpose of securing seed for the boys.

Back From the Barracks—H. C. Chandler, warehouseman at Erskine, returned this week from Jefferson Barracks where he had been on a visit to his friend and former companion, Jeff Bain, son of the operator at his station.

On Tour of Inspection—J. W. Hendry, master mechanic on the local division and S. M. Woodruff, occupying a similar position at Enderley, are absent on a tour of inspection over the line between this city and Superior.

His First Lay-off—Oscar Liden, night car inspector, was compelled to quit work because of sickness the first of the week. This is the first time Mr. Liden has been missing from his post for four years.

Will Return—Everett Jacobi, who has been working at Overly for some time, was a visitor in the city this week. He returned to his job but expects to be transferred to the yards here before long.

The Big Boss Here—R. A. Kipp, general master mechanic, was up from headquarters this week for the purpose of making a general inspection of things. He found everything to his satisfaction.

Will Go to War—James Havel, warehouseman, has resigned his position and is getting his affairs in readiness to leave for camp with the bunch that goes on the 26th.

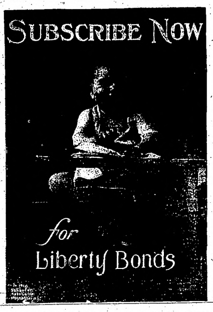
Another Goes to War—Alfred Stenberg, fireman, has left his job and is getting ready to go with the next contingent to Camp Dodge on the 26th.

Back to Work—C. M. Johnson, night baggageman, who has been laid up with a severe cold for about ten days, has returned to work.

Two New Men—Arthur Belden and Lewis Quale have been added to the crew of Car Repair Foreman Conklin. Both are coach cleaners.

Makes Long Trip—Henry Hoyem, day yard clerk, will leave in a few days for Vancouver, B. C., where he will visit for about a month.

Visited Cities—Victor Polman, clerk in the master mechanic's office, was a visitor to the cities over Sunday.



Looks like this young fellow is writing out his check for a Liberty bond. Probably he's seen his Dad doing the same.

If his Dad hasn't, and if the Dads of other American babies haven't it is time they did, for times are going to be bad for American babies if the Huns get into this country and inaugurate here the baby killing campaigns which have distinguished thei rfighting in Europe.

Late News From War Zone

Evidently abandoning his drive against Amiens for the present, the enemy on Thursday attacked heavily west of Armentieres, driving a wedge about six miles in depth at a point between that city and LaBassee. The British withdrew from Armentieres. Heavy fighting was reported along the whole front from LaBassee canal to the Ypres-Comines canal. Evident intention is to crush British army in the north.

Enemy succeeded in entering La Greche, Nieppe and Hollebeke. Vigorous counter-attacks forced the enemy from all these places.

The heaviest casualties thus far reported among American troops in France resulted from the fighting at Armentieres on Thursday. The total casualties was 234, divided as follows: Killed in action, 23; died of wounds, 3; missing in action, 7; died from accident, 6; died from disease, 17; wounded severely, 80; wounded only slightly, 98.

Thursday forenoon the Germans launched a formidable attack against the Belgian town of Hollebeke, using the mass formation. The attack was repulsed by the British with terrible execution.

At the close of the day's fighting on Thursday night Field Marshal Haig reported that the British still stood firm and that they retained their grip on Messenes ridge, Lestrain, Ploegsteert wood and Hollebecke, against which the enemy had been launching furious assaults all day.

In the Toul sector the Germans launched an attack against Pershing's American troops which was repulsed with considerable loss to the enemy. The excellent gunnery of the Americans completely broke up the assault before the barbed wire entanglements were reached.

American and French troops fighting together repelled a German attack in the Apremont forest. The Americans captured a number of prisoners.

The great news in connection with the fighting on Thursday was Gen. Haig's announcement that the retreat of the British armies in the north was at end and that the line must from then on be held at whatever cost. It was officially given out that the strategic retirement of the allied armies before the onslaught of the Germans had come to a halt and that no more ground would be given. "Every position must be held to the last man," reads the order.

The United Press reported that Field Marshal Hindenburg had been wounded by a piece of a bomb dropped from an airplane and was under treatment at a Strassburg hospital. The wound was slight.

Gen. Haig in his report for the day announced that the French army was moving rapidly to the support of the English. This was taken to mean that plans for a counterblow at the Germans had been completed and that the Allies might be expected to strike back at any time.

Further reports of the fighting around Toul on Wednesday show that the American troops holding the sector distinguished themselves and received high praise from French and English commanders. The Germans laid down a barrage fire under which they advanced. The Americans directed a counter-blow directly at the enemy trenches with the result that less than 200 of the attackers were able to cross No Man's land. The Americans poured a deadly fire into the raiders, after which they climbed out of the trenches and drove the enemy back. Protected by machine guns and automatic gun fire they then dragged the dead Germans back to their own trenches for identification. The ground between the trenches was strown with enemy dead after the assault.

Sunday seems to have been the quietest day on the western front since the present great German drive was launched. The artillery exchanges had abated in violence while there were no infantry attacks of any importance. After continual fighting for possession of Neue Eglise, in which the place was lost and retaken by the British a half dozen times, they were finally forced to withdraw.

French reinforcements arrived in Flanders on Monday and it was officially stated that the allied armies were in sufficient force to preclude all danger of the enemy reaching the channel ports. One correspondent claims that the Germans have an army of 1,590,000 men attempting to separate the English and French armies but that the time for the success of any such operation has passed. It was confidently claimed that it can never be accomplished.

Thousands of people gathered in the streets of Prague, the capital of Bohemia, on Saturday, denounced the Germans and cheered the Entente and President Wilson, says a dispatch from that city to the Lokal Anzeiger of Berlin.

That the Germans paid a terrible price for any small gain they may have been able to make during the past week is certain. A Rutger's report contains the following: "The methods of the enemy attack make absolutely inevitable his heavy losses. His formula for shock tactics consists in pushing forward in succession dense waves at close intervals, and as the front line is killed off the others press on by the sheer weight of the men behind. Frequently his advance has been checked by the barrier of piled-up corpses.

The Germans, throwing fresh legions against the British, on Tuesday gained possesion of Wytschete, Bailleul and most of the Messines ridge. The Associated Press report of the capture of these important positions says: "Probably there has been no more bitter struggle during the war than that waged along the battle line through the towns of Bailleul, Neuve Eglise, Wulverghem and Wyschaete. Neuve Eglise was taken Monday, but Bailleul held out until fresh masses of German troops were hurled into the fray and charged repeatedly on the tired defenders. The same might be told of Wulverghem and Wyschete, while the battle for Messines ridge must have been frightful in its intensity."

The report goes on to say that if the German succeses are continued there must be a general British retirement from the Ypres section and possible for some distance further north, while the cutting off of the railroad through Hazebrouk would be still more serious for the British.

So important are the German advances of the past few days regarded that it is admitted that a counter-attack must sweep them back into the lowlands once more. All accounts of these battles speak of the small British forces which attempted to withstand the terrific onslaught of the attackers.

Contradicting the report that American troops have successfully withstood assaults by the Germans, a message from Berlin, via Amsterdam says that the American positions were taken by storm and that they were held against determined counter-attacks.

Tremendous pressure exerted by picked fresh troops in the desperate German effort to drive the British from Messines ridge has compelled a slight retreat from the British line on the northern side of the Lys battle front on Tuesday. The town of Bailleul has been evacuated and the British front withdrew to a line running north of that town to north of Wulverghem and hence to Wytschaete.

An Austrian offensive against Italy is imminent and will be started on a large scale in the opinion of Italian embassy in Washington on Tuesday.

Helped Stranded Soldier.

A young man claiming to be a soldier in the Canadian army struck town Saturday from Winnipeg. He was on his way to his former home in Cass Lake after having been injured while training to become an ambulance driver at the Winnipeg barracks. While he is a citizen of this country he enlisted with the Canadians and expected soon to be sent across when the accident happened which injured his back. He was broke when he struck town and was helped out by Trainmaster H. D. Keene, who saw to it that he was provided with the necessities until the train left for Cass Lake on Monday morning.

Is Your Favorite Included.

Tobacco users of this city and vicinity have of late been noticing gradual advances in the various brands, some of which have been quite popular. And still more lately has come announcements of some brands having been withdrawn from the market.

The first brand to be taken off was Bull Durham, which it was said was all to be used for the soldiers. Next came the statement that Duke's Mixture was likewise taken over by the government for its fighting men. Close on the heels of this was the report of Velvet being taken off, temporarily at least, if not for the full war period.

And this week the users of the weed were informed that Tuxedo had fallen in line and was to be sent to the men on the high seas and in the trenches.

Cleanup Notice.

All citizens of Thief River Falls are hereby notified that all refuse and accumulations on their places must be cleaned up by May 1, 1918, or the work will be taken in hand by the city street department and the cost charged against the property.

An Appreciated Donation.

Members of the local chapter of the Red Cross, its officers and directors, are all profoundly thankful for a donation of $100 just placed to the credit of the Chapter by the Merchants & Farmers State bank of this city.

This sum was set aside for this purpose as it was deemed more expedient in these war times to make such a donation rather than to give away souvenirs on the opening day of the bank.

THE WAR

Country, First; Self, Second—is the inflexible rule of the day.

Manufacturers, jobbers, dealers, salesmen, and consumers are guiding their every activity with the thought uppermost in mind that the United States is engaged in the most titanic struggle of the ages—a struggle for its very existence.

Such do not have to be told more than once that they MUST conserve Food, that they MUST buy Liberty Bonds and Contribute to the Red Cross, that they MUST NOT profiteer or hoard, that they MUST guard their speech, that they MUST instantly obey the every dictate of their government.

They would rather die a miserable death than do anything to hamper their country in its war-time activities.

If their businesses interfere with the government, they are glad to get into other businesses.

If their profits have been curtailed because of the fact that their country is at war, they go about readjusting their affairs, uncomplainingly, and with a smile on their faces, and a determination to do their utmost.

If their sources of raw material have been taken away from them because of the entrance of their country into the world war, they bear such personal losses in silence and without rancor.

They would rather sacrifice THEIR BUSINESSES, THEIR HOMES, THEIR FORTUNES, THEIR LIVES, THEIR ALL than have future generations know that THEY OBSTRUCTED.

As for the others—God pity their souls! Hell on earth will be their full measure when in their more sober after-war moments they reflect on their war-time thoughts and their war-time deeds.

Oh, do not doubt, you profiteers, you hoarders, you disloyalists and you obstructionists—a full measure of punishment will be meted out to you for your iniquities and misconduct.

YOURS will be the heavy heart when your grandchildren ask you what YOU did to win the war.

YOURS will be a guilty conscience when in your old age you reminisce on the unpatriotic activities of your youth.

YOURS will be a broken soul when the inevitable day of reckoning sounds its final call.

Right face, men, it is not too late! Open your souls and cleanse yourselves; stop doing what you know is wrong and FIGHT FOR YOUR COUNTRY with YOUR BODIES, YOUR BRAINS, YOUR HEARTS, YOUR DOLLARS—YOUR ALL—and WE WILL WIN THE WAR.

SLOW IN STARTING MUNICIPAL WORK

WELL DRILLING CONTRACTORS NOT YET ON JOB—GAS PROJECT HALTS.

While the weather during the past two months has been the finest ever seen for outdoor work no attempt to resume the sinking of the Duluth avenue well for the city has been made by the Swanson Artisan Well company, the contractors. The entire water supply plan of the city is brought to a standstill because this second well is not completed and the council members are beginning to ask the reason for the delay. The Swanson concern was supposed to resume work as soon as the weather permitted but so far nothing whatever has been done.

The well at the power house has furnished enough water for the needs of the city since last fall but with the increased consumption of the summer months it is feared that the supply will be insufficient. No water has been pumped from the river since the well was placed in commission, the past winter being the first during which this was unnecessary.

The gas plant project also seems to be lagging. It is understood that bonds for work of this character is a trouble in getting material is partly to blame for the delay, while the difficulty of disposing of industrial contributing cause. The concern granted the franchise has purchased a site for the pressure tank near the Soo roundhouse but no work of any kind has yet been performed. Under the terms of the charter the plant was to be furnishing gas to the people of the city within one year from the time it was signed. This period expires sometime in August.

SURPLUS FLOUR IS BEING RETURNED

HOLDER MUST STAND ANY REDUCTION IN PRICE IN ALL CASES.

The announcement that all those having over a thirty days supply of wheat flour in their homes might return the same to stores or mills where purchased was well received throughout the entire country as well as here in Pennington county.

Reports from Arkansas state that down there more than 7,500 barrels had been brought in and turned over to the government to be sent to the Allies. Other states are falling in line and large amounts are thus being secured with which to feed the nations which are battling side by side for a safe world in which to live.

Last Friday and Saturday several of the farmers of Pennington county approached retailers and wholesalers of this city in reference to returning their excess supplies.

In several instances it came to light that the farmers who had these large supplies on hand had paid in some cases as much as $1 per hundred more than the present prices, and there was some hesitation on their part to let go of the stock, believing that the ones who sold the flour should stand the loss. The merchants and wholesalers could not see it in that light.

Accordingly the Thief River Grocery Co. was appealed to and Mr. Herrick called A. D. Wilson, state food administator, over the phone, stating the circumstances. The reply was that the purchaser of the wheat flour last summer or fall was the one who should stand the loss or he would be obliged to stand a fine of $5,000 with a possible two year imprisonment sentence on top of that.

Nels Olson.

Nels Olson the aged father of O. N. Olson, Mrs. Ed. Porpe and J. N. Olson of this city, died at the home of O. N. Olson on Monday at two o'clock p. m., after an illness of three weeks. Deceased had resided at the Olson home for the past five years. He was born in Norway and was 82 years of age at the time of his death. Besides the three children living here two sons live in North Dakota and a daughter at Spicer, this state. The body was on Tuesday taken to the latter place for burial. O. N. and J. N. Olson accompanied the remains. Short funeral services were conducted in this city Tuesday afternoon by Rev. A. N. Skogerboe.

The Theatres

Manager Lawrence has decided to keep the Lyceum closed except for special attractions until later in the season. Should conditions warrant he will at stated periods secure high class vaudeville troups and such other features as the public may want, but for the present the business does not warrant the expense of keeping two big houses open.

The Princess program for the week starts out with a Triangle play starring Winifred Allen. It is called "From Two to Six" and deals with the stealing of a valuable invention by an enemy of the inventor's country and recovered by his daughter. ter.

On Friday evening one of the best shows of the year will be presented when Jack Pickford appears in "Huck and Tom," this being taken from the great Mark Twain stories of Huckleberry Finn and Tom Sawyer.

Among the greatest favorites of the screen are Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne who star on Saturday night in "Their Compact." It is largely a western story dealing with mines and desperadoes.

The second of the "Sub-Deb" stories in which our animated little friend "Barabara" figures so conspicuously, will be the offering on Sunday night. Marguerite Clark is the star and has added greatly to her already ample reputation by her decidedly clever work in these great Mary Roberts Rinehart stories.

Monday evening "Her American Husband" wil be the feature. This is a story in which a Japanese girl marries an American. The outcome is not happy—for the brutal husband.

"The Wrath of Love," a great Fox stars, is the offering for Tuesday evproduction in which Virginia Pearson ening. This is a really charming story of love and war.

There are few more popular actors on the screen than Charles Ray. He is such a natural cuss that everyone likes him on general principles. He will be seen in his latest success, "The Family Skeleton," on Wednesday evening of next week.

SOLDIER BUNCH IS WIDELY SCATTERED

TEN OUT OF THE 16 WANTED ARE ON OTHER SECTIONS OF THE COUNTRY.

About 16 men will be required to fill Pennington county's quota for the draft contingent ordered to begin entraining on April 26, and as they are to be taken in the rotation in which they appear on the Class 1 list, the local exemption board has its duties rather well cut out in locating them. County Auditor Anderson has managed to keep pretty close track of his bunch, however, and has reached all who are due to go. The men are supposed to notify the board whenever they change their address, but this requirement is very often overlooked. Mr. Anderson found that 11 of the men wanted had departed for other fields since registering here last June and in some instances it was necessary to do considerable tracing before they were caught up with. They are all landed now, however, and have been notified that their presence here is requested sometime prior to Friday, April 26. Following are the names and present addresses of those who have left their place of registration: Frank A. Hoppe, Proctor, Minn.; Hans J. Hanson, Clayton, Wash.; Knut T. Berg, Dakota; Frank G. Cress, Ramona, S. D.; Osmund Ordahl, Iowa; William A. Adolphson, Superior; Arthur S. Alness, Kolze, Ill.; Gustaf A. Solum, Eagle Bend, Minn.; John Bundhund, Havre, Mont.; Edwin Ordland, Lancaster, Minn.; Harry A. Emory, Des Moines, Iowa. The five remaining in the county and notified to appear are: Leonard Morstad, Alfred Stenberg, Roland Head, James Havel and Axel Crown.

In a number of cases the men were traced to their present location through the postoffices. The postoffice department deserves a great deal of credit for the manner in which the employes are keeping track of men who may be required for service.

SENATOR NELSON IS AGAIN CANDIDATE

BELIEVES IT HIS PATRIOTIC DUTY TO CONTINUE AT THIS TIME.

United States Senator Knute Nelson of Minnesota issued an announcement the first of the week in which he stated that he would be a candidate to succeed himself at the general election next fall. He will file for the Republican nomination in a few days.

Management of the campaign will be left to his friends in Minnesota because he feels it his duty to remain at his post while Congress is in session.

The Senator made known his intentions in a statement addressed "To the People of Minnesota."

Not Slacker at Any Time.

"I was not a slacker in 1861 and I do not want to be a slacker in this far greater war," Senator Nelson explained.

After pleading full support to "our government" in winning the war, Senator Nelson sets forth his position in these few words:

"The welfare, the integrity and the stability of our country is uppermost in my heart, and I shall aim to further and promote the same under all circumstances and at all times."

Help Win the War.

Continuing the senator said: "My past record has been such that I do not deem it necessary to make any avowal of my patriotism and loyalty or of my hearty support of the Administration in the prosecution of the war.

"If re-elected I shall continue to aid our Government to the best of my ability in the great task of prosecuting the war to a successful issue.

PROWLER STAFF IS VERY BUSY BUNCH

HIGH SCHOOL ANNUAL THIS YEAR MOST ELABORATE EVER ATTEMPTED.

"The Prowler," the Senior class annual of the Thief River Falls high school, now in the process of fabrication at The Times' job rooms, will be the finest and most elaborate work of its kind ever turned out by the graduates of a Minnesota school. The volume will be replete with halftone engravings of the very finest kind and the accompanying text has been gotten up with great care and under the supervision of the school's most expert critics in matters of this kind.

The production of a book of this kind is a decidedly costly matter in these days of advancing prices and a part of the outlay has been met by the sale of advertising space to local merchants and professional men. This publicity matter is all placed in the back pages of the book and does not interfere with the reading matter in any manner. The editors and managers of the Prowler fully realize that it would have been impossible to produce a work of this kind this year without the liberal assistance given by the business men and the aid extended is fully appreciated.

The Prowler is this year in charge of the following staff: Editor in chief, John Steen; assistant editor, Velma Price; business manager, Alfred Krohn; assistant, Albert Crown; advertising manager, Charles Prichard; literary, Grace Kinsella; alumni, Florence Fasel; school activities, Myrtle Thomas; artists, Wilbur Roth and Ralph Hilson; funnybones, Elmer Smith, Lois Wold, Olaf Tharaldson and Marie Causin; kodak, Clara Oen, Alvin Tandberg, Virginia Will, Carolyn Mellby and Raymond Hanson; typists, Jeanette Oftedahl, Ruth Matthews and Florence Shetler.

A Parade of Tractors.

Yesterday was delivery day for Avery tractors at the establishment of C. Gustafson & Son, and seven machines were turned over to pleased purchasers. Before taking the machines from the plant they were formed into a parade about the city and made quite an imposing showing. Following are the buyers: John Bratrud, Thief River Falls; John Phillip, Germantown; S. E. Rowberg, Highlanding; A. B. Johnsrud, Erie; William Watson, Grygla; Soren Nygaard, Grygla; Anton Horish, Mavie; Hans Stensrud, Holt; and H. O. Wiken, Hazel.

Camouflage Clothing

Camouflage clothing looks like what it is not. It is an imitation of something that is real. It is "store window clothing"—fairly good for display purposes, but not built to stand the rigid test of wear.

It is sometimes hard to distinguish between artfully camouflaged clothing, made from cotton adulterated fabrics, and real clothing made of all wool. There is a way of knowing.

The Hart Schaffner & Marx label in your clothes is a guarantee of all wool fabrics. You want this kind of clothes because they are real economy—they wear longer and hold their shape and color-newness.

Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes offer a genuine investment opportunity, backed by the Honor Pledge of "the store with a Conscience"—that is your guarantee of better values, better merchandise and better service.

This Spring, practice sane clothes economy.

New Spring models in Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes—$27.50, $30.00 and $35.00.

IMPORTANT SALE

Women's High Grade Dresses

Starts

Saturday, April 20th

We have on hand about 50 high grade dresses, all new spring styles, not one has been in the store more than 30 days and a number have arrived within the last week. These garments will be placed on sale

SATURDAY, APRIL 20th

Every Dress goes---none reserved

These dresses represent some of the best designers and makers in the Eastern fashion centers and are of such styles that will appeal only to the women of refined and discriminating taste. The materials are of Georgette crepe, crepe de chine, charmeuse, crepe de metor, taffeta, jersey foulards and serges, in all the newest colors and combinations.

We wish to impress upon you that this is not a sale of cheap dresses, but a sale of high grade dresses priced away below regular price and priced at about the same that ordinary dresses would cost.

It will pay you to invest in one of these beautiful dresses even if you haven't the ready use for one at this time, as styles such as these are so far advanced compared with ordinary dresses that they will serve you well next season.

You will probably wonder why we are holding a sale on such new goods at this time. Well, here it is in a nut shell. WE OVER-BOUGHT, and rather than to carry them over until next season we are going to give you the benefit of our mistake.

Come prepared to invest as it will be true economy on your part.

We are not going to mention any prices, but come and see and be convinced that every word we say is true. You will also find lovely coats to go with these dresses, marked specially for this sale. Also new Gossard and C-B corsets and brassieres to bring out the graceful lines of these frocks.

CORRECT DRESS FOR WOMEN & CHILDREN

Good Things to Eat Without Using Wheat

That wheat flour is one of the things that the American people could get along without altogether if necessity arose is being more thoroughly demonstrated every day. The good things that can be made for the table without the use of wheat flour are innumerable if only the correct way of going about the preparation of them is known. There are thousands of housewives in the United States who are helpless when it comes to using something else in place of wheat flour. This is not their fault as there has always been a great sufficiency of this meal for all purposes. Now, however, things are different and a knowledge of how to prepare food without its use is necessary. Several ladies in Thief River Falls have recipes for bakery products made without the use of wheat in any form and have submitted these for publication in The Times in the hope that housekeepers will try them out. They will be found worthy of serious consideration before long even if that period has not already arrived. The publication of these recipes will be continued as long as they are furnished.

Two cups sponge, two cups wheat, barley or middlings, two cups boiled rice, two tablespoons corn syrup, two tablespoons shortening, two teaspoons salt. For two loaves.

Mrs. E. E. Zeh.

Oatmeal Muffins.

One and one-half cups milk, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups rolled oats, 1 cup flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder. Pour milk over oats and let soak one-half hour. Add egg and melted fat. Add to dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. (From the Minneapolis Journal.)

Tested by Mrs. M. H. Connelly.

Rye and Corn Bread.

Make a sponge at night using 1 quart potato water, 2 cups mashed potatoes, 1½ quarts rye flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 yeast cake. In the morning add 1 quart corn flour, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup shortening, ½ cup molasses and about 2 quarts white flour.

Mrs. T. L. Melgaard.

Oatmeal Cookies.

One cup sugar, 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon fat, 2½ cups oatmeal, 2 teaspoons baking powder. Last the whites of 2 eggs beaten stiff. Drop from spoon and bake in slow oven.

Mrs. F. J. Stebbins.

Oatmeal Cookies.

¾ cup butter and lard mixed, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, ½ cup sweet milk, 1 teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 cups oatmeal, 1½ cups flour, ½ cup ground raisins. Roll on floured board ⅛ in. thick and cut with cookie cutter. Bake a nice brown in a hot oven.

Mrs. Arthur P. Fox.

Sour Milk Corn Bread.

2 cups cornmeal, 2 cups sour milk, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt. Cook in double boiler 10 minutes. When cool add 1 egg beaten and 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in water. Bake in shallow pan.

Mrs. L. G. Larson.

Barley and Corn Bread.

Two-thirds cake yeast, 1 quart warm water, 1½ cups cornmeal and enough barley flour to make stiff batter. In the morning add 1 tablespoon shortening in 1 cup warm water. Add salt and ½ cup syrup. Knead stiff with white flour.

Mrs. J. H. Hardesty.

Conservation Gems.

2 eggs beaten lightly, 2 tablespoons of sugar, 1 teaspoon of salt, 3 tablespoons of lard substitute. All beaten thoroughly. Add 1 cup of sweet milk, 1 cup of barley flour, 1 tablespoon of rice flour in cup and add enough corn flour for half a cup. 2 rounding teaspoons of baking powder, sift three times. Makes 1 dozen gems. Very fine.

Mrs. Daniel Shaw.

SCHOOL NOTES

High school and the seventh and eighth grades close the current school year on Friday, May 17th. This early closing will release a large number of boys and girls capable of supplying the constant call from town and country for help.

Graduation for the eighth grade occurs at the Auditorium on the afternoon of Friday, May 17th and the regular high school commencement exercises at the same place and date, but in the evening. These will be marked by the most rigid simplicity and practically no expense will be incurred in connection therewith.

Wednesday's chapel period was assigned Mr. Laird, secretary of the Pennington County Red Cross organization. He presented many facts relating to the society's growth, work and purpose and delivered a plain, strong discussion of Red Cross activities.

The Board of Education, at its meeting, Wednesday evening, unanimously decided to prohibit the study of German in the local schools following the close of the current school year.

Supt. White of Ely, Minn., visited the local school on Wednesday in search of teachers.

Mr. Schmitt and his boys have packed the Y. M. C. A. tables, recently constructed in the school shop, for shipment to Fort Dodge.

The annual Junior reception to their Senior friends occurs at the Lincoln building next Saturday evening. Miss Antoinette Johnson, Junior adviser, and her class officers have wisely and patriotically chosen to make this function articulate with the economic views prevailing at this time.

The senior class play was beautifully presented at the Auditorium last Friday afternoon and evening. The training of the players was in the hands of Mrs. Pitkin and this assured a first class presentation. Necessarily, the evening receipts were somewhat curtailed by the extraordinary expenses to which everybody is subject just now. The net proceeds of the play will be donated to patriotic purposes.

The school faculty filled not an inconsiderable place in the liberty bond parade last Saturday evening.

RURAL SCHOOL NOTES.

The county superintendent feels the necessity of urging the school boards of the rural schools to consider the question of hiring the teachers for next year at an early date. The State Department of Education has issued an appeal to all school authorities to see that teachers are hired at an early date as they will unquestionably be scarce. Let me therefore ask the school boards to use their utmost efforts to hire their teachers now. Our teachers the last year did efficent work as a rule and their work would be appreciated if they asked to continue for another school year.

The manual training department of the Thief River Falls high school will graduate a number of efficient teachers this year. Most of them will seek positions in the home school. When the school board then receives applications kindly acknowledge the receipt of them and take the question of hiring teachers up for immediate consideration. Do not let the teacher wait long for an answer. Boards are protected in their agreement with a teacher under contract, and if the teacher does not live up to her agreement her certificate will be revoked, says the State Department of Education.

The high school board examinations begin May 21. Most of the schools will be closed at that time. Nevertheless we wish to give the exams. to all pupils who feel prepared to take them. Teachers must send requests at once for such examinations. Please do not forget this, otherwise the opportunity to take them may be lost for the schools.

Will the respective school boards see to it that all the requirements for state aid are complied with? The aid received is quite an item now in defraying the expenses of teachers' salaries. Why should not all schools partake in this income? Answer by certifying for state aid in all of our rural schools at next annual school election.

The following schools in the county having organized Red Cross Auxiliaries have paid their dues: Dist. Nos. 4, 5, 6, 8, 9, 12, 25, 26, 28, 29, 30, 31, 33, 35, 38, 39, 41, 42, 44, 46, 48, 51, 53, 54, 59, 64, 66, 67, 68, 69, 73, 99, 106, 125, 127, 149, 165, 166, 178, 180 and 221.

In visiting the schools of the county I have noted with considerable interest and satisfaction the spirit of patriotism and loyalty toward the government and the sympathy manifested toward the boys in the trenches. In several of the schools there have been service flags displayed denoting the number of boys who have gone forth from the respective rural districts. In these schools the spirit of patriotism has been unqualified.

In Dist. No. 4 we noted four persons had gone from one family, the McCrums; Dist. No. 46 had six stars in its service flag; and we had the pleasure on the 12th to attend an entertainment in Dist. No. 164 where a service flag containing nine stars was dedicated. One of the stars was a golden one, representing one Fred Nordland, who at one time attended school in this district, but who enlisted from Canada and who fell at the battle front in France. The schools have been represented by one or more of our best and bravest boys.

The teaching force of the county is represented in the service by the following persons who at some time taught school, namely: Iver K. Lind, Myles Jackson, A. O. Brevik and C. S. McReynolds. Mr. McReynolds enlisted from Clearwater county but he taught the school of Dist. 37. I am sure our boys will give a good account of themselves in the service and we folks at home must not be lagging in their support.

Our schools are now closing. Uniformally the work has been well taken care of by a staff of efficient teachers. Your superintendent trusts that the teachers will remain and engage school again. The county superintendent regrets to see some of our best teachers leave but the call of the country in its dire needs has by them been nobly answered and we wish again to extend to the boys God speed and success. I regret too to see school dist. No. 22 lose for its service, Miss Amanda Storvick, who has done such excellent work the past school year.

More and more the undersigned comes to recognize the importance and value of education and training to our boys and girls. I wonder if we as educators—hereby meaning teachers and especially parents—see in the pupil of today, as it sits in the school or as we meet them in the daily walks of life, the future adult man or woman? Will they then be fully equipped, mentally, morally and physically, to take up the duties of life? We should then behold them as successful men and women, living wires, capable persons to do the best for themselves and for society. The factors in this process of development are the parents, the home, society in general, the school, and the church. Are these agencies the best? I know that there is room for advancement on all sides.

Let us, especially in these times when there is so much to distract us from the true educational course, be on our guard and do our best for the men and women to be, namely our boys and girls.

Respectfully submitted,
E. A. MOSTUE,
Co. Supt. of Schools.

WHEAT SAVING IN CANADA EXPLAINED

CONTRARY TO REPORT, OUR NEIGHBORS ARE VERY MUCH RESTRICTED.

"What is Canada doing in food conservation?" is a question which is being asked quite commonly of late, with the inference that our neighbor was not doing as much as we in the United States. No doubt this was due in part to the fact that the food regulations up there are not the same as in this country. The following statement of the case, taken from a letter to A. D. Wilson, Food Administrator for Minnesota, and written by William W. Fischer, of the U. S. Food Administration, may make it plain what is being done practically all over the Dominion:

"Canada produces very little outside of oats and barley that may be used as substitutes for wheat. The United States has a large production of corn and our people are used to the consumption of it in large quantites for food. This year Canada has a scant oats and barley crop, and it has been impossible to secure corn from us in any considerable quantity.

"Canada has undertaken to conserve food by the elimination of waste, regulation of food served in public eating places, prohibition of the use of grains in the manufacture of distilled liquor and the brewing of malted liquor except two per cent beer; the substitution of other grains for wheat in breakfast foods where such cereals are required, so that there are now in Canada, scarcely any pure wheat breakfast foods. They have effected a standardization of flour and the prohibition of the use of low grade flours for feed purposes and the manufacture of farinas so that the whole of the flour, and the wheat is used for human food, no divisions or separations being allowed, and the extraction of flour from the wheat berry has been somewhat increased.

"The manufacture of bread has been standardized and all waste in connection therewith eliminated, bread being manufactured from standard flour only and the quantities of ingredients being limited."

THE PRAISE CONTINUES.

Everywhere We Hear Good Reports of Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thief River Falls is no exception. Every section of the U. S. resounds with praise of Doan's Kidney Pills. Fifty thousand persons are giving testimony in their home newspapers. The sincerity of these witnesses, the fact that they live so near, is the best proof of the merit of Doan's. Here's a Thief River Falls case.

Mrs. Joe Becker, 309 St. Paul Ave., says: "I had a real bad spell with my kidneys about four years ago and nothing did me any good. I had awful headaches in the back of my head and it times suffered from shortness of breath. My kidneys acted irregularly and I was nervous and discouraged. After everything else had failed, I got Doan's Kidney Pills and it wasn't long before I got better. I have relied on this remedy ever since and it has warded off all symptoms of kidney complaint."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Becker had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Step Lively! Corns Quit with "Gets-It"

The Great Corn-Loosener of the Age. Never Fails. Painless.

Watch my step? What's the use! I go along "right side up without care," even with corns, because I use "Gets-It", the painless, off-like-a-banana-peel corn remover. I tried other ways galore, until I was blue

Corns Simply Can't Stop Us, We Use "Gets-It" in the face and red in the toes. No more for me. Use "Gets-It." It never fails. Touch any corn or callus with two drops of "Gets-It," and "Gets-It" does the rest. It's a relief to be able to stop cutting corns, making them bleed, wrapping them up like packages and using sticky tape and salves. It removes any corn clear and clean, leaving the toe as smooth as your palm. You can wear those new shoes without pain, dance and be frisky on your feet. It's great to use "Gets-It."

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

A Noisy Awakening.

Long before the sun had had an opportunity to give light to supercede the brighteness of the moon, or to tint the eastern sky beyond the snowy mountains, or to take away the ghost-like appearance of the spruce trees standing guard all around the cabin, were we astir.

No sooner had I crawled out of the sleeping sack when Toluook took it for a signal to round up the sleeping dogs. He entered into such a rough and tumble fight with Blackie that I struck out blindly in the dark, and instead of reaching him my fist came in contact with one of the posts of the building, causing such excruciating pain that I wholly forgot, for the time being, that our disturber of peace was in action.

No Question of Appetite.

There was a general stir, though, throughout the whole cabin before the disturbance was quited down, and it was not long before we had water hot for our tea and the bacon sizzling in the pan ready for the beans which had been cooked and frozen, and sacked before leaving home. It was like music to hear those frozen beans rattle down into the frying pan, and it was an undescrible pleasure to eat them after the bacon grease had warmed them up. It was never a question of whether we had an appetite or not on the trail, but it was always a question as to whether we had enough prepared to satisfy it.

A Glorious Sunrise.

When we had everything packed into the sled, and the dogs hitched, it was still dark. We had traveled some little distance and were reveling in the strength of young manhood and the joy of being able to breast the stinging cold of an Aarctic morning, when we were gladdened by the breaking dawn, and then the first rays of light as they were reflected from the tops of those tall mountains making their snowy whitness a glistening whiteness whiter than the snow itself. Then the great, big, red sun came pushing up through the pass we were headed for, and in the face of it all, we kept toiling on, making great giant-like shadows that trailed back and fell along the two narrow slender tracks that were paralled in the snow.

As we made the ascent on the long gradual incline reaching to the divide which separated the Koyuk River from the right fork of the Buchland, we realized that it was extremely cold.

By noon we were on the divide above the timber line; still we could look back over the trail we had come and see the black spruce below us, and, looking ahead, we could see that the country which we were entering was not free from trees.

We stopped only a minute for lunch, for we knew that somewhere ahead of us there was a deserted igloo or native underground house, and this we wished to reach.

A Welcome Igloo.

All the afternoon we hurried on, and as night was drawing near we kept a sharp lookout for the igloo. We had almost decided to camp in the open, fearing that we had passed our shelter and had failed to recognize it when, as we rounded one more bend in the river before giving up, we were rewarded by seeing a mound of snow, as it were, but which proved to be the igloo we were seeking. While the accommodations were not all that could be desired, nevertheless we had a dry place to sleep and were protected in a way from the cold biting wind. Our old friend, the spruce's boughs, piled into a great bed added much to our comfort, and we were awake in the morning refreshed and ready for another day's run.

A Flock of Ptarmigan.

During the day, as we drove along, we would disturb great flocks of ptarmigan. There would be hundreds in a flock. As they alit on the alder bushes along the streams in quest of buds for their food, they would appear as great snow flakes dropping from the sky. Because of them, an incident occurred which almost lead to that which is to be feared more than anything else, by two people traveling alone on the trail—a misunderstanding and harsh words. Mr. Flannagan was an enthusiast when it came to hunting. A flock of these birds settled on bushes near the sled. He took the gun and started in pursuit, leaving me standing alone with the dogs.

Patience Was Tested.

It was intensely cold. I was warm from the exercise and I soon became chilled. The birds led him on and on into the brush. I could not stand the enforced idleness and I could neither hear nor see him. I waited and waited, then I took up his trail. After I had gone a half mile or so, I heard him calling me from the vicinity of the sled. I tried to make him hear me but as he was not acute of hearing I could answer at the top of my lungs and it would not stop him from hallowing to attract my attention. It had become so one-sided with both of us making the same exertion that I stopped trying to make him hear, and lent all my energies to getting into a portion where he could see me.

Danger in Misunderstandings.

At last he saw me coming, and, putting his gun aside, he took the hardest place, running in front of the dogs, and kept that place the rest of the forenoon. Never a word was said to this day by either himself or myself regarding the incident. Our relations remained extremely pleasant during the whole of the journey, when it would have taken so little to mar them. It is terribly embarrassing for two men to be on the trail and have to eat together, sleep together, and work together and to see one another continuously, if their relationship is not the most pleasatnt.

Many reports are made in that country when one man murders the other on the trail and with the hatred that is engendered by continuous close contact, I do not doubt the truth of many of the statements.

Hospitable Natives.

On the third day of our traveling without seeing a single soul we came in the evening to a little village of three igloos located on the bank of the river along which we had been traveling. Here the women sewed and patched our worn boots, cooked our dog food, carried us wood and water, and gave us the stove to cook upon. They beseiged us with curios in trade for a handful of sugar, a cupful of tea, some crackers, until we feared for our supplies. They showed us their skins of fox and martin, brought the sick to be treated and when bed time came gave us the platform or bed while two of the boys slept on the floor.

Cloud of Ice Particles.

The following morning, as we started out in the light of the waning moon, the cold was intense. It grew colder during the day, and as night came on there was an "Arctic fog" all about us. The moisture in the atmosphere was so frozen that the small particles held suspended in the aid made, as it were, a cloud all about us. We could not see the banks of the river upon which we were running, because of it. Were we to be thrown near one of the banks, we could make out the dim outline of its contour ebfore stumbling against it.

Most Penetrating Cold.

We breathed in a jerky way, as the cold hurt our lungs, and would not permit of us taking full deep breaths so necessary in running. The moisture from our eyes and breath froze upon our eyelashes, until we saw with difficulty. The cold bit into our faces until we knew they were white with the frost. We had to keep moving to keep warm. The dogs were pulling evenly in their tugs, making no noise more than that made by the crunching of the snow underneath their feet.

Neither Mr. Flannigan nor I spoke. There was an awfulness about the quiet that reigned over us in that coming Arctic night. To the imaginative mind it could have portended evil. It was intensified, had we been at all superstituous, by the black winged messenger of death as his harsh voice broke the awful stillness in the gathering darkness when he croaked just over our heads his old song of "never more." Then there was for a little time the sound of the sled as it moved over the frozen snow, and again we heard coming down from the river up which the raven had winged his way the same old song repeated, as though he were mocking our efforts, "nevermore, nevermore."

The Welcome Shelter.

The mercury must have registered at least sixty degrees below zero. If we slept in the open it was to be our first night out and our worst one. *We just kept running and our wish*ing was so intense that we fain would call it a prayer that we might for this night find shelter. We hugged the right bank of the river, for we knew that somewhere in the neighborhood was the remains of an old dilapidated sod house. Our imagination pictured mound after mound as though we could see this old house all covered with snow. Not only that, but our fancies grew a pace and our dreams of comfort and open fire places, made us see lights and smoke through the fog and the gathering night. These were beautiful visions until we reached the point where reality made them untrue. I was tired and was ready to stop and rest and make the best of it; but Mr. Flannagan kept on and at last his persistance was rewarded for we reached this shelter which we had been seeking.

But Little Improvement.

Oh, you, in your warm homes with your doors and windows sealed up against the frost, could you have entered in with zest in the joy of our find? There were no doors to close, for the openings were wide to the ingress and egress of winter's army of frost imps ready to sacrifice the comforts of an Arctic traveler. The seal intestine drawn taut over the window sash to give protection from the cold showed but the fastenings where once it had been. The roof no longer was intact, for only that portion leading down to the eaves was whole. On one side underneath this we put our sleeping sack making our bed on some grass that had been formerly gathered and strewn on the floor. In the centre we built an open fire, for the smoke was free to leave at will.

Too Cold For Dogs.

So cold was it, that the dogs, contrary to their custom of investigating their camping place while waiting for their daily feed, upon being unhitched, immediately sought shelter in the most protected part of the igloo, each rolling himself up into a ball to keep warm.

Eating Under Difficulties.

The hurry occasioned by unpacking the sled, gathering dry wood for a fire, and cutting it up into suitable lengths, kept us from freezing until the fire was started. While the carrier cooked supper, I found the dog feed, and calling the dogs to me threw to each a dry salmon and a piece of frozen bacon. When my work was done I crawled into the sleeping sack, dressed as I had been on the trail. When supper was ready I ate it with my hood and mittens on. But my tea was cold before I could drink it The beans seemed never to have been warmed up though, they were fresh from the fire. The fork froze to my lips. The biscuits and daughnuts were so hard that I first cut them up with the ax that I might be better able to eat them. I was glad when my appetite was satisfied—glad when we could draw the hood of the sleeping sack over our heads and go to sleep.

Rather Cramped Quarters.

Poor Sigolook suffered and could not sleep because of his poor coat, and twice we kicked him from the sleeping sack which he saught for warmth. On one other occasion I was awakened in the night by a cramp which had been brought on from dying in one position too long, I awakened Flannagan and asked him if he would be so kind as to turn over as I wished to change my position. He gladly complied with my wish and we both turned to the opposite side from that on which we had been sleeping. Our sleeping sack was made for two, but it was so small that we had to lie spoon fashion—when we wished to turn the other one turned with him.

It was still cold in the morning, but with the hurry and hustle of getting started we keept warm and were soon on the trail and going down the river toward the sea. By noon we reached salt water and at night we found a prospectors empty cabin with a stove, where we staid for the night.

"Granny" Chamberlain

Everybody's friend when they have coughs and colds and their children have croup and whooping cough.

Most everyone knows me. I have been going from home to home for nearly fifty years—always welcome, too, for I never fail in their hour of need.

I have helped young mothers whose babies were choking with croup, and been the comfort of parents whose children tramp to school through the wet winter weather. Many a cold and attack of bronchitis I have warded off, and thousands I have helped through the anxious moments of whooping cough. I have come to the aid of mothers and fathers when they had colds and influenza, and have been a relief to old folks suffering from bronchitis and asthma.

I have had a most varied experience; I go everywhere—among the rich and the poor, in cities and the country.

Now don't forget "Granny" Chamberlain! You will see me often now, for I am going to tell you of my experience and what can be done in your home with

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

OYEZ! OYEZ! OYEZ! Hear the Verdict of the Test Car Jury.

"Secure sure tire service in Tested Tires. They give sure service because it is proven service. Their endurance and durability have been proved in the one way to assure mileage to the motorist, under the car on the road, every type of road, throughout 4,178,744 tire miles."

That is the verdict of the jury of Goodrich's forty Test Cars, which, for a year have hammered Goodrich Tires from state to state, putting the nation-wide test to them. Every kind of road, every kind of climate, every kind of weather shared in that verdict.

"These tires defeated us," the roads testified. On such testimony the verdict of the Test Cars proclaims, "Matchless in strength and dependability are Goodrich Tested Tires." Here is certainty of service for the tire user, because it is proven service.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS have proved themselves in actual road tests under light and heavy cars, conquerors of the road. Hearken to this verdict brought from America's roads, and make sure of your tire service in the tires that won the title "America's Tested Tires."

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Three Hundred Forty-two and 40-100 ($342.40) Dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Edward W. Osgood and Jennie Pearl Osgood, his wife, Mortgagors, to B. H. Chase, Mortgagee, bearing date the First day of March, 1917, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the Fifth day of September, 1917, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., in Book 57 of Mortgages, on page 150.

AND WHEREAS, That said B. H. Chase, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum Seventeen Hundred Two and 40-100 ($1702.40) Dollars, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz:

The Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section numbered Ten (10) in Township numbered One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North of Range numbered Forty-five (45) West of the Fifth principal Meridian—and containing One Hundred Sixty Acres, more or less according to the United States Government survey, thereof, lying and being in Pennington County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Thief River Falls, in said County and State, on the Eleventh day of May, 1918, at 10 o'clock A. M., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Seventeen Hundred Two and 40-100 Dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 25, A. D. 1918.

B. H. CHASE,
Mortgagee,
133 S. 7th St.
Minneapolis, Minn.

M-28-A-5-12-19-26-M-2

TO JOSEPHINE LA COUNT:

Take notice, that you are in default, under and according to the terms, conditions and provision of that certain contract dated July 9, 1915, whereby Frank La Count, of the town of Highlanding, County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, agreed to convey unto you, upon full and timely performance by you of your part of the terms, conditions and provisions thereof, reference to which contract for more particularity is hereby made, of the following described real estate situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, to-wit: Lots One (1) and Two (2), in Block Six (6) of Conley's Third Addition to the City of Thief River Falls, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the Office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Pennington County, Minnesota.

And that according to the terms, conditions and provision of said contract there became due and payable from you to said Frank La Count, on the first day of November, 1917, the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($150), with interest thereon at Ten (10) per cent per annum from the 9th day of July, 1915, and that you have failed to pay the taxes on said premises for the years 1915, 1916, 1917 and that at the date of this notice said amounts and interest, still remains over-due and unpaid, and such default as above specified still exists.

Now therefore, you are hereby notified, that unless within Ninety (90) days after the service of this notice you pay to the said Frank La Count, at the Citizens State Bank, in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, the amount of money above stated, with interest to the date of payment, and the costs of serving of this notice, and perform the terms and conditions, and comply with the provisions of said contract on your part to be performed, said contract will be cancelled and terminated and all your right, title and interest thereunder, and in and to the land and property covered thereby forfeited and annulled, said cancellation or termination on said contract to take effect on the 27th day of July, 1918.

Dated April 10, 1918.

ORDINANCE NO. 158.

An Ordinance entitled, an ordinance to amend Section one of Ordinance No. 71, of the City of Thief River Falls, entitled "An Ordinance for the formation and government of the Fire Department of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota," approved March 12, 1907.

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That Section 1 of Ordinance No. 71 of the City of Thief River Falls, be, and the same hereby is amended to read as follows: "Section 1. The Fire Department of the City of Thief River Falls shall consist of one chief engineer and three assistants, one fire engineer, one secretary and six men. The members of the Fire Department shall receive annual compensation as follows, subject to fines for nonattendance at fires, or for violations of the rules of the department as prescribed by the City Council, viz: Chief Engineer one hundred fifty dollars; First Assistant, who shall be designated as captain of the chemical engine, one hundred fifteen dollars; Second assistant, who shall be designated as hose captain, one hundred ten dollars; Third assistant, who shall be designated as hook and ladder captain, one hundred ten dollars; Secretary one hundred twenty-five dollars; Firemen, ninety-five dollars each. Salaries shall be paid in four quarterly payments, in accordance with the quarterly report of the secretary, to be made upon blanks furnished by the City Council and to be known as the quarterly report pay roll of the fire department. The City Council will, from time to time, by resolution, prescribe all needed rules for the good government and preservation of good order in the hose houses and the proper conduct of the members of the department in or at said houses and at fires and will print the same and display the said rules in the houses and in such rules will prescribe penalties for the breach of said rules, which shall have the force of laws.

Section 2. All ordinances, or parts of ordinances, in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Section 3. This Ordinance shall be, and remain in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Passed April 9th, 1918.

O. L. IHLE,
President of the Council.

Approved April 10, 1918.

Someone Sent Him a pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug

Tobacco is about the only comfort the soldier has—and no chance to smoke on duty! But a satisfying chew of Real Gravely Plug—he can enjoy that even in a shell hole in No Man's Land.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c. pouches. A 3c. stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c. stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

OUST BARBERRY; SAVE THE WHEAT

State and Federal Agents Will Enforce Public Safety Commission's Order.

PLAN VIGOROUS DRIVE

School Children and Patriotic Citizens to Co-operate on Arbor Day, April 19—Barberry is Vicious Ally of Black Rust.

If you have barberry bushes—any kind of barberry bushes except the Japanese (Berberris thunbergii)—on your place, whether it be a city lot or a farm, prepare to dig them now.

In accordance with an order recently issued by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety, barberry bushes of all kinds, except the Japanese, are to be dug up and destroyed. A. G. Ruggles, state entomologist, has been commissioned to see that the order is carried out "forthwith," which means right now. He is already at work.

The reason for the order is seen in the fact that barberry bushes are the vicious allies of the black stem rust of wheat and other grains. This disease in 1916 caused a loss of 30,000,000 bushels of wheat in Minnesota alone—about $30,000,000 as wheat prices stood then, about $60,000,000 worth of wheat as prices stand now.

That the barberry bushes are allies of the black stem rust is seen in the fact that the winter spores of the rust, formed on wheat or grasses at harvest time and remaining on the straw until spring, cannot infect the wheat, oats, or grass plants directly, but must pass to the barberry plants, from which they are redistributed to the grains and grasses in condition to do mischief again. In this way, at least in part, the rust plague is repeated from year to year, especially if the weather conditions are favorable.

Safety Commission's Order.

The public safety commission's order for the eradication of the barberry was issued in order to bring the state into close co-operation with the federal government in a campaign against the black stem rust, under the general direction of E. C. Stakman of the Minnesota experiment station in the central west, and under the special direction of E. M. Freeman, dean of the Minnesota college of agriculture, in Minnesota.

The order in part reads:

"All barberry bushes except the species and variety known as Japanese barberry (Berberris thunbergii) are hereby declared to be, and the same are, a public nuisance and a menace to the public welfare, and their maintenance, propagation, sale, or introduction in the state is forbidden. It shall be the duty of every person owning or having charge of any premises on which barberry bushes of the rust-producing varieties are grown, or at any time found growing, to forthwith destroy such bushes.

"The state entomologist is authorized. . . . to cause all rust-producing barberry bushes within the state of Minnesota to be eradicated. . . . It shall be the duty of the county board of every county in this state to order and cause the eradication of all such rust-producing barberry bushes within their respective counties under the instructions and according to the directions of the state entomologist."

Eradication on Arbor Day.

In compliance with this positive order, arrangements have been made to interest the schools and communities of the state in the large eradication of barberry plants on Arbor day, April 19.

The spring is chosen as the time for the eradication campaign, because it is then that the spores of the rust pass from the old straw to the barberry to gain a fresh lease of life before passing on to the new crop of grains and grasses. If the barberry bushes are destroyed at this time therefore, there will be no new lease of life for the winter spores developed late last summer.

Japanese vs. Common Barberry.

The Japanese barberry is usually from 2 to 4 feet in height and has somewhat spreading, reddish brown stems, while the common barberry grows to a height of from 4 to 8 feet, with its stems mostly upright and of gray or grayish green color. The spines of the Japanese barberry are mostly single, while on the common barberry they are usually in groups of three. The spines on the former are genially smaller than on the latter, also. The buds and leaf clusters on the Japanese variety are about one-half inch or less apart; on the common variety they are about an inch apart. The leaves of the Japanese plants are spoon-shaped, smooth around the edges, and green; whereas those of the other kind are large and broad, have spiny teeth along the edges, and are either green or purple. The Japanese flowers and fruit grow singly or in small clusters, while those of the other grow in long clusters.

How to Destroy the "Spiny Huns."

To destroy the common barberry dig it up, being careful to get the whole crown and the large roots so that it may not sprout again.

An Advertisement for Liberty Bonds written by a Soldier

THEY say, who have come back from Over There, that at night the troubled earth between the lines is carpeted with pain. They say that Death rides whistling in every wind, and that the very mists are charged with awful torment. They say that of all things spent and squandered there young human life is held least dear. It is not the pleasantest prospect for those of us who yet can feel upon our lips the pressure of our mothers' good-by kiss. ★ But, please God, our love of life is not so prized as love of right. In this renaissance of our country's valor, we who will edge the wedge of her assault make calm acceptance of its hazards. For us the steel-swept trench, the stiffening cold—weariness, hardship, worse. For you for whom we go, you millions safe at home—what for you? ★ We shall need food. We shall need care. We shall need clothes for our bodies and weapons for our hands. We shall need terribly and without failure supplies and equipment in a stream that is constant and never-ending. From you who are our resource and reliance, who are the heart and hope of that humanity for which we smite and strive, must come these things. Buy your country's bonds. Buy them, today! ★ The United States Government Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan are an investment made safe for the people. They are in the highest possible sense a security of the people, by the people, for the people. They can be had in denominations so low and on such terms that virtually every citizen of this nation may share in the benefits they bring and the purposes they serve. They are today the safest possible investment in the world. ★ Buy your country's bonds. Buy them, as the mainspring of our holy endeavor. As your duty to the cradle and your fealty to the tomb, buy them. Buy them, today!

NO MIDDLE CLASS IN CHINA

Display of Only Most Expensive and Cheapest Merchandise in Stores Proves the Fact.

An observant traveler in China will not fail to notice when purchasing articles of daily necessity, that there are only two classes of articles—the most expensive and elaborate and the cheapest and crudest. This is but a proof of the absence of a middle class, says East and West News.

A fox fur gown worth a thousand dollars or a giant herb valued at a hundred dollars is not at all uncommon in China, but practical and well-made articles that would be welcomed by middle-class men are hardly obtainable. Those who admire Chinese handicrafts as achievements beyond the power of Japanese artisans do so because they have only seen articles intended for upper-class customers willing to spend countless dollars upon luxuries. Those, on the other hand, who declare Chinese artisans hopelessly crude, are men who have seen only the cheap articles intended for the masses.

Japanese who judge the ancient arts and industries of China by the best productions of the Han, Tang, Sung, Yuan, Ming and Ching dynasties that have been preserved here, forget that crude articles of common use have never crossed the sea of Japan and that only articles of the best kind came here as merchandise during the many centuries of commercial intercourse between the two countries.

Alaska Women Pretty.

A visitor remarked about the good looks of Alaskan women, and the fact that they dress with taste. Of course, our Northern women are pretty. "Why shouldn't they be?" queries the Anchorage Times. "They enjoy absolutely pure air, drink water as fresh as that from a mountain spring, get plenty of exercise, and take an active part in community affairs. They are cosmopolitan the same as the men are, and well-read and well-informed. As everyone knows, there is nothing so beautiful as good health. It is a joy even to see an Alaskan girl swinging along with a free, firm tread instead of the mincing step of her sister in the states, who gives the impression she is stepping on eggs. The Alaskan girl looks you squarely in the eye, gives you a frank hand-clasp and is sure of herself at all times.

Cures for Sore Throat.

One teaspoonful of pulverized sulphur and two teaspoonfuls of granulated sugar (taking one teaspoonful once in four hours) will cure a sore throat.

Spreading a cloth with lard and sprinkling it with turpentine will also cure a sore throat or a cold in the chest.

Burn sulphur on an old shovel or dust pan and carry it through the rooms in a home and this will prevent others from catching cold or sore throats off one who has them.

Gargle salt and tartar for sore throat.

Use mustard paste made of one part mustard to three or four parts flour for a cold or any form of larynx or throat or chest colds.

Encourage Stammering Child.

Never laugh at a child who stammers. Rather, seriously try to help him while he is a child, for the habit grows. Make him stop and rest a moment, then have him repeat what he was saying, very slowly, even resting between words. This alone often corrects the trouble. When you see that your child is embarrassed, do not hurt him, but wait, smiling encouragement, and when he is more at his ease, say, softly, "now I am ready to listen." Just as if you, and not he, were the cause of the delay.—Buffalo News.

INSTRUCTIONS IN COMFORT KIT WORK

BRANCHES OF RED CROSS NOW BUSY PROVIDING THESE NECESSITIES.

Six of the fifteen Pennington county branches of the Red Cross were represented at the school of instruction held last Saturday at the Auditorium, and those representing these branches were told how to make comfort kits, which are to be presented to each and every soldier and sailor who goes from Pennington county.

The branches represented are: Rocksbury, Hazel, Goodridge, Silverton, St. Hilaire and Bray.

Since the meeting Secretary Scott Laird has sent out a letter to each branch assigning them the task of making two comfort kits per month for the next few months. It is not known whether this number will be sufficient to amply supply all those who are to go from Pennington county or not, but if not, then the local chapter will provide the requisite number. Some two hundred have already been given the departing soldiers.

SHOULD ACCEPT NO POTATO CONTRACTS

FARMERS WARNED AGAINST PARTIES SEEKING TO BARGAIN FOR CROP.

Agents for firms dealing in potatoes have been going through Red Lake county offering to sign up agreements to provide the farmers with seed potatoes and to return for the crop in the fall.

County Agent Charles C. Lake has issued a warning to farmers generally to sign no such contracts.

"A close examination of some of the proposed contracts shows no agreement on the part of the firms furnishing the seed which binds them to buy the farmers' crop," said Mr. Lake. "In other words, if potatoes should drop in price below that stipulated in the contract the buyer will not be obliged to take the crop, while if potatoes rise above the stipulated price the farmer would be bound to sell at the price named in the contract."

USE OF SUGAR IS MORE RESTRICTED

SOFT DRINK MANUFACTURERS REDUCED 20 PER CENT. BAN ON HENS LIFTED.

According to orders promulgated by the Food Administration, live and freshly killed hens may be dealt in by dealers after April 19. Original orders were to cover the period between Feb. 11 and April 30.

To save sugar for use in preserving fruits and vegetables, the federal Food Administration has ordered reduced the sugar allowances for manufacturers of soft drinks, amounting to 80 per cent of their last year requirements, for the first six months of the year. The restriction does not apply to the manufacturers of ice cream.

The message received by A. D. Wilson from Washington says the government considers the saving of sugar for fruit preserving more important than the manufacture of soft drinks.

Another order prohibits dealers from delivering sugar to any manufacturer of "less essential food products of which sugar and flour are ingredients" who began business since Jan. 1, 1918.

Alf J. Borry and Miss Olga Amanda Aos of this city were quietly married last Thursday evening in the Swedish Lutheran parsonage with Rev. Albin Larson officiating. The wedding was a complete surprise to everyone and not even the relatives and near friends of the contracting parties were aware of the event until afterwards. Mr. and Mrs. Borry will make their home at 718 Duluth avenue north.

May Rent Tractor.

The city council held a meeting on Tuesday evening for the purpose of giving the second reading to the firemen's ordinance. The matter of street graveling was also discussed at some length. The question of whether or not it would be advisable for the city to buy a tractor for the purpose of hauling was given some consideration but the plan did not seem to meet with general approval. If power of this kind can be rented at a reasonable figure it is probable that this will be done.

Dental Notice.

Beginning Saturday May 4th, the dentists of the city will close their offices every Saturday afternoon until further notice.

There is No Substitute For Butter

PURE BUTTER PROVIDES THE NECESSARY FOOD FATS IN ITS MOST APPETIZING, NOURISHING AND EASILY ASSIMILATED FORM.

Butter possesses life-giving, energy-developing, growth-promoting qualities found in no other fats or combination of fats. The highest scientific authorities have so proven.

There is no substitute for butter or butter-fat, because nature does not produce and human ingenuity cannot produce any substitute for fat of cow's milk as an article of food for the human family.

FOURTEEN MORE TO CAMP DODGE

PENNINGTON COUNTY CONTINGENT WILL LEAVE TOMORROW AFTERNOON.

NINE LEAVE ABOUT MAY 1

INDICATIONS ARE THAT TROOP MOVEMENT WILL BE REGULAR FROM NOW ON.

Fourteen more Class 1 men from Pennington county will leave over the Great Northern at 3:20 Friday afternoon to take up their military training duties at Camp Dodge. The men comprising this contingent have been more scattered than has been the case in any previous call, but County Auditor T. P. Anderson, clerk of the local registration board, has managed to keep track of them pretty well and he has been assured that they will be on hand when wanted. These men were taken in rotation as their names appeared on the list, no excuses being accepted nor exemptions made for any reason whatsoever. This is the plan which must hereafter be followed as the district board has certified to the liability for service of all those remaining in Class 1 and the last opportunity for appeal has gone by.

No Stop at Crookston.

Heretofore the men from Pennington and other northwestern counties have been gathered at Crookston for shipment all together, but this plan will not be followed in the present instance. Polk county does not send its quota until Saturday night while the boys from Pennington, Roseau, Red Lake and Clearwater counties will go one day earlier. They will be joined enroute by the contingents from Wilkin, Stevens, Swift, Kandiyohi and Meeker counties, these units reaching camp at the same time.

Those Who Will Go.

Following are the names of those who will make up this contingent: August Frank Hoppe, Hans Jacob Hanson, Frank Gordon Cress, Leonard Morstad, Osmund Ordahl, Alfred Stenberg, Arthur Sophus Alnes, Gustav Adolph Colum, John Bundhund, James Havel, Henry Everett Emery, Edwin Nordland, Axel William Crown, Selmer Helgeland, Oscar Carl Bakken, George Odin Hansen, Sigvald Bjorge. This is three more than are called for at this time but the substitutes have been added in order that the quota may be filled in case any of those at the head of the list fail to put in an appearance.

To Follow Shortly.

Another call has been issued for men to entrain sometime between the first and tenth of May. Pennington county's quota for this contingent is seven but the board has notified the eight immediately following those who go tomorrow to hold themselves in readiness. These are, together with their present place of residence: Peter G. Peterson, city; Oscar Adolphson, Superior; Charles Clinton Hartz, St. Hilaire; Frank Moravick, city; Edgar Stevens, Prince Albert; Ellard John Iverson, city; Berneth Bolstad, Park River, N. D.; Clarence Wilfred Anderson, St. Hilaire; Rolland A Head, city.

The Usual Program.

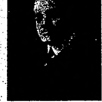
Company C, Minnesota Home Guard will escort the selected men to the train tomorrow as has been done with the contingents leaving heretofore. The usual presentation of comfort kits and such other conveniences as the boys may be permitted to take along will be made at the court house shortly before the train pulls out.

NO "LIBERTY DAY" CELEBRATION HERE

ONLY INTENDED FOR COMMUNITIES WHERE LOAN QUOTA IS NOT REACHED.

There will be no observance of Liberty Day as such in Thief River Falls tomorrow. President Wilson has proclaimed Friday as a holiday for the purpose of booming the Liberty Loan sales but as Thief River Falls and Pennington county were among the first communities in the entire country to go over the top with their allotment it is not thought the order applies here. Grand Forks and other cities in the neighborhood where the quota has been raised will not celebrate the day in any manner and business will be carried on as usual.

The suggestion has been made—and it is a good one—that in order to observe Liberty Day to some extent everybody who can possibly do so should buy War Savings Stamps and Certificates. The Liberty Loan campaign naturally had the effect of dampening the enthusiasm for the smaller securities but it is as necessary as ever that interest in them be kept alive. It would be a particularly pleasing thing to be able to report that while there was no need of observing Liberty Day in order to secure our quota for the Liberty Loan the people here nevertheless wished to enter into the spirit of the occasion and did so by purchasing Baby Bonds to a greater extent than ever before.



JOHN H. M'KINNEY

DEATH SUMMONS JOHN M'KINNEY

PROMINENT THIEF RIVER BUSINESS MAN SUCCUMBS AFTER GALLANT FIGHT.

WAS OLD RESIDENT HERE

TREASURER OF LOCAL WHOLESALE GROCERY HOUSE AT TIME OF DEATH.

John H. McKinney, 45 years of age, died at St. Barnabas hospital in Minneapolis on Wednesday night of last week. The funeral was held in this city on Monday afternoon; interment being in the Catholic cemetery. The cause of death was an abcess of the liver. He had been in poor health for some time but it was only about six weeks ago that his condition became such that he was forced to cease all work. He went to Minneapolis to consult a specialist about a month ago, and while his condition was considered well nigh hopeless from the outset, he made a wonderful fight which at times gave hopes of his coming out all right. The disease had too great a start, however, and in spite of all that medical science could do he could not master it.

Wife and Brother Survive.

Besides his wife, deceased has but one surviving near relative, a brother, William S. McKinney, a civil engineer, residing in New York City. Mrs. McKinney was with her husband in Minneapolis during the last three weeks of his illness.

Was 45 Years of Age.

John Henry McKinney was born in Williamsport, Pa., Jan. 27, 1873, and was just past his 45th birthday at the time of his death. While still a child the family moved to Tioga, Penn., where John grew up and received a good education. Coming west he stayed for short periods of time in various places, arriving in Thief River Falls about 20 years ago. He worked for the Winton-Nichols Lumber company here and also for the St. Hilaire Lumber company. Going later to Crookston he entered the wholesale grocery house of Finch, Winslow & Carlisle, where he remained until about eight years ago when he returned to this city, becoming affiliated with the Thief River Grocery company at the time that concern opened for business here, as treasurer and credit man.

Was Good Citizen.

In his private and business life deceased was a man of the strictest honesty and most upright character. He was highly regarded by his associates and much respected by all with whom he came in contact. He was deputy district grand master of the Odd Fellows and a prominent Elk, the latter order having charge of the funeral arrangements.

Another Soldier Called.

Word has been received from a training camp in the state of Maine to the effect that Oscar Maland, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Maland of Sanders township, died while in the service last week and that his body is being shipped to St. Hilaire for burial. No particulars concerning the cause of death was contained in the notification. Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, will go from this city to form a guard of honor at the funeral and the services will be conducted by Rev. I. T. Aastad of the Norwegian Lutheran church. It is expected that the body will arrive so that the funeral may take place on Monday, but this is not certain.

W. J. LA BREE FILES FOR SHERIFF'S JOB

Candidate filings were slow the past week, but one being recorded at the office of the county auditor. W. J. LaBree announced that he would again seek the office of sheriff which he has held since the organization of the county eight years ago. He will be opposed in the primaries by Ove E. Berge, formerly chief of police of Thief River Falls, and Louis Nelson, a farmer residing in the town of Smiley. The latter was also a candidate in the primaries four years ago.

LINDBERGH WILL OPEN CAMPAIGN

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR TO SPEAK HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

ON THE REPUBLICAN TICKET

WILL CONTEST IN PRIMARIES FOR NOMINATION OF THAT PARTY.

Charles A. Lindbergh, of Little Falls, endorsed by the Farmers' Nonpartisan League at the St. Paul convention in March, will address the people of Pennington county at the Auditorium in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, May 1, at two o'clock.

Mr. Lindbergh is not a stranger to the voters of the state of Minnesota. He has been a prominent figure in the political arena of the state for many years and represented the Sixth district in the halls of the national congress for ten years, voluntarily retiring to attend to his personal interests.

Republican Candidate.

Mr. Lindbergh has always affiliated with the Republicans and it will be as a candidate of that party he will seek the nomination. His selection as the standard bearer by the farmers' organization was only in the way of an endorsement and he will have to take his chances against Governor Burnquist at the elimination contest on June 17.

Is Great Campaigner.

This will be the first big political meeting of the campaign in Pennington county. Mr. Lindbergh is a convincing speaker and that he is a campaigner of more than ordinary power is evidenced by his ability to maintain his position in the Sixth district against all assailants for many years. He was prominently before the people on many occasions while a member of congress and even those who do not agree with his views will be anxious to hear his message and get a near view of him. There is not the slightest doubt but that he will be greeted by a full house and given the most respectful hearing throughout.

WILL HAVE POTATO FIELD OF 40 ACRES

THIS IS FIRST-YEAR STARTER FOR NEW ROCKSBURY TOWNSHIP FARMER.

O. B. Gunderson, formerly of Moorhead, has purchased a farm in Section 24 of Rocksbury township and will specialize in potatoes. He has begun the work of preparing the soil for the crop and will put in 40 acres the first year. It is Mr. Gunderson's intention to give particular attention to this class of farming and he intends to greatly increase his acreage another year.

This new Rocksbury township citizen is an authority on potato culture. He has followed the business for years with most excellent success and believes that there is more money in potatoes when the business is followed intelligently than in almost any other kind of crop. Mr. Gunderson says that he has seen wheat land increase from $50 to $100 in value as a result of devoting it to potatoes as an alternating crop and is a strong advocate of this system as a means for maintaining fertility and keeping up the soil generally.

A forty acre field devoted exclusively to potatoes will be something unusual in this section and the experiment will be watched with considerable interest. Mr. Gunderson is bringing with him a carload of seed potatoes from his old home.

TO MAKE CHANGE IN LINES HANDLED

LAZARUS GILL TO CLOSE OUT ENTIRE LINE OF MEN'S WEAR.

Lazarus Gill, clothier, First National bank building, has decided to change the line of goods handled by him and will go out of the clothing business entirely. Mr. Gill will remain in Thief River Falls but will turn his place of business into a general store catering particularly to the women's trade. He will put in a full line of ready-to-wear apparel, ladies' furnishings and shoes and to that end will get rid of his present stock as soon as possible. As will be seen by the announcement in another part of this issue the clearance will include everything, which means that the excellent line of Kuppenheimer and Style-Plus clothing, Packard shoes and other well-known brands will be offered at a big reduction in order to clear them out. The goods for the spring and summer trade were already bought and many of them in place in the store when Mr. Gill decided upon making this important change. All these must now be sacrificed as it is the intention to get the new enterprise under way as quickly as possible.

MADE SLASH IN WATER RATES

COUNCIL PROPOSES THUS TO ENCOURAGE BETTER CARE OF WAR GARDENS.

DISCOUNT OF 35 PER CENT

WILL ONLY APPLY TO WATER USED OUTSIDE OF PRESENT FIRE LIMITS.

Action was taken Tuesday night by the city council to lower the cost of sprinkling in this city for the summer months. A general discussion of the matter was had just previous to adjournment and it was the concensus of opinion that as a war move it would be desirable to make a reduction.

Last year a large number of residents planted war gardens and then on account of the excessive dry spell lost all the money they had invested in the effort. People did not feel that they could afford to pay the full rates.

To Help War Gardens.

This year, if the resolution to be presented at the next meeting passes, and the probabilities are that it will, there need be no reason why those who have water connections should not only take good care of their gardens, but they should also feel as though they could afford to keep their lawns green and the streets sprinkled as well.

It is proposed to make a discount of 10 per cent on water bills for the months of April, May and June and a discount of 35 per cent for the months of July, August and September. This discount, however, is to apply only to those water users outside of the fire limits of the business section.

A Decided Reduction.

The present rates for water are five cents per hundred gallons for all water used up to 10,000 gallons; four cents if more than 10,000 gallons are used and up to 20,000 gallons, and three cents per hundred gallons if over 20,000 gallons are used in the three months of each quarter of the year.

Thus if a person used 10,000 gallons in July, August and September, he would be charged $5.00 less 35 per cent, or $3.25 net. And if one used 20,100 gallons during those months he would be charged $6.03, but after deducting the 35 per cent discount he would only have to pay $3.92, or just 67 cents more than if he used the smaller amount.

Is Wise Provision.

As is the case in most other American communities, the water department does not provide enough revenue for its own maintenance and as the taxpayer must foot the deficiency bill in any event it is certainly a wise move to get the most benefit possible out of the plant.

BATTALION DRILL AT E. GRAND FORKS

COMPANY C WILL JOIN IN MANEUVERS THERE ON MAY 12th.

Capt. W. B. Fuller and Lieuts. Oscar Sponheim and W. W. Prichard, Jr., were at Crookston on Sunday, where they met with other commissioned officers of the 11th battalion, Minnesota home guard, for the purpose of discussing plans for the encampments and other meetings scheduled for the summer months. It was decided to hold a battalion drill at East Grand Forks on Sunday, May 12. The other companies in the battalion are Ada and Crookston. The trip will be made by auto.

The summer encampment was also discussed at some length. Because of the difficulty in securing tents it has about been decided that it will be impractical to hold the encampment on the reservation and it is likely that Maple Lake will be substituted.

It has been proposed that Company C and a picked athletic team from the Thief River Falls high school hold a track meet in the near future, and candidates for the different teams are being sought. There was to have been a meeting of the baseball enthusiasts of the company at Lambert's drug store last Sunday but only a few showed up and the matter could be carried no farther.

EPWORTH LEAGUE TO MEET IN JUNE

CONVENTION FOR THE FERGUS FALLS DISTRICT WILL BE HELD IN THIS CITY.

The annual convention of the Epworth League for the Fergus Falls district will be held at the Methodist church in this city on June 19 to 23. The regular mid-summer gathering of the pastors of the district will also be held at the same time adding about 35 delegates to the 150 or more who will be here for the purpose of attending the league meetings.

The Fergus Falls district comprises all that portion of Minnesota from Alexandria on the south to the Canadian boundary and from the Red river to the eastern border of Beltrami county.

The committee in charge of the convention has promised something out of the ordinary in the way of a program, it being probable that features of a patriotic nature will predominate. The local league will give an entertainment in the church basement tomorrow evening at which it is expected that the matter of preparing for the delegates will be discussed.

Thrift Stamps as Change.

National movement to encourage the sale of thrift stamps, on Wednesday, May 1, 1918, every merchant in making change will give as part of the sum to the purchaser at least one twenty-five cent thrift stamp.

This has been requested by the government and the merchants will comply with the request and hope that the people will help the movement along.

Get behind this movement as we have every other task and let us go over the top in this as on the bond drive.

Prairie Fires Raging.

Yesterday a call for aid was sent to this city by residents in sections 4 and 5 of Sanders township, whose homes were threatened with destruction from forest fires. The fire made a clean sweep of everything in its path but fortunately no buildings or other property of importance was caught. Considerable hardwood belonging to C. W. Eastman and Carl Zwer was destroyed. Quite a number of people went out from town to help fight the flames but they found themselves rather helpless.

CHILD WELFARE TOPIC FOR WEEK

MEETINGS AT COMMERCIAL CLUB UNDER WOMAN'S CLUB AUSPICES.

BABY EXHIBITS IN STORES

DEMONSTRATIONS IN FEEDING, CLOTHING AND BATHING BABIES WILL BE GIVEN.

Complying with an order issued by the Council of National Defense, the Woman's club of Thief River Falls will observe a child welfare week in this city beginning next Monday, April 29. These meetings are being held all over the country at about the same time and are expected to create a vast amount of interest in the subject of better babies. Mrs. J. M. Bishop has been appointed chairman for Pennington county and has announced a partial program for the week.

General Meeting Monday.

A general invitation has been extended to all mothers in the county to meet at the Commercial club rooms Monday afternoon at three o'clock. Prof. J. H. Hay of the city schools, has looked after the notification of the interested ladies and it is expected that there will be a large gathering. The subjects to be handled are of great importance and it is hoped that they will be given the attention they deserve.

A child's welfare program has been prepared for presentation at this meeting, the following being the subjects handled:

"Child Conservation"—Mrs. J. M. Bishop.

"Better Children"—Miss Elizabeth M. Hanson, superintendent Tri-County Sanitarium.

"Nurses—the Supply and Demand"—Miss Mina Rock, head nurse Physicians' hospital.

A number of children's songs will be rendered by Mrs. Gay Halvorson and Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Miss Una Nelson will give a reading. A child welfare exhibit has also been arranged where articles of apparel and other matters of particular interest to those having babies in charge will be explained. There will also be a question box through which information on any subject of general interest may be presented for discussion.

Practical Demonstrations.

On Friday afternoon at the club rooms practical lessons will be given in the bathing, clothing and feeding of babies, and any mother who wants advice is invited to be present and any information she may desire will be given free. This feature of the work will be in charge of Mrs. F. O. Mogenson and Mrs. H. O. Loken.

Canadian Soldier Here.

W. B. Thompson who served in the Canadian army for about a year, gave an interesting account of his army career to an attentive audience in the Commercial club rooms Wednesday evening.

Mr. Thompson told of many experiences in the front trenches and was applauded frequently when telling of methods used by the Allies in licking "Fritz."

THIRD LIBERTY LOAN IS $100,000 OVER QUOTA IN PENNINGTON COUNTY

Every Village and Township Oversubscribes Total Allotment During First Week of Third Loan Campaign.

TOTAL OF $274,000 THUS FAR REPORTED

Thief River Falls Goes $35,440 Above Sum Required—Every Town Hall Will Display an Honor Flag.

The Third Liberty Loan campaign was but a few hours old in Pennington county when it became known for a certainty that the community would go over the top with a whoop. And before the "evening of the first day" the trick had been turned. How it was done was explained in last week's issue of The Times so there is no necessity for going over that part of the proceedings again, although many communities with a much poorer showing have not quit bragging about it yet.

Among the Very First.

Pennington county was one of the first in the Ninth reserve district to report that its quota had been raised, but as the returns were not all in it was impossible to tell exactly to what extent the figure had been boosted. Chairman George G. Johnson, who has practically devoted his entire attention to the campaign, maintained throughout that the county would raise $100,000 more than its quota, and the returns show that he was not mistaken. Up to this morning a total of $274,300 had been reported, which is only $10,700 short of making the over-subscription an even $100,000. More than enough to cover this will be returned from the railroads as the share of the bond purchase by employes belonging to this division, while there are also a few districts from which complete figures are still lacking. The railroads are expected to reserve about $17,000.

Only One Behind.

Norden township was $850 behind its quota this morning, being the only district which has thus far failed to turn in more than necessary. Solicitors are still working, however, and Chairman Johnson says that he has every assurance that the sum necessary to send this township over the top also will be forthcoming. When this is accomplished it will mean that an honor flag will float above every town hall in Pennington county as an indication that the people have done more than was expected of them toward making the Third Liberty Loan a success.

The Topnotchers.

The city of Thief River Falls did very well with an over-subscription of $35,440, but must yield the percentage palm to some of the less populous districts in the farming region. Star township carries off the golden banner, the subscription there being $5,700 against a quota of $2,000. Highlanding and Black River are also worthy of special mention, as is the record made by Kratka, Deer Park and Bray.

The Record to Date.

Following are the standings of the different communities so far as these had been reported to Chairman Johnson this morning:

	Quota	Sub.
City of T. R. Falls
First ward	$ 20,950	$ 32,000
Second ward	16,150	25,550
Third ward	20,050	31,100

FLOUR ORDER IS SERIOUS MATTER

RULING IS STRICT AND PENALTY CERTAIN FOR NON-COMPLIANCE.

SIX POUNDS PER PERSON

THIS IS MONTH'S SUPPLY PERMITTED—MUST RETURN SURPLUS.

A considerable number of householders in Pennington county, particularly among the farmers, are going to get themselves into trouble with Uncle Sam unless they at once make arrangements to comply with the food administration's order regarding wheat flour. While the returns of surplus supplies to dealers have been about as general here as in other localities, yet a warning has been sent out by Chairman C. A. Pitkin of the county public safety commission, calling attention to the penalty for failing to comply with the order.

Must Return to Dealer.

As is the case in nearly all farming communities, enough flour for a year is purchased in the fall by people residing any distance from town. This is an excellent provision in ordinary times, but just now it will not work. The fact that the flour was bought before the government's hoarding order went into effect makes no difference—the surplus must be returned. And it should be returned to the dealer from whom it was secured. This is simply asked as a matter of convenience to the merchants themselves. They will probably accept any flour returned to them, but as they may not be handling the particular brand turned in it will cause considerable of a mixup. As it can make no difference whatever to the party returning the flour this request should be complied with as a matter of courtesy.

Six Pounds Per Person.

The ruling of the food administration states in unmistakable terms that householders shall at no time have on hand a greater supply of wheat flour than six pounds for each person regularly served. The penalty for violation of this order is a fine of $2,000 or imprisonment for a period of five years. Thus far the food authorities have taken it for granted that where no flour was returned no surplus stocks were at hand, but thorough inspections are likely to be ordered at any time and it will go hard with anyone who is found with a stock larger than that specified.

Must Send in Wheat.

Farmers who are hoarding their wheat in the hope that the guaranteed price will be raised are also taking a rather long chance. Orders have been issued to the effect that all wheat in the hands of farmers must be marketed before May 15, a severe penalty being attached to any failure to comply. That there is still considerable wheat being held in certain and it is absolutely necessary that it be released. The country and the army need it and the government is in no mood to trifle with hoarders.

The Times urges all to whom the above regulations apply to heed them without delay and thus save themselves inconvenience and serious trouble.

Mr. Pitkin will mail cards to every householder in the county. These must be filled out correctly and returned as soon as possible. A facsimile of this card is printed in another column of The Times this week.

Now on the Ocean.

Every day brings evidence that the soldiers of Uncle Sam are being rushed across the ocean just as fast as it is possible to get them over. A letter from Harry Bakken, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Bakken, 349 Merriam avenue north, dated Sunday last, states that he is all ready to embark and that the next they hear of him he will be in France. This young man put in part of the time since leaving here at Camp Dodge and was later transferred to Camp Upton, N. Y.

RETURN FLOUR AND MARKET WHEAT.

The Times again wishes to call the attention of its readers to the orders issued by the Food Administration regarding the hoarding of flour and the holding of wheat. The general impression has been that any flour purchased before the six-pound-per-person order went into effect might be retained, but such is not the case.

Certain of our farmers have also retained in their granaries all they possibly could of last year's wheat crop in the hope that in some manner they would be able to secure a higher price for it. This proceeding has not only called into question the genuineness of their patriotic protestations, but has also been a very foolish proceeding from a business point of view. The price for last year's wheat crop was set and even though a higher figure might be obtained for the 1918 yield the old wheat would have to be marketed at the old price. Now they are ordered to sell all the wheat not needed for seed this spring before May 15, and failure to comply will bring on disagreeable consequences.

As regards flour, the administration's orders are just as strict. Any surplus simply MUST be returned to the dealer, preferably to one from whom it was received. The fact that the price of flour may have gone down since the supply was purchased last fall makes no difference. It will be taken back at the present established price and the holder will have to take his loss with a smile. It is for the good of the cause. As a matter of fact he has no kick coming anyway. The flour was bought in quantities in the expectation that the price would go up. In such case the purchaser would have no compunction in taking his profits. The price went the other way and he will have to stand the loss.

The Times cannot too strongly urge upon its readers the importance of complying with this order. A heavy fine or a long prison term are the penalties for disregarding the matter.

WHAT OUR NEIGHBOR THINKS.

Chronic grumblers, fault-finders and pessimists should look about them. Things are not so bad as they might be, even though the situation on the Western front is not always to our liking. We have barely gotten into this war as yet and still have made our presence felt. Our Allies seem to realize the difficulties with which we have had to content a great deal better than we do ourselves and are finding fault with neither our speed nor our spirit.

Canada's opportunities for observing our performance is naturally the best of any of our allies and the people over there are not claiming that we are particularly remiss, as the following from the Winnipeg Free Press will show:

"No wonder the German generals strike hard, trying to force a decision. The allies have lost, temporarily, at least, perhaps a couple of hundred thousand men during the past three weeks, but it is whispered, and on good authority, too, that there are already a million American troops in France and England. These men are as yet untrained and unavailable, but, nevertheless, they will within a very few months be facing the enemy. The mere fact that the allies prefer to let the Germans have a few square miles of blood-soaked ground in exchange for the lives of his men need cause no anxiety. Foch resembles a quiet, deadly cobra, which, quiescent and coiled, lies ready to spring, and when the strike comes it will be as sudden, and probably more effective, than the undying leap at the throat of an exultant foe which took place in September, 1914.

"The power of the United States is already making itself felt, especially at sea. The U-boat seems checked, and we should not forget that there are hundreds of small, fleet craft, flying the Stars and Stripes, helping the wonderful men of the British navy to destroy U-boats within the narrow seas.

"In January, 1917, the naval forces of the Union were 4,376 officers and 68,680 men; they are 15,000 officers and 254,000 men today. Ships in commission were 300, now there are about 1,100. Each vessel as soon as ready was commissioned and sent across the Atlantic to help in the war zone. As an American naval officer told his countrymen, in a recent speech, 'Our frontier is the German coast.' A new type of destroyer is being launched, vessels of 1,100 tons, and having a speed of 35 knots. They are being built to standardized proportions, and are coming forward for commission in a steady stream. In addition, there have been 350 submarine chasers, 110 feet long, with a speed of 17 knots, actually built within eight months. These are all over the water. Is it any wonder that U-boat sinkings have become smaller?

"Uncle Sam is building 5,000,000 tons of shipping, with as many more to follow just as soon as the slips are vacated. To finance this construction no less than $1,800,000,000 has already been appropriated by congress. The tonnage so far contracted for is divided as follows: Steel, 3,965,200; wood, 1,344,900; composite, 207,000. The first vessel of the new steel fleet was launched at Seattle last November, while the initial wooden vessel followed it a few days later. By January 1 of the present year, the U. S. fleet Corporation had launched a total of 1,250,000 tons. By this time the total is much larger. It is promised that by January, 1919, 6,000,000 tons, at least, will be available, and that before the end of that year not less than 10,000,000 tons will be in service.

"Yes, the German general staff knew that it was now or never. All the allies have to do is to kill as many of the enemy as circumstances shall permit, clench their jaws and stick it out; within a few months the enormous latent power of the Great Republic will become active, and then the geniuses at Berlin will find themselves checkmated."

WILL "CARRY ON" JUST THE SAME.

It looks as if the farmer is going to be denied a price greater than that stipulated in the President's order for the wheat crop of 1918, but he will plant the wheat just the same. The season promises well and wheat at the figure named is going to be the best property farmers can have, even though the guarantee has not been made with an absolute regard for the conditions surrounding the production of this essential cereal at this time.

The farmers are not kicking. Long before the House of Representatives refused to concur in the Senate bill making $2.50 the guaranteed price the farmers of the Northwest had proceeded to seed wheat on a scale never before known. They realized that no matter what the figure finally arrived at might be, it was up to them to furnish the wheat needed and they prepared to do so. They made no very loud clamor for a higher guarantee, and while they felt that in comparison with other commodities the Senate figure was none too high yet they were satisfied that the President had given the matter careful consideration before deciding and were willing to take his word that the general balance of business would be better maintained if the price stipulated was allowed to stand.

Representatives in Congress from the Northwest stood out for a higher guarantee, believing that the price fixed was not equitable and worked an injustice to the farmer. Congressman Steenerson made a telling speech for a better price for the 1918 crop and no attempt was made to refute the arguments be presented. It was practically admitted that if the guaranteed price be arrived at through a system of scientific deduction it was likely that the farmer will not be getting all he is entitled to under the new price ruling, but all must yield something for the general wellfare in times like the present and a lower price for wheat is one of the contributions that must be made for the good of the cause.

THE CALL FOR WHEAT.

The wheat situation of the world daily becomes more acute. It has now become a race between three factors with the odds against our side. The three factors are the approach of the next harvest, at which time the wheat problems of the allies should be greatly alleviated, if not solved; the rapid diminution of stocks among the allied nations, and the strenuous conservation measures put into effect by the patriotic citizens of the United States in their efforts to piece out a narrow surplus for an anxious world.

Among these factors the next harvest creeps forward all too slowly; the supply in the bins of the allies is sinking with rapid pace. If the situation were limited to these two—if it were a competition between them alone—the race would already be lost. It is only increased conservation among American citizens that will keep starvation from being the victor.

The allies must and will be fed. American must and will save. Their food supply has already been protected. There is no danger to them. The time has come to shovel the wheat by carloads and shiploads into the transportation channels that lead to Europe. America can live on the plentiful remainders, the corn meal the potatoes, the meat, all of which by grace of nature and careful conservation are abundant.

The Food Administration has recently put forth some stirring calls for wheat saving. America as a whole must cut her wheat consumption in half and more than half. From 42,000,000 bushels a month she must cut her consumption to 20,000,000. To accomplish this each American must cut his individual consumption to 6 pounds a month. Out of the limited stocks in the country we must save our stocks for seed, some 60,000,000; we must retain a safe carry-over, we must feed our own citizens, and the United States with Canada must send to the allies 40,000,000 bushels of wheat a month.

The moral is plain. Large numbers of our people must eat no wheat whatever for three months or this great task we have undertaken is doomed to ignominious failure. Already the great hotels have taken the pledge. Men and women of independent means have fallen into line. Which would you rather—eat wheat bread lavishly and live in a world tributary to Germany or eat no wheat until next harvest and be free?

THE TIMES WAS RIGHT.

Two years ago this spring The Times came pretty near getting the top of its devoted head taken off, figuratively speaking, for suggesting that the corn contained in the exhibit at the Commercial club rooms be tested as to its germinating qualities and, if found to possess the vitality necessary, be parcelled out among the farmers of the county for use in seed plots. This exhibit was gathered during one of the best corn years known in northwestern Minnesota and the ears are the very choicest of a particularly choice lot. Farmers generally approved the plan but the club officials at that time refused to entertain the proposition.

Now, however, this corn is to be tested and parcelled out. The work will be done under the direction of the county agent and the department of agriculture of the local high school. There is quite a lot of the cereal, representing nearly every variety that has at any time been produced successfully here. It has made an exhibit of which we have all been proud and to which visitors have repeatedly referred as wonderful, but it is worth more in the ground than hung up on a wall under present conditions. If we have a good corn year it can easily be replaced and if the crop is a failure again it will be about time to decide that this is not a corn-ripening latitude anyway, and that the exhibit is misleading. Deal it out among farmers who will do their very best to secure the best results and let our future advertising take care of itself.

TWENTY YEARS AGO.

The farmers were hustling to get their seeding done although it was early. C. J. Knox reported having finished the seeding of 300 acres. Hans Myram stated that he had all his wheat and oats in and the conditions were never more promising. August Wegner finished seeding on April 20. James Rohers reported 100 acres of wheat and 30 acres of oats. The ground in his locality could not be better.

Anton Langseth was reported as being quite sick.

A baby girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis LeSage.

John Mickusky caught a four-foot otter in a trap set in the river here.

Vasseau Brothers bought over one hundred head of young stock from farmers residing in the vicinity for shipment eastward.

Knight avenue between First and Second streets traversed a slough and was being graded in order to let the water out.

Sam Bartelson, Harry Jones, Joe Johnson, J. J. Flynn, Frank Wiley, Albert LaBree, Sam Torgerson, Andrew Stenseth, Roy Mallory, Charlie Kivel, Arne Arneson, Chris Nygaard, W. A. Canning and Lyman Rogers left to join the United States army in the war against Spain.

The following officers were elected by the fire department: C. C. Jackson, chief; John Sorum, first assistant; Robert McGinn, second assistant; Lars Backe, secretary; C. A. Robbecke, treasurer. The financial report showed that the department had a total of $105.83 on hand.

TEN YEARS AGO.

Company L, Third Regiment, Minnesota National Guard, was formally mustered in as a unit of the state militia, Lieut. Col. F. E. Esche, being the mustering officer. Following are the commissioned officers of the new company: Christian A. Wiste, captain; James Bulman, first lieutenant; W. B. Fuller, second lieutenant.

Preparations are under way for the big Firemen's tournament to be held in June.

The creamery statement for March showed that there were 29,939 pounds of cream received, containing 7,850 pounds of butterfat and testing 26.22. The price paid was 32 cents per pound. Those receiving checks for over $40 for the month were Peter Engestad, P. Voldnes, Andrew Eklund, Soren Sorenson, O. Helgeland, Carsten Christianson.

O. Tessum paid a visit to his farm near Crookston to inspect the spring work being done.

Mayor Hamre, who was sojourning at Hot Springs, Ark., sent word that he was very much improved in health. The family had leased a cottage at the southern resort and expected to be gone for some time.

D. P. O'Neill was selected chairman of the Republican county committee.

A crew of men went up the river to take down the first log drive of the season. The ice in Red Lake was breaking up and it was expected that the lake would be clear within a few days.

The high school enrollment was 183.

The fire marshal's report showed that there were but two fires in Thief River Falls during the year 1907.

The Red Lake river changed its channel between the city and St. Hilaire, leaving about a million feet of logs high and dry at the point where it took to the low-lying meadow lands in preference to its old course.

The farmers residing along the bank of the river to the east had organized a steamboat line and announced that their vessel was named "The Farmers' Friend" and made regular trips between Thief River Falls and Little Oak. Including the scow which was pushed ahead of the boat the total capacity was 25 tons.

Late News From War Zone

Frank H. Simonds, who has proved himself one of the most reliable of all the commentators on the war situation in Europe, reviewed the result of the great German drive as follows on Saturday morning:

"At the end of the first month of the German offensive the effort to isolate the British from the French and the British and Belgian armies in Belgium from the British army in France has failed, the advance both to Amiens and to the channel has been temporarily checked. So far the British have lost men, guns and positions, but they have not lost their organization; they have replaced their lost guns and men and the positions surrendered are in no sense vital."

Concerning Friday's activities the gist of the report is about as follows:

Although the great German thrust against the British lines from Givenchy to Ypres has bent back the British front badly in this entire area, the offensive here stands checked today and in imminent danger of utter failure. Field Marshal Haig's troops yesterday had to meet one of the severest tests yet put upon them in withstanding a German effort to broaden out the salient created before the early impetus of the German drive in the Lys battlefield was spent. They completely stopped the German onrush. The defensive line held firm despite repeated desperate assaults which cost the Germans enormous losses, and last night the battle had died down to an artillery duel. Correspondents at the front declare the British front is more secure now than it has been for days.

The outstanding feature of Sunday's report from the front was that the announcement that 1200 German storm troops, the largest number ever concentrated against the Americans for an offensive operation, were hurled against the American positions on Saturday on a one-mile front west of Renneres forest, northwest of Toul, after a terrific bombardment of gas and high explosive shells.

The enemy succeeded in penetrating the front line trenches and taking the village of Seicheprey, but after furious hand-to-hand fighting, which was still going on at nightfall, the American troops recaptured the village and most of the ground lost in the early fighting. German airplanes, flying at a low altitude, attempted to disorganize the American fighting men, but two enemy aviators were brought down and the others driven off. The Germans suffered heavy casualties, and the American lines remained virtually intact.

On Sunday renewal of heavy fighting was looked for momentarily along the western battlefront, not only on the Flanders line, but to the south, in the Somme area, where the Germans made their bid for a quick victory last month and failed to divide the British and French armies. Reports from the front show signs are not wanting that the Germans purpose attacking again in the Amiens area, where their main objective is capture of this important railway center, which would disrupt Allied communications.

Italian regiments arrived on the west front on Friday for the purpose of reinforcing the right wing of the French army. In the Italian chamber of deputies this announcement was received with the wildest enthusiasm in which all parties, including the socialists, joined.

The Germans, taking advantage of the moonlight, made a strong but unsuccessful attack against the British lines on the front north of Albert. Heavy fighting continued nearly all night. The Germans were reported to have taken one outpost but lost ground themselves in other portions of the wood.

London does not expect the present lull on the western front to last long, despite the high wind and almost incessant rain. The Germans are being openly and strongly reinforced, according to Reuter's, but the allies have also strenghtened their forces and it is not expected that the next thrust will be any more effective than that of a month ago, when the German people were told to expect a speedy triumph. The next big attack is expected in the vicinity of Mount Kemmel, which is already stripped of trees.

Reports received of the fighting on Saturday state that two low-flying German planes were brought down by the fire of American machine guns. The dispatches speak in the highest terms of the work of the Salvation Army girls during Saturday's battle, they serving coffee and doughnuts to the fighting men until the fire became so hot that the officers refused to allow them to endanger their lives by remaining longer near the battle line. The girls were cheered by the soldiers returning from the front line.

General Pershing's first report on the German assault upon the American and French forces at Seicheprey, in the Toul sector, Saturday is understood to indicate that the Americans sustained more than 200 casualties and to estimate the German losses at between three and four hundred. It was learned tonight that a report had been received, but war department officials refused to make it public or to comment upon persistent rumors about the department concerning its contents. Secretary Baker is understood to be awaiting more details before making an announcement.

"Tell them back home that we are just beginning," said an American lad who was in the thick of the fight and severely wounded with shrapnel on Saturday. "It was fine to see our men go at the Huns. All of us who thought baseball was the great American game have changed our minds. There is only one way to keep the American flag flying—that is—kill the Huns. I got several before they got me." The other men in the hospital were of the same spirit.

The dispatches Wednesday morning contained the news that the British gained ground east of Robecq, according to Field Marshal Haig's report, and improved their positions around Meteren. Numerous prisoners were captured. The British have not permitted the halt in the fighting along the western battle front to keep them inactive. With landsmen on the alert watching keenly and waiting for the next move of the German infantry in France and Belgium, their naval forces, reinforced to some extent by French war craft, have carried out a startling and daring maneuver which, if it should prove to have been successful, may play a marked part in the future of the war. No less objective was sought than the blotting out by one sweeping blow of Germany's submarine menace from the bases at Zeebrugge and Ostend by the sinking across the exits from the harbors of large old time cruisers, laden with cargoes of concrete to make them more difficult of removal. While full details of the attack have not been yet received the information at hand is that two cruisers were blown up at the entrance to the Brugges canal at Zeebrugge and another was sunk while passing in the canal. At Ostend two additional warships were run ashore and destroyed by bombs, but it is believed they failed fully to choke the channel.

ECONOMY

Economy does not consist of paying the lowest possible price for what you buy. Sometimes the cheap article is worthless and then any price for it is too high no matter how low it may have been. We do not sell "Cheap" groceries but we do sell GOOD groceries as cheap or cheaper than they can be bought anywhere in this section. We are building up our business on Quality and Dependability, and at the same time making prices that are lower in many instances than those charged for inferior goods by our competitors.

You can depend on what you get from this store.

Ostby's Grocery

Attention!

For the next ten days, beginning Saturday, will pay 50 cents per hundred for all kinds of scrapiron. No matter how small the lot. Five cents for No. 1 rubber; $1.00 to $1.25 per 100 pounds for mixed rags. Cattle hides advanced. Top 15 cents.

Wilson for Move to Save Babies' Lives

By Associated Press Leased Wire

WASHINGTON, April 3.—President Wilson today gave hearty approval to the plan of the children's bureau for making the second year of the war a "children's year" at home by an educational campaign which it is hoped will reduce at least one-third the annual total of 300,000 preventable deaths among children less than five years old.

"Next to the duty of doing everything possible for the soldiers at the front," President Wilson said, "there could be, it seems to me, no more patriotic duty than that of protecting the children."

Pure Milk

PURE MILK is the most important part of a baby's diet. It must have the right proportions of milk-fat, milk sugar and protein. And the milk must be pure, that is, it should be free from any disease carrying bacteria and as nearly sterile as can be had.

The only safe milk for infant feeding is milk from tubeculin tested cows, or milk which has been standardized and pasteurized. Both are safe and wholesome.

Consult your physician about your baby's milk. It is worth while.

PROMINENT PLACE ON HIGHWAY MAP

CITY'S LOCATION ON JEFFERSON TRUNK ROAD BRINGS TARDY RECOGNITION.

At last Thief River Falls is on one of the great road maps of the country, again demonstrating the advantages of the Jefferson Highway thru this city.

Of course, this city was for some time shown on maps prepared by the Jefferson Highway association, yet not until now has it been shown on maps prepared by other organizations giving the highways of the entire country.

The map in question is one just issued by Motor Age, a copy of which has been sent to Scott Laird, secretary of the local auto club. It shows the great American highways in two colors, having been prepared with a view to especially giving the location and routes to the Army and Navy camps and the U. S. Army truck routes.

The map has been placed on display in the Commercial club rooms and is worthy the attention of all auto owners in this city and vicinity.

Thirty-five highways are shown on the map, which was compiled from data furnished by the military authorities, the Blue Book, highway associations and the U. S. Department of the Interior.

PRISON TERMS FOR PROMINENT MEN

J. A. PETERSON AND J. O. BENTALL CONVICTED OF VIOLATING ESPIONAGE ACT.

J. O. Bentall, Socialist candidate for Governor, and J. A. Peterson, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, both convicted in Minneapolis last week of violation of the espionage act, on Friday were sentenced to five years and four years, respectively, in Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Bonds in each case were fixed at $10,000.

Get 42-Day Stay.

Stay of sentence in each case was granted for forty-two days. Peterson furnished the bond required and was released, and Bentall was turned over to the custody of the United States marshal, pending his efforts to raise the money required.

In sentencing Peterson, Judge Morris conceded that Mr. Peterson's offense against the government based on two articles appearing in the Minneapolis and St. Paul American, in which the United States Senate's war aims were criticised, was not as flagrant as that of Bentall, who made an incendiary speech at Hutchinson, Minn., July 31, discouraging enlistments, urging the repeal of the draft and spreading disloyalty.

HOUSE REFUSES TO MAKE $2.50 PRICE

GUARANTEE FOR 1918 WHEAT CROP NOW MATTER FOR CONFERENCE.

Proposed increase of the government guarantee price of wheat to $2.50 was defeated Thursday in the house, which rejected by a vote of 167 to 98 the senate amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill making the change.

This action sends the question back to conference and the senate now is expected to recede so as not to hold up the appropriation bill.

Under the food control act the price of 1918 wheat was fixed at $2 a bushel, but by proclamation last February President Wilson fixed a minimum guarantee of $2.20 a bushel at the principal interior primary markets. Under the senate rider to the appropriation bill the price would be increased to $2.50 a bushel and the farmers' local elevators made the basic market.

A proposal to concur in the senate amendment and re-establish the interior markets as the basis was rejected, 180 to 138, and another to include the same guarantee for the 1919 crop also was rejected.

MARCH WAS POOR CREAMERY MONTH

ONLY 29 PATRONS REPORT CHECKS OF OVER $50 FOR PRODUCT.

For some reason the number of big check men at the Thief River Falls creamery during the month of March is not as large as was expected. There are 29 of them and their average is $81.52. Hans Anton heads the list by a big margin as will be seen by the record printed below. Before long there will be green pasture for the cattle, after which the receipts are expected to shoot up at a great rate:

Dolmer Swenson.

The death of Dolmer Swenson, of Bronson, Minn., took place in this city last Saturday after an illness of several weeks. He was brought to the Physicians' hospital about ten days before his death and has been under skillful medical care up to the time of his death, which was caused by tubercular meningitis. He was but eleven years old and his father, sister and a brother are the only near relatives to mourn his death. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, with Rev. Albin Larson of the Swedish Lutheran church officiating, and burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Andreson-Hedlund.

Miss Harda Josefin Andreson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olof Sather of Badger, Minn., and Carl Gunnar Hedlund, a prominent young man residing in this city, were quietly married last Saturday at the Swedish Baptist parsonage. Rev. Erik G. Gronlund performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hedlund will make their home in this city.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Taking Inventory—A general inventory of all track material, station supplies, stationery and equipment in the railroad yards here has been going on since Monday. Inasmuch as the government has taken over the roads it is necessary to find out just how much stuff will have to be turned back when matters again assume their normal condition and the roads are taken over by their regular management.

The Week's Transfers—Henry Jensen of Viking, has been employed as warehouseman at Fordville, relieving H. B. Pfiefer, who has been promoted to agent at Strandquist, the former agent at that place, T. A. Suprey, going to Alvarado as the regular agent. O. P. Clow who has held the latter post since the death of H. Turnblad, goes to Overly, relieving W. J. Smith, who is forced to lay-off because of illness.

Will Bill Clear Through—After the first of May all railroads in the country will be able to bill freight right through to any point in the United States without any junction billing. This is made possible through the government having taken over the roads and there is no longer any object in keeping the mileage over the different lines separated.

Operator Recovered—A. W. Swerine, operator at Mahnomen, returned to work last Thursday after having been laid up for some time on account of illness.

Good Bond Sale—The sale of Liberty Bonds on the Winnipeg division of the Soo has now reached a total of $45,100 with assurances that three or four thousand more will be forthcoming. While the amount going to Thief River Falls has not been definitely ascertained it will be in the neighborhood of $18,000.

At the Warehouse—John Kilsley, freight house foreman, returned to work Monday after a short siege of sickness. Ronald Schantzen, warehouseman, returned to work the first of the week after a layoff of two weeks on account of illness.

New Schedules Here—The enginemen have been busy during the past week acquainting themselves with the new schedules just received. They have not had them long enough to find out yet just what the changes are.

Visited the Cities—Miss Selma Simonson, day ticket agent at the Soo depot and Miss Albina Ducette, stenographer in the office of City Agent H. A. Pratt, were over-Sunday visitors in the Twin Cities.

Tolly Agent Sick—K. O. Johnson of this city, relieved E. J. Abbott as agent at Tolly this week, the latter being laid up on account of illness.

Returned From Vacation—F. C. Chandler, warehouseman at Erskine, returned from his vacation last week and is again at work.

At Minneapolis—Niels Nielson, blacksmith at the roundhouse, was a Minneapolis visitor the first of the week.

On a Vacation—Engineer John Salvold is visiting in the cities for a few days.

WAR SERVICE FOR CHRONIC LOAFERS

WILL BE GIVEN THEIR CHOICE OF FIGHTING, WORKING OR GOING TO JAIL.

Able bodied loafers are under the ban. War time necessity makes them a useless drug on the market, as well as a drain on the resources of the country, which at this time cannot be tolerated. Major John D. Yost, recruiting officer for the Minnesota district, inaugurated an "enlist or work" campaign in several Minnesota towns recently with such marked results that he is anxious to make the movement statewide. Through the newspapers of the state Major Yost requests the cooperation of all municipal and county authorities, as well as recruiting committees in pushing this campaign.

Figures compiled show that there are at least 15,000 men in the state outside the draft age who are available for military service, and who are not engaged in any line of work. Uncle Sam can use such men, is in need of them in fact, and can teach them all a useful occupation. Idle men are trouble breeders, and the best place for such men at the present time is in the army where they will be kept too busy to think of trouble.

Farr-Nicholson.

James Farr of this city and Miss Virgil E. Nicholson of Gatske, Minn., were quietly united in marriage Monday afternoon in the Municipal Court rooms with Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Farr left Tuesday morning for Gatske, where they will visit for a week at the home of the bride's parents, and they will then return to this city to make their home. Mr. Farr has been cigar maker in the Anderson & Swartz Cigar Factory since his return to this city last fall after having served a few months in the United States Navy. He will be unable to get back into the navy on account of having received a broken limb while in service.

For War Relief Work.

Members of the Christian Science church of this city on Monday evening organized a war relief society at the home of Mrs. J. P. Jensen, 220 St. Paul avenue north. This society was organized for the purpose of doing war relief work. All finished articles will be sent to headquarters in Boston, from which place they will be forwarded to the men in the army and navy and to French, Belgian, Italian and Serbian refugees. Anyone who wishes to assist with war relief work may be a member of this society.

At this meeting Mrs. N. J. Silk was elected president, and Mrs. F. H. Herrick, secretary and treasurer. The meetings will be held Thursday afternoons of each week at 2:30, the first being set for Thursday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. Silk, 702 Duluth avenue north.

ORDINANCE NO. 160.

An Ordinance to Amend Section Two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Approved March 12, 1907 and Entitled "An Ordinance Concerning Dogs."

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls do ordain as follows:

Section I. That section two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, approved March 12, 1907, be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

Section II. License for dogs, as hereinafter mentioned, shall extend to and expire on the first Monday of April next following the issuance thereof, and shall be procured on or before the thirtieth day of April in each year. The person applying for such license shall pay into the city treasury the sum of two dollars for each male dog and six dollars for each female dog, and upon the presentation of the city treasurer's receipt therefor, shall receive from the city clerk a license, which said license shall designate the name and general description of the dog so licensed and the number of the license granted. It shall thereupon become the duty of the owner or keeper of the dog so licensed to have a collar placed on the same with the license number distinctly marked thereon. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to keep a record of the license so issued with the name of the person to whom issued, the number of the license and a general description of the dog licensed.

Section III. This Ordinance shall be and remain in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Section IV. All Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Passed April 23rd, 1918.

O. L. IHLE,
President of the Council.
Approved April 24th, 1918.
G. A. PENNEY,
Mayor.
Attest:
A. H. AKRE,
City Clerk.

"Corn-Less Day" for Feet, Every Day

Use "Gets-It," the Great Corn Discovery! Makes Corns Peel Right Off!

Look at the illustration below. See the two fingers peeling off a corn as though it were a banana peel! And the man is smiling while he's doing it! All done painlessly, joyfully. The moment "Gets-It" touches a corn or callus the growth is doomed. It takes but two seconds to apply "Gets-It." The corn-pain is eased at once. You can sit at your desk or walk about, dance, think, love and work with absolute ease. You can apply "Gets-It" conveniently almost anywhere where you can take your shoe and stocking off for a moment or two. "Gets-It" dries at once; then put your shoe and stocking on again. There's no further excuse for suffering from corns and corn-pains.

"Gets-It," the Only Genuine, Thorough Corn-Peeler Ever Discovered. Demand "Gets-It."

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION REQUIRES REPORT ON FLOUR SUPPLIES BE MADE BY MAY 1

To the People of Minnesota:

The Federal Food Administration hereby requires everyone who has more than 30 days' supply of wheat flour to return the flour at once to the dealer or miller from whom it was purchased or report to his County Food Administrator. This order applies to every one no matter when or how the flour was obtained. Thirty days' supply is determined on the basis of 6 lbs. for each member of the household. A family of four may have 24½ lbs. of wheat flour, and a family of eight, 49 lbs. Substitutes may be purchased in any amounts desired.

It is not assumed that having an excess of flour on hand makes one a hoarder. It does not. In normal times it is an indication of thrift and sensible buying to purchase flour in reasonably large quantities. We do not want any one who is following his normal methods and has an excess of flour on hand to feel in any way that he has done wrong. He has not.

NEED OF FLOUR GREAT.

But conditions now are far from normal, hence this call. America and the Allies are short of wheat and wheat flour. The Allies are driven desperately for food. We are under obligations to furnish the food. Shipping facilities are limited. Bread they must have and bread we must furnish them. The government must know how much flour there is in the country and where it is. Our own people must use other foods which we have in abundance and save flour.

HOARDING.

Any one who insists on keeping more than one month's supply or is using more than 6 lbs. per person per month is considered a hoarder and will be dealt with accordingly. Hoarding of necessary foods is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for two years or both. It is hoped that no one in Minnesota will place himself in the hoarder class. We beg of the people to respond at once to this call and on or before May 1st, 1918, to dispose of any excess flour or report to their County Food Administrator as follows:

Name ....
P. O. Address ....
No. in Family .... Amount of wheat Flour .... lbs.
Fill In, Cut Out and Mail to Food Administrator in Your County.

A. D. Wilson
Federal Food Administrator for Minnesota.

First Big Campaign Rally

Hear the Truth About the Issues in Minnesota

Charles A. Lindbergh

Candidate endorsed by Farmers and Workers for the Republican Nomination for Governor

Auditorium, Thief River Falls

Wednesday, May 1st, 2 p. m.

A Forceful Speaker With a Message of Vital Importance to the People

Excerpts from Lindbergh's Acceptance

"We must put into practice at home those principles for which we have sent our boys to fight abroad."

"It will avail little to win a war for Democracy abroad if in the prosecution of that war all the traditional rights and privileges of the people of this nation have been surrendered and abrogated."

"This is the time to test our sincerity. We must guard against any acts in state or national life which would in any way place doubt upon our honesty or cast reflection upon our motives."

"The wise statesmen of both political parties have failed to protect the people. Consequently, today those who have been favored by unfair laws, less than 2 per cent of our population, own 65 per cent of the wealth, and 65 per cent of the people, the working classes, only own 5 per cent of the wealth. Most of the workers only get a bare subsistance. This condition is wrong and injurious to the best interests of our country. Indeed, our country cannot survive unless this situation is corrected."

PROMINENT PLACE ON HIGHWAY MAP

CITY'S LOCATION ON JEFFERSON TRUNK ROAD BRINGS TARDY RECOGNITION.

At last Thief River Falls is on one of the great road maps of the country, again demonstrating the advantages of the Jefferson Highway thru this city.

Of course, this city was for some time shown on maps prepared by the Jefferson Highway association, yet not until now has it been shown on maps prepared by other organizations giving the highways of the entire country.

The map in question is one just issued by Motor Age, a copy of which has been sent to Scott Laird, secretary of the local auto club. It shows the great American highways in two colors, having been prepared with a view to especially giving the location and routes to the Army and Navy camps and the U. S. Army truck routes.

The map has been placed on display in the Commercial club rooms and is worthy the attention of all auto owners in this city and vicinity.

Thirty-five highways are shown on the map, which was compiled from data furnished by the military authorities, the Blue Book, highway associations and the U. S. Department of the Interior.

PRISON TERMS FOR PROMINENT MEN

J. A. PETERSON AND J. O. BENTALL CONVICTED OF VIOLATING ESPIONAGE ACT.

J. O. Bentall, Socialist candidate for Governor, and J. A. Peterson, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, both convicted in Minneapolis last week of violation of the espionage act, on Friday were sentenced to five years and four years, respectively, in Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Bonds in each case were fixed at $10,000.

Get 42-Day Stay.

Stay of sentence in each case was granted for forty-two days. Peterson furnished the bond required and was released, and Bentall was turned over to the custody of the United States marshal, pending his efforts to raise the money required.

In sentencing Peterson, Judge Morris conceded that Mr. Peterson's offense against the government based on two articles appearing in the Minneapolis and St. Paul American, in which the United States Senate's war aims were criticised, was not as flagrant as that of Bentall, who made an incendiary speech at Hutchinson, Minn., July 31, discouraging enlistments, urging the repeal of the draft and spreading disloyalty.

HOUSE REFUSES TO MAKE $2.50 PRICE

GUARANTEE FOR 1918 WHEAT CROP NOW MATTER FOR CONFERENCE.

Proposed increase of the government guarantee price of wheat to $2.50 was defeated Thursday in the house, which rejected by a vote of 167 to 98 the senate amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill making the change.

This action sends the question back to conference and the senate now is expected to recede so as not to hold up the appropriation bill.

Under the food control act the price of 1918 wheat was fixed at $2 a bushel, but by proclamation last February President Wilson fixed a minimum guarantee of $2.20 a bushel at the principal interior primary markets. Under the senate rider to the appropriation bill the price would be increased to $2.50 a bushel and the farmers' local elevators made the basic market.

A proposal to concur in the senate amendment and re-establish the interior markets as the basis was rejected, 180 to 138, and another to include the same guarantee for the 1919 crop also was rejected.

MARCH WAS POOR CREAMERY MONTH

ONLY 29 PATRONS REPORT CHECKS OF OVER $50 FOR PRODUCT.

For some reason the number of big check men at the Thief River Falls creamery during the month of March is not as large as was expected. There are 29 of them and their average is $81.52. Hans Anton heads the list by a big margin as will be seen by the record printed below. Before long there will be green pasture for the cattle, after which the receipts are expected to shoot up at a great rate:

Dolmer Swenson.

The death of Dolmer Swenson, of Bronson, Minn., took place in this city last Saturday after an illness of several weeks. He was brought to the Physicians' hospital about ten days before his death and has been under skillful medical care up to the time of his death, which was caused by tubercular meningitis. He was but eleven years old and his father, sister and a brother are the only near relatives to mourn his death. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, with Rev. Albin Larson of the Swedish Lutheran church officiating, and burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Andreson-Hedlund.

Miss Harda Josefin Andreson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olof Sather of Badger, Minn., and Carl Gunnar Hedlund, a prominent young man residing in this city, were quietly married last Saturday at the Swedish Baptist parsonage. Rev. Erik G. Gronlund performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hedlund wil make their home in this city.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Taking Inventory—A general inventory of all track material, station supplies, stationery and equipment in the railroad yards here has been going on since Monday. Inasmuch as the government has taken over the roads it is necessary to find out just how much stuff will have to be turned back when matters again assume their normal condition and the roads are taken over by their regular management.

The Week's Transfers—Henry Jensen of Viking, has been employed as warehouseman at Fordville, relieving H. B. Pfiefer, who has been promoted to agent at Strandquist, the former agent at that place, T. A. Suprey, going to Alvarado as the regular agent. O. P. Clow who has held the latter post since the death of H. Turnblad, goes to Overly, relieving W. J. Smith, who is forced to lay-off because of illness.

Will Bill Clear Through—After the first of May all railroads in the country will be able to bill freight right through to any point in the United States without any junction billing. This is made possible through the government having taken over the roads and there is no longer any object in keeping the mileage over the different lines separated.

Operator Recovered—A. W. Swerine, operator at Mahnomen, returned to work last Thursday after having been laid up for some time on account of illness.

Good Bond Sale—The sale of Liberty Bonds on the Winnipeg division of the Soo has now reached a total of $45,100 with assurances that three or four thousand more will be forthcoming. While the amount going to Thief River Falls has not been definitely ascertained it will be in the neighborhood of $18,000.

At the Warehouse—John Kilsley, freight house foreman, returned to work Monday after a short siege of sickness. Ronald Schantzen, warehouseman, returned to work the first of the week after a layoff of two weeks on account of illness.

New Schedules Here—The enginemen have been busy during the past week acquainting themselves with the new schedules just received. They have not had them long enough to find out yet just what the changes are.

Visited the Cities—Miss Selma Simonson, day ticket agent at the Soo depot and Miss Albina Ducette, stenographer in the office of City Agent H. A. Pratt, were over-Sunday visitors in the Twin Cities.

Tolly Agent Sick—K. O. Johnson of this city, relieved E. J. Abbott as agent at Tolly this week, the latter being laid up on account of illness.

Returned From Vacation—F. C. Chandler, warehouseman at Erskine, returned from his vacation last week and is again at work.

At Minneapolis—Niels Nielson, blacksmith at the roundhouse, was a Minneapolis visitor the first of the week.

On a Vacation—Engineer John Salvold is visiting in the cities for a few days.

WAR SERVICE FOR CHRONIC LOAFERS

WILL BE GIVEN THEIR CHOICE OF FIGHTING, WORKING OR GOING TO JAIL.

Able bodied loafers are under the ban. War time necessity makes them a useless drug on the market, as well as a drain on the resources of the country, which at this time cannot be tolerated. Major John D. Yost, recruiting officer for the Minnesota district, inaugurated an "enlist or work" campaign in several Minnesota towns recently with such marked results that he is anxious to make the movement statewide. Through the newspapers of the state Major Yost requests the cooperation of all municipal and county authorities, as well as recruiting committees in pushing this campaign.

Figures compiled show that there are at least 15,000 men in the state outside the draft age who are available for military service, and who are not engaged in any line of work. Uncle Sam can use such men, is in need of them in fact, and can teach them all a useful occupation. Idle men are trouble breeders, and the best place for such men at the present time is in the army where they will be kept too busy to think of trouble.

Farr-Nicholson.

James Farr of this city and Miss Virgil E. Nicholson of Gatske, Minn., were quietly united in marriage Monday afternoon in the Municipal Court rooms with Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Farr left Tuesday morning for Gatske, where they will visit for a week at the home of the bride's parents, and they will then return to this city to make their home. Mr. Farr has been cigar maker in the Anderson & Swartz Cigar Factory since his return to this city last fall after having served a few months in the United States Navy. He will be unable to get back into the navy on account of having received a broken limb while in service.

For War Relief Work.

Members of the Christian Science church of this city on Monday evening organized a war relief society at the home of Mrs. J. P. Jensen, 220 St. Paul avenue north. This society was organized for the purpose of doing war relief work. All finished articles will be sent to headquarters in Boston, from which place they will be forwarded to the men in the army and navy and to French, Belgian, Italian and Serbian refugees. Anyone who wishes to assist with war relief work may be a member of this society.

At this meeting Mrs. N. J. Silk was elected president, and Mrs. F. H. Herrick, secretary and treasurer. The meetings will be held Thursday afternoons of each week at 2:30, the first being set for Thursday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. Silk, 702 Duluth avenue north.

ORDINANCE NO. 160.

An Ordinance to Amend Section Two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Approved March 12, 1907 and Entitled "An Ordinance Concerning Dogs."

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls do ordain as follows:

Section I. That section two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, approved March 12, 1907, be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

Section II. License for dogs, as hereinafter mentioned, shall extend to and expire on the first Monday of April next following the issuance thereof, and shall be procured on or before the thirtieth day of April in each year. The person applying for such license shall pay into the city treasury the sum of two dollars for each male dog and six dollars for each female dog, and upon the presentation of the city treasurer's receipt, therefor, shall receive from the city clerk a license, which said license shall designate the name and general description of the dog so licensed and the number of the license granted. It shall thereupon become the duty of the owner or keeper of the dog so licensed to have a collar placed on the same with the license number distinctly marked thereon. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to keep a record of the license so issued with the name of the person to whom issued, the number of the license and a general description of the dog licensed.

Section III. This Ordinance shall be and remain in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Section IV. All Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

Passed April 23rd, 1918.

O. L. IHLE,
President of the Council.

Approved April 24th, 1918.
G. A. PENNEY,
Mayor.

Attest:
A. H. AKRE,
City Clerk.

"Corn-Less Day" for Feet, Every Day

Use "Gets-It," the Great Corn Discovery! Makes Corns Peel Right Off!

Look at the illustration below. See the two fingers peeling off a corn as though it were a banana peel! And the man is smiling while he's doing it! All done painlessly, joyfully. The moment "Gets-It" touches a corn or callus the growth is doomed. It takes but two seconds to apply "Gets-It." The corn-pain is eased at once. You can sit at your desk or walk about, dance, think, love and work with absolute ease. You can apply "Gets-It" conveniently almost anywhere where you can take your shoe and stocking off for a moment or two. "Gets-It" dries at once; then put your shoe and stocking on again. There's no further excuse for suffering from corns and corn-pains.

"Gets-It," the Only Genuine, Thorough Corn-Peeler Ever Discovered. Demand "Gets-It."

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

First Big Campaign Rally

Hear the Truth About the Issues in Minnesota

Charles A. Lindbergh

Candidate endorsed by Farmers and Workers for the Republican Nomination for Governor

Auditorium, Thief River Falls

Wednesday, May 1st, 2 p. m.

A Forceful Speaker With a Message of Vital Importance to the People

Excerpts from Lindbergh's Acceptance

"We must put into practice at home those principles for which we have sent our boys to fight abroad."

"It will avail little to win a war for Democracy abroad if in the prosecution of that war all the traditional rights and privileges of the people of this nation have been surrendered and abrogated."

"This is the time to test our sincerity. We must guard against any acts in state or national life which would in any way place doubt upon our honesty or cast reflection upon our motives."

"The wise statesmen of both political parties have failed to protect the people. Consequently, today those who have been favored by unfair laws, less than 2 per cent of our population, own 65 per cent of the wealth, and 65 per cent of the people, the working classes, only own 5 per cent of the wealth. Most of the workers only get a bare subsistance. This condition is wrong and injurious to the best interests of our country. Indeed, our country cannot survive unless this situation is corrected."

PROMINENT PLACE ON HIGHWAY MAP

CITY'S LOCATION ON JEFFERSON TRUNK ROAD BRINGS TARDY RECOGNITION.

At last Thief River Falls is on one of the great road maps of the country, again demonstrating the advantages of the Jefferson Highway thru this city.

Of course, this city was for some time shown on maps prepared by the Jefferson Highway association, yet not until now has it been shown on maps prepared by other organizations giving the highways of the entire country.

The map in question is one just issued by Motor Age, a copy of which has been sent to Scott Laird, secretary of the local auto club. It shows the great American highways in two colors, having been prepared with a view to especially giving the location and routes to the Army and Navy camps and the U. S. Army truck routes.

The map has been placed on display in the Commercial club rooms and is worthy the attention of all auto owners in this city and vicinity.

Thirty-five highways are shown on the map, which was compiled from data furnished by the military authorities, the Blue Book, highway associations and the U. S. Department of the Interior.

PRISON TERMS FOR PROMINENT MEN

J. A. PETERSON AND J. O. BENTALL CONVICTED OF VIOLATING ESPIONAGE ACT.

J. O. Bentall, Socialist candidate for Governor, and J. A. Peterson, candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator, both convicted in Minneapolis last week of violation of the espionage act, on Friday were sentenced to five years and four years, respectively, in Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. Bonds in each case were fixed at $10,000.

Get 42-Day Stay.

Stay of sentence in each case was granted for forty-two days. Peterson furnished the bond required and was released, and Bentall was turned over to the custody of the United States marshal, pending his efforts to raise the money required.

In sentencing Peterson, Judge Morris conceded that Mr. Peterson's offense against the government based on two articles appearing in the Minneapolis and St. Paul American, in which the United States Senate's war aims were criticised, was not as flagrant as that of Bentall, who made an incendiary speech at Hutchinson, Minn., July 31, discouraging enlistments, urging the repeal of the draft and spreading disloyalty.

HOUSE REFUSES TO MAKE $2.50 PRICE

GUARANTEE FOR 1918 WHEAT CROP NOW MATTER FOR CONFERENCE.

Proposed increase of the government guarantee price of wheat to $2.50 was defeated Thursday in the house, which rejected by a vote of 167 to 98 the senate amendment to the agricultural appropriation bill making the change.

This action sends the question back to conference and the senate now is expected to recede so as not to hold up the appropriation bill.

Under the food control act the price of 1918 wheat was fixed at $2 a bushel, but by proclamation last February President Wilson fixed a minimum guarantee of $2.20 a bushel at the principal interior primary markets. Under the senate rider to the appropriation bill the price would be increased to $2.50 a bushel and the farmers' local elevators made the basic market.

A proposal to concur in the senate amendment and re-establish the interior markets as the basis was rejected, 180 to 138, and another to include the same guarantee for the 1919 crop also was rejected.

Epworth League Social.

There will be a social Friday evening, April 26, at 8 o'clock in the M. E. church. Plans will also be made for the convention to be held here June 19-23. Come.—A-25-pd.

MARCH WAS POOR CREAMERY MONTH

ONLY 29 PATRONS REPORT CHECKS OF OVER $50 FOR PRODUCT.

For some reason the number of big check men at the Thief River Falls creamery during the month of March is not as large as was expected. There are 29 of them and their average is $81.52. Hans Anton heads the list by a big margin as will be seen by the record printed below. Before long there will be green pasture for the cattle, after which the receipts are expected to shoot up at a great rate:

Hans Anton	$253.30
M. M. Boyd, Stephen	135.30
Henry Koop	133.09
Carsten Christenson	115.32
H. P. Rued	111.55

Dolmer Swenson.

The death of Dolmer Swenson, of Bronson, Minn., took place in this city last Saturday after an illness of several weeks. He was brought to the Physicians' hospital about ten days before his death and has been under skillful medical care up to the time of his death, which was caused by tubercular meningitis. He was but eleven years old and his father, sister and a brother are the only near relatives to mourn his death. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon, with Rev. Albin Larson of the Swedish Lutheran church officiating, and burial was made in the Greenwood cemetery.

Andreson-Hedlund.

Miss Harda Josefin Andreson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olof Sather of Badger, Minn., and Carl Gunnar Hedlund, a prominent young man residing in this city, were quietly married last Saturday at the Swedish Baptist parsonage. Rev. Erik G. Gronlund performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Hedlund will make their home in this city.

WAR SERVICE FOR CHRONIC LOAFERS

WILL BE GIVEN THEIR CHOICE OF FIGHTING, WORKING OR GOING TO JAIL.

Able bodied loafers are under the ban. War time necessity makes them a useless drug on the market, as well as a drain on the resources of the country, which at this time cannot be tolerated. Major John D. Yost, recruiting officer for the Minnesota district, inaugurated an "enlist or work" campaign in several Minnesota towns recently with such marked results that he is anxious to make the movement statewide. Through the newspapers of the state Major Yost requests the cooperation of all municipal and county authorities, as well as recruiting committees in pushing this campaign.

Figures compiled show that there are at least 15,000 men in the state outside the draft age who are available for military service, and who are not engaged in any line of work. Uncle Sam can use such men, is in need of them in fact, and can teach them all a useful occupation. Idle men are trouble breeders, and the best place for such men at the present time is in the army where they will be kept too busy to think of trouble.

Farr-Nicholson.

James Farr of this city and Miss Virgil E. Nicholson of Gatske, Minn., were quietly united in marriage Monday afternoon in the Municipal Court rooms with Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Farr left Tuesday morning for Gatske, where they will visit for a week at the home of the bride's parents, and they will then return to this city to make their home. Mr. Farr has been cigar maker in the Anderson & Swartz Cigar Factory since his return to this city last fall after having served a few months in the United States Navy. He will be unable to get back into the navy on account of having received a broken limb while in service.

For War Relief Work.

Members of the Christian Science church of this city on Monday evening organized a war relief society at the home of Mrs. J. P. Jensen, 220 St. Paul avenue north. This society was organized for the purpose of doing war relief work. All finished articles will be sent to headquarters in Boston, from which place they will be forwarded to the men in the army and navy and to French, Belgian, Italian and Serbian refugees. Anyone who wishes to assist with war relief work may be a member of this society.

At this meeting Mrs. N. J. Silk was elected president, and Mrs. F. H. Herrick, secretary and treasurer. The meetings will be held Thursday afternoons of each week at 2:30, the first being set for Thursday, May 2, at the home of Mrs. Silk, 702 Duluth avenue north.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Taking Inventory—A general inventory of all track material, station supplies, stationery and equipment in the railroad yards here has been going on since Monday. Inasmuch as the government has taken over the roads it is necessary to find out just how much stuff will have to be turned back when matters again assume their normal condition and the roads are taken over by their regular management.

The Week's Transfers—Henry Jensen of Viking, has been employed as warehouseman at Fordville, relieving H. B. Pfiefer, who has been promoted to agent at Strandquist, the former agent at that place, T. A. Suprey, going to Alvarado as the regular agent. O. P. Clow who has held the latter post since the death of H. Turnblad, goes to Overly, relieving W. J. Smith, who is forced to lay-off because of illness.

Will Bill Clear Through—After the first of May all railroads in the country will be able to bill freight right through to any point in the United States without any junction billing. This is made possible through the government having taken over the roads and there is no longer any object in keeping the mileage over the different lines separated.

Operator Recovered—A. W. Swerline, operator at Mahnomen, returned to work last Thursday after having been laid up for some time on account of illness.

Good Bond Sale—The sale of Liberty Bonds on the Winnipeg division of the Soo has now reached a total of $45,100 with assurances that three or four thousand more will be forthcoming. While the amount going to Thief River Falls has not been definitely ascertained it will be in the neighborhood of $18,000.

ORDINANCE NO. 160.

An Ordinance to Amend Section Two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Approved March 12, 1907 and Entitled "An Ordinance Concerning Dogs."

The City Council of the City of Thief River Falls do ordain as follows:

Section I. That section two of Ordinance No. 58, of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, approved March 12, 1907, be and hereby is amended to read as follows:

Section II. License for dogs, as hereinafter mentioned, shall extend to and expire on the first Monday of April next following the issuance thereof, and shall be procured on or before the thirtieth day of April in each year. The person applying for such license shall pay into the city treasury the sum of two dollars for each male dog and six dollars for each female dog, and upon the presentation of the city treasurer's receipt therefor, shall receive from the city clerk a license, which said license shall designate the name and general description of the dog so licensed and the number of the license granted. It shall thereupon become the duty of the owner or keeper of the dog so licensed to have a collar placed on the same with the license number distinctly marked thereon. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to keep a record of the license so issued with the name of the person to whom issued, the number of the license and a general description of the dog licensed.

Section III. This Ordinance shall be and remain in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

Section IV. All Ordinances and parts of Ordinances inconsistent with this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION REQUIRES REPORT ON FLOUR SUPPLIES BE MADE BY MAY 1

To the People of Minnesota:

The Federal Food Administration hereby requires everyone who has more than 30 days' supply of wheat flour to return the flour at once to the dealer or miller from whom it was purchased or report to his County Food Administrator. This order applies to every one no matter when or how the flour was obtained. Thirty days' supply is determined on the basis of 6 lbs. for each member of the household. A family of four may have 24½ lbs. of wheat flour, and a family of eight, 49 lbs. Substitutes may be purchased in any amounts desired.

It is not assumed that having an excess of flour on hand makes one a hoarder. It does not. In normal times it is an indication of thrift and sensible buying to purchase flour in reasonably large quantities. We do not want any one who is following his normal methods and has an excess of flour on hand to feel in any way that he has done wrong. He has not.

NEED OF FLOUR GREAT.

But conditions now are far from normal, hence this call. America and the Allies are short of wheat and wheat flour. The Allies are driven desperately for food. We are under obligations to furnish the food. Shipping facilities are limited. Bread they must have and bread we must furnish them. The government must know how much flour there is in the country and where it is. Our own people must use other foods which we have in abundance and save flour.

HOARDING.

Any one who insists on keeping more than one month's supply or is using more than 6 lbs. per person per month is considered a hoarder and will be dealt with accordingly. Hoarding of necessary foods is punishable by a fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for two years or both. It is hoped that no one in Minnesota will place himself in the hoarder class. We beg of the people to respond at once to this call and on or before May 1st, 1918, to dispose of any excess flour or report to their County Food Administrator as follows:

Name ....
P. O. Address ....
No. in Family.......... Amount of wheat Flour.......... lbs.
Fill In, Cut Out and Mail to Food Administrator in Your County.

DEFECTIV PAG

Ole Aonning.

The death of Ole Aonning occurred at his home in the township of Rocksbury last Sunday, death being caused by chronic rheumatism. He was 74 years old and was born in Norway. He was one of the oldest farmers in Rocksbury township, having lived there for thirty-five years. He leaves to mourn his death, his wife but no children.

The funeral was held yesterday afternoon at his home with Rev. Geo. Larson, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church in charge.

Mogensen's Anniversary Sale.

The big anniversary sale at Mogensen's starts next Saturday and as usual will be an event worth waiting for. Mr. Mogensen finds himself overstocked, and in spite of the fact that merchandise now days is better than money in the bank because of the fact that prices are steadily going up, he finds it advisable to reduce stock without any particular regard to what he gets for the merchandise. This stock is without doubt one of the very best in northern Minnesota as well as one of the largest. The prices at which it is being thrown on the market should have the effect of reducing it at once. Everyone knows where clothing prices are going these days and to find dependable goods reduced instead of raised in cost is rather unusual. This enterprising merchant has made preparations for attending to the wants of a large crowd, but he advises everyone to shop early and thus make sure of not being disappointed.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Allyn Halzeth of Bagley, accompanied by his parents, arrived in this city the latter part of last week and is confined in the Physicians' hospital recovering from a successful operation performed Monday morning.

TWO MILLION MEN PLACED IN CLASS 1

PROBABILITIES ARE THAT THIS WILL FURNISH ALL THE MEN NEEDED.

Pennington county draft registrants who were placed in the deferred classes when the distribution was made have naturally been speculating somewhat as to how long it will take the government to exhaust Class 1 and begin reaching down the line after the others. Latest advices would seem to indicate that they are in no immediate danger, and that they may never be called.

Provost Marshal General Crowder has advised the senate military committee that approximately two million drafted men will be placed in class 1. These two million, according to General Crowder, are exclusive of between 500,000 and 1,000,000 more annually who would be made subject to military duty under the proposed bill subjecting to registration youths reaching their majority.

Only Highest Class.

From the two million men in class 1 and the additional number secured by new legislation, General Crowder has advised senators that it will be improbable that calls will go outside of the highest class.

Plans for the new draft are somewhat unsettled by the house amendment to the senate bill changing basis of quotas from state populations to the number of men in class 1 which would give credit to states for all men previously furnished.

Operation of the house amendment, according to General Crowder, would cause much inequality between states in the new draft. Agricultural states, he has advised the committee, would have to furnish the largest new quotas and it is doubted whether this would be advisable in view of necessity for undiminished food production.

To Scrutinize Plan.

According to preliminary inquiry of the provost marshal general's office, of the house amendment, three states would be exempt entirely from the new call.

Because of the disproportions arising under the house plans, General Crowder has obtained an agreement from congressional leaders to postpone action on the bill until a careful analysis of results is available.

Purchased Another Stock.

The farm implement firm of C. Gustafson & Son, which a short time ago purchased the stock of farm implements formerly handled by the Prichard company, has acquired another large supply of the same kind of wares. A deal was consummated yesterday whereby the concern takes over the entire stock of A. G. Tvedt & Son at Goodridge. It is the intention to move the greater part of the machinery and implements to Thief River Falls, but a supply station may be maintained at Goodridge. The Tvedt stock was easily the largest in the eastern part of the county.

Nearly Ready for Business.

The Nortz Lumber company has purchased the yard and buildings formerly the property of the Thief River Falls Manufacturing company and are this week busy getting things in shape. They expect to be ready for business within a very short time now as very little work on the premises was necessary in order to put it in shape as a lumber yard. The company's offices will be at 123 Main avenue south.

Resolution of Respect and Condolence.

Whereas, in view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our Brother, J. H. McKinney and of the heavier loss sustained to those who weer dearest to him;

Therefore be it resolved, that it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his removal from our midst we mourn for one who, in every way, was worthy of our respect and regard.

Resolved, that we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on this dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to affect them, commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and those chastisements are meant in mercy.

Resolved, that this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be forwarded to the family of our departed friend and brother.

Resolved, that these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased and published in the local newspaper and placed upon the minutes of the meeting and the charter be draped in mourning for a period of 60 days as a token of our respect and veneration for the character of a good man gone to rest.

RED CROSS GETS CALL FOR SURGICAL DRESSINGS

The Surgical Dressings room of the local Red Cross chapter will be re-opened Monday. An urgent appeal has just been received for surgical dressings and this city has been given a certain allotment to be turned out within a given time.

Every woman is urged to assist as often as possible, the rooms again being open every afternoon and evening.

Clothing Store Fire.

Fire on Monday morning did about $1,650 damage at the clothing store of Maurice Giller. The blaze started in the rooms over the store occupied by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Sutton, and was caused by an overheated stove. The fire damage was not great but considerable loss was caused by water which ran through onto the clothing stock below. The damage to the building was about $150, the balance being to the stock, which was covered by insurance. One large rack of valuable goods was completely soaked while minor damages resulted in other parts of the establishment.

More Land For Red Cross.

The local chapter of the Red Cross has been offered the use of more garden plots. This time it is land which has been plowed for garden purposes and is in Fairfax addition. Willis Warring, living on rural route No. 2 out of this city, had plowed up the land for garden purposes but he will be unable to care for it and has tendered the use thereof this summer to the Red Cross if anyone can be found who will furnish the seed and care for the garden. Anyone interested sufficiently in the matter should confer with any of the officers, Thos. A. Way, chairman; T. L. Melgaard, treasurer; or Scott Laird, secretary.

SCHOOL NOTES

Professor Martin of the Moorhead Normal visited the high schools and some of the grade buildings on Monday. This errand was primarily to secure students for enrollment at the state normals and to induce more graduates to enter the teaching profession and aid in overcoming the increasing shortage of teachers.

A registered nurse, Miss Robertson of Minneapolis, is at work this week examining the pupils and visiting homes where illness exists. Her duty is to aid parents in suppressing contagious diseases. It is surprising how many mothers resent this assistance and take occasion to "roast" the school authorities, when all the time the intention is to protect and help. A little patience and the exercise of good sense ought to convince everybody that the services of a visiting nurse are highly essential just at this time.

President J. C. Brown of the St. Cloud Normal will deliver the graduation address at the Auditorium on the evening of Friday, May 17th. Mr. Brown is a popular platform orator and will not fail to satisfy the public.

Miss Antonette Johnson and her Junior students certainly accomplished a decided social success last Saturday evening when they entertained their Senior friends, the board of education and high school faculty. This Junior-Senior reception is considered one of the most important and interesting functions of the school year.

Mr. Grant Wells and his high school orchestra are the recipients of many compliments, not alone for the progress they exhibit, but also for their willingness to assist at school entertainments.

The teachers have made special efforts to assist those in their classes who are in danger of failing of promotion. The monthly report cards have carried the information of the child's standing and attendance to the homes throughout the year, so every parents must be familiar with his child's progress. The teachers are as anxious as are the parents to secure proper promotion for the pupils, but no one knows better than they what a mistake is made when undeserved promotions are made. Irregular attendance, outside distractions, lack of effort, and slowness to learn are the chief causes of the children's failures. Special classes for the backward ones are in operation and everything possible is being done to aid them.

The High School Department of Agriculture is testing the corn display which has been at the Commercial club rooms, for the last four years. If enough show that they will grow, the corn will be used for seed in this locality.

TAXING SUBJECT IS MADE PLAIN

HENRY A. S. IVES GIVES VALUABLE INSTRUCTIONS TO ASSESSORS.

CITY AND COUNTRY RATIO

AIM SHOULD BE ABSOLUTE FAIRNESS IN EVERY CASE, SAYS EXPERT.

"If every property owner and assessor made an honest attempt to comply strictly with the law, injustice in taxation would be reduced to a minimum and each person would bear approximately his proportionate share of the common burden."

This statement was made by Henry A. S. Ives, secretary of the Minnesota tax commission, in an address to the assessors of Pennington county at their annual conference at the court house last Wednesday.

Liable to Favor Rich.

"The tendency often is, however, for both assessors and property owners," continued Mr. Ives, "to interpret the law to suit their own notions or convenience. This always leads to inequalities and injustice, from the top to the bottom of the social ladder, always destroys or impairs the equities which distinguish the rules of systematic taxation in a democracy from the arbitrary exactions of autocratic governments. In the last analysis any departure from the legal standard favors the well-to-do and rich and penalizes the poor; fines those who are honest, and subsidizes the dishonest; puts a premium on law evasion and substitutes personal caprice for exact justice and gross discrimination for fair play.

"Our system of taxation presupposes that a man's ability to pay is measured by the value of his lands, goods and chattels. If these be in each case correctly listed and appraised in accordance with law there can be little complaint as approximate justice will have been attained. On the other hand, if there is any substantial evasion of the law, injustice is certain to prevail.

The Assessor's Duty.

"It is the paramount duty of the assessor to see that the law is complied with. If he fails, no amount of subsequent equalization possibly can correct his errors. Justice in taxation depends on him more than on any other person connected with the taxing system of the state and he is by far the most important and powerful official connected with the enforcement of our revenue laws.

Poor Are Easily Taxed.

"Taxes are a fixed charge against every community and a certain amount of money must be raised each year. It is up to the assessor to determine each persons fair share of the total, but he has nothing whatever to do with making taxes high or low. If he underestimates any one share the deficiency must be made up by the remainder of the community, and if any one's share be over-estimated the others escape too lightly. Generally speaking, it is the man who can best afford to pay who escapes and the poor man who must make up the difference. Much of the property of the well-to-do may easily be concealed and the owner is often more adroit in the art of concealing than those with but little of this world's goods. On the other hand, the property of the poor man is easily discovered and he usually is assessed at nearer the correct amount than is his wealthy neighbor.

Conditions Are Improving.

"Assessors should see to it that this situation is corrected and that the burden of taxation is more equitably apportioned than has been the case in the past. Conditions are rapidly improving in Minnesota, but more improvement is needed and the assessor is more liable to accomplish the needed reforms than any other person or official in the commonwealth."

Mr. Ives told of the many difficulties confronting the assessor, and said that the pay of these officials should be materially increased. It is now but $3 a day, less than many a common laborer can earn. He also spoke of the tendency on the part of taxpayers to deceive the assessor and hide their property.

Try to Hinder Work.

"While citizens generally could aid the assessor in many ways," he said, "yet in many cases they try to hinder him in his work, and often deliberately deceive him as to the amount and value of their property. This disposition to under-estimate when the assessor calls seems hereditary and most difficult to eliminate. Men who are scrupulously honest in regard to ordinary business dealings often are the most versatile tax dodgers in a community."

Mr. Ives said that the astounding ignorance of the average citizen as to taxation was to be deplored and that assessors could accomplish much if they would discuss the various problems of taxation frankly with their friends and neighbors. He added that there were many successful business men who could not tell the difference between the assessment and the levy.

The Situation in Pennington.

"What makes the question of just and equitable taxation even more pressing than ever before" continued Mr. Ives," is the steady increase in public expenditures. In Pennington county the total amount raised by the general property tax in 1914 was $181,266.14, while the amount to be raised this year, based on the 1917 assesment and levy, would aggregate $238,107.86, an increase of 31 per cent. During the same period assessed valuations rose from $4,047,755 to $4,757,245 or 17 per cent and the average tax rate from 44.47 mills to 50.05 mills, or 13 per cent.

Only Eight Cents to State.

"Taxes are for the most part purely local in character and generally speaking about 92 cents out of every dollar collected in Minnesota is used for town, village, city or county purposes. The remaining 8 cents goes to the support of the state government. Therefore economy in public expenditures, as in all other things, should begin at home. This is more forcibly illustrated by the fact that township taxes levied during the period from 1890 to 1915 in this state increased 616 per cent, while county levies during the same period increased but 372 per cent, school district levies 348 per cent, city and village taxes 247 per cent and state taxes 237 per cent. This is most significant in view of the fact that the township is the only governmental subdivision where the people have direct and immediate control over expenditures, as all taxes must be imposed by the town meetings which every voter may attend and have his say."

The speaker showed that each $100 of the 1917 levy in this county would be distributed as follows:

State	5.72
County	13.52
Cities and Villages	20.62
Townships	3.55
Education	39.75
Roads and Bridges	16.84

Attention was called to the fact that the tax burden in cities and villages is much higher than that in the rural districts of the state. In this county the average rate in townships is 35.51 mills, while in cities and villages the average is 80.10 mills. In addition land in villages is assessed on a basis 20 per cent higher than that in townships.

Farm and City Compared.

"To illustrate," said Mr. Ives, "we will compare the taxes to be paid this year on a quarter section of land in the town of Rocksbury and on property in the city of Thief River Falls valued at the same amount. The average true and full value per acre of land in Rocksbury township according to the last assessment, is $30.42, applying this average to the 160 acres we are discussing gives a total valuation of $48.67. Farm land being assessed at one-third of full value, we find the assessment against this quarter section to be $16.22 and using the average tax rate in the district, 36.50 mills, we find the total taxes to be paid this year will be $59.20.

"Now the man in the city of Thief River Falls who owns business or residence property equal in full value to this farm finds that it is assessed at 40 per cent of full value or at $19.47, just twenty per cent higher than that amount at which the farm is assessed. His tax rate is 82.91 mills, and applying this to his valuation we find that he will pay $161.42 in taxes on property of the same true and full value as that located in Rocksbury township where the total tax is but $59.20.

Gets Greater Benefit.

"This situation, however, is not to be wondered at, as the man in the city is getting, generally speaking, many more benefits than is his country neighbor. The cities and villages of the state must have high and graded schools, libraries, water and electric light systems, sidewalks, paved and graded streets, sewers, a hundred and one other utilities which are not needed or required in the country. Necessarily the taxes in such communities will be high, and this is not in itself an evil as no country ever prospered where public expenditures were negligible. There can be no doubt but that a man gets a higher return out of a dollar paid in taxes than out of a dollar invested in any other way."

Churches Alone Exempt.

Mr. Ives concluded by explaining fully the laws relating to assessment, and particularly called the attention of assesors to the fact that parsonages, church property not used for church purposes, and property of lodges and fraternal organizations are not exempt from taxation and never have been in the history of the state. If such property has been exempted in the past the proceeding has been in direct violation of law.

He also declared that the state should show a very material increase in the money and credits assessment this year, and pointed out in this connection that despite the drain on financial resources caused by the Liberty Loan campaigns, there is today considerably more money on deposit in the savings and commercial banks of this state than ever before.

WARNING AGAINST SETTING OF FIRES

SAFETY COMMISSION PROHIBITS ALL OUTDOOR BURNINGS FOR 6 MONTHS.

The Minnesota Commission of Public Safety has included Pennington in the list of counties in which the starting of fires outdoors is practically prohibited for six months. The chairmen of town boards, the county commissioners and the sheriffs are named as officials to see that the order is carried out. The warning is signed by Gov. Burnquist and Secretary Libby of the commission and is as follows:

"It is ordered by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety that from and after April 15th, for a period of six months, no person shall kindle or set any fire in grass, stubble, peat, brush, slash or woods, or kindle any fire except for domestic or industrial purposes in the following counties: Cook, Lake, St. Louis, Carlton, Itasca, Kanabec, Koochiching, Beltrami, Aitkin, Pine, Cass, Crow Wing, Clearwater, Hubbard, Becker, Mahnomen, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Todd, Wadena, Clay, Norman, Ottertail, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Roseau and Kittson. Provided, that this order shall not apply to fields around which an ample firebreak has been freshly plowed, or to fires kindled or set by the state forester or under his direction, regulation or permission."

WHEAT ACREAGE THIRD GREATER

THIS IS ESTIMATE OF PENNINGTON COUNTY CROP NOW MADE.

POTATOES ALSO INCREASED

TWELVE FARMERS WILL ALONE PLANT MORE THAN 300 ACRES THIS SPRING.

County Agent Ross P. White estimates that the wheat acreage of Pennington county will this year be 33 1-3 per cent greater than last year. He bases his opinion upon observation and report and believes it to be conservative. The government's guarantee of a fair price for the 1918 crop is largely responsible for this fact and the patriotic feature has also had a great deal to do with it. The probabilities are, however, that the promising season has been the deciding factor with many. Seeding began earlier than for many years past, the work being practically completed now whereas in most former years it had only been begun at this time.

Promising For Corn.

Experts in climatic and soil conditions say that the coming summer will be a good one for corn and that more of this cereal will be planted than has generally been supposed. The question of seed has been holding many back but it is thought that enough of the acclimated article will be found to supply a considerable demand. Farmers are urged to plant fodder corn even if they are unable to secure the desired field variety as hay is liable to be high in price and will be needed by the government for war purposes. Farmers are therefore urged to protect themselves against a shortage by raising corn fodder.

Increase in Potatoes.

In spite of the fact that many farmers found their potato venture to be rather unfortunate last year, there will be a large acreage planted in the county this spring. More than 300 acres will be taken up with comparatively large plots, twelve men totaling this much ground for spud cultivation. They are: The Prichards, 50 acres; Waldie Christianson, 50 acres; O. B. Gunderson, 40; William Korstad, 20; Carl Jenson, 10; Ben Rosendahl, 16; Albert Johnson, 15; Paul Englestad, 15; Peter Englestad, 25; C. W. Correll, 10; F. T. Satre, 15; James Kirk, 12.

Farmers from every section are very optimistic over the outlook. Not only does the season augur well for large crops, but there is every likelihood that prices will be very satisfactory.

ABSENT SOLDIERS ALLOWED TO VOTE

SAFETY COMMISSION EXTENDS PROVISIONS OF THE LAW TO COVER CASE.

Minnesota soldiers are not to be deprived of their rights as American citizens because of the fact that they are fighting in the army or navy of their country.

The Commission of Public Safety, has by order, extended the provisions of the so-called Absent Voters' Law, Chapter 68, Laws 1917, with certain modifications, to the primary election to be held June 17, 1918. Under the terms of the order any person in the military or naval service of the United States who is absent from his election district on that day may vote by mail. To do so, however, the absent voter must first make an application for ballots in a form prescribed by said order; he must also subscribe to the oath printed on the back of such form and mail the application and oath to the County Auditor of the county in which he is entitled to vote. The auditor will then mail the voter the necessary ballots to be marked by him, and the envelopes within which to mail the same to the election judges with full instructions as to the procedure to be followed.

Friends and relatives of soldiers and sailors are requested to procure and mail the blank "applications for ballots" to them. When sending a blank to your boy include several others, to the end that he may hand the extra copies to other Minnesota voters who may not otherwise be supplied.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for the assistance rendered and kindness shown during the illness and recent bereavment over the death of our husband and father, George Nustvold. We wish to also express our thanks for the abundant floral offerings.

Mrs. Mollie Jervison.

Mrs. Mollie Jervison, wife of Harry Jervison of Wasson Flats, Mont., who had been a patient at the sanitarium, died last Friday morning at the age of 39 years and 11 months. The funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at St. John Lutheran church, Rev. F. J. Seltz officiating. Interment followed at Greenwood cemetery.

Stenberg-Wyman.

The marriage of Mr. Alfred Stenberg and Miss Mae Wyman quietly took place in this city at the hospital last Friday evening at eight o'clock with Rev. Geo. Larson pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, reading the ceremony. Miss Wyman was attended by Miss Agnes Carlson, while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Martin Stenberg, of this city.

Miss Wyman, whose home is in Baudette, has been one of the nurses at the local hospital for nearly two years past and expects to return to this city after a brief wedding trip to her home, to finish her course. Mr. Stenberg, an employee of the Soo railroad, has been called to service and entrains tomorrow for camp.

Following the wedding ceremony an informal reception was given in honor of the bride and groom by the physicians and nurses of the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Stenberg left on the Soo flyer for Baudette.

For Red Cross Work.

Alfred Hermanson, teacher in Dist. No. 50, reports that the social held in the school house on April 13 for the purpose of raising funds for the Red Cross work, was well attended, the proceeds amounting to $25.75. Mr. Hermanson is very much pleased with the showing made by his school and wishes to express his thanks to the people of the district.

FANCY PRICE FOR NATIVE SEED CORN

HARVEY COPP RECEIVES $20.60 PER BUSHEL FOR SMALL AMOUNT.

Last year's corn crop in this neighborhood was practically a failure and the farmer who was lucky enough to get any kind of a yield and saved it until this spring now finds himself very frotunate. Corn growers have learned that seed from the more southern sections does not do as well here as the home-grown product and they always aim to save enough of their own crop for the following spring's seed. This year, however, the supply is so short that almost any price is paid for it. Harvey Copp had a small amount which he this week disposed of at the rate of $20.60 per bushel. This seed will be parcelled out and planted under the direction of the farm bureau into seed plots in order that the supply of native corn may again come somewhere near supplying the demand.

The corn on display at the Commercial club rooms will be tested for germination by County Agent R. P. White and F. G. Wells, agricultural instructor at the Thief River Falls high school. This display was secured frm the 1915 crop, one of the beet over raised in this section, and if it is found to still possess germinating power it will be parcelled out for seed propagation.

Spring opens with every promise of a good corn year and the matter of seed is most important. In spite of the scarcity indications are that the corn acreage of northern Minnesota will greatly exceed that of last year.

JUDGE FRANK IVES DIES AT CASS LAKE

MINNESOTA PIONEER AND FORMER OWNER OF TOWNSITE OF ST. HILAIRE.

Judge Frank Ives died at his home at Cass Lake last Thursday morning at the age of 86 years. His wife and Harry Ives, their only son and former clerk of court of Pennington county, and G. S. Ives, former lieutenant governor, were at his bedside when death came. Besides these Judge Ives is survived by one brother and two sisters living in the east.

The deceased was one of the early settlers in northern Minnesota and was long connected prominently in political, professional and business life in this section of the state. Coming from New York to Minnesota 56 years ago, Judge Ives settled in Red Wing but soon after moved to Crookston where he practiced law for a number of years. He also held two terms as judge of the district court, being elected under the Populist administration. In later years he moved to St. Hilaire where he was in business for some time besides practicing his profession. In 1898 Judge Ives moved to Cass Lake where he founded the Cass Lake Times which he ran until two years ago when he retired from active work.

He was a partner of the late James J. Hill, St. Paul, in building the Red River & Lake of the Woods railroad from Shirley to St. Hilaire in 1882. He was owner of the townsite when St. Hilaire was organized and operated the first trout hatchery west of the Alleghenies on Little Trimbell creek near Red Wing.

Judge Ives was one of the 25 delegates from the United States to the National Geographical congress under the auspices of the czar of Russia in 1897.

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Bread Froze to Sack.

The cold had not abated to any great degree but we were getting used to it. We knew that we must expect severe weather as we were very near the Arctic Circle. As I ran along I put my hand up to my face to see how rough it was, for I had had no chance to shave for a week now, and I noticed the last few morning that my face would be frozen to the sleeping sack when I awoke. I had to loosen myself with my hands before I could get out of the sack, for, figuratively speaking, I was literally frozen in. I knew that with my frozen face and ten days' absence from my shaving outfit, I would not make a very presentable appearance at the mission.

A Long Hard Tramp.

We were now on salt water again. About noon we came to a part of the coast where we were to strike across Escholtz Bay and make for a point of land known as Elephant's Head. We did not take time to stop and cook anything. We had no time for that. We unpacked the sled so that we could get a hard tack apiece and some dry salmon. These we choked down without any drink, for it was a long ways over to that headland and we wanted to reach that and beyond before night, so we took but little time to eat or rest.

After our lunch we took up our journey again and I never traveled over such an area as was presented to us that afternoon. I had been tired from hard traveling before, but the snow was so deep and the traveling so heavy that I thought, long before I had reached the opposite shore, that I could not take another step. Still I kept on. Mr. Flannagan kept telling me that just beyond was a village of natives, and if we could reach there we would have a warm place to sleep. So far we had not slept entirely in the open and we did not relish the first experience out. Had it been summer it would have been different, but winter, and winter near the Arctic, was another thing. It seemed as the afternoon wore away that we would never get across the bay. The promontory known as Elephant's Head seemed as far away as when we started.

Gloomy But Welcome.

We were cold and hungry and most of all, extremely tired. The sun had gone down; the stars were now shining and it was the same old story—that of pulling one foot out of the snow as we plunged the other one in. Would we never reach the shore? But at last we were rewarded by finding ourselves in the shadow of the dark, gloomy-looking headland. Dark and gloomy and foreboding as it appeared just then, I thought that I had never seen any place quite so inviting. The present need had swallowed up all memory of our experiences of the last few days. Oh, how thankful I was to be on shore again!

A Cold Bunk Place.

Mr. Flannagan was anxious to push on to the native houses. I asked him as to the probable distance. He could not give me a satisfactory answer. We were standing in a little hollow where the wind whirling around the rocks had swept the snow away. I said that we would go into camp right where we were. The sled was hurriedly unroped, the sleeping sack taken out and put in the hollow which had been made by the wind. Each dog was thrown a fish and with the same food in our own hands we hurriedly put the rest of the bundle of fish down preparatory to putting it underneath our heads that we might keep it from the dogs. Then, as we were getting cold we crawled into our skin-bed just as we were and ate what supper we had in our hands under cover.

Victim of Arctic Night.

Even under such circumstances there came creeping in to make our life less lonesome, a picture that I fain would give you. Lying as we were in the hollow of the snow; thankful for the comfort afforded by our bed; fairly well satisfied with our limited diet; rejoicing in the fact that we were strong and filled with the hope of youth, we encouraged the wooing of Morpheus, but not before the sense of comfort made us peep through the opening in our cover and see wonderful things. Oh such a grand, beautiful bedroom as was ours, with a canopy studded with stars borrowed from heaven; with a carpet of snowy whiteness sparkling with diamonds, loaned us for the occasion. Even the rocky promontory as it was silhouetted against the sky took on a less formidable appearance and seemed to be standing guard over us in our newly made bed. Our sled, angular and skeleton-like as it was, appeared as a fairy conveyance in the light of that Arctic night. Our dogs, curled up with their noses firmly embedded in their furry flanks were as great, soft rugs, beautiful with every hair point a shaft of glistening silver. But that was not all, for streaming up from the north in great massive pillars, extending on over the vault of heaven, then losing their brightness only when they reached the horizon, were the rays of the northern lights in all their grandeur, giving us that soft delicate light to take away the realness of our surroundings.

A Rude Awakening.

Then, the next we knew, it was morning and the sled was a sled again; the bold rocky headland stood out cold and uninviting. The snow was only a covering for the rough, uneven ground, as we hurried over it on our way to the native village, which we reached after traveling for half an hour. There we remained for the day resting up and preparing for our last day's run—or what we hoped would be our last day's run—before delivering the mail.

An Impoverished Village.

At this village the natives were very needy. They told us that in the spring they would often run out of food and have to live on soup made from walrus skin taken either from the soles of their boots or off their skin boats. Many of the old people die at this time. It seems to make no difference how cold and bleak and uninviting a locality is, if a native has been born there, there he lives for the rest of his life. It is impossible to get them to move to districts so much more suitable to habitation. Here there was so little around their bleak homes in the winter but snow and ice. Their houses were underground, unsanitary and uninviting. Nevertheless they would run the risk of starvation, rather than move. Very little provision was ever made for the future; they seemed satisfied if their present wants were supplied.

Small Coins Valueless.

They were kind to us and we took possession of their house without asking, "By your leave?"

We always paid them either in supplies or by money if we took advantage of the accommodations their poor houses afforded. I never knew one to be offended when we crowded into their houses. We always paid them with half dollars or dollars. They would not take a quarter or a dime or a nickle, as they had no value to them as mediums of exchange.

Running in a Circle.

We rested and slept much of the day while with these natives and by three o'clock the next morning we had the dogs harnessed and started on our way. Mr. Flannagan ran ahead of the team but becoming confused he began leading us in a circle. I called to him and told him that he was starting off wrong. He could not believe it until he came back and I convinced him. Then he asked me to run ahead and it was not long till I heard him calling me for I was circling out to the ocean ice, as he had done, when I should have kept to the shore. It was not only dark but the air was full of that Arctic mist which indicated extreme coldness. We stopped and held a consultation as to what was best to do. Neither of us could be trusted to find the way in the dark. We at last decided to stop at the house of a native living just a short distance beyond and make an effort to hire him to go along.

Securing a Guide.

After coming to this decision we moved on; finally coming to the house. When we stopped we were on top of the house. I called down through the opening that is used for light and sometimes though rarely, for ventilation. No sound came in response. Then I called again and heard a low guttoral "ugh" showing that they heard me. Mr. Flannagan then went down and after talking with them, hired the young man as our guide, agreeing to pay him five dollars and in addition leave a package of tea and some dry fish for the old folks to live upon while the young man was away. All this took time, and although we had started early we had gone but a short distance in this first hour and a half. After our guide joined us, we succeeded in getting along pretty well for a while, but the way was long and the going rough. Noon came and despite the early start, we had not covered half the distance to the mission at Katzebue. The feet of the dogs were sore and they would not pull well for the load was heavy as we had to break our own trail. I grew apprehensive and feared that we would never reach the mission that night. We did not stop to eat anything at noon, and as for something to drink, it was out of the question.

Started Inland.

Now, came the question as to whether we should leave the coast and cut across the country, going over a rough, hilly way that we might shorten the distance. I had never been this way before and I could not say very much. I left it to the carrier and the native. The native said nothing in favor of it, neither did he raise any objection. It was left then with Mr. Flannagan who had suggested going inland. In my innermost self I felt that it was the wrong thing to do, but as I had no good reasons to give and as I wanted to make the journey as short as possible, I made no objection, so we started over the hills.

Hills In Endless Succession.

Oh, the agony of that afternoon! Climbing to the top of one hill only brought us to the point where we could look ahead and see that just beyond there was another hill to climb. There seemed no end to the hills. The snow was crusted, but it would not hold our weight, nor the weight of the dogs, nor that of the sled. Tolouk absolutely refused to pull. It made no difference how much I whipped him, his tugs were loose all the time. Sigolook was tired and pulled only once in a while. Brownie shirked, as was his custom, making but a pretense to keep his tugs tight. The load was thrown on good old Knuck, Stumpy and Blackie and the dog the native had brought along. They were tired too.

A Discouraging Outlook.

It was growing late and the sun had set to the southwest. Then darkness came on and we were away off among the hills on that bitter cold night, in the Arctic, having crossed the circle during the forenoon's travel. No one seemed to know the way. We just kept floundering on. The only satisfaction we got from the dark was that we were not sure of another hill ahead of us to climb till we came to it. We kept hoping while going down the last hill that there would be no more in our way, but that we would come out upon the level ground near the mission. There seemed to be no last hill any more.

Water—But Salt.

We were getting extremely thirsty but we had no wood to make a fire to melt the snow. Coming to a depression between the hills the native knelt down and began to scrape away the snow with his hands. I was surprised at his actions and more surprised when I saw that in scooping away the snow he had found water. Upon tasting it, it was so briny that we could not drink it.

A Dreadful Realization.

Then we went on again, taking the stars for our guide. It was most depressing. The hunger and thirst—the cold and fatigue—the difficult way and exhausted dogs—the fight that we had put up for eighteen hours; dreading a realization of this hour which kept crowding itself upon us, telling us that we were lost—lost under such circumstances.

Again we stopped when we found that one hill only led to another. We were only guessing at the direction the mission lay from us. When we stopped for this time it was for the purpose of discussing the question of whether we should stop and wait till morning or go on. Every muscle in our bodies was crying out against this great exertion. Mr. Flannagan and the native were in favor of stopping and they looked to me for my opinion. This time I felt that I had a right to express myself and I said, "Go on," and on we went without another word, bowing our heads to the irony of fate.

MOON INFLUENCE IS ABSURD

Phases of the Great Night Illuminator Have Nothing to Do With Crops, Say Scientists.

In the farmers' almanacs you will find tables of dates proper for planting crops, killing hogs and so on based upon the phases of the moon. And the Rural New Yorker is authority for the statement that many farmers still adhere faithfully to this ancient system. To show them how absurd this is, it prints the following statement by C. F. Marvin, chief of the United States weather bureau:

"It is the general belief of scientists that the moon has no appreciable influence on temperature, rainfall, or any other weather element, or on plant growth.

"Plant growth depends upon temperature, light, humidity and plantfood (both in the soil and in the air), and its availability. Obviously the moon neither mellows the ground nor fertilizes it, neither does it alter the composition of the atmosphere; hence it affects neither the mechanical condition of the soil nor the kind or quantity of available plantfood.

"If the moon has any influence on plant growth it would seem that it must exert this influence through its light. Experiment, however, shows that when a plant is so shadowed that it gets only one one-hundredth of normal daylight, it grows but little better than it does in absolute darkness. Full daylight is about 600,000 times brighter than full moonlight; hence one one-hundredth of daylight, already too feeble to stimulate appreciably plant activity, is still 6,000 times brighter than full moonlight. The conclusion is that, even in respect to light stimulus, the moon's influence on plant growth is wholly negligible."

Work and the Busy World.

Are you one of the persons who cannot work in a crowd? If you are, you are a most unfortunate person, for it is a fact that in this busy age most of us have to learn to do our work wherever we may happen to be. It is seldom that we find it possible to work in seclusion, shut away from the noise and rush of business, observes an efficiency engineer.

Most large business concerns are beehives of activity. Unless one can find it possible to concentrate on the work in hand, even in the midst of confusion, it is plain to see that much time will be lost and much energy wasted in this rushing world, where each one faces many duties in many lines of activity.

Soya Beans as Food.

The Soya bean promises to become one of the most important food materials of the vegetable kingdom, declares the Pathfinder. Milk in either a powdered or a liquid form is being produced from it, the oil can be hardened into an edible fat or used satisfactorily as a substitute for linseed oil, the beans in the natural state make a palatable, nutritious dish when properly cooked, and the pulp which remains after the oil has been expressed is excellent for feeding to live stock.

The Public Forum

Readers of The Times are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas on topics of general interest, but discussion of sectarian religious differences as well as personalities are barred. Patriotism of the Farmer.

Editor Times. Dear Sir:—When A. C. Townley is received at the White House, and President Wilson is shown by message to congress to have been favorably impressed by the Nonpartisan League president, and when President Wilson writes to the Nonpartisan Congressman J. M. Baer, a letter of praise for his cooperation with the government in its prosecution of the war, and when Ex-Congressman William Kent is sent from Washington as the agent of the government to speak at the Nonpartisan League conference held at St. Paul on March 19 and 21, what does it mean when the state politicians and the press start a crusade against the Nonpartisan League and its officers on the pretext of disloyalty?

It can have but one meaning. It means that the politicians and the Big Business interests of Minnesota want to crush the farmers' organization and keep the farmers at the mercy of the money power of the state. This is the long and the short of it.

I am sure that no one who knows the farmers will be deceived by the hay-wire politicians who are trying to hide their vile attacks upon the wealth producers of the state behind the stars and stripes.

It has come to a pretty pass when the men who are working their hardest to produce the wheat to feed our brave boys in the trenches are set upon by a crowd of office-holders and profiteers with a charge of disloyalty.

These fellows may stop the farmers meetings but they won't stop the farmer's votes on election day. And take it from me, that's what is hurting them. They see the farmers' vote slipping away.

They have kept us divided in the past, now we're going down the road together to put over the men and measures of our own selection, and it will be the just penalty for their past misconduct if they are left by the wayside.

Yours for fair play,

April 23. T. H. BJERKE.

Letters from the BOYS

WAR SMASHER FOR SOLDIER AT FRONT

MARTIN LANGSETH SENDS $50 WITH WHICH TO PURCHASE LIBERTY BOND.

In a letter to his mother, dated the 7th of March, and also a card to his sister, dated sometime later, Martin Langseth, now in France, writes that the Thief River boys are well, with the exception of Harold Provencher, who had a slight attack of rheumatism.

A couple of months ago Martin sent home a check for $50, requesting that it should be used for a liberty bond. He says he is going to send another war smasher this month.

A number of souvenirs have also been received from him, including a beautiful embroidered pillow cover for his mother. He states that if we could see some of the stunts the Germans have pulled off over there, we would make every effort to help. He sends greetings to his friends.

HOME GUARD TRAINING CAME IN VERY HANDY

BEN BOTHUN MADE DRILL INSTRUCTOR BECAUSE OF PREVIOUS EXPERIENCE.

Ben. E. Bothun, formerly a reporter for The Times and one of the Thief River Falls boys who expects soon to be making history in France as a member of the 20th regiment of Engineers, has written a letter to Judge N. W. Tarrant in which he says that he likes army life well and is thriving on the healthy exercise and excellent food at American University camp, Washington. A week or so ago The Times printed an article telling of his having gone to the top of Washington monument, to which reference is made in the opening part of his letter.

Ben was a member of the home guard company in this city a short time before leaving, has found that even this slight experience has been of advantage to him, as will be seen by his letter:

"I saw by last week's Times," he says, "that I was 'way up in the world,' but I came down from there very sudden. I really don't care to be that high. I walked up the blooming thing and thought I never would reach the top, but I wanted to say that I had walked up.

"Well, judge, I also read of your election to the fair secretaryship and I hope you will give them a good one this year, even though you have no first-class band to play for you as heretofore. I will be pretty far away by fair time, as we are expecting orders any day now to pack up and sail for France. We have been ordered to write out our cards to friends saying, 'Arrived safely overseas.' These cards are handed in here and held at Washington until we land and then released on receipt of a cablegram.

"Washington is a beautiful city. I have been over to the capitol and saw the House in action. The Senate was not in session, but a man took us in and I asked where 'Uncle Knute' sat. He took Burns and myself to the place and asked us to write our names on a paper and I sat down at the desk of Senator Cummins of Iowa, to comply, using his pen. The guide gave Senator Nelson our names the next day. The capitol is a wonderful piece of architecture.

"I am well and have been so since joining the army. I spent four weeks in Columbus, Ohio, and landed here on March 18. I was made squad leader the first day and have also been drill instructor. My home guard training has helped me on. I am going out to Mount Vernon on Saturday and see the place where Washington used to kick around. It's near Arlington cemetery.

"Everything is going full blast in the East. It snowed here Thursday and Friday, reminding me of old Minnesota. There are more Minnesota boys here than from all the other states and we also have some from Alaska.

"My time is limited, judge, as I have to play for guard mount and retreat. You can expect to hear from me in France soon."

The complete address of this soldier is: Benjamin E. Bothun, Co. F, 10th Batt., 20th Eng., American University, Washington, D. C.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of Three Hundred Forty-two and 40-100 ($342.40) Dollars, which is claimed to be due and is due at the date of this notice upon a certain Mortgage, duly executed and delivered by Edward W. Osgood and Jennie Pearl Osgood, his wife, Mortgagors, to B H. Chase, Mortgagee, bearing date the First day of March, 1917, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the Fifth day of September, 1917, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., in Book 57 of Mortgages, on page 150.

AND WHEREAS, That said B. H. Chase, the mortgagee and holder of said mortgage, has duly elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage due and payable at the date of this notice, under the terms and conditions of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained; and whereas there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable at the date of this notice the sum Seventeen Hundred Two and 40-100 ($1702.40) Dollars, and whereas the said power of sale has become operative, and no action or proceeding having been instituted, at law or otherwise, to recover the debt secured by said Mortgage or any part thereof.

NOW, THEREFORE, NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said Mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said Mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said Mortgage, viz:

The Northwest Quarter (NW¼) of Section numbered Ten (10) in Township numbered One Hundred Fifty-three (153) North of Range numbered Forty-five (45) West of the Fifth principal Meridian and containing One Hundred Sixty Acres, more or less according to the United States Government survey thereof, lying and being in Pennington County and State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances; which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said Pennington County at the front door of the Court House, in the City of Thief River Falls, in said County and State, on the Eleventh day of May, 1918, at 10 o'clock A. M., of that day, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Seventeen Hundred Two and 40-100 Dollars and interest, and the taxes, if any, on said premises, and the disbursements allowed by law; subject to redemption at any time within one year from the day of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 25, A. D. 1918.

B. H. CHASE,
Mortgagee,
133 S. 7th St.
Minneapolis, Minn.
M-28-A-5-12-19-26-M-2

TO JOSEPHINE LA COUNT:

Take notice, that you are in default, under and according to the terms, conditions and provision of that certain contract dated July 9, 1915, whereby Frank La Count, of the town of Highlanding, County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, agreed to convey unto you, upon full and timely performance by you of your part of the terms, conditions and provisions thereof, reference to which contract for more particularity is hereby made, of the following described real estate situated in Pennington County, Minnesota, to-wit: Lots One (1) and Two (2), in Block Six (6) of Conley's Third Addition to the City of Thief River Falls, according to the plat thereof on file and of record in the Office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Pennington County, Minnesota.

And that according to the terms, conditions and provision of said contract there became due and payable from you to said Frank La Count, on the first day of November, 1917, the sum of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($150), with interest thereon at Ten (10) per cent per annum, from the 9th day of July, 1915, and that you have failed to pay the taxes on said premises for the years 1915, 1916, 1917 and that at the date of this notice said amounts and interest still remains over-due and unpaid, and such default as above specified still exists.

Now therefore, you are hereby notified, that unless within Ninety (90) days after the service of this notice you pay to the said Frank LaCount at the Citizens State Bank, in the City of Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota, the amount of money above stated, with interest to the date of payment, and the costs of serving of this notice, and perform the terms and conditions, and comply with the provisions of said contract on your part to be performed, said contract will be cancelled and terminated and all your right, title and interest thereunder, and in and to the land and property covered thereby forfeited and annulled, said cancellation or termination on said contract to take effect on the 27th day of July, 1918.

Dated April 10, 1918.

Croup

"I don't think there is a more anxious time for parents than when their children have croup. Without they are prepared with Chamberlain's Cough Remedy they must wait for the doctor and listen to the choking, metallic cough and watch their little one gasping for breath.

You know the great danger of croup is the formation of a false membrane in the larynx, and until this is expelled relief cannot be obtained, and the spasmodic choking continues. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in frequent doses. It will loosen this membrane and cause the child to expel it by vomiting.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy

is an absolutely safe and certain remedy for croup, and if given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent the attack."

A petition for a bridge across the Red Lake river at a point near Kratka, was presented to the County Board for their consideration. A delegation of farmers interested met with the County Board and also a large delegation of business men in the City that felt the need of the bridge, met to urge such action as the Board take at this time.

Owing to some matter of law pertaining to the Bonding for further construction of bridges in the county, the County Attorney was instructed to get the information required and on motion the matter was laid over until some future meeting. Motion carried.

A petition from the Town of Smiley for a bridge across the river at some point in the Township of Smiley was also presented to the County Board. This matter was also laid over until some future meeting.

The matter of Petitions of R. J. McKercher Arne Vik, Fred Soderberg, John Maakerud, Peter Lundberg, O. W. Brink and James A. Almquist of the Village of St. Hilaire, to have certain lands detached from said Village of St. Hilaire, so as to again form part of Townships of Black River and River Falls, came duly up before the Board.

Theo. Quale appeared for the petitioners and Attorney Chas. Boughton appeared in behalf of the citizens of the Village.

The several members of the Village Council as well as a delegation of citizens of St. Hilaire, also appeared before the Board. Inasmuch that there are three other petitions filed to be heard on the 17th day of May, it was moved and seconded that this matter be laid over until the date set for the hearing on the rest of petitions. Motion carried.

The following Resolution was offered by Commissioner McGinn, who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Roy:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the bid of the Lyle Corrugated Culvert Company for metal Culverts to be used by Pennington County for the year 1918, be accepted, and that the Lyle Corrugated Culvert Company be required to furnish a proper bond for the fulfillment of its contract. Resolution was duly declared approved.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Larson, who moved its adoption, duly seconded by Commissioner Wold:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the bid of the Minneapolis Bridge Company, for Concrete Culverts to be used by Pennington County for the year 1918, be accepted and that the Minneapolis Bridge Company be required to furnish a proper bond for the fulfillment of its contract. Resolution was declared approved.

Get Rid of Fleas.

The flea is one of the most annoying of household pests. In many cases fleas are bred on dogs or cats, and the first thing to be done is to eliminate the source of supply. If the animal is not badly infested, insect powder, well rubbed into the hair, or creolin wash, may be effective. Remove all carpets and similar articles and scrub the floors thoroughly with hot soapsuds or lye, being careful to get into every crack and crevice. Fleas thrive on dirt and do not like to be disturbed.

Bees' Eyesight.

Odor is given flowers to attract insects, it may be, but bright colors are not, as it is conceded that insects are very near-sighted and can make out objects clearly but six feet away, and scientists state that bees, wasps and hornets can see but two feet clearly. When a boy the writer knows they could see his two feet clearly at least a hundred feet away, also the remainder of his body was clearly discerned at the same "respectable" distance.—Exchange.

Coal Mine Found at Grass Roots.

A four-foot seam of coal, eight feet below the surface and only 80 feet from the main line of the United States railroad in Alaska has been discovered at Mine 175, not far from Seward.

Microbes of Two Sexes.

The department of agriculture has investigated the life history of several varieties of microbes, and finds that these microscopic creatures are more highly organized than we have suspected in the past. They pass through several stages of growth, which has often been mistaken in the past for distinct varieties. They were found to be divided into two sexes, while in the past the microbe has been considered sexless organism.

Propellers Run Tandem.

Experiments made in boat propulsion with one propeller, one behind the other, show that but little increased speed is obtained by the arrangement; and rotating the two screws in opposite directions, either at the same or different speeds, has little effect on the results. It is, however, claimed that the double screw gives better control of the vessel.

SENIORS FEASTED BY JUNIOR CLASS

GOOD TASTE AND SIMPLICITY MARK ANNUAL SCHOOL BANQUET SATURDAY.

TWO PLAYLETS PRESENTED

CLASSES THIS YEAR LARGEST IN HISTORY OF LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL.

The annual Junior-Senior banquet was given in the Lincoln high school last Saturday evening and was a delightful affair from start to finish. Patriotic decorations were used throughout the building with an abundance of flags, the Stars and Stripes being interspersed with the flags of allied countries. The commercial rooms were cosily arranged with rugs, leather chairs and davenports. Pictures and pennants on the walls and patriotic shades on the lights added to the impressiveness of the ensemble. The guests were received in these rooms and later congregated in the assembly hall where the following program was given:

Music—H. S. Orchestra.
Welcome—Leslie Provencher.
Music—H. S. Orchestra.
Address—Supt. J. H. Hay.
Music—H. S. Orchestra.
"America"—Audience.
Music—H. S. Orchestra.
Response from Senior class—Rufus Barackman.
Song—Culver Twins.

Two Farces Presented.

Two comedy skits were put on by the Junior class, both of which were very good. The first was "A Bachelor's Studio," the time of the action being 2268 A. D. The cast:

Prof. Dryedup—Sverre Steen.
Phoebe, a maid—Grace McCrum.
Juliet Lovejoy, an heiress—Dorothy Miller.
Ancient Treasures—Walter Trulson, Ruby Jenson, Elvin Johnson, Elinor Dahlen.

The second playlet of the evening was entitled "Who is Who," and presented opportunities for some highly laughable situations. Following is the cast of characters:

Mr. Bloomfield Brambleton, a Country Gentleman—William Moravec.
Cicely, Brambleton's Daughter—Phyllis Curtis.
Matilda Jane, a maid—Alice Hanson.
Mr. Simonides Swanhopper, a Bachelor—George Mostue.
Mr. Lawrence Lavender, a valet from Mayfair—Arthur Tvedt.

Luncheon a la Hoover.

A Hoover luncheon was served cafeteria style and patriotically decorated booths were built in the first hall, where the guests were served. The lunch was delicious in its simplicity and special mention should be made of the substituting of lemon drops and wintergreen wafers for the customary home-made fudge. This year affairs of this kind have been greatly simplified. The Juniors have done their bit in Hooverizing and still have succeeded in making this year's banquet one which will never be forgotten by the members of the Senior class.

Classes Are Large.

Both the Senior and Junior classes at the Thief River Falls high school are this year the largest in the history of the institution. The Seniors number 76, the following being those to whom diplomas will be issued:

Agnes Anderson, Ruth Anderson, Louise Berg, Sigrid Berge, Rufus Barackman, Alice Beauncon, Gertrude Blaska, Celina Bourque, Wallace Buskirk, Cora Christianson, Bertha Chynka, Marie Causin, Albert Crown, Helen Dahlquist, Violet Ekren, Florence Fasel, Irene Fuller, Esther Halseth, Raymond Hanson, Ralph Hilson, Elizabeth Hoffman, Palma Holmes, Alma Culver, Gladys Johnson, Grace Johnson, Ethel Keller, Grace Kinsela, Olida Kjesbo, Anna Knutson, Grace Koepp, Alf Krohn, Olga Lindquist, Grace Loken, Helen Larmoe, Agnes Lonson, Esther Larson, Alice Lee, Ema Legaard, Gena Legvold, Rosette Loberg, Dorothy Loon, Selma Maland, Ruth Matthews, Carolyn Melby, Mathilda Morck, Clara Oen, Jennette Oftedahl, Bertha Olson, Ella Ostmoe, Christine Pederson, Clara Pederson, Vivian Pederson, Anna Peterson, Mary Poston, Velma Price, Charles Prichard, Wilbur Roth, Grace Russell, Nellie Saastad, Celia Saugen, Louise Shefveland, Florence Shetler, Elmer Smith, Irene Sorenson, John Steen, Ida Steenerson, Lillian Steenerson, Myrtle Sundem, Alvin Tandberg, Marie Thill, Myrtle Thomas, Olaf Tharaldson, Helen Wagner, Virginia Will, Lois Wold, Ambrose Zeh.

Junior Class Roll.

In the Junior class the following appear on the list published in The Prowler, the official publication of the high school for the year:

Frances Alborn, Inez Alkenbrack, Ella Anderson, Harriet Anderson, Agnes Aaker, Edwin Bakke, Arne Barstad, Orlando Bishop, Belle Blair, Anna Brandrud, Alice Carlson, Mabel Cook, Francelia Culver, Frances Culver, Phylis Curtis, Elinor Dahlen, Chester Dow, Severin Eberhardt, Louise Erickson, Marie Faiman, Ida Franzman, Ernest Fossum, Alice Hanson, Hermine Heidermann, Lillie Hincik, Fred Holden, Norbert Holzknecht, Eleanor Holzknecht, Ruby Jenson, Margarette Jorgenson, Elvin Johnson, Elfreda Knudsen, Anna Kotlan, Laura Kron, Carl Lindquist, Helen Lockwood, Ruth Lonson, Christine Lundberg, Marie Lundberg, Adelia Maland, Grace McCrum, Dorothy Miller, Emma Moen, Osina Moengen, Stella Moran, William Moravec, Geo. RAISE FUNDS FOR RED CROSS WORK

HAZEL AND ROCKSBURY AUXILIARIES WILL ENTERTAIN NEXT SATURDAY.

An amateur theatrical entertainment, to be followed by a dance, will be given by the Rocksbury and Hazel Red Cross auxiliaries at Walhalla school house on Saturday evening. The proceeds will be used in supplying materials for carrying on the work in the two organizations.

The same play with the same cast of characters was presented at Hazel last week and those who witnessed it say that it is an excellent production. The name of the play is "Kindling the Hearth Fire," and following is the cast:

Mrs. Field, an overworked farmer's wife—Mrs. O. Peterson.
Ned, her son—Virgil Denhart.
Doris, her daughter—Lily Boehm.
Mrs. Stringer, a borrowing neighbor—Mrs. Denhart.
Mr. Hartwell, a graduate of an A. C.—Minton Peterson.
Mr. Field, a prosperous farmer—Mr. O. C. Peterson.
Dave Dalton, a neighbor who "owns his own farm"—Fred Peterson.
Ida Johnson, clerk in a department store—Mrs. E. Peterson.
Mrs. Ryan, the manager of a lodging house—Mrs. Sheggrud.
Mr. Bond, a man with money—Lloyd Huddleson.
Miss Brooks, visiting nurse for the Welfare League—Selma Peterson.
Pete, hired man—Julius Peterson.
Olaf, hired man—Mr. Sheggrud.

Act I—The kitchen in the Field home. Act II—A room in a cheap lodging house. Act III—The living room in the Field home.

Johnson-Newton.

The marriage of Martin Johnson of Grygla and Miss Anna Newton, also of Grygla, took place quietly at the residence of Rev. I. T. Aastad, the officiating pastor, on Saturday of last week at five o'clock. Miss Emma Huldah of this city attended the bride while Charles Knutson, also of this city, acted as groomsman.

A sumptuous wedding dinner was served after the wedding ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Utabjaa, on Horace avenue north. The rooms in the Utabjaa home were prettily decorated in red, white and blue with flags and red and white carnations used abundantly. Covers were laid for the following guests beside the members of the bridal party: Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Utabjaa and Miss Hannah Utabjaa. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson made their departure Monday morning for Dent, Minn., where they will make their new home.

The Theatres

"Cleopatra" at the Lyceum.

One of the greatest scenic productions of the year will be seen at the Lyceum on Wednesday and Thursday, May 1 and 2, when Theda Bara appears in "Cleopatra."

The love affairs of the vampire queen of Egypt are shown in scenes historically correct in every detail. No expense has been spared by Willian Fox in securing correct architecture, proper settings and real Egyption atmosphere. Even Cleopatra's costumes, numbering more than fifty and noticeably scant are in accordance with the early days when woman dressed for comfort rather than for modesty. Miss Bara wears jewels and ornaments valued at more than $150,000.

At the Princess.

The program for the week opens at the Princess this evening with Pauline Starke in "Innocent's Progress." This is a story of the clubman who married the waif whom he saved from the street. It is said to be a charming story.

You will be delighted with "A Petticoat Pilot" which is the bill for Friday evening. Vivian Martin plays the star role which is equivalent of saying that it could not be in better hands. Full of fun and pathos.

Harold Lockwood is perhaps one of the most popular players on the screen today. In the eight act wonder play which comes to the Princess on Saturday night he is at his best. The title of the piece is "Under Handicap." It is one of those western stories in which Lockwood has made such a reputation.

Our people will in all probability not have many more opportunities to see the peerless little Mary Pickford on the screen. She has announced her retirement for good shortly. She will be seen at the Princess on Sunday evening in "The Little Princess," an Arteraft picture taken from the story by Frances Hodgson Burnett. It is perhaps her very best work.

Myrtle Lind in the social satire, "Nancy Comes Home," is Monday night's offering. This is something of a problem play and calculated to cause people to do considerable thinking.

Tuesday evening local movie fans will be given another opportunity of seeing the famous "Lee Kids" in a delightful picture entitled, "American Buds." These juvenile players created a sensation when shown here recently and their second appearance will no doubt be greeted by a packed house.

Dorothy Dalton is a past mistress of hair-raising suspense and in "Love Me" she has an opportunity to display this particular talent to the utmost. Miss Dalton takes the part of a western girl who succeeds in making her husband's folks like her in spite of themselves. This is the headliner for Wednesday.

Good Things to Eat Without Using Wheat

Barley Cookies With Date Filling.

2 cups barley flour, 1 cup white flour, 1 cup cornmeal, ¼ cup Karo syrup, 2-3 cup shortening, (Kream Krisp is good), 1 cup warm water, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Mix the dry ingredients, rub in the shortening, add the syrup and vanilla and enough water to make a dough stiff enough to roll. Roll thin and cut in fancy shapes and bake in a quick oven. Put together with the following paste.

Filling.

1 package dates, ½ cup raisins, 1 cup water, butter size of walnut. Cook down to a thick paste and add 1 cup of walnuts. Makes 3½ dozen cookies.

Mrs. Fred Herrick.

Corn Flour Cream Sponge Cake.

4 eggs, 1 cup sugar, 2 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon flavoring, 4 tablespoons of cold water. Cream egg yolks until thick, add gradually beating all the time, 1 cup granulated sugar, adding the 4 measured tablespoons of water gradually. Place 2 rounding tablespoons of cornstarch in measuring cup, add 1 tablespoon of flour, then fill up level with corn flour, add baking powder, sift three times, measure in cup again. Do not use surplus flour. Beat in the flour a little at a time. Beat egg whites stiff and fold into batter with a fork. Pour into Angel food pan and bake as Angel food, about 45 minutes. Let hang in inverted pan until cold.

Mrs. D. Shaw.

Barley Muffins.

1 cup whole wheat flour, 1 cup barley meal, ¼ teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1¼ cups sour milk, ½ teaspoon soda, 2 tablespoons fat. Sift flour, barley meal, salt and baking powder. Dissolve soda in a little cold water and add to sour milk. Combine flour mixture and sour milk. Add beaten egg and melted fat. Bake muffins in a moderate oven.

Mrs. H. W. Froehlich.

Corn Flour Bread.
(2 loaves.)

2 cups sponge, 2 cups wheat flour, 2 cups corn flour, 2 tablespoons corn syrup, two tablespoons shortening, 2 teaspoons salt.

Mrs. E. E. Zeh.

For Miss Homme.

The clerks in Loken's department store surprised Miss Inga Homme in her apartments in the Ness Flat last Monday evening. Miss Homme, who has been one of the clerks in the Loken store since the opening of the store in this city five years ago, left Tuesday morning for her home in Trail, Minn., where she will remain for some time. A dainty dinner, furnished by the girls, was served at 6:30. Miss Homme was presented with an appropriate gift before the departure of the guests.

Another surprise party was given the same evening in honor of Miss Homme, by the Dorcas society of the Norwegian Lutheran church at the Ole Legvold, Sr., home, 323 Knight avenue north. Miss Homme was given a gold souvenir spoon by the Dorcas society of which she has long been a member.

OVER THE TOP BY 60 PER CENT

EVERY TOWN AND VILLAGE IN COUNTY GETS HONOR FLAG.

TOTAL NOW NEAR $300,000

HIGHLANDING TOWNSHIP CARRIES OFF HIGHEST HONORS, DOUBLING QUOTA.

Pennington county has subscribed practically $300,000 toward the Third Liberty Loan.

This is just about six times as much as was subscribed for the first loan less than a year ago.

It is nearly three times as much as was subscribed for the second loan.

The county's quota of $185,000 was over-subscribed by more than 60 per cent.

What the City Did.

The people of the city of Thief River Falls bought bonds to the amount of $130,250, which is about $25,000 more than was secured in the entire county for the second loan. Every ward went over the top, the Fourth carrying off the banner with an oversubscription of $15,100. The First ward went over its allotment by $13,200; the Second by $10,650 and the Third by $12,150.

Gold Star to Highlanding.

With three days still left of the campaign the township of Highlanding has come within $500 of doubling its allotment. This amount will easily be secured and the honor flag awarded to that community will contain the gold star given only where the allotment has been over-subscribed 100 per cent.

A Wonderful Showing.

It is certain that no county in northern Minnesota will make a better showing than Pennington and very few in the entire state will do as well. The campaign was a wonderful success and Chairman George G. Johnson is willing that the credit shall be given first to the people themselves and next to the energetic district chairmen and their brilliant corps of solicitors.

The Railroad's Share.

Added to the figures for the city, villages and townships of the county is the sum of $17,000 which will be received from the amount collected by the railroads from their employes as the share belonging here. The record is as follows:

CITY MADE PARTY TO DAMAGE SUIT

FIRST NATIONAL BANK AND C. B. CARLSON OTHER DEFENDANTS IN ACTION.

Complaint was this week filed in the district court by Mrs. Rose E. Edgar against the First National bank, the city of Thief River Falls and C. M. Carlson, claiming personal damages in the sum of $25,000 for injuries received last fall and for which she claims defendants were responsible.

Mrs. Edgar was injured by falling into the excavation made during the construction of the First National bank building. In company with two other ladies she was returning to her home from a visit and fell into one of the openings in the sidewalk left for the basement windows. It is alleged in the complaint that the premises were left in an unsafe condition and that there were no lights nor barriers to warn pedestrians of the danger ahead. Mr. Carlson was the contractor in charge of the work and is for this reason included, while the city is made a co-defendant on the ground that its officers should have noted the unsafe condition of the sidewalk.

C. E. Boughton, of Red Lake Falls, is the attorney for Mrs. Edgar.

In the Airplane Service.

John Brumund, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Brumund of this city, was home for a short visit the first of the week. He is in the airplane branch of the navy and has been receiving instructions at the Dunwoody Institute near Minneapolis. His work thus far has consisted generally of the study of gasoline motors—"taking them apart and putting them together again" as John himself puts it. In a recent examination of the students he stood 100 per cent perfect in his knowledge of the magneto. He says that most of the instructors have seen actual service in the English or French armies and are men of the very highest rank in their particular line. John has made application for admission to Columbia college where advanced training in airplane mechanics is given, but does not know how he is coming out. He likes the work immensely and is an enthusiast for the service.

STREET REPAIR WORK IS BEGUN

SURFACING BEING REMOVED IN PREPARATION FOR GRAVEL DRESSING.

TO FIRST DETERMINE COST

EXTENT OF UNDERTAKING TO BE DECIDED BY OUTCOME ON SECOND STREET.

Street Commissioner O. L. Bakken and a crew of men on Tuesday began the work of cutting down the grade on Second street between Main and LaBree avenues preparatory to gravelling. The rains of Sunday and Monday softened the surface and made the work considerably easier than would have been the case had the dry spell continued. It is Mr. Bakken's intention to take from six to eight inches of the present surfacing off and place it on Main avenue between the Great Northern tracks and First street. The grade in this block is so low that the manholes stick up about three inches and the filling was absolutely necessary in any event.

Six Inches Deep.

After the top has been removed Second street will be covered to a depth of about six inches with gravel taken from the bed of the river just south of the city. With the water at the present stage shoveling can be successfully carried on over a sace about 125x25 feet in extent and to a depth of about two feet. After this supply is gone it will be necessary to take the material out with scrapers but the situation is such that this is not expected to greatly raise the cost. Mr. Bakken figures that taking the gravel from the river will not present any difficulties but that a tow-out team will be necessary to help get the loads up the heavy grade near the stream.

To Determine Cost.

The graveling of this one block is in the nature of an experiment to determine the cost of the work. If it is found that this is not out of reason other thoroughfares will be treated in the same manner. It is an excellent plan as the gravel secured is the best to be found anywhere and will make a surface as hard and serviceable as paving.

MUCH ROAD WORK IS LET BY BOARD

HIGHWAY TO THE NORTH WILL BE IMPROVED DURING THE SUMMER.

At a special meeting of the board of county commissioners on Friday the contracts for considerable road grading and surfacing to be finished during the summer was let. The improvement of State Road No. 1, running north from the fair grounds, was awarded to Pat Roark for the sum of $4,667. This is a very important piece of highway as it runs to the county line and connects with a fine road in Marshall county. It will make reaching this city a much more convenient matter for a large number of people who reside but a short distance to the north and west but who have had difficulty in getting to their nearest trading point because of the poor highway.

Four miles of road in the town of Smiley just east of Hazel was also ordered graded and surfaced, Mr. Roark securing also this contract, his bid being $6,526.

The job of improving what is known as the "Angle" road in Rocksbury township was let to Lloyd Crown for $6,751. This contract, which covers the work on four miles of highway, was conditionary, all the details not yet having been perfected.

For County Attorney.

But one filing was recorded in the office of County Auditor Anderson during the week, Theodore Quale announcing himself as a candidate for county attorney. Mr. Quale is the present city attorney of Thief River Falls and will be opposed at the election by E. M. Stanton, who has been county attorney since the removal from the city of Lieut. H. O. Kjomme, who is now in the army.

21 GO TO CAMP THE PAST WEEK

FOURTEEN LEFT ON FRIDAY AND SEVEN MORE ON WEDNESDAY.

PRESENT QUOTA COMPLETE

NO INSTRUCTIONS AS TO FUTURE EMBARKMENTS HAVE BEEN RECEIVED.

The past week Pennington county has sent more men to the training camps than during any similar period since the first large contingent embarked early last summer. There were 14 in the first bunch which left last Friday and seven in the lot which went yesterday. For the latter Columbus Barracks, Ohio, was the destination, while the first to leave were sent to Camp Dodge.

Large Crowds Present.

On both occasions large crowds were present to see the soldiers off. The scenes were somewhat different from those witnessed when the first quotas left the city. At that time no casualty lists were being returned from the fighting front and the boys were started on their way almost amid congratulations and certainly with the most unbounded enthusiasm. Events since that time have had a sobering effect, however, and more weeping than cheering was noticed as the train pulled out on both these last occasions. The father of one of the boys departing on Friday took the matter particularly hard and was unable to restrain his feelings. For the most part, however, relatives were cheerful and did not add to the future discomfort of the soldiers by making the parting unduly difficult.

Same Changes Made.

Provision had been made for substitutes for any of those called who might be unable to respond to the summons, but the lineup was practically as foretold in these columns last week. Those leaving on Friday were the following: Hans Jacob Hanson, Frank Gordon Crees, Leonard Morstad, Osmund Ordahl, Alfred Stenberg, Arthur Sophus Alnes, Gustav Adolph Solum, John Bundhund, James Havel, Henry Everett Emery, Edwin Nordland, Axel William Crown, Oscar Carl Bakken and Sidney Ella, the latter being substituted for August Sigvald Bjorge, who was excused and went yesterday instead.

The Second Batch.

The other six who made up yesterday's contingent for Jefferson Barracks were: Peter G. Peterson, Rolland A. Head, Selmer Helgeland, Clarence Willard Anderson, Frank Moravick and Barneth Bolstad. These will be joined by others from the northwestern counties at Crookston today and will assemble with the quotas from different sections of the state at St. Paul today.

Seek Citizenship.

The date for filing applications for citizenship to be heard on July 26, closed last Friday evening. Fifteen names have been filed at the office of Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund, one representing a man born in this country, but who has since that time taken out papers as a subject of the British crown. He is Detrick Knutson, and left this country for Canada some time ago for the purpose of taking up a homestead.

Two-thirds of the applicants are from Norway, as follows: Ole H. Teigen, Ole A. Graven, Knute Melby, James Johnson, Math Styrvold, Nels Burringrud, Ingvald J. Wasley, Elring P. Dahl, Halfdan Hanson and Ole Hemlen. Two of the applicants, Alfred J. Gibson and John H. Reed, are from Canada, while Frederick R. Head is an Austrian.

BOYS VERY ACTIVE IN SALE OF BONDS

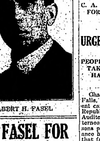
ONE HAS MORE THAN $4,000 TO HIS CREDIT IN PRESENT CAMPAIGN.

Scoutmaster C. David Gustafson is particularly proud of the record made by his young proteges in the campaign for the sale of Liberty Bonds and Savings Certificates. Ernest Barzen heads the list of hustlers in the bond brigade, having disposed of a total of $4,000 worth. Others have done nearly as well and the sum secured by the boys all together is decidedly worth considering. In the Certificate and Savings Stamp division William Herrick carries off the honors, he having thus far returned $821.50 as the result of his hustling. This is considerably more than has been done by the next highest, but all have accomplished a great deal more than was thought possible.

The scouts played their first ball game on Saturday last, when they defeated Red Lake Falls on the diamond here by a score of 10 to 0. They play a return game at the neighboring town next Saturday afternoon.

Wanted—A Brunette.

The police are this morning looking for a colored woman who arrived in the city a day or two ago and who is accused of relieving one of our citizens of $40 in cash.



ALBERT H. FASEL

PICK FASEL FOR STATE POSITION

THIEF RIVER FALLS MAN ENDORSED FOR TREASURER BY NONPARTISANS.

NAME MAN FOR CONGRESS

FRANK M. BARTON, MAHNOMEN RAILROAD MAN, IS CANDIDATE SELECTED.

The Minnesota state convention of the National Nonpartisan League on Tuesday endorsed Albert H. Fasel, of Thief River Falls, as a candidate for state treasurer on the Republican ticket.

The convention also failed to endorse Congressman Steenerson for re-election and tendered the support of their organization to Frank M. Barton, a Mahnomen railroad man.

Selection a Surprise.

The endorsement of Mr. Fasel came as a surprise to the people here at it was not known that he had any intention of becoming a candidate. He was formerly auditor of Pennington county and this spring completed a term as city clerk of Thief River Falls. He stands very well in his home community and as he is in every way competent to fill the office for which he has been endorsed he will poll a large vote here.

A Different Matter.

The failure of the Nonpartisans to endorse Congressman Steenerson will be regarded as a serious mistake by a very large proportion of the farmers in the Ninth district. An opponent for the Congressman had been spoken of but the farmers themselves were understood to be opposed to such action, preferring that no endorsement be made for this office at this time.

ORDERED TO HOLD THEMSELVES READY

THIRTY MORE REGISTERED MEN LIABLE TO CALL DURING MONTH OF MAY.

The members of the local registration board expect that the calls for more men will be regular and frequent from now on and have notified the next in line on the list to hold themselves in readiness to report on the shortest possible notice. Although no intimation as to exactly how many men will be required in the next contingent nor when they will be sent it is almost certain that another lot will go before the end of the present month.

The boys have naturally become more or less scattered and County Auditor Anderson, clerk of the board, wants to have them pretty well in hand when the time comes. Thus far he has been very fortunate in this regard, having kept close track of them since the date of registration last year. Naturally they drift away as time passes and he wishes to serve notice on them early so that the county's almost spotless record as a community having to report no slackers will be maintained. The following 30 young men are next in line and Mr. Anderson asks that they notify him at once as to where they may be found in case they have changed their address since last he heard from them:

Carl H. Wiberg, Knute Thompson Ber, Elmer R. Loberg, Carl John Skjerping, Peter M. Joringdal, Ingvald Hesby, Elmer Emanuel Johnson, Ole Myrum, Charles Clinton Martz, Edgar Stevens, Oscar Morlin Dahl, Raymond Martin Herron, Alfred Emanuel Augustson, William John Peura, Ludwig Luttmer, Tarje T. Uppsetad, Samuel Frondahl, Frank Sinkey, Elmer Frederick Erickson, Robert Jasperson, Joe Eidelbis, Iver I. Westby, Arthur Ambrose Morran, Joseph Knapp, Albert R. Sanden, Clarence Mennes, Ben Lonson, Hjelmer Hostveit, Fred Lelmers, Henry Svare.

WIN WAR, SAYS LEAGUE SPEAKER

C. A. LINDBERGH, CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR, HOLDS THIS AS FIRST DUTY.

URGE NUMEROUS CHANGES

PEOPLE SHOULD PREPARE TO TAKE MATTERS INTO OWN HANDS AFTER CONFLICT.

Charles A. Lindbergh of Little Falls, former congressman and present candidate for congress before the Republican primaries, spoke at the Auditorium in this city yesterday afternoon. There were about 500 persons present, the rather light attendance being accounted for by the fact that farmers are now in the midst of their spring work and cannot afford to take the time to come to town even to hear the candidate endorsed by the National Non-Partisan league.

Makes Telling Address.

Mr. Lindbergh started out by saying that every other consideration must for the present be sidetracked in favor of the one great issue that confronts the country, and that is winning the war. He urged his hearers to do everything in their power to bring victory to the American armies in the field in order that the threatened Prussian domination might be prevented. He advised his hearers to keep in mind that a time of peace was coming, however, and to be prepared for the reconstruction that would inevitably follow. A social readjustment in this country was a necessity, said the speaker, if the farmers and laboring men were to get their proper share of the products of their toil.

Wealth in Few Hands.

Mr. Lindbergh declared that two per cent of the people in this country owned 65 per cent of the wealth. He also maintained that during the last campaign the Republicans had a campaign fund of $2,400,000 and the Democrats one of $1,800,000, and that these sums were contributed by the two per cent owning practically all the wealth. It was time, he said, that the 98 per cent took matters into their own hands and forced a recognition of their claims.

MORTGAGE BURNED AT CHURCH JUBILEE

GERMAN LUTHERANS HOLD A BANQUET IN HONOR OF DEBT CANCELLATION.

A special service of thanksgiving with a banquet for all members and friends of the congregation took place at St. John's German Lutheran church last evening. The occasion was to commemorate the cancelling of the entire church debt and of becoming a self-sustaining parish. Rev. F. J. Seltz, the pastor, reviewed the history of the congregation from the time it lost its church building in a fire on Jan. 26, 1910, complimented the members on their zeal and enthusiasm during all these years and congratulated them on having now reached the goal—a beautiful church property, entirely free of debt. Assisted by the elders, he then burned all notes, mortgages and other papers which the congregation had signed but which were now all paid up.

At the banquet which followed addresses were made by Revs. H. Am End of Wylie, O. C. Schultz of Goodridge, F. J. Seltz and Aug. Krause, Hans Anton, Dr. H. W. Froehlich and others. A collection was taken for the benefit of the local Red Cross chapter, after which everyone present joined in singing "America."

The School Annual.

The Senior Class of 1918, Thief River Falls high school, wanted something a little different and have succeeded in getting it. It has been the custom of the graduating class each year to publish an annual, called "The Prowler." Because of conditions throughout the country there was some hesitancy about starting this year's issue, but now that it is finished everyone is glad that the job was undertaken. Without doubt it is the best of its kind that a graduating class has ever sponsored in this section of the state. The book is full of photographs and information concerning the schools and the work there and will in years to come constitute one of the owner's most cherished possessions. Miss Ruth Storli has had general supervision over the work and has devoted much time and attention to seeing that every detail was perfect. The business men patronized the class liberally in the way of advertisements and while the cost of getting out the job is considerable, yet the revenue will be sufficient to cover it without difficulty. The printing was done at The Times job rooms.

War Savings Film.

In addition to the regular show at the Princess theatre an extra feature will be presented tonight and Friday night. It is a war savings picture and is being shown all over the country to aid war savings stamp sales. There is no extra charge.

LIBERTY LOAN PAYMENTS.

The first installment of the Third Liberty Loan will be payable on Saturday, May 4. The amount due at that time is five per cent of the total amount subscribed. It is very important that this matter be attended to and every subscriber to the loan is urged to make the payment as early as possible. Those delaying will likely find themselves quite sharply reminded of their delinquency by the Washington authorities.

Late War News

The Germans made no further attack in their efforts to reach Ypres today. General on Arnim is evidently awaiting fresh troops before continuing his assault. A few more hours, it is believed, will suffice for the German reorganization and another assault may be expected immediately.

Reuter's Ottawa Agency said last night: "As the details of Monday's fighting are received, confirming the fact that it was the worst day the enemy has experienced since the opening of the great offensive, the newspapers, hitherto reticent in view of the fluctuations of the battle, now comment on the operations in a tone of confidence they have not hitherto displayed." The London Times says: "Of all the violent combats witnessed in the last few weeks, we know of none which is a more hopeful augury for the allies than this ten-mile German failure." It is pointed out that the public is apt to reckon victory in terms of offensive success, but a defensive victory like that on Monday may contribute equally towards the ultimate object of the campaign, viz: Destruction of the enemy's fighting strength. From this viewpoint, the Germans, despite their spectacular successes, can be regarded as having had the worst of the balance of nearly six weeks' fighting, for it must not be forgotten that they sustained a series of disastrous losses, of which Monday's was the bloodiest of the past fortnight.

Pope Benedict intends to issue a new peace offer on Whitsunday (May 19), Cologne newspapers announce. The document, it is said, will be of more pressing nature than formerly and will contain offers of mediation by the pope with the possible co-operation of neutral nations. Similar information of the pope's intention, it is said, has reached Berlin where it has been received sympathetically.

Another Off For War.

Julien Provencher has received word from his son, Doris, informing him that the young man expects soon to be on the way across the ocean. He is attached to the medical officers' training camp at Fort Riley, and the start from there was made on Monday. Harold, another son of Mr. Provencher, is already in France, being with the Rainbow division, while still another son, William, is in training with the First Missouri artillery at Fort Sill, Okla., and expects soon to be ordered across.

MOTHER AND TWO CHILDREN BURNED

CREMATED WHEN HOME IS DESTROYED—RESIDED EAST OF GRYGLA.

Reports reaching Chief of Police E. O. Erickson from Grygla state that a mother and two children were yesterday cremated on a farm to the east of that village in Beltrami county. The name of the family could not be learned. Dr. Adkins of Grygla, requested that the authorities here get into communication with the coroner at Bemidji and notify him of the occurance, but was unable to give any details.

COMMENCE WORK AT PEAT STATIONS

STATE OFFICIALS HERE FOR PURPOSE OF APPROVING SELECTION OF SITES.

Prof. Tatcher, dean of the school of agriculture, University of Minnesota, accompanied by Prof. A. J. Alway, soil expert, were in the city the first of the week and went out to Goodridge on a tour of inspection of the sites selected for peat land experiments. They were accompanied on their trip by Senator D. P. O'Neill and County Commissioners O. J. Peterson and P. G. Wold.

Prof. Tatcher came up at this time for the purpose of looking over the sites selected for the plot stations, these having been chosen earlier by Prof. Alway. It is understood that he approved of the locations designated and ordered the work to be begun as soon as possible. The plots are located a short distance east of Goodridge and consist of small tracts, generally situated on the land of some farmer and which have been practically useless by reason of the peat formation of the soil. It is the intention to carry on a series of experiments with crops of different kinds in order to discover the conditions under which these lands may be made fit for cultivation.

LEARNING ABOUT CARE OF BABIES

LECTURES AND DEMONSTRATIONS CARRIED ON AT COMMERCIAL CLUB ROOMS.

CHILD WELFARE CAMPAIGN

GENUINE BABY WILL BE EMPLOYED TO IMPRESS LESSONS ON MOTHERS.

This is baby welfare week all over the United States and the Woman's club of Thief River Falls is conducting a series of demonstrations and lectures at the Commercial club rooms which are being quite generally attended. The government has requested that a campaign for better babies be launched as a general welfare proposition, and as is the case with everything suggested by the government these days, the request is being heeded.

First Meeting Monday.

There were quite a number at the first meeting on Monday at which an interesting program was presented. The main event of the week, however, is scheduled for Friday night when demonstrations in child feeding and dressing will be featured. This work will be in charge of Miss Mina Rock and an assistant nurse from the Physicians' hospital. Miss Elizabeth M. Hanson, superintendent of the Tri-County hospital, will demonstrate how to sterilize bottles and pasteurize milk. She will also answer any questions that may be put to her by those present pertaining to child welfare generally. A demonstration of how to properly bathe, dress and feed a baby will also be given, a real live youngster having been borrowed for the purpose. A table will be arranged showing the things that are good for a baby to eat and also those that are bad.

Distribute Literature.

The government has prepared a number of leaflets on the subject under discussion which will be distributed free. These are "Hints to Mothers," "Little Helps for Expectant Mothers," and "What Every Mother Wants to Know About Her Baby." Friday night's program is in charge of Mrs. E. O. Mogenson, Mrs. Jacob Biedermann and Mrs. H. O. Loken, while Mrs. J. M. Bishop has general superivsion over the work in the county.

Interested women should not stay away because they have children to take care of at home. They are invited to bring them along to the club room where they will be looked after by Mrs. Hardesty during the demonstration.

FOURTH SOLDIER TO ANSWER CALL

OSCAR MALAND, WHO DIED IN CAMP, IS LAID TO REST AT ST. HILAIRE.

The first soldier from St. Hilaire to die in the service and the fourth from Pennington county to thus make the extreme sacrifice was buried in the cemetery in that village on Saturday. He was Oscar Maland, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Maland, who reside in the town of Sanders and he died while in camp at Fort Williams, Maine. Pneumonia was the cause of death. The young man enlisted in the navy only a short time ago.

A number of the members of Company C, of this city, went down by auto and the young sailor was given a military funeral. The burial service was read by Rev. I. T. Aastad of the Norwegian Lutheran church of Thief River Falls, who spoke impressively of the importance of the sacrifice made by the young man who only a short time ago went forth to do what he considered his duty to his country. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in St. Hilaire, business in the village being entirely suspended during the services and while the body was being taken to the cemetery.

This is the fourth Pennington county soldier to die in camp, the others being H. L. Anderson, C. H. Hermanson and Joseph Meyers.

Increase at Creamery.

Business at the Thief River Falls creamery indicates that very few farmers found it necessary to sell off their milch cattle during the winter, as was predicted from many sources last fall. As a matter of fact no spring in recent years has found the dairymen of the county in better shape. Secretary Henry Hanson of the association, states that in March the creamery had 100 more patrons than during the same period a year ago. The total amount paid out was $3,186.29 more than at that time and the amount of butter manufactured was increased by 8,000 pounds. The number of big checks paid out was smaller but was more than made up for by the increase in the list of patrons.

Everything points to the most successful season in the creamery history. Prices are good and the number of patrons is increasing every month.

KEEP THE END IN MIND.

There are many things happening on the battle front in Europe that we do not understand, but sight should never be lost of the main issue: Germany will be defeated in this war. The tactics pursued by General Foch and Field Marshall Haig may at times be a little difficult for a dunghill strategist three thousand miles from the scene of the fighting to understand, but just take it for granted that these very superior men know pretty well what they are doing and that they are working toward one end this being nothing short of the eventual and complete defeat of the enemy.

People in this country will be pretty safe in taking their cue from those residing in England and France. Reports from over there do not indicate that the rather depressing news of the past week has any effect other than making them more than ever determined to win. There has been no clamor for the removal of a general, nor has there been anything resembling a governmental crisis anywhere. Both of these conditions would now exist did the people for one moment think anything thus far happening could have any apppreciable affect on the ultimate result. The taking of a hill at an enormous cost, or the obliteration of some village that has been but a mass of ruins for two or three years does not mean much in the sum total.

This thing of permitting a doubt of the final outcome to creep into your mind is decidedly bad. It soon becomes habitual and you will within a very short time be interpreting every minor reverse as a serious disaster unless you wake up and look at the thing from another angle. It is all right to get mad about it and make up your mind that we will smiply have to fight all the harder, work more than ever and pay more liberally, but the idea that something may turn up to make us quit or that a combination of circumstances may develop that will turn Germany back a victor should be spurned as something impossible and unthinkable.

Too many of us are looking upon the fighting of the past week as having been a series of reverses for our armies. The situation could be vastly more cheering, of course, but that the loss of a hill or of a position is frought with the seriousness we attach to it is simply ridiculous. Frank H. Simonds, regarded as perhaps the most astute observer of the present war, evidently considers the German drive in the Ypres sector a failure rather than even a measurable success. Concerning the loss of certain well-known positions he says:

"German strategy in Flanders aimed at breaking through between Plummer's army at Ypres and Byng's army at Arras as the Germans broke through between the British and French armies, thrusting rapidly forward across the rear-end communications of Plummer's army and of the Belgian army to the west of it, isolating and enveloping those armies and thus producing a super-Sedan.

"The British are now drawing back in good order in the Ypres salient to forestall such envelopment. Precisely as long as they keep their connection with the army of the south there is no danger of a distaster, and the Germans will simply have to begin again on a new front and seek to hack another hole through a British land on better ground now reenforced by French reserves.

"The fall of Ypres, which now is likely but not certain, will have a moral value second only to that which would be attained by the capture of Verdun. What Verdun is to the French Ypres is to the British. It is the scene of the finest and the most successful fighting of English armies in the war. In 1914 it was the gate to Calais. Had Sir John French's army been destroyed there, the Germans would have reached the Channel—because the war of positions had not yet come and the thin British line was the last obstacle to the German rush; but today Ypres is not the gate to Calais, just as Verdun, after the first weeks of the German attack, was not the gate to the heart of France.

"It is merely a position in the long line from Belgium to Switzerland, and it is the line, and not the position, which is important. As long as the line remains intact Haig can defend one position after another until the fury of the German attack wears itself out and the moment comes for a counter-offensive."

AN INDICATION OF SANITY.

Even in Germany and Austria it is now admitted by open-minded observers that peace on the terms the junkers would impose is an impossibility. Such a peace is not even desirable, according to the more thoughtful men of those countries. They dread the aftermath, and the longer the struggle is continued the more to be dreaded will the final accounting become. The Vienna Arbeiter Zeitung editor thus warns his countrymen:

"Do not be deceived. Germany's victories will never force the Entente to accept a peace of violence. If the Germans could take Calais and Paris, and even force France and Italy to capitulate, there would still remain the English, safe in their island home, and America, protected by the ocean.

"They can always continue the war by sea, and the greatest victory on land cannot impose a peace of force on America and England."

WE KNOW WHAT'S NECESSARY.

The people residing in the Eastern section of the country were rather inclined to find fault with the way the Middle West reponded to the government's call for money in the first two Liberty Loans, but things are somewhat different now. The Minneapolis district is at the head of the list with St. Louis a close second. Every state, and practically every county, city and village in the section designated broadly as the West have more than subscribed their quota, while the subscriptions in the East are still lagging. They will come across alright, but the call was not responded to with the same enthusiasm as characterized their neighbors to the west.

The farming districts of Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and the Dakotas have demonstrated that they are going to stand behind this war as they have stood behind every other important movement in the nation's history. It took the people some little time to get started but now that the necessity for action—and the quickest kind of action—is clear, there will be no hanging back. Everybody is proud of the showing made, and they have a right to be.

Pennington was one of the first counties in Minnesota to report having gone over the top. On the evening of the first day of the drive more than the total quota had been pledged and by the end of the second day it was apparent that every collection district in the county would be the possessor of an honor flag.

At the time of the first and second loans we were making excuses claiming poor crops and a consequent lack of cash. We have had no crops of any kind since the previous loans were asked for and it is quite certain that as a community we have no more ready cash at this time than on the first of June nor more than on the first of November. Nevertheless we subscribed more for the Third Loan than for the other two combined. In the meantime we have been meeting all the demands made upon us by the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Lutherans, the Salvation Army, and many other war auxiliaries, and are still going strong. In fact we have just discovered not only what is required but also what is possible of accomplishment in order to meet the requirements.

For the first Liberty Loan Pennington county subscribed $54,000. The second brought out $106,000. Now comes the third loan, after we have been giving all we could spare to every other cause that might in any way aid in winning the war, and we kick in with about $300,000. This is not far short of a half million dollars in less than a year, and if you were to ask where it came from no one would know. We were all quite certain that conditions would permit only the banks and the comparatively wealthy to buy bonds the first time. When the second loan came around the list was extended to include all whose visable means of support were such as to leave a suspicion that they might somehow be able to buy a bond without rather severe inconvenience. Now the solicitors come around again and people are angry if they have been overlooked in the list of prospective buyers.

And the situation is the same practically everywhere in the country. People understand now, that's the only difference. No need to take a lot of time explaining what it is all about and just why they should be as much interested in the outcome as their more wealthy neighbor. They know, and knowing will meet every demand made upon them until the necessity for further loans, donations and sacrifices have disappeared. That will be when Germany is defeated.

MISLEADING AND VICIOUS.

Judge McGee of the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety may be a patriot and a man of the best intentions but if his remarks are reported correctly he should be taken severely to task by the people of the state of which he is a prominent citizen but which he seems to regard as wholly unfit for Americans to inhabit. Judge McGee went to Washington to urge that military courts be established for the purpose of dealing with any case of disloyalty or sedition that might arise and, if the reports are to be believed, asserted that Minnesota was fairly swarming with traitors, and that the Nonpartisan League is "traiterious and worse than the I. W. W."

If it is true that Judge McGee said at this hearing that "a firing squad should get busy in Minnesota and work overtime," his case should be looked into by the commision of which he is a member. He permitted his hatred of the Nonpartisan League to lead him onto making assertions of the most unwarranted nature, his strictures including not only the members of that organization but the farmers of the state generally. He did more actual damage than all the enemy activities that have thus far been unearthed in the state and pictured a condition that positively does not exist. He has a perfect right to oppose the Farmers' League if he so sees fit but to bring a charge of disloyalty against the farmers of the state as a whole is something he has not the right to do.

The supplanting of the civil courts by military tribunals and depriving the people of the right of trial by jury is a serious matter and a proposition to which President Wilson and governmental leaders generally are unalterably opposed. Such action would be clearly unconstitutional and the foremost lawyers of the country are practically unanimous in so declaring. In spite of this Judge McGee tried to convince a senate committee that it was not only feasible but absolutely necessary so far as Minnesota is concerned.

No wonder that Governor Burnquist hastened to declare that the judge was not the authorized spokesman for the state and that the Safety Commission was in no manner responsible for his peculiar views.

It has been suggested that the Red Cross Chapter take charge of the Fourth of July celebration in this city and that all the proceeds resulting be turned over to the organization. The idea is perfectly bully. Not only is the event sure to be the most notable in the history of the city, but no one will have occasion to kick himself the next morning for having spent his money foolishly.

Hard Water Hurts the Kidneys.

Kidney troubles, as a rule, are common in sections where the drinking water is hard or alkaline. The filtering of this mineral-laden water throws an added burden on the kidneys and kidney weakness results. Backache, lameness, or some slight bladder weakness may be the first warning, but it shouldn't be neglected. If not treated promptly, it may lead to torturing gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. When hard water has a tendency to weaken the kidneys, a good kidney remedy should be used occasionally. Thief River people rely on Doan's Kidney Pills. Read what E. L. Krogstad, 523 State Ave., N., Thief River Falls, says: "Four years ago I was living up in the Rainy River district and the water there was so hard it put my kidneys out of order. Every morning I woke up with terrible pains in my kidneys and my back was weak and lame. It hurt me to stoop in any direction. My kidneys didn't act regularly, either. Sometimes the secretions were too free and then again scant. I was often dizzy, too. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I tried them and three boxes fixed me up in good shape. I have never had any kidney trouble since."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Krogstad had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

We Must Stick to Our Job

"It is evident to every thinking man that our industries, on the farm, in the shipyards, in the mines, in the factories, must be made more productive and more efficient."
—President Wilson's War Message.

Not all of us can fight, at least not at the front. There are many who would like to but who would not be accepted. There are others whom the government prefers to have remain at home.

War today is not like war in the past. It is very different. The actual armies are now numbered by the million, whereas in past wars they have been numbered by the thousand. But the vastness of the present war is not seen in the armies alone. War today demands the greatest energies of the whole nation.

When millions of men are taken from various kinds of labor and are sent away to fight, those at home must do the work of those who go. It takes five men on the farms and in the factories and shipyards for every one man at the front. If we workers at home think it is hard for us, let us think how much harder it is for those at the front. The soldiers there have not only to work longer than do we at home and undergo far worse hardships, but they must constantly risk their very lives.

We men in factories and on farms, in shipyards, mines, furnaces, and other places should keep this in mind. It is for us to do our part gladly and not grumble. The very least we can do is to make those men at the front know that we at home are thinking of them and working for them. They are ready to die for humanity. We are surely ready to work for humanity.

We do not have to go looking for a part to play. Our job is to do our own work well right where we now are. Squirming and crawling about from place to place can do no good. There is one thing every man and woman can do and as true patriots should do and that is: Do the thing we are doing now, better.

Let's study our work and learn how to do it better.

Do these things and we will have done our part and when this war is over we too will be each able to say: "I did my bit."

A NEW PLAN—BACKED BY A RESPONSIBLE CONCERN

Work at home—right in your own country—no heavy traveling expense. A new profit-sharing plan, selling direct from the manufacturer to the consumer. You get the profit that usually goes to the "middleman" and a commission besides. Big commission paid when you take the order and a large share in the profits on delivery of the goods.

We take care of the deliveries—all you do is to get the orders. Or we will pay you $5.00 a day if you help our man to make the deliveries.

Experience in selling is not necessary, it might be a help to you, but we will send you free a book that will teach you the business quickly and thoroughly.

The figure above—$200.00 a month is conservative. We have men making a $100.00 a week. We want hustlers, and demand gilt-edge references. A permanent proposition. Will give you all the territory you want to make a big thing of it. You will begin getting returns just as soon as your first orders reach us a week or 10 days after you start.

Who Saves The Most Wool?

JONES buys a cotton mixed suit; pays $25 for it. It looks pretty good at first but in a week or two it's all out of shape and wearing poorly.

Brown buys an all-wool, Hart Schaffner & Marx suit for $35. When Jones' suit is worn out, Brown's suit is still stylish, good looking and is wearing fine.

Jones consumes nearly twice as much wool as Brown and a great deal more labor and money.

The clothes service we're offering the men of this town is all-wool, not only in fabric but in the wear, style and guarantee of satisfaction. When you come here, you help the Nation's call for economy and you save for yourself.

UNION OF NORSE CONGREGATIONS

HAUGE'S CONGREGATION IS MERGED WITH THAT OF OUR SAVIOR'S LUTHERAN.

REV. SKOGERBO IS PASTOR

CONSOLIDATION EXTENDS TO ALL AUXILIARIES OF BOTH FORMER CONGREGATIONS.

The formal consolidation of two Norwegian Lutheran congregations in this city was effected on Friday evening when the members of the Trinity church, formerly of Hauge's Synod, and representatives of Our Savior's church met and perfected an organization under the latter name. Rev. A. N. Skogerboe, who has been the pastor of Trinity during the past four years, was tendered a call by the consolidated congregation and has accepted. The merger affects all auxiliary organizations of the two churches.

Is Free of Debt.

Since June 9, 1917, when the merger of the three Norwegian Lutheran church organizations was formally ratified, the work of union has been in progress. All matters of local procedure were left to the different congregations to work out as best they saw fit and it has taken some time to get matters satisfactorily adjusted. The new congregation starts free from debt in every department, while the Ladies' Aid society has a surplus of over $1,400 with which to begin work.

New Officers Chosen.

The election of officers was held immediately following the formal vote of union, the following being chosen: Trustees, Olaf Ramstad, J. J. Aga, C. M. Carlson, Edward Ness and Gilbert Sandum. C. M. Carlson was made secretary and Edward Ness treasurer, and the deacons are, A. J. Sanden, E. A. Mostue and S. A. Lura. Miss Betsy Ness was chosen organist for the ensuing year and the superintendent of the Sunday school will be J. O. Sether. For the present it is the intention to have all social activities take place in the basement of the former United church while the services will be held at the church of which Rev. Skogerboe has been the pastor.

Counterfeit!

By James Knelland Shawvan

(Copyright, 1917, Western Newspaper Union.)

I thought of early boyhood's days and skating on one foot, as the sole of one shoe struck a flat piece of banana peel, and I went sliding irresistibly toward a wooden crate cover set over a manhole in the sidewalk.

Bang! My feet met it, sending it spinning halfway around on the unfastened pivot and down I shot through the half-moon aperture.

Thump! I landed ten feet down amid utter darkness across an upturned tub, knocking out its bottom, and bringing hoops and staves about me in flying sections.

The shock was brief, my bruises trivial. Then I congratulated myself. If the under-sidewalk space into which I had been precipitated connected with the main cellar of the structure abutting upon it I would hail my misadventure as a stroke of genuine good luck. That grim old time-shattered three-story building had been a center of considerable interest to me during the past week. I had haunted its vicinity persistently. It was to little purpose, however. Its rear was a blank brick wall. Its sides were guarded by heavy iron shutters. The front had but one entrance, a double doorway, and beyond it was a store space shallow and narrow, more of a hall entrance than a room, barred closely nights, and in the daytime, seated behind a bench hammering away at various pieces of metal, was a low-browed, keen-eyed man, evidently the guardian of the place.

I was on a still hunt for a missing friend, and had been for over a month. That was how I came to be interested in what had veritably become to me a house of mystery.

Acton Meserve had been a fellow worker and close friend for something like two years. We were both of us expert engravers and earned good wages in the service of a leading bank-note engraving concern. It was just after he had married and was gone on his honeymoon that trouble began.

You must know that the working economy of a confidential and important business such as we were engaged in calls for strict integrity on the part of those employed. It was about a week after my friend Meserve had left on his memorable vacation when a discovery was made that some government paper, some denomination dies and a kit of fine engraving tools were missing from the vault. When a search was made in the office there was found in Meserve's desk some of the paper. The company awaited the return of Meserve to charge him with irregularities, possibly theft. But neither he nor his wife returned to the city at the end of two weeks, nor four, nor six. In fact, although a detective was employed to seek to gain a trace of their whereabouts, Acton Meserve and his wife had disappeared as effectually as though the earth had swallowed them up.

One day I was summoned to the private office of the president of the company. I knew that my close companionship with Meserve had aroused suspicion in the mind of the detective as to a possible knowledge on my part as to what had become of Meserve. The disappearance of the well-guarded property of the company pointed to a probable scheme to do some outside plate work. This surmise was emphasized by the strange absence of Meserve.

"We shall require your services no longer, Mr. Ilsley," spoke my superior, definitely and with sternness.

"I am sorry," I said simply. "I will not ask you the reason of this unwarrantable discharge, for I can guess. You are wrong in attributing what you imagine to as good a man as Acton Meserve. I shall make it my business to prove it to you soon."

"I hope so," coldly remarked the official, "and I further hope you will take care of yourself."

There was significance, almost insult, in this last remark, and I did not resent it in words. I had made up my mind that I would find Acton Meserve if it took all I had saved up and a year of my life to accomplish it. There was something wrong, not only at the engraving plant, but as regarded Meserve.

There was a dense mystery surrounding the abstraction of the property of the company and the inexplicable vanishment of Meserve and his wife. I started to solve the enigma, firm in my faith in my tried and true comrade.

I found his relatives and friends anxious and grieved over his absence. None of them had seen or heard from him since the day they had seen him started on his wedding journey. I went over his presumable honeymoon trip, to lose all trace of him utterly. I returned to the city, more in the dark than ever, gloomily disappointed, almost hopeless.

One day I struck a clew, or fancied I had. It was when, for the first time in many months, I saw walking ahead of me on the street a man named Bartley Webb. This person had been a printer at the engraving plant who had left work about a week before Meserve had started on his vacation. We had never liked him and had noticed that he kept bad company—just now worse than ever, for the two men with him were as villainous-looking fellows as I had ever seen. I followed them, a new suspicion in my mind as they were admitted to the very building I have described. I took up watch and ward over the sombre pile of masonry for several days. Twice I saw Webb visit the place. Always his admission was followed by the closing and locking of the outside door. Always the door was kept carefully reclosed until he had departed, after a brief stay. I know not why, but somehow I associated Webb with the pilferings at the engraving plant and the disappearance of Meserve. I had an irrepressible desire to explore the old rookery, and now fate and circumstance had, I hoped, granted my wish for admission to the apparently impregnable structure.

I got to my feet and proceeded to explore my surroundings. I came to an opening like a doorway, traversed a corridor which penetrated the cellar of the building and faced a pair of stairs. These I ascended, reached a vacant room, crossed it, opened a door, ascended a second flight of stairs and charily felt my way along a narrow passage way. I accidentally blundered against a swinging door. I landed in a lighted room, tried to draw back as I discovered that it held an inmate, and was rooted to the spot as I recognized in a woman standing staring at me agape—the wife of Acton Meserve!

All the bloom I had last seen was departed from that sweet face, the eyes were sunken and haunted with the horror of confinement and fear.

"Mr. Ilsley!" she gasped, and reeled.

"You—you!" I breathed incoherently. "What does this mean? Where is Meserve?"

"He is in there," she whispered, all a tremble, and she pointed to an opposite door. "No—no! You risk your life!"

But I had run at the door and opened it and rushed towards a man at a bench bending over a leather plate pad, a graver in his hand—Acton Meserve.

And then I understood the warning just uttered. Two men, and one of them was Webb, sprang at me. I received a heavy blow on the head and knew no more. I awoke, jolted about in a cab and held up by the best friends I had in the world—Acton Meserve and his wife. They were babbling with the maddest of joyfulness, like two children released from a terrible captivity. Then the vehicle halted in front of the engraving plant.

I was still dazed as I sat back in the chair in the office of the president. As in a dream I caught the echo of the tones of Meserve, telling all the story of his mysterious disappearance.

It was Webb who had abstracted the missing property of the plant. It was Webb and accomplices who had kidnapped husband and wife, who had threatened to kill the latter if Meserve did not engrave a plate they forced him to make. It was just as I appeared that the plate was finished, all except one corner, and this Meserve refused to complete unless immediate liberty was promised. The scoundrels then abandoned the place with the plate, Meserve agreeing to wait an hour later.

"I believe your story, Mr. Meserve," said the staid and dignified president, "but do you not consider it very reprehensible to engage in such work under any circumstances?"

"Not as I worked it out," dissented Meserve. "Sir, when the law runs down these miscreants, as it must, you will find the plate worthless."

"You mean—?"

"That the last rapid work I did was to engrave in hair-line tracery, while they were not looking, one word, a warning to all the world."

"And the word was—?"

JUDGE CITIES BY POLICEMEN

Character of Guardians of Peace Serves as Criterion for Municipalities, Says Writer.

It used to be said that each country could be known by the Jews who lived within its borders. In the same way every city can be judged by the character of its policemen, writes Hendrik Willen van Loon, in Century Magazine.

In Christiania the policeman is a mild and amiable citizen in a rather shiny coat, and none too neat, who stands in the middle of the roadway and tries to maintain some semblance of order in the democratic muddle of the city's traffic.

In Stockholm the policeman is a walking arsenal, with sword and pistol and a brass helmet, and the arrest of a disorderly person becomes an act of state. There the policeman represents the high authority of a proud country. He fulfills his duty with a stern severity. He is the symbol of law and established order. Let no one touch these fundaments of a well-regulated commonwealth.

In Copenhagen the policeman is neither the happy-go-lucky citizen who patrols the streets of Norway nor is he a creature of resplendent glory like his colleague in Sweden. He strikes a happy medium. In this he is an excellent representative of a land where the art of sensible and peaceful living seems to have been brought to its highest perfection. If only the chauffeurs of the Danish capital would learn how to drive their cars we should not have a single complaint to make against a country where everybody seems well fed, where beggars are as scarce as very rich people and where the women live up to the best traditions of the charming china which is made in the royal residence of Denmark.

RULERS WHO GAVE UP CROWN

Diocletian Relinquished Scepter to Raise Cabbages at Salona, While Charles V Turned Gardener.

It was Diocletian who quit dominion to raise cabbages at Salona, and who refused to die lord of the world, relates a historian. He was happier farming, he told the envoys of his friends. Charles V, Roman emperor and king of Spain, likewise laid down his scepter and turned gardener before he died. Philip V of Spain abdicated in favor of his son, but resumed the crown. Amurath, sultan of the Ottoman Turks, was luckier. He abdicated in favor of his son, but resumed the throne in a moment of national peril. Then he abdicated again. A second time a national crisis called him from retirement, but he had tasted the pleasures of private life, and he hastened to return to them.

He was a great king, the greatest ruler of his generation, and the most capable commander. His arms were invincible on two continents, his territories inviolate, but he preferred the quiet of his palace of Adrianople, the conversation of poets and philosophers, and the theological arguments of the wise men of Islam to the councils of his statesmen. He died peacefully in his bed, praising the peace he had come to know, and his son, the second Mohammed of the Ottoman line, won a more lasting reputation by the destruction of the Byzantine empire.

Human Engine Requires Fuel.

The human body, especially as regards nutrition, has justly been compared to an engine. If a steam engine is to perform a certain amount of work it must be supplied with fuel, and the quantity of fuel must be in proportion to the work to be performed, observes a scientist. In like manner, also, man to be able to act, requires fuel, which we call food; and, like the engine, the person who has to perform a greater amount of work will also require a greater supply of food. Besides, the human engine does not stop for a second in its work, for even in the profoundest sleep heart and lungs are uninterruptedly active. From this follows that as long as we live we are compelled to supply the body with ever new fuel. He who neglects this duty will perish; his engine comes to a standstill.

PROPER GROWTH OF CALVES

Puzzling Question to Gray Heads in Calf Business—Much Depends on Ration Furnished.

How fast should my calves grow? is a puzzling question even to gray heads in the calf-raising business. This will depend to a large extent on the kind of ration fed, but in order for any ration to be considered a definite success the calves should show a gain of at least a pound a day each day for the first six months. Many ordinary dairymen are getting a pound and a half gain daily.

In height these same calves should increase from one and one-half to two inches per month for the first half year. The height and weight have a definite relation for average sized calves during this first period. After six months this relation gradually changes and the weight outstrips the height. At one month of age a normal calf of any breed weighs approximately three pounds for each inch in height, but at the end of the six months' period the weight has increased to six and one-half pounds for each inch in height. From that time on there is a continued widening in the relation of weight to height until maturity.

Had to Be Accumulated.

Louise had some of her little friends in for luncheon the other day and among other things she had olives. She offered them to one little miss, who said she did not like them, whereupon Louise replied in a superior fashion: "Oh, I didn't like 'em at first, but you must accumulate a taste for 'em."

SCHOOL NOTES

The following is the order of exercises for the closing of the schools: Rev. F. J. Barackman preaches the baccalaurete sermon at the Auditorium, Sunday, May 12th at 8 p. m. The exercises known as "senior class day" will be presented at the Auditorium the evening of Thursday, May 16. At the same place at 2 p. m. on Friday May 17th, occur the eighth grade graduation exercises. The high school graduating exercises will take place at the Auditorium at 8 p. m., the evening of Friday, May 17th, at which President J. C. Brown of the St. Cloud Normal will deliver the address.

The early spring and the strong demand for laborers have forced a number of boys to leave school already. Were it not for the fact that school will close early this year a much larger number would have left. The proposed early closing has been a strong factor in retaining many in school till the last day.

The Goodridge Red Cross treasury was enriched to a considerable degree when last Saturday evening Class Adviser Miss Antoinette Johnson and some of her pupils presented a program in the Goodridge school.

The 1918 Annuals appeared this week. They set a high standard for such publications and contain a vast fund of useful and interesting school history. They are satisfactorily financed and their sale was accomplished before they were published.

Eighth grade students who fail in their yearly class standings will be permitted to avail themselves of the opportunity of entering high school by successfully writing the state high school board examinations the last week of May. Although no state examinations will be held in the high schol because of the early closing, final examinations as difficult and comprehensive as those given by the state will be used the last week of school. No student's interest will be jeopardized in any way by the fact that no high school examinations will take place. The local high school is one of the sixty state accredited high schools whose standings and diplomas are recognized and accepted by every college and university in the central west and west. The state high school examinations have always been used and written in the local schools and will continue to be, but no possibility of danger lies in them not being written this year for the reasons stated.

Wednesday, thrift stamp day, was properly observed by the children purchasing these stamps in large quantities.

A Check Account Is Well Named

As a check on losses through paying bills twice, as a check on thoughtless spending and carrying cash carelessly—the check account is well named.

When you pay bills by check, you have a receipt in the cancelled check. You think twice before you write a check to spend for luxuries. You always have money at your finger tips yet you cannot lose it or have it stolen, when you have it in your pockets in the form of blank checks.

The Consumer Always Pays

It is a mistake to expect to get something for nothing. No business can be conducted successfully along such lines. When, therefore, a grocer offers to deliver your purchases at a cost to himself of anywhere from 20 to 40 cents for each package, you can rest assured that somewhere or somehow you are paying for it.

We prefer to do business on a different plan. You pay us the lowest possible price for the best goods we can procure and look after the delivery of them yourself. We will do this for you but there will be a small extra charge. Where the purchase is large enough to warrant it we will pay this cost.

THIS STORE WILL DO ALL A GOOD STORE SHOULD DO; WE WILL SELL YOU THE BEST THERE IS AT THE LOWEST POSSIBL PRICE.

EXTEND DRAFT TO ALL WHO REACH 21

THIS PLAN WOULD MAKE OVER HALF MILLION MEN AVAILABLE AT ONCE.

The House last Friday adopted the Senate resolution for registration for military service of young men who have reached the age of 21 since June 5 last. The measure now goes to conference.

An amendment offered by Representative Hull of Iowa and adopted, 119 to 81, provides that men registered under the bill shall be placed at the bottom of the classes to which they may be assigned.

The House sustained the military committee in striking out a provision of the bill as it passed the Senate which would exempt from registration those eligibles who have entered medical or divinity schools since June 5.

Representative Kahn of California, ranking Republican on the military committee, told the House the proposed new registration woud make from 500,000 to 700,000 new registrants available for military service. In that connection he recalled that Germany recently called into service its class of 1919 consisting of approximately 550,000 men.

Keep Cheerful.

Be cheerful in the struggle to measure up your ideal. Fight your faults with sunshine. Self-improvement is the big business of life, it is true, but you will succeed all the better if you mix song and laughter with your efforts. If you are really trying to be good, you are bound to be successful, and that is a reason for going at it with bright faces and light hearts.—Exchange.

Artificial Indigo.

Chemists discovered by research years ago the process of making artificial indigo, but it was only when a thermometer broke in the solution that they found out how to make the indigo cheap enough to be commercially valuable. The mercury so increased the yield of a certain acid that the process was cheapened sufficiently to make artificial indigo less expensive than natural indigo.

Begonias in Philippines.

The Philippine islands are very productive of begonias and a California begonia expert is responsible for the statement that of late some sixty species and varieties never known to commerce have of late been found in our far eastern insular possessions. It is feared, however, that all of these need tropical temperatures and, therefore, are only subjects for greenhouse culture.

Pure Bred Percheron Stallion
MARLO 73151

Marlo, 73151, is known far and near by our best horsemen to be every way right and one of the best foal getters in the states. He is a coal black with the best of style and action, good bone, short on legs, close ribbed, short back, just the kind that our government wants, just the breed of horses you see in all the large shows. He is a heavy black and daple gray Percheron. Watch when the big show comes to Thief River Falls and see if I am not right. The pure bred horse is easy to train and as the Percheron has lots of style there is always a good demand for them and the highest prices will be paid for horses ever known. Remember it takes five years, starting now, to get a colt four years old and by that time the horses you now have are gone. Terms $15.00 payable at the birth of living colt, unless the mare is pure bred Percheron, if so my price is $20.00. This horse will be at Ramstad's big barn as mentioned above, Thursday, Friday and Saturday up to July first and maybe longer; the balance of the time he will be at home on the farm in section 4, town of Sanders, about 5½ miles due west of Thief River Falls. Phone at the farm. When wishing to phone, call four short and one long on 811. When I am in town call and arrange your business with me as it will save you time and disappointment.

Late News From War Zone

On Sunday morning it was reported that by one of those "back to the wall" stands for which they have been famous in this war, the Franco-British forces saved the situation in the Ypres sector from turning into an immediate big success for the Germans after the loss by the Allied forces of the dominating peak of Kemmel. Had the enemy been able at once to develop his success in the Kemmel sector as he attempted to do, the result probably would have been disastrous to the Allied troops in the Ypres salient. But the British held firm against attacks which lasted all day Friday in the neghborhood of Voormezeele, two miles south of Ypres, and the French were equally firm in defending the line in the sector of Locre, west of Kemmel, protected by the heights of Mont Rouge and Scherpenberg.

Indications that eight national guard divisions and three national army divisions will be in France before the end of May were seen in the announcement of the war department, on Saturday. Thirteen National army camps, eight national guard camps and three regular army divisional camps will get schools in the fourth series of camps, opening May 15. Counting approximately 27,000 to the division, this will mean that before the end of May General J. J. Pershing will get reinforcements of about 300,000 men as a result of the plans for accelerating troop movements to France.

On Friday it was reported that the British had swept the Germans out of Villers-Bretonneux, a village about eleven miles east of Amiens and have regained nearly all the ground won by the Germans in the offensive launched a few days ago. The great double German drive in the Somme and Armentieres sectors, which began Wednesday morning, has developed into a terrific struggle. The tide of battle has surged in the past two days, with the decision still in the balance.

The capture of Mont Kemmel by the Germans on Friday was the most serious setback the allied armies have experienced since the great offensive was launched. The retention of the position by the enemy will mean that the Ypres salient will have to be abandoned, according to London dispatches and it was expected that a strong attempt would be made to eject him. The Germans gained 2,000 yards on a front of 1,200 yards including the important tactical feature of the hill itself which gives important observation over all the ground to the north.

The British have munitions enough in reserve to carry on the present battle in Flanders and Northern France at supreme intensity until winter without compromising requirements for 1919, said Winston Spencer Churchill in the House of Commons. The head of the munitions ministry was introducing estimates for his department. Abundance exists in spite of the fact that 100,000 men were taken from munitions factories for army service, Mr. Churchill added. "Our preparations had contemplated a period of supreme battle intensity from the third week of February instead of from the third week of March, so we are from one to three weeks to the good. Those calculations allowed the artillery to fire during the whole fighting season a considerably heavier volume of shells than was expected weekly during the offensive battles of last year, and more than double the volume of shells fired during the terrific bombardment which characterized the Somme offensive of 1916."

Reports coming by way of Sweden, Denmark and Finland were persistent in maintaining that Alexis, son of Nicholas II, former czar of Russia, had been placed on the throne by a counter revolution. It was further stated that the uncle of the czarovitch, Grand Duke Michael, had been appointed regent. It was recognized at allied capitals that if this report were true it indicated a move on the part of Germany to make the reactionary party again uppermost in Russian affairs. Reviewing the situation during the past week, Arthur Sears Henning says: "Diplomats of neutral European nations in Washington take an alarming view of the crisis in the relations between Germany and the Netherlands, produced by Berlin's proposals to violate Dutch neutrality. Information from Europe has convinced several envoys that Germany is seeking deliberately to pick a quarrel with a view to occupying Holland as she has Belgium. The chancellories are convinced that if Holland becomes the next victim of the Hun, Denmark and Switzeralnd will be in great danger of suffering the same fate. Germany realizes that she cannot break through the Allied line on the western front, and that eventually she will be rolled back by the Entente armies. Germany's only hope of victory has been in breaking through the Allied line before an appreciable American force can arrive. Proof of this realization of the futility of defeating the Allies on the western front will be furnished by another peace drive on a scale greater than ever before."

On Monday night there was intense and almost ceaseless hostile artillery activity in the north. Great concentrations of howitzers and field batteries maintained a hurricane bombardment over wide sections of the allied front practically all the way from LaBassee northward to the south of Houtholst forest. The Germans also kept up a furious fire for nearly three hours on the front from Vimy to Lens.

London—This has been one of the bitterest days of fighting that the Flanders battleground has seen since the present offensive began. Since early morning von Arnim has been flinging great numbers of German troops against the allied lines between Zillebeke lake and Bailleul, with the hills east of Mont Kemmel as his ultimate objective.

The London report of Monday's fighting is as follows: "Powerful attacks by the Germans against the French and British positions between Meteren and Zillebeke today were repulsed, the Germans losing heavily, according to the report from Field Marshal Haig tonight. The British line held absolutely, but at various points the Germans gained a foothold in the French positions, only to be driven out later from the greater part of this territory. The Belgians also repulsed heavy attacks, inflicting severe casualties on the enemy.

Red Cross Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Red Cross will be held next Monday evening in the Commercial club rooms and it is hoped that there will be a good attendance as considerable matter of importance to all members will be up for discussion.

There will be no speaker for this meeting on account of the amount of business to be cared for in addition to the reports of all committees and branches. However, there will be sufficient interest in the Red Cross work to warrant members turning out.

Because of the seeming success of the German advance in the Ypres sector and particularly in the vicinity of Mont Kemmel, the London papers were preparing their people for the loss of the channel ports.

Reports received by the Associated Press on Tuesday afternoon were the most cheering for some time. The dispatches serve to emphasize the completeness of the victory won by the Anglo-French forces on Monday notwithstanding the tremendous assault by which the Germans hoped to break into the Allied positions southwest of Ypres and begin cutting their way on toward the channel ports. The situation seems to have been one of the entente high command deciding once more to make a stand after having forced the Germans to use up tons of thousands of men in fighting their way desperately forward as far as they have.

The decision made the stand was taken and the Germans were stopped as they have been previously on other fields since the great offensive opened on March 21. The enemy, it is estimated, threw as many as thirteen divisions or about 175,000 men, into the attack on this twelve-mile front, but despite continued furious assaults was held almost in his tracks everywhere. At a few points there was a slight enemy penetration, but the line was largely rectified late Monday. During the night French in dashing counter attacks drove the Germans from the remainder of the small stretches of ground they had gained in their initial drives of the day.

Good value is certain here

At a time like this, when you expect every dollar to do its duty, it's worth a lot to you to have a store like this where you can be absolutely certain of value. If you don't get all the satisfaction that you think you ought to get out of the clothes, you get your money back.

Lively styles for young men

They're here in the new military models by Hart Schaffner & Marx; 5-seam backs; seams at the waistline; military pockets and military fronts; just the things that men in "prep" school, high school and college want.

For men who want the finest

There are certain men—a good many men—who want the finest quality first of all; price is a secondary matter with them. They're willing to pay for first quality; they know it's economy. For such men we have taken special pains to assemble a group of clothes in rich patterns, developed on very refined models; tailored in the best manner possible by Hart Schaffner & Marx.

ADVISE USE OF MORE POTATOES

COUNTY COMMITTEE ASKS THAT CEREALS BE SAVED FOR SOLDIERS.

SLIGHT DECLINE IN MEATS

BOTH WHITE AND YELLOW CORN FLOUR MAY NOW BE PROCURED.

Reference to the food fair price list published in this paper will bring to light the fact that potatoes are again listed. This is due to the request of the state food administration. The quotations on tubers was omitted for a few weeks as the farmers failed to bring in their spuds, but with the abundance of potatoes in other sections—and which are being shipped in now in car lots—it was deemed advisable to again insert potatoes in the list. They are down to 60 cents per bushel wholesale and 75 cents per bushel retail.

Cabbage has been added to the list this week as has also yellow corn flour. These two brands of flour are both substitutes when purchasing war flour and can be obtained in nearly all the stores of the city.

Flour in Small Quantities.

War flour in less than quarter barrels is also to be found in the list this week, the price being 6 cents per pound retail. This is but slightly above the barrel rate, and is due to the extra expense of sacking, weighing, etc. In the cities flour is quoted in one and a half pound sacks, but the rate is over ten cents per pound. There is no occasion for the sale of flour here in such small quantities.

Corn meal and rolled oats in bulk are off a little this week, while rice shows a slight increase. Eggs are also up a trifle, but dairy butter is off, as is also evaporated milk in cans.

Sugar is becoming more plentiful but the price remains the same, as does also flour—both prices being controlled. A car of syrup was received by the wholesale house this week, and an expected raise did not materialize, although one is probably due before long.

Meats Hold Steady.

Beef and pork have been fluctuating quite a bit of late but the changes so far in the prices of ham and bacon and lard and lard substitutes has not varied sufficiently to warrant changing the price list as heretofore published.

KARWAND LANDS IN SERGEANT'S PLACE

HOME GUARD EXPERIENCE HAS PROVED TO BE VALUABLE IN ACTUAL WORK.

Edward C. Karwand, formerly cashier of the State Bank of Hazel, who left with the bunch that went to the university of Pittsburgh for instructions as airplane mechanics, has been promoted to a sergeantcy, according to a postal received from him by Capt. W. B. Fuller of the local home guard company, of which Ed was a member before enlisting. The instruction and drilling he received must have stood him in hand as this was all the experience of a military nature he ever received. Sergeant Karwand has also been made company clerk, his clerical experience undoubtedly giving him this post.

If the young men who are subject to draft but are not yet called realized the advantage of having had even some slight training in military matters they would join the home guards while they still have the opportunity and get the benefit of the drill before entering the service. The experienced officers of the army can tell at a glance whether or not a man has had any previous experience and where such is the case his early promotion is almost a foregone conclusion. Many of the lads from this city have already been shown preferences in this respect and it is due to no other cause than that they were able to handle themselves as soldiers from the outset.

More From France.

That the American soldiers are being shipped over to France at a great rate is certain. Hardly a day passes but what word is received from some of the lads who have landed safely. Floyd Holmgren is one of the late arrivals over there and seems to like his surroundings. In a letter to his parents here he says:

"Dear Folks:—I will write you a few lines and let you know that I have arrived in France safely and am in the best of health. I enjoyed my trip through the States and across the pond. I did not get seasick on the boat. I like it quite well here. It is spring time; the grass is green and it is raining a little today. I had my first ride on a foreign train outside of Canada and I had to laugh when I first saw the cars. They are about the size of a good sized truck. The wheels are a lot bigger than those on cars in the States. The brakeman or conductor blows a little horn, the engine blows the whistle and off it goes. The people here seem to be pretty nice. Although I cannot understand their language, but I guess I can learn it alright. As you know, we have the Y. M. C. A. with us so we have some amusements."

The Fire in Sanders.

Editor Times:—I wish to inform you as to the fire which took place in section 5, town of Sanders and wound up in section 4. The true facts are now known as to where the fire took its start April 24. The timber that was burned was set on fire by some means. It never caught fire from any grass or bog land. This has been found out by looking over the ground. The fire was started about one rod from the timber at the left of a good beaten track on the ridge road, not more than one foot from the track running north and south. The wind, being in the southwest, drove the fire into the standing timber owned by Mr. McClure, who lives in Iowa. From there it went into section 4 where it did great damage to the nice timber which will be felt by the people who buy wood.

The fire did not do much damage on G. W. Eastman's farm. Mr. Eastman left home early in the morning, going after hay eight miles west, and on his return found his yard filled with smoke. The telephone was made good use of in reaching the near neighbors and the business men of Thief River Falls. Frank McClure ran the car that brought the water buckets and as many good men as the car could hold. Among them were our Sheriff and his deputy and one or two other parties. I think if ever a car made time that car did and I wish to thank the people far and near who helped to save my home and will take such steps to attempt to have the town board of Sanders allow these fire-fighters something for their good work.

ARGENTINA A STRONG ALLY

Regarded Far More Valuable Than Spain to United States and Other Nations Fighting Germany.

When the congress of Argentina voted to sever relations with Germany the people of the most powerful neutral left in the ranks of the pacifists showed their determination to join the allies. Argentina could work more good to the allies than could Spain. Her war potentiality is greater, for while her army is only 24,000 strong, compared to the 140,000 which Spain maintains, according to a publicist, her wealth far surpasses that of the older nation. Argentina is young, strong, clean-limbed. Spain is old, fuddled and doddering.

The South American republic was the last dangerous nation whose people turned against the kaiser. Its entrance into antagonism to Teutonism would mark the final and crowning blunder of German diplomacy.

None of the passive nations could give the allies so much in the way of vital help as could Argentina. After the United States, her sympathy and determined support are more to be valued by the democratic powers than any other unembroiled nation. Now she is girding her loins to follow her great Northern sister into the good work.

Argentina's population is only 8,000,000, in comparison to the 20,000,000 of Spain, but her manhood is developing while Spain's is anything but aggressive. Her character is made of cosmopolitan forces, the best and hardest of the adventurous races.

BATTLE FIELD DEATH TEST

Minimum Quantity of 33 Per Cent Solution of Dionin Recommended to Academy of Medicine.

Uncertainty as to whether a person be alive or dead is especially great on the battlefield, and prompt decision in such cases is far more important than in civil life, writes a correspondent at the front. Dr. A. Terson has just recommended to the French Academy of Medicine a new test, those already known having proved insufficient. The best of these latter has been the injection of fluorescein, as devised by Icard. But even this is uncertain, for in some cases men who are still alive do not show the green coloration of the whites of their eyes following injection, which the test is supposed to produce.

Dr. Terson recommends placing in the eye a minute quantity of a 33 per cent solution of dionin (ethyl-morphine), glycerine. If death has already taken place, nothing happens, but if the man has the slightest trace of life still in him the white of his eyes will immediately turn purplish-red and swell, but this inflammation will disappear rapidly and leave no ill effect.

Dyes and Worms.

In order to determine the action of dyes when taken into the system, N. A. Cobb of the United States department of agriculture, selected for experiments the tiny worms called nematodes. It is well known that certain of the aniline dyes have peculiar affinities for certain sorts of living cells, observes a chemist, so Mr. Cobb tried various dyes on these worms and watched their action under a microscope. He found that different organs received different dyes, so that he was able to tint the internal apparatus of the nematodes in several colors and thus watch them clearly under his microscope. And he discovered some strange facts, not the least of which is that the dyestuffs undergo a chemical action in the creature's body to such an extent that you can never tell what color your dye will produce until you have tried it. Another fact of great importance is that he has found that different granules of the same cell absorb different dyes and manifestly perform different roles.

Expect New Comet.

A spectacle in the sidereal heavens of surpassing brilliancy may be expected the coming spring if the predictions of cometary observers are verified. Not since the great comet of 1858, which aroused a vast deal of interest, has an appearance in the sky equaled what is confidently expected for 1918. The return of Halley's comet in 1910, which had anxiously been awaited, did not come up to what had been predicted and expected, and since 1882 there has not been any especially brilliant comet seen. The newcomer is described as a gigantic comet, outclassing in size and brilliancy all those seen in modern times. It will be a thing of glory in the northwestern sky throughout the spring, astronomers say, probably remaining visible for three months, being at its brightest in June. It is now speeding toward the sun at an approximate rate of 1,134,246 miles a day.

Americans Train in Italy.

Near a small town in Italy a handful of Americans are training for aviation service.

The Giornale d'Italia says they already have acquired a practical knowledge of piloting and that they have given proof of their perfect discipline and seriousness of purpose. Their instructors have expressed the greatest satisfaction with their work.

The inhabitants of the town came out in crowds on their arrival to welcome the allies who had crossed the ocean from the country to which so many Italians had emigrated. They displayed the greatest curiosity in watching the Americans in their leisure hours playing tennis and base ball, which are unknown in that part of Italy.

JAP SOLDIERS IN WAR GAME

Trench Fighting at Night, Mining and Counter-Mining Included in Modern Combat Practice.

The week's fighting maneuvers of the Engineers' battalion of the Japanese Imperials Guards and First division were carried out on a scale never before attempted, says the East and West News. The war play occurred at Otahara, in the Tochigi prefecture. The operations included rival armies' trench fighting at night, exactly as practiced in the present Europe war. Mining and counter-mining, with many other special features of modern warfare, were practiced. The present type of hand grenades was used.

Japanese were first to introduce these missiles at Port Arthur, but the recent form of the grenade is quite changed and the weapon much improved. The Mills standard bomb, a British invention, was chiefly employed. It is about the size and shape of a large lemon, is made of steel, the outside corrugated into 48 small squares which, upon explosion of the bomb scatter in a wide area. It will not explode until released from the hand of the thrower. A lever, fitted into a slot at the top, extends halfway around the circumference and is held in place by a fixing pin. A small metal ring upon this pin renders its extraction easy when ready to be thrown. In casting, the bomb and lever are tightly grasped in the right hand, the left foot is advanced and the bomb is hurled with an overhead bowling motion, much as in cricket. As the bomb leaves the hand, the lever, actuated by a spring, is loosened and falls to the ground, thus removing an impediment to the true flight of the missile. When the lever flies off, a strong spring is released, forcing the firing pin into a percussion cap. This ignites the fuse, which burns until the main charge of ammonial explodes.

UNKNOWN LAKES AND RIVERS

Interior of Labrador Found to Possess Many Unmapped Bodies of Water and Streams.

Chains of lakes hitherto unmapped and rivers equally unknown were traversed in the interior of Labrador by the exploring parties of representatives of the National Geographic society and the Carnegie museum, Pittsburgh, which arrived at St. Johns, N. F., recently, says a correspondent. The journey covered about 750 miles over a route never before traveled by white men and was made more difficult by the fact that the five Indians who were taken along as guides proved to be unfamiliar with the country.

The party included E. B. C. Todd, curator of ornithology in the Carnegie museum; O. J. Murie, curator of mammals in the same institution, and Alfred Marshall of Chicago.

They left Seven Islands bay on the north side of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, about the end of May and traveled north by canoe and portages, reaching Fort Chimo, near Urgava bay, August 22. In addition to mapping the country, they studied its natural history.

Mr. Todd said the existing maps of a large district were found to be very inaccurate and altogether misleading, having been made by guesswork from information supplied by Indians.

German Mayor Has Sense of Humor.

The Prussian town of Altwasser has developed a humorous burgomaster. The Schwaebische Tagwacht says:

"The burgomaster of Altwasser, who has been flooded with anonymous letters accusing him of failing in his duty as regards the food supplies, has caused a reply to his accusers to be posted at the town hall. It reads:

"'I am blamed in letters for the scarcity of potatoes, for the heavy rains and the consequent muddy state of the streets, and for the unlawful appropriation of food cards on the part of many of the inhabitants. Besides the writers of these missives attack me for providing my household with more than I am entitled to and for pocketing public funds as salary.

"'I invite some of these pettifogging spirits, who have no other resource than to besmirch the reputation of their public officials, to come and dine with me any Sunday.

"'They would regret not having stayed at home to partake of the meat with which they are no doubt provided, instead of the cabbage and turnips which they would find representing the joint on my table.'"

Japanese Seek Match Outlet.

Plans are now under way to secure a wide market in foreign countries for matches of Japanese manufacture. At one time Japanese matches had an excellent market both in the East and in the West, says the Pathfinder, but, owing to lack of standardization of the product and to the marketing of inferior goods by some of the manufacturers, it finally fell off quite seriously. It is now proposed rigidly to maintain a high standard of quality in all Japanese matches and to have the product of all members of the newly formed match manufacturers' federation inspected before shipment abroad.

Men Must Go Out Shopping.

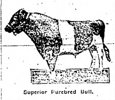
One result of the replacing of men by women in many of the British industries is the increase of shopping by men unfit by age or physical disability for army service, notes a correspondent. Tradespeople, who have noticed the gradual increase of their men customers, are not at all adverse to the innovation, because they find generally that a larger amount of business can be got through in a given time.

PUREBRED SIRE OF BENEFIT

Use of Animal Will Result in Great Improvement of Herd—Have Better Cattle.

There never has been a time when the common cow was at such a disadvantage to her owner as the present time. It takes a good cow to pay her way these times. A great many cows will be sold this fall because they would be unprofitable this winter, and yet every cow that will produce a calf is needed by the country.

Is it not a good time to make a resolution and live up to it, to have better cattle? The common cow was all right for cheap land and cheap feed. She must still do to mother better cows, for the great majority of farmers who still have common cows. Get a purebred sire this fall, and if you can, one that can be used this fall. The use of purebred sires for ten years will generally result in a herd that passes in appearance for purebreds. Surely it is worth while. A man is not as good a farmer as he can be, unless he is improving his herd.



Superior Purebred Bull.

FISH MEAL GOOD FOR COWS

Nutritive Value as Affecting Milk or Butter Production Compares Well With Cottonseed.

The use of fish meal as a feed for dairy cows is not strictly a new feed, but only lately has the government seriously undertaken a study of it as a practical ingredient in dairy rations. Fish meal is a by-product of the fish industry. Waste from salmon and sardine canneries is especially excellent for the manufacture of high-grade fish meal.

Preliminary experiments made by the U. S. Dairy Division show that the meal has no detrimental effect on the quality of milk or butter, and that the nutritive value of fish meal as affecting production compares favorably with cottonseed meal. An average analysis of fish meal is as follows: Water, 5 per cent; ash, 16; protein, 60; fat, 14; salt, 5.

Fish meal is manufactured from the fresh waste of fisheries by a process of steam cooking, pressing, and drying. It is preferably made from fresh-water fish to avoid too high a content of salt. Dried-fish products, known as fish scrap or "pomace," are used considerably for fertilizing purposes and fish meal fed to farm livestock retains all its valuable fertilizing properties.

COWS REQUIRE PURE WATER

Supply Constitutes Three-Fourths of Volume of Milk and Demands Dairyman's Attention.

All animals require plenty of good, pure water. This is especially true of the milking cow, as water constitutes more than three-fourths of the volume of milk. The water supply, therefore, demands the dairyman's most careful attention. Stale or impure water is distasteful to the cow and she will not drink enough for maximum milk production. Such water also may carry disease germs which might make the milk unsafe for human consumption or be dangerous to the cow herself. During the winter, when cows are stabled the greater part of the time, and unless arrangements have been made to keep water before them all the time, they should be watered two or three times a day. If possible, the water should be 15 or 20 degrees above the freezing point, and should be supplied at practically the same temperature every day.

URGE SKIMMING RICH CREAM

Saving Can Be Accomplished by Turn of Cream Screw, and Is Well Worth Effort Required.

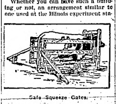
In skimming a hundred pounds of 35 per cent cream, 15 more pounds of skim milk is kept on the farm than when the same amount of 20 per cent cream is taken. This saving can be accomplished by a turn of the cream screw, and at present feed prices is well worth the effort required. More skim milk on the farms also means more calves raised to furnish meat and milk for all. Milk producers are paid for the butterfat in cream; not for the water and other constituents. This makes it advisable to skim a rich cream.

SQUEEZE GATES ARE USEFUL

For Acute Sickness, Retention of Afterbirth, or Any Symptoms of Disease It Is Handy.

On dairy and stock farms a well-selected building for a hospital is always useful. It is seldom needed for calving cows, or for cases of lameness or ordinary accident. But for acute sickness, retention of afterbirth, abortion, or any symptoms of contagious diseases it is essential.

Whether you can have such a building or not, an arrangement similar to one used at the Illinois experiment station, known as the squeeze gates, affords an excellent method of holding cattle for treatment.



Safe Squeeze Gates.

In a great many cases, especially with young cattle, they are chased until they become heated and excited; then are roped and thrown. This is not only detrimental to the ailing animal but often puts them in a very awkward position to work upon.

With squeeze gates it is possible, with the aid of feed, to coax the animal quietly into the stanchion and use the gates if the case demands them. Even with milch cows that are more docile there is more or less danger, by the sudden movements of the cow, of breaking an arm when treating the genital organs.

For cases of abortion, where the genital organs should be constantly treated, and freely dressed with antiseptic solutions, the squeeze gates are worth many times their initial cost, for when treating such cases the two gates are swung around and by means of racheted props the animal is held so it cannot move sideways, thus allowing the attendant to work with the greatest degree of satisfaction.

CARING FOR ANIMAL WOUNDS

Ohio Veterinary Surgeon Gives Concise Directions for Care and Treatment of Injuries.

Animals on the farm are continually being wounded. The first step to take in the care of a wound is to promptly explore the parts with a view to ascertaining if there is a foreign body; then arrest the hemorrhage to prevent waste of blood, writes W. C. Fair, veterinary surgeon, in Ohio Farmer. The latter can often be done by twisting the blood vessel or tying it, or by compression. The wound should then be washed with an antiseptic solution of some kind. It is important that the wound have proper drainage. It may be necessary to do a little cutting before good drainage is obtained. A wound that "pockets" seldom heals quickly. Small wounds about the head and neck should first be cleaned, peroxide of hydrogen applied (stitching material dipped in same), then edges of wound brought together and stitched as evenly as possible. Paint edges of the wound with tincture of iodine or apply equal parts oxide of zinc and boric acid or any other reliable commercial dusting powder. Never stitch a wound unless you believe it necessary to hold the tissues together.

PROFITS FROM FARM STOCK

Sheep and Swine Maintained at Ontario College Returned Profit of 12 Per Cent.

A careful record of all cost accounts kept at the Ontario agricultural college, Canada, showed that the sheep and swine maintained on the experiment station farm returned a profit of 12 per cent, after paying all expenses, interest, labor and housing. The dairy herd of 90 head, after paying for feed, bedding, service fees and other expenses, had $2,787 left to pay for labor, interest and use of buildings, on an investment of $14,000. The cost of producing one hundred pounds of milk, as far as feed was concerned ranged from 56½ cents to $1.25. These figures are for the year 1916.

COLT REQUIRES GOOD CARE

His Efficiency When Mature Is Determined Largely on Attention Given First Summer.

The colt is the work horse of tomorrow and the care he receives during his first summer and fall determines to a large degree his efficiency when mature. It is during the first summer that the colt is most subject to scours. This disease can easily be checked if treated immediately but if allowed to run its course it may prove serious and even fatal.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

SHERMAN LIED, TOWNLEY CLAIM

ASSAULT ON PRESIDENT WILSON BY ILLINOIS SENATOR IS RESENTED.

FARMERS ARE PATRIOTIC

ANY CLAIM TO THE CONTRARY IS DOWNRIGHT AND MALICIOUS LIE.

Following Senator Sherman's recent assault on President Wilson and the administration in an attempt of the reactionary interests to defeat the Overman bill granting the President increased power in the conduct of the war, A. C. Townley, president of the National Nonpartisan league, issued a statement bitterly resenting this vicious assault on the President at a critical time" and charging it was made for political effect and "because the administration's war program threatens the profits of big business."

In his speech which asserted that the President had not properly used his authority and that the administration consists largely of a "bunch of economic fakirs and howling dervishes," Senator Sherman charged that the head of the National Nonpartisan league "represents pro-German influences and has German money somewhere." The following is Mr. Townley's reply:

Brands Statement as Libel.

"Senator Sherman's reported accusation that I am Pro-German and that the National Nonpartisan league is financed in part by German money is a malicious falsehood. If he will repeat this libel off the Senate floor where he is not protected by his senatorial privilege I will refute his lying statements in a court of law. Senator Sherman probably has been talking to Judge McGee of the Minnesota Public Safety Commission and therefore is only parroting the long exploded charges made by petty politicians of the Northwest.

"The Department of Justice has had more than a year to investigate the Nonpartisan league. It has investigated the league and its investigation disproves Senator Sherman's vile slanders. The National Nonpartisan league is financed by its members, the loyal and patriotic farmers of the Northwest and does not depend upon either German money or Big Business contributions for its campaign funds. I doubt if Senator Sherman derives his own campaign funds from sources so clean.

Strikes President Through League.

"Personally I care little about these charges. The Nonpartisan league has grown in the face of similar attacks and it will continue to grow so long as these attacks are made by standpatters like Senator Sherman, for this shows that we are opposed by elements which the people have good cause to distrust. My complacency is increased when I find myself assailed in company with President Wilson, Secretary of War Baker and other high-minded and progressive government officials. This explains part of the animus behind Senator Sherman's attack. He does not dare accuse the President of being pro-German, so he attacks the Nonpartisan league because it is upholding the President's policies.

Attack Prompted by Interests.

"But I do resent and every patriotic citizen should resent Senator Sherman's vicious assault upon the President at a critical time when all loyal Americans should be supporting the government. This untimely attack is made partly for political effect and partly because the administration's war program threatens the profits of big business. Senator Sherman is one of these supporters of big business who would rather risk losing the war than to see real democracy extended into either politics or industry. The President needs more power to fully carry his war program into effect and Senator Sherman is one of the reactionaries who has blocked this action. Senator Sherman would not hesitate to place these powers in the hands of the President if he did not know that Woodrow Wilson will use them for the democratic management of the war instead of serving the interests of big business.

Compares Senator With McGee.

"President Wilson has not taken a single step toward price fixing, government control, taxation of wealth and the adjustment of labor problems which our Allies have not already been forced to take and we must go much farther in this direction before we can get the highest war efficiency. It is the selfish and short-sighted attitude of Senator Sherman and others of his reactionary stripe that prevents this program and thus prolongs the war. He is the same type as Judge McGee of Minnesota."—"These men" said Mr. Townley in conclusion, "seem more interested in crushing democracy at home than they are in establishing its triumphs abroad."

Anderson-Stenhjen.

Clarence W. Anderson and Miss Amelia Stenhjen of this city were quietly married Monday evening at the home of the officiating pastor, Rev. I. T. Aastad. They were attended by Miss Gena Legvold and Gunder Legvold. Mr. Anderson left yesterday for Camp Dodge with the drafted men but Mrs. Anderson will remain here where she is clerking in the John Aos store. Mr. Anderson who has owned the Kleanall Suitatoriaum for several years sold out last week to K. E. Dahl.

Rules Regulating Return of Flour

The objects of the present flour orders are as follows:

1. To put back in the channels of trade all excess flour that there may be released for immediate use sufficient flour to supply our army and meet our obligations to the Allies.

2. That a survey of the available supply may be obtained to enable the government to know how much flour there is in the country and where it is.

The rules are as follows:

1. All excess flour secured after January 1st, 1918, must be returned to the dealer or mill who sold it. After such date the dealer had no right to sell over thirty days supply and must take it back at the price paid.

2. If secured before January 1st, 1918, ask the dealer to take it back if he can handle it. If he cannot handle it report this fact to me in writing, giving amount of flour, kind, whether custom ground or patent, and number in the family. A permit will then be issued allowing the flour to be retained until my further order, to be used during such time only at the rate of six pounds per capita per month.

There is much custom ground flour in the county. Dealers cannot handle this flour. Make report to me of this flour in the same manner as you would on white flour. The Grain Corporation which is a part of the U. S. Food Administration will arrange to handle both the custom ground and the patent flour which cannot be handled by dealers, as soon as they have report of the amount in the county.

As far as is possible transact your business with my office by mail. Telephone reports and personal calls will be given the most courteous attention, but much time can be saved by writing.

Cards will be sent to every householder for report soon, the supply of cards having been delayed in reaching me. Please fill out and send in your cards whether you have reported previously or not. The information to be obtained from the cards is to assist in the survey.

CHARLES A. PITKIN,
U. S. Food Administrator for Pennington county.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Are Measuring Coal—Representatives of the engineers' department of the Soo have been in the city the past week measuring the coal supply on hand in order that a report might be made to the government. They found that there was a total of 9,680 tons in the stock pile and about 650 tons in the shed. This is less than is usually carried on hand, the car shortage having caused a decrease in the supply. It takes from 30 to 40 ton a day to coal up the engines at work out of here.

A Narrow Escape—Ole Halden, a switchman, had a narrow escape from being ground under the wheels of a locomotive on Monday night. He was standing on the running board when he in some manner lost his balance and fell in front of the engine, which was moving very slowly at the time. He was rolled over a few times and badly bruised but the engineer managed to stop before any very serious damage was done. Halden was taken to the hospital and is getting along all right.

Halbert Likes Soldiering—Chief Clerk L. M. Rayson of the superintendent's office has received word from H. W. Halbert, who was formerly a brakeman residing in this city, stating that he likes the work of a soldier at Camp Devins, Mass., where he is located. Mr. Halbert, besides being a brakeman, was also a ball pitcher of some renown, having at different times played on the teams of Thief River Falls, Warren and other nearby cities.

Are Back in Japan—While no word has been received directly by the boys at the Soo depot from their former companions who are now members of the Russian railway mission, it is understood that these have again been sent back to Nagasaki to await developments.

Fell Off Platform—Delma Cody, trucker at the freight depot is laid up with a sprained ankle sustained by falling between the platform and the car. This is the second accident of the kind to be reported within the past three weeks.

New Night Clerk—C. A. Rassmussen has been put on as night clerk in the yards, while Carl Rossman, the regular on the job, is taking the place of Henry Hoyem on the day shift while the latter is off on a 30-day vacation.

Returns to Braking—Orbin Hamry, who was formerly a brakeman employed in this city, is again back at the old job after having been employed some time as assistant cashier of a bank in Montana.

Division Jottings.

The army is taking its toll among the section men also, the following being reported as leaving for the army during the week: Knut Norgärd, Erskine; Ive Nordeen, Brooks; Dela Via Valentino, Winger.

Mrs. P. A. Langlois and children are expected up from Oklee this week and will become residents of Thief River Falls. Mr. Langlois is train despatcher here.

John Skog, who has been consulting an eye specialist in the cities for some time, made what he hopes will be his last trip down there this week. He is much improved.

Ed. Hilson, car carpenter, who has been visiting at Seattle and other western points for about two months, went back to work Monday morning.

Carl Trulson, firebuilder at the roundhouse, left the first of the week for a visit to Forda, N. D., accompanied by Mrs. Trulson.

S. A. Ovsak has been appointed warehouseman at Warren, succeeding C. A. Lundquist, who has joined the army.

H. Carlson, car repairer, left this week for a visit to Camp Dodge where he has a brother in the service.

T. D. Scanlon who has been laid up on account of illness for a week, returned to work Monday night.

M. E. Carlson is the new agent at Newfolden, succeeding E. C. Hanlotte, who has a leave of absence.

G. J. Conklin, car repair foreman, left on Tuesday evening for the cities on a business trip.

A. J. Cloutier, Soo brakeman, leaves with the bunch on May 1 for service in the army.

C. A. Jocelyn, car inspector, has been on the sick list the greater part of the week.

Alfred Gulseth is a new warehouseman entering the Soo employ this week.

Ed. Rupprecht, engine inspector, is laid up with a lame back.

ONE DRUNK SPOILS SPOTLESS RECORD

ANOTHER MONTH GOES BY WITHOUT AN ARREST BEING MADE.

Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant is going to have lots of time to attend to his new duties as secretary of the fair association if things continue as they have during the past four months in the court room. April was another month that slipped by without a single arrest being made for drunkenness. There has been just one case of this kind since the first of the year and the culprit then managed to get hold of enough pain killer or essence of peppermint to bring on a fit of stupefication. This is quite an improvement over last year when there were ten arrests during the same period. It is rather interesting to compare the record for the past four years, three of which have been dry. It rather refutes the argument that there is just as much drunkenness in a community without saloons as where these are permitted. Following are the figures:

	1915	1916	1917	1918
January	7	4	1	0
February	10	3	0	1
March	22	4	5	0
April	13	14	4	0
Total	52	25	10	1

A Red Cross Film.

"Humanity's Appeal" will be shown at the Princess Theatre in this city on Saturday and Sunday, May 4 and 5. It is a one-reel picture and will be used in connection with other pictures that day.

The picture is said to be very good and shows the work of the American Red Cross at Evian, France, at which place hundreds of repatries are received every day.

The picture presents a vizualization of the war scenes abroad and of the work of the Red Cross generally, and will be intensely interesting to young and old.

Card of Thanks.

We wish hereby to thank all those who extended their aid and sympathy to us during the funeral of our late son and brother, Oscar Maland. Particularly do we wish to thank those who presented floral offerings and the Home Guard company of Thief River Falls as well as the citizens generally of St. Hilaire, who did so much to show their respect for the dead soldier.

Mr. and Mrs. O. O. Maland, m-2-p. and Family.

At the Theatres.

The Lyceum was crowded last evening when Theda Bara appeared in the great scenic production, "Cleopatra." The picture is a masterpiece and seems to be particularly suited to Miss Bara's particular style of interpretation. The scenes are gorgeous, the costuming wonderful and the acting exceptional. The performance is to be repeated this evening.

The Princess week will open with William Desmond in "The Captain of His Soul." The play is taken from the well known magazine story, "Shackles," by Eleanor T. Kinkhead.

With a large number of people George Beban is the favorite actor in filmland. His pictures are delightfully natural and he always manages to get into plays that seem to be just made for him. In "One More American," he is seen at his very best. This is the feature for Friday night.

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne, one of the strongest teams in motion pictures, appear on Saturday night in "With Neatness and Dispatch." In this picture a reformed crook is asked to crack a safe for his sweetheart. What's the answer?

Sunday night is the date of the big event as usual. Dainty Marguerite Clark will then be shown in one of the cleverest of all her clever productions. It is called "The Seven Swans," and deals with the child's experience in the land of make-believe. The production is decidedly unusual and one of the most delightful in which this actress has ever appeared.

Margery Wilson and Jack Livingston will be the stars on Monday evening when "The Hard Rock Breed" is the play presented. It is a play of the mining camps, full of action and exciting situations.

Something of an altogether different nature will be presented on Tuesday night when R. A. Walsh and Miriam Cooper will be seen in "The Innocent Sinner." This is a drama and a good one.

"LaTosca," in which Pauline Fredericks appears on Wednesday is the play that made Fanny Davenport famous. The story was written by that great French author, Victorian Sardou, and the play is one of the most dramatic intensity. "LaTosca" is a role to which Miss Frederick's style is particularly adapted.

We have been here a long time. Our interests are here. We are almost as much interested in your welfare as you are yourself. We can only hope to share in the general prosperity of the section as a whole. For years we have sold lumber at the lowest possible price, and we will continue to protect the consumer. An honest margin is all we need. Have you ever stopped to think that lumber is today one of the cheapest commodities in America? Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

Kept on Going.

Since we had decided to keep going for the rest of the night, or until we had found the mission house, in that great expanse of ice and snow, we moved along with a dogged determination to prove to ourselves that we were able to find our objective or else fail, either from miscalculations or because of the limit of physical endurance.

We could not stop and make camp as before, for now there were three of us and only room for two in our sleeping sack. We were forced to keep moving.

Traveled by Instinct.

As we toiled along, there was no sound made outside of natural causes, except by the driver of the dogs as he urged them on. Every sound he made to keep them going startled us for the moment so in contrast was it to the stillness of the night. So utterly had I given myself up to my surroundings and so exhausted had I become that I failed to realize that I had ever had a past. What had gone before did not enter into my calculations or my life. What might ever be did not appeal to me. I was wholly possessed with this one thought: We must find shelter. It was almost an animal savagery that took possession of me as I led the way. To be sure I watched the stars, but otherwise instinct—simply instinct—kept pointing out which way to go; when a whole flock of ptarmigan, that had burrowed themselves into the snow around all about us, they gave forth that peculiar cackle of their's when disturbed, and I imagined that they were laughing at us.

Normal things seemed abnormal. Could I have gotten one of them into my hands, I could have torn it limb from limb, and eaten of the quivering flesh, and it would have been in accord with my feelings. Everything seemed to be against us. We were fighting the night; we were gambling against time; we were putting a mortgage on physical endurance; we were taking a chance of almost life and death, in the choice of our direction. But listen! What was that? Was it an indication that we were really pursuing the right course and that we would soon find the mission? It could not be that our ears were deceiving us. No. Listen again. There came the self-same sound. The cold night air was carrying to us the long, dismal wolf-like howl of an Eskimo dog, indicating a native village. Wierd and uninviting as that sound usually was it was as sweet music to our ears that night.

Dogs Also Encouraged.

Not only did we hear it but our dogs heard it. It gave them new courage; all but Toluook's tugs tightened; their tails were again curled over their backs; their heads and noses were raised into the air as though sniffing for a scent of the native village. Stumpy gave forth a low gutteral sound peculiar to him when he was pleased; the rhythmic pitter-patter of their feet on the snow kept time to the slower tread of the feet of the three men running the same trail. Still not a word was said, but the spirit of hope seemed to prevail. All were eager to hurry on. No whip needed to be used now. If the dogs were spoken to it was only to use words of encouragement.

Over the House Tops.

Again came that long dismal howl, first rising in a crescendo till it had reached a heighth almost incredible, then falling off and trailing into a long, monotonous monotone most distressing to the ear. But it was not so far away, and that encouraged us. Soon we would be there. Then came the signs of habitation. The sled was crowding its way between two houses; then because the next house was in our way, we went up one side over the top and down the other, making for a tunnel in a great pile of snow. The native runner disappeared into the darkness of this opening; the dogs followed, then the sled, then the carrier and myself. Soon a shaft of light appeared at the opposite end and making for that we all—dogs, sled and men—were soon through the door and in a heap, as it were, on the school room floor, for it was the mission house that we had reached.

A Heaven at Last.

Oh, the joy of light and warmth, and comfort; the pleasures of meeting these people of our kind. The handshaking and words of welcome and solicitation; the telling of the news, and then the unpacking of the sled, and finding of that precious bundle of letters we had traveled three hundred miles to deliver; the satisfaction of having accomplished an undertaking so full of hardships and not altogether free from dangers. We had so many things for which to be thankful and were so overwhelmed by kindnesses that we were hardly our own selves that night.

A Wonderful Meal.

After the fast of the day, while undergoing extreme fatigue, we could not help but think that the supper which they prepared, was the most wonderful meal we had ever eaten. Before it was ready, the smell of it almost drove us wild. But when it came to the table, and we sat down on real chairs, and had a real table covered with starched linen, and silver knives and forks and spoons, and china cups from which to drink and dishes bountifully filled, it seemed that almost in the twinkling of an eye had we been transformed from a place little to be desired to one not far removed from heaven. How much we ate and how long I dare not tell you. I can only leave it to your imaginations to figure out what you would have done under the same circumstances.

They gave us room for our sleeping sack on the floor, where we slept. We wanted nothing better.

Ten Dollars a Tooth.

On the day following, I gave attention to my medical work. The people at this mission were delightful Quaker missionaries located here working for the good of the Eskimos. When I was pulling Mrs. Samm's teeth, her husband remarked, "Doctor, you do not need to hesitate to charge. I would consider fifty dollars very reasonable for such work up here." That was ten dollars a tooth.

Had Feet Measured.

We spent a part of the day in baking and making ready for our trip home. In the evening I gave a talk to the natives regarding the government's intentions to supply them soon with a herd of reindeer. I thought that they were all very much interested in what I was saying until I looked down and saw two old women, who were sitting on the floor, near me measuring the length of my feet and calculating as to the amount of walrus and seal skin it would take to make me a pair of boots. The Eskimos have very small feet.

But, on the whole, they greatly enjoyed the prospects of a herd of deer in their community and asked me many questions showing their interest.

The Return Start.

For two days we rested making ready for our trip home as well as waiting for the missionaries to read their letters and write in answer to them. On the morning of the third day we were to start, not back over our own trail, but keeping to the west that we might go by Cape Prince of Wales, Port Clarence and Nome. Just as we were ready, we saw a group of natives standing on a high prominence looking out over the ocean ice. Soon a single runner darted from their midst making for the mission. His face showed great anxiety, for the old men of the village had counseled against our starting out as they could see by the signs that a blizzard was brewing and they did not want us to go out upon the ocean ice and be caught in a storm. It was sixty miles across to Cape Espenberg; the first land we would reach, and we would be out of sight of land part of the time. When Mr. and Mrs. Samms heard what they said, they, also were very anxious and at last we were persuaded to stay over till the next morning.

Bright and early on the morning of the third day, we were off with many good wishes from our friends for a safe journey home.

Tracks Indicated Way.

All day long we trudged over the rough piled up ice, now up, now down, breaking through the crust of snow and sinking to our knees. There were no land marks to guide us for the mountains had disappeared from view to the rear and those in front of us were not yet in sight. There was nothing but ice, ice, ice as far as our eye could reach. The sky was as an inverted cup reaching down and resting on this ocean of ice and we were the centre of it all. Clumsily we used the compass. Suddenly we came to a stop. We saw the trail of a lone traveler, who had passed before us and he had gone almost at right angles to the way we were pursuing. We reasoned out that he had come from Cape Espenberg where we wanted to go, so these two parallel marks in the snow changed our course and kept us from going away out to sea.

Our Stove Ruined.

During the day our sheet iron stove was so broken from being jammed into an ice cake that it was utterly useless. Night came on with just the dim outline of a mountain, showing away to the southwest and we prepared to camp behind a great pile of jammed up ocean ice.

A Drinkless Day.

We had brought wood with us so we made a fire and collected up some of the snow from off the ice with which to make tea. Our supper tasted good but when I drank the tea it was so salty it acted almost as an emetic. I crawled into bed and lay very still for I feared if I moved I would lose all that good supper which I was so in need of. The next morning I ate my breakfast without anything to drink, and had nothing the whole day long. Just as night was coming on, we reached the beach where we found some good snow and made plenty of good tea to quench our thirst. We noticed that Kinick would not eat his supper and kept crying all night long. We slept comfortably in the snow that night, and were ready for the next day's journey long before it was light.

Dog Takes Sick.

Kinick was very restless and when we were harnessing him he broke away and started to snap at and bite the other dogs of the team. We knew then that he was taken down with the disease spoken of up there as "going crazy." Whether it is hydrophobia or not, I do not know, but I do know that they never recover from an attack and die within a few days.

Helped Pull Load.

It was surely discouraging to be traveling in the Arctic over an unknown trail, for neither of us had ever been this way before, and have our leader take sick. We could not do without him for the way was rough and our load heavy, so we tied a rope to his collar, and Flannigan and I took turns in hitching ourselves to the load and in keeping Kinick from turning and biting the dogs of the team.

Blackie Also Useless.

Then Blackie went lame, and refused to pull and we had to turn him loose. That left us but four good dogs with a heavy load and we were far away from supplies. We had been sleeping in the open two nights in succession. We heard that somewhere ahead of us was a native village and we wished to make a good run and reach it before night. Early in the forenoon, we found a native who traded us one of his dogs for Blackie. He was a wild brute and seemed afraid of every move we made.

Racing For Shelter.

While we were burdened down with a load, and our dog power was impaired, we did not give up hopes of reaching this native village. When we came to a smooth stretch of ice we ran for miles with our load, ever pushing on, determined to do our best and sleep indoors for the night.

We stopped only long enough for dinner to eat a cold lunch. Then bundling everything into the sled again we crowded the dogs—one of us always running ahead and leading Kinnick, while at times both of us, by pushing and pulling, helped the dogs over the rough heavy roads.

A Good Day's Work.

We were tired as only those who run can be. As the sun sank to the horizon we strained our eyes to catch a sight of the village, but there was nothing to encourage us. Still we pushed on and twilight came but we could see no smoke curling up from their underground houses to tell us we were near a village. Then there was the beginning of darkness, with the northern lights streaming up to give us light. We must have run forty miles that day and still we were alone in that great white world and we realized then that this was Alaska—that land of snow and ice.

Then we stopped our tired dogs and said we would camp. The north wind blew cold but there was no shelter. We gathered some drift wood, started an open fire and I cooked the dog feed while Flannagan took a snow shoe and dug a hole in the snow in which we were to place our sleeping sack, and sleep for the night.

Troubles Continue.

Poor old Flannagan. I see him yet as he labored with the snow and I remember how woebegone his face looked in the light of the camp fire as I came over to the place where he was working and told him that our new dog had slipped his chain and was gone into the night. He knew that I was not joking for he answered me with but two words and they were these—"O, God!" And then bent over his work again.

We sat around the fire and ate our supper, and when we had finished we removed our boots and stockings, put in fresh insoles of dry grass; made dry our stockings the best we could by the fire, crawled down into our bed and went to sleep with nothing but the whistling wind and the plaintive cry of our mad dog to sing our lullabye.

SENATOR O'NEILL AGAIN CANDIDATE

WILL FILE TO SUCCEED HIMSELF FROM SIXTY-FIFTH DISTRICT.

State Senator Daniel P. O'Neill, of Thief River Falls, representing the 65th district, composed of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties, will be a candidate to succeed himself at the primaries in June. There has been considerable speculation as to whether or not Senator O'Neill would again make the run and this is now set at rest by the gentleman himself, who informs The Times that he is a candidate.

D. P. O'NEILL

He was elected to the senate four years ago after one of the most memorable campaigns in the history of Northwestern Minnesota. Previous to his election to the senate he had served four terms in the house, being first elected in 1893.

In speaking of his candidacy, Senator O'Neill said that he had served but one term in the senate and that he believed his record there entitled him to re-election. He is a farmer, enjoys a wide acquaintance throughout the district and is an energetic and effective campaigner.

He will be opposed for the nomination by Oscar A. Naplin of this city, who will enter the race with the endorsement of the Nonpartisan league. It is also rumored that others may try their hand for the place.

FIND LOADED BOMB IN ADA FLOUR MILL

ATTEMPT TO BLOW UP PLANT LAID TO GERMAN SYMPATHIZERS.

A bomb, a foot and a half long and loaded with enough high explosives to blow up a battleship, was found on Tuesday morning in the plant of the Ada Milling company at Ada by Manager Bodding, according to the Crookston Times.

As the mill was opened that morning workmen were set at work cleaning up the elevator floors and the bomb was found behind an old suit case near the grain scales. The fuse, which was attached, had been lit but in some manner had gone out before the fire reached the explosive.

The bomb was gently taken out and examination showed that it was one of the most dangerous of infernal machines. While no clue as to who placed the deadly missile in the mill has been found it is thought to be the work of sympathizers of the German cause. The matter has been placed in the hands of the Ada police and also referred to federal authorities.

Manager Bodding of the milling company, says that there is no way of knowing just when the bomb was placed in the mill as it was discovered on the general weekly cleanup day at the plant.

FRENCH ADORE OUR BIG SOLDIER BOYS

VOLUNTEER SOCIETIES WILL KEEP PARENTS POSTED ON DOINGS "OVER THERE."

While it is not permitted that American soldiers who have been transferred to the fighting line in France write home, this matter will be looked after as well as possible by sisters of charity and other organizations. The first letter of this kind to be received in this section came to hand last week when Mrs. J. P. Easton of Warren, received the following concerning her son, Dana, and signed by Marguerite Daycard:

"Dear Madam:—I do not know you, but I come as an intermediary of your son to make your acquaintance by letter and to tell you that tomorrow your son starts for the firing line. I know that to you, Mother, this news will not make you feel pleasant or happy, but we French women have our husbands dead or wounded for the great cause. It is nice that the sons of America have come to France to help us. We all like and adore these fine soldiers. Mothers of America, it is your sons to whom we will owe our victory. Glory and honor be to them.

"Dear Mother, your son is very glad that I announce to you his departure for the front, because it is strictly forbidden for him to write. He has promised to write and we will do all in our power to keep you posted on what is going on. Young France has suffered and is still suffering, but thanks to the children of that Great America, who will soon deliver us from the clutches of those German armies.

"Accept, Dear Mother, with all our salutations, of our most profound respect, from the Reverend Sisters and from your son."

Congressional Seeds Here.

Congressman Steenerson has sent a large supply of seeds into the county, these running principally to vegetables and flowers. It is probable that these have been generally received by our citizens, but in case any have been missed they will be supplied by calling at the office of Daniel Shaw. While the quantity in each package is hardly sufficient for a farm there is enough of each variety to plant a good sized plot.

Rural Carrier Examination.

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for the County of Pennington, Minn., to be held at Thief River Falls on May 25, 1918, to fill the position of rural carrier at Thief River Falls and vacancies that may later occur on rural routes from other post offices in the above-mentioned county. The examination will be open only to citizens who are actually domiciled in the territory of a post office in the county and who meet the other requirements set forth in Form No. 1977. This form and application blanks may be obtained from the offices mentioned above or from the United States Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C. Applications should be forwarded to the Commission at Washington at the earliest practicable date.

During the continuance of the present war the commission will in accordance with the request of the Post Office department, admit women to rural carrier examinations upon the same conditions as men.

Thanked For Belgian Help.

Secretary Laird of the local Red Cross chapter is in receipt of a letter from the Commission for Relief in Belgium, to which organization was recently sent a large shipment of second-hand clothing, gathered under the auspices of the Red Cross members throughout Pennington county. The local chapter and the branches are each thanked jointly for the generous donation.

Boys Are Sick.

Glenn Anderson, who is at headquarters camp, Fort Riley, is just recovering from a mild attack of scarlet fever which has kept him from his regular duties for some time. He writes that he is getting along fine and will soon be released from quarantine.

Albert Seeland, another Pennington county boy, has had rather a hard time of it since joining the army. He has been under the weather practically all the time since his arrival at Camp Pike, Ark., and efforts are being made to have him sent home for the purpose of recuperating. The last reports from him state that he also is down with scarlet fever.

For the thrifty housewife who wants a better cooking oil
MAZOLA
The American woman demands quality—even when she thinks most about economy.
That is one reason why Mazola, the pure oil from corn, for deep frying, sauteing, shortening and salad dressings is now used in thousands of homes—in preference to butter, lard or suet.
And since the Food Administration asks us to save these fats the housewife is especially glad to have a cooking oil which is so pure, wholesome and economical.
Not one drop of Mazola is wasted—it can be used over and over again as it does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another.
It is as pure and sweet as the most delicate food cooked in it—and it makes fried foods more easy to digest—free from greasiness or sogginess.
Use Mazola for your salad dressings, too—makes them especially delicious.
Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon or gallon tins. The large sizes give greatest economy. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.
Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

Add two cups bread crumbs and flour enough to roll. Cut out and press raisin in center of each; sprinkle with sugar and bake.

Mrs. L. G. Larsen.

Shortage of Corn Flakes.

Users of breakfast foods may one of these days find that they are up against it in securing certain varieties.

That there is a possibility of one or more kinds being taken over by the government the same as was done with tobacco is evidenced by an announcement that the greater part of the production of corn flakes will be sent to the government for feeding the men at the front.

Already there is a shortage of this well known breakfast food and word from the manufacturers is to the effect that still more will be required.

FLOUR ORDER IS EXPLAINED HERE

AIM IS TO CAUSE NEITHER LOSS NOR INCONVENIENCE TO PURCHASER.

DEALERS PLEDGE SUPPORT

WILL DO EVERYTHING IN THEIR POWER TO HAVE RULING OBSERVED.

The retail grocers of the city met with County Chairman C. A. Pitkin of the County Safety commission at the Commercial club rooms on Friday afternoon for the purpose of having explained to them more thoroughly the requirements of the government with regard to the handling of wheat flour. They are in a position to aid the consumer in gaining a working understanding of the rulings laid down by State Chairman A. D. Wilson and all promised to do everything in their power to see that no mistakes were made in this important matter.

Are Not Hoarders.

Mr. Wilson wishes to particularly warn those who will look after the returning of this flour against approaching the holders as if they were deliberately attempting to evade the law, as such is in most instances not the case. For the guidance of investigators and dealers he submitted the following rules:

1. Explain to holder of flour the government need for flour and its fair distribution and request that it be put back in the channels of trade. Explain that we do not consider having this flour is an effort to hoard.

Dealer to Blame.

2. If householder secured the flour since January 1, 1918, require mill or dealer who furnished it to take it back and pay same price as paid by consumer. Dealer had no right to sell over 30 days' supply and must take it back at price paid.

3. If secured before January 1, 1918, ask dealers to take back flour at market value if they can handle it.

4. If dealers cannot handle it, give householder permit signed by you stating that he is allowed to hold subject to your order a specified amount of wheat flour. He may use out of it at the rate of six pounds per capita per month and no more, using an equal amount of substitutes.

Government Takes Surplus.

5. The Grain Corporation, which is a part of the U. S. Food Administration, will make arrangements to purchase all excess flour you have in your county. Make a rather complete survey and know location and amounts of flour before asking Grain Corporation to purchase.

6. If any refuse to give up flour when requested by you to do so, or if you find evidence that an attempt has been made to conceal the fact that he has an excess of flour, report the case to us.

CROSSING MATTER FINALLY SETTLED

SUPREME COURT HOLDS THAT RAILROADS MUST STAND COST OF WORK.

The city of Thief River Falls is particularly interested in a decision of the United States Supreme court, handed down last week, sustaining Section 4256, General Statutes of Minnesota for 1913. This law directs that railroad companies shall construct sidewalks at highway crossings to connect with, and correspond to sidewalks either by the municipality or owners of abutting property. Exception is made that railroads need not construct cement or concrete walks in the track space occupied by railroad ties if some other substantial or suitable sidewalk material is used instead. Proceeding under the authority of this statute, the village of Clara City brought action in mandamus in the District Court of Chippewa county to compel the Great Northern railway to provide sidewalks at its street crossings in the village. The Great Northern resisted the action on the ground that the gross-earnings tax law specifically exempted railroad corporations from local taxes and assessments, including sidewalk assessments. After an adverse decision had been rendered the railway company appealed to the Supreme Court of Minnesota and later still to the Supreme Court of the United States. All along the entire line the statute in question was sustained, and now that a precedent has been established, municipalities no longer need be in doubt as to their authority to compel crossing improvements.

Hallan Now Corporal.

Arthur Hallan, a young man born and raised in Thief River Falls, but who has for some time been a resident of Oregon, was among the first to enlist in the army from his section and has applied himself so well to his duties that he has been made a corporal. This young man still has relatives living in this neighborhood and is also interested in property in the city.

ALL SOLDIERS MAY VOTE AT PRIMARY

RELATIVES AND FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS SHOULD SEE THAT BLANKS ARE SUPPLIED.

The Minnesota Commission of Public Safety has by order, extended the provisions of the so-called Absent Voters Law, Chapter 68 Laws 1917, with certain modifications, to the primary election to be held June 17, 1918. Under the terms of the order any person in the military or naval service of the United States who is absent from his election district on that date may vote by mail. To do so, however, the absent voter must first make an application for ballots in a form prescribed by said order; he must also subscribe to the oath printed on the back of such form and mail the application and oath to the County Auditor of the County in which he is entitled to vote.

The auditor will then mail the voter the necessary ballots to be marked by him, and the envelopes within which to mail the same to the election judges, with full instructions as to the procedure to be followed.

Friends and relatives of soldiers and sailors are requested to procure and mail the blank "applications for ballots" to them. When sending a blank to your boy include several others, to the end that he may hand the extra copies to other Minnesota voters who may not otherwise be supplied.

When possible, persons sending these blanks to absent voters should ascertain and inform the voter the proper description of the election precinct in which the voter for whom it is intended will be entitled to vote. He may not know or remember the ward and precinct number in which he has his residence. Attention to this matter on the part of the "folks at home" will greatly facilitate the work of the county auditor and insure the proper casting and counting of the absent voters ballot.

It is also important that the blank applications should be gotten into the hands of the absent voters at once. The county auditors will be very busy in getting out election supplies during the twenty days immediately preceding June 17, and so far as the matters above referred to can be attended to before June 1st to that extent efficient attention to his duties under the order will be insured.

ALL ORGANIZED FOR RED CROSS WORK

SEVENTEEN BRANCHES ARE NOW OPERATING IN THE COUNTY.

Two more townships in Pennington county have reported completion of their permanent organizations to Secretary Scott Laird of the Red Cross, these being Deer Park and Reiner.

This makes a total of 17 branches for the county, and leaves but four townships unorganized, namely, Star, Hickory, Smiley and Polk Center.

The officers chosen for Deer Park chapter are: Chairman, Mrs. J. L. Radniecki; secretary, Mrs. G. Anderson; treasurer, Mrs. Osmund Lundin, all of Rhoda.

The officers of Reiner branch as reported are: Chairman, Carl O. Wahlin; vice chairman, Frank Race; secretary, Oscar Stenvick; treasurer, J. A. McEnnelley, all of Erie.

Oppose Reconsignment Charge.

Minnesota, through its officials and shippers within the state, are opposing the petition of the railroads of the United States for authorization to levy a reconsignment charge of $2.00 on carloads of merchandise reconsigned while in transit. The Interstate Commerce commission has made an order that the proposed charge become effective May 1, 1918, and the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission has demanded that the order be suspended. Commissioner O. P. B. Jacobson and A. L. Flinn, the commission's rate expert, were in Washington last week to appear before the Interstate Commerce commission, together with W. P. Trickett, of the Minneapolis Traffic association, and C. F. McDonald of Duluth, to urge such action. By the proposed order the railroads will be empowered to collect a fee of $2.00 on carload lots of grain, hay and straw, reconsigned at terminals in the original car shipment.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Pennington county at the primaries to be held on June 17. If elected I promise to give my time and sole attention to the duties of the office and will administer these to the best of my ability.

OVE E. BERGE.

Plenty Sugar For Canning.

Before the canning season opens housewives will be given an opportunity to sign a blank showing the amount of sugar they will desire for the purpose of putting up fruits and vegetables.

These blanks are authorized by the national food administration and are to be distributed to every dealer handling sugar. Thus housewives may have all the sugar they need for canning and preserving purposes in "reasonable" quantities.

When those blanks have been signed they will be turned in by the retailers to the county food administrator. These blanks will carry a promise that the sugar will be used only for canning and preserving.

Logging on the Reserve.

According to the Red Lake News a total of 1,197,840 feet of timber was cut by the government logging camp on the reservation the past winter. Of this amount 738,000 was white pine and about half a million Norway. The breakup caught the camp with about 200,000 feet still in the woods which will have to remain there until the freezeup next winter. The International Lumber company also suspended operations about the first of March.

The News also supplies the information that Uncle Alex, for 47 years teamster at the agency, has been retired and that Chas. A. Beaulieu is his successor.

Hansen Speaks.

St. Hilaire Spectator: An unusually large crowd attended a patriotic meeting, held under the auspices of the Red Cross, at the August Svenson school house last Saturday evening. A number of visitors from Thief River Falls attended the meeting. C. L. Hansen, the banker-farmer, from Thief River Falls, was the principal speaker of the evening and he delivered a very interesting and instructive address on "Patriotism," a subject on which he is well qualified to speak, being as he has taken a prominent part in all patriotic duties that has fallen to this county both before and after commencement of the war.

High Cattle Prices Accompany High Beef Prices
If consumers are to pay less for beef, live-stock raisers naturally will receive less for cattle.
If farmers are paid more for live stock, consumers will necessarily pay more for meat.
Swift & Company pays for cattle approximately 90 per cent of the price received for beef and by-products. The remaining 10 per cent pays for dressing, freight to market, operation of distributing houses, and in most cases, delivery to the retailer. Net profits also have to come out of this 10 per cent.
This margin cannot be squeezed arbitrarily without danger of crippling the only effective means of performing the complex service of converting cattle into meat and distributing this meat to the fighting forces and to consumers.
Swift & Company's net profit on beef during 1917 was only ¼ of a cent per pound. On all products, it was a little less than four cents on each dollar of sales. Complete elimination of these profits would not affect appreciably retail prices of meat, or farm prices of live stock.
Swift & Company will be glad to co-operate in devising methods that will improve conditions in the meat and live stock industry.
1918 Year Book of interesting and instructive facts sent on request. Address Swift & Company, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Illinois

SCHOOLS CLOSE FRIDAY, MAY 17

TIME SAVED EARLY IN SEASON ADVANCES DATE THREE WEEKS.

ORATION BY DR. J. C. BROWN

CLASS ROLLS ARE LARGEST IN HISTORY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS SCHOOLS.

The commencement exercises at the Thief River Falls high school will this year be held three weeks earlier than usual although the actual school period has contained the same number of days. Anticipating that the older boys and girls would in all probability be needed to help on farms and in other divisions of labor by reason of so many young men having been called to the colors, it was thought best to omit the spring vacation, thus saving two weeks. Time has also been gained in other directions so that the classes are as far advanced as though the pupils had covered the usual study period.

Class Day Program.

Commencement week will be ushered in on the evening of Sunday, May 12, when the service will take place, following being the program:

Auditorium, 8 p. m.

1. Overture—Prof. F. G. Wells, assisted by the High School Orchestra.
2. Invocation.
3. Hymn, All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name.
4. Scripture Reading—Rev. J. A. Orrock.
5. Anthem—Teachers' Quartette.
6. Prayer—Rev. Geo. Larson.
7. Anthem—High School Octette.
8. Sermon—Rev. R. L. Barackman.
9. Hymn, My Country, 'tis of Thee.
10. Benediction.

The Class Day exercises will be held on Wednesday evening, May 16, when the following program will be presented:

"Our Old High .... Mixed Chorus
Play: "Our Girls Over Here" ......

Commencement Exercises.

Dr. J. C. Brown, president of the St. Cloud Normal school, will deliver the commencement address on Friday evening. Dr. Brown is one of the foremost educators in the West and a speaker of power and magnetism. Those who heard him at the time of the teachers' convention here will be greatly pleased to learn that he has been selected to make the parting address to the young men and women who close their school term at this time. The program for the evening is as follows:

Carmena Waltz .... Mixed Chorus
Invocation ...... Rev. R. L. Barackman
Salutatory .... Myrtle Thomas
Address .... Dr. J. C. Brown
Music .... Senior Octette

WAR SECURITIES TOTAL $219,000

THIS AMOUNT COUNTY MUST RAISE IN STAMPS AND CERTIFICATES.

PAYMENT THROUGH YEAR

TWENTY DOLLARS PER CAPITA IS SUM AIMED AT BY GOVERNMENT.

A state wide war savings drive will be held in Minnesota for one week commencing June 6th. The purpose of this drive is to secure, by pledges and cash sales, the entire allotment of the state for war savings and thrift stamps. The allotment for Minnesota is $45,000,000 and of this Pennington county's quota is $219,000.

Twenty Dollars Per Head.

The amount required means that $20 must be subscribed for by every man, woman and child in the county. Chairman George G. Johnson has designated each school district as a collection center and the territory will be covered by from three to five canvassers, depending upon the size of the district and the population. The chairmen to have charge of this work in the different localities have already been appointed, with the exception of those for the city of Thief River Falls, and are as follows:

The List of Chairmen.

North township, Waldie Christianson; Bray, Emil Larson; Star, Joseph Johnson; Sanders, O. L. Larson; Kratka, Rev. H. Bjornson; Numedal, Elias Joringdal; Norden, G. J. Nordhagen; Silverton, Halvor Fodstad; Cloverleaf, C. W. Nelson; Goodridge, A. O. Halverson; Reiner, C. W. Wallin; Highlanding, Karl Korstad; Smiley, Fred Beerbower; Rocksbury, Paul Englestad; Polk Center, A. G. Hallstrom; Black River, A. O. Brevik; Wyandotte, Isaac Wilson; Mayfield, T. O. Lange; Deer Park, Osmund Mandt; Hickory, H. T. Hanson; St. Hilaire, W. R. Weeks.

Extends Over Year.

The certificates may be purchased by means of pledge cards where this is desired. The purchaser pledges himself to invest a certain sum in these securities every month and makes his payments through his banger or the nearest postoffice. He will pay $4.00 and a few cents for a certificate that is redeemable at five dollars on the first day of January, 1923, the amount of the sum necessary over $4 depending upon the month for which payment is made. The interest rate is four per cent, compounded annually and the certificates are therefore one of the very best investments in the world. Should the purchaser find it absolutely necessary to use the money invested he can have it by giving two weeks notice.

Money raised by the sale of war savings and thrift stamps is of as great importance as money secured by the sale of bonds. Further details will be published in regard to the drive. A number of public meetings will be arranged for different parts of the county.

More Tobacco Commandeered.

Announcement was made recently of the taking over of the production of five different brands of tobacco by the government so that there would be a good supply for the men at the front.

The past week saw another popular brand taken over in a similar manner, namely, Prince Albert. Those previously reported are: Bull Durham, Duke's Mixture, Tuxedo, Velvet and Stag.

There is much speculation among dealers as to whether any of the cigarettes may suffer likewise and several of them fearful of this have placed large orders for leading makes.

For Poultry Raisers.

Word has been received by Secretary Scott Laird of the Red Cross that Geo. W. Hackett, in charge of the poultry division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture at the state university, has been transferred to other parts of the country and that he is to be succeeded by W. B. Stangeld, a thorough, practical poultryman.

He will have special interest in promoting the work of local poultry associations, and in this connection wishes to assist in the greater production of poultry in Pennington county. Mr. Laird still has several copies of the government bulletin on poultry raising and will be glad to receive requests for them from interested parties.

Bone Dry

Every Still Better Willard Battery that comes out of the factory is made and shipped dry. This absolute dryness is your guarantee that the battery has not lived a part of its life before you buy it.

For every battery begins to age from the very minute the battery solution first touches it. But that you are buying the battery you buy is bone dry up to the time you buy it, you can be sure that you are buying a fresh battery.

Still Better Willard Batteries cost more but they're worth it, both because the "Bone Dry" plates are your guarantee of battery newness and because the Threaded Rubber Insulation also means increased protection to plates and prolongs efficiency. Ask about the Still Better Willard the next time you call for your regular battery test.

Certain-teed Roofing

The roof that copes with all conditions.

Sparks, smoke, gases, acids or fumes have no effect on a Certain-teed roof. Rust cannot corrode Certain-teed. The heat of the sun cannot cause it to melt or run. Certain-teed has the ability to resist every form of roofing attack, and the durability to give year after year of weather proof service, with little or no maintenance cost. Certain-teed offers every practical roofing advantage with a minimum roofing investment.

In every town, city and section you will find Certain-teed. Everywhere Certain-teed is the choice for buildings of all types and sizes; for factories, round houses, elevators, garages, warehouses, hotels, farm buildings, stores, outbuildings, etc. In artistic red or green shingles, Certain-teed is very popular for residences.

Guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness. Certain-teed costs less than any other type of roof—first cost and laying cost low, and maintenance practically nothing. Certain-teed is more economical than ordinary roll roofing, because it costs so little to lay and lasts much longer.

The Password for Tires

CHALLENGE every tire before you buy. Make it give the watchword of tire quality, Tested. Make it show the countersign of tire supremacy, the Goodrich trademark. If a tire answers "Goodrich Tested," buy it. It is a friend.

It will give you full and lasting service because its service, put to the nation-wide road test of Goodrich Test Car Fleets, has measured up to the Goodrich standard of tires, the Tested of—

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

There is no risk with the tire that can give the password "TESTED," for no weakness, no structural failing, could hide itself during the month to month, season to season, testing of the Test Car Fleets.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, challenged America's roads, and under light and heavy cars fought sand, gravel, and rock, in rain, mud, snow, and slush, and defeated them. The spiral-wrapped, cable-cord tire body stood up against the hammering of mountain trails. The close-clutch, cross-barred, non-skid black safety tread, baffled the teeth of desert and prairie paths.

Demand this password of all tires before you buy, and you will get the durability, dependability, and economy of the tires which the roads of every region of our land proclaim, "America's Tested Tires."

FOODS TASTE BETTER COOKED —TOBACCO TASTES BETTER TOASTED

Since the day of the caveman, who liked his meat raw, civilization has learned a lot about the scientific treatment of the things we eat.

Naturally none of us would now prefer to have our meat raw, our potatoes as they come from the ground, our coffee untoasted.

And naturally follows the great discovery recently made by The American Tobacco Co.—that tobacco tastes better TOASTED!

This wonderful new idea—simply like all great inventions—was first used in producing the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarette—made of toasted Burley tobacco.

Burley has a mellow flavor, entirely different from the tobacco usually used for cigarettes. It is a pipe tobacco and LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes taste like a pipe.

RED CROSS AIM 10,000 DOLLARS

CAMPAIGN BEGINS MONDAY MORNING AND CONTINUES FOR ONE WEEK.

G. H. SMITH IS CHAIRMAN

MEETING TO FORMULATE PLAN OF ACTION CALLED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT.

The campaign of the Red Cross to raise $10,000 in Pennington county as its apportionment of the hundred million dollar War Fund is partially arranged for, the directors at their meeting yesterday afternoon delegating the task for the city to G. Howard Smith, who was one of the prime hustlers in the recent Liberty Loan campaign.

Chairman Thos. A. Way and Secretary Scott Laird will have general supervision of the country districts and have named Ross P. White, W. A. Barnard and Supt. J. H. Hay to properly care for the branch chapters located in the various townships.

The Ward Chairmen.

Mr. Smith has named the following as his assistants in the city: Bernard Knudson, first ward; M. N. Benson, second ward; Peter Myhrum, third war; and John Bratrud, fourth ward. W. B. Fuller was also named by Mr. Smith as parade manager, to have charge of a mammoth parade to be held in connection with the raising of the fund.

There will be a meeting of these managers Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the office of Mr. Smith. There will also be a meeting of the various representatives of the branches throughout the county next Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock in the Commercial club rooms at which time all details will be announced for the raising of the allotment for the county.

BABY BONDS REACH $20,000 IN COUNTY

PENNINGTON HAS PER CAPITA CREDIT OF $1.82—22nd ON LIST.

According to the report sent out by the Minnesota War Savings committee, Pennington county people had invested a total of $19,911.88 in War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps up to April 20th. This is a per capita circulation of $1.82 and places Pennington 22nd on the list of Minnesota counties. Todd is still in the lead with a per capita purchase of $3.92, while Roseau is at the bottom, the investment there being but 24 cents per capita.

Red Lake continues in the lead among northwestern counties with a $2.44 for every man, woman and child in the county, Pennington coming next. The standings of our other neighbors are as follows: Norman, 30th, $1.54; Marshall, 50th, $1.12; Polk, 67th, 76 cents; Beltrami, 74th, 58 cents; Clearwater, 80th, 50 cents.

Wednesday's Sales.

Last Wednesday the merchants of the city returned one 25c stamp to their customers wherever it was necessary to return change when a purchase was made. The total reported back to the committee by reason of this plan was just short of $500. This amount is not included in the figures given above.

RALPH FALK GETS A LIEUTENANTCY

STUDENT AT LEON SPRINGS, TEX., TRAINING CAMP—FRED SCANLAN A CORPORAL.

Ralph J. Falk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Falk, 508 St. Paul avenue south, who was among the first to enlist in the army from Thief River Falls, has just been graduated from the officers' training camp at Leon Springs, Tex., with the rank of second lieutenant. There were 84 Minnesota men in the class, 24 of whom were from Minneapolis.

At the time of his enlistment, Lieut. Falk was sent to Fort Snelling. After a short period at the Minnesota camp he was transferred to Camp Cody, entering the officers' training school last November.

This young man is entitled to a great amount of credit for the rapid strides he has made. Joining the army as an infantry volunteer and having had no previous military experience of any kind, it speaks mighty mighty well for him that he has thus been able to get a commission.

Scanlan Moves Up.

Another promotion in the army during the week is to be noted. Fred T. Scanlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Scanlan, writes from France that he has been promoted to corporal. He is with the First Minnesota artillery of the Rainbow division and was among the first of the Pennington county boys to be sent across. Everyone will be glad to learn that this young man is forging forward as he was persistent in his efforts to enlist. Being too light for the navy he tried the infantry, only to find that he was a few pounds under weight for this branch also. He finally landed with the artillery and is evidently making good.

Both Falk and Scanlan are graduates of the Thief River Falls high school.

Alice Marie Besancon.

The death of Miss Alice Marie Besancon occurred yesterday morning after an illness of several months. Miss Besancon was seventeen years old and was a member of the Senior class of the local high school. She attended school this year the first semester but was unable to attend after Christmas because of failing health. For the past several weeks she has been confined in the local hospital where her death took place. Heart failure was the cause of her demise. The body was shipped this morning to Stephen for interment where her parents, who are now living on a farm near Goodridge, formerly lived.

HOME GUARD MAY HAVE TO DISBAND

ORGANIZATION OF ANOTHER MILITIA REGIMENT IN STATE IS PROBABLE.

The home guard companies in the cities of northern Minnesota are in danger of finding themselves without any military standing if the plan to create another national guard company is carried out. The requirements for membership in the home guard are not very strict and it is certain that quite a number of the men making up these units would fall short of the militia specifications. For this reason it is doubtful if Thief River Falls, for instance, could muster a sufficient number of acceptables to form a company. This would be particularly difficult owing to the ruling that no men who are in class 1 in the draft are to be allowed in the new regiment.

There are many more home guard companies in the state than are necessary to make up the proposed militia regiment and while the men with previous experience would natrually be preferred, it is certain that room cannot be made for all in the cities, while in the smaller communities there would not be enough available to make up a company.

Northwestern Minnesota will likely be assigned one of the new units and Major Loring is undoubtedly investigating the matter of placing it to the best advantage. It may be feasible to have two or more communities have a company jointly in which case the matter might be quite easily settled.

BEMIDJI MERCHANT DIES IN THIS CITY

END COMES TO W. H. NEWTON, WHO CAME SEEKING MEDICAL ASSISTANCE.

W. H. Newton, a hide and fur merchant whose home is at Bemidji, died in a room at the Evelyn hotel on Monday morning of heart disease.

Newton arrived in the city last Tuesday evening and engaged a room at the hotel. The following morning he was found to be quite ill and Landlord Julien Provencher advised him to go to the hospital. This the sick man did not wish to do but finally consented. On Saturday morning the physicians at the hospital asked Mr. Provencher if the patient could not secure a room again as they were unable to do anything with him at the hospital. He was consequently permitted to make the change and everything possible done for his comfort. On Sunday morning his condition became so serious that it was thought best to notify his wife, but this he positively refused to allow. Mr. Provencher took the matter into his own hands, however, and telephoned Mrs. Newton. She promised to start for Thief River Falls at once but could not reach here until Monday at 11 o'clock. Before she arrived the husband died. The body was taken to Bemidji for burial.

ONLY ONE FILING DURING PAST WEEK

WILHELM MICHELET ANNOUNCES HIMSELF AS CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION.

Candidates for county offices have during the past week been a little backward about coming forward. The only one to leave his name and ten dollars with County Auditor Anderson was Judge of Probate Wilhelm Michelet, who filed for re-election. No other candidate for this post has as yet announced himself and no mention is made of any who wish to enter the contest. It is altogether likely that Judge Michelet will be one of the very few candidates who will be permitted to go on the ballot without opposition.

Now that the state and legislative filings are out of the way it is probable that there will be a more active interest shown in the county offices.

FOUR ONLY MAY GO IN NEXT LOT

WILL ENTRAIN FOR CAMP LEWIS, WASH., ON SATURDAY, MAY 25.

MINNESOTA'S QUOTA 4,714

ARMY OF 2,168,000 MEN UNDER ARMS AND IN TRAINING BY JULY 1.

Pennington county will furnish four men for the new army which Secretary Baker has ordered to the training camps, the entrainment to begin on Saturday, May 25. Minnesota's share of this enrollment is 4,714. The men will be sent to Camp Lewis, Wash.

Credits for enlistments makes the quota for Pennington county only expected would be necessary. The four men, instead of the 18 it was names will be taken in rotation from the list of eligibles in class 1, but some diviation will be necessary. One of the first men in line is laid up with a broken leg and he will not be available until later on. As near as can be foretold at this time the Thompson Berg, Elmer R. Loberg, lineup will be as follows: Knute Ingvald Hesby and Elmer Emanuel Johnson.

Near Two Million in Army.

There are now about 1,700,000 men and 120,000 officers in France and training here, according to the report of Secretary Baker. This means two very large draft calls will be made this month and next if Congress approves the program. Instead of 150,000 the number will be nearer 250,000.

Large drafts cannot be handled at the training camps in the next few weeks, it was explained, because of the huge exodus of trained men for overseas service. The committee was told that it is planned to enlarge some of the present camps and cantonments, but not to create new ones.

A board is studying this question now and probably will choose places near the seaboard for enlargement. Every effort will be made to report the appropriation bill to the House the last of next week, or early the following week.

Class 1 Men Surveyed.

A survey of every man in Class 1 throughout the state as registered under the draft law, has been made in the office of Adjutant General Rhinow and is now in Washington, or on its way there.

Well Diggers on Job.

A crew of men in charge of Superintendent Olson of Minneapolis, arrived last week and are at work drilling at the Duluth avenue well-site for the city. The work will now be carried on without interruption, it is hoped, until water in sufficient quantities is found.

It has been found necessary to pump from the river again in order to supply the needs of the city. During the winter the one well just about kept the supply up but with warmer weather more is being used and the old standby was resorted to. For this reason Supt. Peterson advises against drinking the water from the mains unless it has been boiled.

NORWEGIAN NATAL DAY CELEBRATION

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF NORWAY WILL CELEBRATE QUIETLY HERE.

There will not be the usual elaborate celebration of the 17th of May—Norway's independence day—in Thief River Falls this year. The members of the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges feel that anything requiring any considerable outlay of money at this time would not be in good taste and have therefore decided to commemorate the event which means so much to every Norwegian by a quiet gathering at their lodge rooms. There will be a program of speaking and singing and the committee in charge has decided upon a pound party as the most acceptable way of making up for an admission charge. The proceeds will be turned over to the Red Cross.

The program for the evening has not yet been announced but will be in keeping with the occasion. President Bernhard Knudson has appointed the following committee to have charge of the arrangements: Tobias Reep, Hans Heckne, E. K. Aasen and William A. Parbst.

The committee members from the Daughters' lodge are Mrs. E. J. Overland, Mrs. E. K. Aasen, Mrs. Inga Gangness, Mrs. Peter Jacobson and Mrs. W. A. Parbst.

RED CROSS PLANS SUMMER PICNICS

Something has been overlooked when a day passes without the announcement being made that another plan has been thought of to raise funds for the Red Cross. One scheme that promises well for the summer months is to hold community picnics at which some scheme or other will be worked for the raising of money. The first of these will be given on May 26 at Walhalla school house by the Rocksbury auxiliary. There will be an appropriate program arranged and it is expected that people from every section of the county will be present.

Auxiliaries in other districts are considering something of the same kind to help the cause and it is probable that there will be picnics, excursions and other doings galore while the weather is warm, all for the benefit of the Red Cross. It would be a fine thing if all undertakings of this kind were to be held with this end in view.

The Rocksbury people extend a cordial invitation to everyone to be present and help make this first picnic a success.

FOURTH OF JULY FOR RED CROSS

SUGGESTION MADE THAT CELEBRATION BE TAKEN OVER BY SOCIETY.

WOULD BE GREAT EVENT

UNDERSTOOD THAT BUSINESS MEN ARE MUCH IN FAVOR OF THIS PLAN.

While there may be a few people who believe that there should be no celebration of the Fourth of July this year, they are so far in the minority that the noise they make can hardly be heard against a clamor for a bigger and better observation of the day than ever before in the history of the country. We are in the second year of the greatest war in which the nation has ever taken a hand and the celebration of our national independence day should be undertaken not only as a commemoration of past events but also as for the purpose of furnishing inspiration for future endeavor.

Red Cross in Charge.

For several years past the celebration of the Fourth in this city has been under the auspices of the Minnesota State band. Many of the members of this organization are now furnishing the music for the 352nd infantry regiment at Fort Dodge while others have enlisted in different branches of the service. The old band is therefore pretty well broken up and is hardly in shape to carry out a Fourth of July celebration successfully, even if the citizens were inclined to sanction such move.

A Much Better Plan.

A better plan has been suggested. This is to turn the entire celebration over to the Red Cross. The matter has been broached by a number of merchants in the city and will in all probability be taken up at an early meeting of their association. The idea would be to turn everything over to the Red Cross—program, street concessions, speakers, sports—in fact, everything pertaining to the affair and turn the proceeds into the general fund of the chapter without any division.

Has Strong Backing.

There is no question but what every business man in the city will do everything in his power to help make an affair of this kind a success and the sum cleared should make a handsome addition to the war supplies fund.

This announcement of intention is made thus early at the request of the merchants themselves who wish to serve notice upon any other organization contemplating taking charge of this event that no support need be expected for anything not sponsored by the Red Cross.

CROWD SEES CLASS PLAY AT PLUMMER

The members of the cast in "It Pays to Advertise," the play presented by the dramatic division of the 1918 senior class of the Thief River Falls high school, are receiving much praise for their excellent work from people outside the city. The play was presented last Saturday evening at Plummer and the large audience was greatly pleased with it.

On Friday evening the troup will go to St. Hilaire where a full house is indicated by the advance sale of seats. The reputation gained by the class thespians has preceded them and people everywhere are anxious to see them perform. The play will also be given at Oklee on Saturday evening.

GRADUATES WILL BUY MORE BONDS

CUTTING EXPENSES IN EVERY DEPARTMENT TO MAKE FUND LARGER.

HOOVERIZE ON COSTUMES

GIRLS WILL SPEND NOT OVER SIX DOLLARS ON GRAD. DRESSES.

The graduating class of 1918, Thief River Falls high school, will start out with a direct financial interest in the future success of the United States of America. The class already owns some $300 worth of Liberty Bonds and every dollar above expenses that is derived from any of the entertainments given in connection with graduation week will be devoted toward the purchase of some of these securities.

Are Cutting Costs.

For a number of years there has been a strong agitation in this country against the waste incident to providing elaborate graduating costumes, particularly for the girls. This outlay has been all right so far as is concerned the well-to-do, but in many cases it has worked a decided hardship on parents not so fortunately situated. These have naturally wished that their sons and daughters should appear to as good advantage as those of their neighbor and the family exchequer has undergone a strain as a result.

Not Over Six Dollars.

The graduates themselves are to be credited with having a large share in the agitation for cutting out this useless expense. The girls of the class of 1918 have decided that their regalia shall not cost more than $6, while the boys will wear two-piece suits of serviceable material. Everything in connection with the graduation will be cut to the lowest possible figure in order that the Liberty Bond fund may be made as large as possible.

GIVEN 15 YEARS AT FT. LEAVENWORTH

GOODRIDGE SOLDIER REFUSES TO BE VACCINATED AND DRAWS LONG TERM.

A dispatch from Fort Dodge last week stated that because he refused to allow medical officers to vaccinate him, Private Elmer N. Olson, of Goodridge, a member of the depot brigade at Camp Dodge was sentenced by general courtmartial to 15 years at Fort Leavenworth. Olson is the first at Camp Dodge to be sentenced for refusal of medical treatment.

Olson is a resident of Mollan township in Marshall county, but his post-office address is Goodridge. It is understood here that he was a "conscientious objector," but was refused exemption by the board at Warren. Reports are to the effect that he had to be rather severely dealt with before he would don a uniform at all and it is likely that he has caused the officers at the camp considerable trouble before making the break that landed him behind the bars.

COMPANY C WILL LEAVE HERE IN AUTOS EARLY SUNDAY MORNING.

All the companies of the 11th battalion, Minnesota Home Guard, will assemble for battalion drill at East Grand Forks on Sunday forenoon, May 12. Captain Fuller is particularly anxious that his command shall make a good showing at this meeting and no excuses for absence, except for the very best of reasons, will be accepted. The members of Company C will leave about 8:30 o'clock, going in automobiles over the Trail route by way of Euclid. This should land the party in East Grand Forks before noon and will permit of at least four hours of excellent practice.

The start back will probably be made somewhat earlier than at first intended because of the fact that the baccalaureate sermon for the high school graduates is to be delivered in the evening and many members will wish to be present at the Auditorium. Capt. Fuller assures everyone that the company will return in ample time for this sermon.

Final arrangements will be made next Monday night for the Pennington county community picnic which will be held at some point along the river on Flag Day, June 14th. For the past two years much interest has been shown in this event and this year every part of the county is asking for the picnic in their community. PRICHARD LEAVES FIRST NATIONAL

RESIGNS AS CASHIER TO ENGAGE IN ANOTHER LINE OF BUSINESS.

W. W. Prichard, Jr., for 12 years cashier of the First National bank in this city, has resigned his position with that institution and will engage in another line of business. Together with his brother, Harry S. Prichard, he will manage the lumber and coal business of The Prichard company. The founder of this establishment and for many years its head, W. W. Prichard, Sr., will retire from active work but will maintain his connection here, for the present at least. The company has for many years been among the foremost business concerns of the city and is now making arrangements for an extension of its activities. The handling of coal has been added to the lumber line and a large warehouse will soon be in the course of erection.

The retirement of Mr. Prichard from the First National made some changes in the personnel of that institution necessary. His successor as cashier has not yet been chosen, but several promotions have been made possible by the change. Stanley C. Coumbe and Harold F. Booren have been given the posts of assistant cashiers and Miss Marie Nelson appointed teller.

Mr. Prichard's connection with the bank dates from 1906, he having been chosen as assistant cashier while still a student at the local high school.

BOND IN NEARLY ALL OUR HOMES

FIGURES SHOW THAT NINETY PER CENT OF HOUSEHOLDS PARTICIPATED.

$300,000 GOAL IS PASSED

WITHOUT COUNTING RAILROAD BIT THE OVERSUBSCRIPTION IS ABOUT $100,000.

Chairman George G. Johnson figures that when the distribution is made there will be a government bond in about 90 per cent of the homes of Pennington county, and we are taking his word for it. The showing made is so gratifying that no one is going to take the trouble to figure percentage of any kind.

Nineteen Hundred Purchasers.

The total number of persons buying bonds of the Third Liberty Loan issue in Pennington county is 1882 and their investments amount to $283,850. Besides this there is a credit coming direct from the Federal Reserve bank for the city's share in the amount subscribed by the railroaders residing here and which will amount to $17,000 more, this bringing the total up to $300,500. This is $116,500 over the sum alloted to the county.

Best in the Section.

This percentage of oversubscription is the best among northern Minnesota counties—and they all did very well. The male bond buyers numbered 1732 with a total subscription of $270,650, while the women participants numbered 150, their total aggregating $12,900.

Surprise in Country.

The farming sections contributed more than their share of the total number of subscribers, but the largest amounts naturally came from the city and villages. In the city of Thief River Falls there were recorded 630 buyers of bonds; St. Hilaire has 72, and Goodridge 50. This makes but 752 altogether for the urban population as compared with 1120 for the country districts.

Honor Flags Everywhere.

Every township in the county will have to build a town hall if one is not already provided in order to permit of flying the honor flag to which the community is entitled. In every instance the people went over the top, and one, Highlanding, doubled its quota.

The campaign was a wonderful success and everyone in any manner connected with it is entitled to the very highest credit for the good work accomplished.

Confiscated Fish Nets.

William Munch, of Crookston, game warden for this district, made a trip up the Red Lake river yesterday and found a number of nets in the stream. In one instance the net was stretched practically from bank to bank, making it impossible for fish to run. No arrests were made at this time but a close watch will be kept along the river hereafter and it is very likely to go hard with the next man found catching fish by this means. There has been complaint for some time that netting fish was a regular practice in some localities and Mr. Munch says he will put a stop to it.

JONES OF BAGLEY AGAIN CANDIDATE

Candidates for places on the state ballot were allowed until last evening to file their names with the secretary of state so that a complete list is not available this morning. Something of a surprise was sprung on the people of the Fifty-sixth district, composed of the counties of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater, when it was announced that G. P. Jones of Bagley, and Martin Sortedahl of Red Lake Falls, had filed for representative. This will be Jone's third attempt to land the nomination, he having been defeated in both former campaigns by O. E. Stenvick of Clearbrook and J. A. Duffy of Red Lake Falls. The candidates endorsed at the recent meeting of the Nonpartisan League in this city had not filed up to Tuesday evening, nor had any of the senatorial candidates placed their names officially before the public at that time.

A. D. Stevens of Crookston, filed as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

Miss Verda Haugen of Greenbush was operated on Monday and is rapidly recovering.

THEY ALSO HELP THE KAISER.

Well-intentioned people may sometimes do a whole lot of damage by becoming altogether too sympathetic. Letters from France prove this and also demonstrate that censorship of mails going from this country to the boys on the fighting line would be a whole lot more sensible than placing restrictions around that which arrives from there.

It does a soldier no good to feel that the folks at home are worrying themselves to death over his welfare. He has enough to think of without having this depressing knowledge at all times borne in upon him. He has gone into this war with the definite purpose of doing his best and giving all that is required of him toward the success of the nation's undertaking. He does not permit any thought of the cost to himself personally to enter into his calculations. He knows what war is and expects to take his share of its consequences along with his comrades. In the very nature of things he must become something of a fatalist and consequently dismisses the thought of the danger as far as possible from his mind.

Just about the time a soldier gets to this point a letter arrives from home. It tells of how downhearted his mother is or of how hard it is for his father to get along without his help. A sweetheart claims to be heartbroken because she "simply knows" that he will never return from this dreadful war. A sister informs him that the family looks for the casualty list in the newspaper the first thing, absolutely certain that his name will appear there sooner or later.

That's a fine line of cheer to send a man who is doing his level best on the fighting line three thousand miles away from home. He reasons that if this much is admitted the reality must be a great deal worse. He remembers how terribly everyone felt about his going away and he, in turn, "simply knows" that his poor old mother is being brought to her grave before her time because of his being a soldier.

Would it be so surprising if under such circumstances he was tempted to desert? Can anyone blame him for getting the notion that the entire undertaking is not worth the suffering it entails?

It is not over the outlook so far as it concerns himself that he becomes morose and dissatisfied. He is a soldier, realizes exactly what this means and is facing the issue with a full knowledge of what his participation in the fighting may entail. But this eternal squealing about how everybody is going into a decline because of the fact that he is doing his duty is enough to wear away the stamina and undermine the determination of a cast iron man. He gets blue and mad and disgusted and the next thing we may hear is that he has been court-martialed as a deserter.

When writing to a soldier tell him that his mother is the proudest woman in nine counties to think that she has a boy who is doing his duty so nobly. Tell him that the "old man" is not only doing well on the farm or in his business but that he threatens to lick anyone who says that we have no business in the war. Intimate that his best girl "just knows" that he is coming back all plastered up with mud and medals and that she stands ready to box the ears of any slacker who tries to cut him out. And don't forget to say that the people of Pennington county have gone over the top in the bond drive and that they have bought War Stamps and Certificates enough to form a string as long as the Red Lake river. Assure him that we are doing our level best to back him up and that we will tear the lining out of anyone who says he is not all right. Do this, and the next time that boy gets into action it will be with renewed determination to be a credit to his country and community. He will go over the top when ordered and fairly bite a chunk out of the Hindenburg line or any other obstacles that may happen to be in his way.

A PRIVILEGE AND A DUTY.

In a very few days the American people are going to be asked to donate of their surplus toward the maintenance of the Red Cross society. One hundred million dollars is needed to carry on the work for the relief of war sufferers, both soldiers and civilians. This sum must be secured through popular subscription and means that every man, woman and child in America must give one dollar.

The greatest work ever undertaken by any association anywhere in the world is that now being carried on by the Red Cross. It is a work of humanity and one person is no more interested in its successful prosecution than another. It concerns us all—rich and poor, high and low.

The activities of the Red Cross are so varied that it is impossible to form any conception of their full scope. Wherever there is suffering to alleviate, there its field of action will be found. Wherever hunger and want have followed as results of the war conflagration, there its white-clad emissaries of mercy with the red cross upon their breasts or sleeves may be discovered doing the work which others have not the time or inclination to perform. Wherever men may be saved or women and children succored there the Red Cross has found its way and is doing everything humanly possible to make the present less misserable and the future less dark.

To give something toward a cause like this is a privilege. We hear of the suffering in Belgium, in Poland, in Palestine and in Armenia, and feel that as a Christian nation we are in duty bound to do something towards its relief. As individuals we are almost helpless and must depend on the collection agencies provided to make whatever we are able to contribute do the most good.

The Red Cross provides such agency. Every cent contributed goes toward the relief fund. The cost of operation is covered entirely by membership fees and not a single dollar of the hundred million will go for anything but actual relief work. The strictest checking system is employed and no waste of any kind is permitted. Experience during the past year has shown just where and how the work may best be carried on and the highest efficiency prevails in every department.

You may think that requests for money come rather often. It may be claimed that inasmuch as a Liberty Bond has just been purchased nothing further should be asked at this time. But no one is entitled to any more credit for buying a bond than they would be for putting the same amount of money into a savings bank. Nothing has been donated in the case of a bond purchase—the money has simply been loaned out on the very best security at a high rate of interest. With the Red Cross it is different. There will be no direct return, but the indirect return will be the greatest of any investment you ever made.

Hundreds of thousands of the young men of the country are giving everything they have to give in this great cause. Is it too much to ask that those of us who do not have to face the hardships and the dangers of war donate a few of the dollars we are permitted to stay behind and earn? It is to make their lot easier in case they are among those unfortunate enough to need the ministrations of the Red Cross that the money is asked. It is to provide medicine and hospitals and convelescent depots throughout the war zone for the lads who are fighting our battles that we are asked now to give—for these and for others whom war has left destitute and helpless. Old men and women and little children are suffering and dying and we are asked to reach them a helping hand. Our wounded soldiers are looking to us to provide the only organization on which they can depend with the funds necessary in order to make its work effective. How will YOU answer?

HARD TO UNDERSTAND.

It has been stated that Pennington county, in proportion to population, has more farmers who are members of the Nonpartisan League than any other county in the state. The Times does not know whether or not this is true, but one thing is certain: A very large percentage of the membership of the league here is dissatisfied with the action taken with regard to the endorsement of a congressional candidate. A considerable number of these members have already expressed their intention of sticking by Steenerson in spite of the fact that some have seen fit to turn him down.

They reason this way: Steenerson has been the friend of the farmer during all of the fourteen years he has been in congress. He is responsible for more legislation of actual benefit to the farmers of the Northwest than any other one man. Whenever the agricultural interests of the state have had a grievance Steenerson has been the champion of their cause—the one man to whom they could always turn with the certainty that their case would be understood. He has never failed them.

The farmers of the district know nothing about the man selected to make the run against Steenerson. They say that he must have some qualifications or he would not have been nominated, but as to just what these qualifications are, they do not know. Granting that he is a good man for the place; that in point of ability he is the equal of the present incumbent; that he would as conscientiously work for their interests as has Mr. Steenerson—yet they do not see any advantage to be gained in making the change. The new man would start in without experience while Mr. Steenerson has been in congress for years. Any one succeeding the latter would have to begin at the bottom, while the long service of Mr. Steenerson has made him an influential member of some of the most important committees of congress. The present congressman has thoroughly acquainted himself with every interest in every section of the district; the new man is a comparative stranger—at least to the people of this section.

Pennington county members say that even though a farmer had been chosen to oppose Steenerson the defection from the ranks of the League on this one particular issue would have been considerable. The man endorsed is not a farmer, however, and certainly has not the knowledge possessed by Mr. Steenerson of the conditions confronting farmers in the district.

The League's endorsement was but recently made and the attitude of the membership generally has not been sounded. But there is not the slightest doubt of what the verdict will be. The farmers of the Ninth district will stick by their friend.

GATHERING FLOUR.

A man or a woman might be excused for becoming just a little peeved if requested to bring an article for which they had paid back to the seller and receive in its place the money paid for it—or less. That is what the government is asking the householders of the country to do and there is no peevishness exhibited—not in Pennington county at least.

County Chairman C. A. Pitkin of the Safety Commission, says that he is astounded at the response that the government's request has met with. He says that he is certain of having at least twenty tons of flour turned back and the figures may reach thirty tons. There is no way of knowing even approximately the amount of flour in excess of the six pounds per person stipulated there is in the county, but he is certain that it will nearly all be returned. The readiness with which the request has been compiled has surprised him and he is enthusiastic when referring to the excellent spirit shown by our people in the matter.

A considerable amount of the flour held by farmers is of the custom-ground variety. Last fall, as in former years, these farmers took their wheat to the mills after harvest was over and had their year's supply of flour ground out. As the next harvest is still a long way off they have in many cases quite a supply on hand. In view of all the circumstances they might be excused if they showed an inclination to hang onto what they now have for fear of a shortage in the future, but such is not the case. They are bringing it in and turning it over to their government.

The situation in Pennington county is the best of any place in northern Minnesota, according to observers. Our people are complying with this order in the same spirit that has characterized them ever since the war broke out. Neither threats nor appeals have been necessary. A simple statement to the effect that the flour is needed for sending abroad was sufficient. Everyone hastened to see how much more than the stipulated amount happened to be on hand and made immediate arrangements for returning the surplus.

This may seem a small matter to some, but to us it looks like one of the most significant incidents transpiring since war was declared.

HEARTEN MEN TO BE CALLED.

The government is calling out new men under the selective draft law. Undoubtedly a very large additional number will be called very soon. The men to be called within the next month or two will all be from Group 1 of the present classification.

In view of these conditions the Council of National Defense and the Public Safety Commission urges that each community, or at least each local registration district, shall hold a meeting, or a series of meetings, for the instruction and heartening of the men soon to be called into national service. Such meetings, the National Council suggests, should be addressed by a lawyer to assure them their legal rights in all civil matters will be protected while they are in the service, by a Home Service representative of the Red Cross, and a member of the Medical Corps or other physician.

Says the National Council of Defense:

"The men about to enter the National Army need advice and information before they are called to camp. Few of them have intelligent understanding of army service, of the simplest rules of hygiene, or of the various ways in which the Government and others are protecting them and their families against financial loss. They do not even appreciate the need of preparation before leaving for cantonments.

"The average American has never given much thought to things military, but the man waiting to be called needs to know something of army organization, of the different branches of the service and what each covers, of army discipline and etiquette. He wishes to know the opportunities offered by local organizations for preliminary military drill and study which will lead to advancement in camp. Each man should have driven home to him the duty of subscribing to Government insurance, and the advantage of making a will, executing a power of attorney, and settling his business affairs before his departure; and they should all be told where they can receive free legal advice covering these matters. They should be told what the Red Cross will do to look after the welfare of their families in their absence, and what the War and Navy Commissions on Training Camp Activities will do in providing for them wholesome leisure time activities within the camps and in adjacent communities. Finally a doctor should warn them of the dangers of venereal diseases. A plain talk before the men are cut off from home ties will save many from disaster."

WHEAT IS THE TEST.

Germany's war of starvation is a challenge most of all to America. Against Germany's lust for dominion, America's purpose is to establish the society of nations. Against destruction, America's aim is healing. Against mastery, America's ideal is service.

We cannot surpass the steadfastness of Britian, the courage of Italy, the exaltation of France.

We cannot excel the Allies in heroism, in endurance, in fortitude. Our force in battle, though it may be decisive, will not be as great as theirs.

We can hope to contribute most to the common cause from our larger resources. To relieve desperate privation, America can supply food.

Giving up wheat is a little thing compared to their death struggle in which our soldiers are splendidly sharing.

A little thing—yet we can do it with greatness of spirit. Supporting our army and adding whole hearted service to humanity, it is in America's power to defeat forever the passion of conquest.

Now is the hour of testing. Wheat is the test.

The executive committee of the state Democratic organization at the meeting held last week endorsed Senator Knute Nelson for re-election. Resolutions were adopted praising the senior senator for his stand in support of the President and administration on every measure pertaining to war, and the support of the party in the state was pledged to aid in securing his re-election. So far as the final outcome is concerned this endorsement is probably of no particular value, but it is of decided value in showing that the people of the state are behind the administration in the prosecution of this war. There is not the slightest doubt but that Senator Nelson would prefer to retire at this time. He has been in public life for thirty years or more and has always ben a hard worker. Believing, however, that his state and country are in need of his services and that his experience may be of value during the trying period which undoubtedly confronts the people, he has consented to again become a candidate. He should be unanimously elected.

C. E. Traverse, one of the Thief River Falls boys, who enlisted in the war against Spain, wrote a letter home from St. Paul in which he spoke in glowing terms of the treatment accorded the recruits at Crookston. He stated that some of the boys from this city got cold feet before the time came for their examination and skedaddled. Those who stuck and were mustered into Company L were as follows: First Sergeant, Sam Bardelson; Musician, Joseph Johnson; Privates, J. J. Flynn, J. L. Rogers, Samuel Torgerson, C. E. Traverse, F. D. Wiley and H. E. Jones.

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a militia company was held with S. T. Johnson as chairman and Lars Backe as secretary. A civic organization was formed at the meeting but later in the week a military company was formed with the following officers: Herbert Fuller, captain; Lars Backe, first lieutenant; S. T. Johnson, second leiutenant.

The machinery for driving the big new band saw at the Mechan mill arrived and was being installed.

Mike Burns bought a fine residence property at the corner of Third street and Atlantic avenue from Ely Gravell.

H. H. Cavanaugh was building the foundation for a new school house in Rocksbury township.

Rev. and Mrs. U. M. Creath went to St. Hilaire to assist in the planning and erection of a new Methodist parsonage.

A base ball team was organized with the following officers: E. E. Zeh, captain; C. C. Jackson, manager; Harry Dobner, secretary; Herbert Fuller, treasurer.

Officers were elected by the fire department as follows: Engine company, L. Hanson, foreman; J. E. Farr, assistant foreman; Chris Paulson; secretary; Herbert Fuller, treasurer. Hose company, C. H. Porter, foreman; Andy Erickson, assistant foreman; C. H. Baumann, secretary.

Delegates to the Democratic county convention elected from the city were pledged to support John A. Johnson as a candidate for president. John Morgan was favored as delegate to the national Democratic convention.

The inmates of the red light district, west of the Great Northern tracks, left town in a body during hte week. They were informed by the authorities that their presence would no longer be tolerated.

A good driving horse belonging to Gay Halvorson, fell into a well at the barn and received injuries which necessitated shooting the animal.

A crew of log drivers went up to Red Lake to start the timber towards the mill. They were in charge of William Herron.

There were seven creameries in Red Lake county and 13 in Marshall.

Capt. Wiste, Lieuts. Bulman and Fuller, Cergt. K. M. Hanson and Dr. Melby went to St. Hilaire for the purpose of mustering in a squad of guards recruited at that place.

Congressman J. Adam Bede was scheduled to deliver the commencement address for the gradunates of the Thief River high school.

ARE ADVISED TO GROW MORE FLAX

Prepare now for a larger wheat acreage in 1919. Break new land and sow it to flax before June 15th. The investment in seed will be small and there is every reason to believe that flax will bring a profitable price next fall and winter. If you do not have seed and do not know where to get it, call on County Agent Ross P. White.

Flax in the form of linseed oil enters into paints, varnishes and other wood and steel preservatives. It is used in the manufacture of many articles needed by our army and larger oil and paint contracts are being placed by the Government for its War departments each month. The uses of linseed oil are specialized and there is no satisfactory substitute. Our national production of flax seed has been below our requirements for several years. War conditions, and the serious shipping situation makes it increasingly more difficult to import flax seed to supply our requirements. Linseed is a war necessity and we must provide adequate acreage to insure necessary requirements. Each farmer should do his bit toward increasing the 1918 acreage.

The growing of an increased acreage of flax on new land this year will not only help by making more land available for wheat in 1919, but in itself is an important preparedness measure as linseed oil is needed very largely in supplies for the army and navy. Canvas for tents and cloth for slickers are waterproofed with it, while it is used in painting and waterproofing merchant ships and war vessels, in treating gunstocks, and in many other ways. Farmers in Pennington county are urged to grow more flax this year so that there will be sufficient linseed oil for these uses. As the price is almost certain to be high, here is a good chance to be patriotic and at the same time to profit by it.

The Theatres

The Princess week starts out with Olive Thomas in "Limousine Life," a sprightly comedy in which the little country girl from Three Oaks, Iowa, put it over the sporty clubman in New York.

On Friday night Kathlyn Williams and Wallace Reid hold the center of the screen in "The Thing We Love." This is not a war picture in any sense but has to do with spies and perfidy nevertheless.

Saturday night's feature is "Daybreak," with Emily Stevens in the lead. The cast in this drama is one of exceptional strength, including Julian D'Estrange, Augustus Phillips and Frank Joyner. It is a high society drama such as Miss Stevens has been particularly successful in portraying.

Douglas Fairbanks is the attraction on Sunday night, when he appears in "A Modern Musketeer." Many of the scenes in this picture were taken in the Grand Canyon of Arizona. It is a typical Fairbanks' picture, one of the scenes showing where the athletic star climbs up a perpendicular cliff with Miss Marjorie Daw hanging to his neck. The play abounds in hair-raising exploits.

"The Argument," in which Pauline Stark and J. Barney Sherry are co-stars on Monday evening is a great play. A prominent lawyer kills his false wife and proves that wealth can go free on an insanity plea.

What is heralded as a picture conveying one of the greatest lessons ever taught is "The Honor System" which appears at the Princess on Tuesday night. It is an extra special from the Fox studios with Miriam Cooper and Milton Stills in the star parts. It is a wonderful portrayal of prison life and the serious faults to be found with the present system of treating those who fall under the ban of the law. Fifteen hundred horses figure in a realistic battle scene on the Mexican border.

The same degree of popularity that attended Elsie Ferguson on the legitimate stage seems to follow her on the screen. Her play is "The Lie," in which the star deliberately lives a lie in order to save the honor of her family. It is a powerful emotional drama in which an innocent girl sacrifices her honor to shield an erring sister.

Hurrah For Greenbush!

The proceeds of a movie show, dance and auction at the little village of Greenbush, in Roseau county, were $1,600. When the campaign now being carried on is completed it is expected that this fund will be at least $3,000. It is one of the best showings made by a small community in the state in Red Cross work.

Letters from the BOYS

CLOSE UP TO THE FRONT IN FRANCE

HAROLD PROVENCHER IS NEAR ENOUGH TO SEE AND HEAR SHELLS.

Harold Provencher, son of Julien Provencher of the Hotel Evelyn, is a cook with the Rainbow Division in France, and while he is not right in the front line trenches he is near enough to get a fair idea of what is going on. Writing home under date of April 4, he says:

"I am feeling fine except for the colds that seem to hang around here all the time. The battery has been in action quite a while now and no doubt will be for awhile yet. Of course, I am not up with the cannon as I am among the boys who are left behind the lines to provide grub for the others, but I got some idea of what is happening. We have been lucky so far and hope that this will continue. About two weeks ago I was up to the front with the ration wagon and I could hear the German shells whiz through the air. They seemed closer than they really were—about a block away from me, I should think.

"I have witnessed quite a few air battles since I have been over here. Let me tell you that when a German is chased he sure performs some stunts in order to get away.

"There is some big battle going on now and the Germans are surely losing ground. It seems as if they are doped and don't know what they are doing. About a week ago a Frenchman told me the Germans had lost about 200,000 men in three days. From what I hear the French do not think it will last much longer now."

Somewhat Muddy.

In a letter dated on April 8, this same soldier says: "I am still cooking in the mud of 'Sunny France.' The mud is only about four inches deep outside the kitchen, but inside it is not so bad. The sweaters you sent are sure coming in handy these days and I am wearing the one I kept all the time. Have received The Times only twice since I arrived here although I am sure it has been sent. You bet it was very welcome and I am glad that you are going to keep sending it to me.

"We are getting good eats so far and if it keeps up we will have no kick coming.

"Last night I was up to the front again and the Germans were certainly catching it good and proper. It is some sight to stand and watch the flashes from the big guns.

"We got hold of a paper from 'the outside' dated the 3rd and found there that the Germans had lost 16 divisions of 28,000 men to the division since the fighting started here, so you can see how they are coming along.

"Send chewing tobacco."

TRIP TO FT. DODGE AND THE ARRIVAL

SOLDIER WRITES INTERESTING LETTER OF HIS EXPERIENCE ENROUTE.

Harry E. Emery, one of the boys who left with the contingent on April 26, for Fort Dodge, has written a letter to The Times in which he expresses his appreciation of the way in which he and his companions were treated before leaving and also telling something of the things he found on his arrival. The letter is a good one and is reproduced in full:

"As a member of the last draft quota I wish to send thanks thru The Times to the W. C. T. U., the Eastern Stars, the local draft board and others who so generously and wholeheartedly assisted toward making our departure from Thief River Falls and our trip enroute, as well as our indefinite stay here, so pleasant and comfortable. I cannot explain my appreciation, but assure you that it is sincere nevertheless.

"For fear the others have neglected to do so I will relate our trip to camp.

"We were met at Red Lake Falls by the quota from that county and together with them we were banqueted at the Crookston Commercial club. After supper we were taken to the armory where a patriotic entertainment had been prepared for us. At 10:15 o'clock we were marched from the armory to the depot escorted by the Crookston home guard company and a band. Sleeping accommodations were furnished from there to St. Paul and a very fine breakfast was served for us on the diner.

"We left St. Paul at 9:15 a. m., on Saturday. All the towns along the line welcomed us and at Waterloo, Iowa, a man came through the cars and gave the boys stamped envelopes so that they could write home. At this place Stenberg and myself met our 'Waterloo,' for we stepped off the train and ran to a stand to buy a paper and when we turned around the train had pulled out. This is the last we have seen of any of the other fellows from Pennington county.

"After spending nearly three hours in Waterloo we caught a train for DesMoines and arrived there at 11:15 o'clock. On our arrival at the camp we were unable to get located that night and went back to DesMoines, coming out again on Sunday about noon. The other Pennington county boys were already placed so they put us in another company.

"We were then given dinner and bed clothing and entered upon our new life as members of the 339th machine gun batallion. As we were all put in quarantine for two weeks we have not located any of the other boys who left Thief River Falls with us.

"We were given our first drill Monday and like it as well as the meals, very much. Sugar is served in bowls right on the table and we also have fine white bread."

Farm Clubs of Pennington County

LIVE ORGANIZATIONS THAT ARE DECIDED FACTORS IN COMMUNITY DEVLOPMENT.

The growth and development of Farmers' Clubs during the past few years in Minnesota has been marvelous. These organizations are now found in every county in the state and they are doing a work that could not be successfully carried on by any other agency. These clubs form the nucleus around which the community life of a neighborhood revolves and have been instrumental in bringing about a better understanding between the people living in the cities and those of the country. The club membership of the state is now larger than that of any other organization, with the exception of the public schools and those built up as a result of the present war, such as the Red Cross.

Eight in Pennington.

There are eight of these clubs now active in Pennington county and more will be added soon. Every one of these are live, progressive organizations in which the members take the keenest interest. A surprise awaits the city dweller who will take the time and trouble to be present at one of the meetings. He will find the subjects under discussion handled with a degree of ability and skill that will leave him wondering where and when the members had the time and opportunity to so thoroughly post themselves. Very often outside speakers are asked to be present and give the members the benefit of their experience, while literary and musical programs are a regular order of business.

One Includes Business Men.

The last club organized in the county was at Goodridge, where the general procedure was somewhat altered. Being purely an agricultural community, farmers and business men are eligible to membership and their plan has worked out in a highly satisfactory manner. The club is doing an excellent service in getting the townspeople and farmers together for the purpose of mutual assistance in the development of the community.

Another club that has made great progress is the Silverton Farm club. One feature of this organization worthy of special mention is the excellent band which is a part of the club. This band is present at all meetings and besides furnishes music for any other function that may be sponsored by the organization.

At Hazel the Wide-Awake club has recently completed the erection of a commodious hall. Here the meetings are held and the place has also been thrown open to gatherings of any other kind. The Red Cross and similar organizations are granted the use of the hall free of charge.

A Complete Directory.

The officers and members of these clubs have issued a standing invitation for the people of the city to attend any of their meetings. For the convenience of those who wish to avail themselves of this invitation a directory has been compiled for The Times by County Agent R. P. White, as follows:

West Side Club—William Moehler, President, St. Hilaire; Gust Geske, vice president, St. Hilaire; Ben Rosenthal, secretary, Thief River Falls; Clarence Pope, treasurer, St. Hilaire. Meets second Friday of each month at the Satre school house.

Kratka Farm Club—E. A. Strand, president, Mavie; John Hoffland, vice president, Mavie; Harvey J. Bly, secretary-treasurer, Kratka. Meets first Saturday during the months of December, March, June and September at school house in Section 36, town of Cloverleaf.

Goodridge Community Club—Stuart McLeod, president, Goodridge; Sam Rouse, vice president, Goodridge; M. G. Thoreson, secretary-treasurer, Goodridge. Meets second Saturday of each month at Goodridge school building.

Silverton Farm Club—Postoffice Thief River Falls. President, H. P. Rude; vice president, Hans Skogstad; secretary-treasurer, Geo. M. Gunderson. Meets last Saturday of each month at Banner school.

Reiner Farm Club—Postoffice, Eric, Carl Wahlin, president; T. Morken, secretary; Elev Ankre, treasurer. Meets first Tuesday of each month at the Torgerson school house.

Wide-Awake Farm Club—Postoffice, Hazel; Iver A. Rolstad, president; Oscar J. Peterson, secretary. Meets first Tuesday of each month at Hazel hall.

Boosters' Farm Club—Postoffice, Plummer. Isaac Wilson, president; J. R. Larson secretary. Meets second Saturday of each month at school house in Section 10, Wyandotte township.

Progressive Farm Club—Louise Berg, president, Thief River Falls; Estella Weberg, secretary, St. Hilaire; Ella Husby, treasurer, Thief River Falls. Meets first Saturday of each month at Walhalla hall in Rocksbury township.

Home Guard at Ada.

A home guard company, which will form one of the units of the Eleventh Battalion, Minnesota Home Guards, was organized at Ada last week. There are 120 men in the new company and it is probable that the Warren city band will be mustered in as a battalion band unit. The officers of the company are as follows: C. L. Spaulding, captain; H. G. Ravelling, first lieutenant; A. A. Ecklund, second lieutenant. Major Charles Loring of Crookston, was present to administer the oath to the officers.

VOLUNTEERS ARE SHOWING UP FINE

MINNESOTA CONTRIBUTED 1103 MEN TO ARMY DURING MONTH OF APRIL.

SEVEN FROM PENNINGTON

"ENLIST OR GO TO WORK" CAMPAIGN IS HAVING VERY GOOD EFFECT.

Pennington county is holding up its end so far as enlistments in the army is concerned in spite of the fact that men on the registration lists are being called at a more rapid rate than heretofore. Seven went into the army during the month of April, according to Postmaster John Morgan, and the effort to get men over the voluntary enlistment route will be continued more vigorously than ever. The regular service offers some excellent opportunities for men outside the draft age and it is expected that greater advantage will be taken of this fact as the necessity for men become more apparent.

Following are the names of the seven men sent during April by Mr. Morgan: Charles Nelson, James A. Smith, Willie Stevens, Eric Olson, Walter Selms, Elmer E. Selstad and Sigrud Engh.

Minnesota Did Well.

Minnesota can answer all charges of disloyalty and point with pride to the record established by the Minnesota Recruiting district during the month of April. In the thirty day period 1103 men were accepted for service in various branches of the army. Previous to April, February was the banner month with a record of 909 accepted recruits for the army. The increase is due, Major J. D. Yost, recruiting officer for the district says, "to hard, untiring work by recruiting committees, to the wide publicity given the needs and demands of the army by the newspapers of the state, and to the cooperation of the authorities in the 'Enlist or Work' campaign."

Wants State at the Head.

Major Yost does not propose, however, to let the district rest on its laurels, and is planning to make the recruit drive this month more strenuous than ever. He will not be content, according to his statement, until the Minnesota district establishes itself at the head of the 65 recruiting districts in the country and maintains that position. The April record will come close to putting it there. The goal for May has been set at 1,250 men. This figure will keep every recruiting officer in the state working overtime and keep the recruiting committees on the jump every minute of the time to secure their district quota.

"Enlist or Go to Work."

The "Enlist or Work" campaign is just hitting its stride and is expected to show some real results this month. The Governor has designated the last two weeks of the month as loyalty weeks, for the "big spring offensive against kaiserism." Several veterans from General Pershing's forces, who recently arrived in New York after almost a year of service in France, will be in the state and will speak at numerous loyalty meetings. Their presence should stir the fighting blood in every man in the state. Extending of credits to high school boys who go into the service at this time, will bring a number of recruits who will come under the next draft. It is expected Congress will fix the date for the registration of all men who have attained the age of 21 years since last June in a very short time.

Sunday is Mother's Day.

Preparations have been made for the observance of Mother's Day in nearly all local churches next Sunday. References to the occasion will be made by all pastors in their sermons and special programs have in some cases been arranged. The florists of the city have stocked up heavily in anticipation of a big demand for flowers.

NEW BOARD TO FIX ALL GRAIN GRADES

CONG. STEENERSON WOULD HAVE MEMBERS APPOINTED BY PRESIDENT.

Representative Halvor Steenerson has introduced a bill in the House changing the method of appointing members of the grain grading board and taking from the secretary of agriculture his present authority for fixing grain standards. The Steenerson bill proposes that the grain grading board be appointed by the President from selected lists approved by governors of corn and wheat growing states, and shall be seven in number.

The farmers of the northwest are this year expecting a larger crop of grain than ever before in the country's history. They are satisfied that the price guaranteed is the best to be expected at this time, but they object very seriously to the present system of grading, which works an injustice to the farmer, according to their viewpoint. Congressman Steenerson has been making a strenuous fight for a long time to have this matter remedied but no machinery in the present law seems adequate to offer any relief. He has therefore introduced this bill, which will place on the board men who thoroughly understand the situation.

Tales of the Far North

Being an Account of My Experiences During the Three Years I Was Employed by the Government in Alaska.

By Dr. F. H. Gambell, Thief River Falls.

A Cheerless Outlook.

In the morning we crawled out of our grave-like sleeping place rested but not altogether pleased with the prospects for the day's run. Kiuick could not last longer than one day more. Our new dog had run away. The other four dogs were not strong enough to draw our loaded sled over the unbroken trail, so we concluded that we would have to do our part in pulling and pushing the load.

An Unruly Dog.

After we had eaten our breakfast Flannigan went out to the stakes to get the dogs and I began packing the sled. Kiuick struggled so persistently when he saw us moving about that he broke the chain which held him and when I looked up he was coming directly toward me. His eyes were blood-shot, he was frothing at the mouth and for the moment I was afraid. I stepped to one side quickly though and he went by making for Sigalook who was just beyond me. I did not want him bitten and infected so I caught the end of the chain before he reached him. He seemed to quiet down and I led him over to the sled and put his harness on, then held him by the rope which we fastened to his collar while the rest of the team was harnessed. So we started out on that unknown trail, making for the west and hoping that we would at last reach home.

After we had traveled two hours we came to the native village we were looking for the night before. We did not stop for we planned on finding a village farther on where we could stop for the night. It was a long day and hard work, but toward evening we saw the village on a little knoll off in the distance.

The End of Kiuick.

I told Flannagan to kill Kiuick as I did not want him to bite the dogs of the village and he would soon die anyway. Poor old fellow! I hurried on with the rest of the team and only looked back to see where Kiuick lay. The poor dog had only been stunned by the blow and as I looked I saw him in his endeavor to keep up with us, stagger and fall, then get up and take a few steps, staggering as he came and then fall again. The next time Flannagan was more successful in freeing him from pain and good old faithful Kiuick was dead.

A Queer Habitation.

When we reached the village all the natives came out and helped us carry the contents of our sled into the house. The sled we put up on a cache out of the reach of the dogs that they might not eat the lashings which were of seal thongs. We entered the house like Santa through the chimney where we dropped to the dirt floor below. The room in which we had alighted was the vestibule for many rooms. One which opened to our left was the common kitchen. Judging from the ashes in the middle of the room and the rude cooking utensils which leaned against the walls. When I got to the bottom all had disappeared so I went into one of the tunnels in a stooped position, but the hood of my parkie scraped a handful of accumulated frost from the low ceiling down the back of my neck, and I continued the rest of the way on all fours. I wiggled through the small opening into the room at the terminus and saw only one little girl in the last stages of consumption occupying a shelf-like bed to one side of the close, unventilated place. I crawled out again and tried another tunnel. This time I was more successful as I found all our belongings and Flannagan and a room full of natives.

No Objection to Dirt.

This room, like the rest, was heated with seal oil lamps and the heat from human beings and dogs. The air was so free from oxygen that a coal oil stove set on the floor could not burn. We went into the kitchen and sat around an open fire, endured the smoke and cooked our supper. Then we went back to the living-room and found it pretty well filled with natives, among whom there was one chronic beggar who not only begged for himself but for everyone else around him. Some of the men who had been out fishing had returned, and, squatting upon the floor with a wooden platter of seal meat, some frozen fish and a can of seal oil before them, were making their meal. We cut off some raw bacon, which had somewhat warmed up and handed a piece to each one of them. They saved it for dessert by packing it upon the floor and when they were through with the rest of the meal, they picked up their bacon and ate it raw regardless of the dirt which clung to it.

Somewhat Unsanitary.

Before going to bed they closed up the only opening there was to the house. There were fourteen people and two dogs in that one small room, while the odor from the seal oil added to the stifling closeness of the place, made it almost unbearable to live out the night. We questioned very much our judgment in selecting such a shelter in preference to the great outside.

A Friendly Traveler.

The next morning we started early in the hopes of reaching a white man's house of which we had been hearing for the last three days. Traveling along a little after dinner we saw a black moving object ahead of us. As we drew nearer we made out that it was a native and his family with their sled and dogs. When we were close and about to meet we stopped as though by mutual consent. Seeing anyone traveling so far north was so uncommon that some attention had to be given to the occasion. We were able to converse with each other in a limited way. After speaking of the weather and the trail I asked him if he knew Electoona, a deer-man at Cape Prince of Wales. His face brightened up as he said that he knew him "plenty." Then he asked me if I knew Andreuk, of Unalakleet, and I knew him well, so there being an acquaintance in common there was a feeling of fellowship even though we did not know each other before. His wife took her pipe from a richly embroidered case and as I did not smoke she did the friendly smoke for both of us. He very courteously asked me if my dogs were hungry and upon getting an affirmative answer he gave to each a piece of whale meat which they ate greedily. Mr. Flannagan found a package of tea for our new acquaintances, we wished each other bon voyage, shook hands, and then continued our respective journeys, glad of having had a chance to thus break the monotony of our long day's travel.

A White Man At Last.

That night we did find a white man's house which belonged to the commissioner of the newly formed mining district. Of course he welcomed us and gave us room to sleep on the floor, which was a real treat for us.

At Cape Prince of Wales.

In a few days more traveling we reached Cape Prince of Wales, where I officially inspected the herd of deer and then went to Port Clarence and went inland twenty miles for the purpose of inspecting Mary Antisarlook's herd, Charlie having died since I gave them their deer.

Nearly Fagged Out.

I did not reach camp till after dinner. After we had eaten we went out to see the deer, thinking that they were not far off. We looked for them till long after dark when I became separated from the rest of the men. In trying to get where I thought they were I fell into a ravine filled with snow and could get out only with great difficulty. When I got to the mountain pass where I thought they had crossed I was so tired and exhausted that I threw myself upon the ground in my clothes, just as I was, in the bitter cold. I lay there not feeling the cold and felt a sense of drowsiness coming over me when I was aroused by hearing the tinkle, tinkle of the bells of the deer as they came near me. It was nice to be with the men again and not alone. We did not reach camp again till after midnight, tired and hungry. I remember that the natives got up and cooked me some tom cod, a small fish which they catch through the ice in the winter. The fish were thrown into the boiling water whole and I ate them with a relish.

On the following morning I left the camp to inspect the Norwegian Lutheran herd, traveling all day but could not find them. I slept out on the mountains all night and reached the mission at Port Clarence the evening of the next day.

Turned Dogs Loose.

While on my way to Nome we stopped at a mining camp and the only place where we could get accomodations was at a saloon. We ate our meals in the back part of the building and slept upstairs. We fastened our dogs in a pen to the rear. In the morning I noticed Bobbir, the dog we received in Kotzebur in exchange for Tolnook, coming to me in the back of the saloon. I knew that something was wrong so went out and found that someone had opened the pen allowing all the dogs to get out. We immediately began a hunt for them. All could be found except Segolook. We were sure that someone had stolen him, still we went all over town calling him, knowing that if he heard our voice and was not secured he would come to us. We called and called and called but he did not come. Then we came back to the back of the saloon and decided that we would leave on our way home with the few dogs we had. All at once I noticed a man slipping into an enclosed shed near us. I went over and gained entrance and there was Sigalook tied with a rope and sitting in a corner near some other dogs that had probably been procured in the same way. I said to the man: "That is my dog." and went over and took him without a word of objection on his part. I had no inclination to have it out with him for I was perfectly satisfied when I had a sure enough hold on Sigalook. Flannagan was surely pleased when he saw me coming with Sigalook at my heels.

Quite a Difference.

We soon reached Nome. Here were churches and school and hospitals. Large store buildings lined the streets; residences and cute houses were richly furnished; three newspapers were having a good circulation; horses hitched to fancy cutters were driven up and down the streets; men and women in the latest fashions frequented the churches and at social gatherings doctors lawyers, dentists and other professional men were in evidence.

Everything was comparatively cheap—flour $2.00 per 50 lb. sack, ham 17c per pound, eggs 25c per dozen, sugar 10c per pound, fresh potatoes 8c per pound and coal $35.00 per ton.

Almost Like Civilization.

The mail, which was being carried two thousand miles by dog team via Dawson, was coming in every week only two months old. The news that Queen Victoria was dead had but lately been received, and the flag was flying at half mast from the court house. With the telepones and railroad and the bustle and life it seemed almost like civilization again.

Homeward Bound.

The journey home was made quickly and without incident, and so, through the snow and the cold, traveling a distance of eleven hundred miles or so, we carried the mail farthest north successfully.

During the summer I arranged to "go out," and Mr. Sherzer and I took passage on the same boat, leaving Alaska with many fond remembrances of what she had been to us.

(The End.)

Rural School Notes

The attention of teachers is called to the following announcements of the State Department of Education relative to professional courses, and the summer schools for training of teachers:

"The summer school will open at the State Normal schools and at University Farm, St. Paul, Crookston and Morris. Each summer school begins on Monday, June 17th and closes on July 26th.

"Teachers' examinations will be held July 29th, 30th and 31st.

"This is the last summer in which professional courses will be given in the three university schools. They will be offered this summer only to those teachers who have completed at least four of the eight professional credits. New registrants for professional training will register this year and will enroll in the summer session of the normal schools.

"After this summer, professional courses will be offered only at the normal schools.

"It will be true therefore that after this present summer the means for obtaining a first class certificate in this state will be either through the normal schools or through the teachers' training department of the high schools."

I would urge upon all teachers who expect to teach in the county and who have to renew their certificates to attend the summer schools. Plan early and write to the normal schools or to Supt. C. G. Selvig, Crookston for further information.

The government makes an earnest appeal to every home and to every pupil in our public schools to engage in a home garden project for this year. Let every boy and girl have the best plot in which to plant his or her seed. Thus boys and girls will constitute the "U. S. S. G. Army."

Let me again remind school boards of the necessity of hiring their teachers at earliest convenience.

Patriotic exercises for organization of Red Cross Junior auxiliaries is still being conducted in our schools.

The returns of the March high school board examinations have been received. The results are most gratifying.

Pupils who do not receive their certificates within ten days are asked to write to this office. There are some of whose address we are ignorant.

The next high school board examinations will be held May 24, 27, 28, 29; examinations in all subjects.

Teachers will please report their schools at once for listing of questions.

There will be a county graduation this year as soon as the results of the May examinations are known.

Pupils who have finished four subjects will be entitled to graduation. These are arithmetic, composition and grammar as one credit; geography and U. S. history, or any four of these if composition and grammar have been written as two distinct examinations including physiology. Spelling is not counted as a subject for graduation.

Pupils who have these credits should send them together with their address and number of school district to this office at their earliest convenience.

RETAIN NO WHEAT FOR FUTURE SEED

THIS YEAR'S CROP MUST PROVIDE FOR NEXT SPRING'S PLANTING.

Pennington county farmers, in common with others in the Northwest, have always attempted to save enough seed to protect themselves against a bad season. This saving has particularly been made when the crop turned out of more than ordinarily good quality. For this reason it is thought likely that certain of our farmers have held out enough of last year's crop to assure themselves of the necessary seed at some future time. The yield last season was not phenomenal but the quality was excellent and therefore highly desirable as seed. State Food Administrator Wilson, however, points out that even this wheat must be let go of with the rest.

The order requiring that all wheat be marketed by May 15, means that no wheat may be retained from the present supply for spring planting next year, according to the national food administration, and the seed for next year's crop must be obtained from the crop grown this year. This ruling was passed upon by the national food administration at the request of many Minnesota farmers who desired to hold over sufficient seed for planting another crop, a practice they have followed for years previous to this.

The only exception to the sale-of-wheat order applies to winter wheat.

Those who desire to plant winter wheat this fall may retain seed for the purpose. The reason for this, the administration explains, is that it may be necessary to seed this winter wheat crop before the seed is available from the present crop and because a great deal of the last winter wheat crop is a total loss from freezing.

Centralizer's Cream Stations

Versus

Farmers' Creameries

Hon. James Sorensen, Dairy and Food Commissioner of Minnesota writes in the Dairy Record as follows:

"What does a cream station do for a community where there already is a successful creamery in operation? If it is of any value whatsoever we fail to see it."

"The cream station is a highly expensive luxury to nearly every community where it is located. The best evidence of this is the much lower prices which are being paid for butterfat in places where the cream station is located."

The price of butterfat is often from 5c to 10c per pound lower where cream stations are flourishing than where the cream is all handled by the local creamery. This means that many communities are losing from $5 to $10,000 a year for the privilege of having cream stations located in their midst."

Commissioner James Sorenson has been in the creamery business for the past 25 years and is well qualified to give advise. He has the courage to state the facts as they are, and his guidance is worth careful consideration of all farmers.

Take it From Us

If you knew how astoundingly cheap we are selling goods during our

you would be down here at our store as fast as you could get here. Customers would be standing around so thick that it would be impossible for us to wait on them. You will understand the reason for this more fully within the next thirty days. You will realize that every word we have printed in our advertisements is true; that prices are going up and that this sale is the last opportunity to get merchandise at the figures quoted that will come to you for years.

If you are a wise buyer; if the most unheard-of prices ever quoted have any appeal for you; if you have the slightest realization of what values at the present time are; read our last week's double page advertisement over again. The prices therein quoted, as well as the prices announced in our Spring catalog, will be withdrawn on May 18th. This is positive.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY IS STILL A MYSTERY

BABY ONLY SURVIVOR OUT OF FAMILY OF FIVE MEMBERS.

Further details of the fire which cost the lives of three people on a homesteader's claim a short distance east of Grygla last Wednesday are given by the Eagle, published in that Marshall county town. The story, so far as the Eagle has been able to get it, is as follows:

"Last Tuesday Mrs. W. N. Wing, living on their claim spent the afternoon with her neighbor, Mrs. Archie Peters. In reply to urgent requests to stay for supper, her reply was that she must go home to do her chores, and she went.

"Wednesday Mrs. Peters went to return the visit and on nearing the house discovered that it was burned to the ground. She heard a baby crying and going to a tree near by found the nine months old baby lying there with its nighty on and very cold, but no mother. On going to the house she found nothing but a pile of ruins and a few charred bones—all that was left of home, a mother and two children. As the ashes were not smoking, it is supposed that the house must have caught fire in the early part of the night, and that when discovered by the mother she probably took the baby out first and then went back after the other two children and was too late and all three were burned to death."

This Corn Will Peel Right Off!

"Gets-It" Makes Corns Come Off The "Banana-Peel" Way!

Why have to flop on the floor, squeeze yourself up like the letter "Z", and with bulging eyes draw your face up into a wrinkly knot while you gouge and pull at the "quick" of a tender corn? That's the old, savage way. "Gets-It" is the modern, painless, simple way. Lean over and put two drops of "Gets-It" on the corn, put your stocking and shoe right on again, and forget the corn. Pain is eased. "Gets-It" has revolutionized the treatment of corns. It never irritates the true flesh. You'll stop limping on the side of your shoe, and do away with greasy salves, bundling bandages, thick plasters and painful methods. Use "Gets-It", it's common sense.

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Are Getting Poorer Cars—The Soo line officials have always prided themselves on the excellence of the rolling stock possessed by the company, but of late they have had to put up with some rather inferior cars. Since the government took over the roads the same care is not exercised in getting cars back to the road owning them as everything is supposed to be bent to one purpose now. For this reason one sees cars from every railroad in America strung along in a train, those belonging to the road doing the hauling being often in the minority. Car Foreman Conklin says that more repair work has been done on foreign cars lately than ever before in the history of the division.

Another False Report—On Tuesday afternoon considerable excitement was caused at the depot and in the yards by a report coming over the wire to the effect that the Woolworth building in New York had been blown up and the aerial bridge at Duluth destroyed, presumably by Hun sympathisers. The telegram came from the head of the lakes and had every indication of being genuine. Later inquiry disclosed the fact that the whole thing was a hoax. Whoever is sending out this kind of stuff should be taken in hand and given a talking to—at least.

Men Going Fast—The labor problem has not as yet become acute on the division. The last draft call took ten men out of the operating department of the line but there was no great difficulty in filling their places. It is expected, however, that the next two calls will prove rather a heavy drain on the supply available, for some departments. No real difficulty is expected before the heavy traffic season in the fall, but that it will be evident at that time is almost certain. The railroads are trying in every way to protect themselves against this contingency.

Are Good Fishermen—Six men from the car cleaning department went to Federal Dam on a fishing trip last Saturday and came back loaded with excellent specimens of the finny tribe. Those making up the party were Ole Isaacson, E. L. Elefson, O. J. Dokken, John Dahl, Louis Quale and Arthur Belland. Roundhouse Foreman Farley, accompanied by Mrs. Farley, went down on Friday and they also had excellent luck.

Moving Family Here—The family of R. F. Dye, agent at Halma, will shortly move to this city because of the superior high school advantages offered. Mr. Dye was in the city this week looking for a suitable house, his place at Halma being temporarily taken by K. O. Johnson.

Men Are Sticking—"Seven days gone by without a single change being made in the names on the time-book," said City Agent H. A. Pratt on Tuesday. This is certainly some record for a terminal point and shows that the floaters are becoming scarce and the steady men are holding onto their positions.

Injured Eye—Louis Vevea received a painful injury while at work in the repair yards the other day. In turning over a pilot beam a bolt flew out and struck him in the eye, causing considerable temporary damage. He went to Minneapolis the next day for the purpose of consulting an oculist.

More Enlistments—L. A. Watt, warehouseman at Detroit, has enlisted in the army and resigned his post. No successor has as yet been selected. Emil Dvorak, warehouseman at Adams, has also gone into the army, being succeeded by L. V. Keefer.

New Rosewood Custodian—A. C. Vorseth has been appointed custodian at Rosewood. Mr. Vorseth will also continue as grain buyer for the Hansen-Barzen elevator at that place.

To Minneapolis on Business—Division Superintendent W. A. Barnard made a business trip to Minneapolis Friday, returning on the local Monday evening.

A little thing like being under fire can't stop them from taking a chew of Gravely!

When He Gets that Pouch of Real GRAVELY Chewing Plug You Sent Him

A man's first impulse is to share a good thing. Real Gravely Plug has been spread all over America simply by the Gravely user offering a small chew to his friends. Tobacco like that is worth sending. It means something when it gets there.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c. pouches. A 3c. stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c. stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

Will Make Victory Certain.

"Let us avoid specific figures," Secretary Baker again said on Saturday. "They imply limits. There is no limit. We will call out enough men to make victory certain. We will call them as rapidly as they can be trained and sent forward." In preparation for this tremendous increase in the army, the house military committee was told that every existing cantonment in the country will be enlarged and every national guard camp used to its full capacity. It is regarded as probable that some new cantonments must be built, but, in the interests of speed and economy of effort and material, pressure will be placed on expanding existing facilities. Ground has already been obtained in the vicinity of several cantonments for the expansion and details of the new construction are being worked out by the general staff, which also is studying the necessity of and proper location for additional cantonments. The May draft allotments were made on the population basis heretofore used, but subsequent distribution of quotas will be much altered when the number of men furnished by any state is computed from the number of availables it has in class one.

JUST WHAT YOUR LIBERTY BONDS ARE

There are at present issued and outstanding four issues of Liberty Bonds, and soon there will be six issues. They are as follows:

1. The original bonds of the First Liberty Loan; these bear 3½ per cent interest and mature June 15, 1947, but are redeemable at the Government's option on or after June 15, 1932. They have a conversion privilege.

2. The original bonds of the Second Liberty Loan; they bear 4 per cent interest and mature November 15, 1942, but are redeemable at the Government's option on or after November 15, 1927. They have a conversion privilege.

3. Bonds of the second issue which have been obtained by the conversion of bonds of the first issue into bonds of the second; they bear 4 per cent interest and mature June 15, 1947, but are redeemable on or after June 15, 1932. They have a conversion privilege.

4. The original bonds of the Third Liberty Loan; they bear 4¼ per cent interest, and mature September 15, 1928, and are not redeemable until maturity. They have no conversion privilege.

The other two issues which will soon be outstanding will be 4¼ per cent bonds obtained by the conversion of bonds of the first issue, and 4¼ per cent bonds obtained by conversion of bonds of the second issue, into bonds of the Third Liberty Loan. They will have no conversion privilege.

Motion duly carried.

There being no further business the County Board adjourned sine-die.

OSCAR J. PETERSON,
Chairman.
T. P. ANDERSON,
County Auditor and Ex-
Officio Clerk of the Board.

OUR BOYS "OVER THERE" ENJOY TOASTED CIGARETTES.

Through the patriotism of the citizens of this country thousands of smoke kits are being distributed to American soldiers in France. Authorities agree that men in the trenches need cigarettes almost as much as food and munitions.

Doctors, nurses, and commanding officers all join in the demand which has awakened in this country a great movement to keep our boys supplied with smokes.

Millions of the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes are "going over" all the time. There's something about the idea of the toasted cigarette that appeals to the men who spend their time in cold, wet trenches and billets.

Then, too, the real Kentucky Burley tobacco of the LUCKY STRIKE cigarette gives them the solid satisfaction of a pipe, with a lot less trouble.

MAZOLA

Better cooking at less cost with Mazola, the pure oil from corn

Mazola is a vegetable oil from an edible source for deep frying, sautéing, shortening and salad dressings.

Foods fried in Mazola retain all of their natural flavor and are easy to digest.

Mazola does not transmit taste or odor from one food to another—can be used over and over again—a big factor in economy.

And because Mazola is a vegetable oil, it enables you to follow the plans of the Food Administration and save animal fats—butter, lard, suet.

Get Mazola from your grocer in pint, quart, half-gallon and gallon tins. Also ask for the free Mazola Book of Recipes—or write us direct.

Your money refunded if Mazola does not give entire satisfaction.

Tested Warriors of the Road

THE soldier must be tried in the fire of battle to be a tested soldier; the tire must be tried in the fire of the road test to be a tested tire.

GOODRICH TEST CAR

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

That is the Goodrich idea of a tire. Therefore, Goodrich Test Car Fleets, six of them, for a year hammered Goodrich Tires from state to state, putting them to the road test of rock, sand, and gravel. The tires emerged tested warriors of the road, from a grand mileage of 4,178,744 tire miles.

They triumphed, SILVERTOWN CORDS and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, with an endurance that doubled Goodrich's pride in the structure of the spiral wrapped, cable-cord tire body, and the toughness of the cross-barred, close-clutch non-skid black safety tread.

The Function of a Good Bank

A bank is decidedly a public service institution. Of greater importance than vast resources or enormous deposits is its willingness to serve and its ability to understand.

That is why a home institution will do better by you. The officers and directors are your neighbors; the money behind the bank is very much the same kind of money and comes from the same sources as your own income. The bank for its own success is dependent upon your prosperity and the well-being of the institutions with which you are connected.

IT IS A PART OF YOUR COMMUNITY LIFE.

That is why you will do better if you entrust your business to

FLOWERS for Mothers Day

Whether you still have the immeasurable joy of living under the same roof with her or whether fame and fortune have led you far from her loving arms, remember she thinks of you constantly—yes, she does, even though you are inclined to forget her at times. But there is one day of the year on which you mustn't forget her—it will break her heart if you do, and that's

MOTHER'S DAY, SUNDAY MAY 12th.

The most appropriate token of remembrance that you could send Mother is a simple little gift of FLOWERS—Flowers that typify the very sweetness of her soul and the joy you have in sending them.

Nothing Pays Greater Dividends Than Good Buildings

A good house to live in, good barns for the stock, good granaries and a dependable silo mean more in actual profits than bumper crops. And lumber is cheap when you compare it to other commodities. The man who hesitates to build in the expectation of lower prices may find that he is making a mistake. He is getting excellent prices for his products at this time and lumber has not kept pace with the general rise. As a matter of fact, in comparison with most farm products, lumber costs less today than ever before.

Build now and conserve your crops. You cannot make money any faster than by following this advice

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

JUNE FIFTH IS AGAIN DATE SET

REGISTRATION OF THOSE WHO HAVE REACHED 21 DURING THE YEAR.

NUMBER ABOUT HUNDRED

WILL BE REQUESTED TO COME TO THIEF RIVER FALLS TO REGISTER.

The date for the registration of all men in the United States who have reached the age of 21 years since the fifth of last June will take place on the anniversary of that date. Full instructions for carrying out the orders of the government have been given the widest possible publicity.

About 100 in County.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson believes that there will not be to exceed 100 names to register in the county and is of the opinion that the city will furnish the greater number of these. For this reason he has suggested to the adjutant general of the state that but one registration place be provided in the county, and that all whom the order concerns be required to come to the county seat to register. From late reports received it is evident that this will be the general plan followed, in the smaller counties at least as it will do away with a lot of registration boards at a time when men to do the work can ill afford the time.

Local Surveys Ordered.

Local draft boards are ordered to proceed at once with a survey of their jurisdictions to determine the probable number about to register. Estimates of material needed will be based on the results. County and city attorneys, legal advisory boards, police, sheriffs and newspapers are urged to co-operate to the fullest extent with the local boards. The sick, persons in prison and jail, Indians and other special classes will be registered by authorized agents, as in the first registration.

RED CROSS HAS 10 ACRE POTATO FIELD

USE OF GROUND AND HALF OF SEED DONATED BY H. G. BORDEN.

It will require something of a crew to harvest the crops donated to the Red Cross society in Pennington county. The entire section is dotted with acre tracts on which the crops belong to the association. One of the largest gifts yet recorded came to light this week when H. G. Bordeh, residing just west of the city, placed at the disposal of the county managers a ten-acre tract to be devoted to potatoes. Not only did Mr. Borden furnish the land but he also gave outright one-half of the 110 bushels of seed potatoes required. The other half he will take back when the crop is harvested in the fall.

Mr. Borden also furnished the teams for harrowing the field after two neighbors, J. D. Turnwall and John Myers, had finished the plowing—without a cent being charged. P. J. Keating of this city, was the superintendent on the job of getting the seed into the ground, being assisted by Fred Will, Harry Kinghorn, John Guinan, Joseph Bartley and Ole Johnson. Mr. Keating and F. G. Wells, agricultural instructor at the high school, will exercise a sort of general supervision over the crop during the growing period.

This is a most welcome gift and one that with any kind of reasonable luck will be responsible for quite a sum of money for the Red Cross in the fall. The planting of this ten acres has thus far not cost the society one cent and the crop will be clear profit as there will no doubt be others found as willing as Mr. Keating and his co-laborers to dig the spuds when the proper time comes. The chapter members appreciate the gift of Mr. Borden very highly and include in their thanks all those who so generously helped get the crop planted.

MORE CANDIDATES ENTER PRIMARIES

WITH 12 DAYS LEFT TO GO, TICKET IS RAPIDLY FILLING UP.

There is now at least one candidate for every office to be filled at the election next fall in Pennington county, with the exception of county commissioner from the Third district. It is not known whether or not Olof Larson will again seek the place, but it is likely that in case he becomes a candidate he will have no opposition.

Peter G. Wold, commissioner from the First district, yesterday filed for re-election. No one has as yet given an indication of contesting for the place and it would not be surprising if Mr. Wold be chosen as his own successor without having to make contest.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson also placed his name on the list of eligibles. Thus far no one has come forward as his opponent and it is not likely that any will develop. Mr. Anderson would be under something of a handicap in case he was forced to make a campaign as the duties of his office are particularly exacting at this time. Besides the general work of the auditor he has had saddled onto him the duties of clerk of the local registration board, which in itself is a considerable contract. For this latter job he receives practically no pay whatever, and it is generally considered that it would be an injustice to force him to make a fight for his position while thus employed.

E. A. Mostue, present county superintendent of schools, also filed for re-election this week. He will be opposed by Geo. M. Gunderson of Silverton township, who was one of the first to file.

Twelve days still remain for filing but it is doubtful if the crop of candidates will be much larger than at present.

TWO ARE INJURED IN AUTO COLLISION

OLA BRENNA AND JOHN ANDERSON PINNED DOWN WHEN CAR OVERTURNS.

Miss Olga Brenna and John Anderson of this city were seriously injured and two companions more or less hurt when an automobile in which they were riding was run into by another car on the State road just east of Thief River Falls on Saturday night.

In company with Miss Irene Rye, and Ed Johnson, the injured parties were on their way to attend a dance at Mavie. They had a Ford car and Anderson was doing the driving. According to their own report they were going along about 20 miles an hour when they met a large touring car coming at a much greater rate of speed. The other car did not slow down upon meeting the party and failed to turn out sufficiently with the result that the rear wheel of the Ford was struck and the machine overturned.

Johnson and Miss Rye were able to crawl out from under the overturned machine but their companions were pinned down. They managed to turn the car back without assistance, when it was found that Miss Brenna and Mr. Anderson had been badly hurt. The others escaped with minor injuries, although all were severely bruised up.

With callous indifference as to what had happened to the occupants of the Ford, the larger car never stopped to render any assistance, but kept right on going toward the city. It all happened so quickly that it was impossible to tell who they were nor was the make or number of the car noted. Had Miss Rye and Mr. Johnson been unable to turn the car back the result might easily have been a great deal worse. It would be rather interesting to know who it was that showed such utter disregard for the safety of others.

Another Breaks Arm.

H. J. Rustad is laid up with a broken arm as the result of his Ford turning over on the St. Hilaire road. He was coming toward Thief River Falls when he struck a sandy spot just north of St. Hilaire and the machine turned turtle. He is getting along all right.

FAIR BOARD GETS $400 TO HELP OUT

COUNCIL CHIPS IN WITH USUAL APPROPRIATION—STREET WORK STOPS.

The city council at its regular meeting on Tuesday evening appropriated $400 for the aid of the Pennington County Agricultural association in conducting the annual fair.

The firemen were given a raise in pay for the month of June, this being the usual custom at this time of year and is done for the purpose of enabling the department to send delegates to the state convention, which is this year held at Montevideo.

The work of gravelling the downtown streets was ordered stopped, for the present at least. The recent rains have raised the water in the river so that it is difficult to secure the necessary gravel and as the work on Second street between Main and LaBree has been completed it was thought best to let the matter rest until it was noted just how the job panned out. Street Commissioner Bakken reported that the work thus far had cost in the neighborhood of $200. It was figured that if the same treatment was given Third street from the Soo depot to Main avenue the cost would be in the neighborhood of $1,000, and there was some doubt in the minds of the councilmen as to whether or not this outlay was justified.

The appointment of Bernt Wold as special police and dog catcher was confirmed.

Fined For Speeding.

The first offender against the speed laws of the city was gathered in and fined on Tuesday. Gust Wickman of Warren, was the culprit and he was assessed $5 and costs by Judge Tarrant for not being able to better estimate the speed of his machine.

SUGAR FACTORY IS POSSIBILITY

IF SECTION PROVES ADAPTED TO GROWING OF BEETS THIS MAY FOLLOW.

MANY TO TRY THIS YEAR

FARM BUREAU INTERESTED IN GETTING WORK UNDER WAY SOON AS POSSIBLE.

For some time many farmers have believed that the growing of sugar beets would be a profitable business in this county if a factory were located in this territory. Many individual tests have been made from time to time and reports are to the effect that a good tonnage per acre can be secured if properly handled. It is thought that the beet will be welcomed as a commercial crop because of the dire need in this county for more cultivated crops to supplement the work of corn and potatoes in the ordinary rotation. The dairy men look forward to the beet pulp as a feed for their stock.

Should Be of the Best.

One of the most important fators to be considered in the raising of these beets is their sugar content. As a general rule the farther north the crop is grown the higher the sugar content. Therefore it is expected that beets from this county will rank very high in this respect unless some condition prevails in the soil which will prevent the raising of a desirable root of this kind.

Bureau Will Co-operate.

This year the Farm Bureau association will co-operate with the Minnesota Sugar company in conducting a large number of small plots to try out the different types of soil for production.

In the fall three beets from each plot will be sent to the sugar company for analysis. If these results are satisfactory it is the aim of the farm bureau to interest a group of men in locating a factory at Thief River Falls.

Will Furnish Seed.

The Farm Bureau association will furnish the seed free on condition that the farmer give it a fair chance to mature by planting on good soil, (preferably a sandy loam), by thinning as recommended and by keeping plot free from weeds, thus allowin for full development.

Excellent Stock Food.

It should be kept in mind that the surplus beets raised make an excellent feed for dairy cows. At present one of the local dairymen raises beets in place of mangles and considers them a much better root for his cows. Beets may be boiled down and are excellent table syrup.

Anyone wishing to try sugar beets on their farm should apply at the farm bureau office for the seed.

CREDITS ALLOWED FOR COMING DRAFT

MEANS THAT BUT FOUR MEN MUST GO FROM COUNTY ON 26th.

The question as to whether or not counties are to be allowed to deduct the number of enlisted men from the total quota to be sent to camp on May 26 has been decided in the affirmative, and but four will be required from Pennington county. They will entrain a week from next Saturday afternoon and their destination will be Columbus Barracks, Ohio. T. P. Anderson, clerk of the local registration board, has received definite information on the subject and the following will be sent: Oscar Martin Dahl and Fred Leimers, city; Berneth Bolstad, Mayfield township; and Edgar Stevens, Rocksbury township. These four young men are practically at the top of the list and have asked that they be permitted to make up the quota.

Minnesota is Left Out.

Twenty-four states and the District of Columbia were called upon Tuesday by Provost Marshall General Crowder to furnish for the national army 51,600 more men qualified for general military service.

Among the states not drawn upon are: Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Upper Michigan, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Montana must send 500 men to Fort Logan, Colo.

No Damage By Frost.

P. J. Keating, who should know something of grain farming, stated to The Times yesterday that the frost of Saturday and Sunday nights had turned the young grain shoots yellow but that this did not indicate any particular damage. He does not believe the stools have been hurt in which case the grain will come back. In 1895, says Mr. Keating, the young grain froze down three times and yet the crop was one of the best, both as to quality and quantity, ever raised in the state. When the shoots are thus retarded it simply means, according to this authority, that the roots will be made all the stronger and the new growth will shoot up more vigorous than ever. He does not regard this frost as having even retarded the growth of the grain but admits that garden stuff suffered in general throughout the county.

GOV. BURNQUIST TO SPEAK HERE

WILL DELIVER PATRIOTIC ADDRESS IN THIS CITY ON SATURDAY, JUNE 9.

TO INVITE ENTIRE SECTION

OUTDOOR MEETING SUGGESTED BUT NOT YET DEFINITELY DECIDED UPON.

A monster patriotic demonstration will be held in Thief River Falls on the afternoon of Sunday, June 9. Arrangements are under way for making this the one great event of this kind scheduled for northwestern Minnesota during the summer months. Gov. J. A. A. Burnquist will be the principal speaker and there will be others of almost equal note.

Purely Patriotic.

This is to be a purely patriotic meeting and politics of whatsoever kind or nature will be strictly sidetracked. Similar gatherings are scheduled to be held in other sections of the state at about the same time, all for the purpose of keeping up the war interest which is now the principal consideration with our people.

Crowds Will Attend.

Gov. Burnquist is a speaker of more than usual ability and his stand on all questions pertaining to the war has called the attention of the nation to him. That he will be greeted by the largest audience ever assembled in Thief River Falls is certain as it is known that he will bring a strong intensely patriotic message for our people.

Arrangements Under Way.

It has been suggested that the meeting be held out-of-doors in order to make certain that the crowds may be accommodated, but this will be left in the hands of a general committee to be appointed by C. A. Pitkin, county chairman of the State safety commission.

WILL HAVE CHARGE OF ANNUAL PICNIC

COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO SEE THAT NOTHING IS LEFT UNDONE.

This year the Community picnic will be held along the river in the eastern part of the county on Flag day, June 14th. It is hoped that the location chosen will be such that the state roads east of Thief River and Hazel with the bridge at Highlanding will make the picnic grounds easily accessable.

Arrangements will be made for a number of auto busses between Goodridge and the picnic grounds. Two bands will be in attendance throughout the day and a general program of music, sports and speaking will be staged. It is planned to have something for both young and old so that everyone may come and have a good time.

Hans Anton will have charge of the preliminary arrangements and will be assisted by the following committees:

Location—Peter Wold, Stuart McLeod and the County Agent.

Sports—Scott Laird, R. P. White and Paul Engelstad.

Finances—Paul Engelstad, W. R. Wicks, G. H. Smith and A. D. Halverson.

Transportation—C. A. Pitkin and Stuart McLeod.

Advertising—Ross P. White, Chas. Lindquist, Stuart McLeod, Harry Woolson and R. J. McKercher.

Program—Scott Laird and C. A. Pitkin.

COMMUNITY NURSE IS BADLY NEEDED

MUST ALSO BE SUPPLIED, ACCORDING TO ORDER ISSUED BY GOVERNMENT.

In order to comply with the government's order for a general report on all babies in the country it is very necessary that a community nurse be employed. The work of gathering the data was begun on May 13th and will be continued for one year. When the census is completed the federal authorities will not only have a comparatively authentic report on the number of babies in the United States but will also have a line on their physical condition.

The regulations require that all babies must first be weighed and measured, the time alloted for this work being from May 13 to July 13. After that inspections of a different nature are expected to be ordered, the work progressing by successive stages until all available data has been uncovered. The orders are a part of the program undertaken in the "better baby" campaign and the government's work is carried on in conjunction with the State Commission of Public Safety and the Minnesota Public Health commission.

In order that this work may be of the greatest value it is very necessary that a trained nurse be employed. In this manner the record would not only be made more authentic but instructions along lines of better care for babies could be given at the same time as the data is gathered. Where the visiting nurse found it necessary she could advance advice which would help parents correct such faults as might prove a serious handicap as the baby grew older.

It is the intention to ask the county commissioners, the city council and the board of education to jointly appropriate a sum sufficient to defray the expenses of a nurse of this kind for one year. The matter is of the greatest importance and the authorities in other communities are making this provision without hesitation, realizing that any such sweeping order emanating directly from the government is meant to be complied with.

CALL FOR FINISHED RED CROSS ARTICLES

It will soon be time to make another shipment of Red Cross goods and we would like all finished articles sent in next week.

The members of the knitting committee are hereby notified that all articles furnished by them may be left at the home of Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr.

YOUTH ARRESTED AS CHECK FORGER

ED WOITAS FOUND WELL SUPPLIED WITH BLANKS WHEN CAUGHT.

Ed Woitas, who says he is 17 years old, was arrested on Monday and accused of having forged a check which he passed on a local merchant in payment for a suit of clothes. The check was drawn on the First State Bank of Lanesboro, N. D., and signed by Sam Johnson. It was made out in favor of Woitas and endorsed by him. After it had been deposited here by the merchant and returned from the North Dakota city as a forgery the young fellow was rounded up and arrested just as he was about to take the train for parts unknown.

A search was made of his effects and blank checks belonging to different business houses in this city were found. He also had a couple of cancelled checks among the lot and explained that he was carrying these just for fun.

The accused was brought before Judge N. W. Tarrant and questioned by County Attorney E. M. Stanton. He admitted that he had forged the check he had cashed using the name of Sam Johnson simply because this was the first to enter his head.

Some of the checks in his possession had already been made out but he asserted that he had tried to pass none of them. He had employed different signatures, none of which were of parties he knew anything about, according to his own statement.

The boy has a grandfather living near Badger in Roseau county who has been communicated with. His father is living at Portland, Ore., it is stated, but has for some time had nothing to do with the lad, who has been living with his grandfather. The latter had not up to last evening shown any signs of interesting himself in the case, although Mr. Stanton is anxious to hear from him before pressing the case.

BATALLION DRILL NEXT SUNDAY SURE

Company C, Minnesota Home Guard will go to East Grand Forks next Sunday for the purpose of participating in a batallion drill. The date for this event was set for last Sunday but the weather during the night previous was so unfavorable that Major Charles Loring telephoned up from Crookston calling the meeting off. Unless the weather conditions are such as to make the trip impossible the drill will be held next Sunday. The transportation arrangements already made will in all probability hold good.

Members of the local company were much disappointed in not being able to make the trip last Sunday and decided not to lose the drilling opportunities in any event. Accordingly they boarded the automobiles provided and went to Red Lake Falls where they drilled for the benefit of the citizens, who were certainly out in force to witness the maneuvers. It proved to be a particularly fortunate circumstance all around as the people of the neighboring city were just giving a farewell reception to William Ittner, a young man raised there, who had enlisted and was about to leave for the front. Ittner was a former university of Minnesota football star and a friend and companion of Rosendahl, the great player who was killed in France a short time ago. Ittner was managing a ranch in Montana when he heard the news. He at once determined to exact revenge for the killing of his friend and enlisted, although he is past the draft age. The home folks made a great deal of him and held a monster meeting at the court house in his honor. Speeches were made and patriotic songs rendered, in all of which the members of Company C took part. Mayor Penney and Capt. Fuller were among the speakers.

DRIVE TO RAISE $10,000 IN COUNTY FOR RED CROSS STARTS MONDAY MORNING

Solicitors in City Will Begin Hard Campaign of One Week Under Leadership of G. Howard Smith.

FIVE PER CENT OF LIBERTY LOAN QUOTA

This is Amount Required and Apportioned as the Contribution of Every Resident in the County.

THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation designating the week beginning May 20 as Red Cross week and calling upon the American people to contribute generously to the second $100,000,000 war fund of the American Red Cross for the alleviation of suffering among the American troops in France and their dependents at home and among the fighting forces and civilian populations of the Allied countries. The proclamation follows:

"Inasmuch as the war fund of 1917, so generously contributed by the American people to the American Red Cross for the administration of relief at home and abroad, has been practically exhausted by appropriations for the welfare of the men in our military and naval forces and for those dependent upon them, and for the yet more urgent necessities of our Allies, military and civilian, who have long borne the brunt of war.

"And, inasmuch as the American Red Cross has been recognized by law and international convention as the public instrumentality for war relief:

Demands Are Unprecedented.

"And, inasmuch as the year of our own participation in the war has brought unprecedented demands upon the patriotism and liberality of our people and made evident the necessity of concentrating the work of relief in one main organization which can respond effectively and universally to the needs of humanity under stress of war:

"And, inasmuch as the duration of the war and the closer and closer co-operation of the American Red Cross with our own army and navy, with the governments of our Allies and with foreign relief organizations, have resulted in the discovery of new opportunities of helpfulness under conditions which translate opportunity into duty:

"And, inasmuch as the American Red Cross war council and the commissioners in Europe have faithfully and economically administered the people's trust:

May 20 to Open Campaign.

"Now, therefore, by virtue of my authority as president of the United States and president of the American Red Cross, I, Woodrow Wilson, do hereby proclaim the week beginning May 20, 1918, as Red Cross week, during which the people of the United States will be called upon again to give generously to the continuation of the important work of relieving distress, restoring the waste of war and assisting in maintaining the morals of our troops and the troops and peoples of our Allies by this manifestation of effort and sacrifice on the part of those who, though not privileged to bear arms, are of one spirit, purpose and determination with our warriors.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, this 4th day of May, in the year of our Lord 1918 and of the independence of the United States of America the 142d.

"By the President. —"WOODROW WILSON.

"Robert Lansing, Secretary of State."

The second war fund drive of the Red Cross society will begin next Monday morning and will continue throughout the week. The work in the city is in charge of G. Howard Smith, while the country districts will be looked after by Thomas A. Way, county chairman of the Red Cross.

The amount to be raised in the entire country is $100,000,000, of which Pennington county's share is $10,000, divided between the city and country. In order that a clearer understanding of the aim and purpose of this drive may be had by our citizens, Mr. Smith has submitted the following for their guidance:

City to Raise One-Half.

The President of the United States has issued a proclamation calling for the Second Red Cross War Fund of $100,000,000, and designated the week of May 20th to May 27th as Red Cross War Fund Week. The fund has been distributed according to population, the allotment of Pennington county being $10,000, which has been equally alloted, $5,000, to the country districts and $5,000 to the city of Thief River Falls. Mr. Thomas Way, president of the local chapter of the Red Cross is in charge of the country district and G. Howard Smith, chairman of the city district. The following ward chairmen have been named: First ward, Bernhard Knudsen; second ward, Martin Benson; third ward, Peter Myhrum; fourth ward, John Bratrud.

Owing to a misunderstanding arising out of the recent pledge card drive it might be well to give a brief synopsis of the operation of raising and expending of the various Red Cross funds.

The Different Funds.

The membership or organization fund is created by memberships in the various chapters the memberships being as follows: Membership, $1.00 per year; subscribing membership, including the magazine, $2.00; contributing membership, $5.00; sustaining membership, $10.00; life membership, $50.00, and patron membership, $100. Of these memberships 50 per cent of the regular ones go to the national fund and 50 per cent to the local chapter. Of the subscribing member-

The Seventeenth of May.

The Sons and Daughters of Norway will be hosts tomorrow evening at a Seventeenth of May observance at the Odd Fellow's hall. A program of songs and addresses has been arranged and the members of these lodges are prepared to have a good time even though a celebration on a large scale has ben deemed inadvisable at this particular time.

Another Red Cross Picnic.

The East Side Rocksbury branch of the Red Cross will hold a picnic at Walhalla school house on the afternoon of Sunday May 26. An address will be delivered by Prof. J. H. Hay of Thief River Falls, and many leading members of the organization from other sections of the county will be present. There will be outdoor sports, races, etc., and a general program of entertainment has been arranged, beginning at one o'clock.

INTEREST PAYMENTS FOR SECOND LOAN

BANKS ARE PAYINK OUT FOUR PER CENT TO HOLDERS OF THIS ISSUE.

The banks of Thief River Falls and throughout the United States, are expecting to do a rushing business for the next few days, the event being the first six months' interest due on the second series of Liberty Bonds. Persons holding $50 bonds of the second series will be able to collect $1 interest on all such bonds and $2 will be paid on the $100 bonds.

It has been urged by Secretary McAdoo that persons collecting such interest reinvest their money in war savings stamps and continue to help "swat the kaiser." This plan is expected to be generally followed and while the shears are expected to go clip-clip tomorrow by coupon clippers it is also expected to be a big day for the sale of thrift stamps as many people have signified their intention to put their coupon earnings into the baby war bonds.

NEXT WEEK'S BIG DRIVE.

When the solicitors for the Red Cross start out next Monday morning they will be as completely equipped with data as were the Liberty Loan agents when they began their rounds a short time ago. The amount expected from every person has been set down, and while the same may seem somewhat large, yet the need is urgent and the system of payment so arranged that it will entail no hardship on anyone.

No one questions the fact that the Red Cross should be supported. The society is doing the greatest work ever undertaken by any organization in the history of the world. Every letter received from the front tells of the wonderful things accomplished by its agents for the soldiers and for the stricken populations of the devastated countries. It looks almost as if the Red Cross is as necessary for welfare of the army as the army is necessary for the safety of the country. The two are inseparable. Wherever soldiers are required there the Red Cross is also required; wherever battles are fought there the Red Cross finds work to do.

But nothing need be said of the necessity for the organization. That is admitted by everyone. Nor should it be necessary to point out the fact that money is needed to keep the work going. Self-sacrificing men and women are giving freely of their time to carry on this great humanitarian enterprise, but they cannot finance it. This part must be undertaken by the people of the nation as a whole. The money must come from those of us who are not required to meet the enemy on the battlefield but who are permitted to stay at home and enjoy our usual comforts while others are suffering and dying in order that those very comforts may continue to be ours.

The sum asked looks rather formidable as a whole but it is not so staggering when properly considered. You will be asked to give to the Red Cross just five per cent of the amount you invested in Liberty Bonds. This means that if you purchased a hundred dollar bond you will be asked to give five dollars to the Red Cross. For the sake of convenience this has been divided into four equal installments payable on July 1, August 1, September 1 and October 1, or $1.25 on each of those dates. Not a particularly heavy burden, but it will provide the sum required to be raised in Pennington county.

We will raise more than this. Lately we have gotten into the habit of raising more than is required of us, and it will come easy. The hundred dollar bond is a very popular denomination, consequently the five dollar requisitions will be largely in evidence. Instead of paying $1.25 for four months as their Red Cross contribution, however, we know of a great many hundred-dollar men and women who will make their payments at least twice that sum. If there are enough of these it will mean that we again go over the top. In fact, we would all feel just a little bit guilty if we failed to more than reach the limit in this important matter after the splendid manner in which we responded to the Third Liberty Loan call.

Meet the solicitor with a smile. He is engaged upon a task not in the least of his own choosing and one for which he receives no compensation whatever. Besides doing this work he also contributes his full share of the amount required. Mr. G. Howard Smith, who is in charge of this campaign, explains this more fully in another column.

UNBELIEVABLE CALLOUSNESS.

Any man driving an automobile is likely to find himself in trouble of one kind or another while out on the road. So well is this understood that an unwritten law requires any other autoist who may meet or overtake a party in difficulties to stop and offer assistance. This is simply an act of courtesy, but so well is the custom established that any failure to recognize it is set down as an indication of boorishness.

It is therefore regrettable to be forced to record an act of such brutal indifference for the safety of others as that taking place on the State road near this city on Saturday evening. A large touring car, filled with men and running at a great rate of speed, struck a smaller car and overturned it into the ditch, injuring two of the occupants to such extent that their lives are still in danger. Common humanity would seem to dictate that the men in that large car should stop, investigate the damage done and render such assistance as lay within their power. Instead of this they kept right on going, never even looking around to see how those in the overturned car came out. Two of the latter were so badly injured that they were helpless and only the fact that their companions were able to release them at once prevented a more serious ending of the episode. The car did not catch fire as is the case in so many accidents of this kind, and to this fact alone the two injured persons undoubtedly owe their lives.

The men in the large car showed the most brutal disregard for the safety of others thus far recorded in this county. They could not help knowing that the small machine had been struck and certainly noted the consequences. In spite of this, however, they kept right on going, never even slowing down to see how the others fared. It is too bad that they are unknown as public opinion would devise a sufficient punishment even if no law could be found to cover the case.

BETTER COUNTY FAIRS.

The suggestion has been made that because of the war and the conditions attending such condition county fairs and similar public functions be dispensed with this year. The same idea was advanced a year ago but met with such scant support that it was dropped.

There is no good reason why the war should be permitted to interfere with affairs of this kind. On the contrary, the events should be made of greater importance than ever before. While the government has asked the people to eliminate waste and curtail unnecessary expenses as far as possible, yet we are also urged to keep things as nearly normal as circumstances will permit. To remove from the annual program a feature so well established as is the county fair would be admitting a state of affairs within the nation that does not exist.

In most farm communities the county fair is the great event of the season. Preparations of one kind and another are made for it a long time in advance. Exhibits have been in the course of preparation for months before the opening day and exhibitors have been urged by publicity agencies of every description to put forth their best efforts. To announce after all this that there will be no fair because of the cost and the serious condition of the country in general is about as sensible as claiming that a panicy condition exists.

And how would the farmer look upon the abolishing of the county fair? He has been asked to plant larger crops, to raise more livestock, to invest his money in government securities, and in other ways to help his government. He notes that in the cities and towns he frequents the pleasures of the people have not been curtailed. Theatres are running as usual, dances are given and social events of all kinds going forward very much the same as before the war. He is very liable to ask why it is necessary to cut out fairs while all these other things are permitted, and he might be excused for getting the notion that the farmer was only to be considered when the matter of producing and paying was up for discussion. The county fair may not be the greatest institution of its kind in the world, but it is the one particular event in which the farmer is vitally interested and he may be unable to understand why it should be abolished while other more expensive and, to him, more useless and senseless propositions, are permitted to flourish.

A much better plan would be to make the county fairs better and bigger than ever before. This is the aim of those having the Pennington county show in charge and it is the sensible way of looking at the matter.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION.

The Third Liberty Loan campaign was a great success everywhere, but particularly in the Ninth Reserve district, which includes the state of Minnesota. In giving credit for the result to the various agencies helping to put the issue across, Chairman A. R. Rogers has not forgotten the newspapers. A letter sent to the press generally by Charles F. Stuart, director news column publicity for the executive committee, has the following to say concerning the aid given by the publishers and editors of the district:

"It is the ambition of this letter to express to Ninth District editors unbounded appreciation of their Third Liberty Loan service.

"You all know what the Ninth did—how she started last, finished first, how every county oversubscribed, how almost every person suspected of having a dollar bought, how all kinds of records were smashed in one magnificent burst of practical patriotism.

"The district executive committee knows that all this would have been impossible without the splendid support of the editors. You gave all you had in the shop and then some. I think you would have given the presses if Uncle Sam had called for them.

"No man was more keenly alive to and appreciative of this than A. R. Rogers, district director. Every time he saw a country paper he wanted to write the editor a special letter of commendation until convinced that all the editors were giving this same unqualified support.

"As for the news column publicity department—many thanks and a word of apology. Knowing how short of help the country papers were I planned news column and picture service in plate form. At the last moment the Western Newspaper Union served notice that it could not get out both the news column and the advertising plate service—that we would have to abandon one or the other. As we know it takes money to pay the rent, oil the press, buy shoes, etc., it was the news plate which went to the junk pile and I turned to the electrotype and multigraph.

"But what a wonderful success the loan in the Ninth was. And do not forget that the executive committee knows and appreciates full well the service which the newspaper—city and country—gave their nation."

"HOLD YOUR BONDS."

Under the above caption Collier's urges all those who have bought government bonds to hold onto the securities, and gives the reasons why this is necessary. The man or woman who buys a bond only to at once turn it into cash has contributed very little toward the winning of this war. The person of small means who denies himself something in order to save a hundred dollars toward the payment for a bond is doing a great deal more for the good of the cause than he who pledges himself to take a thousand dollars worth and immediately turns the securities into cash. In this connection Collier's says:

"If you will notice the current pictures, you will see that our soldiers and sailors and allies need things to use in their war business. The point is to help make those things and to go easy on using them. By doing just that you will be lightening your taxes for the next twenty years or more. What is the sense of lending your money to the Government and then forcing up the prices of what the Government buys? That is exactly what happens when people neglect useful work or waste useful goods. On any one day or during any one year there is only so much stuff to be bought, and when it is all bought it is all gone. What the Government wants is your buying power, part of your purchasing strength, and you can lend that by subscribing to these loans or give it up by paying taxes. But you will mess the whole thing and badly by then turning around and competing with the Government for what the market has to sell. If you insist on doing so, you had better be taxed, for your loans are only an Indian gift. The man who turns his Liberty Bond in at the store for merchandise is only faking; he has not lent his country a red cent. Inflation, by forcing up prices, tends to encourage that sort of action. The cures for inflation are working and saving. Americans usually know about how much work they can do, but saving is rather a novelty and might possibly be overdone. A safe working rule is to save for your country during 1918 10 per cent more of your income than you saved in 1917, and turn it into Liberty Bonds, War Savings Certificates, or Thrift Stamps. If your family gets paid, or makes, a hundred dollars a month, just add a War Stamp every two weeks to your family budget, and the good work is done. Saving on that scale will kill inflation, lower prices, lighten taxes, and help win."

IT IS SOME STATE.

Last Saturday was Minnesota's 60th birthday. Most people forgot it.

It was on that date, in 1858, that the "North Star" state, called "the land of blue sky water" by the Indians, was admitted to the Union.

Here are some facts concerning Minnesota from the census of 1910, the most recent taken:

Has more area than England, Scotland and Wales combined.

It has 64,000,000 acres, 10,000 lakes and 92,000 miles of road.

The population is about 2,250,000, or twenty-seven persons to the square mile.

Agriculture is the most important industry, with an annual production of 260,000,000 bushels of grain valued at $150,000,000.

Dairy products, butter and cheese, are worth $96,000,000 every year.

Livestock is worth $90,000,000, eggs are worth $15,000,000 and 30,000,000 bushels of potatoes are produced every year.

The state produces 60 per cent of the iron ore of the United States annually. Total value in 1910, $78,462,600.

Manufactured products were worth $409,420,000 in 1910, the state ranking thirteenth.

All products annually are valued at $600,000,000.

Property in the state is valued at $500,000,000.

It is believed that were current statistics available, they would show a tremendous increase in all items.

Sanders & Chapin announced that they would revive the Roseau stage route from this city and that regular trips would be made.

The steamer Express, owned by Hanson Bros., towed a raft of logs containing 3,100,000 feet, from Little Rock to Sandy River, a distance of 13 miles, in 26 hours of actual running time.

Joseph Jerome sold his market building to August Riddell, who intended moving it to another part of the village and remodelling it for a dwelling.

The city received a new flag, 8x14 feet in size, which, it was announced would float to the breeze upon all important occasions and whenever news of victories were received from the front.

The Thief River Falls team defeated the St. Hilaire bunch in a game at that village on Sunday, the score being 21 to 20.

The national guard company was drilling every week under command of Capt. Fuller. Efforts were being put forth to secure the privilege of raising a company in this city for the army in case of another call.

Rev. Herzberg, of the Methodist church, was transferred from this city to Osnibrook, N. D., by the conference meeting, and Rev. G. F. Leining appointed to take his place. Rev. Leining was in charge of the church here about eight years previous to this last appointment.

There was a big celebration of the 17th of May in the village.

Ten Years Ago.

At the meeting of the Red Lake county Democrats Gov. Johnson was enthusiastically endorsed for president of the United States. Col. S. T. Johnson was selected as state committeeman to succeed George Tupper.

Two new automobiles arrived in the city during the week. Dr. Mellby secured a runabout and Dr. Penney a Reo.

The high school baseball team defeated Warren by a score of 9 to 8. The city team defeated the White Earth Indians by a score of 6 to 1.

Almon Wright, an old and somewhat eccentric character who resided on the East Side for a number of years, died on Saturday morning. It was reported that a considerable sum of money was found in the house, but this was not verified. The old man was of miserly habits.

Capt. Wiste announced the appointments of non-coms for Company I, as follows: First sergeant, Oscar Sponheim; quartermaster, K. M. Hansen; duty sergeants, Louis Nelson, James Farr, Dr. Mellby and Bernard Dokken; corporals, John A. Swore, Paul Midderigh, William Prichard, Henry Elde, G. D. LeSage, Alfred Anderson; buglers, Hugo Anderson and Walter Robbecko.

Mrs. A. I. Anderson and Mrs. W. E. Baker were delegates to the state convention of the Eastern Star lodge at St. Paul.

The gate receipts at Sunday's base ball game were $112.50. The expenses were $51.75.

Two fires were reported on Friday afternoon. One destroyed the home of Charles Langevin and the other damaged a barn in the north end of town.

Chief LeSage, Christ Paulson and Robert McGinn were elected to attend the state meeting of firemen at St. Paul.

WILL LOOK AFTER SOLDIERS' AFFAIRS

HOME SERVICE SECTION IS NAMED FOR LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER.

To further protect the interests of the men who are continually being sent to the front the Red Cross is asking each chapter to name a home service section and which should get into touch with the men before they leave the county.

Accordingly Chairman Thos. A. Way has named the following as members of such committee: Mrs. G. Halvorson, Mrs. F. F. Haynes, Mrs. T. A. Way, Mrs. Geo. Nicholson, Mrs. Joe. Brennen, Mrs. J. Provencher and Mrs. Wm. Prichard.

Following are some of the suggestions which have been promulgated for this committee, which will begin active work at once.

No man should leave the county for service without understanding what he must do in regard to the allotment of his wages and what his privileges are with regard to securing the government allowance for his family. Trouble on account of delayed allotments and allowances is due to the incorrect application or delayed application by the men in service.

Every man ought to know what the insurance feature of the law secures for him; how much it will cost him; what its benefits are, and who may be the beneficiaries.

It is especially important in this connection to point out to single men who have no person dependent upon them that this insurance will take care of them for life if they are permanently incapacitated in line of military duty.

Red Cross Will Help.

Every man ought to know that he can write to the Red Cross if he is anxious about his family or any of his affairs at home. You ought to provide him with a card which he can take with him and which is placed in his comfort kit on leaving.

There is also a group of suggestions which you may make to these men and in many instances save difficulties later on. Among them are:

See that they leave their power of attorney with someone;

See that they write home promptly on arrival at any camp;

See that they make their wills;

Impress upon them the value of keeping in close touch at all times with with their home folks;

See that they acquaint their family with their official number as soon as it is assigned to them.

For the Home Folks.

The home folks, too, should understand that the Red Cross is able to be of a good deal of service to them in connection with questions which arise out of their men's enlistment and can serve as a means of communication, which ought always to be used between the Government, the men and their families.

MAY DISCONTINUE VOLUNTEER CREDITS

FULL NUMBER OF DRAFTEES DESIGNATED MAY HEREAFTER HAVE TO GO.

Pennington county's quota in the coming draft is only four men. Ordinarily the percentage required would mean that about 18 would have to go but credit has been given for enlistments and this has cut down the requirement. This rule has applied to all counties. The more volunteer enlistments there are to a community's credit the fewer men are called. Beltrami county, or instance, is not compelled to send any for this particular call.

This rule will be changed, however. In a letter to Chairman H. S. Dent of the house military committee President Wilson has stated he was in error when recently he advised the committee he thought it would be proper to give states credit in the draft for volunteers furnished. The president wrote Chairman Dent disapproving the volunteers credit plan and the chairman announced he would ask the house to kill the proposed legislation.

The County Agent's Column

GOOD PRICE FOR FLAX IS CERTAIN

FARMERS URGED TO BREAK ALL THE LAND POSSIBLE FOR THIS CROP.

One of the best crops to grow this year is flax. With the present short supply of farm labor and the high prices which must be paid for it, farmers must plan to grow crops which require little labor. They must also plan to grow a variety of crops so that the work of men and machinery may be utilized as fully as possible. Where wheat, oats, and barley are important crops, a part of the time between seeding and harvesting may be well used in preparing land, particularly new land, and sowing it to flax. As the flax is not ready to harvest until other small grains are cut, it does not interfere in any way with growing the largest possible acreage of these crops. Flax requires little labor and at anything like present prices, ought to be a highly profitable crop. The world supply of flaxseed and of other oil-producing seeds is very short this year, hence good prices for flax should prevail next fall and winter.

The United States needs a largely increased production of flaxseed this year. In 1917 only about 8,500,000 bushels were produced, while 28,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels are used every year for the manufacture of linseed oil and for sowing. Usually it is possible to get all the flaxseed we need from Canada and Argentina. Canadian production is low because land ordinarily in flax is being used to grow food crops and the labor supply is insufficient to break much new land, while it is becoming more and more difficult to charter vessels for the transporting of linseed from Argentina. Their supply is small and desired in large measures by our Allies. The four principal flax-producing states, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, could increase their flax acreage by half without reducing the price below a highly profitable figure. Farmers who can increase their flax acreage would do well to talk to County Agent Ross P. White about the need for more flax this year and the prospect for high prices next fall and winter.

BARLEY

An Excellent Wheat Substitute

Barley is a palatable, wholesome grain which has long been used in infant feeding and, to some extent, for general cookery, and which can now be used in quantity to save wheat. Barley flour is one of the best of the wheat substitutes. Delicious breads and cakes can be made by using it to replace all or part of the wheat flour.

The use of barley flour for such purposes, though new to most of us, is not new to some people. Not many years ago barley was used more extensively than wheat for bread making in many of the European countries. Let us revive the art of barley cookery and, by so doing, "stretch" our supply of wheat flour so that it may go further to meet the needs of the Allies.—U. S. Dep't of Agriculture.

Hundreds of millions of bushels of barley are raised yearly in the United States. This supply, heretofore, has been used chiefly for stock feed or for malting, but under present conditions the greater part of the crop is being milled into flour, which since it is both palatable and nutritious may well be used to meet the increasing demand for wheat substitutes. This flour is now on the market, and it is a patriotic duty to use it to save the wheat flour.

Give barley flour a trial—you will wonder why it was not used more before the war.

Barley flour does not keep so well as wheat flour, so it is best to buy it in small quantities, even for home consumption.

The recipes which follow have been tested in the experiment kitchen of the Office of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture:

Barley Hot Breads.

Barley flour is very satisfactory for hot breads.

Barley Quick Biscuits.

Two cups barley flour, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons fat, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 2-3 cup milk.

Barley Drop Biscuits.

Two cups barley flour, 6 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons fat, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1 cup milk.

Baked in a sheet this makes a good shortcake buttered and served with fresh crushed berries or other fruit.

Barley Waffles.

Two cups barley flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1½ cups milk, 2 eggs, 3 tablespoons melted fat.

Sift the dry ingredients together and add slowly the milk, beaten egg yolk, and melted fat. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Beat thoroughly and cook in hot, well-greased waffle irons.

Barley Muffins.

2¼ cups barley flour, 1 cup milk, 2 tablespoons corn sirup, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup wheat flour, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 egg, ¾ teaspoon salt.

Barley Spoon Bread.

One cup barley flour, 1 cup hot boiled hominy grits, 3 tablespoons fat, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Barley Yeast Bread.

If you use your own bread recipe and replace one-fourth of the wheat flour with barley flour, you will be able to make a very good bread. With the present need of saving flour, it will be desirable for the housekeeper to make less yeast bread than usual, as one can not use so large a percentage of wheat substitute in making yeast breads as in quick breads.

BUT ONE PHONE AFTER JULY 1

NORTHWESTERN COMPANY TO TAKE OVER NORTHERN PART OF STATE.

NO FURTHER DUPLICATION

MOVE MEETS WITH APPROVAL OF RAILROAD AND WAREHOUSE COMMISSION.

About July 1 every telephone subscriber will have direct service from his own instrument with every toll line connection in the state, as a result of an order by the Minnesota Railroad and Warehouse commission, authorizing a unification of the telephone systems through a readjustment of the properties of the Northwestern and Tri-State telephone companies and their subsidiaries. By this order the state is divided into two zones or districts by a line following the northern boundaries of Washington, Ramsey, Dakota, Scott, Carver, McLeod, Renville and Yellow Medicine counties; the northern district to be operated by the Northwestern company and the southern district to be operated by the Tri-State company, excepting only at Marshall, Minneota, Russell, Pipestone and Luverne, which exchanges are retained by the Northwestern company as well as four long distance lines for its interstate service through Hudson, Winona, Mankato and Pipestone.

Unnecessary Expense.

Commissioner Fred W. Putnam, who wrote the order, holds that the duplication of telephone service throughout the state imposes upon the public an unnecessary expense and creates needless annoyance and confusion. While there was, at one time, a general demand for competition in the telephone field in order to obtain improvement in service and reduction in rates, the conditions which gave rise to such demands no longer exist. With the State Railroad and Warehouse commission having full authority to regulate rates and service, the public is protected, completely and one of the conditions of the commission's order authorizing a division of territory and a consolidation of telephone properties, is that no rate nor any condition of service now enjoyed anywhere in the state shall be disturbed without the consent of the commission.

Old Managers Probable.

There has been considerable speculation in Thief River Falls as well as in other cities as to what arrangement will be made for managers when the new order goes into effect. The general impression is that the managers now in charge of the office which is to be retained will continue to hold their jobs. The change applies in no way to the physical aspects of the remaining companies and it would seem to be the sensible thing to do to retain the men acquainted with the field. G. L. Sterns, manager for the Tri-State here, has at least not been notified of any change and there are no reports indicating that any are contemplated.

Are Doing Their Share.

The members of the Christian Science church in Thief River Falls are very much interested in what the organization is doing toward aiding in the war. A report recently issued shows that the Mother church has accumulated and disbursed upward of $400,000 and that this fund is being constantly added to. It is also proven that the individual members have bought heavily of Liberty Bonds, subscribed large sums to the Red Cross and been active in many other directions. In an address delivered recently in Minneapolis Clarence W. Chadwick said, among other things:

"Christian Scientists are vitally interested in every activity which is necessary for the support of the brave men who have gone to the battlefront to uphold national honor and integrity.

"Does participation in these various activities indicate that Christian Scientists are sitting still and doing nothing?

"No honest student of the Christian Science text book is in any doubt as to the meaning of the present world-war, or as to the final conquest of right over wrong, and he knows only too well the part that he is required to play in this great conflict."

CANNERS ALLOWED 50 LBS. OF SUGAR

MUST SIGN APPLICATION BEFORE DEALER CAN DELIVER THE ARTICLE.

Instructions concerning the provision of extra sugar for canning purposes were given in a letter received last week by C. A. Pitkin, food administrator for Pennington county. The plan is described as follows:

To limit the sale of sugar for general household purposes, (not including canning and preserving), as at present, to sales of 10 pounds per family in the country, and five pounds per family in town, and to curtail consumption of sugar in the home so that not to exceed three pounds per capita per month is used for general household purposes.

To provide for canning, each homemaker may secure additional sugar by signing a blank form and filing it with her grocer as follows:

"United States Food Administration. Federal Food Administrator for Minnesota, A. D. Wilson, University Farm, St. Paul.

Certificate for sugar for canning preserving only.

..................1918.

I hereby declare to the United States Food Administration that I desire to purchase from.................. an amount of.........pounds of sugar for my use for preserving and canning purposes only.

Signed ....
Street No. or R. F. D.............
Address ....

This certificate should be signed by the consumer after which the retailer may deliver to the consumer not to exceed 50 pounds of sugar for canning, and preserving purposes. For general household purposes sugar sales must be limited to 10 pounds per family in the country and five pounds per family in town. The retailer should forward the certificate to the county food administrator for his county within one week of date it is signed."

Inserted by W. J. LaBree, candidate for sheriff, on his own behalf and to be paid for by him. Amount, 30 cents per inch.

For Sheriff

W. J. LaBree

I wish to announce to the voters of Pennington County that I am a candidate for the office of sheriff at the primary election to be held June 17th.

I respectfully ask the support of the voters of the county and I pledge my best efforts, if nominated and elected, to the honest and efficient service of the people in this inportant position.

CASH BALANCE IS VERY SMALL

PLEDGES OF SUPPORT FOR RED CROSS ARE NOT BEING CARRIED OUT.

MONEY IS BADLY NEEDED

WORK GOING ON STEADILY IN COUNTY BUT FUNDS GETTING LOW.

As will be seen from the accompanying statement of Treasurer T. L. Melgaard of the Pennington County Red Cross chapter, the funds of the chapter are not very large, bills for supplies, etc., taking all the available cash from month to month.

Several hundred people in this city subscribed to a pledge card not long ago to aid in the financing of the chapter, but as yet few of them have gone to the banks where these subscriptions are payable. Money is needed to carry on the work and it is hoped that all those who subscribed will not wait any longer but will go to the banks—any of them—and pay up for one or more months.

The Monthly Report.

Hardly a letter comes from the soldiers in this country or abroad but what speaks highly of the Red Cross, and the people here should do all they can. They should give until it hurts, just as the men in the trenches are giving—giving even their lives, in many instances.

"Gets-It"—2 Drops—Then to the Dance!

"Goodnight to Corn Pains—Corns Peel Off With "Gets-It."

"Say, girls, you can laugh at tight shoes, or damp, corn-pulling weather, big bumpy corns, calluses on the soles of your feet, corns between the toes, hard and soft corns.

"It's All Off With This Fierce Corn Now—a 'Gets-It' Is Magic."

If you will just touch the corn or callus with a few drops of 'Gets-It.' What a blessed relief it gives to corn pains! You won't limp any more; you can enjoy the dance every minute. Then to see how that corn or callus will come right off complete, like a banana peel and without the least pain, is just wonderful. 'Gets-It' is the biggest seller among corn-removers in the world today, simply because it is so wonderfully simple, and always works. Be sure you get 'Gets-It.'"

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

Called From Vacation.

Elmer Zeh, son of Phil Zeh of this city, who has been a resident of Minot, N. D., for some time, arrived the first of the week on a visit to his father. About the first thing handed him when he stopped off the train was a telegram ordering him to Mexico for training with a class of electricians. He enlisted in this branch some time ago and was awaiting his call.

Pitkin Store Sold.

According to the St. Hilaire Spectator, a deal has been closed whereby N. A. Nelson becomes the owner of the Pitkin store in that village, including fixtures and what remains of the stock since the clearance sale. Mr. Nelson has not as yet fully decided what he will do or what lines he will carry, but expects to re-open the place within a short time. He has moved the hardware, formerly carried at the machine building, over to the store and has several shipments of goods in transit with which to stock the store at present. The Pitkin store has always been the principal business corner for general merchandise in the village—it has always carried the largest stock in all lines, including hardware.

MAY 30 IS DAY OF FAST AND PRAYER

PRESIDENT ADDS NEW SIGNIFICANCE TO MEMORIAL DAY PROCLAMATION.

President Wilson has requested that the people observe Memorial Day, May 30, in a manner somewhat different from the usual order this year. He has designated the date as one for fasting and prayer and asks that the people gather in their churches and offer their prayers for the success of our armies and the vindication of the cause for which they are fighting. The proclamation calls attention to the fact that Congress on the second day of last April by resolution requested the President to set aside a day for this purpose and he has decided that Memorial Day will be the most appropriate. The proclamation reads as follows.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the thirtieth day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation, prayer and fasting, and do exhort my fellow citizens of all faiths in their places of worship and there, as well as in their homes, to pray Almighty God that He may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things just and right, and to purpose only those rightous acts and judgments which are in conformity with His will; beseeching Him that He will give victory to our armies as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest because it is founded upon mercy, justice and good will."

Another Red Cross Branch.

The St. Hilaire branch chapter reports the organization of the Black River-Polk Center branch chapter of the American Red Cross, making 18 branches now under the jurisdiction of the Pennington county chapter located in this city. This branch came into existence at a meeting held in the Oscar Lindquist school house some six miles southwest of St. Hilaire last week. The officers of the temporary organization are: Chairman, Hjalmar Johnson; secretary, Amanda Johnson; treasurer, Richard Lorentson. There were 18 members forming the branch. Star expects to complete its organization Sunday, leaving but two townships unorganized, viz: Hickory and Smiley.

NO PRIMARY TUG IN SIXTY-FIFTH

EXACTLY THE RIGHT NUMBER FILE FOR LEGISLATIVE OFFICES.

NAPLIN TO OPPOSE O'NEILL

GRANDBOIS, JONES, SORTEDAHL AND DAY FOR HOUSE—FASEL FOR TREASURER.

Just enough candidates filed for the legislative offices in the Sixty-fifth district, composed of Pennington, Red Lake and Clearwater counties, to make a primary fight unnecessary. One senator and two representatives are to be elected and there were two filings for the first-named post and four for the latter offices.

Fasel For Treasurer.

Another filing of more than ordinary interest to the people of Thief River Falls concerns the office of state treasurer. Albert H. Fasel, formerly city clerk and also a former county auditor of Pennington county, is one of the aspirants on the Republican ticket for this post. He must make the contest for a place on the final ticket against Henry Rines of Mora, the present incumbent.

Naplin and O'Neill.

Senator D. P. O'Neill, who has represented the district during the past four years, is a candidate for re-election and will be opposed by Oscar A. Naplin of this city, an attorney.

The legislative nominees are: Felix Grandbois, farmer, and M. O. Sortedahl, real estate man, of Red Lake county; George P. Jones, newspaper publisher, and Walter E. Day, of Clearwater county. One senator and two representatives are to be elected in the district.

The Head of the Ticket.

There are three candidates for the nomination for United States senator. Knute Nelson is up for re-election and will be opposed by James A. Peterson. W. G. Calderwood, who was the candidate of the Prohibitionists two years ago, is again in the race.

Governor Burnquist will have as his primary opponent C. A. Lindbergh, while the Democrats have also two candidates in the field—Fred E. Wheaton and W. L. Comstock. L. R. Berot is the Socialist candidate and O. O. Stageberg the standard bearer of the National party.

Other State Offices.

Lieut. governor—Thomas Frankson, A. D. Stephens and Ralph E. Crune, Republican; Charles E. Helweg, Democrat; George D. Haggard, National.

Secretary of State—Julius A. Schmahl and Carl G. Malmberg, Republican; Edward Indrehus, Democrat; F. R. McManigal, National.

State Treasurer—Henry Rines and A. H. Fasel, Republican; D. D. Devine, Democrat; L. A. Simonson, National.

Attorney General—Clifford L. Hilton and Thomas V. Sullivan, Republican; B. B. Gislason, Democrat; Lars O. Haug, National.

Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner—Fred W. Putnam and F. E. Tilquist, Republican; J. S. Jacobson, Democrat; William Hokanson, National.

Clerk of the Supreme Court—I. A. Caswell, George E. Magnuson and Herman J. Mueller, Republican; C. A. Lothert, Democrat.

Judicial filings: Chief Justice of the supreme court—Calvin L. Brown; Benjamin Drake. Associate Justices, two to elect—Andrew Holt, Oscar Hallam, W. H. Vanderburgh, Thomas Fraser.

For Congress.

There is but one congressman in the Minnesota delegation who gets by without any opposition. He is Clarence B. Miller of Duluth, representing the Eighth district. In the Ninth Halvor Steenerson will be opposed in the primaries by Frank M. Barton. There is no Democratic candidate.

Radical—At Least.

Mahnomen Pioneer: The Nonpartisan committee has endorsed Frank M. Barton, of Mahnomen, for Congressman from the Ninth District. If the N. P. Leaguers want to vote for a radical they have the ideal candidate in Mr. Barton. He is [illegible] all of that.

Pure Bred Percheron Stallion

MARLO 73151

Marlo, 73151, is known far and near by our best horsemen to be every way right and one of the best foal getters in the state. He is a coal black with the best of style and action, good bone, short on legs, close ribbed, short back, just the kind that our government wants, just the breed of horses you see in all the large shows. He is a heavy black and daple gray Percheron. Watch when the big show comes to Thief River Falls and see if I am not right. The pure bred horse is easy to train and as the Percheron has lots of style there is always a good demand for them and the highest prices will be paid for horses ever known. Remember it takes five years; starting now, to get a colt four years old and by that time the horses you now have are gone. Terms $15.00 payable at the birth of living colt; unless the mare is pure bred Percheron, if so my price is $20.00. This horse will be at Ramstad's big barn as mentioned below, Thursday, Friday and Saturday up to July first and maybe longer; the balance of the time he will be at home on the farm in section 4, town of Sanders, about 5½ miles due west of Thief River Falls. Phone at the farm. When wishing to phone, call four short and one long on 811. When I am in town call and arrange your business with me as it will save you time and disappointment.

Furniture---and High Costs Generally

Prices have increased on almost everything that the American householder needs. On some classes of goods the price now is more than double what it was a few years ago. Very few articles have escaped.

One class of goods in which the raise has been but slight is furniture. Good furniture can be bought at this time for but little more than it would have cost three or four years ago. The reason for this is that a large part of the stock going into the manufacture of goods of this character was secured before the high prices went into effect. The lumber was already seasoning, paint and varnish ingredients were to be had at a reasonable figure. Upholstery stuffs held in stock were made from raw material bought at the old prices. For the above reasons the raise in the cost of good furniture came about slower than in other lines.

Now things have changed. Lumber and other materials procured now are so high in price that furniture is bound to follow suit. It is therefore highly probable that furniture can be bought at this time at a much lower price than will be possible for a long time after the war ends. The high priced raw materials must be worked out before any considerable reduction can take place. This takes time, and just as people are now getting the benefit of prices obtaining before the war, just so will they be compelled to pay higher prices for furniture for some time after the war.

The same facts hold good as to carpets. Stocks now on sale by the retailer were made before the present high prices. Goods bought hereafter will cost more—at least until such time as the supply made under present conditions has been disposed of.

You will not have an opportunity to secure furniture and carpets at so low a price as at present for some years to come. That is an absolute certainty. Come in and make your selection now. We have the stock, and the prices are still reasonable. When the present supply is gone you will pay more.

Help! Help! For Pity's Sake, Help!

While you're enjoying the balmy Spring weather--- while you are perhaps having the time of your life at the ball game, THEY are suffering and dying for you "over there."

Across the ghastly waste of No-Man's-Land---through the inky black and death-like silence of the night comes the faint, hardly audible cry of "Help, stretcher-bearers, Help!"

Suppose you were there and heard that cry---perhaps from a voice you recognized. Would you hesitate? Would you stop for a moment to save the life of that fine young fellow?

Neither does the Red Cross. Its workers are everywhere---from the front line trenches, risking death to tenderly care for the wounded, to way back "of the lines" where among many other things, it hands out hot coffee to the boys after a hard day's march.

Among them may be YOUR boy. You can't go, so send your dollars. In your snug security, protected by the sacrifices they are making, you should give to the Red Cross every dollar you can spare---give even if you must deny yourself something. Regardless of how much this may be, it isn't one small part of the self-denial these grand and glorious boys are making for you.

Letters from the BOYS

Karwand is Well and Happy.

E. C. Karwand, formerly cashier of the State Bank of Hazel, who left with the bunch who are to study aviation mechanics at Pittsburgh University, has been made a sergeant thus early in the game, although modesty evidently prevents him from mentioning the fact in the following interesting letter:

To The Times:

"As this is one day of rest the duties of a good soldier should be to write to the home folks, so will try and tell you how we are getting along.

"To begin: Our duties here are very interesting and now consist mainly of actual work, supplemented with study of the motor car and truck. Must say I never knew there were so many different gears and working parts to a car before, nor understood the reason why they all are there. It will take some time before I will know enough to really be a mechanic.

"All the Pennington county boys are doing as well as anyone considering their former experience. Of course, we have a few experts in the company who will do better than the general run but as that always was their line we are not worrying any.

"We have good grub, a fine place to sleep and plenty of exercise. Our day begins at 5:45 and ends at 7 p. m. That's actual work and drill, with 45 minutes for dinner. Taps at 9:30 and by 10 we must all be in our bunks.

"Have ben acting as Company Clerk of B, company so far and as this is all extra work, I've been on the go all the time. Will learn many new things, however, and of course, have more privileges than some others here.

"Saw a British tank perform the other day and its quite interesting to note how it ploughs along over every obstacle and climbs up hills and tears through entanglements. Aeroplanes are quite common and we expect to work on them after we become proficient at the motors and chassis of cars. We are located right in Pittsburgh's 50 million dollar beauty spot—near Schenley park up in the hills—and some hills they sure are. Would like to see Fred Haug climb some of them with old 'Safety First.' The ball park is a couple of blocks away and occasionally some leaguer lifts one over the fence almost into our barracks. We should have Mutt Lambert here to gobble them up and we would feel more safe.

"Pittsburgh is sure some city and steel and iron work is the main feature. We can plainly see the red flare at night from the the great furnaces. Of course, this makes it very dirty and smoky and the climate seems quite disagreeable. My opinion is that Minnesota is some state and we have it on them all even if Schwab's millions are here at Pittsburgh.

"We will be moving somewhere about June 1st for further training before we cross the pond, but the spirit of the boys could not be better and we are all anxious to get over to France and see what we will amount to. Tell the home folks we are all well taken care of; have the best officers of any company in the world; that we all are trying our best to make good, and that we also know and feel that the home folks are always behind us and more than doing their share."

Pittsburgh University Training Dept. Co. B-3.

[Benjamin E. Bothun, now a member of the 20th Engineers in camp at American University, Washington, D. C., and formerly a reporter for The Times, expects soon be to on his way to France. That the boys are kept pretty busy is evidenced by his letter, which is as follows:

"This is just a short note to let you know I am still here at the national capital awaiting the order to move to the Old World. I have intended for a long time to write you a real letter about my army experience but never have I been able to assemble my thoughts for over 30 minutes. I get hold of Francis Burns' paper every week and in this manner keep myself posted on doings in the old home town.

"I have mailed you my arrival card, so when I land you'll be notified and can change the address of my Times.

"On Wednesday evening Burns and I were the guests of Captain William Smiley at the University club. He published a newspaper in Thief River Falls in the early days and remembers John Havel, Homer Mussey and Harry Schuster very well. He wrote the article entitled, "Why Named Thief River Falls" in that publicity booklet. Capt. Smiley also surveyed the route for the Soo railway into Thief River Falls.

"He is now a captain in the intelligence department here and also supervising the work at the Washington barracks. We had quite a talk over the old days. He remembered John particularly well.

"I'll write a regular letter some other time and when I get across I will try and send you some news concerning the doings of the engineers—that is—if the censor consents."

DELCO-LIGHT
Increases Farm Efficiency

Fifty thousand Delco-Light plants in operation on American farms are saving at the most conservative estimate, an hour a day each—or over 18,000,000 work hours a year.

That is equal to an army of 60,000 men working ten hours a day for a full month.

Delco-Light is a complete electric light and power plant for farms and suburban homes.

It furnishes an abundance of clean, safe, economical light, and operates pump, churn, cream separator, washing machine and other appliances.

It is also lighting rural stores, garages, churches, schools, army camps and railway stations.

HE ADVISES YOUNG MEN TO JOIN ARMY

MAJOR YOST POINTS OUT OPPORTUNITIES IN ARMY AT PRESENT.

Within the next few days President Wilson will attach his signature to the new draft bill requiring all men who have attained the age of 21 years since June 5, 1917, to register for military service. Registration day has not been fixed as yet, but will more than likely be on the same date as last year, June 5. This action will place over 1,000,000 additional men at the call of the country and is expected to furnish about 700,000 Class 1 men.

In view of the foregoing facts, Major John D. Yost recruiting officer for the Minnesota district, is urging all young men who will be required to register to get into service at once, while they still have an opportunity to select the branch of the service they most desire. The minute a man is registered under the selective service law he becomes ineligible for voluntary enlistment in the army, and when called by his local board must go into the corps they select for him.

Training Schools Established.

Hundreds of high school boys in the state will have to register next month. Most of them are particularly well suited for specialized branches of the service and an excellent opportunity is afforded them in the army for further training. Innumerable training schools have been established by the War department in various sections of the country and high school boys are especially well fitted to attend them. Credits can be secured from practically every high school in the state by boys who wish to get into the army at this time. As the time is short, Major Yost advises them to act at once and to enlist before the end of May. Only three weeks remain.

Army recruiting officers throughout the Minnesota district have been instructed to make special efforts to secure men who will have to register next month, and to point out to high school boys the advantages of getting into service now rather than later.

NEW POTATOES ARE STILL A DELICACY

AT $4.80 PER BUSHEL THE DEMAND IS NOT ALARMING.

New potatoes made their appearance on the local market the close of last week, the wholesale price being 5½ cents and retail 7 and 8 cents per pound. Old potatoes are still somewhat scarce in this immediate vicinity, but some of the grocers are now shipping in potatoes from Lancaster, where they have been able to get them for 40 cents per bushel, while in Clay county they may be had for 40 cents with sacks included. Thus the farmers here are losing business to outsiders.

Strawberries are becoming quite plentiful and the price is dropping slightly each week. Quotations have been as low as 30 cents a quart the past few days.

Other greens and vegetables quite common on the local markets are shallots (local product), radishes, cucumbers, head and leaf lettuce, tomatoes, asparagus, carrots, beets, turnips, cabbage, spinach and parsley.

The first shipment of new potatoes had hardly been disposed of in this city when C. A. Pitkin, county food administrator, received notice to advocate the use of the old crop as hard as he knew how and let the potatoes still in the ground await their turn. Accordingly there will be no more of the 1918 crop received in this city until the ban is lifted. The more old potatoes you eat the sooner you will be permitted to enjoy the new ones.

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

GENERAL ADVANCE IN RAILROAD PAY

GREATEST BENEFIT GOES TO THOSE RECEIVING SMALLEST COMPENSATION.

Wage advances to 1,939,399 railroad employees, ranging from 1 per cent to the highest and 43 per cent to the lowest paid workers and aggregating $300,000,000, were made public late last week in a report by the railroad wage commission to Director General W. G. McAdoo.

Mr. McAdoo, it is learned, will accept the report and put the increases into effect at once as of the date of Jan. 1, 1918.

The members of the four brotherhoods of railway employees, who were awarded the smallest increases in view of high pay and recent advances, virtually agreed to accept the verdict of the wage commission after their insistent demands had caused the president to attempt an adjournment.

The wage advances, which range from $1 to $34 a month, are increases above pay each employee was receiving Dec. 31, 1915. Employees who have received advances since that date will benefit now to the extent of the difference between their present wage and that fixed by the wage commission.

May Advance Rates.

The net cost to the railroads is estimated at $250,000,000. This is exclusive of the estimated deficit of $800,000,000 in government operation of the railroads this year, as a result of which Director General McAdoo contemplates advancing passenger rates at least 2½ per cent and freight rates possibly as much as 15 per cent.

The scheme of wage advances adopted is based on an inquiry into cost of living, which the commission found had increased approximately 40 per cent.

No Threats Made.

"The government now enjoys this distinction—it is not yielding to threats, not compelled by fear of any unpatriotic outbursts, not making concessions to avoid disaster. There has been no hint that such a policy would be pursued by those having it within their power. The right thing at this time, a measure of justice, consideration for the needs of the men, whether organized or unorganized, whether replaceable or not replaceable—these are the standards we have sought to meet," said a member of the commission.

"By what amount have the railroad workers been disadvantaged by the war, and how may that disadvantage be overcome with equity, assuming that, in common with all who do not wish to exploit the opportunities which the war affords, these workers cannot have and will not expect a full meeting of the entire burden? This is what the commisison has attempted to ascertain and on the findings has been based the recommendation for these increases."

SOO LINE REPORTS GAIN IN EARNINGS

HIGHER COST OF RAILWAY OPERATION CUTS INTO NET INCOME FOR 1917.

Conditions that have affected railroad properties in general are illustrated forcibly in the annual report of the Soo road, issued last week.

Gross earnings showed a slight gain, $34,540,491.31 for 1916, but it cost $22,964,793.67 to operate the property, compared with $19,241,591.67.

In consequence, net earnings that in 1916 were $15,230,492.64 fell to $11,575,696.72. Fixed charges, taxes and other obligations were $8,799,490.15, compared with $8,622,091, and the system surplus $4,428,438.97, against $7,771,058.28.

Railroaders Wanted For Army—A special call has been issued for the enlistment of railroaders and others with technical knowledge of appliances and machinery used in railroading. The demand is for 64 brakemen, flagmen and conductors; 40 locomotive engineers and firemen; 18 locomotive inspectors; 10 boilermakers and helpers. County Auditor T. P. Anderson, clerk of the local enlistment board, will be pleased to furnish any information at hand regarding these enlistments, but does not believe there will be many applicants. No particular number is designated to be furnished by each district, the call being general.

MEDALS FOR ROAD WORK ALONG "J-H"

ONE PERSON IN EVERY COUNTY WILL RECEIVE THIS BADGE OF HONOR.

Some man in every county through which the Jefferson Highway runs is going to wear a gold medal at the end of the year, and will have a chance to pin two more on his breast and go to the annual meeting of the directors at the expense of the Jefferson Highway Association.

Five hundred dollars has been set aside for the purchase of these medals, and the contest is on. The contestants are the men who are actually responsible for the condition of the highway through the eighty-nine counties along that popular thoroughfare, and no entry fees, no regsitration, no red tape is necessary. Work already done will count in the contest, and the medals will be awarded in the counties by the members of the Jefferson Highway committees therein, all of whom will be later sent specific directions for making their decisions.

Must Maintain Two Miles.

Announcement of the contest has just been made by J. D. Clarkson, general manager of the Highway, from the headquarters at St. Joseph, Mo. There are no formalities and no provisions and conditions, further than that the medal is to go to the man who is responsible for the upkeep of the road, the man who does the actual work, or who is in direct charge of the work. There is a further stipulation that he must maintain at least two miles of the highway. No work done elsewhere than on the highway counts toward the prizes.

Conditions Considered.

In awarding the medals, due regard will be paid to the conditions under which a man has worked, so that all have equal chances to win the prizes. A man who drags a dirt road has as much of an opportunity to carry away one of the medals as does the man who maintains a cement or brick pavement. The results that he has achieved will tell the tale. All that a contestant need do is to get busy along a two-mile stretch of the highway. The judges will come along later and do the rest. And it makes no difference whether he is donating his work, or is getting paid for it by the state or county.

Stick by Steenerson.

The Sunbeam: The Nonpartisan League has endorsed Frank M. Barton of Mahnomen for Congressman from this district in opposition to Congressman Steenerson. He is, of course, a stranger to about 99 per cent of the voting members of the League in this district.

It will be remembered that we expressed our opinion of this matter of endorsing a Congressman some two months ago, and this endorsement places the common members of the League in an embarrassing position, as they either have to vote to defeat their staunch friend Steenerson or the endorsee of the League, and it now looks like they will "stick" to Steenerson.

CROP OUTLOOK IN STATE VERY GOOD

MORE PLOWING AND SEEDING DONE EARLY THAN FOR MANY YEARS.

The Minnesota early crop outlook is very favorable, according to Paul H. Kirk, state field agent with headquarters at Fergus Falls. Much more plowing and seeding had been finished on May 1 than in ordinary years, due to the exceptionally favorable and early spring.

Eighty-four per cent of the plowing and 80 per cent of the seeding are estimated to have been completed on that date. The condition of pastures is estimated at 74 per cent, which is lower than the average on account of chilly weather during the latter part of April having retarded the growth of the grass. A slightly smaller acreage is in hay this year as a result of the high price of seed and a desire to plant as large an acreage as possible to grain crops.

Rye Crop Slightly Off.

The condition of the rye crop in Minnesota as on May 1 was placed at 86 per cent, compared with 88 per cent on April 1. That gave an indicated production of 7,759,000 bushels, against 7,585,000 bushels for 1917.

The slightly lower condition of rye this spring is attributed to the weather having been cold, very dry and windy.

That comparatively small attention is given to winter wheat in this state is attested in an estimated total production for this season of 1,256,000 bushels as against 1,400,000 bushels last year. The abandoned winter wheat acreage in the state was placed at 18 per cent, as compared with 17 per cent last year. The area abandoned was largely in the southeastern portion of the state and was due to the spring having been dry combined with the plant having come through the winter with a very short growth.

According to the GOVERNMENT'S ORDER

Word was received by all county food administrators during the past week urging that grocers make a special effort to get rid of all grain products that have been cluttering up their shelves since the wheat-saying order went into effect. Now the suggestion is that this particular line of goods be moved as quickly as possible and we are making the following prices:

Co-Operate With Your Retail Merchant

After three years of war it has been found by Americans in France that small retail merchants have probably suffered more than any other class, except artists, whose pictures and statuary are not purchased in war times.

Writing on this subject in "Every Week," Captain Michael White says that the artisan, agricultural and professional classes have enjoyed increased wages and increase, due to the fact that their services and product have been in greater demand, with a reduction in competition among themselves brought by the thinning of their ranks for the army.

It is his belief that the small retail merchant's difficulty should be understood in the United States as we make our adjustments from peace to war.

Already we have gone far enough into war to realize that the retail merchant, and particularly the food distributor, face difficult problems. Thus far our own merchants have felt the pinch chiefly in lessened consumer demand, dictated by economy, and decrease in volume of commodities handled, due to scarcity of certain staples. There is also the restriction of profit margin on staple food necessities.

In countries with a longer war experience the retailer has been hurt most by the disappearance of merchandise from the market. Not only is food strictly rationed, but furniture, utensils, jewelry, musical instruments, luxury articles, and many things counted necessities in normal times are unobtainable. Old furniture in England today is eagerly bought up at prices exceeding what was paid for it when new.

It is not probable that merchandise will ever become as scarce in this country unless war continues for a long period. But it may become scarcer than most Americans now realize.

The sharp tightening in food the past year is an instance. It has brought two surprises—first, that war should so quickly and directly affect the average American, and second, that the average American should adjust himself to conditions so quickly and wholeheartedly.

Under present conditions the difficulty of the merchant, and especially the small merchant, and most of all the average merchant distributing foodstuffs, large or small, wholesale or retail, is somewhat different from that of other business men, and even other Americans. War pressure is like economic pressure, or the same thing—it affects all alike But the food distributor is under special tensions and stresses, and in these times deserves, if not sympathy, at least understanding, and if not direct assistance through his business difficulties, at least intelligent co-operation from the public.

A Model Lumber Yard

In these progressive times a lumber business cannot stand still any more than another kind of business. Conditions are changing and demands are more varied. The old style yard to which a man drove up and secured his bill of lumber, consisting of a few two-by-fours and an armfull of boards, has given place to an institution capable of furnishing everything that goes into the construction of a building of any kind.

That is the kind of yard we are operating in Thief River Falls. Workmen are now busy enlarging the original plant of the Thief River Manufacturing company, which has been purchased by us, and will soon have everything in readiness for your inspection.

The stock is arriving by every train. It consists of the very best there is to be had in lumber, personally selected by our representative for the trade of this section. We have material for dwellings, barns, graneries, silos—in fact, everything.

And our prices will please you. Our 14 yards scattered throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas give us a purchasing power not equalled by any lumber concern in the Northwest. Everything is secured in large quantities and distributed to our different branches, thus giving our customers the benefit, no matter where situated.

We are here to stay and will make special efforts to gain the confidence of the buying public. We cannot afford to make a mistake and will take every precaution to see that none occurs.

Any business entrusted to us will have our most careful attention.

Over-Charged Accounts

IT happens every day that mistakes are made in charging items to accounts. Often you hear your friends speak of an overcharge made on their bills, and you yourself probably, have had the same experience.

THE "fuss" that follows the cash-paid-bill-mistake is entirely eliminated when paid by bank check, because the check stub and cancelled check show When, How Much, and For What payment was made.

Grand Parade Will Inaugurate Second Red Cross Campaign

Every city and town in the United States will on Saturday evening inaugurate the second drive for the American Red Cross with a demonstration of some kind. In Thief River Falls this will be in the nature of a civic parade in which all our citizens are expected to participate. All business houses in the city are expected to close their doors during this demonstration in order to allow their employes to join the ranks of the marchers. The route taken by the procession will include all the principal streets of the city, and be in charge of the following citizens: Marshal, W. J. LaBree; band in charge of Lieut. Oscar Sponheim; parade commander, Capt. W. B. Fuller; Company C, M. H. G., in charge of Lieut. W. W. Prichard, Jr. The parade will form in the following order:

Band and Flag—Form at First and LaBree.

Mothers and Fathers of Boys in Service—Form at First street near LaBree avenue.

Members of the Red Cross—Town and Country Chapters. (All Red Cross members are invited and no further individual notice will be given members of local or country chapters.) Form between Main and LaBree avenues on First street.

Junior Red Cross—Form at south side of Public Library.

Boy Scouts—Form in front of court house.

Woman's club—Form in front of library.

Commercial club members and Merchants' association members—Form midway between First and Second on Main.

High and Grade School faculty—Form in front of Auditorium.

Masons, Eastern Star, Odd Fellows and Elks—Form in front of Masonic hall.

U. C. T.—Form east of Masonic hall.

Foresters—Form at Mogenson's store.

Woodmen of the World—Form south of Aos' store.

Sons of Norway, Daughters of Norway, Modern Woodmen, Royal Neighbors—Form west of Lokens' store.

Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Eagles, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Railroad Brotherhoods—Form north of Mogensen's store.

United Workmen, Ladies of Maccabees, Vasa Order No. 321—Form north of Loken's store.

Fire Department—Form south of court house.

Company C, 11th Battalion, Minnesota Home Guard—Form on vacant lot south of Auditorium.

TO RAISE $10,000 FOR THE RED CROSS

ships $0.75 stays in the local chapter; of the contribution membership, $2.00 stays in the local chapter and of the sustaining membership, $3.00 stays in the local chapter. The entire life and patron membership go to the national chapter.

These funds pay the expense of operation, which does not include salaries, as the work of organization is all volunteer work and the balance of the fund raised by membership is used for relief work.

For the Local Chapter.

The second fund is the Local Chapter Working fund, and is used almost exclusively to purchase materials for the women of the local chapter to work with in order to fill their quota of articles required by the national chapter which is called for in allotments made as equitable as possible. It was in the raising of this fund that the confusion arose because some of the persons signing pledge cards understood that the signing of the Local Chapter Working Fund pledge card was to relieve them of further subscribing to the Red Cross for the balance of the year. The advice given them, however, was that the raising of the required amount by the pledge card plan would meet the requirements of the local chapter as to its working fund as far as was possible to estimate for the balance of the year, but specific advice was given that it did not apply to the annual National War Fund, over which the local chapter has no jurisdiction.

Are Doing Good Work.

The Working fund was fully subscribed and the women are turning about $400.00 worth of raw material into substantial messages of mercy each month. They must regulate their work, not to their full capacity, but to the material furnished them. If the men of the city would visit the work rooms or hear the reports of the chairmen, which are given at the regular Red Cross meetings on the first Monday of each month, they would not hesitate to provide everything that is needed.

The last and most important fund—the National War Fund—is raised for the direct administration of the assistance to the soldiers and sailors in the war zone and when you contribute your share you, with your money, are making is possible that the men who are working, bleeding and dying for you get the most tender care and receive this at the earliest possible moment after being stricken, because the Red Cross is no silk stocking organization and its work of mercy is done under fire and not under the pleasant conditions which attend our daily occupations.

There's No Other Way.

Many people have asked why these funds are not raised by taxation and there are two very good reasons. First—The Red Cross work is emergency work and no government can tell where despoliation will strike. Laws cannot be provided to care for such emergencies, but you can rest assured that if this community were subjected to such a holocaust as was visited upon Halifax, or if we should encounter a visitation of destruction, that the Red Cross would be the first organization to come to our relief.

Second—The American people are not contented to have their sons who are fighting our battles cared for by rules of government or business, but insist that they have the best care that the money of our people and the hands and hearts of our American women can provide; that each stricken soldier or sailor will know that we, each and every one of us, are there in spirit to administer to his every need in time of distress.

The Soldiers' Message.

The first message received from the boys at the front is: "Do not forget the Red Cross. It is our great friend and comforter in time of distress and is your message to us that we are still in your minds and your memory, because we know each visitation to us of the tender hands of mercy stretched out under the flag of the Red Cross is brought about, not by compulsion, but as a result of your compassionate desire for our safety and comfort."

When the solicitors call upon you don't greet them with the statement that you have bought a bond; that you are a member of the Red Cross, or that you have signed a pledge card and was advised that it would permanently exempt you from doing anything for your country for the balance of the war. Do not tell him that it is one durned thing after another and that you are tired of being called upon, as he already knows that. He has had the same experience and has already subscribed his allotment willingly and is giving his time as well as his money. Do as the boys do in the trenches before going over the top. Tighten up your belt and, if you have enough strength, yield the pen as they yield the sword and do your bit. Sign the card and by American ingenuity figure out how you can make good because none of us have begun to be hurt and we don't begin to know what a sacrifice is. The war will be over before we fully learn what a privilege it is to pay back and support the Government that has supported us so long. You do not give to the Red Cross, you only pay back a bit of the debt that you owe to yourself and the government.

They Make No Excuses.

When the boys, our boys, are ordered to go over the top they don't argue about it. They do their duty and don't respond with, "Well, we went over last week," or "we are continually ordered to go over," or possibly that some other company did not go far enough last time. If they are able to stand and move, over they go, and when they do you can rest assured that the Hun afterwards knows that he has been associated with a bunch of wild cats. If the report of the death of Von Hindenberg is true you can rest assured that it was a stroke of heart failure caused by the realization of what that valiant band of bear-cats would do to his goose-stepping baby killers.

The City Campaign.

The campaign that is being conducted in the city under the direction of Mr Smith is along different lines than that of the country and he has given us the following rules as adopted by the committee:

The allotment is based on the judgment of the Liberty Loan committee in apportioning the city, which was alloted $100,000.00 in the Liberty Loan campaign. The allotment does not, however, necessarily mean the subscription (as that amount was over-subscribed), and on that basis the individual allotment for the Red Cross War Fund will be five per cent of the Liberty Loan allotment. Therefore if you were alloted $100.00 of the Liberty Loan your allotment of the War Fund will be $5.00, with the exception that membership, contributing membership and pledge card donations are taken into consideration but not deducted and the amount subscribed to the first war fund imposes an extra amount on those not having subscribed to that fund as well as on those not having signed pledge cards for the local working fund.

An earnest effort will be made to make the distribution as equitable as possible.

The campaign is divided into wards for the purpose of giving to everyone an opportunity to do his or her share and there will be no competition between wards and the solicitors as a rule will not work in their own ward.

The Liberty Loan allotment was the combined judgment of a large committee of men who were in the best position to make a fair and just allotment, but if you consider that you were not properly slated, take the matter up with Mr. Smith and it will be taken before a proper committee and adjusted. It is no disgrace for you to have your allotment properly made, as each one wants to do his part and each should bear his part of the burden, and that much only.

This fund will not be permitted to be oversubscribed although we fell below our allotment during the first war fund drive, but it must be subscribed, because Thief River Falls must not and will not fail to do its share as long as a drop of American blood is left in our city, whether they be Americans by birth or by choice. There is no distinction in this crisis.

Cannot Lower Amount.

No subscriptions may be taken for less than the amount alloted, because the time is past for the enjoyment of 100 per cent American Citizenship on a 10 per cent basis. If there are any among us, and the Liberty Loan record of Thief River Falls is the answer, who want to get in on a 10 per cent basis they should not be permitted to be associated in the work with good loyal American citizens.

This call, coming at a time when our community is not best able to pay its quota, that fact has been taken into consideration and pledge cards are provided and the payments may be made in quarterly installments payable July 1, August 1, September 1 and October 1.

All unsubscribed pledges will be turned over to the proper committee and in their discretion any flagrant cases will be reported to the proper authorities for investigation.

Farmers Picnic Near St. Hilaire.

The farmers of this part of the county are arranging for a big picnic to be held at the Ed. A. Aubol farm, two miles north of St. Hilaire, on Saturday afternoon, May 25. Frank M. Barton, of Mahnomen, candidate for Congress from the Ninth district, who was endorsed by the farmers and workers of the state, and Rev. R. T. Maxwell, of Denver, will be the speakers. A pleasant afternoon is looked forward to. Everyone is cordially invited.

The best way to save money is to keep a little out for emergency use, then put the rest in this bank each pay-day and pay your bills by check.

Money in the bank is not easily spent for unnecessaries, and remains until a time of need comes to you; then you will be glad you have a bank account.

Confidence in Prime Minister.

The Lloyd George ministry won a notable victory in the House of Commons last week. By a vote of 293 to 106 the house voted down a motion introduced by former Premier Asquith providing for appointment of a special committee to investigate charges made by Major General Frederick B. Maurice, recently relieved of his post of chief director of military operations at the war office.

Is Red Cross Depository.

The Farmers and Merchants State bank of this city has been named by the directors of the Pennington County chapter of the American Red Cross as the depository for the Second Red Cross War Fund, during the campaign, which is to be waged throughout the entire United States May 20 to 26. The Citizens State bank was the depository during the first campaign a year ago, and is still the depository for the general funds of the local chapter.

The money as it is collected for the war fund will be placed in the recently established bank and will be drawn out from time to time by W. G. McAdoo, treasurer of the American Red Cross, as occasion arises.

Guesses at battery condition open the switch for battery trouble. You're running without signals unless you know what's doing inside your battery.

Has enough water been added?

Is your battery properly charged?

Has too much charging caused overheating?

And don't forget to ask about the "Bone Dry" principle. The Still Better Willard is the only battery that uses it and thus gives you absolute assurance that your battery is as new as the day it left the factory.

The Cost of Cutting Down a Tree

Even this is greater now than it was some years ago. It cost more to secure lumber last year than the year before. Consequently lumber will cost more next year than it does at present. There is no way of escaping this fact—war or no war.

The logs cut during the past winter will not be converted into lumber and placed in retail yards for some time yet, consequently the old prices prevail to a very large extent. When the new crop is marketed it will be different. The consumer will pay for the higher stumpage, the increased wages of the lumberjack, the higher freight charges, and a hundred other things.

The answer to all this is: "BUILD NOW." But in building deal with a concern, not tied up to a trust that dictates the price of the material you must have. Our margin of profit does not change. You get the benefit of every favorable condition when trading with us. We advise you, however, not to postpone that building job any longer. You will be money ahead if you heed our advice in this matter.

CANTEEN WORKERS CATER TO POILU'S APPETITE FOR OYSTERS AND SALADS

Eleanor Robson Belmont, Home From Europe, Tells of Her Unbounded Faith In the Red Cross.

By ELEANOR ROBSON BELMONT.

WHEN I left for Europe a few months ago I had no cast-iron reverence for the Red Cross. When I returned from Europe I brought home with me unbounded belief in the organization. I had seen enough to make me realize that this was the best method of serving the soldiers and sailors. We are waging an economic war. Therefore the surest and most effective way to help is through the established channels selected for that purpose by the government.

The main work of the American Red Cross, however, is, of course, carried on in France. The policy of those heading this work is to back up the French in their own efforts and to help them develop along their own lines, not to root out French institutions and transplant American ones. Whether we work, then, in canteens, in warehouses, in dispensaries, for poilus or for refugees, in Paris or in the devastated districts, for the children or for the aged, it is always on the same plan of backing up the French if they have any organization or plan.

ELEANOR ROBSON BELMONT.

Poilus Like Oysters and Salad.

The canteen work is one of the most gratifying ways of helping the men. To see those poilus enjoying the first delicacies they have had for days is a soul-satisfying sight. The English and French maintain canteens where they dispense soup, hot coffee and cocoa, tobacco, chocolate, etc., but the American Red Cross canteens serve real dinners at cost or under. The poilus are inordinately fond of oysters and salad; when they can order a plate of oysters or a dish of salad in an American canteen they are as happy as children. We have six canteens in the French zone for the French army—France is, of course, divided into zones. In one line of communication canteen we serve from 4,000 to 8,000 men a day. These canteens are near the railroad stations for the benefit of the men going to the front, being transferred to some other section, or going home on a furlough. In one section the huts used for this purpose are little alleys marked "Paris," "Dijon," or "Lyons." These little alleys are laid out with bunks filled with sleeping men. If a poilu is going to Paris, he throws himself down in the Paris bunk, serene in the knowledge that he will be called in time for the Paris train.

In some of the canteens the lights have to be dimmed on account of aeroplanes. Often the lights are covered with colored muslin shields which make a rosy glow that is very homelike. One of the canteens has been decorated by some of the best camouflage artists in France, who have taken great delight in covering the walls and even the ceiling with their pictures. The canteens are open day and night for the benefit of the men at the big junction points.

Do More Than Feed Men.

The women in the canteens do more than feed the men, however, important as that is. Poilus leaving their families are naturally depressed and need sympathetic listeners. Some one to admire his wife's picture, some one to laugh over the baby's latest sign of genius, some one to tell him that the oldest boy is the image of his handsome father—this is as real a need in the poilu's life as salad or soup. In fact the presence of these fine women is such an influence for good that officers say the morale of the army is distinctly higher wherever the canteens are. This causes great rivalry among the canteen workers. Each one wants her canteen to be the best and most popular in the service.

Besides this direct, personal service to the soldiers the Red Cross is doing a kind of John the Baptist work with dispensaries. We have fifteen dispensaries scattered through districts where war has been or is likely to be. France had mobilized 18,000 of her 24,000 physicians, leaving about 6,000 for the whole of civilian France. Sometimes you will find one old doctor taking care of several villages with no means of transportation except occasionally an aged, overworked horse. Here is a chance for the Red Cross to step in and help. There is a syndicate of physicians to which the Red Cross applies to find out if a certain village has a medical adviser; if not we establish a center and operate in a given section around the center.

Bathing a Luxury.

A Red Cross doctor and nurse go out regularly to the villages in their section. Each village is informed when they are coming so that all who want medical advice or treatment can meet together in one spot and save unnecessary calls. Of course, if any one is too ill to come to the doctor, the doctor goes to him. The nurses carry among other things shower baths for babies. In many regions of France, owing to lack of facilities, bathing is a luxury, so the superstition has grown up that it is dangerous. Now since the mothers are convinced that their children will be neither killed nor injured, but on the contrary benefited by baths, how they do look forward to them!

After all this inspiring activity of the Red Cross on the other side, romantic in spite of the drudgery and tragedy, I expected the work here to be an anti-climax. I was amazed, then, when I returned to see what we were accomplishing at home.

THE RED CROSS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

I AM too old to share the fight;
Too many years have come and gone
Since first I saw the morning light.
My youth has been and traveled on,
I am too old to join the line,
Far-flung today that truth shall live;
I may not die for what is fine,
But I am not too old to give.

I am not yet so old that I
Have drifted from the world apart
I still can hear the helpless cry,
And mercy still can reach my heart.
I still can share from day to day
The burden that our youth must bear,
And I thank God that I can say
The Red Cross is my symbol there.

I am too old to bear a lance,
Across the shell-torn Flanders' field
I may not go where troops advance
And death's grim terrors are revealed;
But I can hear the helpless call,
And I can serve them while I live;
And I thank God that through it all
I shall not be too old to give.

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES
Buy from Goodrich Dealers Located Everywhere

AT the City of Goodrich, they have officially announced the grand mileage of Goodrich's nation-wide Test Car work of 1917:

1,044,686 linear miles.

4,178,744 tire miles.

Those figures indite the Emancipation Act of motorists, freeing them from tire mishaps and amputated mileage.

Compressed in them is the story of the famous Six Fleets, and how they hurled Goodrich Tires the length and breadth of our nation, over city pavement and country road, ploughing them through sand and mud; mauling them against rock and gravel.

Mathematics has no favorites. That multiplied mileage of 4,178,744 miles coldly, calculatingly, puts the seal of multiplied proof on Goodrich Tires, and stamps them "Tested." In that searching test, no slightest defect, no hidden short-coming could escape the sight of the Goodrich experts.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, under light and heavy cars, defied the rough going of roads wherever the Test Car Fleets rushed them.

The spiral-wrapped, cable-cord tire body, and Goodrich's tough black tread rubber fought the hard fight and conquered.

Seek tire surety and long mileage in the proven service of "America's Tested Tires." Goodrich guarantees you will get it because Goodrich tested and got it.

CLASS OF 1918 WINDS UP WORK

CLOSING EXERCISES FOR PRESENT SCHOOL YEAR BEGINS THIS EVENING.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

DR. J. C. BROWN WILL DELIVER ADDRESS FOR THIS OCCASION.

This is commencement week for the students at the Thief River High school, and Friday evening will see the work of the present graduating class come to a close.

The year has been the busiest in the history of the school. Besides the usual studies and preparations which are always associated with the courses in high school, the war has entailed duties upon the pupils such as none of their predecessors had to contend with. This extra work, often being of the highest importance, has been carried on with a cheerfulness and willingness that has won the admiration of the entire community. Early in the war Prof. J. H. Hay enlisted the elder pupils of the schools under his charge in the work of aiding in every way possible those whose duty it was to see that Thief River Falls and Pennington county did not fall behind in the hundreds of undertakings of different kinds inaugurated to aid the great war enterprise of the nation. They have worked conscientiously and well at whatever task has been set for them and are entitled to much credit for aid so freely given.

Programs For the Week.

The baccalaureate sermon delivered by Rev. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening was listened to by an audience that nearly filled the large hall. Dr. Barackman's words were both encouraging and impressive and their import was such as to remain long in the memories of those who heard him. The complete sermon appears on another page of this issue.

Class Day Program.

The class day exercises will be held at the Auditorium tonight, when the following program will be presented:

"Our Old High"—Mixed Chorus.

Ole J. Osness.

The death of Ole J. Osness occurred Sunday, May 12th, at his home in Sanders township, after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Osness was seventy years and two months old and had been very ill for the past three weeks. His death was caused by a cancer. He leaves an aged wife and three children, two boys and one girl. Mr. Osness is one of the oldest settlers in this vicinity having moved to Sanders township thirty years ago. Funeral services were held today from his home and the remains were laid to rest in the Hegland cemetery in Sanders township.

Mrs. Mary Anna Pyka.

The death of Mrs. Mary Pyka occurred Monday, May 13th, at the local hospital after an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Pyka was seventy-nine years old and was making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Joe Oski, near Mavie. She was brought to this city for medial attention about two weeks ago.

The funeral was held yesterday morning from the Catholic church of this city and burial was made in the Catholic cemetery west of the city.

Red Cross Notice.

The North township branch of the Red Cross will hold a meeting on Saturday, May 18th, at 3 p. m., at the Commercial club rooms in Thief River Falls. All interested are requested to be present.

M. H. BALLANGRUD, Chairman.

Ward-Backe.

On Wednesday evening, May 15th, one of the prettiest weddings of the season took place at the Backe home, 313 Riverside avenue, when Miss Emma Amalia Backe, daughter of Lars Backe of this city, became the bride of Gaston Ward, also of Thief River Falls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. I. T. Anstad, pastor of the Synod Lutheran church. The cozy living room was beautifully decorated with ferns, smilax, pink and white carnations and white brides' roses. In the bay windows were masses of ferns and smilax with pink carnations used profusely throughout. Pink flowers hung in festoons from the electric lights. The bride wore a pearl white gown of silk marquisette and satin over white satin, which was beautiful in its simplicity, the only trimming being a plain satin bodice of white. She wore a white net veil caught in cap effect with orange blossoms. Her shower bouquet was of orange blossoms and valley lillies. Miss Gena Granum attended the bride, and wore a dainty pink organdie dress and carried pink roses. The groom was attended by Ole C. Granum. As the bridal party entered the living room Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by Mrs. I. T. Anstad.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pink and white crepe paper and flowers. White cupids tied at the ends of white satin ribbons, which hung from the ceiling, encircled the wedding cake in the center of the table. Cupid place cards and nut baskets added to the beauty of the table decorations. Miss Agnes Tandberg played a number of piano selections during the dinner. Beside the members of the bridal party the guests were: Rev. and Mrs. I. T. Anstad, Mr. and Mrs. Svere Loveid of Middle River, Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Loken and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Bakke, Mr. and Mrs. Alf J. Berry, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Arhart, Mr. and Mrs. P. Hoglin, Mrs. P. Jacobson, Misses May Roberts, Lena Evenson, Agnes Tandberg, Emma Tandberg, Johanna Jacobson, Gena Hanson, Agnes Bakke, Dora Holmes and Edwin Bakke.

Miss Backe has been city Librarian for a number of years and also taught in the public schools of this city for a time before taking the position as Librarian. She is one of this city's most popular young women, being active in social and public work.

Mr Ward came here a number of years ago and is mail clerk on the Soo Wheatline running from here to Kenmare. He is a splendid young man, highly regarded by all who know him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward left last evening for the Twin Cities where they will spend a few days of their wedding trip before returning to this city. They will be at home after June 15th, at 313 Riverside avenue.

Wilson-Kolstad.

On Saturday May 11th, a marriage license was issued by Clerk of Court Adolf Eklund to Lawrence S. Wilson and Miss Alvira Kolstad of St. Hilaire. They were married the same day in Crookston and the following item is taken from the Crookston Times:

Saturday evening occurred the marriage of Lawrence Wilson to Alvira Kolstad. The ceremony took place at the Norwegian Lutheran church parsonage with Rev. P. Moen officiating. The young couple are both from St. Hilaire and are well known in this city. Wm. J. Walsh and Mary Anderson escorted the party to this city and helped in the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson left this morning for Duluth, where they will spend a short time visiting with relatives. They will be home to their friends at St. Hilaire after the first of July.

At the Princess.

The week at the Princess opens this evening with Pauline Starke and Wallace McDonald in "The Shoes That Danced." It is a story of an East Side girl who defies gang law and saves her sweetheart from the law's clutches.

Actual scenes connected with the activities of the Rainbow Division in France will be depicted along with Friday evening's program. These are actual scenes taken at the front and will be of particular interest to many here because of the boys from the city who are members of this now famous division.

The play for the evening is "Sunshine Nan," starring Ann Pennington, one of the most delightful actresses on the screen. The play is an adaptation of "Calvary Alley," by Alice Hegan Rice and is full of both fun and pathos.

"Life's Whirlpool" is the offering for Saturday evening and the star is Ethel Barrymore, who is supported by such artists as Alan Hale, Paul Everton and Ricca Allen. This play was written for Miss Barrymore by her brother, Lionel, and is said to be one of the best in which she has appeared.

All that it is necessary to say about Sunday evening's program is that William S. Hart appears in "The Silent Man." It is a Hart picture throughout with the only Hart in the leading role.

Dorothy Dalton has a character particularly fitted to her style of acting in "Unfaithful" which comes on Monday night. In this play a jealous writer shoots his beautiful wife and finds out afterwards that he has been mistaken in his opinion of her.

On Tuesday evening Alice Brockwell appears in "To Honor and Obey," a picturization of the great New York stage success. It is a wonderful picture of out-of-door life. There is also a good comedy, "Screen Telegram."

One of the best pictures of the week will be seen on Wednesday night when Charles Ray appears in "Playing the Game." This is another great out-door picture in which this peerless young actor is seen at his best.

BARLEY FLOUR IS WHEAT SUBSTITUTE

In another column of this issue of The Times will be found an advertisement inserted by the Thief River Grocery company calling attention to the government's request that barley be more generally used as a wheat substitute and giving a number of delicious dishes that may be made from this very valuable grain.

Barley is one of the staple food products of many European lands and the people there have thrived on its use for centuries. Americans have always had such an abundance of wheat that they have never become acquainted with the palatable and nutritious qualities of barley, but if they are wise they will heed the government's request in this respect without further delay. Wheat flour may become absolutely unobtainable so far as the people here at home are concerned and it will be well to know something about the available substitutes.

Read this advertisement over, order a sack of barley flour and prepare bread, biscuits, waffles, muffins or any other article for which wheat has been generally used and you will be more than pleased with the result.

The printing of this advertisement at this time is but another instance where the wholesale grocery house in this city has spent money in educating the consuming public along lines of living that are proving both economical and healthful.

PICK JURORS FOR JUNE COURT TERM

The petit jury for the June term of the district court, which convenes on the 25th, has been selected. Whether or not a grand jury will be impaneled has not yet been decided. Those who will serve on the petit body are:

M. C. Burns, Peter Eberhart, P. J. Keating, Pat Soards, M. C. Harlow, M. M. Johnson and Phil Zeh, Thief River Falls; Iver Solheim, Kratka; Swan Johnson and Carl J. Erickson, Rocksbury; Theodore Halvorson, Wyandotte; J. O. Thorstad and A. N. K. Anderson, Sanders; Gunder Erickson, Goodridge; Geo. M. Gunderson and H. C. Woolson, Silverton; H. T. Hanson, Hickory; Peter Bugge, Numedal; Arthur Peterson and Andrew Faragen, Reiner; Waldie Christianson, North; Peter Thune, Smiley; J. J. Helrud and Jens Almquist, St. Hilaire.

Farmers Club Picnic.

The Silverton Farmers club will hold its annual picnic on Sunday, May 26, at the farm of Louis Stenseth, seven miles east and three miles south of Thief River Falls. A general invitation has ben extended, it being particularly desired that members of other clubs attend. There will be sports and games of all kinds and a general good time is promised.

Will Take Nurses in Training.

The Physicians hospital announces that they have an opening at the present time for four nurses in training. Among other requirements it is necessary that the applicant have at least two years high school education or its equivalent. This is a splendid opportunity for any who wish to take up nursing and those desiring to make application are requested to report to Miss Rock at the hospital.

To The Public.

(Political advertising prepared and inserted by D. P. O'Neill in his own behalf and to be paid for by him at the rate of 6c per line.)

Having filed for a second term for the Senate from the 65th District, I deem it right and proper that the voters should know my exact position first. I stand squarely behind the President in the prosecution of the war, be the time long or short, until the military spirit is crushed and the world made safe for all its peoples. And if elected, I will stand as a representative of all the people and not as a champion of any particular class. I feel at this time that all energy should be directed to winning the war and that after vic[illegible] is won will be the proper time [illegible] take up economic adjustments. I [illegible] in favor of the State doing everyth[illegible] in its power for the comfort and ca[illegible] of its splendid body of young men who are going forth to fight that Democracy may be secured to all the people of the earth.

Will publish my Legislative platform later.

MILK

The best food we have

GIVE YOUR CHILDREN MILK

A QUART a day for every child, if possible, a pint without fail. Plenty of milk will help give all your children, big and little, the chance for health they ought to have. Buy more milk and less meat and your family will be better fed.

MILK HELPS YOUR CHILDREN TO GROW. Besides well-known food substances it has something special which they must have to grow. Your children can get a little of this from other foods, but not enough. Give your boys and girls milk for their chance to grow.

MILK HELPS YOUR CHILDREN TO KEEP WELL. Look at children who do not get milk, but get tea and coffee instead. Aren't most of them pale and sickly? There are always very many sick children in cities and in countries where milk is scarce. When milk prices go up and mothers begin to economize on milk more children become sick. Do not let your children run this risk. Give them fresh, clean milk and help them to grow up strong and well and win in their fight against disease. Save on other things if you must, but not on milk, your child's best food.

BE SURE YOUR MILK IS CLEAN AND FRESH. If you live in the city, buy it pasteurized from a clean dairy. In the country see that your cows and milkers are clean and healthy. Keep your milk clean, cold, and covered.

ALL RESPOND TO SECOND APPEAL

CITY'S APPORTIONMENT FOR RED CROSS PRACTICALLY MET FIRST DAY.

COUNTRY COMING IN FINE

PEOPLE IN EVERY SECTION OF COUNTY ARE DONATING LIBERALLY AND GLADLY.

As usual, Pennington county is going over the top. And, as usual, Pennington county will be among the first in the state of Minnesota to do so.

The city of Thief River Falls practically subscribed its quota of $5,000 toward the Red Cross on the first day of the drive. According to Chairman G. Howard Smith, the teams turned in a total of $4,255.50 on the pledge cards submitted and had enough in sight for early the following morning to more than make up the sum needed.

A Flying Start.

When the solicitors started out from the Commercial club rooms on Monday morning it was with the intention of doing the job up in good style and doing it quick. They did not anticipate any trouble in making the quota assigned and met with none. Previous to their leaving Chairman Smith had informed each team commander just what was expected of the men under him. The city had been carefully districted and each individual alloted an amount which it was thought he or she ought to be able to contribute. The plan worked like a charm, practically the only changes made in the assessments being in the way of increases.

The City Allotments.

When the canvassers reported after supper it was found that a total of $4,255.50 had been pledged, leaving but $744.50 to be secured later on. For the First ward, Chairman Bernhard Knutson announced a collection of $889 out of an allotment of $1127. Chairman M. N. Benson reported the Second ward as having subscribed $665 of its quota of $1,039.50. The Third ward did not wait for any further developments but went over the top on the first day, $760 being obtained when only $624.50 was expected. Peter Myhrum had charge of the solicitors for this ward. The Fourth, where John Bratrud was in command, did nearly as well, reporting $973 with $996 expected. The railroad men on this division of the Soo were down for $1,170 while those at the Great Northern depot were expected to contribute $43. Two teams were sent out to round up the employes of the former road, J. W. Hendry and H. A. Pratt composing one, and N. J. Silk and E. F. Dolan the other, and the result of their joint efforts was $889. Agent W. E. Baker looked after the Great Northern employes and he reported a collection of $79.50.

Country is Doing Well.

County Chairman Thomas A. Way of the Red Cross reports that the outlying sections are going to do as well proportionately. The rain on Tuesday prevented any great amount of work being carried on and the roads in many places were not in very good shape yesterday so that the work has been retarded somewhat. Many districts are already reported over the top, however, according to County Agent R. P. White, who is in direct charge of this work. That the $5,000 expected from the farming sections will be forthcoming is certain and this will put the county up to expectations. Everyone connected with the drive is highly pleased and is certain that the quota will be exceeded by a comfortable sum.

PLACED RED CROSS QUOTA ON TAX LIST

OFFICIALS OF NEW SOLUM TOWNSHIP WOULD EQUALIZE ASSESSMENT.

The board of supervisors of the township of New Solum believe that everyone should be required to bear their just share in the support of the Red Cross. Last Friday they held a meeting and decided to add the $170 assigned as the township's allotment to the general real estate tax list and thus do away with all the trouble of raising the necessary amount by soliciting. It was held that in the recent Liberty Loan drive a number of persons escaped buying their share because the bonds were only issued in $50 denominations and the value of their holdings did not necessitate the purchase of a bond of this size. Consequently they escaped altogether and the town board intended that nothing of the kind should occur again. By adding the sum required to the tax list everybody would have to pay in proportion to their property holdings.

It is likely that these officials have simply succeeded in allowing everyone to escape donating through this move. There is no law on the statute books under which they may proceed to secure this money by general taxation. If that sort of thing were to be permitted the government might better have made it a general tax in the first place. It is very much to be feared that the New Solum town officers have, with the best intentions in the world, started something they will not be permitted to carry to a successful conclusion.

MEETING OF LOAN CHAIRMEN CALLED FOR JUNE FIRST

In order to map out a campaign to be followed during the coming nation-wide sale of War Stamps and Certificates there will be a meeting of the chairmen for the different loan districts of Pennington county held at the Commercial club rooms at one o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, June 1. There are a number of things to talk over and it is hoped that those upon whom will in a great measure devolve the responsibility for again sending the county over the top will be on hand. All members of the executive committee are also asked to be present.

GEO G. JOHNSON, Chairman.

BIG FARMER PICNIC NEAR ST. HILAIRE

BIG CROWD EXPECTED AT GATHERING IN AUBOL'S GROVE SATURDAY.

Indications are that one of the largest gatherings of farmers ever seen in Pennington county will congregate at the Aubol grove near St. Hilaire on Saturday for the purpose of attending the big farmer picnic scheduled for that date.

Among the speakers will be Frank M. Barton, who is a candidate in the primaries for the Republican nomination for congressman, and Rev. R. T. Maxwell of Colorado, a well-known orator and minister. Both will address the gathering during the afternoon and as everyone is naturally interested in hearing what a candidate for congress has to say many of our people who are not engaged in farming will no doubt make the trip.

Rev. Maxwell has made numerous addresses throughout the Northwest during the past year and is said to be a brilliant, convincing speaker.

The committee in charge has spared no pains to make every provision for those attending and a good time is assured.

OUR BOYS IN ARMY GAIN PROMOTIONS

NORMAN PETERSON MADE SERGEANT-MAJOR—ZEH AND BRYANT ADVANCED.

Pennington county boys in the service of Uncle Sam have gained recognition and promotion in numerous instances, most of those who enlisted early in the game having been advanced above the grade of private. This week The Times has received word that two of our boys have made the grade—one of them being particularly lucky. Norman Peterson, who was among the first to go from this city, has been made regimental sergeant-major of the First Minnesota at Camp Cody. While this position in itself is chiefly ornamental, yet it is the highest post that may be achieved by a non-commissioned man. The next step is second lieutenant and if this young fellow keeps on at the rate he has been traveling the fortunes of war may yet take him out of the non-com list. A sergeant-major is a sort of official messenger for the colonel and marches at the head of his regiment and near the officers whenever the command is on parade or on duty.

Lloyd Zeh, son of Phil Zeh of this city, who enlisted with the 234th Areo squadron and has been in training at San Antonio, Tex., has been promoted to corporal, according to the Kelly Field Eagle, the publication issued by the boys at that camp.

Arthur Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Bryant, who volunteered for navy service early in the war, has been advanced to the position of first gunner's mate. This is a position of importance and responsibility and shows that this young fellow has decidedly been making good.

ASKS CLOSING OF RED LAKE SALOONS

The long-anticipated attempt to close the saloons in Red Lake Falls and Plummer through an order from the Minnesota Public Safety Commission, was made Tuesday afternoon when a delegation of Polk county citizens appeared before the Safety Commission in St. Paul and presented a petition signed by 1,200 residents of the county, asking that the saloons in these towns be closed.

The petitions have been quietly circulated during the past week and were signed largely by farmers and residents of the smaller towns in the county.

The delegation presenting the petitions and making the plea for the closing of the saloons in Red Lake county was headed by County Attorney G. A. Youngquist.

CANNOT LOCATE GRYGLA BANKER

C. E. BALLARD DISAPPEARS WHILE ON BUSINESS TRIP TO CITIES.

ACCOUNTS ALL STRAIGHT

FRIENDS FEAR HE MAY SUDDENLY HAVE BECOME MENTALLY UNBALANCED.

C. E. Ballard, president of the Farmers' State bank of Grygla, has been missing since May 10 and no trace of his whereabouts or news of what has happened to him can be found.

To St. Paul on Business.

On Friday, May 10, Mr. Ballard accompanied Mrs. Ballard to Thief River Falls where the latter was to remain as a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. L. E. Gesell, while her husband continued his journey to St. Paul on business. Mr. Ballard expected to be gone but a few days. When a week went by without his showing up his relatives and friends became alarmed for his safety and began making injuries.

His return to the bank was very important as he had left the bookkeeper, Miss Alice Hawkins, in charge, and she was unable longer to carry on the business without his presence.

Found Accounts Straight.

On May 16 Grygla was visited by a state bank examiner who went over the accounts of Mr. Ballard and found that these were all right in every way. Otto Bremner of St. Paul, vice president of the bank, was notified and he arrived to take charge of affairs. He also reported that nothing was apparently wrong with the funds of the institution and was at a loss to account for the president's continued absence.

Inquiry is Started.

Mr. Ballard had stated before leaving that if wanted he might be found at the Hotel Ryan, St. Paul. Telephone communication with that hotel revealed the fact that he had registered there on the 10th. The clerk remembered him having called for the key to his room on the afternoon of that day, stating that he would take a nap. That was the last seen of him.

Effects Still in Room.

His overcoat and grip were found in the room he had occupied, the latter containing certain mortgage papers which he had taken with him to dispose of in the cities. Nothing unusual was noted with regard to the belongings found, everything indicating that the owner expected to be gone but a very short time.

Was in Poor Health.

Mr. Ballard had not been in good health since the fire which destroyed a number of buildings in Grygla last December. At that time he entered the bank building for the purpose of securing certain books or papers and it is feared that the heat or excitement may have affected him. On the advice of his physician he went to Wisconsin in April for the purpose of getting away from his work for awhile and he only returned to Grygla about ten days before his disappearance.

Mr. Ballard is 36 years of age. Mr. Bremner, who was associated with him in business for some time, states that he was a young man of the highest character and one who enjoyed the full confidence of the bank directors. He was a Mason and an Elk and those organizations are assisting the relatives in trying to find track of him.

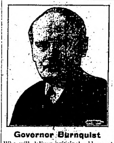
ELKS TO OBSERVE FLAG DAY, JUNE 14

EXERCISES WILL BE HELD AT AUDITORIUM AND GENERAL PUBLIC INVITED.

Tuesday, June 14, is national Flag Day and the observance of the occasion in Thief River Falls will be under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks. Preparations are under way for making this the greatest event of its kind in the history of the city. One of the best known speakers in the state will deliver the address for the occasion and there will be a monster parade in honor of the flag in which all our citizens will be asked to take part. The entire proceeding is open to the public.

Flag Day will this year have a deeper significance for Americans than ever before and as the Elks order is essentially an American institution it is but right and fitting that the function should be given under the auspices of that organization. The details are in the hands of competent committees and will be announced later. In the meantime the Elks hope that every citizen of Thief River Falls will assist them in making this occasion one of the genuine tributes to the Stars and Stripes.

Miss Ethalyn Gaylord and Miss Nora Rollefson, instructors in their school of piano, will give their last recital of the season Saturday evening of this week in the Library auditorium. All of their pupils will take part in this recital which closes the term.



Governor Burnquist

Who will deliver principal address at monster patriotic celebration to be held at Thief River Falls on Saturday evening, June 8.

GRADUATES HEAR GREAT ADDRESS

DR. J. C. BROWN OF ST. CLOUD NORMAL, PRINCIPAL COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER.

COMMENDS SCHOOL HIGHLY

SIZE OF CLASS INDICATION OF PEOPLES INTEREST IN EDUCATION.

A crowd which filled the Auditorium to the doors last Friday evening listened to an address that will long live in the memories of those present as one of the finest oratorical efforts it has ever been their good fortune to listen to. Dr. J. C. Brown, president of the State Normal school of St. Cloud, was the speaker and the occasion was the annual commencement of the Thief River Falls high school. The crowd was one of the largest ever seen at a similar gathering in the city and the program throughout in keeping with the splendid oration delivered by Mr. Brown.

Compliments the City.

In opening his address the speaker took occasion to compliment the people of the city and neighborhood in their evident interest in educational matters. He said that as a usual thing he found graduating classes in cities the size of Thief River Falls numbering from 30 to 35 while here there were 76 in the class. This, he maintained, indicated a condition that pleased him greatly.

The Change in Standards.

Dr. Brown devoted a considerable part of his remarks to calling attention to the change that has taken place in educational standards in this country during the past half century. He stated that whereas education was only a short time ago considered as something within the reach of only a favored few it has now become the common heritage of every American youth. In days gone by education was also measured in different terms. Formerly a person's learning was indicated almost solely by what he was able to quote from books while now the requirements had broadened out until they included a

Proceeds to Red Cross.

The Sons and Daughters of Norway celebrated the 17th of May in a quiet manner at their hall in this city. An appropriate program had been arranged for the occasion and the large audience enjoyed the proceedings very much. The proceeds of the entertainment given amounted to $25.95 and this was donated to the Red Cross. The affair was in charge of the following committees: Sons of Norway—E. K. Aasen, William Parbst, H. Heckne and T. Reep. Daughters' Lodge—Mrs. E. K. Aasen, Mrs. P. Jacobson, Mrs. E. Overland, Mrs. E. M. Bennis and Mrs. William Parbst.

BATTALION DRILL FOR NEXT SUNDAY

After a number of late starts there is now every indication that the long-deferred battalion drill of the home guard companies in this section will be held at East Grand Forks next Sunday. Major Loring has notified all captains to have their companies ready to start without fail as the event will be a big one in the annals of the Eleventh.

It is expected that five different units wil be on hand, representing Crookston, Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks, Warren and Ada. This means that there will be between four and five hundred men in uniform at the Polk county town and they should make quite a showing.

Because of the distance between this city and East Grand Forks, Capt. W. B. Fuller wishes it impressed upon the minds of his company members that they will have to be on hand and ready to start at 7:30 o'clock sharp. This will get the bunch to their destination about ten o'clock which will give them time to get their bearings before dinner

DISPLAY CORN IS TESTING STRONG

COMMERCIAL CLUB EXHIBIT SHOWS GERMINATION OF 93 TO 96 PER CENT.

FOR USE IN SEED PLOTS

THIS VALUABLE HOME-GROWN PRODUCT WILL BE CAREFULLY PARCELLED OUT.

Those who have admired the corn exhibit at the Commercial club will be interested to know that much of it is to be used for seed this year. Attempts have been made in the past two years to secure this corn for seed purposes, but until this spring the club has not been willing to part with the exhibit. Now, however, due to the unusualy urgent demand for good seed corn, County Agent Ross P. White secured permission to test the corn and to sell it for seed purposes, provided it should prove of value.

High School Assisted.

F. G. Wells, instructor in the high school department of agriculture, was asked to make an individual ear test of this corn. The ears were all numbered and five kernels selected from each, these being taken from different parts of the ear in order to secure a fair sample. The kernels were then placed in rag doll seed testers, properly numbered and recorded, and allowed to sprout. Students in the various classes in the Agricultural department assisted in this work, converting it into a valuable class exercise.

Tests 96 Per Cent.

Four hundred and fifty ears were tested, representing three varieties of northern grown corn: Northwestern Dent, Minnesota No. 13 and Minnesota No. 23. Of the Northwestern Dent 135 ears were tested. Of these kernels from 116 all grew; one kernel from 15 other ears failed to grow; two from one ear failed to grow, and three from three ears failed to grow. Out of the 675 kernels from these ears a total of 25 failed to grow, making a germination test of 96 per cent for the Northwestern Dent.

Ninety-seven ears of Minnesota No. 13, a yellow dent, were tested. Of these the kernels from 81 all grew. One kernel from eight ears failed to grow, two kernels from three and three kernels from three failed while all kernels from two ears failed to germinate. Of the 485 kernels tested from this variety, 33 failed to germinate, making a germination test of 93 per cent for the Minnesota No. 13.

No. 23 Not So Good.

Of the Minnesota No. 23, a white-capped, dent, 152 ears were tested. Of these the kernels from 68 all grew. One kernel from each of 17 ears failed to grow; two kernels from 23 ears, three kernels from 23 ears, and four of the five kernels from 10 ears failed to germinate. All of the kernels from 11 ears failed to sprout. Of the total of 760 kernels tested from this variety 227 failed, giving a germination test of 70 per cent for the Minnesota No. 23.

Mice destroyed the test from 24 ears while 42 ears are still being tested in one "rag doll" but the above report will give a very accurate estimate of value of this corn for seed. Those ears that showed a poor test will be eliminated.

BUT ONE CARLOAD OF FORD TRACTORS

NO MORE CAN BE PROCURED FOR ANY MINNESOTA COUNTY.

"The Schmeizel Tractor Co., of St. Paul, who are Minnesota state distributors for the Fordson Tractor, ask me to announce that arrangements are now completed to distribute tractors to the farmers of Minnesota at factory prices.

"I have volunteered and am donating my services. All middleman's profits are entirely eliminated. The farmer will receive these machines at the factory price, which is $750 f. o. b. cars, Dearborn, Mich.

"Mr. Ford's motive is to increase the production of food and I am instructed to place his plans in the hands of the proper officials in this locality who are interested in increasing their productive acreage.

"Shipments will start immediately and I will receive applications from farmers or others interested.

"These applications will be handled promptly on account of the lateness of the season.

"England has had 6,000, Canada 1,000, Michigan 1,000, Ohio, 1,000, Iowa 1,000, New York 1,000, Indiana 1,000, Wisconsin 500, Virginia 200, North Carolina 100, South Carolina 100, Massachusetts 100, Cuba 100, Kentucky 100 tractors under this plan. Minnesota farmers are to be next to benefit by it."

The above welcome news was announced by Mr. McFarland. It constitutes a formal announcement to the effect that the Henry Ford & Son tractor factory which has been doing war service for other countries and other states these many months, is to be placed at the disposal of Minnesota farmers at factory prices to the end that they may bring food production up to the maximum point this season, when food production must be stimulated to the utmost in order to win the war.

But one carload of these tractors will be alloted to each county in the state and Pennington county farmers who wish to secure one should notify Mr. McFarland at once. There is absolutely no profit for the dealer in this transaction, the tractor being sold at cost. The tractor campaign is put on in order to aid crop production during the war and only a limited number of machines can be produced.

SECOND PAYMENT, THIRD LIBERTY LOAN, SOON DUE

All subscribers to the Third Liberty Loan are notified that a payment to the amount of 20 per cent of the total subscribed will be due and payable on May 27. It is very important that these payments be made promptly—in fact, the government insists upon their being so met. Do not fail to go to your bank and attend to this matter.

DATE CHANGED FOR GOVERNOR'S SPEECH

WILL BE IN THIEF RIVER FALLS ON SATURDAY EVENING JUNE 8.

The date for the big loyalty celebration in Thief River Falls has been changed from Sunday afternoon, June 9, to Saturday evening, June 8. Gov. Burnquist, who will be the principal speaker of the occasion finds it easier to make the latter time correspond with his other dates in this part of the state and has requested that the slight change be made.

The meeting will be held at the Auditorium and it is the intention to make it the biggest affair of its kind pulled off in northwestern Minnesota this year. Invitations have been extended to nearby communities to join in this demonstration and it is expected that the response will be general.

WANTED TO ENLIST WITH ALLIED ARMY

BUT WAS NOT PARTICULAR WHICH COUNTRY HE FOUGHT FOR.

G. Robbins, a Syrian by birth, is firmly convinced that Germany ought to be licked and is anxious to contribute his share toward bringing about that highly desirable state of affairs. He has had considerable trouble in arriving at a point from which he can get action, however, but this has finally ben straightened out for him.

Robbins was a resident of Plane City, Mo., until recently and was registered there. While awaiting his call he was approached by agents of the British government who convinced him that it made no difference for which one of the allied governments he did his fighting and consequently he had better join the English army. He went to Kansas City for the purpose of enlisting and was shipped on to Chicago. There he joined a number of British subjects who were going back to Canada to enter the service. Arriving at the boundary it was found that he was an American citizen of draft age and he was therefore denied admission. Sent back to Thief River Falls he applied to County Auditor T. P. Anderson to help him find a way out of the difficulty. Mr. Anderson communicated with the Platte City authorities and these told the Pennington county official to send him to Camp Dodge on or about the 25th of the month. This was perfectly satisfactory to all parties concerned. In the meantime the young man has found a job with the Minnesota Northwestern railway.

TWO MORE FILINGS FOR COUNTY JOBS

VICTOR BRINK FOR COMMISSIONER AND N. K. NELSON FOR PROBATE JUDGE.

Two more candidates cast their hats into the ring for county offices the past week. Something of a surprise was sprung yesterday when Nels K. Nelson, 1202 Nora street, city, announced himself as a candidate for judge of probate against Wilhelm Michelet. It was rather expected that the latter would have no opposition for the place but Mr. Nelson has upset the dope. He is a grain buyer and has been a resident of the city for many years.

The other filing was that of Victor Brink of Black River township, who desires to become the successor of Olaf Larson as county commissioner from the Third district. Mr. Larson has announced that he will not again become a candidate. It is hinted that there will be others in the race for this post before the hour for the last filings arrives.

MEETS DEATH IN R.R. YARD HERE

HUGO GULDEN CAUGHT BETWEEN CARS SATURDAY EVENING.

EXACT STORY NOT KNOWN

WAS WORKING ALONE ABOUT MIDWAY OF TRAIN WHEN STRUCK.

Hugo Gulden, 21 years of age, died at two o'clock Sunday morning at the hospital in this city as the result of injuries received while at work as a switchman in the yard of the Soo railroad. The accident happened about 10 o'clock during a heavy rain and while the young man was working alone at about the center of a long train so that the exact facts in connection with the accident are not known.

Caught Between Couplers.

The generally accepted version is that Gulden had stepped in between the cars for the purpose of completing a coupling and was caught between the bumpers. The wheels did not run over him and he was able to get out from between the cars unaided. He was assisted into the caboose by others of the crew and hastily examined but no sign of an injury could be seen on the surface. Gulden insisted that he was so badly hurt, however, and stated that he realized nothing could be done for him. An automobile was summoned and the injured man taken to the hospital as quickly as possible. Here it was found that he was bleeding to death from internal injuries and no hope was held out for his recovery.

Was Experienced Man.

Deceased was 21 years of age on Christmas eve last year and would thus have been one of those registering for military service next month. He began his railroading career as call boy at the station here, working later as a brakeman on the Great Northern. He returned to the Soo last December and has since that time been working in the yards here. He was a young man very highly regarded by his superiors and associates, being industrious and of good habits. He enjoyed a wide circle of friends in the city who were deeply shocked to learn of his untimely demise.

A Railroading Family.

Besides his parents, the dead man leaves two brothers and one sister. The former are Edwin H. and Gilbert, who as well as the father, are Soo line employes. The sister, Miss Adelia, is attending a business college in Minneapolis.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Catholic church.

EXPECT CROWDS AT CREAMERY OPENING

NEW PLANT AT GOODRIDGE WILL BE INSPECTED BY PUBLIC MONDAY.

Next Monday the new creamery plant at Goodridge will be opened to the public and visitors are expected from all nearby sections for the purpose of helping the people of that neighborhood celebrate the event. The building is the one originally constructed as a creamery at Torgerson and which was moved to Goodridge during the past winter. New machinery and modern equipment has been added and a new company organized for the purpose of taking the institution over. One of the best buttermakers to be found in the Northwest has been engaged for the manufacturing end of the enterprise and the business affairs of the concern placed in the hands of a strong board of directors.

The region about Goodridge is naturally adapted to the pursuit of dairying and the raising of fine cattle has of late years received a decided impetus in the section. The eastern portion of Pennington county will before long be recognized as one of the greatest natural dairying neighborhoods in the country and the new creamery is expected to become a decided factor in this development.

Supt. J. H. Hay of the Thief River Falls schools, will be one of the speakers during the afternoon.

Another Stock Raiser Coming.

Fred D. Voth, for many years a prominent stock man of Goodhue county, has purchased the S. H. Dahlen farm of 240 acdes in Excel township and will move here with his effects about the first of October. Mr. Voth is a breeder of pure bred Holstein cattle and Poland China hogs and has been very succesful in these lines. He will bring with him a considerable herd of the former and will at once engage in dairying and stock raising on a large scale. He will prove a valuable addition to the live stock men of this section of the state as he is a man of wide experience and ample means.

Miss Olga Fricker of St. Hilaire, who recently closed her school near Grygla, visited in this city yesterday on her way home.

I AM THE RED CROSS.

Henry Payson Dowst

(With acknowledgements to Robert H. Davis, Author of "I Am the Printing Press.")

I am the Symbol of the pity of God.
I burgeon upon the flauting banner of victory and the drooping guidon of defeat.
I am the token of peace in the midst of battle, of gentleness shining through the sombro mists of hate.
I am a chevron on the sleeve of mercy, an honor mark set high upon the brow of compassion.
I am the color of blood spilled for democracy, the form of Christ's tree of agony, and my followers, at need, crucify themselves to make men live.
I carry the hope of life into the red pits of death and a dying soldier salutes me and smiles as he goes to touch the hand of God Almighty.
I stand for the organized love of mankind, the co-ordinated impulses of young and old to do good, the sacred efficiency of human service.
I mark the flag under which are mobilized the forces of industry and finance, of church and school, of capital, of labor, of genius and of sinew.
I am Vivilization's Godspeed to those who defend her; I am the message from home.
I am the Symbol of the pity of God.
I AM THE RED CROSS.

BULLY FOR THE NINTH RESERVE.

The Ninth Reserve district, of which the state of Minnesota forms a part, led the entire country in the percentage of over-subscriptions to the Third Liberty Loan. Every state and practically every county over-subscribed their quota, the toal subscriptions being 172 per cent. The minimum sum asked in the entire country was $3,000,000,000 while the subscriptions total $4,170,019,680.

The farming sections of the Middle West stand at the head of over-subscriptions, although every district went over the top. It is a showing of which every citizen in the district should be proud and it has given the people here a standing with the rest of the country that is envinble

Pennington county enjoys a particularly proud distinction in connection with this achievement. The corrected record has not yet been given out by state headquarters, but according to those who were in St. Paul at the time the returns began coming in, Pennington was the first Minnesota county to report that its quota had been over-subscribed. This was on the evening of the first day of the drive. The city of Thief River Falls was over the top of its allotment by noon of that day. Every township in the county will receive a honor flag for having exceeded its quota and one township will receive the gold star indicating that its allotment was doubled.

It was a wonderful campaign and the news of its overwhelming success must be the most depressing received by the kaiser for a long time.

THINGS THE FARMER SHOULD REMEMBER.

On the 17th day of June the farmers of the Ninth district are going to select the man who will in all probability represent them in congress for the next two years. There is an election in November, to be sure, but as far as the Ninth district is concerned the selection will practically be made at the primaries.

There are two candidates, both seeking the Republican nomination, and the farmers will decide the issue between them. One is Halvor Steenerson of Crookston, for sixteen years the representative from this district and personally known to almost every man and woman residing therein. The other is Frank M. Barton of Hahnomen, a railroad man. The Times has nothing whatever against the latter and cheerfully admits that he has a perfect right to seek the suffrages of his fellow citizens in an endeavor to go to congress as their representative. While admitting this, there are nevertheless a few things in favor of retaining the present capable and hard-working members, among which may be mentioned the following, which we hope our farmer friends will consider before casting their ballots at the primaries:

It was Halvor Steenerson who first established the principle that the people can regulate railroad rates—by winning the Steenerson grain rate case in the supreme court.

It is Halvor Steenerson who has always defended the dairy industry against the oleomargine interests' attempts to sell their products as butter.

It was Halvor Steenerson who was most active in building up the rural mail delivery service.

It is Halvor Steenerson who is called upon as spokesman for the grain growers in their fight for honest grades and better prices.

It is Halvor Steenerson who is now most active in trying to clear the toll gates from the channels of the grain trade, in order that the producer may get full value for his products. He will succeed in that if given time.

A congressman, though he has the very best intentions, can be no good to you unless he has the experience and ability to carry through what he undertakes. For sixteen years Steenerson has been elected to Congress by the farmer vote of the Ninth district. All these years, and long before that, he has stood by the farmers on every issue in which they were interested. And the farmers have always stood by him.

He offers to renew the partnership for another two years. It is up to the farmers.

THE DANGER OF PEACE.

Any statement to the effect that the American people do not desire peace would certainly be about as far from the truth as it is possible to get, but that a settlement of the war may be reached on anything like the terms proposed or hinted thus far by Germany is something that does not permit of consideration at all. The world has suffered too much from the arogance and ambitions of those in charge of affairs in Germany to permit of a discussion of peace until such time as they are brought to realize that a repetition of the horrors now being enacted cannot again be tollerated. To permit Germany to end the war while being able to claim vindication of the remotest part of the causes for which her overlords insist it was started would be equivalent to admitting that she was victorious.

There is no question but what Germany will try to end the war on some sort of compromise basis as soon as it becomes apparent that the western offensive has failed. Everything was staked on the success of that venture.

Germany cannot win this war. That must soon become apparent even to the masses of Germans, who have certainly been slow to preceive the inevitable trend of events. The next step will be a move for peace and it is in considering this phase of the situation that the Allies must be watchful. The people of England and France are war-weary but give no sign of wishing to purchase peace at any such price as Germany seems determined to put upon it. In this stand they should be supported to the very limit by American public opinion.

Writing in the Kansas City Star, Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt thus warns his countrymen against this next German move:

"As now seems likely, if the great German drive fails, it is at least possible that, directly or indirectly, the Germans will then start a peace drive. In such case they will probably endeavor to make such seeming concessions as to put a premium on pacifist agitation for peace in the free countries of the West against which they are fighting. To yield to such peace proposals would be fraught with the greatest dangers to the Allies, and especially to our own country in the future.

"Let us never forget that no promise Germany make can be trusted. The kultur developed under the Hohenzollerns rests on shameless treachery and duplicity no less than on ruthless violence and barbarity."

SAVING FOOD WILL WIN.

It no doubt appears at times as if many of the regulations issued for guidance of our people are more for effect than anything else. The orders are generally being obeyed, however, without question or any thought of evasion. The women of the country in some instances may have found it hard to understand the reason for the wheat, sugar and fat-saving edicts that have gone forth and while they have in a sense realized that some such measures may be advisable in times of war they have sometimes not been able to see just how the little mite their householf is able to contribute can be of any material assistance. To those who believe that they are being inconvenienced to no good purpose, the following, taken from The Week's Food Fact, issued by the Minnesota Food Administrator, is particularly directed:

"The women of this country are young yet in suffering. They do not know what it means to have their homes destroyed, their children lost or killed before their eyes, or driven into slavery by the Germans. They do not know how it feels to huddle in a cellar all night, expecting a bomb every moment to fall on the building over their heads. They do not have to stand in line long hours in heat and in rain waiting for a meager ration of food, and then sometimes to find they have waited in vain and go home empty-handed and hungry. Whether or not they will have to endure this depends upon the manner in which they use the food supply now. Lloyd George of England, is responsible for the statement, and it comes after four years of war experience: 'Only 25 percent of the final victory will be due to the army and navy, brave and wonderful as their feats may be. The larger part will be due to the courage, endurance and supreme unselfishness of those behind the lines.'"

ALL ARE GIVING SOMETHING.

Particularly gratifying to those having Red Cross matters in charge is the response met with among the farmers of the county. Before the present drive for funds was started a general canvass had been begun for contributions of farm products among our farmers. A large number have already been interviewed, and County Agent R. P. White, who has this matter in hand, states that not in a single instance has a refusal been encountered. Donations range all the way from 40-acre farms, city lots, and ten acre potato plots to poultry and eggs. When the time comes for collecting all these donations it will be found that a sum has been realized greater than is now dreamt of even by the most enthusiastic.

The amount of money this represents is in itself naturally very gratifying but of far greater significance and import is the spirit in which these requests have been met. It means something when solicitors are able to travel in every direction day after day on a mission of this kind and find that everywhere are the people fully aware of the necessity for assisting the Red Cross and willing in every instance to do so to the limit of their ability. It means that in no department connected with the prosecution of this war are the people of Pennington county going to fall down. No matter what is required they are going to stick it out. They will invest in bonds and certificates and stamps, of course—that's good business—but they will also come forward gladly with their share of the things that must be donated and from which there will be no return except the satisfaction of feeling that they have done their share in the greatest humanitarian campaign ever inauguarted.

Twenty Years Ago.

A difference of opinion exsited between Mayor C. L. Dobner and councilmen as to what should constitute the proper wages for city employes during the war. The matter hung fire some months, after which the salary ordinance was passed over the mayor's veto. It provided the following salaries: Mayor, $40 per year; aldermen, $25 per year; city clerk, $25 per month; fire chief, $35 per month; chief of police, $40 per month; city assessor, $100 per year; street commissioner, $1.75 per day for time actually put in.

An eight pound boy arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holzknecht.

The steamer Alice Meehan ran onto a rock in the river and was out of commission for a couple of days.

The slaughter house of Otto Olson & Co., was burned to the ground on Wednesday night. The loss included a number of fine brood sows which were being kept in the place.

F. J. Stebbins purchased the stock of drugs owned by Dr. Moeller and combined it with that previously carried by him.

The militia company held the first drill with the new guns during the week.

Phil Zeh received an order from the Red Lake Falls Milling company to furnish the brick from his yards here to be used in the construction of the new boiler room in the company's mill at Crookston.

Ten Years Ago.

The 17th day of May celebration was held on the Lars Backe premises and was largely attended. Among those taking part were Dr. Vistaunet, J. Borry, G. Halvorson and D. B. Bakke.

At the commencement exercises of the Thief River high school there were seven graduates, as follows: Ione Higgins, Esther Kretzschmar, Ida Weeks, Myrtle Blanchard, Estelle Robbecke, Ernest O'Neill and Willis Akre. The commencement address was delivered by Congressman J. Adam Bede.

The assessors were starting out on their journeys, the following valuations having been established: Farm land, from $2 to $7 per acre; horses, $30 to $75; cattle, $6 to $20; sheep, $2 and hogs $3 per cwt.

The saw mill was started up Tuesday noon for the season's run, which was expected to extend into November. The operations were delayed because of the low stage of the water in Red Lake river.

Rev. N. A. Gilchrist, pastor-at-large of the Adams Presbytery, accepted a call from the congregation in this city.

Wilhelm Michelot paid a visit to his parents in Minneapolis and took in the big 17th of May celebration there.

The new pipe organ for the Synod church was expected during the week and preparations for its installation were in progress.

The market report for the week showed the following prices prevailing: Wheat, 96c; flax, $1.10; oats, 42c; rye, 65c; barley, 60c; creamery butter, 28c; dairy butter, 25c; eggs, 12½c; potatoes, 40c.

PETERSON'S NAME TO GO ON BALLOT

COURT HOLDS THAT HE IS NOT DISQUALIFIED FROM BECOMING CANDIDATE.

The state supreme court last week dismissed proceedings to restrain Secretary of State Julius A. Schmahl, from placing the name of James A. Peterson, a Minnesota attorney, on the republican primary election ballot as candidate for United States senator.

The court held that the qualifications for United States senator are prescribed by the federal constitution.

"Peterson is not disqualified under the provisions of the federal constitution," the opinion said. The court denied the application of Leo K. Eaton, of Minneapolis, for a restraining order which Eaton sought on the ground that since Peterson filed for senator he has been convicted of violating the espionage law.

Specific charges on which Peterson's conviction was made on public addresses in which he assailed the military system of the federal government.

GATHERINGS HELD FOR "NEXT OF KIN"

STATEWIDE PLAN TO BRING RELATIVES OF FIGHTERS CLOSER TOGETHER.

Probably the greatest and most far-reaching among the many great "over there" war movements is the so-called "next of kin" movement now being launched throughout Minnesota by the America First Assocation.

This movement has a two-fold purpose. It aims, first, to cheer and inspire the parents, brothers, sisters, wives and sweethearts of our soldiers and sailors by holding "get together" meetings in every county in Minnesota on the Fourth of July, a most appropriate day for such a purpose.

By thus enabling the "next of kin" in each county to become acquainted with one another, that the more cheerful and optimistic may make their influence felt in the community, the second purpose will be a natural consequence namely, the minimizing of discouraging letters to the "boys" from the home fireside, than which there is perhaps nothing more destructive of the fighting morale. No army lad in khaki nor sailor lad in blue can do his best as a fighter—and our country needs every ounce of fight there is in them—when his spirit is shaken if not completely broken by tear-stained, disheartening letters from home. This work will be continued along practical lines through local organized effort aimed to improve the morale of those "left behind."

To give impetus and enthusiasm to the new movement launched by the America First Association, its officers and county vice presidents decided at their meeting in St. Paul last week to hold a monster statewide "next of kin" meeting in St. Paul early in June. To this gathering every father, mother, brother, sister, wife and sweetheart of a soldier or sailor from Minnesota will be invited and it is believed they will attend by the thousands.

Every effort is to be made to get President Wilson as chief speaker. If the president cannot come it is hoped to get Secretary of War Baker or some other cabinet member or an equally prominent national character. No effort will be spared to make this gathering the most notable yet held in Minnesota since America entered the world conflict.

STAMP SALE IS NEARING $30,000

LOAN DRIVE CUT DOWN OUTPUT BELOW THAT OF MARCH.

BIG CAMPAIGN TO START

PLEDGES TOTALING $219,000 AS YEAR'S ALLOTMENT MUST BE SIGNED.

The correct figures for the sales of Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps has just been made public by Postmaster John Morgan. They show that the Liberty Loan drive affected the sale of the smaller securities to some extent, but that the business is holding up well. The total for April amounted to $6,012.95 as against $7,047.46 for the preceeding month.

Certificates and Stamps to the total amount of $22,042.70 have been sold since the securities were put on the market on the first of last December. If this average were maintained it would mean $50,000 for the year, but this would be very much increased, even though no special drive were made. That such is the case is evidenced by the steady gain in sales every month since the opening date. The figures are as follows: December, $872.85; January, $3,441.09; February, $4,667.05; March, $7,048.46; April, $6,012.95. Sales during the past month averaged a fraction over $231.27 for each business day.

Big Drive Coming.

There will be a general campaign for the securing of Saving Certificate and Thrift Stamp pledges inauguarted within the next week or two. The people of Pennington county are expected to guarantee a sale of $219,000 worth of these securities during the year 1917. From this, however, will be deducted the amount previously sold so that by the time the drive gets into operation the total will probably have been reduced to about $185,000.

Seems Vast Sum.

This looks on the surface like a very large amount of money to expect from Pennington county, but the plan by which it is to be raised will make it rather an easy matter. The city of Thief River Falls alone raised more than that in one week for the Third Liberty Loan, while the whole county subscribed more in one day. In the case of the smaller securities, however, the period for payment is extended over one entire year.

Will Use Pledge Cards.

Citizens will be asked to sign a card pledging themselves to buy a certain amount of stamps or certificates each month or each week and the total thus subscribed is expected to make up the sum required within one year. At present our people are buying these securities at the rate of about $80,000 a year so it is an easy matter to figure out just how much stronger we will have to go.

City Heaviest Buyer.

George G. Johnson is the chairman in charge of this campaign and if he has the same success he that attending the loan drive he will come out with colors flying. Most of the sales of the smaller certificates have thus far been made to city people and it is proposed to call the attention to those living in the country more generally to the very desirable investment opportunities offered by these issues. That they will respond liberally when the matter is properly put before them is certain.

Attended Meeting.

Last week Chairman Johnson, accompanied by Prof. J. H. Hay, John Morgan, Dr. G. A. Penney and Dr. C. R. Crandall, attended a meeting of northwestern Minnesota representatives at Crookston for the purpose of outlining a general program to be followed during this drive. They came back enthusiastic over the outlook in the district and say that there is no doubt but that the record made in the loan campaign will be repeated.

School Children Hustling.

The campaign for the sale of stamps through the children of the schools started on Feburary 1. Up to the first of May 6627 stamps had been disposed of through this agency, the amount realized being $1,660.75.

OBJECTS TO BEING TERMED DISLOYAL

PHILIP AMON ANXIOUS TO PUT HIMSELF RIGHT WITH NEIGHBORS.

There have been very few instances in Thief River Falls where it has been necessary to take persons to task for utterances or deeds that might be regarded as disloyal. One such case was that of Phil. Amon, the tailor, but as he was able to give a very satisfactory account of his attitude nothing was done about it. Mr. Amon was reported to have made remarks such as should emanate from no good American at this time and the report coming to the attention of Capt. W. B. Fuller of the home guard, the accused was asked to attend a meeting of the guard at the Armory and answer certain questions. This he did to the satisfaction of those present and the matter was dropped.

It now appears that Mr. Amon is still under suspicion, although no further charges have been brought against him, and he says that these insinuations are unjust and injurious. As The Times does not believe that there are many people in the community who would wilfully do a person an injustice, it is deemed no more than right that he should be permitted to state his position.

Mr. Amon has the papers to prove that he was made a citizen of this country at Grand Forks in 1904 and he maintains that he has regarded the United States as his country ever since his arrival here 19 years ago. He has endeavored to earn an honest living here and not a dollar made by him has ever gone back to Germany or any other European country. He states that if he was of military age he would join the army of Uncle Sam and fight to the best of his ability. It has been a source of deep humiliation to him that his attitude has been questioned since this war broke out as he has never wilfully said anything that should throw on him the suspicion of honest people.

The Times believes that it is well to have at least a reasonable excuse for making allegations of this nature. A vast deal of damage may easily be done to innocent parties otherwise, and President Wilson has himself found it advisable to warn the people against too readily taking stock in unproved charges.

Miss Carrie Urdahl, of Goodridge, visited in this city the latter part of last week at the home of Miss Myrtle Blair.

MANY TO TRY FOR LEGISLATIVE JOBS

LIST OF THOSE WHO HAVE FILED IN NEARBY DISTRICTS.

It would seem as if the people of Clearwater county expected Representative Oscar E. Stenvick to file for re-election and are rather disappointed that he has decided not to make the race again. Mr. Stenvick was injured at the opening of the session two years ago and did not take his seat till near the close, but he did excellent work and is most highly regarded throughout the district. The Bagley Herald is very much put out over the fact that he is not in the race and the disappointment will be general. Mr. Stenvick has given no reason for his refusal to again become a candidate that The Times has heard of.

There is no dearth of legislative candidates in northwestern Minnesota, every district being very well supplied with men who believe themselves particularly qualified to make laws for the rest of the citizens. Following is a list of those seeking the position in the neighborhood:

Polk—Louis W. Borcher, John H. Boyd, C. O. Carlson, Albert O. Gullickson, Arny Grudysen.

Kittson—Victor Holmquist, George W. Matthew.

Marshall—H. O. Berve, C. L. Stevens.

Roseau—Lois Enstrom, Benjamin Franklin.

Beltrami—J. J. Opsahl, A. E. Rako, John A. Thoren.

Norman and Mahnomen—Peter Matson, J. Flikkie, Joseph M. Sluke.

LITTLE DAMAGE TO BARLEY IS REPORT

STATEMENT THAT OAT CROP WAS ALSO DAMAGED IS NOT CREDITED.

There is no denying the fact that the weather on Saturday and Sunday nights was not particularly favorable for growing crops. The thermometer went considerably below the freezing point but the damage seems to have been confined generally to war gardens. Reports from all over the state indicate that the damage to crops was not enough to be of any special account although the barley crop was in danger in some sections. It was said that the damage to barley is not great and will be noticed mostly by being thinned in spots. Many of the barley fields have not come up yet. The chief damage was done to gardens, almost every person having seeded gardens early will be obliged to do the work all over again. Tender shoots, shrubs and flowers suffered from the cold and it was said that the ever popular lilacs will be a minus quantity as a result of the scheming weatherman. The trees were well enough advanced in budding to resist the frost which arrived unannounced.

In certain sections of Pennington county the farmers feared the effect on the oat crop, which was just shooting out of the ground in many localities. Most authorities agree, however, that the stools were not damaged and that new shoots will come up with warmer weather. The rain on Tuesday night helped the outlook greatly and the damage caused by this untimely visitation of Jack Frost is now regarded as very slight.

RED CROSS POST CARDS; THEIR USE

SHOULD BE SENT TO FRANCE, NOT FILLED OUT BY RELATIVES HERE.

There has been some misunderstanding in regard to the use of the Red Cross Post Cards sent out to be forwarded to men in overseas service. Occasionally cards have been received at Minneapolis from chapters, with names of men upon them, filled in here at home. These cards should come from France, from men who will receive them with letters from home, and who are expected to send them to Minneapolis after filling in the names, addresses and home locality in the U. S. A. of comrades who are receiving no letters or packages from home.

The public in general should see that these cards are sent abroad by people who are writing to men abroad. One to each man should be sufficient at present.

The local military relief committee, of which Mrs. J. J. Richter is chairman, has prepared several hundred of these cards for distribution in this county, a supply having been sent to all branches, churches, clubs, and other organizations generally to which departed men may have belonged. Other cards are to be obtained in the stores and public places in this city and towns of the county.

Are You Going South?

Good Roads in Florida, the official publication of the Florida Automobile Association, for the month of March was this week received by Sec'y. Scott Laird of the local auto club and has been placed on the reading tables of the Commercial club. The number is filled with stories on the good roads of the southern state and brings to light the fact that road improvement in the south is just as much before the public as it is in the north.

Don't Take any Chances

A battery may seem to be doing its job nearly as well as usual—may turn the engine over strongly enough to "get by"—may supply enough current for light—may produce a fairly hot spark—and may go on doing so right up to the point where the spark of life goes out.

If you don't know that your battery's in good health, you're taking chances.

Drop in at the Service Station for ten minutes and let us test your battery.

And ask about the Still Better Willard—the only battery with the "Bone Dry" principle that is your absolute assurance of getting a battery as new as the day it left the factory.

Both Ends
(Producer and Consumer)
Against The Middle
(The Packer)

The consumer wants to pay a low price for meat.

The farmer wants to get a high price for cattle.

The packer stands between these conflicting demands, and finds it impossible to completely satisfy both.

The packer has no control over the prices of live stock or meat, and the most that can be expected of him is that he keep the difference between the two as low as possible. He does this successfully by converting animals into meat and distributing the meat at a minimum of expense, and at a profit too small to be noticeable in the farmer's returns for live stock or in the meat bill of the consumer.

Swift & Company's 1917 transactions in Cattle were as follows:

	Average Per Head
Sold Meat to Retailer for	$68.97
Sold By-products for	24.09
Total Receipts	93.06
Paid to Cattle Raiser	84.45
Balance (not paid to Cattle Raiser)	8.61
Paid for labor and expenses at Packing House, Freight on Meat, and Cost of operating Branch distributing houses	7.32
Remaining in Packer's hands as Returns on investment	$ 1.29

The net profit was $1.29 per head, or about one-fourth of a cent per pound of beef.

By what other method can the difference between cattle prices and beef prices be made smaller, and how can the conflicting demands of producer and consumer be better satisfied?

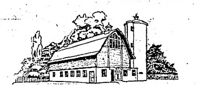
Farm Building As Affected By War

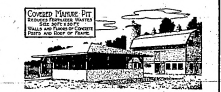
America's One Big Task---To Bring the Enemy to Terms---Requires New Improvements



The job is a big one. It means tremendous activity in making a myriad of things---food is one of the most important.

This job belongs to the American farmer. Whatever he can do to increase production or decrease waste brings victory closer.

The Council of National Defense, the Food Administration and the U. S. Department of Agriculture all strongly urge farm building activity, for that helps to produce more meat and milk, lessens waste and when arranged and equipped in the modern way, makes up for the shortage of labor by letting one man do the work of two.



BUILDING COSTS ARE REASONABLE

Of course, building materials and labor cost a little more but the only way to take full advantage of the present high returns from farm produce is to have modern buildings that will store crops efficiently and that will cut down the labor needed to care for crops and animals.

The business farmer cannot afford to let his plant go back. The ramshackle barn reduces the selling value of every acre. Every modern improvement increases the selling value by an amount greater than the actual money spent on the improvement. This is true of new work and of repairs.

Many farm building groups need re-arranging to save the time spent in doing chores. A saving of 15 minutes night and morning for one man, with labor figured at 20 cents an hour, means a saving of over $36.00 per year—6 per cent on $600. With labor hard to get, it will pay well to invest that $600.00. Frequently a far greater saving can be made by a less expenditure, letting time lost now in doing chores go into profitable, productive field work,—two or three more turns around the field with a plow, an extra acre of corn cultivated, or an extra load of hay under cover before a shower.

THE RIGHT MATERIAL

No material is so long-lived, so easily cleaned and so sanitary and fireproof as concrete. Use it for foundation walls, floors, walks, cellars, well curbs and wherever moisture from the ground can cause rotting of other materials.

But whatever you use, start early. The season is advancing and farm work is heavier every month. If your improvements are to yield profits this year they must be finished early.

It is poor improvements that send farm workers to the city jobs. If you want to keep your men, give them decent working conditions. Clean up the barnyard—pave it with concrete—floor the barns and stables with concrete—build a manure pit—build a silo. For all of these pay good dividends and in addition make farm work more attractive to the labor that you have such difficulty in keeping.

Take stock of your buildings. Make plans on paper for a complete remodeling or re-building. Start the most needed part of the plan this year—at once—and finish as much as possible this year in order that the returns from 1918 operations may be bigger.

The Baccalaureate Sermon

Delivered at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls, Sunday evening, May 12, 1918 by Rev. Dr. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church.

Prov. 27:17. "Iron Sharpeneth Iron; So a Man Sharpeneth the Countenance of His Friend."

I take a text but shall not allow my text to keep me from saying the things I want to say.

I appreciate the honor of speaking to the largest graduating class in the history of Thief River High School. The size of the class this year, in spite of enlistments from it, shows a large and a growing appreciation of education in this entire community.

The fact that high school classes of the nation include a Baccalaureate sermon among their commencement events is striking evidence that this country is religious and that its religion is Christianity.

This service reminds us of the origin of the public school system of the United States. The Pilgrim fathers came to a new land seeking religious freedom. They brought their ministers and organized their churches. Freedom of religion necessitated intelligence. In order that everyone might learn to read and understand the Bible schools were planted under the eaves of the churches. These schools furnished some instructions in literature and science.

Free political instructions grew along with freedom of religious worship. They were in large measure inspired by and modeled on the forms of our free church. Free political institutions for their stability required intelligent citizens. The earlier states of the land by various measures and at varying times took charge of the education of their young people. These earlier church schools became their model and inspiration. Religious instruction has been excluded from the public schools in quite recent years. The customary Baccalaureate service at commencement time is a memorial and proof of the origin of our public school system.

Our system of free public instruction is one of our greatest institutions. It is unique in the history of the human race. In it all are equal. It is democratic. In these schools there is a search for the truth. They are effective in creating a loyal citizenship that loves liberty and practices self control. Our public schools attract and assimilate the peoples of other lands. The citizens of this country voluntarily tax themselves huge amounts of money for the maintenance of this system of instruction. Men thus bear their responsibility for their neighbors' children. So vital a place do they occupy that loyalty to the public schools of the United States is loyalty to America.

What then is an education? What difference does it make? I went recently to cut some wood from a nearby woodlot. The first thing I did was to have the hardware merchant put a new handle in my ax and grind it to the keenest edge it would take. I had no time or energy to waste on a dull ax. At every stroke it was my purpose to drive that blade in to the eye.

School is the grindstone that sharpens your wits. An education does not free you from labor; it makes is the tool with which you work. An educated person is sharp. An uneducated person is dull. Education you capable of more work and of more important tasks. You do not use your text book in arithmetic in practical life but you use the capacity for solving mathematical problems that you acquired in school. You may be a civil engineer, a merchant, a banker, a housewife, but whichever you are you bring to bear with swift, sure stroke your sharpened wits on the problem that needs to be correctly and instantly solved. You have read in the grades and in high school, but all you have read amounts to comparatively little. What is of prime importance is the ability to read which you have acquired and will use as your instrument all your life. You will read the daily papers, current magazines, literature, history and continue to use your tool through all the years. You will not use the Latin that you ground out with toil, but by it you have learned the use and structure of the English language in a way impossible by any other educational instrument, and this ability to use with discriminating elegance your own Mother-tongue you will exercise with increasing pleasure through the years. School is a grind, but the result is a sharp tool or a series of tools that make young men and women effective and give life, power and pleasure.

An education is secured only through contact with real live men and women. "Iron Sharpeneth Iron; so a Man Sharpeneth the Countenance of His Friend." This fact is the reason why you students are furnished at great expense with teachers in place of text books only or with phonographs.

An education involves responsibility. High school graduates are expected to be of added value in the home. You will be expected to be better and more capable workmen in the industrial world. You will be expected to set a good example before others following you and to stand for things that are clean and right in the community. Your country expects you to be loyal. You will be expected to be more useful in your church and more careful to regard her interests and instruction. If we can depend on you for these things we shall regard the large sums of money that your education has cost, a good investment. In this life you need not expect to get something for nothing. You may expect to pay the bill. This season is called commencement, because at this time you are going out from the institution where you have been receiving a free education, into the world where in useful occupations you will commence to pay for the advantages you have had by passing them on to others.

Religious faith is the highest product of education. Why are fifty out of fifty-five of the most eminent scientists of modern times professed christians? Education leads to the discovery of universal and harmonious and unified law. If we interpret the creator by personality, the highest product of creation, we reach one mighty personal Law Giver. The Book says, "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God." It further says that when men put God out of their minds they become possessed by spiritual evils, that result in terrible moral and physical ills. Evil bears in it the forces of self extermination. The drinking man and the vicious man cut short their lives. Wickedness is suicidal. God has so constructed this system that, "evil shall slay the wicked." No man can do evil and get away with it with God. This is scientific knowledge, the result of human experience. The sad fact is that we are all tainted and need the great physician.

God revealed himself and his purpose to redeem in the experiences and the directions described in the Old Testament, but He has revealed to us exactly what He is and has worked out redemption for us in Jesus Christ, whose life and work are recorded and explained in the New Testament. He makes it possible for children created in the image of God that have become wanderers to come back home. After all the highest welfare of human life is attained when we live in harmonious accord with the laws of God and with the person of the Great Law Giver.

Some years ago Charley Ross was kidnapped when he was less than three years of age. He was never recovered. Measure the desolation of the home, but the sharper loss of Charley Ross himself who was deprived of the love and training of his home. Think of the desolation of God's heart, who would have all men to be saved, who gave his only begotten Son for that end, who loved us while we were yet enemies; and the regret of Jesus Christ who died that we might live, if any one shall fail to come home. Consider our sharper deprivation of children created in the image of God if we should miss the home-coming. The great end of life is to come to that eternal home.

Big Potato Fields.

Farmers in the eastern part of the county are going into the raising of potatoes stronger this year than ever before. A carload of seed potatoes went through this city the first of the week bound for Goodridge in the vicinity of which village there promises to be a large acreage of the spuds. One farmer near Highlanding has a field of 50 acres while there are numerous plots of 20 acres or more. The seed was of excellent quality and with any kind of a season there should be a b[illegible] crop.

LAUDS RED CROSS WORK

HAS SEEN ORGANIZATION IN ACTION AND BESPEAKS ITS SUPPORT.

"Somewhere in France, April 20, 1918. My dear Friend and Folks:—You poor old pessimist! Do I have to come over and cheer you up? I thought it ought to be reversed. You folks aren't 'doing enuf' and you have read of Paris being shelled. What the d—l do you want to do, go to the front line trenches? Of course that is where we all would want to be if we could choose, but when one is giving all one's time and energy to the service where he is put—what more can anyone do? That is all any of us are doing, the only difference is that some of you are at home and some of us are over here. I suppose the trouble is that you folks at home can't see what your work means to the fellow it eventually reaches. (I will elucidate later on.)

"As for the shelling of Paris, what's the dif? Only a few shells and very little damage. Don't damn 'Bill.' We have got to hand it to him. He has slipped one over on us. However, he thought he was going to scare the French people to death, but these people are far beyond that stage.

"So you don't think the U. S. is preparing fast enough. Well, maybe not, but we are carrying on a war five or more thousands of miles from our base. Do you realize what vast depots have to be established over here, some of them containing as much trackage as the yards of Chicago? Then there are the store houses, refrigerating plants, munitions dumps and every other thing in the world. We have to build a regular little United States over here in France. Remember we are not fighting for France and using her facilities. We are fighting for the U. S. A. and must make our own preparations. Then when you think of all these preparations think of the boats required and you will have the key to the situation. You have read of all this a thousand times but to me these obstacles are real. We see them every day. I just wanted to tell you myself so you will know that some writer has not slipped one over on you.

"Don't get discouraged but hold steady in the harness. The Lord only knows what will happen to us over here if you folks at home get tired and quit. Then when all is finally ready, why just 'look out' something is going to happen. * * * *

"Now to tell you something about the Red Cross. Your letter came just as I was leaving camp on an errand up towards the front. Strange enough I was sitting at a station reading your letter when a trainload of wounded Frenchmen came in. Then I had a chance to see where some of your Red Cross Funds go. The women from the Red Cross station right near the depot bustled busily among the men with hot coffee, chocolate and sandwiches. I tell you it was a sight worth seeing and I wish it had been some of you instead of myself looking on. What a stimulant it would have been! But I know you don't need a stimulant. I'll bet you folks are all working day and night right now.

"Then on with the eulogy of the Croix Range: During the following night, I rode in a compartment with a French Chasseur, a veteran of three and a half years. On his arm he wore the chevrons of eight wounds, besides having been gassed. He was going home for ten days, then back again. He had made his last trip in one of our American Red Cross hospital trains, and very wonderfully equipped trains they are. I saw one of them today. He spoke of the lovely treatment he had received, of the grand eats at the Red Cross hospital—in fact he just radiated praise of the American Red Cross.

"I am going to save the rest of the trip for another time as I must catch a train in the morning. I will close with love to you all.

P. S.—The journals are coming here in fine shape. As it is difficult to describe these old French Cathedrals so it is hard and useless to try to describe my thanks."

UP WHERE CANNON KEEP THUNDERING

HAROLD PROVENCHER IS FURNISHING GRUB NEAR THE FRONT.

Another interesting letter was received from France this week. Harold Provencher, who is with the First Minnesota artillery, says he is where the guns can be heard even if his duties are confined to the mess tent. In the following communication the "Fred" referred to is a cousin of the writer who enlisted with him. The letter is in part as follows:

"Just through with the day's work and will answer your letter before going to bed. Received the box containing tobacco yesterday and it came in mighty handy as I was about out. Have been waiting for that cake you mention but have seen nothing of it yet. I am watching for it, however, and will surely be glad when it comes. We do not get much cake in the army.

"I suppose you have heard about Fred getting wounded. While he was going to mess the boches started in and he was hit in the leg, while two pieces struck him in the ribs. This was about three weeks ago and he is getting along all right now and hopes to be back in about a month or so. Heard from him a short time ago and he seems to be all right.

"I suppose you have read in the papers of where F battery is located. It is the closest batery to the fighting line, and that is not very far away, let me tell you.

"Our kitchen is about four feet square and contains four big boilers for cooking. There are also two big black pans we can use for making pancakes or to fry steaks on.

"We are being fed well alright. Pancakes, bacon, potatoes, coffee, bread and butter, canned apples, canned apricots, rice, dates, figs, fresh beef and hot chocolate. Also jam, marmalade and tomatoes. That is a sample of what we have. Of course, we do not raw these things all in one day, but have some of it every day. Always there is roast beef, steak or stew so you see there is no danger of our going hungry. Tomorrow we are going to have steak for the boys. This noon they had hamburger.

"Three of the boys from Thief River Falls are here and I see them all the time. It is fine to have them so near. There are about 180 in the battery just at present and they all line up at meal hours, which are 7:15, 12 and 5:30 o'clock.

"Next time you say you will send a bill of fare, please send it as I would like to see how many good things I am going to eat when I get back. O, boy, just wait until I get there! You had better have a doctor handy as I am going to eat all the chicken, cucumbers, ice cream and everything else you have until I get sick.

"If you keep your eyes on the paper you ought to know where we are. I cannot tell you. There was a map in the paper a few days ago which showed where we are.

"We can hear the cannon roar plainly, but I can sleep anyway."

TOWNS MAY OFFER BOUNTY ON CROWS

MEASURE OF CONSERVATION THAT IS WORTHY OF CONSIDERATION.

The damage done every year by crows would startle the ordinary citizen if the exact figures could be gotten at in any way. This year when every effort is being bent toward the conservation of grain, the question of how best to deal with the pest is receiving consideration by the authorities in every grain-growing county in the state.

There is already a law on the statute books of Minnesota providing that townships may offer a bounty for the killing of crows, the amount being 10 cents per head. This is a matter for the different town boards to decide, however, and for this reason no general advantage has been taken of the provisions of the law.

The statute provides that between May 15 and June 15 and also between August 15 and September 15 of each year townships may offer a bounty on crows. The bodies of all birds must be produced to the chairman of the board, who will send the total gathered to the county auditor at the end of each month. The latter will then issue a warrant for the total amount and return it to the town chairman, who will apportion it to the parties entitled to the bounty. Pocket gophers, another destructive nuisance, come under the same provision.

But one township in Pennington county has thus far taken the steps necessary to make a fight on these pests. The town board of Numedal made such resolution a year ago and it is still in effect, but no great results have as yet been obtained. Now, however, that the necessity for a war on these destructive nuisances has been called to the attention of the people it is likely that greater interest will be taken in the matter.

Half the bounty is to be paid by the county and the other half by the township.

Lian-Kvalh.

On Saturday afternoon, May 18th among the pretty weddings of the season one took place at the Kvall home southeast of town, when Miss Gina Kvall became the bride of Ludvig Alfred Lian, of Thief River Falls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Larson, pastor of the Free Lutheran church.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns, pink and white carnations and white roses. The bride wore a gown of silvernet over satin. Miss Hildur Gustafson and Miss Josephine Larson attended the bride and Ole Lian and August Thune attended the groom.

A wedding dinner was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pink and white carnations and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Kvall are well known in this city and are congratulated by their many friends.

NEW CONCERN IN LARGER QUARTERS

ECON-O-KLEEN COMPANY ALSO LAUNCHES NATIONAL ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN.

To gain national prominence for a product in one year after the first sample has left the laboratory is something of an achievement, yet it is what has been accomplished by the Econ-O-Kleen Fuel company. Econ-O-Kleen, a preparation which is mixed with the gasoline used in internal combustion engines for the purpose of preventing and removing carbon and giving greater mileage, is manufactured here in Thief River Falls and promises to become one of the big industries of the place. Last week a lease was entered into for the renting of the Smith block at the corner of Main avenue and First street, formerly occupied by The Times, and the factory and offices will occupy both floors. The demand for the product has become so great that a regular laboratory and office crew is required in order to keep ahead of the orders.

During the past two weeks the advertisements of Econ-O-Kleen have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, a guarantee that the article in itself is of positive value as nothing of an unproven or doubtful nature is ever admitted to the columns of that publication. An advertising campaign of national scope will shortly be launched as the men behind the enterprise know they have an article that will do exactly what they claim for it and fill a long-felt want of the motorist and stationary gas engineer.

Where a year ago a occasional inquiry was received for a sample can the orders are now for a gross at a time and the product is handled by the foremost jobbers and auto supply houses in the country.

working knowledge of handicrafts, agriculture, science and household economics.

The Plowman a Student.

A high school education was formerly regarded as of value only to those who intended to make one of what were termed the higher professions their life work, but now it is as necessary to the man who expects to make farming his future pursuit as to the doctor or lawyer. The particular vocation chosen by a person no longer indicates the extent of his education, said Dr. Brown, as it is as necessary for the success of a plowman as of a scientist.

A Patriotic Appeal.

In closing his address Dr. Brown made a stirring appeal to his hearers to do their utmost toward the winning of the war. He was frequently interrupted by applause and that his hearers were deeply appreciative of the lessons and truths conveyed in his address was evident. On every hand was heard the highest praise and the remark that it was the finest and most instructive effort of the kind ever delivered in Thief River Falls.

The Program.

The other numbers on the program were in keeping with the principal address and were as follows:

Carmena Waltz—Mixed Chorus.
Invocation—Rev. R. L. Barackman.
Salutory—Myrtle Thomas.
Address—Dr. J. C. Brown.
Music—Senior Octette.
Valedictory—Charles Prichard.
Presentation of Diplomas—Pres. H. S. Dahlen.
"Alma Mater"—Class 1918.
Benediction—Rev. R. L. Barackman.
"Star Spangled Banner"—Audience.

Instrumental music furnished by High School orchestra, F. G. Wells, Director.

Other Closing Events.

The class day exercises were held at the Auditorium on Thursday evening and the Eighth grade commencement on Friday afternoon. On both occasions the attendance was very large. Following is the program carried out at the first-named observance:

"Our Old High"—Mixed Chorus.
Play, "Our Girls Over Here"—Palma Holmes, Marie Thill, Clara Oen, Celina Borque, Myrtle Thomas, Grace Loken, Florence Fasel, Velma Price.
Class Prohpecy—Esther Larson, Grace Kinsela.
Presentation of Class Lantern—John Steen.
Music—Senior Octette.
Class Will—Elmer Smith.
Presentation of Class Memorial—Rufus Barackman.
Acceptance—H. S. Dahlen.
Class Song—Seniors, 1918.
"America"—Audience.

The Eighth Graders.

Instrumental music—High School orchestra.
"America, My Country."
Class Will—Pearl Shetler.
Alpine Song—Glee Club.
Class Prophecy—Margaret Fuller.
"Now is the Time to Sing"—Glee Club.
Presentation of Diplomas—Pres. H. S. Dahlen.
"Star Spangled Banner"—Audience.
Instrumental music—High School orchestra.

WOULD RAISE PAY OF POSTAL CLERKS

SALARY INCREASE OF $200 PROVIDED IN SENATE BILL.

An amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill providing for an increase of $200 a year in the salaries of the clerks, letter carriers and certain other postal employes and increases of 20 per cent for rural carriers and for employes receiving less than $800 a year, has been adopted by the senate.

Employes receiving between $800 and $1,500 annually would be given increases of 15 per cent and the pay of substitute clerks and carriers would be fixed at forty cents an hour. For fourth class postmasters the amendment provides that they shall receive 100 per cent of stamp cancellations on the first $100 or less, or in the event cancellations do not exceed $50, a twenty per cent salary increase.

Kratka Schools Aid Red Cross.

Three of the schools in Kratka township closed up their activities for the year by uniting their efforts in putting on a splendid program and by serving a delicious lunch. Invitations had been circulated and in response nearly everyone in the district turned out to enjoy a good time. A program consisting of music and recitations was well given and showed the results of the teachers' work. Ten cents a plate was charged for the lunch, and as a result the three schools turned over $40 to the Red Cross. All present left for home wishing that more schools would unite their efforts and give to the people of that district another opportunity to get together in the same manner. These schools have all been active in the Junior Red Cross work.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this means to express our most deepfelt thankfulness to all our kind neighbors and friends for their sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Ole J. Osness. Accept our sincere thanks for your help, suggestions and kind words during this trying period.—Mrs. Lina Osness, Ferdia Osness, Casper Osness and Joseph Osness. m-23-p.

Bad Fire at Brooks.

Fire starting in a vacant building at Brooks last Thursday night burned eight buildings to the ground and caused a loss of $26,000 besides wiping out nearly half of the business section of the village. Only two buildings were left standing in the whole block, one of which was the hotel. The flames made rapid headway as Brooks has no fire department. The losers were Demonaz Bros., general store and residence flat; F. A. Hohnwaldt, restaurant; A. Laniel, postoffice, drug store and residence apartments; T. Leroux, general store; Arthur Lambert, barber shop, pool room and residence apartments; Edwin Jacobson, harness shop. The Lambert and Laniel proprietors carried no insurance whatever. The other buildings were insured. All were frame structures, and it is expected that they will be replaced with brick. Several people barely escaped in their night clothes.

Badger to the Front.

A week or so ago The Times stated that the people of Greenbush had distinguished themselves by raising a large sum of money for the benefit of the Red Cross through an auction and by other means, and complimenting the people of that village upon the spirit shown. It now develops that we had the wrong Roseau county village in mind. It was Badger that set the pace for communities of similar size in the state and they are still at it. The Red Cross auxiliary of that enterprising burg is one of the most active in the northwest and is attracting the attention of leaders of the society in the state.

FARM WORKERS ARE CALLED TO COLORS

ORDER ISSUED THIS SPRING GRANTING EXEMPTIONS IS NOT RESCINDED.

Orders have been issued by the adjutant general ordering all registered men who have been excused from reporting for service by reason of their being agricultural workers be notified at once to take their place with those in other lines of business. An order was issued early this spring granting those who were absolutely necessary as farm laborers the exemption for the time being and general advantage was taken of the permission where the local boards were favorably disposed toward accepting such excuse. It seems that the privilege was misused in certain instances and the adjutant general therefore feels called upon to revoke it in justice to the rest of the drafted men.

There are no men registered from Pennington county to whom this will make any difference. While there were several applications for exemption under this order the local board refused to consider them and no adjustments will have to be made.

PAY REAL ESTATE TAXES BY JUNE 1

TEN PER CENT ADDED IF PAYMENT IS NOT MADE BY THAT TIME.

Through an advertisement in another part of this issue of The Times the taxpayers are notified by County Treasurer Theo. L. Liden that a penalty of ten per cent will added to all real estate taxes not paid by June 1. This payment represents the taxes for the first half of the year 1917.

According to Mr. Liden there has thus far been no general rush to meet this payment, but there is still a few days remaining and it has been noted that a large part of our population, particularly among the farmers, wait until nearly the end of the period of grace before remitting. It is expected that the payments will be general as none who can possibly escape doing so will invite being compelled to pay the extra ten per cent.

It has been urged that the prompt remittance of tax moneys is this year a patriotic duty as it is necessary that all governmental expenses—municipal, state and national—be met without delay.

It is hoped that the real estate tax payments will be as general as was the case with the personal propery taxes. There are fewer delinquents on the latter list this year than ever before in the history of the county.

STAMP DRIVE WILL START ON JUNE 6

OFFERS EXCEPTIONAL SAVING OPPORTUNITY FOR THE SMALL INVESTOR.

"War Saving Stamps furnish a wonderful chance for every man, woman and child to buy a lucrative investment in the government" said Geo. G. Johnson, Chairman of Pennington County War Savings Committee. "It is to be hoped that every resident of this county will avail himself of this unusual opportunity. Minnesota cannot afford to be rated among those states which have not greatly exceeded their quotas in the purchase of War Savings Stamps.

"There are men and women who can afford to purchase the limit, which is $1,000 worth, and these men and women should immediately ascertain from their township or city chairmen all particulars relating to this issue of government paper.

"The drive will start on June 6th and continue one week. The organization in this county is being perfected and will allot the amounts it considers citizens can take in War Savings Stamps in order to assist the government in financing the war."

BOOZE BY AUTO IS NOW BARRED

NOR MAY BUGGIES HEREAFTER BE USED TO TRANSPORT LIQUORS.

STATE COMMISSION ACTS

CANNOT EVEN BE "CARRIED THROUGH" BETWEEN TWO WET DISTRICTS.

Since the order of the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety forbidding the carrying of intoxicants into dry territory by railroads became effective on the first of the month, it has been suspected that in a few cases autos have been employed by persons residing in Thief River Falls and other sections of the prescribed territory in carrying the booze from the only oasis left in the neighborhood. At the time the commission issued the order prohibiting the railroads from engaging in this traffic nothing was said concerning other means of transportation, but this defect has now been remedied and no vehicle of any kind may be employed in carrying the stuff. This applies to autos, buggies, wheelbarrows and toy express wagons, and peace officers are given the right to search any such contrivance that they have reason to suspect may contain the contraband article.

Barred From Autos.

The official order follows:

"The transportation of intoxicating liquor in automobiles and other vehicles into and through districts in which the sale of intoxicating liquor is forbidden by law, operates to nullify the enforcement of such laws, makes public highways dangerous for ordinary travel, tends to the spread of disorder, and to breaches of peace, and diminishes the efficiency of the manpower of the state and the successful application of its resources to the nation's orders.

"The transportation or carrying intoxicating liquor in any quantity, for any purpose and in any container whatsoever, into or through any county, city, village or borough, in which the sale of intoxicating liquor is illegal under any law or treaty, is forbidden, and is hereby declared to be unlawful; provided that steam railroads may transport any liquor in this state in the manner and to the extent permitted by existing or future orders of this commission.

May Stop Machines.

"Any peace officer is authorized to arrest the progress of any automobile or vehicle on any highway in any district affected hereby and if he has reasonable ground to believe the same is being used for the transportation of intoxicating liquor it shall be his duty to subject the same to search and in the event that he finds intoxicating liquor therein, he shall seize such liquor and such seizure shall operate forthwith as a confiscation thereof to the state of Minnesota."

Complaints that liquor was being supplied in many dry counties and towns, and reports that large quantities were being seized in dry places from automobiles claiming to be "merely passing through" to the next "wet" district, it was said, were the cause of the order.

PALACE CARS FOR NEXT BUNCH TO GO

WILL ASSEMBLE AT CROOKSTON AND START WEST MONDAY NIGHT.

Drafted men from Pennington county and adjacent communities in the Northwest will travel "deluxe" when they go to Camp Lewis, Wash., next Monday.

The Great Northern railroad will run six special trains to transport the 3,227 national army recruits from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

All meals will be served in dining cars and palace cars will be used in some instances because of tourist cars not being available.

There are but four boys to go from Pennington county in this draft and they will leave over the Great Northern on Monday afternoon. They are Oscar Martin Dahl and Fred Leimers, city; Berneth Bolstad, Mayfield township; and Edgar Stevens, Rocksbury township. The men from all northwestern counties will assemble at Crookston and entrain for camp on Monday night.

Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, will form an escort of honor for the departing men, as has been the case with the former contingents leaving here.

Northern Division Leads.

Word from Washington is to the effect that the Northern division, Red Cross, comprising Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota leads the United States in war work efficiency.

The Northern division is 50 per cent higher than any other division in per capita value of war relief material produce, at 13.2 cents, the Central division of Chicago coming next with 8.11 cent production per capita.

Saw Former Pupils Graduate.

Miss Pauline Stenvik, who was teaching the eighth grade in the city schools here when the young men and women who last week graduated were pursuing their studies in that division, came over from Minot, N. D., to witness the farewell to school work of her former proteges. Miss Stenvik has given up teaching and is now assistant postmaster in the Dakota city. Her former pupils and other friends were highly pleased to see her again.

A Well-Drilled Company.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: The Thief River Falls Home Guard company, some 64 strong headed by Captain W. B. Fuller, visited Red Lake Falls Sunday afternoon and gave an exhibition drill on Main street at 2 o'clock, the performance being witnessed by several hundred people. The Guards were originally scheduled to join with the Crookston and East Grand Forks companies in a battalion drill at East Grand Forks Sunday morning, but due to the cold weather the drill was postponed and the Thief River Falls company came here instead.

Capt. Fuller has his company well drilled and they make a fine appearance, and executed the various manuevers with accuracy and precision, and put up a better drill than many a National Guard company used to do before they were federalized.

Bath & Massage Parlors,
Thief River Falls, Minn.

Dear Sir:—As per your request asking me to let you know regarding my physical condition, can say that my rheumatic affliction has greatly improved.

My eyesight has also improved, as I can now read without glasses. This I could not do prior to taking your treatments. My headache has not bothered me since commencing your cure, and my heart is again normal, so words cannot express my appreciation for what your baths and massages have done for me. It will give me great pleasure in recommending your parlors to all suffering with troubles caused by rheumatism.

Wish you would send me a few of your circulars. I want them to distribute among my friends and acquaintances who might be troubled with diseases such as I have mentioned herein.

Very truly yours,

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Helped the Red Cross—Railway employes in Thief River Falls came to the aid of the Red Cross with characteristic liberality. Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry and City Agent H. A. Pratt composed the committee looking after the mechanical division of the soliciting forces, and registered practically one hundred per cent perfect. At the close of the first day they had approached 101 employes of the road with the net result that $547.50 was pledged. E. F. Dolan and N. J. Silk saw to it that no one in the operating department was overlooked and reported pledges to the amount of $326 for the first day's work. Both teams had numerous prospects in sight and figured that their combined efforts would result in a collection of over $1,000. Mr. Hendry and Mr. Pratt called the mechanics into the office of the former, explained what was wanted and were kept on the jump receiving subscriptions from that time on until every man in their departments had been accounted for.

Still Going Up—David H. Backus, a former Thief River Falls boy, who has distinguished himself in the aero service of the United States since the outbreak of the war, is right in the midst of things. He writes friends at Soo headquarters here that he expects soon to be equipped with a regular combat plane, a machine to be alloted to him being due about three weeks from the 28th of April, at which time the letter was written. Dave says that on one of his trips while working with a camera plane, he was up 22,000 feet and froze his nose without his being aware of it at the time.

Charges Are Dismissed—Criminal charges against Edmund Pennington, president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo St. Marie railroad as the result of a raid made several months ago on the Company's station in Minot, was dismissed, it was announced Tuesday. Pennington and J. G. E. Delanger, the Minot agent of the railroad, were accused of keeping liquor in their possession for delivery to violators of the prohibition law. Charges against the railroad, as a corporation, will stand and will be heard at the next term of district court.

Bryant Going Over—A letter received from Phil Bryant by Ed Dolan contains the information that the former will soon be on his way to France. He is a member of the replacement detachment at Kelly field. He states that his unit will leave this week for Hoboken, N. J., from which point they expect to leave for France within a very short time.

East Still Congested—Reports are to the effect that freight movement in the East is still a considerable ways from normal although a big improvement is noted over a few weeks ago. A shortage of men now seems to be partly to blame for this situation and it is feared that this feature will become no better with the advance of the season.

Coming on Furlough—P. E. Stevens, formerly a brakeman on this division of the Soo, is expected back next week from Haquin, Wash., near which point he has been working with the engineering division of the army engaged in getting out spruce timber for aeroplanes.

Division Jottings.

H. L. Otto, warehouseman at Ogemah, has been transferred to Alexandria, where he will succeed A. E. Peterson in the same capacity, the latter having enlisted in the signal corps of the army.

K. O. Johnson, of Viking, was this week ordered to Egeland, N. D., as relief for C. W. Ernst, who is on the sick list.

R. F. Dye, who has been on the sick list for the past ten days, resumed his post as agent at Halma last week.

W. J. Smith, agent at Overly, is under the care of specialists at St. Vincent's hospital, Green Bay, Wis. At last reports he was getting along very well.

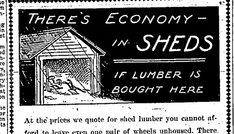
Alfred Johnson, car repairer at the roundhouse here, made a business trip to Noyes on Tuesday.

Henry Carlson, car repairer, is at Warroad this week on business.

Victor Pollman, clerk in the office of Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry, went to the cities for a visit on Saturday night. He is expected back the last of the week.

Henry Windmueller, boilermaker, has been transferred to the shops at Bismarck, N. D.

L. H. Barnard, of the roundhouse crew, is laying up for the purpose of having an operation performed on one of his fingers. The digit was injured some time ago and has refused to respond to other kinds of treatment.



At the prices we quote for shed lumber you cannot afford to leave even one pair of wheels unhoused. There is more money lost each year in the deteriorating effects of the weather on implements and tools outside than it would take to build sheds for them all. And the shed lasts a long time.

Come in and see the latest improvements in tires, more miles per dollar than ever.

If you want tire mileage at the lowest possible cost let us replace each of your tires, as they give out, with a Firestone Cord Tire. We expected a lot from this tire, but it is doing even better than we expected. The extra price is more than offset by extra tire mileage alone, besides the gasoline they save, the added comfort and greater car protection.

Firestone has set a higher standard than ever in fabric tires, too. In developing their cord tire they found ways to improve the fabric line. More rubber between fabric layers, deeper cushion under tread, reinforced bead and other things.

Come in and see the construction. You will then know why we are confident in offering you, in Cord or Fabric Tires—

The Baccalaureate Sermon

Delivered at the Auditorium, Thief River Falls, Sunday evening, May 12, 1918 by Rev. Dr. R. L. Barackman of the Presbyterian church.

Prov. 27:17. "Iron Sharpeneth Iron; So a Man Sharpeneth the Countenance of His Friend."

I take a text but shall not allow my text to keep me from saying the things I want to say.

I appreciate the honor of speaking to the largest graduating class in the history of Thief River High School. The size of the class this year, in spite of enlistments from it, shows a large and a growing appreciation of education in this entire community.

The fact that high school classes of the nation include a Baccalaureate sermon among their commencement events is striking evidence that this country is religious and that its religion is Christianity.

This service reminds us of the origin of the public school system of the United States. The Pilgrim fathers came to a new land seeking religious freedom. They brought their ministers and organized their churches. Freedom of religion necessitated intelligence. In order that everyone might learn to read and understand the Bible schools were planted under the eaves of the churches. These schools furnished some instructions in literature and science.

Free political instructions grew along with freedom of religious worship. They were in large measure inspired by and modeled on the forms of our free church. Free political institutions for their stability required intelligent citizens. The earlier states of the land by various measures and at varying times took charge of the education of their young people. These earlier church schools became their model and inspiration. Religious instruction has been excluded from the public schools in quite recent years. The customary Baccalaureate service at commencement time is a memorial and proof of the origin of our public school system.

Our system of free public instruction is one of our greatest institutions. It is unique in the history of the human race. In it all are equal. It is democratic. In these schools there is a search for the truth. They are effective in creating a loyal citizenship that loves liberty and practices self control. Our public schools attract and assimilate the peoples of other lands. The citizens of this country voluntarily tax themselves huge amounts of money for the maintenance of this system of instruction. Men thus bear their responsibility for their neighbors' children. So vital a place do they occupy that loyalty to the public schools of the United States is loyalty to America.

What then is an education? What difference does it make? I went recently to cut some wood from a nearby woodlot. The first thing I did was to have the hardware merchant put a new handle in my ax and grind it to the keenest edge it would take. I had no time or energy to waste on a dull ax. At every stroke it was my purpose to drive that blade in to the eye.

School is the grindstone that sharpens your wits. An education does not free you from labor; it makes is the tool with which you work. An educated person is sharp. An uneducated person is dull. Education you capable of more work and of more important tasks. You do not use your text book in arithmetic in practical life but you use the capacity for solving mathematical problems that you acquired in school. You may be a civil engineer, a merchant, a banker, a housewife, but whichever you are you bring to bear with swift, sure stroke your sharpened wits on the problem that needs to be correctly and instantly solved. You have read in the grades and in high school, but all you have read amounts to comparatively little. What is of prime importance is the ability to read which you have acquired and will use as your instrument all your life. You will read the daily papers, current magazines, literature, history and continue to use your tool through all the years. You will not use the Latin that you ground out with toil, but by it you have learned the use and structure of the English language in a way impossible by any other educational instrument, and this ability to use with discriminating elegance your own Mother-tongue you will exercise with increasing pleasure through the years. School is a grind, but the result is a sharp tool or a series of tools that make young men and women effective and give life, power and pleasure.

An education is secured only through contact with real live men and women. "Iron Sharpeneth Iron; so a Man Sharpeneth the Countenance of His Friend." This fact is the reason why you students are furnished at great expense with teachers in place of text books only or with phonographs.

An education involves responsibility. High school graduates are expected to be of added value in the home. You will be expected to be better and more capable workmen in the industrial world. You will be expected to set a good example before others following you and to stand for things that are clean and right in the community. Your country expects you to be loyal. You will be expected to be more useful in your church and more careful to regard her interests and instruction. If we can depend on you for these things we shall regard the large sums of money that your education has cost, a good investment. In this life you need not expect to get something for nothing. You may expect to pay the bill. This season is called commencement, because at this time you are going out from the institution where you have been receiving a free education, into the world where in useful occupations you will commence to pay for the advantages you have had by passing them on to others.

Religious faith is the highest product of education. Why are fifty out of fifty-five of the most eminent scientists of modern times professed christians? Education leads to the discovery of universal and harmonious and unified law. If we interpret the creator by personality, the highest product of creation, we reach one mighty personal Law Giver. The Book says, "The fool hath said in his heart there is no God." It further says that when men put God out of their minds they become possessed by spiritual evils that result in terrible moral and physical ills. Evil bears in it the forces of self extermination. The drinking man and the vicious man cut short their lives. Wickedness is suicidal. God has so constructed this system that "evil shall slay the wicked." No man can do evil and get away with it with God. This is scientific knowledge, the result of human experience. The sad fact is that we are all tainted and need the great physician.

God revealed himself and his purpose to redeem in the experiences and the directions described in the Old Testament, but He has revealed to us exactly what He is and has worked out redemption for us in Jesus Christ, whose life and work are recorded and explained in the New Testament. He makes it possible for children created in the image of God that have become wanderers to come back home. After all the highest welfare of human life is attained when we live in harmonious accord with the laws of God and with the person of the Great Law Giver.

Some years ago Charley Ross was kidnapped when he was less than three years of age. He was never recovered. Measure the desolation of the home, but the sharper loss of Charley Ross himself who was deprived of the love and training of his home. Think of the desolation of God's heart, who would have all men to be saved, who gave his only begotten Son for that end, who loved us while we were yet enemies; and the regret of Jesus Christ who died that we might live, if any one shall fail to come home. Consider our sharper deprivation of children created in the image of God if we should miss the home-coming. The great end of life is to come to that eternal home.

THIEF RIVER FALLS SOLDIER SEES NO CAUSE FOR BEING DEPRESSED.

LAUDS RED CROSS WORK

HAS SEEN ORGANIZATION IN ACTION AND BESPEAKS ITS SUPPORT.

"Somewhere in France, April 20, 1918. My dear Friend and Folks:—You poor old pessimist! Do I have to come over and cheer you up? I thought it ought to be reversed. You folks aren't 'doing enuf' and you have read of Paris being shelled. What the d—l do you want to do, go to the front line trenches? Of course that is where we all would want to be if we could choose, but when one is giving all one's time and energy to the service where he is put—what more can anyone do? That is all any of us are doing, the only difference is that some of you are at home and some of us are over here. I suppose the trouble is that you folks at home can't see what your work means to the fellow it eventually reaches. (I will elucidate later on.)

"As for the shelling of Paris, what's the dif? Only a few shells and very little damage. Don't damn 'Bill.' We have got to hand it to him. He has slipped one over on us. However, he thought he was going to scare the French people to death, but these people are far beyond that stage.

"So you don't think the U. S. is preparing fast enough. Well, maybe not, but we are carrying on a war five or more thousands of miles from our base. Do you realize what vast depots have to be established over here, some of them containing as much trackage as the yards of Chicago? Then there are the store houses, refrigerating plants, munitions dumps and every other thing in the world. We have to build a regular little United States over here in France. Remember we are not fighting for France and using her facilities. We are fighting for the U. S. A. and must make our own preparations. Then when you think of all these preparations think of the boats required and you will have the key to the situation. You have read of all this a thousand times but to me these obstacles are real. We see them every day. I just wanted to tell you myself so you will know that some writer has not slipped one over on you.

"Don't get discouraged but hold steady in the harness. The Lord only knows what will happen to us over here if you folks at home get tired and quit. Then when all is finally ready, why just 'look out' something is going to happen. * * * *

"Now to tell you something about the Red Cross. Your letter came just as I was leaving camp on an errand up towards the front. Strange enough I was sitting at a station reading your letter when a trainload of wounded Frenchmen came in. Then I had a chance to see where some of your Red Cross Funds go. The women from the Red Cross station right near and a half years. On his arm he wore the chevrons of eight wounds, besides having been gassed. He was going home for ten days, then back again. He had made his last trip in one of our American Red Cross hospital trains, and very wonderfully equipped trains they are. I saw one of them today. He spoke of the lovely treatment he had received, of the grand eats at the Red Cross hospital—in fact he just radiated praise of the American Red Cross.

"I am going to save the rest of the trip for another time as I must catch a train in the morning. I will close with love to you all.

P. S.—The journals are coming here in fine shape. As it is difficult to describe these old French Cathedrals so it is hard and useless to try to describe my thanks."

UP WHERE CANNON KEEP THUNDERING

HAROLD PROVENCHER IS FURNISHING GRUB NEAR THE FRONT.

Another interesting letter was received from France this week. Harold Provencher, who is with the First Minnesota artillery, says he is where the guns can be heard even if his duties are confined to the mess tent. In the following communication the "Fred" referred to is a cousin of the writer who enlisted with him. The letter is in part as follows:

"Just through with the day's work and will answer your letter before going to bed. Received the box containing tobacco yesterday and it came in mighty handy as I was about out. Have been waiting for that cake you mention but have seen nothing of it yet. I am watching for it, however, and will surely be glad when it comes. We do not get much cake in the army.

"I suppose you have heard about Fred getting wounded. While he was going to mess the boches started in and he was hit in the leg, while two pieces struck him in the ribs. This was about three weeks ago and he is getting along all right now and hopes to be back in about a month or so. Heard from him a short time ago and he seems to be all right.

"I suppose you have read in the papers of where F battery is located. It is the closest batery to the fighting line, and that is not very far away, let me tell you.

"Our kitchen is about four feet square and contains four big boilers for cooking. There are also two big black pans we can use for making pancakes or to fry steaks on.

"We are being fed well alright. Pancakes, bacon, potatoes, coffee, bread and butter, canned apples, canned apricots, rice, dates, figs, fresh beef and hot chocolate. Also jam, marmalade and tomatoes. That is a sample of what we have. Of course, we do notraw these things all in one day, but have some of it every day. Always there is roast beef, steak or stew so you see there is no danger of our going hungry. Tomorrow we are going to have steak for the boys. This noon they had hamburger.

"Three of the boys from Thief River Falls are here and I see them all the time. It is fine to have them so near. There are about 180 in the battery just at present and they all line up at meal hours, which are 7:15, 12 and 5:30 o'clock.

"Next time you say you will send a bill of fare, please send it as I would like to see how many good

Lian-Kvall.

On Saturday afternoon, May 18th among the pretty weddings of the season one took place at the Kvall home southeast of town, when Miss Gina Kvall became the bride of Ludvig Alfred Lian, of Thief River Falls. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Larson, pastor of the Free Lutheran church.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns, pink and white carnations and white roses. The bride wore a gown of silvernet over satin. Miss Hildur Gustafson and Miss Josephine Larson attended the bride and Ole Lian and August Thune attended the groom.

A wedding dinner was served in the dining room which was prettily decorated in pink and white carnations and roses. Mr. and Mrs. Kvall are well known in this city and are congratulated by their many friends.

NEW CONCERN IN LARGER QUARTERS

ECON-O-KLEEN COMPANY ALSO LAUNCHES NATIONAL ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN.

To gain national prominence for a product in one year after the first sample has left the laboratory is something of an achievement, yet it is what has been accomplished by the Econ-O-Kleen Fuel company. Econ-O-Kleen, a preparation which is mixed with the gasoline used in internal combustion engines for the purpose of preventing and removing carbon and giving greater mileage, is manufactured here in Thief River Falls and promises to become one of the big industries of the place. Last week a lease was entered into for the renting of the Smith block at the corner of Main avenue and First street, formerly occupied by The Times, and the factory and offices will occupy both floors. The demand for the product has become so great that a regular laboratory and office crew is required in order to keep ahead of the orders.

During the past two weeks the advertisements of Econ-O-Kleen have appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, a guarantee that the article in itself is of positive value as nothing of an unproven or doubtful nature is ever admitted to the columns of that publication. An advertising campaign of national scope will shortly be launched as the men behind the enterprise know they have an article that will do exactly what they claim for it and fill a long-felt want of the motorist and stationary gas engineer.

Where a year ago an occasional inquiry was received for a sample can the orders are now for a gross at a time and the product is handled by the foremost jobbers and auto supply houses in the country.

working knowledge of handicrafts, agriculture, science and household economics.

The Plowman a Student.

A high school education was formerly regarded as of value only to those who intended to make one of what were termed the higher professions their life work, but now it is as necessary to the man who expects to make farming his future pursuit as to the doctor or lawyer. The particular vocation chosen by a person no longer indicates the extent of his education, said Dr. Brown, as it is as necessary for the success of a plowman as of a scientist.

A Patriotic Appeal.

In closing his address Dr. Brown made a stirring appeal to his hearers to do their utmost toward the winning of the war. He was frequently interrupted by applause and that his hearers were deeply appreciative of the lessons and truths conveyed in his address was evident. On every hand was heard the highest praise and the remark that it was the finest and most instructive effort of the kind ever delivered in Thief River Falls.

The Program.

The other numbers on the program were in keeping with the principal address and were as follows:

Carmena Waltz—Mixed Chorus.
Invocation—Rev. R. L. Barackman.
Salutory—Myrtle Thomas.
Address—Dr. J. C. Brown.
Music—Senior Octette.
Valedictory—Charles Prichard.
Presentation of Diplomas—Pres. H. S. Dahlen.
"Alma Mater"—Class 1918.
Benediction—Rev. R. L. Barackman.
"Star Spangled Banner"—Audience.
Instrumental music furnished by High School orchestra, F. G. Wells, Director.

Other Closing Events.

The class day exercises were held at the Auditorium on Thursday evening and the Eighth grade commencement on Friday afternoon. On both occasions the attendance was very large. Following is the program carried out at the first-named observance:

"Our Old High"—Mixed Chorus.
Play, "Our Girls Over Here"—Palma Holmes, Marie Thill, Clara Oen, Celina Berque, Myrtle Thomas, Grace Loken, Florence Fasel, Velma Price.
Class Prohpecy—Esther Larson, Grace Kinsela.
Presentation of Class Lantern—John Steen.
Music—Senior Octette.
Class Will—Elmer Smith.
Presentation of Class Memorial—Rufus Barackman.
Acceptance—H. S. Dahlen.
Class Song—Seniors, 1918.
"America"—Audience.

The Eighth Graders.

Instrumental music—High School orchestra.
"America, My Country."
Class Will—Pearl Shotler.
Alpine Song—Glee Club.
Class Prophecy—Margaret Fuller.
"Now is the Time to Sing"—Glee Club.
Presentation of Diplomas—Pres. H. S. Dahlen.
"Star Spangled Banner"—Audience.
Instrumental music—High School orchestra.

WOULD RAISE PAY OF POSTAL CLERKS

SALARY INCREASE OF $200 PROVIDED IN SENATE BILL.

An amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill providing for an increase of $200 a year in the salaries of the clerks, letter carriers and certain other postal employes and increases of 20 per cent for rural carriers and for employes receiving less than $800 a year, has been adopted by the senate.

Employes receiving between $800 and $1,500 annually would be given increases of 15 per cent and the pay of substitute clerks and carriers would be fixed at forty cents an hour. For fourth class postmasters the amendment provides that they shall receive 100 per cent of stamp cancellations on the first $100 or less, or in the event cancellations do not exceed $50, a twenty per cent salary increase.

Kratka Schools Aid Red Cross.

Three of the schools in Kratka township closed up their activities for the year by uniting their efforts in putting on a splendid program and by serving a delicious lunch. Invitations had been circulated and in response nearly everyone in the district turned out to enjoy a good time. A program consisting of music and recitations was well given and showed the results of the teachers' work. Ten cents a plate was charged for the lunch and as a result the three schools turned over $40 to the Red Cross. All present left for home wishing that more schools would unite their efforts and give to the people of that district another opportunity to get together in the same manner. These schools have all been active in the Junior Red Cross work.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take the means to express our most deepfelt thankfulness to all our kind neighbors and friends for their sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Ole J. Osness. Accept our sincere thanks for your help, suggestions and kind words during this trying period.—Mrs. Lina Osness, Ferdia Osness, Casper Osness and Joseph Osness. m-23-p.

Bad Fire at Brooks.

Fire starting in a vacant building at Brooks last Thursday night burned eight buildings to the ground and caused a loss of $26,000 besides wiping out nearly half of the business section of the village. Only two buildings were left standing in the whole block, one of which was the hotel. The flames made rapid headway as Brooks has no fire department. The losers were Demonaz Bros., general store and residence flat; F. A. Hohnwaldt, restaurant; A. Laniel, postoffice, drug store and residence apartments; T. Leroux, general store; Arthur Lambert, barber shop, pool room and residence apartments; Edwin Jacobson, harness shop. The Lambert and Laniel proprietors carried no insurance whatever. The other buildings were insured. All were frame structures, and it is expected that they will be replaced with brick. Several people barely escaped in their night clothes.

Badger to the Front.

A week or so ago The Times stated that the people of Greenbush had distinguished themselves by raising a large sum of money for the benefit of the Red Cross through an auction and by other means, and complimenting the people of that village upon the spirit shown. It now develops that we had the wrong Roseau county village in mind. It was Badger that set the pace for communities of similar size in the state and they are still at it. The Red Cross auxiliary of that enterprising burg is one of the most active in the northwest and is attracting the attention of leaders of the society in the state.

FARM WORKERS ARE CALLED TO COLORS

ORDER ISSUED THIS SPRING GRANTING EXEMPTIONS IS NOT RESCINDED.

Orders have been issued by the adjutant general ordering all registered men who have been excused from reporting for service by reason of their being agricultural workers be notified at once to take their place with those in other lines of business. An order was issued early this spring granting those who were absolutely necessary as farm laborers the exemption for the time being and general advantage was taken of the permission where the local boards were favorably disposed toward accepting such excuse. It seems that the privilege was misused in certain instances and the adjutant general therefore feels called upon to revoke it in justice to the rest of the drafted men.

There are no men registered from Pennington county to whom this will make any difference. While there were several applications for exemption under this order the local board refused to consider them and no adjustments will have to be made.

PAY REAL ESTATE TAXES BY JUNE 1

TEN PER CENT ADDED IF PAYMENT IS NOT MADE BY THAT TIME.

Through an advertisement in another part of this issue of The Times the taxpayers are notified by County Treasurer Theo. L. Liden that a penalty of ten per cent will added to all real estate taxes not paid by June 1. This payment represents the taxes for the first half of the year 1917.

According to Mr. Liden there has thus far been no general rush to meet this payment, but there is still a few days remaining and it has been noted that a large part of our population, particularly among the farmers, wait until nearly the end of the period of grace before remitting. It is expected that the payments will be general as none who can possibly escape doing so will invite being compelled to pay the extra ten per cent.

It has been urged that the prompt remittance of tax moneys is this year a patriotic duty as it is necessary that all governmental expenses—municipal, state and national—be met without delay.

It is hoped that the real estate tax payments will be as general as was the case with the personal propery taxes. There are fewer delinquents on the latter list this year than ever before in the history of the county.

STAMP DRIVE WILL START ON JUNE 6

OFFERS EXCEPTIONAL SAVING OPPORTUNITY FOR THE SMALL INVESTOR.

"War Saving Stamps furnish a wonderful chance for every man, woman and child to buy a lucrative investment in the government" said Geo. G. Johnson, Chairman of Pennington County War Savings Committee. "It is to be hoped that every resident of this county will avail himself of this unusual opportunity. Minnesota cannot afford to be rated among those states which have not greatly exceeded their quotas in the purchase of War Savings Stamps.

"There are men and women who can afford to purchase the limit, which is $1,000 worth, and these men and women should immediately ascertain from their township or city chairmen all particulars relating to this issue of government paper.

"The drive will start on June 6th and continue one week. The organization in this county is being perfected and will allot the amounts it considers citizens can take in War Savings Stamps in order to assist the government in financing the war."

BOOZE BY AUTO IS NOW BARRED

NOR MAY BUGGIES HEREAFTER BE USED TO TRANSPORT LIQUORS.

STATE COMMISSION ACTS

CANNOT EVEN BE "CARRIED THROUGH" BETWEEN TWO WET DISTRICTS.

Since the order of the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety forbidding the carrying of intoxicants into dry territory by railroads became effective on the first of the month, it has been suspected that in a few cases autos have been employed by persons residing in Thief River Falls and other sections of the prescribed territory in carrying the booze from the only oasis left in the neighborhood. At the time the commission issued the order prohibiting the railroads from engaging in this traffc nothing was said concerning other means of transportation, but this defect has now been remedied and no vehicle of any kind may be employed in carrying the stuff. This applies to autos, buggies, wheelbarrows and toy express wagons, and peace officers are given the right to search any such contrivance that they have reason to suspect may contain the contraband article.

Barred From Autos.

The official order follows:

"The transportation of intoxicating liquor in automobiles and other vehicles into and through districts in which the sale of intoxicating liquor is forbidden by law, operates to nullify the enforcement of such laws, makes public highways dangerous for ordinary travel, tends to the spread of disorder, and to breaches of peace, and diminishes the efficiency of the manpower of the state and the successful application of its resources to the nation's orders.

"The transportation or carrying intoxicating liquor in any quantity, for any purpose and in any container whatsoever, into or through any county, city, village or borough, in which the sale of intoxicating liquor is illegal under any law or treaty, is forbidden, and is hereby declared to be unlawful; provided that steam railroads may transport any liquor in this state in the manner and to the extent permitted by existing or future orders of this commission.

May Stop Machines.

"Any peace officer is authorized to arrest the progress of any automobile or vehicle on any highway in any district affected hereby and if he has reasonable ground to believe the same is being used for the transportation of intoxicating liquor it shall be his duty to subject the same to search and in the event that he finds intoxicating liquor therein, he shall seize such liquor and such seizure shall operate forthwith as a confiscation thereof to the state of Minnesota."

Complaints that liquor was being supplied in many dry counties and towns, and reports that large quantities were being seized in dry places from automobiles claiming to be "merely passing through" to the next "wet" district, it was said, were the cause of the order.

PALACE CARS FOR NEXT BUNCH TO GO

WILL ASSEMBLE AT CROOKSTON AND START WEST MONDAY NIGHT.

Drafted men from Pennington county and adjacent communities in the Northwest will travel "deluxe" when they go to Camp Lewis, Wash., next Monday.

The Great Northern railroad will run six special trains to transport the 3,227 national army recruits from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana.

All meals will be served in dining cars and palace cars will be used in some instances because of tourist cars not being available.

There are but four boys to go from Pennington county in this draft and they will leave over the Great Northern on Monday afternoon. They are Oscar Martin Dahl and Fred Leimers, city; Berneth Bolstad, Mayfield township; and Edgar Stevens, Rocksbury township. The men from all northwestern counties will assemble at Crookston and entrain for camp on Monday night.

Company C, Minnesota Home Guard, will form an escort of honor for the departing men, as has been the case with the former contingents leaving here.

Northern Division Leads.

Word from Washington is to the effect that the Northern division, Red Cross, comprising Minnesota, Montana, North and South Dakota leads the United States in war work efficiency.

The Northern division is 50 per cent higher than any other division in per capita value of war relief material produce, at 13.2 cents, the Central division of Chicago coming next with 8.11 cent production per capita.

Saw Former Pupils Graduate.

Miss Pauline Stenvik, who was teaching the eighth grade in the city schools here when the young men and women who last week graduated were pursuing their studies in that division, came over from Minot, N. D., to witness the farewell to school work of her former proteges. Miss Stenvik has given up teaching and is now assistant postmaster in the Dakota city. Her former pupils and other friends were highly pleased to see her again.

A Well-Drilled Company.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: The Thief River Falls Home Guard company, some 64 strong headed by Captain W. B. Fuller, visited Red Lake Falls Sunday afternoon and gave an exhibition drill on Main street at 2 o'clock, the performance being witnessed by several hundred people. The Guards were originally scheduled to join with the Crookston and East Grand Forks companies in a battalion drill at East Grand Forks Sunday morning, but due to the cold weather the drill was postponed and the Thief River Falls company came here instead.

Capt. Fuller has his company well drilled and they make a fine appearance, and executed the various maneuvers with accuracy and precision, and put up a better drill than many a National Guard company used to do before they were federalized.

Dear Sir:—As per your request asking me to let you know regarding my physical condition, can say that my rheumatic affliction has greatly improved.

My eyesight has also improved, as I can now read without glasses. This I could not do prior to taking your treatments. My headache has not bothered me since commencing your cure, and my heart is again normal, so words cannot express my appreciation for what your baths and massages have done for me. It will give me great pleasure in recommending your parlors to all suffering with troubles caused by rheumatism.

Wish you would send me a few of your circulars. I want them to distribute among my friends and acquaintances who might be troubled with diseases such as I have mentioned herein.

Very truly yours,

Railroad News Notes

Items Concerning Soo and Great Northern Activities

Helped the Red Cross—Railway employes in Thief River Falls came to the aid of the Red Cross with characteristic liberality. Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry and City Agent H. A. Pratt composed the committee looking after the mechanical division of the soliciting forces, and registered practically one hundred per cent perfect. At the close of the first day they had approached 101 employes of the road with the net result that $547.50 was pledged. E. F. Dolan and N. J. Silk saw to it that no one in the operating department was overlooked and reported pledges to the amount of $326 for the first day's work. Both teams had numerous prospects in sight and figured that their combined efforts would result in a collection of over $1,000. Mr. Hendry and Mr. Pratt called the mechanics into the office of the former, explained what was wanted and were kept on the jump receiving subscriptions from that time on until every man in their departments had been accounted for.

Still Going Up—David H. Backus, a former Thief River Falls boy, who has distinguished himself in the aero service of the United States since the outbreak of the war, is right in the midst of things. He writes friends at Soo headquarters here that he expects soon to be equipped with a regular combat plane, a machine to be alloted to him being due about three weeks from the 28th of April, at which time the letter was written. Dave says that on one of his trips while working with a camera plane he was up 22,000 feet and froze his nose without his being aware of it at the time.

Charges Are Dismissed—Criminal charges against Edmund Pennington, president of the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Soo St. Marie railroad as the result of a raid made several months ago on the Company's station in Minot, was dismissed, it was announced Tuesday. Pennington and J. G. E. Delanger, the Minot agent of the railroad, were accused of keeping liquor in their possession for delivery to violators of the prohibition law. Charges against the railroad, as a corporation, will stand and will be heard at the next term of district court.

Bryant Going Over—A letter received from Phil Bryant by Ed Dolan contains the information that the former will soon be on his way to France. He is a member of the replacement detachment at Kelly field. He states that his unit will leave this week for Hoboken, N. J., from which point they expect to leave for France within a very short time.

East Still Congested—Reports are to the effect that freight movement in the East is still a considerable ways from normal although a big improvement is noted over a few weeks ago. A shortage of men now seems to be partly to blame for this situation and it is feared that this feature will become no better with the advance of the season.

Coming on Furlough—P. E. Stevens, formerly a brakeman on this division of the Soo, is expected back next week from Haquin, Wash., near which point he has been working with the engineering division of the army engaged in getting out spruce timber for aeroplanes.

Division Jottings.

H. L. Otto, warehouseman at Ogemah, has been transferred to Alexandria, where he will succeed A. E. Peterson in the same capacity, the latter having enlisted in the signal corps of the army.

K. O. Johnson, of Viking, was this week ordered to Egeland, N. D., as relief for C. W. Ernst, who is on the sick list.

R. F. Dye, who has been on the sick list for the past ten days, resumed his post as agent at Halma last week.

W. J. Smith, agent at Overly, is under the care of specialists at St. Vincent's hospital, Green Bay, Wis. At last reports he was getting along very well.

Alfred Johnson, car repairer at the roundhouse here, made a business trip to Noyes on Tuesday.

Henry Carlson, car repairer, is at Warroad this week on business.

Victor Pollman, clerk in the office of Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry, went to the cities for a visit on Saturday night. He is expected back the last of the week.

Henry Windmueller, boilermaker, has been transferred to the shops at Bismarck, N. D.

L. H. Barnard, of the roundhouse crew, is laying up for the purpose of having an operation performed on one of his fingers. The digit was injured some time ago and has refused to respond to other kinds of treatment.

THERE'S ECONOMY — IN SHEDS IF LUMBER IS BOUGHT HERE

At the prices we quote for shed lumber you cannot afford to leave even one pair of wheels unhoused. There is more money lost each year in the deteriorating effects of the weather on implements and tools outside than it would take to build sheds for them all. And the shed lasts a long time.

If you want tire mileage at the lowest possible cost let us replace each of your tires, as they give out, with a Firestone Cord Tire. We expected a lot from this tire, but it is doing even better than we expected. The extra price is more than offset by extra tire mileage alone, besides the gasoline they save, the added comfort and greater car protection.

Firestone has set a higher standard than ever in fabric tires, too. In developing their cord tire they found ways to improve the fabric line. More rubber between fabric layers, deeper cushion under tread, reinforced bead and other things.

Woman's Club Meeting.

The last meeting of the Woman's club, until next fall, was held Monday afternoon in the Commercial club rooms. Reports of the Federation of Woman's clubs of the Ninth district, which convened in Detroit the latter part of last week, were given by the president of the local organization, Mrs. H. W. Froehlich, and delegates, Mrs. F. F. Haynes, Mrs. Thos. A. Way and Mrs. Daniel Shaw. Mrs. Shaw reported on the address given by Mrs. Allan, the state president of Woman's clubs at Detroit, who was present at the General Federation of Woman's clubs at Hot Springs, Ark., the first of May at which Governor Brough of Arkansas gave a splendid patriotic toast at the close of the banquet on the last evening of the convention. The sentiment of this toast was so beautiful that it was brought home to the local club. It is as follows:

"Here's to the sons of the sunkissed South, as they meet on the fields of France. May the spirit of Lee be with them all, as the sons of the South advance. Here's to the sons of the wind-swept North, as they meet on the fields of France. May the spirit of Grant be with them all, as the sons of the North advance. Here's to the sons of the Blue and the Gray, as they meet on the fields of France. May the spirit of God be with them all as the sons of the Flag advance."

By a unanimous vote the same officers were re-elected with the exception of the treasurer, Mrs. Harry Prichard, who tendered her resignation. Mrs. Scott Laird was elected to fill the vacancy.

It was decided to meet in the club rooms on Monday afternoon, June 3rd to complete the scrap books which are being made for the soldiers. These scrap books were donated to the club by a number of the business men of the city and the members of the club are requested to save all of the humorous clippings and those which would be of interest to men in the service and bring them on Monday afternoon.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENT—Inserted in his own behalf by Lars Backe, Thief River Falls, Minn., candidate for Register of Deeds. Amount to be paid, 30 cents per inch.

Lars Backe

To The Voters of Pennington County:

For 28 years I have been a resident of what is now Pennington County.

I have, at different times, been Village Recorder, City Clerk, Mayor and for 18 years member of the Board of Education of the city of Thief River Falls; from its organization.

With others I have taken an active part in the affairs of the county and city in the upbuilding of local public utilities and educational institutions.

The compensation in money for this work has been small or none at all.

In seeking the office of Register of Deeds, considered a good paying office, I refer the voters to my public services. I am willing to stand or fall on my record of the past 28 years.

I am under no political obligations to any party and have formed no combinations with others running for office.

Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated.

Yours respectfully,
Lars Backe

Stop Corn Agony In Four Seconds

Use "Gets-It"—See Corns Peel Off!

The relief that "Gets-It" gives from corn-pains—the way it makes corns and calluses peel off painlessly in one piece—is one of the wonders of the world. The woman in the home, the shopper, the dancer, the foot traveler, the man in the office, the clerk in the store, the worker in the shop, have today, in this great discovery, "Gets-It," the one sure, quick relief from all corn and callus pains—the one sure, painless remover that makes corns come off as easily as you would peel a banana. It takes 2 seconds to apply "Gets-It"; it dries at once. Then walk with painless joy, even with tight shoes. You know your corn will loosen from your toe—peel it off with your fingers. Try it, corn sufferers, and you'll smile!

"Get Me 'Gets-It' Quick! It Eases Corn Pains and Makes Corns Peel Right Off!"

"Gets-It," the guaranteed, money-back corn-remover, the only sure way, costs but a trifle at any drug store. M'f'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Thief River Falls and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by J. P. Curtis, Lambert's Drug Store and F. J. Stebbins.

Over-Charged Accounts

IT happens every day that mistakes are made in charging items to accounts. Often you hear your friends speak of an overcharge made on their bills, and you yourself probably have had the same experience.

THE "fuss" that follows the cash-paid-bill-mistake is entirely eliminated when paid by bank check, because the check stub and cancelled check show When, How Much, and For What payment was made.

A Word With You, Mr. Farmer!

Now that the spring work is about over and you have a little time in which to look around, would it not be a good idea to get estimates on the cost of that building project you have been considering for some time?

Crops promise well, prices will most certainly be good and the opportunity for building will not be better for a long time. You will gain nothing by putting it off. On the contrary, you will be money ahead if you build now.

We can supply everything you need.
The stock is complete and the prices right.

A MESSAGE FROM FRANCE

Spirit of This War Pictured by French Schoolgirl in Letter Received by John H. Finley.

THIS letter is one of the many messages which have been received from the schools of France in response to the messages from American universities and schools, carried to them by John H. Finley, Commissioner of Education and President of the University of the State of New York. It is reproduced here and comes from a pupil in the Lycee Victor Durny in Paris, which he visited last May, and there heard the pupils singing "The Star Spangled Banner" in French and crying in chorus, "Vive l' Amerique." It is doubted if there has been a more graphic or poetic expression of that which separates the men in the opposing trenches or of that which brings America and France together.

> "It was only a little river, almost a brook; it was called the Yser. One could talk from one side to the other without raising one's voice, and the birds could fly over it with one sweep of their wings. And on the two banks there were millions of men, the one turned toward the other, eye to eye. But the distance which separated them was greater than the stars in the sky; it was the distance which separates right from injustice.
>
> "The ocean is so vast that the sea gulls do not dare to cross it. During seven days and seven nights the great steamships of America, going at full speed, drive through the deep waters before the lighthouses of France come into view; but from one side to the other hearts are touching."

The Great American Dollar Has a Great American Heart

WILLIAM GERARD CHAPMAN.

I AM the Great American Dollar. I was born of Toil and Sweat and sired by Human Endeavor. Treasured and trained by Thrift, I grew powerful and competent to perform for my masters the duties of a willing servant. Apprenticed to Industry, I earned wages that repaid my sponsors for their care and self denial. They loved me—not for myself alone, but for what I accomplished for human good, for by tireless labor I smoothed the paths of their lives and the fruits of my energy made sweeter their days.

A Sudden Awakening.

In piping times of peace I grew self complacent, and, forgetting the Spartan character of my upbringing, became more and more the slave of Luxury. Then suddenly came an awakening. The forces of Good entered into conflict with the Legions of Evil, and battle raged upon the earth. The Land of the Free, where I had my being, entered the great fight that Right might triumph, and Men and Dollars were marshaled to combat the enemy.

I chanced to be of those that lingered behind, for I was the mainstay of my masters, but one day the call of the wounded in a far country was heard by them; and they sent me to where the coffers of compassion waited to receive me. There by the alchemy of human sympathy I was transmuted into instruments of aid and relief and healing. Beneath the banner of white bearing a blood red cross I fought the good fight against pain and disease and death that the heroes who fell in the great war of Humanity against the Hun might be comforted and given new life.

Comfort for the Wounded.

Now, on the thundering battle line in my new identity I minister to the wounded, bringing them from blood soaked ramparts to beds of comfort, giving ease to maimed bodies, relief to limbs writhing in torture, cooling drafts to parched throats. And under my beneficent ministrations the sons of my masters are rescued from agony, the hero youth of the land are restored, or the last hours of the wounded to death robbed of the grisly horror of neglect.

The flower of our young manhood go in ever growing hordes to right the world's wrongs. New legions of the Great American Dollar must be marshaled to equip the army that follows—the Red Cross Army that wages its splendid fight against pain and death behind the battle lines. Enlist your dollars to fight under the Red Cross banner, you who would staunch the wounds of those who battle to bring peace and safety to you and yours and your home land—and to the world. For thus is the Great American Dollar ennobled!

No More New Potatoes.

Although new potatoes made their appearance on the local markets a week ago the supply was very small and at the request of the food administration no more will be received for some time so that there will be better opportunity to use up the old potatoes, of which there is still a good supply in this part of the state.

Several parties have been shipping in potatoes from Lancaster of late and the prices have accordingly come down so that they are now obtainable for from 75 to 90 cents per bushel.

Eat potatoes. Eat more potatoes. Eat still more potatoes.

Grygla Banks Consolidate.

A bank consolidation of considerable importance and interest was effected at Grygla this week when the Citizens bank of that place took over the business of the Farmers State bank. The latter institution was headed by Otto Brehmer, the St. Paul capitalist, while the Citizens is controlled largely by the officers of the Citizens State bank of Thief River Falls. It has for some time been felt that three banks were too many for a town the size of Grygla and this consolidation will leave the field in much better shape.

To Register German Women.

The postoffice department at Washington has issued a notice to all postmasters that the department is making arrangements for a registration of all German alien females 14 years of age and upwards. The date for the registration has not been fixed, but it will take place in the near future.

The registration will be conducted in a manner similar to that of the German male aliens and will be in charge of the postmaster.

The Red Cross subscription quota for this township is $170.00, and at a special meeting of the town board held last Friday it was decided that this amount be paid out of the town treasury to the proper officials and that this sum be raised through direct taxation in connection with the real estate tax for this year. We believe this was a capital idea as it eliminates the necessity of sending about solicitors to each estate holder, and also affords a more even distribution of the taxation and provides that all land owners be required to contribute to this cause, even if they do not own more than a few acres of ground. In the recent Liberty Bond drive many men whose estates were forty acres or less were entirely exempt from buying as the bonds were not issued in less than $50 obligations and as the value of their estates did not necessitate their purchase of a bond of this size they were excused, and if the same method had been followed in the Red Cross drive they would also have been exempted there. The taxation for each quarter section of land in the township is estimated at about $1.

SUGAR AVAILABLE FOR PRESERVING

HOUSEHOLDER MAY NOW SECURE 25 POUNDS FOR THIS PURPOSE.

County Food Administrator Charles A. Pitkin, has received notice to the effect that provision will be made for supplying sugar for preserving purposes—providing advantage is taken of the opportunity now offered. In order to acquaint everyone with the ruling in reference to sugar Mr. Pitkin has submitted the following for the guidance of the people in his district:

"This year, as never before, every item of food supply must be conserved and saved. Berries and other fruit will soon be abundant. Canning and preserving of same should receive preferred attention.

"The sugar outlook, however, is not promising. Normal supplies of sugar to cover usual summer requirements cannot be secured for the reason that the necessary ships are more urgently needed to transport our troops and their supplies as well as food for our Allies.

"However, through effective methods of distribution on the part of the Food Administration, there is at this time stocks of sugar in this district which make it possible for each family to secure 25 pounds of sugar to be used for canning purposes. Everyone intending to preserve fruit this summer should take immediate advantage of the home canning rule by securing at once some sugar while there is a supply available.

How To Secure It.

"For canning purposes only, consumers upon signing a certificate, which is obtainable from the retail dealer, may purchase 25 pounds of sugar at one time. Later additional purchases may be made for canning purposes upon signing another certificate, providing sugar is then available.

"The purchase of such sugar for canning purposes is allowed in addition to the regular consumptive requirements based on three pounds per capita per month as now authorized, and must not be used for ordinary household purposes."

Miss Mable Kolberg, of Karlstad, visited with friends in this city the latter part of last week.

It pays to know the facts before you spend your money.

You will be sending your friend more tobacco comfort and satisfaction in one pouch of Real Gravely Plug than in half a dozen plugs of ordinary tobacco.

Give any man a chew of Real Gravely Plug, and he will tell you that's the kind to send. Send the best!

Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per week to chew Real Gravely, because a small chew of it lasts a long while.

If you smoke a pipe, slice Gravely with your knife and add a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoke.

SEND YOUR FRIEND IN THE U. S. SERVICE A POUCH OF GRAVELY

Dealers all around here carry it in 10c. pouches. A 3c. stamp will put it into his hands in any Training Camp or Seaport of the U. S. A. Even "over there" a 3c. stamp will take it to him. Your dealer will supply envelope and give you official directions how to address it.

The Log of the Test Car Fleet

"Linear Miles, 1,044,686. Tire Miles, 4,178,744."

Thus runs the log of the SIX FLEETS as it sums up the leagues on leagues traveled by the Goodrich Test Cars in their nation wide tire-testing cruise of 1917. That grand total marks the mileage high tide of tire making. Read in it the dawn of a new understanding of tire service, the rise of a new tire standard which includes all other standards—The TESTED of—

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

The cold figures of the log underwrite the lasting strength of Goodrich Tires; for no tire could hide a weakness in that multiplied mileage. Those records and the tires stand surety for Goodrich Tires of 1918.

For 1918 Goodrich Tires—look at their generous, masterful size at any Goodrich dealer—took the bulk of the rough going. They measured up to all the Goodrich Tire qualities, and added new virtues.

BLACK SAFETY TREADS, and SILVERTOWN CORDS, challenged every handicap of road and weather, and defeated them with steadfast dependability and durability.

You make the test your guarantee of pure food and pure gold. Make it your guarantee for tires, and gain economy, comfort, and freedom from tire mishaps. Demand "America's Tested Tires."

IN PROBATE COURT.

State of Minnesota, Pennington County.

In the matter of the estate of Gustave Omundson, deceased.

Upon reading and filing the petition of Gurena Gunderson, formerly Gurena Omundson as administratrix of the estate of Gustave Omundson representing that the description of the lands described in the final decree made and entered herein, erroneously omitted therefrom the undivided one-half of the Northwest Quarter of Section Thirty-three, Township One Hundred and Fifty-four, North of Range Thirty-three West, and that the name of said deceased should be corrected to read "Gustav Omundson."

IT IS ORDERED, that said petition be heard on Tuesday, the 18th day of June A. D. 1918 at Ten o'clock in the forenoon before the Court at the Probate Court rooms in the City of Thief River Falls in said County.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, that notice of the time and place of said hearing be given to all persons interested by publication of this order in the Thief River Falls Times, a weekly newspaper printed and published at Thief River Falls, Minnesota.

Dated at Thief River Falls, Minn., this 18th day of May, 1918.
